The Bishop's Message as to Lenten Reading

To the Clergy and People of our Diocese:

To-day we are facing tremendous realities. We must all of us now be sincere, and real, in our religion. We need now to know what we believe, and why we believe it and to know the foundations of our faith as Christians. And for us, as members of this Church, there are two books a knowledge of which is indispensable, our Bibles and our Prayer Books. Our greatest need in this Church to-day, all of us, is to know these two books more fully and follow them more faithfully.

We read, perhaps, books about the Bible. How many of us can say that we faithfully and intelligently read the Bible itself?

The Prayer Book—its words expressing the very truth of the Scriptures—is our handbook, the Church's own handbook, of doctrine, of worship, and of daily life. How many of us know its contents and teachings as we should? It is this which must be emphasized if we are to have a real Forward Movement in faith and in life. Many of our people all over the Church have only a vague knowledge and realization of the Divinely given Faith and Order of Christ's Church as this is given to us in our Prayer Book.

As our Lenten Reading in this Diocese therefore I recommend:

First, a more faithful reading of the Bible and, this Lent, especially of the New Testament. I suggest that every communicant shall read the whole New Testament through (it is a book of only about 200 pages) and shall ask his or her Rector to suggest a truly instructive and helpful book to be read in connection with it.

Second, I suggest to every communicant to study the entire Prayer Book all through, including those important rules and directions called the rubrics, and especially at this time to study the services for the Administration of the Sacraments and for the Ordination of Priests and Deacons and the Consecration of Bishops—with a careful reading of the very important Preface to the Ordination Services which, to emphasize its importance, is printed on a separate page and in italics. And as you study this great book of Doctrine and Devotion realize that it is the Prayer Book not only of the Episcopal Church in the United States but of the whole Anglican Communion throughout the world and that, as a part of the Anglican Communion, we can make no change whatever in regard to the Ministry, or the Sacraments, or other essential matters, unless this shall first be assented to by the whole Anglican Communion, and shall be in full accord with the teaching of the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church from the beginning.

The study of the Prayer Book is absolutely essential for a true understanding of our faith as Christians and Churchmen. It is the simple fact that if we will rightly use our Bibles and our Prayer Books we shall have a great Forward Movement, we shall have a Church stirred with new faith and power, and with earnest desire to do its work for God.

May God give us grace this Lent so to use the helps and blessings which the Church offers to us that we may in truth "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ"—"to Him be glory both now and forever."

Faithfully your friend and Bishop,

William T. Manning

LORD HALIFAX SPEAKS AT CHURCH CLUB DINNER

The Fifty-fifth Annual Dinner of the Church Club of New York was held at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, on Monday evening, February second. Over five hundred representative Church people were present.

The President of the Club, Mr. William E. Sims, presided. The Bishop of the Diocese and The Right Honorable The Viscount Halifax, H.B.M., British Ambassador to the United States, were the speakers.

Besides the diners, the boxes in the ballroom were filled by Church people to hear the addresses.

On the dais at the speakers' table were listed:

The Very Rev. James P. De Wolfe of the Cathedral, The Hon. Myron C. Taylor, The Hon. Godfrey Haggard, British Consul General at New York, The Bishop of the Diocese, The President of the Church Club, Lord Halifax, The Hon. Frank Lyon Polk, The Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese, and The Hon. Gano Dunn.

The President of the United States and the King of England were toasted as the National Anthems were rendered on the organ while the respective flags were spotlighted and waving.

The entire dinner procedure and speeches were colored by the character of the ever-changing events now facing the United States and Great Britain.

Only Christ Can Save the World

Bishop Manning said, "Today, many of us are realizing more than ever before what our religion means to us. We know now that the Religion of Christ is the only power that can save this world, and we know that in this World Conflict every principle of Christian and Civilized life is at stake.

"We know now that as Americans and as Christians—for our own sakes and for the sake of others—we are called to stand not for Peace at any price, but for Righteousness at any cost."

"We honour Lord Halifax," the Bishop said, "for his noble record of statesmanship and of service to his Country, and we honour him because—like his great father before him—he stands as a fearless unashamed Christian and Churchman, a loyal and faithful son of our own part of the Historic Catholic and Apostolic Church, the World-wide Anglican Communion. In this Church, and in this Diocese, we have always held sacred our spiritual fellowship with our Mother Church of England and our fellowship with the English Speaking Peoples. Today we have greater reason than ever to hold that fellowship sacred. Today we stand side by side with our British Brethren in this great Battle for Humanity.

"Let our prayer be that out of this fearful experience may come a true World Federation, a Federation based on the union of America and all the English Speaking Peoples to insure that this shall never happen again—to ensure for those who come after us a peaceful, orderly, happy, and moral world.

"And in this the Church must play its great part, for we know that if there is to be a truer World Order it must be founded upon the Divinely given Truths and Teachings of Revealed Religion. There is no other foundation for it. It is the Church of Christ which must prepare the way for a World of Justice, Brotherhood, and Peace. The Church has today its mightiest opportunity. The work and witness of the Church, and of all of us in the Church, is called for now as never before."

Education a Basic Need

The address of Lord Halifax was a scholarly presentation of the basic need of education to combat present evils and the basis upon which to build the future. Lord Halifax said it is not strange that men are puzzled by the fact that Christians in opposing camps offer earnest, but competitive, prayers for victory. The gospel of pacifism in the present struggle should rightly make less appeal to Christians than to any other community of human beings.

"The faith of a Christian compels him to acknowledge the existence of evil in the world, dislocating what we may suppose to have been the divine scheme", he said in explanation. "The Christian is not at all surprised, therefore, by the fact that one of the first laws of human life is that the forces of evil have to be perpetually conquered by suffering and finds consolation and reassurance in the conviction that the suffering of each human being can be wonderfully transformed by association in this great redemptive act of Christ. In every part of his life he can feel himself brought into mysterious partnership with God.

"This sense of partnership will find expression through prayer. And as we remember the limitations of human thought, we shall not wonder if the prayers of men are what I have called competitive, since none can see more than a fraction of God's purpose, and only a very few are able truly to condition all their prayers with the words, 'Not my will, but Thine be done'."

DEAN FOSBROKE CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AT THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Very Rev. Dr. Hughell E. W. Fosbroke, Dean of the General Theological Seminary since February 1917, has now celebrated his Twenty-fifth Anniversary at that great institution.

The coincidence of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Founding of the General Theological Seminary and the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Dean Fosbroke is notable. There are two other interesting chronological facts: Dr. Fosbroke came to the Seminary as Dean in 1917, one hundred years after the Founding in 1817; and he has been Dean for exactly one-fifth of the period of the Seminary's history to the present date.

Established to serve "the whole Church in these United States," under Dean Fosbroke the Seminary has never been permitted to serve any one part, or party, of the Church alone. All types of Churchmanship are represented in the General Seminary, and represented with mutual courtesy. To bring this about has been not the least of Dean Fosbroke's achievements in his twenty-five years.

OVER SIX THOUSAND PRESENT AT THE MIDNIGHT SERVICE IN THE CATHEDRAL ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

The National Day of Intercession was ushered in by a solemn Midnight Service in the Cathedral on New Year's Eve, at which over six thousand were present. The Bishop of the Diocese gave the Intercessions from the pulpit, in which the members of the congregation joined with deep feeling and earnestness. The Litany was sung in Procession, and the entire service was most moving.

An unusually large attendance marked all the stated services on New Year's Day. Most striking of all was the continuous stream of people coming into the Cathedral all day long and the informality and naturalness with which quite on their own motion they knelt in prayer in all parts of the Cathedral. Continuous Intercessions were offered all through the day by persons especially appointed, but the most striking thing was the way in which the people of all kinds used the Cathedral and felt that as the House of God it belonged to them, as it surely does for the Cathedral was designed to be A House of Prayer for All People.

PRAYER FOR USE BY THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE CHURCH

Set forth by the Bishop of New York for use in Private and in Public.

"And ye shall be witnesses unto Me"
Acts I verse 8.

O Lord Jesus Christ Who has called us to be witnesses unto Thee in the fellowship of Thy Holy Church, and dost promise to be with Thy Church to the end of the world; send down Thy grace and blessing upon us that we may be Thy faithful soldiers and servants, enlighten our minds with the Light of the Everlasting Gospel, strengthen our wills, and stir us with desire for justice and brotherhood in all the world.

And give us, we pray Thee, such clear knowledge of Thy Truth, and such faith in Thee, that in these troubled days we may do our part steadfastly and without fear, for Thy sake who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

INMATE BUILT PRISON CHAPEL DEDICATED

The Chapel built by inmates of the 7th District Prison, 317 West 53rd Street, New York City, was blessed and dedicated on Tuesday, January twentieth, to the ideal of rehabilitation by the Rev. William E. Sprenger, Director of the City Mission Society, who presided at the first Protestant Church service held at the prison in its forty-six year history.

The Chapel, on the fifth floor of the prison, was built in three months by the labor of transient inmates, among them carpenters, electricians and plasterers, and was completed on Christmas Day. Formerly a dormitory, the Chapel has stained-glass windows, an organ and a carved oak Altar painted white and gold.

The Rev. Claude R. Parkerson and the Rev. J. Arnold Purdie, Chaplains of the Society, assisted at the service.

PEACE CANDLE LIGHTED AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH, CHELSEA

A great Peace Candle, which with its massive candlestick measures seven feet tall, stands before the Altar of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, New York City.

It was first lighted on New Year's Day and it will burn at every service until Peace is declared.

The Rector of the Parish, the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, is looking at the flame of the Candle.

CHURCHES COOPERATE IN DEFENSE EFFORTS

Many of our parish halls are being used in the Defense Program. Among others, the parish house of St. Andrew's Church, Richmond, Staten Island, of which the Rev. Francis R. Godolphin is the Rector, has been fitted for use as a haven in case of air raids. The cooperation of the Red Cross has helped to equip the parish house with full first aid supplies, stretchers etc., for use in any emergency.

Another defense center is at Trinity Church, Morrisania, on East 166th Street. The parish guild hall is Sector K, Zone 1 Headquarters. Air raid and first aid equipment is available for immediate use. Defense training meetings for the community are held each week. The Rector of the Parish, the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, and his Mother, Mrs. Maria T. Theopold, are both Air Wardens and cooperate with the entire defense program. The Church has thus become favorably known to many non-Church people in the community.

GREAT CONGREGATIONS AT THE CATHEDRAL CONTINUE SINCE THE OPENING OF ITS ENTIRE LENGTH

Since the Opening of the whole length of the Cathedral on November thirtieth the great congregations both at eleven and four on Sundays have steadily continued and great numbers of people come at all hours all through the week. Messages expressing interest and gratification at the Opening continue to come from far and near, a number of them from Bishops and Clergy of the Church of England. From the many letters still coming to the Bishop that which follows is typical and is written by a well known layman of this Diocese who is also one of the leading architects of this City.

The Right Rev. William T. Manning
Cathedral of St. John the Divine

My dear Bishop:

Ever since Advent Sunday and the opening of the whole length of the Cathedral, I have been promising myself that I would write both you and Dr. Cram a few lines of congratulation, but I have not found time until now to do so.

There is no doubt now that the Cathedral is a great architectural success. The whole Cathedral is many times more beautiful and impressive than the promise of any of its parts. Once in the Cathedral now, it is hard to tear one's self away.

It is extraordinary how even in its crude state, the vast space of the Crossing falls into place as a great and essential part of the composition.

I must add my tribute to the acoustics. The choir and organ fill the mighty edifice, and every word of the priest at the Altar is heard to the very foot of the Nave.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

PRAYER FOR THE AIR FORCE

Authorized by the Bishop

In addition to the Prayers for our Army and the Navy provided in our Prayer Book, the Bishop recommends and authorizes for use in this Diocese the following prayer for the men in our Air Force, which is from the Scotch Prayer Book:—

> Almighty God, who makest the clouds thy chariot and walkest upon the wings of the wind; have mercy, we beseech thee, on our Air-men, and when they are amidst the clouds and wonders of the sky, give unto them the assurance of thy protection, that they may do their duty with prudence and with fearlessness, confident that in life or in death the eternal God is their refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
> Amen.

YOUTH CONFERENCES HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL

Two Youth Conferences were recently held at the Cathedral that were specially helpful. A noticeable spirit of reverence was manifest and great interest was shown in the class sessions.

Twenty-four boys, representing 12 parishes, attended the Older Boys' Conference on December 29th, 30th and 31st, at the Choir School in the Cathedral Close.

The Conference was conducted along educational lines. The Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason gave a course on "The Incarnation"; the Rev. Edward N. West, Sacristan of the Cathedral, showed the young people the "ins and outs" of the Cathedral and told them some interesting things about Church Art. Instruction in Personal Work was given by Mr. William W. Naramore, Jr., Diocesan Youth Worker.

The Bishop visited the Conference and talked informally with the boys who were there.

The Rev. James Green, Precentor of the Cathedral and Headmaster of the Choir School, was the Chaplain and all religious services were held in St. Saviour's Chapel.

On Monday evening, December 29th, motion pictures were shown by the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania; and on Tuesday evening, the Rev. Clifford L. Samuelson of the National Council met informally with the boys and told them stories of the work of the Church in the Mission Field.

The Conference closed after breakfast on Wednesday, December thirty-first, with a service conducted by the Dean of the Cathedral.

Girls' Conference Meets at St. Faith's House

The twenty-two girls, representing 11 parishes, who attended the Older Girls' Conference, were entertained at St. Faith's House, the headquarters of the New York Training School for Deaconesses, in the Cathedral Close.

In addition to a course on Church Art by the Rev. Edward N. West, they were instructed in the "Prologue of the Fourth Gospel" by the Rev. James V. Knapp, Chairman of the Youth Work Committee, and Rector of All Saints' Church, Harrison. They also learned some very interesting things about the English Reformation from the Rev. Herbert W. van Couenhoven, Chaplain at Welfare Island.

The Rev. Thomas A. Sparks of the Cathedral was the Chaplain. The morning services were held in St. Saviour's Chapel; the Chaplain's Hour in the evening was held in St. Faith's Chapel.

The cooperation of the Dean and Clergy of the Cathedral and of the Deaconesses at St. Faith's House was a very real contribution and emphasized the essential unity of the Diocese. The Bishop of the Diocese gave a talk to the girls who were present and is gratified that in ever increasing degree the Cathedral is being used by the organizations and groups of the Church.

THE CHURCH MUST LEAD AS WELL AS KEEP STEP WITH THE NATION

We as a Nation are undoubtedly facing the most serious struggle in our history. But in that fact there is nothing to alarm or upset the followers of Christ, Who surely says to us as He did to His followers of old: "Why are ye fearful?" "Let not your hearts be troubled!" "Be of good cheer!" To the Church and to Church people is now given an opportunity to be of inestimable social service in being power-houses of Christian morale—in distributing to nervous and jittery persons the power of calmness, good cheer and a Christian sense of humor. Especially can we bring courage and comfort and the strength of friendly fellowship to the families of men in the fighting force in periods of unusual anxiety, and particularly in times of loss and bereavement.

"Our Country is at war, and the solemn duty of every American man and woman is to do whatever he can to bring that war to a victorious conclusion." (Robert P. Lane, Executive Director, Welfare Council of New York). Church and individual cooperation with Civilian Defense is imperative for the welfare and safety of our neighbors and of ourselves. This war is a civilian war as well as a military one. Good missionary enterprises, and reputable welfare agencies have an important and essential part in the Nation's struggle for "liberty under God." They still need our support. If we cripple such of these activities as are essential, we are crippling a front line of spiritual and social defense.

—Social Service Commission Bulletin, Diocese of N. Y.

Discriminating Giving

Our giving to all agencies and causes must at this time be discriminating.

We are especially urged to support our individual Churches and the missionary activities of the Diocese and of the General Church. The basis for a just and lasting peace is the fundamental teaching of the Church.

The need of our Mother Church of England is a very real call upon our generosity. Offerings are now being received throughout the Church in Aid of British Missions.

The Army and Navy Commission is an official agency of the Church engaged in securing contributions for the work of our Chaplains in our great Army Camps and Navy Stations. The morale of our enlisted men depends in considerable part upon the success of the Commission's effort to raise the sum necessary for the Commission.

Of course we should give generously to the Red Cross. It is the official and accepted agency for the relief and amelioration of suffering from any and all causes.

Every Churchman should buy Defense Bonds, particularly buy one or more for each child in the family. So shall we help win the war.

THE REV. DR. MASON APPOINTED SECRETARY TO FORWARD-IN-SERVICE

The Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton, Staten Island, since 1930, has been appointed by the Presiding Bishop as Secretary for the Forward-in-Service Department of the National Council, with headquarters at 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. He has resigned from his Parish and assumed his new duties on February first. Dr. Mason organized the Ascension Church Day School and has continued to direct its activities. He has also served as Dean of the Richmond Convocation which, for the second year, has paid over 100% of its total Missionary Quota. As President of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, Dr. Mason did notable and constructive service for the Diocese.

Dr. Mason has severed his connection with all other activities and will devote his full time to his new work. He will continue to reside on Staten Island, where his address is 14 Westcott Boulevard.

ARTICLE FOR THE "BRITANNICA BOOK OF THE YEAR" WRITTEN BY THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE

At the request of the publishers of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Bishop Manning has again written the article on the work of the Episcopal Church for the "Britannica Book of the Year."

The article covers in brief form the work of our Church during the year 1941.

ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION AT WORK

Under the chairmanship of Bishop Henry K. Sherrill of Massachusetts, and a sponsoring committee of which the Rev. Dr. Endicott Peabody is Chairman, and Bishop Arthur R. McKinstry of Delaware is Executive Chairman, the Church's Army and Navy Commission is hard at work extending pastoral and spiritual ministry to men in the Nation's armed forces.

The Church is asked to give a minimum $385,000 for maintenance and extension of this work which Bishop Sherrill says is "the biggest job and the biggest opportunity facing the Church today."

March eighth is to climax the Commission's financial effort, with a great general offering to be received in all parishes and missions of the Church.

Bishop Manning to Broadcast

The Bishop of the Diocese is giving his full support to this undertaking and is to give the Nation-wide Broadcast on the work of the Army and Navy Commission on Sunday morning, February fifteenth, at ten o'clock.

The Bishop has appointed the following Committee to represent this Diocese:

The Hon. Frank L. Polk, Chairman, Mrs. Thomas W. Armitage, Mr. Reginald G. Coombe, Mr. Gano Dunn, The Hon. Edward R. Finch, Mrs. Desmond Fitz Gerald, Mr. Clarence G. Michalis, Mr. Junius S. Morgan, Mr. A. Perry Osborn, Mrs. William Barclay Parsons, Mrs. Lansing P. Reed, Mr. Vanderbilt Webb.

CATHEDRAL TRUSTEES PASS RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

At the meeting of the Trustees of the Cathedral, held on December 30th, 1941, the following Resolutions were offered by the Hon. Edward R. Finch and were adopted by unanimous vote:—

"WHEREAS, the reverent, dignified and impressive service upon the opening of the Whole Length of the Cathedral for worship gave eloquent testimony of deep thought and brilliant planning by the very smoothness of their execution and thereby enhanced the Spiritual and Devotional power of said services, and

WHEREAS, the preparation and carrying out of said plans involved the utmost in cooperation with the Bishop and the Dean on the part of the staff, the Organist and Assistant, and the members of the Choir, the Chief Usher and Ushers, and the men connected with the maintenance of the Cathedral.

Now therefore be it

RESOLVED that the Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine hereby tender their grateful thanks to all those herein above mentioned collectively and as individuals.

And be it further

RESOLVED that suitable copy of this resolution attested by the Secretary be furnished to each of these persons as a token of this vote of appreciation."

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE OPENS NEW CLUB ROOMS FOR AMERICAN SEAMEN

Patterned after its British, Belgian and Dutch Club Rooms for merchant seamen of those nationalities, the Seamen's Church Institute of New York opened officially on Monday, January twelfth, its enlarged and renovated club rooms for seamen of all nationalities at 25 South Street. Because the majority of seafarers using the room are Americans, it has been dubbed the American Seamen's Club.

In opening the club rooms, the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Institute, paid tribute to all the merchant seamen who are carrying the cargoes of oil, supplies and munitions in the grim war at sea and whose devotion to duty will help to bring victory. Dr. Kelley also thanked the women's committee for their zealous efforts to provide comfortable recreation quarters for the men who do not wear uniforms, but who nevertheless fight the essential battle of transportation on all the seas.

CONVOCATION OF THE BRONX HAS BOROUGH-WIDE MISSION

Front row, left to right: The Rev. Gerald F. Burrill, Rector of St. Paul's Church; the Rev. Claude F. Stent, Rector of St. Margaret's Church; the Rev. Joseph H. Dodshon, Rector of St. Simeon's Church; the Rev. Herbert R. Stevenson, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Wakefield, and Dean of the Convocation; the Rev. Edmund Sills, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester; the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania. Standing: The Rev. Arthur T. Brown, Priest-in-charge of St. Alban's Church and of Emmanuel Mission; the Rev. F. Gray Garten, Assistant at St. Stephen's, Woodlawn; the Rev. Lawrence B. Under the guidance of the Bronx Clericus, and the active sponsorship and cooperation of most of the congregations in the Bronx, a well organized Mission is being simultaneously held, beginning Sunday, February eighth, and concluding on Sunday, February fifteenth.

The Mission will be followed by a great service for Bronx Church people in the Cathedral at eight o'clock on Sunday evening, February twenty-second, when the Bishop of the Diocese will be the preacher. A part of the letter of the Bishop, addressed to the Clergy and people of the Bronx, follows:—

> On Sunday night, February twenty-second, we are all to gather together in our Cathedral for a special service of Witness which is to be the Final Service of your United Mission and I look forward greatly to being with you at that Service which I trust may be a truly blessed and moving one.
> Again expressing my thankfulness that you are to hold the Mission at this time when we all need so deeply the strength and courage which the Church gives, and praying for God's blessing upon this united effort which you are making in His Name, I am . . .

One of the especial features of this Mission is that nearly every Missioner has written a letter over his signature to the parishioners of the parish where he is to hold the Mission. As one Bronx Clergyman stated to the Editor, "During the week of this Mission we are his (the Missioner's) people."

A special prayer has been in use for some months preparatory to the Mission.

> Lord of all power and might, who rulest in heaven and in earth, and canst turn the hearts of men after the counsel of thine own will; we humbly pray thee to awaken in all the members of our Parish a deep desire to maintain and set forward the work of thy Kingdom throughout the world; that thy will may be done on earth, thy Holy Name be glorified, and that all men everywhere may come to know thee as their Father; through Jesus Christ, our only Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

Special notice of this outstanding religious event in the Bronx has been given by the local press, as well as space in the New York City papers. Most of the Churches had paid advertisements in the Bronx Home News, which paper has also carried many news-items of the Mission.

The list of cooperating parishes, Rectors and Missioners, is given herewith:—

CHURCH ARMY TO MOVE TRAINING CENTER

An enthusiastic and well attended Annual Dinner-Meeting of the Church Army in the United States was held on Thursday evening, January twenty-second, at which Mr. William Walker Orr, Secretary, announced that, subject to the approval of the Bishop of Alabama, the Executive Committee had made plans to have the present class of students complete its training at the House of Happiness, Scottsboro, Alabama. For several years this station, known as the Church Army Southern Base (now in charge of Captain Tom Moss), has served as a field training base for students.

This move has been made necessary because the present building located in New York City is no longer available for this purpose. The plan calls for the class to continue in charge of Captain Albert Sayers, Training Center Captain, who will go to Alabama with the group, also for Miss Gladys Buckingham to continue as housemother. The Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Vicar of Trinity Chapel, New York City, will continue as Warden and Chairman of Candidates and Curriculum Committee and will arrange for scholastic work to continue with a minimum of interruption.

In referring to the change, Captain Earl Estabrook, National Director, pointed out that the move is only temporary, and that the Board of Trustees were devoting appeals and energies toward securing a building in the metropolitan area which would become the permanent Headquarters and Training Center.

Headquarters Will Remain in New York City

Although the present class will move as soon as possible, the Church Army Headquarters will remain in New York City. Any change from the present location at 414 East 14th Street will be announced in all the Church papers. All communications should continue to be sent to the present office Headquarters address.

Church Army Dinner Has Large Attendance

One hundred and seventy-seven Cadets, Associates and friends of the Church Army attended the Annual Dinner at Schrafft's Restaurant on Fifth Avenue the evening of Thursday, January twenty-second.

Mr. Samuel Thorne, President, acted as toastmaster. Various reports were read, nearly all of which carried a sad note because of the proposed training center change.

The high point of interest was the talk by Sister Jolly who has just recently returned from Africa, where much of the administration and Evangelical detail rested upon her in the absence of Bishop Kroll.

The Diocese of New York has had a large part in the affairs of the Church Army during all its life in this Country, and especially in the years of its Training Center in New York City. It would seem natural that permanent headquarters should be found for the Church Army in New York, and it is hoped that the efforts to that end will be successful.

NEW CHAPLAIN AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

The Rev. Stephen Fielding Bayne, Jr., Rector of St. John's Church, Northampton, Massachusetts, has been appointed Chaplain of Columbia University, New York City, to succeed the Rev. Raymond C. Knox who will retire in June after thirty-three years of service.

Mr. Bayne is the son of Dr. Stephen F. Bayne, Associate Superintendent of the Public Schools of New York City, who was for twenty-five years Superintendent of the Sunday School of the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, New York City.

The new Chaplain was born in New York City in 1908. He was ordained by Bishop Manning in 1932, is married and has three children.

His many friends at the Chapel of the Intercession and among the Clergy of Manhattan welcome him back to this City, and to his new appointment with its great opportunity.

CLERGY, SISTERS AND OTHER MISSIONARIES INTERNED IN HOSTILE COUNTRIES

Special prayers are being offered at the Cathedral and in many of our Parishes for the Clergy and Sisters of St. Mary who are now in the Philippine Islands; for Bishop Gilman and the Missionaries with him who have been interned by the Japanese in Hankow and Wuchang, China; for the Rev. H. G. Woolf who is held as a prisoner in Italy, and for others in the same situation.

There are many who will wish to join in these intercessions and also in special prayer for the families in our land who are already suffering loss and bereavement through the War.

WESTCHESTER CONVOCATION HAS SPECIAL CONFERENCE

The Convocation of Westchester held a special conference of clergy and laymen at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on Sunday afternoon, February first, to report results and exchange experiences in connection with the conduct of The Program of the Church in the various parishes. Approximately seventy-five were present.

Mr. Samuel Thorne, Chairman of the Convocation Committee on The Program of the Church, presided and gave a brief opening talk on "Discipline." He presented an interesting analogy between the efforts necessary to discipline the body, the mind and the spirit, indicating that the spirit needs discipline to achieve Christian character much as the body needs active and coordinated exercise to become fit.

Mr. Frederick C. Kurz of St. Paul's Church, Yonkers, Chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting, conducted the afternoon exercises and called upon various parish chairmen to tell how The Program of the Church was presented in their respective parishes. Many interesting points were brought out. These proved the oft repeated statement that a well conducted campaign to acquaint the congregation with the work of the Church, together with a thorough Every Member Visitation, always results in increased interest and giving. Also it was again reiterated that the best collecting device for Church contributions is the Duplex Envelope.

A buffet supper was served under the auspices of the women of the parish. Delegates paid for their suppers at the time of registration, previous to the meeting.

Statements showing the Quota Payments of the congregations of the Convocation were distributed during the supper.

A service was held in the Church at seven-thirty P.M., at which the Rev. Dr. Arthur M. Sherman, Executive Secretary of the National Forward-in-Service, preached the sermon.

A number stayed after the service to ask questions and discuss the plans for the Forward-in-Service Program.

There are 61 congregations in this Convocation, 30 of of which paid their Quotas in full. Twenty-nine congregations paid more in 1941 than in 1940, of which 15 also paid more in 1940 than in 1939. The total mathematical Quota of the Convocation is $56,102, of which $51,616 (92%) was paid, the second largest percentage of Convocation Quota Payment. Richmond (Staten Island) leads the Diocese with 107%.

These two pictures, which show the crowds in line hoping to get into the Cathedral at the great Opening Service on Sunday morning, November thirtieth, were taken by Dr. George C. Becket of East Orange, New Jersey.

The picture at the top shows the line of people extending from the Doors of the Cathedral at 112th Street to the corner of 110th Street, while the lower picture shows the line as it stretched on down 110th Street.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Becket who took these pictures and sent them to the Bishop sang in the Choir at the ceremony of the Laying of the Cornerstone of the Cathedral in 1892, almost fifty years ago.

RESIGNATION OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

As a matter of interest to the Diocese we print the following letter sent by our Bishop to the Archbishop of Canterbury in regard to the Archbishop's resignation which was recently announced:—

January 22nd, 1942

The Most Reverend and Right Honorable
Cosmo Gordon Lang, D.D.,
Archbishop of Canterbury.

My dear Archbishop:

Our newspapers this morning state that you have offered your resignation from your high office to take effect on March 31st. This is indeed most deeply regretted by all of us, clergy and people alike, in this Church and the regret is particularly keen here in New York where we have felt in especially close relation with you ever since your memorable and historic visit in 1918. Great as our regret is however our feeling is still more one of thankfulness for all that you have been able to do for the Church, for Great Britain, and for the World, in your long and noble years of service. We shall pray that our Mother Church and Nation may still continue to have the blessing of your wise counsel and influence, especially in this time of Crisis, and that a wise and right choice may be made of one to serve as your successor.

For my own part I think with deep gratitude of all that your service, and your faithful, unfaltering witness for the Faith of Christ and His Holy Catholic Church, have meant to all of us, and I like especially to think of your visit to our Church and Country during the last World War and of my own visit to you at the 1300th Anniversary of York Minster in 1927. We little thought in those days that we were to meet such a World Crisis as that which we now face but we can have full faith that God will give victory to the cause of Justice, Right, and Freedom.

With true affectionate regard, believe me, my dear Archbishop,

Always faithfully yours,
WILLIAM T. MANNING,
Bishop of New York

BISHOP GILBERT ABSENT FOR A MONTH'S REST

By order of his physician, Bishop Gilbert is taking a month's rest, but expects to resume his work on the first Sunday in March.

To keep up with the Visitations during February, Bishop Manning has secured the help of Bishop Campbell from February fifteenth, two weeks earlier than had been arranged.

MEMORIAL UNVEILED AT THE CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, NEWBURGH

A bronze sculpture thirteen feet high, set in the Baptistry of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Newburgh, was unveiled at the Midnight Celebration on Christmas Eve.

This beautiful representation of the Baptism of Our Lord is in grateful memory of Helen MacDonald Chew, wife of the Rector, the Rev. John Marshall Chew. Mr. and Mrs. Chew were married in this Church at Christmas, 1914, and their life together was a benediction and blessing in the Parish during the twenty-seven years until the death of Mrs. Chew last year.

BISHOP MANNING SPEAKS AT SALVATION ARMY SERVICE

A special farewell service was held at the Centennial Memorial Temple of the Salvation Army, on West Fourteenth Street, New York City, on Friday evening, January thirtieth, in honor of Commissioner Alexander M. Damon, Eastern Territorial Commander, and Mrs. Damon, who retired after fifty-two and fifty-one years of service respectively.

Among the speakers was the Bishop of New York. Bishop Manning is a long time friend of the Salvation Army and has often taken part in its special services.

The meeting on January thirtieth was a great occasion and hundreds were present to honor the retiring Commissioner and Mrs. Damon.

Bishop Manning told the audience that two of the places in which he felt especially at home were the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and the Headquarters of the Salvation Army, a statement which was received with great applause.

In his address, the Bishop spoke of three great things which characterize the work of the Salvation Army:

Its all-out help to men and women of every sort.

The Salvation Army never loses hope for any man, but holds no human soul is beyond redemption.

That the workers of the Salvation Army have this faith in human nature because they believe in the love of God and in the saving power of the Lord Jesus Christ.

THE REV. WILLIAM HAWKES POTT, D.D.

Rector Emeritus of St. John's Church, Clifton, Staten Island, since 1940, died on Monday, December 22nd. He was seventy-six years of age.

Dr. Pott was at St. Thomas Chapel from 1897 to 1900; Rector of Zion Church, Wappingers Falls, 1901-1911; Archdeacon of Westchester, 1911-1913; Archdeacon of the Diocese, 1913-1920; Rector of St. John's Church, Clifton, 1920-1940.

Dr. Pott was for many years Secretary of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society and was one of the best known and loved Clergy of the Diocese. The funeral service at St. John's Church on Wednesday, December twenty-fourth, was conducted by the Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Suffragan Bishop and the Rector of the Parish, with many of the Clergy in the Chancel and a large congregation of Dr. Pott's friends and former parishioners.

GENERAL NOTES

THOU WILT KEEP HIM IN PERFECT PEACE, WHOSE MIND IS STAYED ON THEE; BECAUSE HE TRUSTETH IN THEE. TRUST YE THE LORD FOR EVER: FOR IN THE LORD JEHOVAH IS EVERLASTING STRENGTH.

Isaiah XXVI, 3-4

THE REV. DR. LAURISTON L. SCAIFE, Assistant Minister at St. Thomas Church, New York City, since 1938, has been elected Rector of Trinity Church, Newport, Rhode Island. Dr. Scaife has been Executive Secretary of the Russian Theological Seminary since 1937, and the Representative of the Bishop of this Diocese in matters relating to the Eastern Orthodox Churches since 1940. Dr. Scaife had special and important part in the arrangements for the great Greek and Russian Orthodox Services held in the Cathedral last Autumn, and also those in connection with the Opening of the Entire Length of the Cathedral.

THE ACOLYTES OF ST. AMBROSE CHURCH, Harlem, New York City, together with choirs of several other Churches in that section of the City, gave a Testimonial Concert to the Rector, the Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant, on Sunday afternoon, February first.

MR. WILLIAM W. NARAMORE, Jr., Youth Worker of the Diocese, under the Diocesan Board of Religious Education has been called into Army service as a Lieutenant in the Military Intelligence Division. He is attached to the offices at General Army Headquarters in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Naramore have established residence in Edgewater, Maryland, a country place on the Chesapeake Bay, about thirty miles from the Capital. Mr. Naramore has been granted a leave of absence by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education. He writes The Diocesan Bulletin: "I miss my work at the Cathedral and look forward to the day when I can return and carry on with the Youth Program." The Youth activities of the Diocese have been effectively organized and greatly enlarged under the direction of Mr. Naramore and his inspiration and guidance will be much missed. The Rev. James V. Knapp, Rector of All Saints' Church, Harrison, and Chairman of the Youth Division, has assumed general oversight of the work.

THE REV. EDWARD THOMAS MABLEY, retired, priest of this Diocese, died on January thirteenth at his home in Laguna Beach, California, at the age of seventy-five.

Mr. Mabley served in this Diocese at St. John's Church (Wilmot) New Rochelle, and St. Andrew's, Hartsdale, and St. Luke's, Tuckahoe, from 1913 to 1933.

THE RECTOR OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, TUCKAHOE, the Rev. Orin A. Grismyer, was the special preacher at the Annual Service for all Acolytes of the metropolitan area, which was held at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, on Sunday afternoon, January twenty-fifth.

THE YOUNGEST OF THE CHAPLAINS at the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, the Rev. Leroy Lawson, has been appointed Chaplain in the U. S. Maritime Service, with the rank of Ensign. Chaplain Lawson was sworn in by Commander George E. McCabe, Director of the Maritime Training Station at Hoffman Island. There have been Chaplains in the U. S. Army and Navy for many years, but this is the first official appointment of a Chaplain for the Merchant Marine, and the Institute is proud that one of its staff has received such a signal honor. Chaplain Lawson will continue as an Institute Chaplain, but his duties will center on Hoffman Island, where over one thousand young men between eighteen and twenty-three years of age are studying to become seamen in the American Merchant Marine.

A NEW PROGRAM UNIT entitled "Democracy in Action," prepared by the Girls' Friendly Society for use with youth groups, is especially recommended as a study theme for Lent. It may be obtained from the Book Store, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City, at Twenty-five Cents (25c) per copy.

WE ARE A YOUNG NATION, yet Old Glory is the second oldest established flag now in use. Only the Danish Flag, adopted in 1219, is older. No changes have occurred in our flag, which were not constitutionally provided for, since 1777. The birthday of the Union Jack is 1801, to mention one other national emblem. It was adopted upon the union of Great Britain with Ireland.

NINETY-FIVE CANDIDATES were confirmed by the Bishop of the Diocese on his visit to the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on the Eve of the Feast of The Epiphany, January fifth.

WHAT COULD BE MORE TIMELY in the way of mission study than the two topics, Christians and the World Order, and Christianity and Democracy in America. These are the two topics which have been chosen for mission study this year and there will be plenty of material to help you plan a program on either one of them. Write to the National Council, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City, for literature.

TO ALL MEN IN UNIFORM WORSHIPPING WITH US; If you will write on this leaflet your name and address where stationed, as well as your home address and the name of some member of your family, or the minister of your home Church, the Rector will be glad to write a note of greeting and tell them of our pleasure in having you share our Church Services.—New York City Church Bulletin; a good notice on occasion for any Church.

KEEP YOUR PARISH IN TOUCH with the missionary activities of the Church. A special missionary sermon does not necessarily call for a missionary offering. Epics, issued by the National Council, may easily and naturally be used as sermon illustrations and they have proved effective in various parish gatherings. A number of parishes always include a special missionary (educational) item in their Sunday bulletins. Once in awhile a missionary news item can be gotten into the daily press. If the Church is to be the builder in the coming new democracy, foundations must be laid or strengthened now.

THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY of the institution of the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming as Rector of Trinity Parish, New York, was observed on Sunday, January twenty-fifth. Dr. Fleming observed the thirtieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on the Fourth Sunday in Advent.

OF COURSE IT MEANS GIVING UP SOME THINGS if we are to meet the many requests for contributions. The easiest thing is to reduce one's Church support and some people will do just that. Candy, tobacco, movies and a good many other things will come later if we have to, but the easy thing is to begin with the support of the Church. But people who think—who really think—will picture the kind of world we will have to live in if we let the Churches be closed or so curtailed in their power that a pagan influence, which every war brings, cannot be stemmed. Not only Hitler Paganism threatens us, but the paganism with all its brutality and injustice that follows in the wake of war. If we want a Christian World in which to live, we must increase our support to the Christian Churches, cost what it may! Nor can we afford to trust that somebody else will do it.

—Bulletin of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville

THE NEW ORGAN at St. John's Church, Tuckahoe, was dedicated on Sunday morning, January eighteenth, at the eleven o'clock service. "Let us always remember that this organ has been given not to enable us to hear more beautiful music but, rather, to enable us to praise God more perfectly in His Holy Temple".

—Bulletin of St. John's Church, Tuckahoe

THE NEW YORK ALTAR GUILD sponsors a lecture by the Rev. Dr. Lauriston L. Scaife, Assistant Minister at St. Thomas Church, New York City, on Thursday morning, February nineteenth, at ten-thirty o'clock, in the Parish Hall of St. James Church, Madison Avenue at 71st Street. All interested are invited to attend.

HOW EASILY WE DRIFT! Friends drift apart. Homes drift on the rocks of misunderstanding and separation. Young people drift into trouble. So the story goes. But no one yet ever drifted into anything worth while! We do not drift into goodness. That must be achieved. We can slip and slide and drift into all manner of evil. But we have to climb the steep ascent of Heaven.—Bulletin of the Church of the Holy Nativity, Bronx

A FORWARD IN SERVICE COMMITTEE for the Diocese has been appointed by the Bishop as follows:—the Deans of the six Convocations; the Dean of the Cathedral, the Very Rev. Dr. James P. De Wolfe; the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Rector of Grace Church, New York City; with the Suffragan Bishop as Chairman. Already considerable activity in connection with the Presiding Bishop's Ten Year Program is in progress in the Convocations, especially in Westchester.

CHILDREN IN THE CHURCH SCHOOLS may earn money for their Lenten Offering by selling copies of The Diocesan Bulletin,—Ten cents per copy, Fifty Cents for the year; one-half the receipts allowed for the Offering.

THE SERVANTS OF CHRIST THE KING sponsored a rally and conference of young people at the Church of the Resurrection, New York City, on Sunday, February first. The program consisted of a sermon at the Morning Service by the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham, Jr., Assistant to the Rector, the Rev. Gordon Wadhams. The Rev. Bonnell Spencer, O.H.C., the Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang, Rector of the Church of St. Edward the Martyr, New York City, and the Hon. Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, were speakers at the Evening Service.

SIX WEEKS IN A JAPANESE PRISON was one of the experiences of the Rev. Luther Tucker, a member of our Diocese, who is conducting a series of services at St. George's Church, New York City, on February eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth, at 12:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Mr. Tucker has served the Student Christian Movement in this Country and in the Orient, where he was instrumental in keeping open the channels of communication between Christian Chinese and Christian Japanese. His talks will bring first-hand information and spiritual inspiration to all who attend.

KEEP IN TOUCH with the men from your Parish in Military Service. Send them the bulletins of your Church, write cheerful and newsy letters. Books are a welcome gift; collect them from your friends and send them along.

WE PRAY FOR PEACE AND WANT IT, but while wild beasts are loose it can't be had. One wants security, but doesn't talk of appeasement while some brute is attacking his brother—that is, if he cares for his brother.

—Bishop Jenkins

THE BURIAL OFFICE at the funeral of Otis Skinner, Dean of the American Theatre, was read by the Presiding Bishop of the Church and the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray at noon on Epiphany, January sixth, in the Church of the Transfiguration (Little Church Around the Corner) New York City. This Church is the headquarters of the Episcopal Actors Guild, of which Mr. Skinner was President and Bishop Tucker, Chaplain. There was no variation from the Prayer Book Service. The choir sang "Abide with Me" and Richard Crooks sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." Mr. Skinner died on January fourth after a brief illness, at the age of eighty-three.

A SCHOOL OF PRAYER FOR MEN will be conducted at St. David's Church, Highland Mills, on Sunday, February twenty-second, beginning at 3:30 p.m. The leader will be the Rev. Albert J. M. Wilson, Rector of Christ Church, Greenwich, Connecticut. The plan is for everyone to bring a box supper, hot coffee being served, and have a time for getting acquainted with men from other parishes in our Diocese on that side of the Hudson River.

KEEP FIRST THINGS FIRST. We are swamped with daily appeals for all manner of war causes and relief agencies. Remember that the first charge against your giving is the Church, her support and extension. Quite truly we still have enough to fulfill this obligation and also to help other causes.

THE REV. WILLIAM HENRY PICKFORD was instituted Rector of Christ Church, New York City, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday, January twenty-fifth. Bishop Manning said a Rector must serve in three primary capacities. He listed them as priest, preacher, and pastor. The last category is of vital importance today, he said because it means "the shepherd of Christ's flock" and today, more than ever, the members of every parish need guidance and sympathy. Mr. Pickford has been serving Christ Church since September seventh. He was previously, for two and a half years, Assistant at Grace Church, Brooklyn. Christ Church was founded in April, 1793. The last Rector of the Parish was the late Rev. John R. Atkinson, who retired in 1935.

A PROMOTIONAL INSTITUTE, lasting two days, was held at the Church Missions House on January twenty-second and twenty-third. About twenty-four were present, representing eastern dioceses, with one special representative from Minnesota. Mr. Frank H. Merrill represented New York. Special speakers were:—Mr. Sam Welles, Religious Editor of Time Magazine; Mr. O. Alfred Dickman, Director of Advertising Typography of the New York Herald-Tribune; and Mr. William H. Jenkins, Director of Publicity for Young and Rubicam, national advertising agency. The Presiding Bishop welcomed the guests, and Dr. Lewis B. Franklin and the Rev. Dr. James Thayer Addison attended part of the sessions. The conference was arranged for and directed by Mr. Joseph E. Boyle, head of the Promotional Department of the National Council.

A CLERESTORY WINDOW, symbolizing the Lenten Season, in memory of Susan Dun Douglass, was dedicated at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, on the Second Sunday after Epiphany, January eighteenth. The Rector, the Rev. Dr. Henry Darlington, officiated.

CHURCH ARMY WORKERS DURING 1941 held 3,795 adult services with 100,592 attending; held 3,524 junior services with 91,325 attending; held 353 outdoor services with 11,031 attending; made 23,489 visits taking 15,184 hours; and presented 120 for Baptism and 151 for Confirmation.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, MOTT HAVEN, was open all of New Year's Day for Confession, Intercession and Meditation. The Wardens and Vestrymen aided the Rector, the Rev. Frank R. Jones, "on the hour" throughout the day. A number of passersby came into the Church during the day for meditation and prayer.

ONE NIGHT'S PAY for several weeks was the sacrificial contribution of a member of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, to the "Save St. Peter's Fund." This same spirit in varying degree has animated many of the parishioners.

THIRTY STUDENTS from twenty colleges were guests of our Churches in Yonkers at a luncheon held at St. Andrew's Church, of which the Rev. Lynde E. May, Jr., is the Rector, during the Christmas holidays. Clergy attending from the participating Churches were: the Rev. Llewellyn O. Diplock of Christ Church; the Rev. Herbert J. Goodrich, Chapel of the Redeemer; the Rev. Wilbur L. Caswell, St. Paul's Church; the Rev. Dr. Oliver Shaw Newell and the Rev. Arthur A. Bessey of St. John's Church. Mr. Merrill B. Sands, a Yale graduate who is President of the Dictaphone Corporation, spoke. The luncheon was served by the women of St. Andrew's Church.

IT WAS TWO DEGREES BELOW ZERO at seven o'clock on Thursday morning, January eighth, yet thirty sturdy and devout boys and girls and six parents were present at the seven-thirty Celebration of the Holy Communion at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale. Some came on foot, some on bicycles, some in cars. A hearty breakfast was served in the parish house after the service.

THE ONLY COURSE which will enable us to win a victory as Christians is that which requires that we face the religious issues involved in the war which we have to fight and interpret these issues so as to lift our patriotism to the Christian level. This means that we must face the fact that if we as Christians should fight at all, we must believe it's right to fight.

Right because only by fighting can we preserve those fundamental values essential for man. Taking such an attitude does not mean that we are calling this a "holy war." War is a tool. The decision as to whether a tool is used for good or for evil depends upon the motive back of its use.

—Bishop Hobson

THE REV. DR. FLOYD VAN KEUREN, Executive Secretary of the Diocesan Social Service Commission, is taking the services at St. John's Church, New York City, throughout the month of February while the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Walter P. Doty, is away.

BOOKS ARE ASKED for our soldiers and sailors. Send them through your Parish as the Rector may direct. Many local branches of the Church Periodical Club are collecting books and magazines for this purpose. The Diocesan Church Periodical Club, with headquarters in the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close, will also be glad to receive and distribute all sorts of reading material, especially fiction.

THE CHURCH SETS UP COUNCIL ON CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Concerned over the need for spiritual ministry to defense workers who have migrated in millions to industrial centers, as well as the needs of men in training camps, the Church has authorized the Presiding Bishop to set up a Defense Service Council.

The population changes taking place are resulting in "perhaps the greatest dislocation of social and economic life that has ever taken place in this country", Bishop Tucker says.

The Church is working with Chaplains in the Army and Navy through its Army and Navy Commission, headed by Bishop Sherrill, but the new Council will endeavor to aid parishes in defense areas and industrial centers, to minister to the men and their families, and to cooperate with other religious organizations engaged in the same field, such as the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and the Home Missions Council.

LOWER EAST SIDE CHURCHES COOPERATE

For nearly a year the ministers of some seventeen congregations, representing eight Christian Communions, have been meeting once a month for luncheon. There has been no set program and no outside speaker, but they have come to know each other, and to get a feeling of the neighborhood problems. Out of this fellowship there is now developing a program of common action.

1. An invitation from the Churches of the Lower East Side has been prepared, and is being carried into homes of the neighborhood by callers representing eleven different congregations. This is not a campaign to build up any particular Church. It is the outreach of the united Christian forces of the community to all the neighbors. It is hoped that this will become a part of the steady year-in and year-out program of every one of the cooperating Churches.

2. A Neighborhood Lenten Service will be held on Wednesday evening, February twenty-fifth, at St. Mark's Church-in-the-Bouwerie, of which the Rev. Charles A. W. Brocklebank is the Rector. The Rev. Dr. Elmore McN. McKee, Rector of St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, will speak and interpret the significance of this united work and fellowship. Music will be by the Choir of St. Mark's Church. The members of each congregation will meet at their own Church and proceed in a body to St. Mark's Church.

JOINT MEETING OF WOMAN'S AUXILIARY AND GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY HELD ON JANUARY TENTH

The Woman's Auxiliary and the Girls' Friendly Society of the Diocese held a joint meeting on Saturday, January tenth, at the National Board Building of the Y. W. C. A. in New York City.

"We Meet in Christian Service" was the theme of the meeting, which was arranged by a joint committee for the purpose of presenting as a whole the work of women and girls in this Diocese. Demonstrations and speakers on the work of each organization gave a comprehensive picture of the program emphases of both organizations—personal and corporate worship, missions and social service, study, and fellowship.

The Bishop of the Diocese opened the meeting with greetings to the two organizations and gave a short address in which he emphasized the necessity of a vital personal faith as a basis for all work in maintaining and extending the work of the Church.

A service of worship was led by young members of the branch of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Mark's Church, Mt. Kisco. Mrs. H. A. McNulty of Soochow Academy, Shanghai, China, and Miss Alice Palmer, Social Service Worker at Ellis Island, gave fascinating descriptions of the mission work of the Church in these two fields. Two Candidate groups gave a demonstration meeting to depict the work being done with younger girls by the G.F.S.

A fellowship dinner followed the meeting. America's Prayer Minute was observed at six o'clock. Twenty-nine missionaries from China, Japan, the Philippines, Hawaii, and from the rural fields in this Country were guests. All were presented and several spoke briefly about their work. A "Song Shop" presented by G. F. S. members closed the meeting.

Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby presided for the Woman's Auxiliary and Mrs. Harold B. Thelin for the Girls' Friendly Society.

LENTEN OFFERINGS BEING GATHERED IN MITE BOXES

Ash Wednesday comes this year on February eighteenth. Mite-boxes for the Children's great Lenten Offering are being distributed. This Offering in the Diocese of New York will be presented at the Children's Annual Service in the Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, May twenty-third.

The amounts received throughout the Church are designated for its work in all lands, especially to extend the Kingdom of God in the Mission Fields. Christian children everywhere—children in Alaska, China, Canal Zone, Liberia, Brazil, Mexico—are offering their prayers and making their offerings that those children in the darkness of oppression and fear may come to see the Light of God.

Now is an especial time for generous support and an opportunity to be of very real help.

AID OF BRITISH MISSIONS CONTINUES TO BE AN OBLIGATION

The need for continued Aid of British Missions must clearly be seen by all of us to be at least as urgent as it was a year ago.

While contributions may be sent in at any time, Bishop Manning has urged the Clergy to take immediate steps to secure a generous offering from the Diocese. A copy of the Bishop's letter to the Clergy in charge of Congregations follows:—

Reverend and dear Brother:

Under authority of General Convention, the National Council is asking the Church again to come to the assistance of British Missions.

The claim upon our generous support is as strong and the need is even greater than it was in 1941. The Church is asked to raise $300,000 in 1942 for this purpose.

I therefore ask all the Clergy of our Diocese to secure contributions to this fund through individual gifts, by a Special Offering, and in whatever ways may be most effective.

Doubtless there are those in your congregation who would like to make special contributions for this purpose. Envelopes like the enclosed may be secured in such quantity as may be desired to use for a general offering.

It is important that these contributions be secured as soon as possible, and the amounts sent to Richard H. Mansfield, Treasurer, 381 Fourth Avenue, New York City, not later than February fifteenth.

All our Clergy will, I know, do whatever they can to aid the work of our Mother Church of England at this time.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

WILLIAM T. MANNING

MASTER MASON

by Helen W. Richardson

"What are you doing, friend?" I asked of one,
And he, while spreading on the mortar thick,
Eyed me with a look of mild surprise
And answered simply, "I am laying brick."

Another one I watched, and questioned him,
"What is this that you do with tireless speed?"
His skilled hands worked on with a pause,
"I have a wife and little ones to feed."

Then to a third my query still I brought.
With trowel poised, he slowly raised his head,
A glorious vision shining in his eyes.
"I am building a cathedral, sir," he said

NEW YORK BURLESQUE SHOWS CLOSED BY THE MAYOR

Announcing that his action was based upon statements received from Bishop Manning, Archbishop Spellman and other religious leaders and social workers, Mayor La Guardia has closed certain Burlesque Shows in this City.

The Mayor in referring to his action stated that despite the abnormal war-time conditions, when recreation is essential to a well balanced daily life, he would not permit "the moral standard of our City to be lowered either by dirty shows or salacious and filthy periodicals or commercialized vice."

All interested in moral and spiritual values will applaud the Mayor's action.

The Bishop's Easter Message

"He is Risen, as He said."
St. Matthew XXVIII verse 6.

That is the message that Easter brings to us.

In a world now shaken to its foundations, Easter brings us a faith and courage which no power on this earth can shake.

Easter brings us face to face with the Lord Jesus Christ Himself in all His present power and glory.

We put our trust in Him Who with the Father and the Holy Spirit "liveth and reigneth ever, one God, world without end." These are the words which our Prayer Book uses so constantly and with such simplicity and majesty.

But do we realize what these words mean?

Do we realize that He who was betrayed by Judas, abandoned by His disciples, dragged before Pilate, mocked and scoffed at on the Cross, is now at God's Right Hand, that all power is given unto Him in Heaven and in earth, that He reigns to-day in glory with the Father — "Jesus Christ, the same, yesterday, and to-day, and forever."

That is what His Church has proclaimed from the beginning, that is what the New Testament declares, and that is the message and the faith that the world needs to-day. What the world needs now, and has always needed, is not merely the Golden Rule, or some abstract code of ethics, but the Divine Salvation, the Living Personal Power, of the Lord Jesus Christ.

"I know of lands that are sunk in shame,
Of hearts that faint and tire;
But I know a Name, a Name, a Name,
That will set those hearts on fire."

May this Easter bring to all of us renewed faith in the Lord Jesus Who reigns for us in Heaven, renewed realization of His Living Presence with us in the Sacraments and Ministrations of His Church, courage to do our part at whatever cost in this great Day of Crisis, faith to uphold us in this life and, when sorrow and bereavement come, to give us certainty of Life Eternal.

"The Lord is Risen — He is Risen Indeed."

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

William T. Manning

BIRTHDAY MESSAGE SENT TO THE PRESIDENT

We print below a copy of the birthday message sent by the Bishop to the President of the United States, with a copy of the President's reply:

The Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
The White House
Washington, D.C.

From the Cathedral we send you our congratulations and good wishes on this anniversary. We are praying that God's blessing and guidance may be given to you in your unmeasured responsibilities.

William T. Manning
Bishop of New York

The White House
Washington February 4, 1942

My dear Bishop Manning:

Many thanks for that gracious birthday message you sent me. I am grateful to all of you for your good wishes and your prayerful remembrance of me. Such expressions are exceedingly helpful in these trying times.

Very sincerely yours,
Franklin D. Roosevelt

THE CATHEDRAL GETS INTO CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

A speech made by the Hon. Martin J. Kennedy of New York in the House of Representatives concerning the Opening of the Entire Length of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine appeared in the Congressional Record of December 2, 1941, Vol. 87, No. 215 (not printed at Government expense).

Mr. Kennedy said: "Mr. Speaker, Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote, 'Mankind was never so happily inspired as when it made a cathedral.'

"Last Sunday, the people of the Nation and of my city in particular, were thrilled and happy to learn that a great edifice devoted to the honor and glory of God had made further progress in its building. After forty-nine years of faithful and blessed activity on the part of the religious and the laity, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine is, at last, reaching the final stages of completion. I have watched with interest the development of this great cathedral. I consider it one of the architectural masterpieces of New York City. I have an intimate interest, since its erection was started the year I was born, 1892. Throughout my whole life I have lived practically within the shadow of the dome of St. John the Divine, and, while I am not a member of the religious faith which this supremely beautiful cathedral represents, I have admired this structure, standing on Morningside Heights, a beacon of religious inspiration and a citadel of spiritual values."

Mr. Kennedy quoted parts of the Bishop's sermon at the Opening Service on Sunday, November thirtieth.

"At the services," said Mr. Kennedy, "the State of New York was represented by Governor Herbert H. Lehman; the City of New York by its Mayor, the Hon. Fiorello H. LaGuardia; the U. S. Army by Major General Irving J. Phillipson; and the U. S. Navy by Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews."

Mr. Kennedy further stated: "The plans made so long ago have been faithfully observed and I feel sure that when the last stone is laid, the dream of the architect and the hope of the officials of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York will be happily realized."

After quoting an editorial from the New York Times, and President Roosevelt's message to Bishop Manning which was read at the Opening Service, Mr. Kennedy resumed his address by saying: "It must be encouraging to you, as it is to me, to find so many noble people banded together in a common effort to erect a building which has for its object the preservation of Christian ideals and the promotion of the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. As a New Yorker, I congratulate all those who have had a part in the construction of this house devoted to God, and I trust that their plans for the ultimate completion of this noble structure will be realized and that they shall be rewarded for their sacrifices in having established this permanent and endearing monument to their city and their God."

GIVE TO THE GOOD FRIDAY OFFERING

The contributions received will be used for the Jerusalem and the East Mission and to train priests in the Orthodox Russian Church as a nucleus for the revival of the Christian Religion in Russia after the War.

The promotion of this Offering in the Diocese is in the hands of the Rev. Edmund Sills, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, who has had charge of this Offering for the last ten years.

Special efforts have been made to increase the contributions from this Diocese. The 1941 Offering of $1,758.24 was the largest yet received, having increased over $700 in the last two years. However, only seventy-two congregations made contributions; all ought to do so. Offering envelopes may be secured, placed in the pews, and a simple announcement made. Some offering from every congregation might be received. Even with the daily calls for money for various causes, it would seem that at least $2,000 might be secured from a hundred congregations in our Diocese this year.

Contributions may be sent through the parish or diocesan treasurers. Checks may be drawn to the order of Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer. This offering is authorized by General Convention and is backed by the Woman's Auxiliary and commended by Bishop Manning.

Good Friday Offerings are credited to parishes and the Diocese, but do not apply on the Missionary Quota.

PEARL HARBOR, A DAY OF HOPE

December seventh was a day of hope because on that day we realized that our religion was vital enough, dynamic enough to fend off the demonic forces which breed fatalism and pessimism. On that day we knew with agonizing certainty that it would be far better "to leave America a heap of smoking stones than surrender it to the mechanized medievalism which is the Mikado or to the anti-Christ which is Hitler."

Though we shall undergo a wrenching dislocation of our common life, though we shall be drenched in blood and tears, we know with the confidence that stems from an indomitable faith that we shall win the war and—what is more important—win the peace.

This is the hope Christianity emphasizes today. Hope, which gives courage and confidence, must be as surely ours as it was that of Chanticleer who foretold the dawn amid the blackness of the night.

—Carl Hermann Voss

THE REV. DR. MASON HONORED AT FAREWELL DINNER

The Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton, Staten Island, since 1930, was tendered a Farewell Dinner at the Meurot Club, St. George, on Thursday evening, March fifth.

Two hundred were present. These included most of our Clergy on the Island, and the distinguished and beloved Canon Pascal Harrower, ninety-one years of age, Rector of the Church of the Ascension from 1884 to 1928, and a priest of the Church since 1882.

The Rev. Dr. G. Warfield Hobbs of the National Council acted as toastmaster. Tributes were paid to Dr. Mason's ministry in the Parish as its Rector and to his leadership in the Convocation of Richmond as its Dean. Under the inspiration of his guidance the Convocation has for two consecutive years overpaid its mathematical Quota for Missions, in 1941 by 7%. As founder of Ascension Day School, and as President of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, Dr. Mason has made a notable contribution to the educational work of the Church in this Diocese.

Bishop Gilbert stated his regret that Dr. Mason was severing his connection as a parish priest in this Diocese and stated, "I know of few of our young clergy who have contributed more to the progress and spiritual strength of the work our Church is set to do."

Among the speakers were: the Rev. Hugh McCandless, Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, who was in charge of St. Simon's Church, Staten Island, from 1933 to 1939; and the Rev. Raymond G. Rogers, the new Rector of the Church of the Ascension.

In accepting all the tributes offered, Dr. Mason expressed the aim of his new work thus: "There is a hunger on the part of all Christian folk today to believe and know they belong to a divine society, a society which will go on for all eternity. There is one thing that has been firm in our minds and that is the Church with a capital C. There is devolving upon each and every one of us the duty and privilege of worshipping together as a Christian body."

Dr. Mason's headquarters, as Secretary of the Forward-in-Service Program under the Presiding Bishop, are at the Church Missions House, New York City.

News of a $500 Rectory Fund was the surprise announcement made by Dr. Mason.

A sterling silver tea service was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Mason as a lasting and beautiful tribute of the affection of the Parish.

CHURCH ENTERS A FLOAT

St. John's Church in Needles, California, entered a float in the local parade on Armistice Day, which is one of the chief holidays in that city.

On the float was a tall choir member, dressed in a white robe carrying a large cross finished in gold. Two servers in red vestments and a dozen members of the junior choir also rode. On the sides of the float were signs reading "Forward in Service". This looks like "Forward in Advertising!"

MEMORIAL PLANNED FOR DEAN GATES

A "Dean Gates Memorial Committee" of forty, headed by the Bishop of New York, the Bishop of New Jersey, the Rector of Trinity Parish, and the present Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession (Trinity Parish) New York City, has been formed to plan and seek funds for a suitable memorial to the late Very Rev. Milo Hudson Gates, who was Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession for twenty-five years and Dean of the Cathedral for nine years.

The plans and ideal of Dean Gates are built into and symbolized by the beautiful buildings of the Chapel on Broadway at 155th Street. In one sense, this structure is his monument.

It was Dr. Gates' wish that he be buried in the Chapel. The plan of the Memorial Committee is that the ashes of the late Dean and those of Mrs. Gates be interred under a Burial Bronze to be placed in the pavement of the Sanctuary near the Altar in St. Mary's Chapel.

Readers of The Diocesan Bulletin may wish to have a share in this project. Checks may be drawn to the order of Dean Gates Memorial Fund and mailed to Miss Lily Bell King, 550 West 155th Street, New York City.

CHAPLAIN BROCK WRITES THE BULLETIN

The Diocesan Bulletin is in receipt of an interesting letter from the Rev. Raymond E. Brock, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Tottenville, Staten Island, and now a Chaplain at the Station Hospital, Indiantown Gap, Pennsylvania. Chaplain Brock writes:

"The work in this hospital is very interesting but very absorbing and confining. I cannot give out any figures. We have all kinds of cases from minor fractures to some serious diseases, but we have such a competent staff that last year we had very few deaths from any cause and most of these were from auto accidents which were not a reflection on the Army at all. Some of the recoveries accomplished here have seemed to me nothing short of miraculous.

"We have an improvised chapel in the auditorium of the Red Cross House where I hold services which is a general Protestant Service for all the patients and such of the officers and nurses as can get to the services without interfering with their duties. I also have our own Holy Communion Service for the few Episcopalians that are here. I have a very good attendance at the Chapel services.

"My other work consists of doing things of a material character which gives me many opportunities to meet the men intimately and so appeal to their religious life. I have found an ultimate candidate for the ministry and one prospective candidate for the Church Army.

"The cooperation of the Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains has been very fine. They sent me a fine "Communion Kit" and my own Altar Guild at St. Stephen's Church is now completing a set of small frontals of the proper colors for the various seasons. Only a red one came with the set. In the Army we use blue in addition to the other colors."

PENSION ASSESSMENTS ARRANGED TO MEET EMERGENCY

During the period of this war emergency, the Church Pension Fund is prepared to accept pension assessments in behalf of clergymen temporarily engaged in ministering to the armed forces on one of the following bases, as may be mutually agreed upon:—

1. Upon the basis of the clergyman's actual salary as a Chaplain; or

2. Upon the basis of his former parochial salary if that was larger, in order that he may maintain his salary average if he is simply on leave of absence with every intention of returning to his former duties when the emergency has passed.

The Trustees of the Church Pension Fund have no authority over the question of whose pension assessments will be paid by the Army and Navy Commission. That is a question which is entirely in the hands of the Commission. The Army and Navy Commission is undertaking these pension assessments on the basis of the clergyman's salary immediately prior to entering the service. This is as far as it can go at present in its efforts to solve the problem. Such pension assessments as it pays are undertaken by it purely on a voluntary basis, insofar as its resources permit, in an effort to encourage and make more effective the ministry of the Church among our soldiers and sailors. There are now approximately two hundred clergymen so engaged and their pension assessments amount to a figure equal to the total pension assessments payable each year within a reasonably large diocese. At the time of the last war, there were approximately five hundred and fifty involved at one time.

WINDOW DISPLAYS ADVERTIZE CHURCH SERVICES

The Publicity Department of The Program of the Church of our Diocese has often advocated the use of Window Displays to advertize the services of the Church. It is a very effective way of calling attention to either regular or special services, or some specific missionary cause.

The windows of the Church Missions House at 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City, always tell a missionary story and draw attention of the passerby. The pictorial presentation of the Near East and Jerusalem Mission is now on view.

A timely display in a bank in another city has come to our attention: on a low stand is a fine arrangement of both growing and cut Easter flowers, surmounted by a picture of The Last Supper. A placard at the base reads: "His Last Week. Attend your Church . . . . . Ministerial Association."

Publicity for the Church can be attractive, dignified and effective. It can, and does, meet the eye and reach the heart.

Banner for the Largest Lenten Missionary Offering Was Won Last Year By the Sunday School of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale—$1,139.43.

This beautiful banner, made from a design originating in the office of The Program of the Church, has been awarded for the last nine years to the Sunday School of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale.

The five next highest amounts last year were:—

|---|---|
| St. James, New York | $904.24 |
| St. Bartholomew's, New York | 901.34 |
| Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York | 822.23 |
| Christ's Church, Rye | 777.63 |
| Chapel of the Intercession, New York | 763.79 |

It might well be that one of these would receive this coveted banner award at the next Presentation Day Service, to be held in the Cathedral on Saturday, May twenty-third. The Chapel of the Intercession used to receive this award, as did also Christ's Church, Rye.

Even more interesting and less competitive are the Certificates of Honor awarded for doubling the previous year's offering (ten in 1941), and the Shield Certificates awarded every school which increases its total offering by any amount from 1% to 99% (75 in 1941).

Children all over the Church are filling their Lenten Mite boxes to the end that the Gospel of Christ may be preached in all parts of the earth, especially to children everywhere.

WHY WE RECITE THE CREED

The Creed is a song. It is not only a compendium of doctrine that must be learned and believed. It is the Church's glad expression of faith. It is the voicing of great convictions that have brought courage, joy and victory to people through the ages.

The greatest assets that any person has are not his possessions. Lives are not made rich by money or power. People are poor who are poor in faith, who have no consciousness of being supported by other arms than their own. People are poor who are poor in hope, who have no glowing and confident expectancy of a great future. People are poor who are poor in love, who try to live little self-contained lives, and who are not part of a great enriching fellowship. The Creed is the glad announcement of Christian believers that they have found a faith in God that stablizes life, a hope in Christ that transfigures the daily round of events, a love of the brethren than enriches and sustains the heart.

The purpose of reciting the Creed is not to dictate knowledge, but to express and to awaken joy. The Church calls on us to use the Creed because she wishes us to have that faith, that hope, and that love which will result in a confident and joyous approach to life.

—D. A. McGregor

CABLEGRAM SENT TO ARCHBISHOP TEMPLE

The following cable message was sent by Bishop Manning to Archbishop Temple upon his appointment as Archbishop of Canterbury:

Archbishop Temple
York, England

In my own name and that of the Diocese of New York I send you our most earnest good wishes and assurance of our prayers that God's blessing and guidance may be with you in your great responsibilities for the Church and the Nation.

William T. Manning

A LITTLE BOY GOES TO CHURCH

by Cecil B. DeMille

In the Los Angeles Churchman

Bacon wrote that he would sooner believe all the fables of antiquity "than that this universal frame is without a mind."

Born and raised a Christian he could not really accept the existence of a Supreme Being until his own powers of observation and intelligence had "confirmed" it.

He was like many of the rest of us. Though brought up in religion since earliest childhood, we actually lack conviction about the supernatural verities until something happens to awaken our higher perceptive faculties, or perhaps our spiritual receptivity.

In Bacon's case, logic was the catalytic agent; in mine it was a far simpler thing—an experience suprisingly trivial in itself, which made upon me a sudden, deep and everlasting impression. It happened when I was seven years old.

It was a week day, and my parents had bundled me off alone to a service in Christ's Church, Pompton, New Jersey. Unhappily, the prospect of attending this service did not delight me. Despite the careful religious training I'd received from both parents since baptism in infancy, I was not at all "sold" on religion, and regarded the practice of it as a routine, inescapable and faintly dismal matter, something like going to school, or washing thoroughly behind the ears.

But this service turned out to be unlike any that I had ever attended before. From the very beginning it was different, for I found that I was to be the only person to witness it.

The clergyman, a huge, red-bearded man, came out into the chancel and glanced at his "congregation." For an instant my hopes rose. He'd probably call the whole thing off right there. What would be the sense of reading the whole service just for one boy?

But the clergyman didn't call anything off. He read the service from beginning to end. He didn't appear to care whether there was a congregation in the pews or not. He seemed just as deliberate, just as devout, just as sincere as if this were a Sunday service, with the church filled to the rafters.

Why?

It was puzzling, but impressive. And making myself as small as possible, I watched and listened. Somehow, as I recall it now, I was embarrassed—almost as if I had caught a man talking earnestly out loud to himself; but it wasn't that, either. The scene before me was weightier than that. I felt, without knowing it, I suppose, like an intruder upon a mystic communion, for God was real to that clergyman, and the clergyman was making God real to me. I recognized great gravity in the proceedings, and read the responses with more sincerity than skill.

The moment for passing the plate must have been a difficult one for the clergyman, but he met it with delicacy. Not knowing whether this little boy had a penny, or would wish to sacrifice it if he had, the clergyman came down, laid the plate at the end of the first pew, and left it there. In it, the little boy deposited his only nickel. And he went out of the church with a conviction that Christianity was real.

By such seemingly small things can the minds and hearts of children be indelibly impressed. For I date my inner baptism from that day, when a man of God, whose name I never knew, kindled my belief by the shining light of his own.

WAKE UP, AMERICA!

We have been a pleasure-loving people, dishonoring God's day, picnicking and bathing.
Now the seashores are barred; no picnics, no bathing.

We have preferred motor travel to church-going.
Now there is a shortage of motor fuel.

We have ignored the ringing of the church bells calling us to worship.
Now the bells cannot ring except to warn of invasion.

We have left the churches half empty when they should have been filled with worshippers.
Now they are in ruins.

The money we would not give to the Lord's work—
Now is taken from us in taxes and higher prices.

The food for which we forgot to return thanks—
Now is unobtainable.

The service we refused to give God—
Now is conscripted for the country.

Lives we refused to live under God's control—
Now are under the nation's control.

Nights we would not spend in "watching unto prayer."
Now are spent in anxious air-raid precautions.

The evils of Godless modern ideologies we would not fight.
Now see what Germany, the seat of this teaching, has produced.

This warning from Bournemouth, England, first came to our attention in the Sunday leaflet of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City. It has since been printed in other parish leaflets and in our Church papers.

One does not need to think hard to see the analogy.

THE BISHOP HOLDS A QUIET HOUR AT THE CATHEDRAL FOR THE MANHATTAN CLERGY

On Thursday, March 19th, the Bishop of the Diocese met with the Manhattan Clergy for a Quiet Hour of united prayer and intercession for the Church and the World at this time of great spiritual need. Eighty-five of the Clergy of our Manhattan Parishes were present. The Bishop led the devotions and gave a simple and direct meditation on the Call to the Clergy in this Day of Crisis.

In the course of the Hour prayers were said for greater reality in the spiritual life of the Clergy and for God's Blessing on the Church and the Diocese, and Intercessions were offered for Peace with Righteousness and Justice and for all the suffering and oppressed, the injured and the homeless in every land. Prayers were offered for all those in every branch of our Country's service, Military and Civil.

Following the Quiet Hour, the Bishop entertained the Clergy at lunch in the Crypt of the Cathedral and in the open discussion that followed the luncheon it was made clear that the Parishes in Manhattan are actively co-operating with the Civil Authority in preparation for air raids and for ministering to their communities in time of emergency. Most Parishes have already made careful arrangements for the safe handling of congregations in the event of air raid. Several Parishes have made their buildings available to hospitals for use in emergency.

The Quiet Hour of United Prayer, also the meeting afterwards, were felt by all present to be most helpful.

WANTED—AN ALTAR?

A fumed oak Altar, 6 x 3 feet and 39 inches tall may be secured at an extremely reasonable price. It is beautifully finished, but is not ornate. It has Gredine and Tabernacle Block in the center. It has appropriate paneling and IHS in proper places, etc. The Altar is practically new and is in perfect condition.

The reason for desiring to sell is that a new reredos is being built, which necessitates a new Altar to match.

For full description and price, write to the Rev. Bertram J. Mortlock, 124 Reed Avenue, Pelham Manor, New York.

DOES THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH BELIEVE IN REVIVALS

She certainly does. In fact she knows the needs of her members so well that she has one every year. It is six weeks long, and the annual season of revival is called "Lent". It began on Ash Wednesday which this year fell on February eighteenth.

There is no time to lose to make the most of it. It means reviving our Christian Way of Life by keeping a Rule that insures progress in good living. It calls for checking up, for getting back to regular prayer habits, thoughtfulness, more worship, study and reading of churchly literature, and greater struggle with God's help to conquer the sins that do so easily beset us. In a day of great demands and anxieties, we do well to "seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness". Lent is a good time to start again!

GENERAL NOTES

THE REV. FRANK DEAN GIFFORD, Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, since 1923, has completed a graduate course lasting five years at the New York University and has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Dr. Gifford specialized in American history, with sociology and English as his minor subjects to win the degree. His thesis was entitled "The Anglican Church in Colonial Westchester", the preparation of which entailed special research into original documents, private-letters, and unpublished missionary records. Dr. Gifford is the Chairman of the Standing Committee, and an Examining Chaplain of our Diocese.

THE REV. DR. HENRY DARLINGTON celebrated his Twentieth Anniversary as Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, on Sunday, March first, and paid tribute to the members of his congregation for their loyalty, support and unprecedented achievements. In a sermon dealing with a "financial and spiritual audit", Dr. Darlington cited the achievement of the construction of a Church valued at $3,600,000, on which the only debt is a $500,000 mortgage; increased number of communicants; the development of one of the City's strongest Sunday Schools, and expanded services to the community. More than a thousand persons attended the service.

THE HON. WENDELL L. WILLKIE has been elected a member of the Vestry of Trinity Church, New York.

THE REV. DR. WALTER P. DOTY, Rector of St. John's Church, Waverly Place, New York, since October, 1933, has been elected Rector of Grace Church, Canton, Diocese of Albany, and has assumed his duties.

THE SCANDAL OF RAISING FUNDS through games of chance got under the skin of Roman Catholic Bishop Boyle of Pittsburgh. So he sent a letter to the clergy of his diocese, saying: "I forbid these bingo games either as entertainment or as a source of revenue, no matter to what good uses it may be put." His letter declares that "professional gamblers have muscled in on Church activities" and he calls upon his priests "to put an end to these baneful practices that stimulate or develop the instinct of gambling."—St. John's Record, Yonkers, New York.

Bishop Manning has declared strongly against such practices. The support and extension of God's Kingdom on earth is best obtained by sacrificial giving.

CONTRIBUTIONS MAY STILL BE SENT for Aid of British Missions and to the Army and Navy Commission Fund. Both causes should appeal to all Church people. Checks may be sent through your parish to our Diocesan Treasurer.

THE JOY OF LIFE comes only to the "over and above" people. Just enough goodness is not enough; there must be more than enough. Take, for instance, the "just enough" givers. Their attitude is, "How little can I get by with?" I never saw a man who gives on that basis get many smiles from his giving. Oh, of course, there is a sense of satisfaction in feeling that you have carried your little share of a burden, that you have done your duty; but the people that I have seen get fun out of giving were the ones who took the attitude, "How much more can I possibly make my gift?"—Frank B. Fagerburg

BLESSED IS THE MAN whose watch keeps Church time as well as business time.

THE VOICE OF THE CHURCH is the identification of members of a certain Church on Long Island when telephoning others of the Church urging them to attend Church services. Briefly: six groups of fifteen persons each were formed. Each group assumes responsibility of a definite Sunday in the series assigned. During the week before its given Sunday, each group meets, divides the list of names and proceeds to telephone members of the congregation, asking them to attend Church services the coming Sunday. The person calling does not use his or her name, but "The Voice of the Church is Calling". The plan works! It is "standing room only" at that Church.—from an item in Metropolitan Church Life. The Diocesan Bulletin commends this plan to the consideration of our Churches for the balance of Lent.

THE ESSENCE OF DEMOCRACY is the fair and tolerant treatment of minorities.

LET A MAN FASTEN HIMSELF to some great idea, some large truth, some noble cause, even in the affairs of this world and it will send him forward with energy, with steadfastness and with confidence. This is what Emerson meant when he said, "Hitch your wagon to a star." These are the potent, the commanding, the enduring, the inspiring men in our history, men like Lincoln.—Henry van Dyke

GOOD INTENTIONS will not help a man on his way if he takes the wrong road.

DEMOCRACY DEPENDS UPON RELIGION. It always has, it still does. Its ideals are religious ideals, its goals are religious goals, its standards of judgment are religious standards.

DEFENSE BONDS, DEFENSE STAMPS may be purchased for the Church, or any specified part of its work. Children may buy stamps, fill a book, for their Lenten Offering or home Church project. Thus a valuable contribution is made and our Country is benefited.

"OF BREAD I WILL SAY NOTHING, also nothing of money. But of Bibles we still have need". So wrote a refugee, formerly a Communist, in an internment camp in France. The American Bible Society has issued sheets of attractive stamps—"Read the Bible", "The Sword of the Spirit"—to affix to letters, parcels, etc. You are asked to contribute to the Society through the purchase and use of these stamps.

"DO YOU KNOW THERE IS A WAR?" asked Bishop Wilson of a Lenten congregation of business men in Trinity Church, New York City, recently. "Of course you do. But do you realize that it is fundamentally a war between the forces of God and the forces of evil, and that you have to take sides?"

DECISIONS ARE INEVITABLE. Indecision is costly. When the hour of decision arrives six factors should operate.

1. Have a standard of reference. The standard is the mind and spirit of Christ.

2. Bring to the decision a sound body, a mind accustomed to constructive thought and a sensitive spirit.

3. Decide in terms of the highest motives. Motives are often mixed but let the weight be with the highest one.

4. Consult only a few persons who care enough and are competent enough to help. Much consultation is confusing.

5. While making the decisions go about your usual business. This will stabilize you and keep you from too great absorption in the new issues.

6. When you decide do not look back. Expect some misgivings, but don't take them seriously. Live on the upper levels of your decision.

MY BUSINESS IS MANUFACTURING road building machinery. We employ Diesel engines in some of these machines. In a Diesel engine there is a tiny hole, about 6/1000 of an inch in diameter, through which the fuel has to pass. A little speck of dirt no bigger than 6/1000 of an inch is all it takes to stop one of those powerful engines. I say to you it doesn't take much to cut off the power between a human being and God. It may be a small thing—ever so small—and yet it will stop the power. When God talks to us about some little thing in our lives, that is the time we must give it up. Paltry things must be given up if we are to enjoy a close relationship with God.—From "God Runs My Business", Revell

REPORTS ARE BEING RECEIVED of generous offerings from New York Parishes to the Army and Navy Commission and to the Aid of British Missions. St. James Church, New York, has sent in $6,200 as a result of the appeal on March eighth for the Army and Navy Commission. This does not include gifts to the Special Gifts Committee. Also $1,025 has been contributed in Aid of British Missions.

A CHURCH DICTIONARY is an especial and valuable part of the 1942 Directory of St. John's Church, Waverly Place, New York City. This book of one hundred pages and cover, 5 x 9", also contains a list of members and friends with addresses, a chronology of the parish (first Episcopal service in 1853 in a Church built for Presbyterians in 1846), special activities, financial report, an interesting article on Music by the organist, and a fine description of the unique and beautiful St. John's Garden in St. John's Village. The book was prepared and edited by the Rev. Dr. Walter P. Doty, Rector of St. John's Church since October 1933.

THE KING OF KINGS, the sound motion picture of the greatest religious story of all times, was shown in the parish hall of St. John's Church, Kingston, on March 21st, 22nd and 23rd.

THE NEW YORK WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S INFIRMARY has made complete and detailed plans for the evacuation of their one hundred and fifty patients to the Memorial House of St. George's Church, New York City, in case they are bombed or burned out. Ward space has been planned in the Main Hall, the Men's Club and Gymnasium, and on the Sixth Floor. Office space and kitchen facilities have been assigned. The hospital could move in as rapidly as patients could be carried across Stuyvesant Square.

THE SECOND ANNUAL SPRING CONFERENCE of the Youth of the Diocese will be held in Yonkers on Friday and Saturday, May first and second. All of our Churches in Yonkers cooperate, and the parishioners entertain the young people in their homes overnight. This Conference is sponsored by the Youth Work Committee of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, of which the Rev. James V. Knapp is the Chairman.

THE PARENTS' COMMITTEE of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education will hold its Spring Meeting in Christ Church, Riverdale, on Wednesday afternoon, April twenty-ninth, at two o'clock. The Rev. W. D. F. Hughes, Rector of Grace Church, Hastings, will be the speaker.

THE BIBLE IS OUR BULWARK

The Bible is our bulwark of defense for freedom. Where the Bible is read and revered, constitutional government, individual liberty, and the rights of the people are respected. Where the Bible is unknown or rejected, despotism, dictatorship or the rule of class hatred prevail. We of America are called to stand for the Bible, for representative government, the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights, for all these high defenses of the good life we seek to cherish. Let us positively, unitedly, loyally uphold the cause we love—the cause for which our fathers came to these shores. Let us firmly maintain the liberty under God to which they dedicated their lives. Let us pass on to our children, and our children's children, our rich heritage of scriptural truth.—U.S. Senator James J. Davis

CHURCH ARMY STAYS IN METROPOLITAN AREA

New Home of Church Army
Grace Church (Van Vorst) Jersey City

We stated in the last issue of The Diocesan Bulletin that the Church Army was to move at once to Scottsboro, Alabama, which was our latest information as we went to press.

Now we are glad to announce that official notification has been received that the headquarters of the Church Army are to be at 268 Second Street, Jersey City, in the Diocese of Newark, effective March first.

The following is copied from The Newark Churchman, February issue:

> "Upon the invitation of the Bishop, the Church Army has established its headquarters and training center at old Grace Church, Van Vorst, Jersey City. Established many years ago in London to train laymen and women in evangelistic and social work, the Church Army has for the last fifteen years been active in the United States. Its workers are eagerly sought for in rural fields and congested city areas throughout the country. Some are working in the mission field both at home and abroad.
> "Grace Church recently became vacant through the acceptance by the Rev. John A. Frampton of a call to the rectorship of Grace Church, Union City. The Church Army will now assume responsibility for maintaining the services at Grace Church, Van Vorst. Its resident members and those in its training school will carry on weekday work in the neighborhood."

The present faculty will continue courses under the direction of the Training Center Warden, the Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Vicar of Trinity Chapel, New York City, and the Training Center will continue to be in charge of Captain Albert Sayers.

THE MAYOR BROADCASTS BISHOP MANNING'S LETTER RELATIVE TO CLOSING BURLESQUE SHOWS

The following letter, sent for publication in The Diocesan Bulletin, was written by the Bishop of New York to the Mayor of the City and was quoted in full by the Mayor in his recent broadcast to the people of the City:—

February 27, 1942

The Hon. Fiorello H. La Guardia
Mayor of the City of New York

My dear Mr. Mayor:

I wish to commend most heartily your definite stand for decency in the Theatre and your recent action in closing certain Burlesque Theatres.

Your action in this matter was manifestly for the public good and should be applauded by all right-minded citizens and by all true friends of the Theatre.

To intimate, as some have done, that your action is a threat to the whole Theatre is sheer misrepresentation. The exact contrary is true. Your action gives support to the decent Theatre and aids all those who wish to maintain the standards of decency and good taste on the stage.

As a citizen of New York and also as a Bishop of the Christian Church let me thank you again for your right and fearless stand in this matter which I am confident has the approval of the great majority of our people and which should have the support of all who wish, as I do, to see the Theatre upheld and maintained as one of our greatest and noblest educational agencies and also as a vitally important agency for true and wholesome entertainment and recreation.

Faithfully yours,
William T. Manning
Bishop of New York.

ST. MARTIN'S HAS BIG CONFIRMATION CLASS

On Sunday, February fifteenth, at St. Martin's Church in Harlem, the Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, the Rector, presented a class of one hundred and thirty-four for Confirmation by the Right Rev. Robert E. Campbell, acting for the Bishop of the Diocese.

St. Martin's is one of the fastest growing parishes in the City. During the first six weeks of 1942, the financial receipts showed an increase of $35.55 over the amount received during the same period in 1941. This, in spite of last year's enthusiasm attendant upon the opening of the restored Church, and in spite of the fact that there were two bad Sundays this year because of rain and extreme cold. During 1941 there were 903 services conducted with a total attendance of 130,479. St. Martin's also increased its Missionary Offering for 1941 by over six times the payment of the previous year.

The Choir of St. Martin's Church gave a grand concert in the "Little Theatre" on Sunday, March first.

NEW RECTOR AT ASCENSION CHURCH, STATEN ISLAND

The Rev. Raymond G. Rogers has succeeded the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason as Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton, Staten Island. Mr. Rogers is a graduate of the Guilmont Organ School of New York, Mus. B., and the General Theological Seminary. Mr. Rogers comes to the Diocese from Glens Falls, where he was Assistant Minister and Choirmaster of the Church of the Messiah since 1936. He was on the staff of St. Clement's Church, New York City, in 1935. The new Rector of the Church of the Ascension was born in Hudson Falls, New York, in 1904, is married and has five children.

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE BENEFIT ON APRIL SEVENTH

One of the first post-Easter benefits in New York will be a special production of the Amateur Comedy Club of "Village Green", a comedy in three acts by Carl Allensworth, to be presented at the Heckscher Theatre on Tuesday evening, April seventh, for the benefit of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York.

With so many tankers and freighters sailing to all the fighting fronts carrying essential war materials, the Institute's thirteen-story building at 25 South Street is crowded with seamen of American, British, Dutch, Belgian, Norwegian, Polish and other nationalities who are "carrying the goods" for the Allied Nations. A wide variety of free recreation is provided: bowling alleys, pool, billiards, reading rooms, motion pictures, athletics, concerts, and other essential services such as clinics, marine school, welfare, etc., in addition to offering meals and lodgings (there are 1,600 beds) at reasonable cost.

THE REVEREND LAWSON CARTER RICH

Rector of Corpus Christi Church, New York City, died on March fourth, at the age of eighty.

Fr. Rich founded Corpus Christi Church in 1897. It was formerly a Chapel of the Church of the Transfiguration (The Little Church Around the Corner).

Fr. Rich was born in Canton, New York. His grandfather was the first student of the General Theological Seminary, and he himself was graduated from the Seminary in 1889. Ordained the same year, he was Assistant at the Chapel of St. Mary the Virgin in Baltimore, where he remained until 1894. He came to New York to become Assistant to the late Rev. Dr. George Houghton, Founder and Rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, until he began his work at Corpus Christi.

Fr. Rich's life was one of true consecration and devotion. He was revered by the people of his own flock and beloved by all who knew him.

THE REVEREND WILLIAM WALTER SMITH

Curate at St. Andrew's Church, Harlem, since 1900, died on March second.

Dr. Smith graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1892 and was ordained that year by Bishop Potter. In 1895 he received an M.D. degree from the College of Physicians and Surgeons (Columbia University).

Dr. Smith founded the New York Sunday School Commissions in 1898, and Christ Church in Bronxville, 1900.

THE REVEREND PHILIP SCHUYLER

retired priest of our Diocese, died on Monday, March sixteenth, in his eightieth year.

Mr. Schuyler was ordained by Bishop Potter in 1894. His first charge was at St. Ambrose Mission in New York City. After service in Vermont and Maine, Mr. Schuyler came to the Chapel of the Redeemer, New York City, in 1925, where he remained for three years; then to St. Andrew's Mission (Clason Point) in the Bronx, where he served from 1928 to 1940, when he retired. His last years were spent in Maine.

We must ever realize that "God hath made of One Blood all nations of the earth to dwell together on the face of the earth", and approach OUR Father in humility and faith. There still are Japanese and Germans who say "Our Father" and pray for peace and justice.

When it comes, Peace, to be just and lasting, will be built upon the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Man, and will be the result of the guidance of the Holy Spirit through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

CHRISTIANITY IN EDUCATION

Christianity is a Gospel, a Good News, that is, it is something to be announced. Christian growth depends on the facts of God's action and upon our knowledge of and our response to His action. The only way in which people can learn of this action is by being told. This is Christian instruction.

1. We must tell people that God has acted. Too often people live their lives with no thought of God. Therefore their lives are narrow, limited by their immediate environment. Being without God they are without hope in the world. They need to be instructed that the universe is greater and more wonderful than they realized. It is enough to include a God who lives and loves and saves.

2. We must tell people the good news of what God has done for them. In Jesus Christ God has entered into human life and has changed it. Christ is God's new beginning for humanity. The new life of Christian love that flows from Christ is the solution of man's problems and the only hope of the world. We must tell people that this new and saving life has come and we must show them the difference between Christian life and unchristian life.

3. We must tell people how they may find this life. In the Christian fellowship of the Church this life comes to them. The divine life lives today and they may experience that life by becoming living parts of the Body of Christ.

4. Instruction is not all of education or of Christianity. Instruction is the guidepost that points the way to the new life that God has given us. By itself it is as barren as a guidepost. It points the way, it announces the truth. The Christian life is accepting the truth and walking in the way.—D. A. McGregor.

GENERAL MacARTHUR CALLS CHRISTIANS TO SACRIFICE

General Douglas MacArthur, heroic leader of American forces in the Philippines and now in Australia, is quoted in a letter issued by the Chief of Chaplains as saying:

"It is my humble belief that the religibn which Christ came to establish is based upon sacrifice, and that men and women who follow in His train are called to the defense of certain priceless principles, even at the cost of their own lives. I can think of no principles more high and holy than those for which our national sacrifices have been made in the past. History teaches us that religion and patriotism have gone hand in hand, while atheism has been accompanied by various forms of enmity toward free government."

WE MUST WIN THE PEACE

In common with all men of good-will, we must not only prepare to win the war, but we must now plan to win the peace. We can, through the Church:—

Keep in touch with those from the parish who are serving in the Army and Navy and Air Force.

Bring the families of men in the services into close fellowship through the various parish activities. Let them realize that the Church has not forgotten.

Keep clearly before our minds that in spite of our temporary national opposition to various nations, we who are Christians in all lands are one in Christ and members of one eternal fellowship.

Use dramatics, movies, and study group material to discover and make vivid the world vision of the great Hebrew and Christian leaders.

Provide opportunities for small groups to discuss peace aims and peace procedures.

Seek constantly, through groups, special services, bulletin boards to keep clear the purpose and work of the Church in relation to all of today's problems.

Recognize that our security is in God and arrange many services of music, worship, prayer, and quiet where strength and confidence may be found.

—The Educational Reporter

CONFIRMATION CLASS GRADUATES

The picture above shows Bishop Manning handing diplomas to the members of a class of ninety-five confirmed at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on Monday evening, January fifth.

The Confirmation Classes in this parish are somewhat unique in that a very special course of instruction is given to all candidates, and certificates or diplomas are awarded at the time of Confirmation. A large percentage of those receiving these evidences of preliminary training carry on into definite service in the Church.

"AN ALL-TIME LOW" IN MISDEMEANORS

The press reported from your conference with pressmen last week that you commended the fact that only two arrests for drunkenness had been made during the week-end. The Police Department reported that only one such arrest was made on New Year's Eve.

Such a record is amazing, and I wonder whether such has been recorded in recent years in any community of our size. We are told that the number of persons apprehended for misdemeanors during the December was an "all-time low" in Honolulu. That is a matter of congratulation not only to the community for its cooperation, but particularly to the Commanding General of the Army who, when declaring and maintaining martial law in this military outpost of the country, included the complete ban on the sale of all alcoholic liquors.

—Excerpt from a letter written to the Military Governor of Hawaii by Bishop Littell of Honolulu

WILL AMERICA PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST?

The most important thing in America yesterday, today and tomorrow is Christian Faith.

For what would it profit a nation if it gained mastery of the whole world, but lost its soul? And if America keeps its soul, it will be because the Christian people had enough passion, determination, courage and religion to accomplish that heroic result.

Never before were so many men and women honestly and sincerely asking the questions: "Has Christianity anything for the day and the world in which we are living? Is there a God and is He functioning now? Does He have any concern for humanity?"

The Christian Church has a positive, satisfying answer for the souls of honest men and women in this hour of world tragedy. It is contributing to the communities and America in the faiths and lives of men and women, boys and girls. It has ever done so. —Selected

BRONX-WIDE MISSION A GREAT SUCCESS

The Bronx-wide Mission, twenty cooperating congregations, held from February eighth to fifteenth inclusive, was of great help to our Churches in this Convocation.

A Mission Service, with questions and petitions sent in by members of the congregations, was held each night, and there were daily Celebrations of the Holy Communion.

Much Christian Doctrine and specific Church instruction formed a large part of the evening services. The general presentation of the Church by the Missioners was, as Bishop Manning so often remarks, to show the Church to be, "Catholic and Evangelical".

There is a general report from all parishes uniting in the Mission — "crowded Churches, increased number making Communions, growing and still continued interest".

Great credit is due to all the Clergy for the fine preparation for this General Mission, and for the careful arrangement of the many details of the services and the excellent advertising.

The Missioners were secured from outside the Bronx, coming from Staten Island, Manhattan, Westchester, etc. Some made the trip each day, a few stayed for the week in the community where they held the Mission.

Both Missioners and the Bronx Clergy received a great spiritual uplift from these meetings and the results on the people in general continues noticeable, especially in increased attendance and Church interest.

A concluding service to climax the Mission was held at the Cathedral on Sunday evening, February twenty-second, which was attended by a great number of people from the Bronx. Massed choirs of the Bronx Churches were present and sang the Litany of the Church in procession around the interior of the Cathedral.

The Bishop of the Diocese preached. In his sermon the Bishop said:—

"From all over the Bronx I have been receiving reports of the Mission which you have been conducting simultaneously in all your Parishes and I am thankful indeed to know of the help and blessing and fresh inspiration which the Mission has brought to you. Such united prayer and action gives great strength to the life and work of the Church and I hope that your example in this matter may be followed in other parts of our great Diocese.

"You have come here tonight to the Cathedral, Clergy, People, and Choirs, from all your Parishes to give thanks to God for the help the Mission has brought to you, and to pledge yourselves personally and individually to new faithfulness and loyalty in your life and work in the Church.

"You are to pledge yourselves here tonight that, with God's help, you will try faithfully to bear your witness for Christ and for His Church. And so this great Closing Service of your Mission here in our Cathedral is a 'Service of Witness'.

"If we are to be true Witnesses for Christ, we must not only understand the Faith, we must believe it with our whole minds and souls. And the Rock and Foundation of our faith as Christians is belief in Our Lord Jesus Christ as God as well as man. It is this full faith in Christ which gives meaning, and reality, and power, to everything that we do and say in the Church. And because we believe in Our Lord as God we believe in His Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church as the New Testament shows it to us and as it is declared and given to us in our Prayer Book.

"But let us remember that if we are to bear our witness for the Faith of Christ we must show its power in our daily lives, in our homes, in our work, in all our relations with our fellow men; for let us remember that in religion, as in other things, 'Actions speak louder than words'.

"These are the things which I know have been brought clearly before you by the Mission in your Parishes, and these are the things that we all promised to do with God's help when we were Baptized and Confirmed.

"And so, to refresh our faith and strengthen our purpose, let us all now repeat and renew, here before God, the great and holy promises that we made at our Baptism and at our Confirmation."

The whole congregation and also the massed choirs then stood and, led by the Bishop, renewed the vows made at their Baptism and Confirmation.

PRESENTATION SERVICE SET FOR MAY 23rd

The Annual Service for Presenting the Missionary Offerings of the Children of the Diocese will be held in the Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, May twenty-third. Banners, Certificates of Honour, and Shield Certificates will be presented at this Service.

Bishop Manning has invited the Recreation League Girls' Drum Corps of Greenwood Lake to be present and lead the procession of the great choir of approximately two thousand vested choristers from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese. This talented group of musicians in striking uniforms was present at the Service last year, and again at the Special Service for Children and Young People at the Opening of the Entire Length of the Cathedral last Autumn.

THE DEAN OF OUR CATHEDRAL ELECTED BISHOP OF LONG ISLAND

The Very Rev. James P. DeWolfe, D.D.

At the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island, held on February tenth, Dean De Wolfe was elected Bishop of that Diocese and he has accepted the election subject to the consents of the Bishops and the Standing Committees of the Church, which must be obtained as our Canons require.

In the short time that he has been here, the Dean has won in remarkable degree the esteem and affection of the clergy and the laity of this great Diocese. He will be greatly missed from the services and work of the Cathedral and also from the life of the Diocese, but we rejoice that he will still be our near neighbour, and the prayers and good wishes of our whole Diocese will go with him as he takes up his work and responsibility as a Bishop in the Church of God.

LAYMEN'S CORPORATE COMMUNION HELD ON STATEN ISLAND

Under the auspices of the Laymen's League Branches on Staten Island, the men and boys of our Church in the Convocation of Richmond, held their Second Annual Washington's Birthday Corporate Communion and Breakfast on Monday, February twenty-third, in St. John's Church, Clifton.

Two hundred and forty-three were present at the Service, at which the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. Albert H. Frost, was the Celebrant, assisted by the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason, the Rev. Francis R. Godolphin, and the Rev. Arthur J. Torrey.

A male choir of twenty voices sang during the service.

Following the service a breakfast was served in the parish house, after which a very interesting talk on the work of our Church in China for the past one hundred and seven years was given by Mr. M. P. Walker, former Treasurer of the American Church Mission in China. The Dean of the Convocation also spoke and told of the work being done in the Convocation for Week-day Religious Education.

Mr. Thomas P. Rabbage, Second Province Vice-President of the Laymen's League, was Chairman of the committee in charge.

It was voted to hold the service in 1943 at Christ Church, New Brighton.

WE ALL NEED GOD

There is not a home in the nation that does not face readjustments because of the war. Many have increased incomes. Some have experienced losses. Mothers who have trained their children for effective civilian life have kissed their sons goodbye and sent them to army camps or to the navy training schools. Casualty lists will soon be a daily experience. Workers' hours have changed the schedule of meals and sleeping hours. The adjustments have not been easy.

These people need God. They need the Church. They need the priest of God who assures them that the Almighty is in the heavens. They need the religious experience which comes through prayer.

Church Services Must Be Vital

It is not a time to denounce if heavy hearts or family obligations curb the desire to worship. The concern of the minister in these days should not be to rebuke but to understand. No one is under obligation to come to Church to hear you preach. The minister's responsibility is not to act as a censor of loyalties or to rebuke the unfaithful. Rather it is to make the services of the Church, where he officiates, sufficiently vital that those who do come to its Altar can sense the presence of the Spirit of God.

THE FIRST EASTER IN THE ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE CATHEDRAL

A Congregation One-Tenth of a Mile in Length

"To some it may seem that in the face of all that is taking place in this world the Easter note of Joy and Triumph is scarcely appropriate this year and that this note should be subdued, or deferred, until this fearful World-wide struggle is ended and peace with righteousness and justice had been won. But that view would miss the whole power and truth of the Easter Message.

"That great outburst of Triumph on the first Easter Day went up to God from the midst of deepest tragedy and of what looked like utter defeat. Never did evil look more from their homes and families, and from their normal ways of life, to give themselves in the Armed Forces of our Country, and all our people, men and women alike, are called upon to do their part in this great Day of Crisis.

Our whole Nation is called to its utmost service and sacrifice and this call comes with special force to us who serve in the Ministry of the Church. We must all dedicate ourselves with redoubled earnestness to our work as Priests and Pastors in the Church of God. We shall, of course, do everything in our power for the men who are serving in the Armed Forces and especially for those who have gone, or will go, from our Parishes and Congregations. We must let them know that the Church is thinking of them and that they are ever in our prayers.

Many of our Clergy have gone to serve as Chaplains and many more will do so. We must remember them constantly at our Altars and must give them our aid through the continued contributions of our congregations to our Army and Navy Commission Fund. Many of us cannot go as Chaplains but we can serve just as truly by doing our utmost to sustain the life of the Home Church and to strengthen the Faith and Courage of our people, and if we do this we shall be serving at the Spiritual Front.

With our Churches always open, let us gather our people constantly to lift up their united prayers that God will guard and bless those who, on land, on the sea, and in the air, are giving themselves for us and for their fellow men, and that victory may speedily be given to the Forces of Freedom with Just and Righteous Peace for the sake of all mankind.

More faithfully than ever we must be at our Altars, and on our knees in our Churches. More faithfully than ever we must do our work as Pastors of Christ's Flock ministering to our own people and to all whom we can help, ministering to them personally and individually and bringing them the spiritual help, the help and strength from God, which as His Priests and Ministers we are commanded and sent to give them. We must keep nearer than ever to our people in this time of stress and trial which for many among us will be a time of sorrow and bereavement.

And also in our lives as citizens, in meeting all the war-time claims and obligations, we of the clergy must be an example and strength to our people and must do our full part. We must do this in such matters as the use of automobile tires and gasoline, in obeying every injunction as to food and clothing, in giving every aid that we can to our Government in its vast work of War Production. In doing these things we shall be helping to shorten the War and to end the tragedy and cruelty and suffering, and the example of the Clergy in these matters will greatly strengthen our people. As we watch the quiet heroism and the true self-sacrifice of the men on our Tankers and other Merchant Ships, none of us will be willing to waste gasoline or other things which these men are supplying at the cost of their lives.

It is not for me to suggest the personal ways in which you shall give your service at this time, each one of you will know how best to use the opportunities given to you, but if, as your Bishop, I can give any counsel which you feel may be of help you know how gladly this will be given.

I shall take no vacation this summer but shall be here continuously to do whatever may be in my power in case of emergency and to be in direct and immediate touch with all our work, and during the month of July I shall preach at the Cathedral to the young people from all over our land who attend the services at that time when the Summer Courses of our Colleges and Universities are in session.

May this Hour of Crisis bring all of us to simpler and more personal faith in Christ, to deeper realization of our fellowship with Him, and to greater faithfulness to our Divine Calling as Priests and Ministers of His Church.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop, powerful, never did good seem more completely defeated, than at the Cross on Calvary. But Easter Morning turned defeat into victory, and from that day to this men have known that God will be the Victor, from that day to this the Easter Message has brought strength to the discouraged, help to those in need, pardon and new life to the sinner, comfort to the mourner, faith, hope, and courage to believers everywhere.

"Easter tells us that Right and Truth cannot be destroyed. Christ is Risen. Death and Sin are overcome. Evil and Wickedness may seem to triumph, but only for a brief time. It was only three days from Calvary to Easter."

CANCER CONCERNS EVERYONE

The Hon. Herbert H. Lehman, Governor of the State of New York, has issued a Proclamation in which he states:

> "At this time when attention is directed toward national protection serious peace-time problems may be overlooked. These are not usually of the sensational type, therefore public attention is not focused upon them, even though their importance is vital.
> "Cancer is one of these problems. Lack of knowledge of the preventability and curability of cancer results each year in needless loss of life. It has been estimated that if this information should be available to all, several thousand lives could be saved each year in New York State.
> "The American Society for the Control of Cancer, the New York State Committee, the New York City Committee and the New York Department of Health are united in preventing needless loss of life from cancer.
> "Facilities for diagnosis and treatment are accessible to all citizens of New York State, in the urban and rural districts alike. Early recognition and competent early treatment is today the best method of combating this disease.
> "Now, therefore, I. Herbert H. Lehman, Governor of the State of New York, do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1942 as CANCER EDUCATIONAL MONTH in the State of New York."

The Diocesan Bulletin wishes to give this Proclamation as wide a circulation as possilbe and to urge its readers to cooperate to the greatest degree with the medical profession in its efforts to lessen the prevalence of this scourge.

The New York City Cancer Committee of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, Inc. publishes a "Quarterly Review" which should be in the hands of all interested. Write to the Committee at 130 West 66th Street for further information.

Mr. Oxholm was born on Staten Island and baptized and confirmed in St. Mary's Church, West New Brighton, where his father was a vestryman for many years. He was educated in the public schools of Staten Island and the Staten Island Academy, after which he took the Degree of Bachelor of Science at Princeton University. In 1926 he married Mary McAlister Hall, daughter of the late Rev. Charles Mercer Hall, one time Rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, Kingston, and grand-daughter of the late Judge Alton B. Parker.

After leaving college in 1922, Mr. Oxholm was employed for ten years in the export and import business, severing his connection with the Radio Corporation of America in 1931 to operate Judge Parker's extensive apple orchards in Esopus, Ulster County, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Oxholm now own this farm and continue to operate it.

Since moving permanently to Esopus, Mr. Oxholm has become associated with many civic and agricultural organizations, and he is at present sole Trustee of the Esopus Public School, Trustee of Wykeham Rise School for Girls at Washington, Connecticut, Treasurer of the New York and New England Apple Institute, and Treasurer of the Esopus Board of Fire Commissioners. He served for a year on the Selective Service Board, and for four years as Vice-President of the New York State Horticultural Society. # THIRTEEN STORIES OF WELCOME AT 25 SOUTH STREET

JOURNEY'S END — 25 SOUTH STREET

The 107th Annual Report of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York as published in the April issue of The Lookout is replete with interesting reading and dramatic incidents.

Thousands of merchant seamen who are carrying essential war cargoes to all the fighting fronts enjoyed shore leave in the Port of New York during 1941 and 266,698 lodgings were provided at the Institute in its thirteen-story building at 25 South Street, New York City.

The Report showed that since World War II started the Institute has been host to 47 torpedoed and otherwise shipwrecked crews. The average length of stay for these seamen was eight days. Early in 1941 the majority of rescued crews were British, Belgian, Dutch and Norwegian, but since Pearl Harbor the crews have been chiefly Americans from tankers and freighters torpedoed off the Atlantic coast.

Club Rooms for Allied Seamen

Club Rooms for Allied Seamen were established at the Institute during 1941. Practically the entire second floor was turned over to the British Ministry of Shipping for a British Merchant Navy Club, which was officially opened on March 26th by Lord Halifax. On April 15th a special club room for Belgian seamen, patterned after the Netherlands Room opened in 1940, was opened on the third floor of the Institute by the Belgian Minister of Finance, Mr. Camille Gutt. In the Fall of 1941 extensive alterations began in the General Game Room, used chiefly by American merchant seamen, who have waited eagerly for comforts and attractive surroundings comparable to the British, Belgian and Dutch club-rooms.

During the year the United States Goverment asked the cooperation and assistance of the Institute in housing groups of men in the military services. From January to March, 1941, the Institute quartered 290 men of the U. S. Army Signal Corps who were making a special air-defense study of downtown New York. In the Fall, 850 Coast Guardsmen awaiting assignment to merchant ships were quartered and 1,400 Coast Guard recruits for three week periods while taking examinations, receiving innoculations and vaccinations before being assigned to active duty.

Merchant Marine School Had Large Enrollment

The Merchant Marine School, occupying part of the thirteenth floor of the Institute, had an enrollment of 2,410 students, the highest since World War I. Of these 358 were landsmen candidates for Naval and Coast Guard Reserve commissions. Courses in aero-navigation were added to the curriculum. Many of the seamen from the tankers and freighters, ambitious to improve their ratings, spent their shore leaves studying in the School. Of especial importance is the science of checking courses, since ships in war-time do not have such aids to navigation as shore radio stations and sometimes have to operate without radios and often without lights.

Impressive List of Relief Services

Attention is called to the special services rendered torpedoed crews, who receive clothing, shoes, etc. at whatever time of day or night they arrive. Many of the survivors, after spending anxious days and nights in lifeboats, suffer from frost-bitten feet and at the Institute they receive special diathermic treatment in the Clinic to restore the use of their feet. A total of 2,850 treatments was given to seamen in the Dental, Medical, Eye-Ear-Nose and Throat Clinics.

The Institute also distributed 4,370 pieces of clothing and 1,655 knitted articles through its "Sloppe Chest" for seamen shipping out. Heavy underwear is needed when ships sail to northern areas.

An increase in the number of jobs secured for seamen through the Institute's Employment Bureau was reported —a total of 2,896 jobs compared with 1,791 in 1940.

The number of meals served in the Commissary also increased from 599,543 in 1940 to 661,619 in 1941.

Other services also showed increases over the previous year: a total of 5,991 books and 67,992 magazines were distributed to seamen who greatly appreciate reading matter since radios are now prohibited. Two hundred and nineteen entertainments (movies, concerts, sports, lectures) were held in the Auditorium with a total attendance of 73,770 seamen. The Credit Bureau extended credit to 4,671 seamen to tide them over temporary difficulties. The Welfare Department had 38,877 social service interviews, rendering a variety of services to seamen. The Institute's Chaplains continued their services to seamen at the Institute and at the U.S. Marine Hospitals at Ellis and Staten Islands, conducting a total of 685 religious services with an attendance totalling 13,694.

Any of our readers who may wish to learn in greater detail of the manifold and great services which our Seamen's Church Institute is performing IN HIS NAME, day after day, are invited to write for a copy of the 107th Annual Report or, better still, visit the building at 25 South Street and talk with the Director, the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley.

SUMMER CAMP ENROLLMENT BEGINS

Summer Camp enrollments are already being entered all over the country: private camps, Boy Scout and Girl Scout Camps, Camp Fire Girls, and numerous Church Camps will be open to young people.

Perhaps the enrollment for these will be larger than ever because of the desire of parents to have their children out of the cities. We have our own Church Camps where hundreds of Sunday School boys and girls and other young people gather for instruction as well as for recreation.

A New Camp Is Announced

A new camp of unusual merit is open this year. In response to numerous requests on the part of parents, the Trustees of St. Peter's School in Peekskill have decided to have a summer camp this year. It will open on July first and will continue until August twenty-fifth. The camp will be under the direction of the Headmaster of the School, the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, assisted by other members of the school staff. Fr. Leeming is a priest of our Diocese and has a wide experience with young people.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION FUND AND FOR BRITISH MISSIONS

Some of our Parishes and Congregations have not yet sent in any contribution for these two vitally important purposes. Every Congregation will certainly wish to do its part for these two Causes, each of which makes its own urgent and sacred appeal to us.

The Bishop asks every Congregation to do its full part and to send in its gift at once to the Treasurer of the Diocese, Mr. Richard H. Mansfield, 342 Madison Avenue, New York City.

A little later a Report of the contributions from each Congregation for these two Causes will be issued. Send in your contributions as soon as possible.

MEMORIAL FLAG POLE GIVEN TO ST. PETER'S CHURCH, CHELSEA

The Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, New York City, has announced the gift of a thirty foot flagpole in memory of John Richard Ress, U.S.N., who gave his life on the U.S.S. Reuben James.

The pole is a spar from an old sailing vessel. It will be placed in the rectory garden adjoining the Church and will be dedicated on Memorial Day.

Seaman Ress was a parishioner of St. Peter's Church and was the first communicant of our Diocese to give his life for his country in the present World War.

TEA DANCES FOR ARMED FORCES

Sunday Afternoon Tea Dances for soldiers and sailors are held each week at St. Bartholomew's Community House, New York City. The young women of the Parish are finding these informal affairs as interesting as are their guests.

CHURCHES BUY WAR BONDS

One of our Churches buying War Bonds in this Diocese is St. Martin's Church in Harlem, which parish recently purchased $3,500 of War Bonds. The Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, Rector of this great congregation, states that they are not well-to-do people; some of them are porters, shoe-shiners, red caps, and there are many women who go out to work in the homes of white people. They receive small wages, but do succeed in doing big things.

THE RECTOR OF CHRIST CHURCH, WARWICK, INSTITUTED BY THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE ON SUNDAY, MARCH 8th

NEW RECTOR APPOINTED FOR THE CHURCH OF THE INCARNATION

The Rev. John A. Bell, for three years Assistant at St. James Church, New York City, has been elected Rector of the Church of the Incarnation, Madison Avenue at 35th Street, and will assume his duties on September first.

Mr. Bell is thirty-two years old and unmarried, and is a graduate of the General Theological Seminary.

The Rev. Frederick W. Golden-Howes, former Dean of the Cathedral in Salina, Kansas, joined the staff of the Church of the Incarnation in 1937 as Assistant to the Rev. Dr. John Gass who resigned in January 1941. Mr. Golden-Howes will remain as priest-in-charge until the first of September.

HOW MUCH SHALL I GIVE?

"Will you put a dollar bill on the alms basin today as your offering to the work of the Church? This is less than you spend for an ordinary evening entertainment."

This sentiment appears each week day in the Sunday leaflet of one of our New York City Churches. The suggestion has increased the offerings to a considerable degree and has two good points:—

1. The Church expects an offering as a matter of course.
2. That offering should bear a just relation to other expenditures, especially in comparison to a non-essential expenditure.

Few of us exercise any very real discrimination in our giving and most of us will find it necessary to build a budget or rearrange our present spending in order to administer our financial stewardship as Christians.

We are called upon at this time to give generous support to many appeals—to our Country to buy Defense Bonds; to our men in service through the Army and Navy Commission; to Aid of British Missions; to give to China Relief; to help the Red Cross; to aid any number of worthy causes; but, above all, to support our Church at home and abroad.

We must be discriminating in our giving, and give not until it HURTS, but until it HELPS!

How much shall I give? We must again pledge ourself in Discipleship to Christ. We must renew our belief in Christian Fundamentals. The Christian recognizes that God is the Creator and Giver of all things and that all people are dependent upon Him for their material possessions. The Christian believes in this partnership with God in acquiring, saving and spending money as well as in giving it.

The following statement, adopted by the United Stewardship Council (with which our Church is affiliated) at its December 1941 meeting, is timely:—

> "In a day when numerous appeals are being made to the loyalties of individuals and groups, it is imperative that once again the demands of Christian Stewardship shall take precedence in the thought and practice of the followers of Christ. Stewardship is the unescapable answer of Christian devotion to the lesser loyalties claiming men's hearts in our modern world.
> "What are the principles of Christian Stewardship? How can they be practised? How may Stewardship be implemented in the life of the Church?
> Stewardship Principles
> 1. The Christian recognizes that God, the Heavenly Father, has a purpose for His world.
> 2. That purpose is expressed in the words of our Lord Jesus Christ as the Kingdom of God.
> 3. To realize this Kingdom, God has placed responsibility upon man, giving him all the spiritual and material resources necessary to accomplish the divine purpose.

4. In the acquisition and use of these resources man is the Steward of a loving Father and is responsible to Him for the manner in which he discharges this trust."

We can do no less than rededicate to God ourselves and all that we possess. Only by so doing can we render in full measure our service to our Country.

GENERAL NOTES

APPROXIMATELY TWO MILLION PEOPLE, readers of the April 1942 issue of the Christian Herald, saw a full three page article by the well known religious writer, Dr. Frank S. Mead, on our Cathedral. A full page picture of the great service for the Opening of the Entire Length of the Cathedral; a picture of St. Boniface Chapel; of the Choir massed in the Chancel; of Bishop Manning, Dr. Ralph Adams Cram and the Dean, taken at the Opening Service—illustrate the article. Dr. Mead's article is based upon personal knowledge of the Cathedral and information gained in a personal interview with the Bishop.

THE FIFTIETH CHURCH CONGRESS meets in Indianapolis May 5-7. The Rev. Dr. Donald B. Aldrich, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York City, is the Chairman. At the Opening Service of the Congress Bishop Strider of West Virginia will preach on "The Unchanging Christ". Much of the discussion will center on the great problems now facing the Church and the place and power of the Church in moulding a program for Peace. The Presiding Bishop will present the Forward-in-Service plans of the Church and will also lead the Closing Service on Thursday evening, May seventh, at eight o'clock.

A MOTION PICTURE STRIP, showing the full procession—Crucifer, Choir and Rector of Christ Church, Suffern—was the unusual illustration of the Easter issue of the Christ Church Messenger. This strip was 22" long, across a four-fold leaflet 8½" wide. The Easter Offering envelope was also quite unique with a picture of two ushers holding the Alms Basin, ready to receive the Offering.

THE FORWARD-IN-SERVICE MOVEMENT was presented at the Spring Meetings of the various Convocations by the new Secretary, the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason. Dr. Mason emphasized the fact that Forward-in-Service is a movement within and of the Church, not an organization superimposed on the Church. Many parishes in the Diocese are planning the year's work in connection with the Presiding Bishop's plan for the whole Church.

IN LATE YEARS the Church has made a good deal more of the forty days before Easter than of the forty days after. It used to be the other way, and I think that the ancients had the better idea. We spend so much time getting ready for Easter that when the day comes we are glad to get it over with. The days after Easter should be the happiest in the Church Year. Can't we get a little better perspective?—Sunday Bulletin of All Saints' Church, Harrison.

AMERICAN INDIANS ARE PATRIOTIC. The Crows of Montana voted $10,000 of tribal funds to President Roosevelt to "use as you see fit". The Creeks of Oklahoma from tribal funds bought $400,000 of war bonds. So also, and in large sums, did the Jicarilla Apaches and Pueblos of New Mexico, Euchee and Seminoles of Oklahoma, and Navajos. Only three of the 46 North Carolina Cherokees in the Army were drafted; the rest volunteered. Love of freedom is not white in color; it's a rainbow.

THE CHURCH HAS BEEN COMPELLED to turn over to the Japanese Church all its work in that country. As a consequence practically the only appropriations for Japan in 1942 are for the salaries of a few missionaries now loaned to other districts or awaiting appointment to other work. The total for Japan in 1942 is $19,846 as compared with $226,664 in 1940 and the question naturally arises as to where this money is now being spent. Other missionary work under the American Flag has suffered for many years from declining appropriations and this work has now been strengthened. New missionary opportunities are opening in defense areas here at home, College Work has been enlarged, our Youth Program broadened, and our educational work for the American Negro strengthened. Appropriations for these missionary projects have been increased by a total of $150,042. The total Budget for 1942 is, however, nearly $2,400 less than for 1941.

DO YOU TAKE YOUR CHILDREN to Sunday School and Church or simply send them? "And they brought little children to Him. He took them up in His arms and laid His hands on them and blessed them."

THE NAME OF THE PRIEST-IN-CHARGE of each congregation of the Missionary District of North Texas is given, together with the name of the location, in the Quota list published in the April issue of "The North Texas Adventure", e.g., Abilene, Gerhart; Amarillo, Foster, etc. Does this seem to lay the missionary obligation on the Priest? This may be the germ of a good idea. Certainly a sense of personal obligation is the best incentive to missionary zeal.

THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL SERVICE of Negro Spirituals, one of the season's events at St. George's Church, New York City, will be held on the afternoon of Sunday, May tenth. As usual, Mr. Harry T. Burleigh, Negro soloist of St. George's Choir and noted composer, will have a prominent part in this Service.

THE REV. DR. LEWIS R. HOWELL, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Port Chester, has been granted a leave of absence. He is to become a Field Director with the Military and Naval Welfare Department of the American Red Cross, attached to Army tasks abroad. Dr. Howell saw service in the first World War. The Rev. Judson Leeman, M.D. of St. Luke's Hospital, New York City, will be the priest-in-charge of St. Peter's Church during the absence of Dr. Howell.

GEN. JONATHAN MAYHEW WAINWRIGHT OF CORREGIDOR ISLAND

Every American thinks with pride of the magnificent and heroic defense of Corregidor Island by General Wainwright and the officers and men, Americans and Filipinos, who are with him. To us in the Diocese of New York it is a matter of special pride that General Wainwright is the great grandson of a Bishop of this Diocese, the Right Reverend Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright who became Bishop of New York in 1852.

General Wainwright is a great soldier, a great American, and a faithful churchman. Word comes from one of his relatives that on Easter Morning he made his communion early in the little Chapel on Corregidor Island where one of our priests is the Chaplain.

Let us lift up our prayers constantly for the General and for all those who with him are giving the last full measure of devotion in service and sacrifice for our Country, for World Freedom, and for Humanity.

EPISCOPAL RING PRESENTED TO DEAN DE WOLFE

The members of the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx, of which the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen is the Rector, presented an Episcopal Ring to the Very Rev. James P. De Wolfe, Dean of the Cathedral and Bishop-elect of Long Island, at a special service of Thanksgiving on Sunday evening, April twenty-sixth.

A reception to the Dean and Mrs. De Wolfe followed in the Parish Hall.

The Dean was the Missioner at the Church of the Holy Nativity last February during the Bronx-wide Mission, and it was during that week he was elected Bishop of Long Island. In the light of this, it was the spontaneous and general desire of the Parish to give the Dean his Episcopal Ring.

LORD HALIFAX PAYS TRIBUTE TO OUR CATHEDRAL

British Embassy
Washington, D. C.

April 8, 1942

My dear Bishop,

In New York yesterday I unexpectedly found myself near the Cathedral and went in to see how it looked now that the whole length of the nave is open. It is magnificent! How deeply happy you must be to have seen such a noble work brought into existence.

Yours very sincerely,

HALIFAX

The Rt. Reverend William T. Manning
Bishop of New York
Cathedral Heights
New York City, N. Y.

TRIBUTE BY THE BISHOP OF NEW YORK TO THE NEW BISHOP OF LONG ISLAND

Among a number of tributes by Bishops of the Church to their new Bishop, the Long Island Diocesan Paper "Tidings" prints the following from Bishop Manning:

> The election of Dean De Wolfe as Bishop of Long Island brings a great loss to the Cathedral and Diocese of New York but to the Diocese of Long Island and to the General Church it gives a wise, able, and devoted Bishop. Combining, as he does, wide vision and broad sympathies with complete devotion to the Divinely-given principles of the Catholic and Apostolic Church as set forth in our Prayer Book, Dr. De Wolfe will be the Bishop not of a party but of the whole Church in his Diocese.
> For two years past I have been in close and daily association with Dr. De Wolfe and from this close fellowship I can say that the clergy and people of Long Island will find in him a faithful Spiritual Leader and Teacher, a wise and sympathetic Chief Pastor, and a true Father in God.

LACE ALTAR FRONTAL PRESENTED TO THE CATHEDRAL BY HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS

A Brussels Lace Altar Frontal for St. Ambrose Chapel was presented to the Bishop at the Cathedral on Tuesday in Holy Week.

The Frontal was made by a group of High School students of various faiths at Lafayette High School, Bath and Benson Avenues, Brooklyn, under the direction of Miss Frieda Kean, Assistant Director of Vocational Activities for the Board of Education.

Bishop Manning expressed his thanks to the students and asked God's blessing upon them and upon their gift. The Frontal took 1,500 hours to make. It bears St. John's insignia of the chalice and serpent, eagle and cauldron.

Dr. Stephen F. Bayne, Associate Superintendent of the New York City Board of Education and Vestryman of Trinity Parish, accompanied the students to the Cathedral for the presentation.

THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION MEETS ON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY, MAY 12th AND 13th. THE CONVENTION WILL OPEN WITH THE CELEBRATION OF THE HOLY COMMUNION FOR THE CLERGY AND LAY DELEGATES IN THE CATHEDRAL AT 10:30 O'CLOCK.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SHIELD CERTIFICATES

Seventy-five Sunday Schools were awarded Shield Certificates at the Presentation Service last year in recognition of an increase in their Missionary Offerings from 1% to 99% over the previous year.

Thus, every Sunday School in the Diocese which develops interest in the missionary enterprises of the Church, as indicated by its increased offering, is awarded this Shield Certificate in recognition of its growth in missionary knowledge and zeal.

The actual Shield Certificate is printed on heavy paper 12 x 14 inches, the cross is in red. The name of the Sunday School is written in the place provided and a gold star is placed at the proper percentage mark.

Many schools receiving this award, some for many consecutive years, frame the Certificates and place them on the walls in the Sunday School assembly rooms.

A FEW OF THE HAPPENINGS AT THE CITY MISSION SOCIETY

The City Mission Society is operating on a reorganized basis, concentrating its efforts and giving more adequate and personal service to those to whom it ministers.

It is the purpose of the Society to maintain the following departments and institutions for the year 1942: Chaplaincy; Pastoral Training; St. Barnabas' House; Schermerhorn Convalescent Home; Immigration Aid at Ellis Island; Family Service Department; Follow-up care for girls on parole from Bedford Reformatory; Edgewater Crêche; Camp Wanasquette for Boys; Camp Wepawaug for Girls; Camp Rethmore for children under eight years of age.

During 1941 twenty-three clergy and three lay chaplains ministered to nearly 10,000 persons who were daily under their care in 34 institutions. They had personal conferences with 36,175 people in addition to 86,484 calls on follow-up work. This means that every chaplain averaged 5,563 calls last year. Furthermore, 4,768 services were held in these institutions with a total attendance of 174,451 and they administered over 5,300 private Communions and baptized 408 people.

Notable Results

The following two examples of chaplaincy work illustrate its importance and effectiveness. The first is a case from one of the prisons.

This man, 45 years of age, took a few drinks, got into a fight and was arrested and sent to Riker's Island Penitentiary. When he was first interviewed by the Chaplain he was quite defiant. He admitted that religion had no part in his life since childhood when he attended Church regularly with his parents. Through a quiet friendliness on the part of the Chaplain, and after instruction, this man was confirmed while he was in Riker's Island Prison in the first Confirmation Class ever held there. He was released three and a half months ago and just recently the Chaplain received the following letter: "I am going to Church again and that is something I did not do for many years—more than I care to admit. I will close with a prayer for you and your flock at Riker's Island. Faithfully yours, C.B."

Again, here is a story of another prisoner. He came from a good family with a fine background and during the depression used funds for personal gain entrusted to him as a public official. He was an excellent prisoner but because his crime involved public funds, the Parole Board was loathe to show him much leniency. They refused to consider his case favourably three times and after each interview the man would seem to age and the stoop in his shoulders would grow a little more pronounced. He became extremely pessimistic and after the last interview seemed on the verge of acute melancholia. The Chaplain made a friend of him; interviewed him many times and brought to bear upon his life a source of strength which seems only to come from God. The man began to adjust himself to his situation and took on a new courage that he might be as well and strong as possible when the time came for his release. About six months ago he was placed on parole. The Chaplain got in touch with the clergyman in his home town and he was able to go to employment. He is happily reinstated in his home at the present time and a regular member of the Church in his community.

Family Service an Important Department

This department in 1941 served 1,212 different families and individuals—844 white and 368 Negro. All families were sent to the Society by the various Churches in the Diocese or through the contact of the Society's Worker at the Court of Domestic Relations. Another function of this service is investigating families to determine whether or not their children should participate in the Fresh Air program in the Summer. They supervised 908 examinations last year, certifying 396 children for the Camps of the Society and placing 201 children in other free camps.

Employment Service a Valuable Aid

The Employment Service placed 191 people in different positions during the year. Nine years ago a man came into the Family Service Department ready and willing to work but unable to find it. He was carried three weeks on the funds of the Society and then a position was secured for him. Every year since that time he has voluntarily sent one week's pay as a contribution, with the express wish that he hopes it will serve to help give someone else the same kind of a start he got through the City Mission Society.

Special Contributions Needed for Summer Camps

Due to lack of funds, three of the camps which took pre-school children between the ages of three and six years will not be opened this year. There are 68 children in this age range who should have the benefits of vacations. The Society can open one of its camps a month earlier and care for these children if it can be financed. To do this $1,000 is needed in addition to the regular budget. It costs $10 a week or $30 a period for one child. A contribution for this purpose would be much appreciated and should be sent to Mr. Thomas M. Peters, Treasurer, 38 Bleecker Street, New York City.

Two New Board Members

The Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Rector of Grace Church, New York, and the Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, Rector of St. Martin's Church in Harlem, have accepted membership on the Board of Managers.

Dr. Pitt came into the Diocese in 1940 as the ninth Rector of Grace Church. He has a deep interest in the social responsibility of the Church and a wide experience in practical service.

Dr. Johnson was a former Chaplain on the staff of the City Mission Society and became Vicar of St. Martin's Chapel when it was established by the Society in 1927. Dr. Johnson is the first Negro to be elected to the Board of Managers in the history of the 110-year-old Society. In 1940 St. Martin's became an independent parish of the Diocese and at that time Bishop Manning installed Dr. Johnson as its first Rector. A prominent leader among Negro people, Dr. Johnson is also serving on the Advisory Board of the Welfare Department of the City of New York, and in 1939 became the first Negro Chaplain of the Police Department.

YOUTH CONFERENCES PLANNED

Two Youth Conferences, under the sponsorship of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, are planned for this Summer.

The first is to be held at the camp site of the Chapel of the Incarnation, Ivoryton, Connecticut, June 21-27. The Conference will be divided into four groups: Beginners, 6 to 8 years old; Juniors, 9 to 11 years old; Junior High, 12 to 14 years old; and Seniors, 15 to 17 years old. The Rev. Nicholas M. Feringa, Vicar of the Chapel, is to be the Director, and the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, Headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill, the Chaplain.

The second Conference is for Youth Leaders and will be held at "Interlochen", the Holiday House of the Girls' Friendly Society at Monroe, New York, June 28-July 3. The theme is "Conversion to Christ for World Service" (the Presiding Bishop's program for 1942). The Director will be the Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang, Rector of the Church of St. Edward the Martyr, New York; and the Chaplain will be the Rev. L. E. W. Mitchell, Rector of St. Clement's Church, New York.

Rule of Life Adopted by 1,700

Seventeen hundred Young People of our Diocese have signed cards signifying that they are living according to a "Rule of Life". At least 2,500 should be enrolled by next Autumn.

Whitsunday provides an excellent opportunity for the stimulating of this interest. On that day hundreds of thousands of Young People all over the land will join in the Corporate Communion. "Rule of Life" cards may be secured from the Board Office in the Old Synod House, Cathedral Heights, New York City.

MAGNA CHARTA SERVICE HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL—CHAPEL ROYAL SILVER PRESENTED

The Eight Silver Altar Pieces Displayed on the Altar in the Army and Navy Bay. While on view in the Cathedral this Savoy Silver was under heavy guard, and is now safely deposited in the Cathedral.

That great symbol of Liberty—Magna Charta—signed by King John of England on June 15th, 1215, 727 years ago, was memoralized at a service in the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, June fourteenth.

A most significant feature of this Service was the delivery of the Silver Altar Ornaments of the Chapel Royal, Savoy, London, into the keeping of our Cathedral for the duration of the War.

In spite of the oppressive weather, it is estimated that 2,000 persons attended the Service.

The Altar Ornaments were presented by Sir Gerald Campbell, British Minister in Washington, and received officially by the Bishop.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, read the Lesson from the 8th Chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, which contains these timely words, "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."

Bishop Manning's sermon is quoted in part:—

"We are gathered here in this Cathedral for a Service which is of extraordinary historic interest and also of most striking and vital significance at this present hour.

"This Service illustrates and emphasizes the sacred and

EXCERPTS FROM THE BISHOP'S CONVENTION ADDRESS

Dear Brethren of the Clergy and Laity:

We meet for the 159th Convention of our Diocese at an hour of World-Wide Calamity and Tragedy. There have been other outbreaks of barbarism in human history, but never one like that which we now face, never one which has brought such widespread destruction and suffering upon the world, or has so threatened all that gives dignity and sacredness to the life of man. Never in history has there been a system of wickedness, a system of crime against God and man, so deliberate and thorough, so shamelessly avowed, and so widely carried into effect, as the Nazi system.

May this Evil Power be speedily overthrown and deliverance given to the peoples now groaning under its cruel oppression!

May God's help and comfort be given to all who are suffering through this War, the stricken and enslaved, the wounded and dying, the bereaved, the homeless, the children, the starving, and all who are in sorrow and need!

May God uphold, strengthen, and defend, the men of our Armed Forces, and all the Forces of Freedom, who are giving their lives that we and others may live!

May all of us in this land now give our utmost in service and sacrifice for our Country, for Right, and for Humanity!

And may the Cause of Justice, Brotherhood, and Freedom be given full and decisive victory with true and righteous Peace, a Peace based not on vengeance but upon Justice and Good-Will alike to the victors and the vanquished. . . . . .

Some people are saying to-day that Foreign Missions have been proved a failure. I reply that in this world as it is to-day, no Missionary Work any longer is Foreign, for no Countries are any longer Foreign. This world is now all one, and its one hope is that it shall become a Christian World. And in the marvellous spirit of the Chinese people under their present great Christian Leaders, and also in the noble spirit of the Filipino People, with their soldiers giving their lives for Liberty and World Brotherhood side by side with our American soldiers on Bataan Peninsula and Corregidor Island, we see a wonderful illustration of what Christian Missionary Work has done, and of what it can do, and will do, all over this world if it is done in the full faith, and in the living power, of Christ. . . . . .

The call which comes to us to-day is one so high that only through the Grace of God can we hope in any measure to respond to it—it is the call to all of us in this land, the Church, the Nation, each one of us individually, to dedicate ourselves to the purpose of God.

indestructible fellowship between America and Great Britain, and the full Spiritual and Visible Unity between the Episcopal Church in this land and our Mother Church of England. And this Service also brings vividly into view the great World Conflict in which our two Nations, and all the United Nations, are engaged at this moment.

"At this Service we celebrate the signing of Magna Charta at Runnymede on June 15th, 1215, and in so doing we remember that Magna Charta was written by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Stephen Langton, whose direct lineal successor is William Temple, the present Archbishop of Canterbury. Here in this New York Cathedral, by the side of our High Altar, we have a Shaft of Stone from that ancient Altar at Bury St. Edmunds where, in 1215, the Archbishop and Barons of England knelt and pledged themselves before God in their struggle for Right and Freedom. . . . . .

"Here at this Service we are receiving into the keeping of this Cathedral for the duration of the War the Silver Altar Ornaments which were given by the Royal Victorian Order to the Chapel Royal, Savoy, London. These Altar Ornaments are of such beauty of design and workmanship that they were sent here and were on exhibition during our World's Fair. They cannot now with safety be returned to their place and use in England and therefore the Royal Victorian Order, with the consent of His Majesty George VI, has asked us to take them into our keeping in this Cathedral while the War lasts. This we most willingly do and we shall hold them here as a sacred trust and a symbol of our common faith in God and our fellowship with our British brethren in this great Battle for World Freedom."

Here the Altar Ornaments were borne in procession ceremonially up the center aisle of the Cathedral, from the Great Bronze Doors to the High Altar, where they were officially delivered to the Bishop by Sir Gerald Campbell.

BISHOP OFFERS PRAYER AT RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF MEETING IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

At a great Rally for Russian War Relief which thronged Madison Square Garden to its limits on Monday Night, June 22nd, Bishop Manning offered the Opening Prayer. Among the speakers at the meeting were Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Ambassador to the United States, the Hon. Harry L. Hopkins, Special Assistant to President Roosevelt, Supreme Court Justice Reed, William Green, President, American Federation of Labor, and Mayor LaGuardia. The Bishop's prayer at this meeting follows:

Almighty and Eternal God, the God of Right and Truth and Justice, we ask Thy blessing upon our Nation and upon all our Allies in this World Battle for Human Freedom.

And especially at this time we ask Thy help for the brave and indomitable people of Russia.

Stretch forth Thy Almighty Arm to uphold them in this hour of World Peril. Sustain and strengthen them in their mighty and heroic struggle and arouse us, both for their sake and our own, to give them our utmost aid and support.

Hasten the day when the forces of Evil and Aggression shall be overthrown and Peace shall be established with full and complete Victory for the Right.

And grant we pray Thee, O Lord, that this great struggle of the United Nations, and our common sacrifice and suffering in this World Conflict, may open the way for such understanding and fellowship among all Nations and all Races that this may be a more Christian World, a World of Justice, and Liberty, and Brotherhood for both the Victors and the Vanquished and for all men everywhere, through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

MEMORIAL TABLET BLESSED

An oval bronze tablet, placed over the ashes of the Very Rev. Dr. Milo Hudson Gates, late Dean of the Cathedral, and his late wife, Mrs. Pauline Gavit Gates, was blessed on the morning of Whitsun Day at the Chapel of the Intercession, New York City, by the Vicar, the Rev. Dr. S. Tagart Steele. The Rector of Trinity Parish, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, presided at the ceremony.

The bronze memorial, 18 x 20", was provided by public subscription; many friends from both the Chapel of the Intercession and from the Cathedral made contributions.

Dean Gates, who died on November 27, 1939, was a Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession for twenty-five years before becoming Dean of the Cathedral.

EXCERPTS FROM THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS

What does this mean for us, all of us, clergy and laity, men and women alike, in this Diocese? It means that, with Christ's help, we must make the Church, its teaching, its worship, and its work, more than ever a living power in our Parishes and Missions. It means that we must make our work for Christ and His Church a living reality in the cities, towns, or villages in which we live. It means that all of us who cannot give Military Service have our equally real part to play on the Home Front and that our most sacred duty and service is to hold up and carry on the life of the Church. The vital force in our Nation, and in any Nation, is true religious faith. . . . . .

In this great Day of Destiny the Church everywhere must give forthright and fearless leadership. Never has the world more deeply needed spiritual leadership than at this time. And here, in our Convention, I pay my public tribute, and yours, to the noble, indomitable, courage of our beloved friend and Father in God Bishop Nicholai and those who stand with him in Yugo Slavia, and to those brave Bishops and their Clergy in Norway, and to those in Greece and other Countries, and to some in Germany itself both of the Roman Catholic Church and of the Lutheran Church, who, at the risk and cost of their lives, are bearing their witness for God, for Right, and for the Faith of Christ. . . . . .

For the Program of the Church our contributions in the past year have not been all that they should have been. You all know what this means to the work of our own Diocese and of the National Church. I ask you to make every possible effort in this matter during the present year. It is the simple fact that the showing in every Parish depends upon the interest, the enthusiasm, and the leadership of the Rector. Where the Rector strongly leads, the laity will be interested and will try to do their part. And let me remind you that the Quota of every congregation is based upon the same items of current expense and is therefore proportionately the same for all alike, the largest parish and the smallest. At this time when income from Invested Funds is shrinking and fewer people are able to make large contributions it is vitally necessary for us to obtain the smaller contributions of a far larger number of people. Where this is done it brings great increase of spiritual strength and it brings also great increase of financial strength, and the fully proved, demonstrated, and never failing way to accomplish this is by an earnest, carefully planned, and well carried out, Every Member Canvass. . . . . .

I wish on behalf of this Convention, and of the Diocese, to express our deep appreciation of the service given to the Diocese and the Church for so many years by Mr. Richard M. Pott as our Diocesan Treasurer. Mr. Pott's health has necessitated his retirement from the office of Treasurer but in a letter which I received from him recently he expresses his desire still to serve the Diocese at any time, and in any way, that may be in his power. Our present Treasurer, Mr. Richard H. Mansfield, is giving to this work a devotion, a knowledge of financial affairs, and a conscientious service for which we are most deeply grateful and he has the able and efficient help of Mr. Theodor Oxholm as Assistant Treasurer. . . . . .

The past year has been a great and notable one in the history of our Cathedral for we have opened and brought into use the entire length of the vast edifice. You all know how magnificent and awe-inspiring the Interior now is and we give thanks to God that the present point of progress in this great undertaking has been reached. There is however still much to be done and those steel scaffoldings above the unfinished Towers of the West Front remind us constantly of the need of further progress. There are three further steps towards the completion of the Cathedral which cry out for action at the first moment possible.

First: The unavoidably deferred but sorely needed conversion of the Great Round Arch at the junction of the Choir and Crossing to bring it into harmony with all the rest of the Interior.

Second The completion of the beautiful North Transept, the Women's Transept, to be built by the gifts of women, which stands partly built and awaits the funds needed for its completion.

Third: The erection of a great Altar and Reredos to replace the present inadequate one and to be the crowning glory of the whole Cathedral Edifice.

What a wonderful thing it would be if one or more of these noble additions to our Cathedral might be presented as a thanksgiving offering when we gather to celebrate a Victorious and Righteous Peace. The transformation of the Great Round Arch is most urgently needed, for in its present state it lessens the effect of the great Cathedral Vista, it draws the eye down from the glorious height of the vaulting, and it in some measure detracts from the beauty of the recently completed Sanctuary and Choir. In spite of the present World Conditions I am daring to hope that this may yet be done while I am still able to serve as your Bishop. . . . . .

Brethren, before I close let me say this. We are in the midst of the most appalling conflict, and the greatest crisis, this world has ever seen. Upon the issue of this conflict depends the freedom of our own land, the progress of humanity towards higher and truer life, and the hope and future of the world. No one can say how long the struggle is to continue, nor what its cost may be to us. But there is every present indication that it will call upon us as a Nation for a courage, strength, and fortitude, such as we have scarcely yet begun to realize. . . . . .

Whatever may be required of us, we shall go forward as a Nation with faith in our Cause, with faith in our Government, with faith in our men who are giving their lives on every Continent and on every Ocean, with faith in our Allies, with faith in ourselves and in our own unfaltering purpose, with faith in the Eternal Principles of Truth and Right, with faith in the Living God and in His Son Jesus Christ and with the certainty that it is God's Will that this shall be a World of Justice, Liberty and Brotherhood, and of true and righteous Peace. We pray, as Archbishop Temple prayed, "for our enemies, that their hearts and ours may be drawn to God, the Father of all, and that they may be filled with desire to serve Him, so that Peace may be established on a foundation of Justice, Truth, and Good-Will". Not in the spirit of hatred or malice, but in the spirit of service and sacrifice, for our own land and for others, we shall give our whole strength and life as a Nation in this Conflict without stint or limit, we shall go on no matter what the cost, we shall go on with never wavering purpose, we shall go on to that Triumph of Right and Freedom which alone can open the way for this to be a truer and better world, a world in which men and women can live free from fear and terror, a world in which children can grow up unafraid, a world in which there shall be justice and right dealing between men of all races and all colours, and in which the Christian law of love may be fulfilled.

AMBULANCES FOR THE AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

At the request of the American Field Service, the Bishop commends strongly to the interest of our Clergy and people the work done by this admirable organization.

The American Field Service provides and maintains ambulances and volunteer drivers on the battle fronts of the United Nations. Founded in 1915, it served with the French Army with great distinction. In 1940, one of its sections did heroic work until France collapsed. It is now serving the United Nations in the Middle East and the Free French in Syria.

It costs $2,000 to put an ambulance fully equipped in the field. Each ambulance carries the name of the donor and the driver will submit periodic reports, together with pictures, so that each donor can follow in operation the results of his gift. Out of every dollar contributed, only Six Cents goes towards administrative expenses.

The Director General of the American Field Service is Mr. Stephen Galatti, 60 Beaver Street, New York City, and gifts can be sent to that office.

CATHEDRAL PASTOR APPOINTED

The Bishop of the Diocese has appointed the Rev. Thomas A. Sparks, who has been on the staff for the last five years, Cathedral Pastor.

Bishop Manning announced that for the present it is not his intention to nominate a new Dean to take the place of Bishop De Wolfe who, after serving in that office for two years, has become Bishop of Long Island.

Bishop Manning has announced that in view of the War situation he will take no vacation this summer, but will remain in New York and keep in direct touch with the affairs of the Diocese and of the Cathedral. The Bishop will preach in the Cathedral on the Sunday mornings in July when great numbers of students from all over the Country are taking the summer courses in our New York City Educational Institutions.

REMARKABLE WORK AT THE CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION, WEST PARK

An inspiring report of progress comes from a member of the Vestry of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, of which the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien is Rector.

The Parish is to observe this year its One Hundredth Anniversary and the First Anniversary of its present Rector. We quote from the report as follows:—

> "To celebrate these Anniversaries, we decided to redecorate the little Church, something which had not been done for at least twenty-five years. The task seemed almost insurmountable, but we started a year ago and raised a few hundred dollars by giving two plays in the parish house and then we went out this Winter and asked for memorials.
> "As a result, we got the Organist's father to lay a new oak floor in the Church; we got each pew tenant to donate a new cushion and pad; the sexton and several male members and the Rector painted the interior of the Church and a new Altar was donated. The Order of the Holy Cross presented us with a carved oak organ screen which we have fashioned into a new reredos. The Church was equipped with gay-nineties chandeliers, but in place of these the Rector designed lanterns and being without funds to buy them, the sexton cut them out of the remains of our old furnace and they were lined with parchment. The work is almost completed and the Rector is training a class for Confirmation. We are now holding services in the Parish House until we can have the new Altar consecrated."

The Bishop of the Diocese is arranging to visit the Church of the Ascension on Sunday afternoon, June twenty-eighth, at which time the Anniversaries will be observed, the Church will be rededicated, the new Altar will be consecrated, and the candidates will be presented and Confirmed.

RESOLUTIONS IN APPRECIATION OF THE WORK OF MR. RICHARD M. POTT AND OF THE LATE REV. WILLIAM H. POTT

At the Diocesan Convention the following Resolutions were adopted in appreciation of the service rendered to the Diocese and the Church by Mr. Richard M. Pott, and by the late Rev. Dr. William H. Pott. Each Resolution was adopted unanimously and by a rising vote.

Mr. Richard M. Pott

In April of this year 1942, Mr. Richard M. Pott tendered his resignation as Assistant Treasurer of this Convention. Thus was terminated a relationship that had continued for thirty-six years—a record that becomes the more notable when it is remembered that his father, before him, Mr. James Pott, had served as Treasurer of this Convention for a period of forty-four years. For eighty years, therefore, father and son have been intimately related to the financial affairs of the Diocese of New York.

As the son now lays down the task taken over from his father, this Convention would give expression to its deep appreciation of the diligent, loyal and devoted service he has rendered, of responsibilities faithfully and unselfishly discharged through these many years. We would assure him of our earnest prayers that he may be spared for a long time to come to continue his fellowship with the members of this Convention, who will always remember with gratitude his long and faithful service.

BE IT RESOLVED THAT: as a token of our appreciation, this Minute be entered upon the records of this Convention.

The Late Rev. William H. Pott

On December 21, 1941, the Rev. William H. Pott, D.D., since 1889 a faithful and devoted priest of this Church, and one whose entire ministry was spent in this Diocese, passed into the higher life. He served for many years as Archdeacon, giving all his time and strength to the extension of the Church's ministrations in the isolated areas of the Diocese where today there are thriving mission congregations that stand as living memorials to his untiring zeal and devotion. Upon relinquishing his office as Archdeacon, he continued, almost to the time of his death, as Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society where his evangelical zeal, his discerning judgment and his intimate knowledge of the missionary work of the Diocese immeasurably strengthened the work of that Society.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That this Convention hereby records its gratitude to God for the life and example of this faithful servant of the Church, with the earnest prayer that he may go from strength to strength in the life of perfect service in that heavenly Kingdom to which he has been called.

CONFERENCE OF THE CLERGY OF THE DIOCESE

The Fifteenth Annual Conference of the Clergy of the Diocese will be held this year on Wednesday and Thursday, October fourteenth and fifteenth, at the Thayer-West Point Hotel, West Point.

The general theme of the Conference this year will be "The Church in This World War and After". The list of invited speakers will be announced later. The Clergy are requested to make note at once of the dates.

GOOD NEWS FOR PROGRAM BUILDERS

Those responsible for developing up-to-date programs will be interested in learning that the Savings Banks Association of the State of New York has recently completed a sound motion picture entitled "Your Dollars—In Uniform!" which they have advised us will be made available for showing to Churches or other groups in New York State, without cost.

This Association, cooperating with the Government's desire to stop wasteful spending by the public, will also provide a complete hour-long program, which includes their film, a showing of one of the Government's newest short films, entitled "Bomber", and an interesting discussion on "Saving for Victory" by a local Savings Bank officer.

"Your Dollars—In Uniform!" features Mark Hawley, well known radio news broadcaster, and shows the founding of the first mutual savings bank by a Scottish Clergyman in 1710 and depicts the role that savings have played in peacetime in building American strength and individual security, as well as the whys and wherefores of savings bank operation. Several sequences show battleships, planes and tanks in action.

"Bomber" shows the actual building of one of the latest Army medium bombers and, also, shows the plane in operation. Carl Sandburg, the eminent poet, is commentator of this film.

To arrange to have this complete program put on for one of your future meetings, or to borrow "Your Dollars—In Uniform!" write the Motion Picture Division, Savings Banks Association of the State of New York, 60 East 42nd Street, New York City. Three weeks' advance notice is usually required. There are no charges of any kind.

THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY NATIVITY ASSISTS THE OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

The Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx has taken a place of leadership in its community. The Rector, the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen, and many of his people are actively engaged in assisting the Office of Civilian Defense in the coordination of local Civilian Defense activities.

In keeping with the general Defense Program, the Parish purchased the necessary fire fighting and other equipment suggested by the Fire Department. The Rector formed his Vestry and other men into a Parish Committee on Public Safety. After careful planning and weeks of training, this Committee is now equipped and ready to cope with any eventuality.

Surprise Air Raid Drill Interrupts Service

On Trinity Sunday, May thirty-first, toward the close of the eleven o'clock service, the Rector interrupted the service and announced to his people that they were about to take part in a practice air raid drill. Immediately, members of the Special Committee on Public Safety took their posts, the choir filed out one exit, followed by half of the congregation, while the other half filed out through another exit, meeting in the auditorium beneath the Church. This has been pronounced by the Building Authorities as one of the safest shelters in the neighborhood, since the walls are twenty-four inches thick. The windows have been re-enforced with wire to avoid the shattering of glass. The Demolition Squad, which is comprised of a Vestryman and several of the older acolytes, immediately began to strip the Altar as the people filed out of the Church. The Altar was then covered with a heavy canvas to protect it as much as possible from falling fragments. Those who had completed the First Aid Course given by the Red Cross took up their stations and were ready to administer First Aid.

Church Evacuated in Three and a Half Minutes

In spite of the fact that this was a surprise to the people, it is interesting to note that the congregation of several hundred was evacuated to safety without incident in exactly three and a half minutes.

The Rector states: "The Church must be prepared and ready for any eventuality. Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito are the type of war leaders who seem to enjoy sending what may only prove to be a token raid on a Sunday or at a midnight Celebration of the Holy Communion on Christmas Eve. One is glad to pay for accident insurance on one's car even though he may never have an accident. We trust all this preparation will be unnecessary, but should it prove otherwise, we will be ready."

Mr. Larsen addressed the congregation for five minutes in the auditorium, commending his people on their splendid response and cooperation, and reminding them that every care and precaution has been taken for their protection, and that the safest place to be at any time is in their Parish Church. The congregation was dismissed after the closing prayers and benediction.

DIOCESAN YOUTH CONFERENCES PLANNED

Attention is again called to the Youth Conferences to be held at Ivoryton, Connecticut, and Monroe, New York.

The Conference at Ivoryton will be held from June 21st to the 27th; and the Monroe Conference from June 28th to July 3rd.

Reservations should be sent to the Diocesan Board of Religious Education (Old Synod House, Cathedral Heights) as soon as possible, since the enrolment must, of necessity, be limited.

TRINITY ORDINATIONS AT THE CATHEDRAL

Two priests and four deacons were ordained by the Bishop of the Diocese in the Cathedral on the morning of Trinity Sunday, May thirty-first.

The service was a profoundly moving and impressive one, and a great congregation was present. The Rev. Albert H. Frost, Rector of St. John's Church, Staten Island, preached the sermon.

The following were ordained Deacons:

The Rev. Gerardus Beekman, presented by the Rev. Arthur Ketchum, Rector of St. Matthew's Church, Bedford; to be Assistant at St. George's Church, Newburgh, and in charge of St. Paul's Church, Newburgh.

The Rev. James Hart Morgan, presented by the Rev. Donald W. Lloyd, Rector of Trinity Church, Ossining; to be Assistant at Trinity Church.

The Rev. John Ahearn Schultz, presented by the Rev. Edwin L. Ballinger of the Cathedral; to be Assistant at Grace Church, White Plains.

The Rev. Elliott Coleman, presented by the Rev. Karl L. Tiedemann, O.H.C.; who will enter the Order of the Holy Cross. Ordained for the Bishop of Western North Carolina.

The following Deacons were advanced to the priesthood:

The Rev. Robert C. Hunsicker, now Assistant at Grace Chapel, New York City; presented by the Rev. Thomas S. Bradley, Assistant Chaplain of St. Luke's Hospital; to be Assistant at Grace Church, Brooklyn Heights.

The Rev. Kenneth W. Mann, in charge of All Saints', Valley Cottage, and St. Stephen's Church, Pearl River; presented by the Rev. Ernest W. Churchill, Rector of Grace Church, Nyack; to continue in his present work.

After the service the newly ordained Priests and Deacons, with their Presenters and the other officiating Clergy, took lunch with the Bishop at his house and immediately after this the four Deacons accompanied the Bishop on his Twenty-second Annual Trinity Sunday Visitation to Welfare Island, where he confirmed forty-seven persons that afternoon.

Those confirmed were from the City Home and the New York City Cancer Institute, and their ages ranged from thirty years to ninety-four. Twenty-eight men and women, many of them in wheel chairs, were confirmed in the Chapel. The other nineteen, too ill to be moved, received the Sacrament in their beds in the wards of the Hospital. The candidates were prepared for Confirmation by the Chaplains of our City Mission Society.

Assisting at this most touching service were the Rev. Philip P. Baird, Chaplain at Welfare Island; the Rev. William M. Tilton, Chaplain at Metropolitan Hospital; Mr. John Green, Lay Chaplain at Welfare Island; and the four newly ordained Deacons.

THE REV. CHARLES H. GRAF ELECTED RECTOR OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, NEW YORK

The Rev. Charles Howard Graf, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Beverly, New Jersey, has been elected Rector of St. John's Church, Waverly Place, New York City, and assumed his duties on June fifteenth.

The former Rector of St. John's, the Rev. Dr. Walter P. Doty, resigned in February, after nine years' service and is now at Grace Church, Canton, New York.

The Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren, Executive Secretary of the Diocesan Social Service Commission, has been in charge of St. John's Church during the interim.

The new Rector of St. John's was born in Brooklyn, New York, in 1911; received his education in the grade schools of that City, and attended the Collegiate Department of Nashotah House. After graduation, he entered Nashotah Seminary, graduating from there in 1936, and was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Divinity in 1939.

Mr. Graf was ordained in 1936 by Bishop Creighton, Suffragan Bishop of Long Island, and advanced to the priesthood in December of that year by Bishop Stires.

He served for a time in the Diocese of Long Island at St. James' Mission, Ozone Park, and at Christ Chapel in Brooklyn. Previous to Mr. Graf's rectorate at St. Stephen's Church in Beverly, New Jersey, he was Assistant to the Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, New Jersey. He was a member of the Church Pension Fund Committee, Director of Youth Work, Secretary of the Burlington Trenton Convocation, member of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, and connected with other organizations in the Diocese of New Jersey.

Mr. Graf will live at 33 Perry Street, an apartment house belonging to St. John's Church. He is unmarried and his father will live with him.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL SERVICE OF TRINITY CHOIR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HELD ON SUNDAY, MAY 24th

One hundred and twenty-five members of the Trinity Choir Alumni Association augmented the regular choir of men and boys at Evensong on Sunday, May twenty-fourth, at Trinity Church, New York City, at the Twentieth Annual Service of the Association.

The names of the members of the Association who have died during the past year were read by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, who is Honorary President of the Association. Dr. Fleming preached the Anniversary Sermon.

A feature of the service was the awarding of Delafield medals to five boys of the present choir for outstanding excellence during the past year.

The Alumni came from many parts of the Country to be present at this Anniversary Service. They also attended a dinner that evening at the Hotel Breevort, at which Dr. Fleming presided and made an address.

ST. PETER'S, CHELSEA, TO RE-OPEN SEPTEMBER 29th

These handsome wrought-iron gates and the fence with the stately brown stone portals originally graced the entrance to Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall Street. They were brought here about fifty years ago. A gift from a friend of the Parish restored them so that they continue to stand guard before the "Christmas Church."

The funds necessary to complete the repairs to Old St. Peter's Church, Chelsea (consecrated in 1838) have been secured and the work is already in progress.

Tuesday, September twenty-ninth, the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels, has been set as the day of the official re-opening of the Church. The special service will be held at eight o'clock that evening, and the Bishop of the Diocese will be present and speak.

Services in the Church were discontinued in February, 1941, because the roof of this aged edifice was a safety hazard. Since that date, services have been held in the gymnasium of the Parish Hall, where a dignified Altar was set up and where the Peace Candle was later installed. While this move necessitated change and curtailment in many parish activitis, it served to awaken new loyalties in the people who supported the continued work of the Parish and contributed to the "Save St. Peter's Fund" according to their ability.

Much credit for the accomplishment of a difficult task is due to the Rector, the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, the Vestry and other loyal supporters. Without the cooperation of all, and added help from many friends of St. Peter's Church, this splendid achievement could not have been realized.

The "Old Christmas Church" may look ahead to many years of increasing usefulness in the Name of Him Who came at Christmas.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY PREPARES SUMMER SCHEDULE

The Diocesan Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society is preparing for its summer work at Monroe a program planned by the girls themselves to meet the physical, social and spiritual needs of girls and young women of today. Realizing the unusual stress and strain to which girls are being subjected, great attention is being directed toward providing means for relaxation and for the strengthening of bodies and minds. At the same time, war work of a type to provide a change from the routine war work will be carried on through a victory garden for the seniors, and through simple training courses for the juniors.

The Holiday House will, as usual, offer its fine facilities to girls fifteen years of age and over. Instruction in field sports, swimming and life-saving, dancing and crafts are an important part of the varied program offered.

The Junior Camp for girls from eight to fourteen years of age offers a balanced program of strenuous activities and the necessary relaxation designed to fit the needs of the individual girl. Every girl is given the opportunity to develop along the lines of her greatest interests and aptitudes, but at the same time taught the fundamentals of living and acting successfully as a member of a group. Excellent supervision and instruction are provided by a well trained staff.

The harmonious and constructive spirit of the camp springs from the gathering together each morning of the girls for a Service of Worship in the Colonial Chapel.

The Holiday House and Junior Camp facilities are offered to members of the Girls' Friendly Society and to other Church girls as a vacation service at less than cost. Situated only forty-five miles from New York, within easy reach by train and bus, this service to a greater extent than usual is ready to meet the need for relaxation, for quiet in which to rethink values, and the need for the security that comes of being a part of a strong fellowship such as is found in group living in the country.

Camp circulars and other information are obtainable at the office of the Society, 129 East 52nd Street, New York City, Telephone PLaza 3-8638.

CHURCH PENSION FUND REVISES PLANS FOR EXTRA BENEFITS

Announcement has been made by the Right Rev. Cameron J. Davis, President of the Church Pension Fund, of a more cautious policy in the future in respect to the program of extra benefits which the Fund instituted about fifteen years ago, as a result of which it is now paying to its beneficiaries approximately $354,000 a year in excess of the pensions promised when the Fund was started in 1917.

Because of fortunate conditions in the financial world and careful management, the Trustees were able to go far beyond the basic promises of the Fund in the extra benefits which they have paid to beneficiaries. Today investment conditions have changed, and the low rate of interest paid by high grade investments makes it necessary to reduce somewhat the program of extra benefits for future beneficiaries in order that the Trustees may fulfill their fundamental responsibility to safeguard the basic obligations of the Fund and to preserve its excellent financial condition.

Some of the extra benefits will be discontinued for future beneficiaries, but the Trustees are still continuing certain parts of the program of expansion. One of the benefits which is being continued, however, is the immediate payment of $1,000 to the widow of each clergyman who dies in the active ministry. This was not part of the original plan of the Fund, but has been the practice of the Fund since 1921. The increase in the minimum Widow's Allowance to $360, however, cannot be continued for new grants.

Clergymen who reached the age of 68 on or before May 26, 1942, will continue to have on retirement the same increase in the Age Allowance up to not more than $1,000 as in the past. The pensions to those reaching 68 after May 26, 1942, will be increased, but the increase will be one-half of the additional amount provided by the previous resolutions. Further increases beyond $1,000 have been discontinued, except in those cases where the original promises of the Fund would produce a larger figure.

The disability allowance will now be based upon the clergyman's average salary during his entire active ministry rather than on the final years only. The new Rule provides also for the continuance of the pension beyond age 68 in undiminished amount, except in cases of late ordination.

Full details of the plans for the immediate future of the Fund will be set forth in the Twenty-fourth Annual Report and Supplement, to be issued about June nineteenth.

ORGANIST OF THE CHURCH OF THE CRUCIFIXION WINS MUSIC AWARD

Mr. Edward Margetson, A.A.G.O., Organist of the Church of the Crucifixion, New York City, is among the thirty-five Negroes who recently received fellowships from the Julius Rosenwald Fund. He previously received a joint award from the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

Under these grants, Mr. Margetson will do creative work in choral composition under the supervision of Dr. Daniel Gregory Mason of Columbia University.

During his twenty-two years as Organist at the Chapel —now the Church—of the Crucifixion, Mr. Margetson has developed six complete choirs, including a Liturgical and a Gallery Choir, and has created and maintained a high degree of excellence as an organist and choirmaster. He is also a composer of merit, including madrigals, anthems, adaptations of religious hymns, and several delightful secular songs.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Margetson founded the Schubert Music Society, which has rendered the compositions of Mr. Margetson and those of the classical composers on numerous church and civic occasions.

Besides the citations mentioned, Mr. Margetson received the Victor Baier Fellowship in 1926, an award and Bronze Medal from the Harmon Foundation in 1927, and the Morgenthal Fellowship in Composition in 1934.

Mr. Margetson is a devout Churchman whose greatest ambition is to serve the Church and to contribute to Christian development of his people through music. More and more are our Colored Clergy and consecrated laymen leading their race into forceful citizenship and achievement.

CONFIRMATION SERVICE FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB

On the afternoon of Whitsun Day, May twenty-fourth, the Bishop of the Diocese visited St. Ann's Church for the Deaf and Dumb, on West 148th Street, New York City, and Confirmed a class presented by the Vicar, the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock.

This work for those who are deprived of speech and hearing is one of unusual interest and significance, illustrating as it does the breadth and inclusiveness of the Church's Ministry.

At the Confirmation Service the prayers offered were interpreted for the congregation in the sign language by the Vicar, himself a deaf mute; the hymns were sung silently but most earnestly in the sign language by a deaf mute choir; and the sermon was transmitted to the congregation by a skilled interpreter in the sign language, sentence by sentence, as the Bishop delivered it.

THOMAS E. DEWEY ADDRESSES DIOCESAN CONVENTION

The Hon. Thomas E. Dewey, former District Attorney and Chairman of the National United Service Organizations Campaign, addressed the Convention of the Diocese on Wednesday, May thirteenth.

"It seems to me", Mr. Dewey said, "that one of the most important subjects ministers of the Gospel can discuss with their people at this time is the amount of sacrifice necessary to win this war."

Mr. Dewey's address was a powerful plea for all out support of our War Effort—practical, moral and spiritual, by clergy and laity alike.

In presenting him to the Convention, the Bishop spoke of Mr. Dewey's great public service and referred to the fact that he belongs to our own Church and is giving greatly valued service as a member of the Board of our City Mission Society.

War Bonds A Duty

"Our people", Mr. Dewey said, "have got to learn that when they are giving up things it is not just an unpleasant duty; it is a way they can contribute to the war effort, and they must do it gladly. Then, secondly, they must use the money saved to buy bonds necessary to keep the government solvent. That does not mean we have to lie down and submit to inefficiency. We don't have to take bungling on the part of anybody. If we don't stand up and insist on a good job, we're failing in our duty as free men. But at the same time we must accept the fundamental sacrifices necessary in total war."

D. A. R. PULPIT IS INSTALLED AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH, EASTCHESTER

A special service was held at St. Paul's Church, Eastchester, Mount Vernon, on Sunday afternoon, May thirty-first, to celebrate the installation of the $2,000 high pulpit presented to this historic Church by the daughters of the American Revolution.

The service was attended by three hundred and fifty members of the D. A. R. from all parts of New York State. It was conducted by the Rector of St. Paul's Church, the Rev. Dr. W. Harold Weigle, and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Canon H. Adye Prichard, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Mount Kisco.

The restoration of St. Paul's Church has been in progress for some time, and the restored Church was rededicated by Bishop Gilbert on May third as the American shrine of freedom of the press and the Bill of Rights.

It was on the old Eastchester Village Green in front of St. Paul's Church that the election was held in 1773 which led to the trial of John Peter Zenger, arrested for truthfully reporting the events leading up to the election. His acquittal has been described as a milestone in the establishment of freedom of the press in this Country.

SEND YOUNG PEOPLE TO CHURCH CAMPS

Perhaps this year, as in no other in our national history, it is desirable that our young people get away from the city with its war clamor, high pressure entertainments and its distractions.

The many summer camps and conferences, especially those under Church auspices, offer opportunity for wholesome recreation, Christian fellowship and Church training.

Rectors and Church Workers: tell the young people of your parishes of our camps and conferences, urge them to go and, perchance, see that money is provided to send selected groups. Such has proven a good investment.

96th ANNIVERSARY OF PRESENT TRINITY CHURCH OBSERVED ON ASCENSION DAY

Ascension Day was observed at Trinity Church, New York City, with a Festival Eucharist and Procession at eleven o'clock, at which the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, preached the sermon.

The service marked the Ninety-sixth Anniversary of the consecration of the present Trinity Church, which is the third on the original site. The full vested choir of men and boys, directed by George Mead, Jr., sang Schubert's Mass in B flat, and an orchestra of fifty pieces accompanied the organ and rendered special numbers.

The first Church was opened for services in 1698 and was destroyed in New York's "Great Fire" in 1776. The second edifice was erected in 1788 and pulled down in 1839 as unsafe. The foundation stone of the third (present) Church was laid in the same year and the Church was consecrated on Ascension Day, 1846, by the Rt. Rev. Samuel A. McCoskry, Bishop of Michigan.

BRONX YOUTH INAUGURATE ANNUAL FAITH CONFERENCE

Young People of the Bronx Convocation met at the Church of the Mediator on Sunday afternoon, May twenty-fourth, for their first Annual Conference to increase their education in the Faith of the Church and to promote Christian fellowship.

The Conference was organized by the Young People, with the assistance of the Rev. Russell O. Kirsch, Youth Adviser and Assistant at St. Peter's Church, Westchester. Committee members are Jeanne and Eileen Knapp of the Church of the Mediator; Carmen Gluth of St. Stephen's Church, Woodlawn; and Raymond Singleton of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania.

The Rector of the Church of the Mediator, the Rev. Flint Kellog, and the Young People of the Parish acted as hosts to the one hundred and fifty Young People present.

The Rev. Frank C. Leeming, Headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill, the Conference Leader, conducted the Opening Service and gave the first talk.

Other Clergy of the Diocese were leaders of discussion groups on the following subjects:—

Sacramental Approach to Life
The Rev. L. E. W. Mitchell, St. Clement's Church, New York

The Holy Sacrifice
The Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang, Church of St. Edward the Martyr, New York

The Practice of the Presence of God
The Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Calvary Church, New York

Preparation for Communion and Thanksgiving
The Rev. Raymond G. Rogers, Ascension Church, Staten Island

Private Prayer
The Rev. James V. Knapp, All Saints' Church, Harrison
The Rev. Herbert R. Stevenson, Church of the Good Shepherd, Wakefield

Meditation
The Rev. Donald R. Woodward, Chapel of the Intercession, New York

The Religious Life for Women
Sister Sheila Raphael, Sisters of the Holy Nativity, Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City

The Religious Life for Men
The Rev. Richard Nale, Order of the Holy Cross, West Park

Mr. R. Elliott Brock of St. Sephen's Church, Staten Island was the Recreation Leader; and Miss Emilie Sander of the Church of the Resurrection, New York City, was guest organist.

The conference was limited in number and those attending were divided into groups for the discussion periods. It was a great success. Once again the Convocation of the Bronx has set the pace for the Diocese in educational and spiritual activity.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME IN FULL LENGTH OF THE CATHEDRAL

5,000 Attend Presentation Service

It was estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 children and their friends from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese attended the Annual Service for Presenting their Missionary Offerings at the Altar in the Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, May twenty-third.

This was the first of the Presentation Services held in the Entire Length of the Cathedral. Heretofore, attendance at this Service was restricted to a small percentage of the enrolment of the Sunday Schools of the Diocese.

Many who used to come from points outside of the City in private cars were unable to attend this year because of the gas and rubber shortage.

Eighteen hundred choristers in colorful vestments, led by the Recreation League Girls' Drum Corps of Greenwood Lake (fifty in number) marched in procession about the Cathedral Close and were reviewed by the Bishop and other Clergy before entering through the Great Bronze Doors to their reserved section in the Cathedral.

Bishop Gilbert read the announcement of the awards.

Each year since his consecration, Bishop Manning has welcomed the children to the Cathedral, the center of the Diocese, and addressed them concerning the life and faith of the Church. A part of the Bishop's Address follows:—

Recreation League Girls' Drum Corps of Greenwood Lake

"Year after year, when you came to this Annual Service, we used to talk about the time when that Partition Wall which used to be there would be taken away and we should have the whole length of the Cathedral open—and now that time has come, and what a glorious sight it is to see this congregation of the younger members of the Church gathered here in this great House of God.

"Some people today say that our young people are not interested in the Church and in Religion. I think they might change their minds if they would come to one of the great services for our young people that we have here in the Cathedral. Young people are always interested in the Church and in Religion if they are given a real opportunity to know about it and understand it.

"You are here today from all over our Diocese because you believe in our Lord Jesus Christ and are baptized members of His Holy Catholic Church, and you have brought your Missionary Offerings so that the help and message of the Church may be carried to Boys and Girls and Older People in other places and other parts of the world."

The Bishop spoke of the coming Sunday, Whitsun Day, as the birthday of the Church "because on that day Our Lord's promise to the Church was fulfilled and the Church began its wonderful work in this world".

Continuing the Bishop said, "We need the Spirit of God in our hearts to make us honest and sincere and upright. We need the Spirit of God to enable us to show love and kindness and good-will to all men. We need the Spirit of God to give us wisdom, to enable us to see clearly the difference between right and wrong, to give us a right judgment in the tremendous moral and spiritual issues which are now facing us."

Concluding his message to the Children, Bishop Manning said:

"There are three great but simple things that we must all do if we are faithful Christians and I want you to keep them in mind and to remember them always. I ask you now all to stand and repeat these three things after me. I will say each one of them and then you will say it all together:—

1. I must believe in the Lord Jesus Christ—and so I must learn all that His Church teaches about Him.

2. I must love the Lord Jesus Christ—and so I must think of Him and say my prayers to Him every day.

3. I must be faithful to the Lord Jesus in His Church and in my daily life."

These three statements, joined in by all who were present, came with intense earnestness and in thunderous volume from every part of the Cathedral.

After the address Bishop Manning presented the various awards and banners as listed below. All awards are made on the basis of the official reports received.

The Drum Corps marched in single file in front of Bishop Manning who personally presented each with a small silver cross as a souvenir. This musical organization was introduced to the Children's Service last year through the good offices of the Rev. George W. Wickersham, II, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Greenwood Lake, where most of the members of the Corps are connected.

BISHOP MANNING DEDICATES FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY WINDOW AT NEWBURGH

The Bishop of the Diocese dedicated a Fiftieth Anniversary Window and the Memorial Baptistry at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Newburgh, on Sunday afternoon, June twenty-first.

Bishop Manning unveiled and blessed the Window given as a thank offering for the "fifty years of faithful rectorship" of the Rev. John Marshall Chew, S.T.D., 1891-1941; and "the twenty-six years of devoted service to the Parish" of his wife, the late Helen MacDonald Chew, 1914-1941.

The Bishop also blessed the Baptistry which was unveiled on Christmas Eve 1941 and given by the Rector in loving memory of his wife.

The Golden Anniversary Committee gave a reception in the Parish House following the Service.

Dr. Chew was born in Houston, Texas, on May 17, 1862, graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1886; was ordained that year and advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Horatio C. Potter in 1887. He had been in continuous and active service in this Diocese for fifty years. Previously to his rectorship at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Newburgh, of which he was the first Rector, he founded the Church of the Resurrection in Hopewell Junction, which still continues as a mission of the Diocese.

Dr. Chew served for a number of years as Dean of the Hudson Convocation, on the Standing Committee, and on other committees of the Diocese. Few Clergymen of the Diocese have had so long a term of continuous active service, all within the Diocese.

GROTON CONFERENCE MEETS IN SEPTEMBER

The Annual Groton Conference for College and School Faculty Members and Chaplains will be held under the auspices of the Commission on College Work of the Province of New England, the Church Society for College Work, and the Student Christian Movement, from September sixteenth to the nineteenth, inclusive, at Groton School, Groton, Massachusetts.

This Annual Fall Conference brings together college and school faculties, chaplains, and interested students in order to examine the bases of Christianity intelligently, objectively, and with reverence. It will provide an opportunity for scholarly thinking and discussion along Christian lines, and for corporate participation in Christian devotional life, as well as group discussion of practical problems in the various fields of school and college work.

Registration information may be obtained from the Chairman of the Conference, the Rev. Frederic B. Kellog, Christ Church, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

GENERAL NOTES

ROGATION SUNDAY, MAY TENTH, was observed at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, when children of the Church School planted trees and flowering shrubs in the churchyard and on the rectory grounds. The shrubs and trees are a gift which the children of the Church School make annually for the beautification of the Church property. A Litany was sung in procession to the places of planting, and prayers were offered for the fruits of the earth.

RIGHT HERE LET ME SAY: don't follow the short-sighted policy of relaxing on publicity and promotion and the diocesan paper because of the war. This is the time to increase and intensify your promotion, rather than decrease. This situation presents a real challenge to all of us; let's face it and win through. Now is the time for resourcefulness and determination.—Joseph E. Boyle, Department of Promotion, National Council

A MEMORIAL ALTAR RAIL was dedicated at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, on the morning of Ascension Day, May fourteenth, by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray. The gift is in memory of Mrs. Thomas Henry Burchell, former President of the Altar Society, and was given by her daughters. The memorial is of quartered white oak, finished in Jacobean brown to harmonize with the choir stalls. The brass rail previously in use has been presented to St. Martin's Church in Harlem.

THERE IS SOMETHING WHICH IS AS FUNDAMENTAL and necessary in civilization and democracy as the Church. It is the home. In a nation where divorce is rampant and too easy a way out of solemn promises once made (one out of every six marriages end in divorce in the United States), where parents and children seldom take time to do things together, and where the pressure of modern business apparently keeps families from being together even at meals, one is compelled to face the problem of the homes in which we live today. What kind of a future generation will the children reared in such homes be like? The Church needs the home, for in it are the everyday experiences for Christian living. And the home needs the Church, for in it is the inspiration, the knowledge, the desire, and the power to perform. The Church and the home rise and fall together.

THE CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, GREENWOOD LAKE, organized first in 1855, reorganized in 1873, and incorporated in 1902, was admitted into Union with the Convention on May 13th, which date will hereafter be observed annually as the birthday of the Parish. Besides the Church edifice in town, the Parish boasts a beautiful Church on the Lake where services are held on Sundays in the Summer. The Rev. George W. Wickersham, II. is the Rector of the Parish, under whose enthusiastic leadership this momentous step was taken.

BECAUSE OF WAR CONDITIONS and the possibility of damage from air raids or other causes, the Trustees of the Church Pension Fund have taken the precaution of having certain of the essential records of the Fund and its subsidiaries, the Church Life Insurance Corporation and the Church Properties Fire Insurance Corporation, photographed on microscopic film, somewhat similar to motion picture film. Although the office of the Fund is on the forty-seventh floor of the City Bank Farmers Trust Company Building, a fifty-four story fireproof building in downtown New York, and would therefore appear to be reasonably safe, the Trustees felt that they should take every precaution to preserve vital records upon which the security of thousands of present and future beneficiaries depends.

A PLACE OF HONOR is again achieved by the women of Grace Church, New York City, for having made the largest United Thank Offering of any of the Churches in the Diocese, as reported at the Spring Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Cathedral. Not only was the offering a generous one—almost $600—but the number of women contributing was more than twice what it was a year ago.

THE REV. DR. JOHN WALLACE SUTER, Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, New York City, has been appointed Custodian of the Book of Common Prayer by the Presiding Bishop. Dr. Suter's father, the Rev. Dr. John W. Suter of Boston, held this office for ten years, up until the time of his recent death. The Custodian has charge of the standard form of the Book of Common Prayer and all reprints must be certified by him.

ACCIDENTS ARE PREVENTABLE, states The National Safety Council in a recent public statement. This organization and its cooperating allies have instituted a nation-wide program to arouse the public to eye and other war hazards, and by education and demonstrated safety devices minimize industrial and other accidents. There are spiritual hazards which may be reduced and "character" accidents which may be eliminated. Christian education and the organized power of the Church are being focused on this greater need. The Youth of the Church especially are being enlisted and trained in Christian Service. A way of life through Forward-in-Service is being promoted in the Church, which directs activities away from spiritual hazards and prevents disastrous accidents in Christian living.

THE BLUE BOX for the Women's Thank Offering is used by every woman in St. Paul's, Newburgh, and St. Luke's, Rossville. Every person doing something shows a much better parish condition than a few doing even as much. True in worship, service and giving in every Church.

THE MANY APPEALS for other most worthy causes—Red Cross, United Service Organizations, War Bonds, Civic and Church philanthropies—must not take precedence or the place of contributions to support the Church. We must discriminate but also sacrifice in our giving. War Bonds will help to win the war; Church contributions help develop leadership to win the peace.

WORD FROM THE REV. DR. OLIVER J. HART, Chaplain at Fort Dix, New Jersey, is that a meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew is held every Tuesday evening in the Chaplain's Office, Reception Center Chapel No. 2. All Churchmen are invited to attend, even if not members of the Brotherhood. There is a Celebration of the Holy Communion every Sunday morning at seven o'clock in Chapel No. 2 for all Churchmen. Other services are held at nine and ten o'clock.

THE UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS, four hundred of them, attended their Annual Memorial Service at the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, May twenty-fourth. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Thomas A. Sparks, Cathedral Pastor, who reviewed events leading to the Spanish-American War and praised the Veterans for their patriotism and service to their Country. Thirteen camps of the New York County Veterans participated in a parade which preceded the service. The singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" opened the service and was followed by a pledge of allegiance recited in unison by the Veterans and the congregation of one thousand. After the sermon, a roll call of Veterans who died during the last year was read and taps were played.

THE WHITSUN DAY CORPORATE COMMUNION for the Youth of the Church was held in a number of our parishes. Reports now in hand in the office of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education indicate that 4,460 young people made their Communions that day. Forty percent of our congregations have sent in their reports.

THE REV. GERALD F. BURRILL, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, and President of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, recently attended a three day conference on Religious Education at St. Louis. Mr. Burrill reports that the ideas and methods of this Diocese compare favorably with those elsewhere. He also represented the National Council at Portland, Maine, during May in presenting the Forward-in-Service Program for 1942-43.

THE REV. JOHN MARSHALL CHEW, Founder and Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Newburgh, had the honorary degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology conferred upon him by Columbia University on Tuesday, June second.

THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY of the Rev. Bertram J. Mortlock as Priest-in-charge of St. Mark's Church, North Yonkers, was observed in the parish hall on Sunday afternoon, June seventh. A reception in Mr. Mortlock's honor was arranged by the Advisory Board and the Church Service League. The hall was filled with members of the congregation, and a number of the neighborhood clergy were also present.

THE REV. LOUIS W. PITT, D.D., Rector of Grace Church, New York City, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology at the Eighty-sixth Commencement of the Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven, early in June.

THE ANNUAL BOY SCOUT SERVICE of St. Ann's Church, Morrisania, was held on Sunday morning, June fourteenth. The Hon. Dr. James A. Hamilton was the speaker. The conduct of Boy Scout Troops in our Churches is becoming increasingly important and significant. True patriotism, right human relationships and recognition of God and the Church are integral parts of a Scout's training. Thousands of our Country's best youth have been enrolled in this great organization and form a dependable part of our citizenry.

THE ACOLYTES OF ST. AMBROSE CHURCH IN HARLEM will celebrate their Thirteenth Anniversary on Sunday evening, July nineteenth, at eight o'clock. Other acolytes and guilds are invited to attend. The Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant, Rector, will deliver the sermon. Dr. Durant's son, E. Elliott Durant, Jr., is President of the Acolytes.

FIRST RECTOR OF THE CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, GREENWOOD LAKE, INSTITUTED ON JUNE 17th

The Rev. George W. Wickersham, II was instituted the first Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Greenwood Lake, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Wednesday evening, June seventeenth.

Bishop Manning was met at the village line by the Rev. Mr. Wickersham, the Fire Department, the Boy Scouts and the Recreation League Girls' Drum Corps, carrying Church Flags, American Flags, and Banners. They were escorted through the streets, lined with residents of the town, to the Church where the Bishop was welcomed by the Vestry. The escorting organizations attended the Service as units and with others of the congregation crowded the Church to full capacity.

The Rev. Oliver D. Carberry, Rector of Christ Church, Warwick, acted as the Bishop's Chaplain. The Rev. Dr. J. Holmes McGuiness, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Chester, who founded the Church of the Good Shepherd in 1902, had charge of the service.

Among our Clergy in attendance were: The Rev. Dr. Robert F. Lau, Spring Valley; the Rev. Leon E. Cartmell, Tuxedo Park; the Rev. Samuel P. Holiday, Sloatsburg; the Rev. Albert H. Ohse, Piermont; and the Rev. Robert Gay, Port Jervis. Local denominational clergy from Warwick Township were also present.

Besides officiating at the Service of Institution, during which the new Rector was given a silver key to the Church, Bishop Manning Confirmed a class of twelve, presented by Mr. Wickersham, and preached an inspiring sermon.

The Bishop met each member of the congregation individually as the congregation left the Church. The Drum Corps remained in the Church after the congregation was dismissed and played a selection especially for the Bishop, who later greeted each member personally and expressed his appreciation of their assistance at the service.

Before the Service in Greenwood Lake, Bishop Manning inspected the beautiful Island Church where services are held in the Summer.

Of the approximately five hundred non-Roman residents of Greenwood Lake, four hundred attend our Church there.

YOUR BUDGET AND YOUR SOUL

"O for the happy church that does not have to beg for money! In it the minister could be free to deal with spiritual things, and the congregation could worship God undisturbed by the clink of coins."

Could they! On the contrary, they would be in danger of losing their souls. We often say that the great American sin is the worship of money. But in one sense we do not have sufficient reverence for money and all that it means. Your property is an extension of your personality. Much of what we call culture and civilization depends largely on the things we own. If I own three cents I can tomorrow extend my personality and be in two places at once by mailing a letter. If I own several dollars I can for one day have an extra pair of hands doing my work for me or with me. And if I own many dollars I can become a veritable octopus, with hundreds of hands and brains at my bidding. That is why it is so difficult, as Jesus warned us, for a rich man to get to heaven. It is so easy for his well-th to become ill-th.

Your Budget has a great deal to do with your soul. In fact, it is not a bad picture of your soul. In a notorious divorce case the monthly budget of the woman applying for alimony was published in the newspapers. It ran something like this: Rent—$200.00; Clothing—$150; Amusements—$75; Books—$1.75; Charity—$5.00. Could you wish a better photograph of her soul? What of the man who pretends to be a Christian, and yet when he attends service gives less to God than he gives to go to the movie. Where your heart is, there will your money be also.

The Jews were commanded to make sacrifices—to make holy—their possessions by offering the first fruits to God. All that we have is a loan from God, and we are trustees of His estate. So the man who says that his time, his money and his talents are his own, to do with as he pleases, is an embezzling trustee, and Jesus tells us what such a man deserves. (Matt. 24:45-51). Our chief task in life is to try our best to "pay our board", to pay back to God and to God's children some little part of all that it has cost them to give us the privileges we enjoy.

Those who complain that the "passing of the plate" introduces an unspiritual note into a service do not know what spirituality is, and mean that they wish to keep their religion safely insulated from the rest of their life. We are living members of the Church only as we give of ourselves and our possessions to it.

We are parasites if we are not trying to "pay our way" through the support of our parish and the world-wide work of the Church. It is only because the Church has believed in foreign missions that we enjoy our religion and our civilization. Your church's campaign for her budget and that of the whole Church is not a "necessary evil" which interrupts our worship, but one way to prove that we have any religion at all which is worth anything to us. Worship means worth-ship.

THE KING OF GREECE VISITS THE CATHEDRAL

His Majesty, King George II of Greece, paid a visit to the Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, June twentieth.

Bishop Manning, accompanied by his Chaplain and the Clergy of the Cathedral Staff, formally received the King at the Great Bronze Doors which had been thrown open for the occasion.

After presentations and introductions had been made, the whole party, headed by the Bishop and the King, moved up the central aisle of the Nave, through the Crossing and Choir to the space in front of the Altar Railing.

The Bishop and Chaplain, together with the Right Rev. Germanos, Bishop of Nyssa, representing the Most Rev. Athenagoras, Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America, who was unable to be present, proceeded to the Altar, where Bishop Manning offered prayers and gave the blessing, followed by Bishop Germanos who offered prayers and gave the blessing in Greek.

The King and his party were then shown through the Ambulatory, the Baptistry, the seven Apsidal Chapels, and the Exhibit Hall. His Majesty asked a number of questions and expressed unbounded enthusiasm for the Cathedral as a building and as a place of worship. He added, when told that the great structure is free from debt, "Well that is unique and especially in these times".

Among those in the party were: His Excellency, Emmanuel Tsouderos, Greek Prime Minister; the Hon. Evangelismus Sekeris, Minister of Religion and Education; the Hon. Stavros Theophanides, Under Secretary of Shipping; the Hon. C. P. Diamantopoulos, Minister at Washington; Captain Alfred Leondopolous, Greek Naval Attache at Washington; Mr. H. Charles Spruks, U. S. Department of State Ceremonial Officer; and Colonel Louis S. Fortier, U. S. Army, and Captain Andrew S. Hickey, U. S. Navy, American Aides to the King.

Members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a sergeant and ten uniformed policemen, and members of the Police Alien Squad guarded the King. He was accompanied to and from the Cathedral by a large police motorcycle escort.

A SALUTE ACROSS FIFTY YEARS AND THREE THOUSAND MILES

At the Consecration of Bishop De Wolfe at Garden City, one of the Attending Presbyters was the Rev. George W. Barnes who formerly served as a Curate with Dr. De Wolfe and is now Rector of Trinity Church, Redlands, California.

Just fifty years ago Bishop Manning was Rector of Trinity Church, Redlands, that being his first parish, and Mr. Barnes brought with him to Garden City and presented to the Bishop a set of Resolutions signed by the Vestry and Members of the Parish and expressing their affectionate greetings and good wishes. Mr. Barnes also brought and presented to the Bishop photographs showing the people of the congregation assembled when these Resolutions were signed, and among them a number of those who were faithful workers and members of the Parish fifty years ago when Bishop Manning was their Rector.

THE MAYOR COMMENDS AIR RAID DRILL AT THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY NATIVITY

Mayor La Guardia has written an official letter to the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen, Rector of the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx, in connection with the Air Raid Drill recently held at the Church, in which he states:

"I do want to commend you for your splendid foresight in holding such a drill. It is one of my sincere prayers that New York will never know the horrors of an Air Raid, but it is much better to be ready for any sort of emergency when we are involved in total war."

The Mayor also expressed the hope that other Churches throughout the City would institute similar drills.

SPECIAL SERVICE OF PRAYER

For God's Blessing Upon the Officers and Men of the Navies and the Merchant Marines of the United Nations with Thankful Recognition of their Heroic Service

Sunday, November 8th, 4 p.m.

One of the largest and most significant services held in the Cathedral, second only to the Great Opening Service, when the full length of the Cathedral was officially opened, was held on Sunday afternoon, November eighth, at four o'clock.

This great Navy and Merchant Marine Service in this House of Prayer for All People was conclusive evidence of the fundamental Unity of Nations in the present war effort, and of their determination to win Victory for Justice and Freedom with a just and lasting peace.

The Procession of the Nations was a long to be remembered and most impressive event. Rank after rank of Marines, Sailors, Consuls of all the United Nations, Clergy of our Diocese and of other Churches, Officers of the Navies and Merchant Services of the United Nations, the Cathedral Clergy, the Bishop of the Diocese, filled the Cathedral from the Great Bronze Doors up and into the Crossing.

Addresses were made by the Bishop of the Diocese and Vice Admiral Adolphus Andrews, U.S.N. The Lesson was read by the Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, President of the Greater New York Federation of Churches. Prayers were offered by the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York; by Chaplain Leif T. Gulbrandsen of the Norwegian Seamen's Church; and by Chaplain LeRoy D. Lawson of the United States Maritime Training School.

His Eminence, the Metropolitan Theophilus, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Russian Orthodox Church of North and South America, offered from the Altar a special prayer for victory, followed by the blessing, both in Russian; and then the Bishop of the Diocese said a prayer and gave the blessing in English.

Also in the procession were Rear Admiral E. J. Marquart, Commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, accompanied by two hundred and fifty United States Sailors with three Color Guards; one hundred merchant seamen with their flags; delegations from the United States Merchant Seamen Training Station, the United States Marine Academy, and the New York State Maritime Academy, Trustees of Sailors Snug Harbor, and representatives of the Maritime Unions. Our Seamen's Church Institute had sixty sailors in the procession with the Institute Flag. The British Navy was represented by one hundred and fifty seamen, and Russia was also represented.

Our space will not permit us to print the full text of the addresses of the Bishop and that of Vice Admiral Andrews. Excerpts of each follow:—

Bishop Manning said in opening: "This Service is one of World-wide interest and significance. The message of this Service will be heard in every Country and on all the Oceans of the World.

"At the request of all the Consuls of the United Nations in New York, all of whom are present, we are here to ask God's Blessing upon the Officers and Men of the Navies and of the Merchant Marines of the United Nations, with thankful recognition of their heroic service.

"We pay our tribute of honour and of grateful appreciation to all the Armed Forces of the United Nations; we give thanks for the magnificent courage of Britain when she stood alone in the desperate days of Dunkirk, and throughout this whole conflict; we give thanks for the splendid spirit of Russia whose heroic defense of her Homeland is contributing so greatly towards Victory for the Right; we give thanks for the amazing, indomitable and miraculous struggle of China to which we all owe so much, and we give thanks for the unconquerable spirit of those in the enslaved Countries who are fighting on, and will fight on, to the utmost of their ability until the day of their liberation comes; God grant that it may come soon.

"At this Service we are thinking especially of the Navies and the Merchant Services and of the part which they are playing so magnificently, so unceasingly, and so heroically in this mighty World Battle for Human Freedom and for the very principles of Religion and of Humanity."

Continuing, the Bishop said: "There has been nothing finer in this World Struggle than the unflinching courage, the readiness to face danger and death, the quiet, simple, performance of their task, by the Officers and Men of the Merchant Services of our own Country and all the Allied Nations. Whether they are technically called so or not, the men of the Merchant Ships are a part of our Front Line Force in this gigantic World Battle and are doing their part as nobly as the men of the Navies."

Concluding his address, Bishop Manning stated: "And so today, and every day, and every hour of the day, we give thanks for the courage, the sacrifice, and the service, of the Officers and Men of the Navies and the Merchant Ships of the United Nations, and with our whole hearts and souls we ask God's Blessing upon them in the service which they are giving for their own Nations, for the overthrow of the Barbarous Aggressors and the ending of their crimes and cruelties, and for Justice and Freedom for all men."

Vice Admiral Andrews opened his address with a reference to Church services aboard ship. "If you could have visited this morning the ships of our Fleet, no matter where they may be, you would have seen a white pennant with a blue cross flying above the Stars and Stripes. That is the Church Pennant, the only flag that is ever hoisted over the National Ensign. It means that the Ship's Chaplain has assembled officers and men in humble worship of Almighty God. Few sailormen make any great show of religion, yet there are none more inherently reverent of the Creator than—as the psalmist wrote—'They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters. These see the works of the Lord and His wonders in the deep'.

"When we ask divine blessing on the sailors and merchant seamen of the United Nations, we have faith in their stout hearts and their steel courage. Already familiar with disaster and seasoned through years of hardship and loneliness, they have not flinched before the greater hazards of war. It is fitting indeed that we should pause in the midst of our related occupations to honor these brave men."

The Vice Admiral continued, "Even when there is no war, stout hearts are required of those who go down to the sea in ships. Our men have proved their splendid courage, their will and their ability to fight stubbornly against skillful and ruthless enemies. But we must continue to supply them with more and better weapons. Courage must be coupled with an ever-increasing flow of ships, planes and supplies.

"It is only by the heroic efforts and the firm stand of the brave Russians before Stalingrad, the Chinese in far off Chunking, and the men of all the United Nations fighting over the globe that we and our homes have been spared. It will not be so with our men in arms. All over the world our uniformed fighting men and our dungaree clad fighters of the Merchant Marine are undergoing hardships and the constant danger of death."

Triumph is Sure

"Morale is not the ability to cheer victories—anybody can do that. It is rather the quality of steadfastness when things are tough. You must be resolute, you must be strong, you must be unflinching in the face of death, personal hardship and weariness. You must keep the home fires burning bright and your spirits high. In the words of our Commander-in-Chief—'with confidence in our Armed Forces, with the unbounding determination of our people, we will gain the inevitable triumph, so help us God!' "

BISHOP MANNING CONDUCTS FIFTEENTH ANNUAL CLERGY CONFERENCE

One hundred and ninety-five Clergy of the Diocese were guests of the Bishop of the Diocese at the Fifteenth Annual Conference of the Diocesan Clergy, held at the Thayer-West Point Hotel, West Point, New York, on Wednesday and Thursday, October 14th and 15th. Owing to difficulties of travel etc., the number attending was slightly less than in 1941.

The Program of the Conference was as follows:—

Wednesday, October 14th

|---|---|
| 12:45 p.m. | Opening Prayers and Intercessions |
| 1:00 p.m. | Luncheon |

Thursday, October 15th

|---|---|
| 7:30 a.m. | The Holy Communion |

| 12:45 p.m. | Closing Prayers |
| 1:00 p.m. | Luncheon |

The addresses were deeply helpful and more perhaps than ever before the Conference was felt to be a blessing and strength to all who were present. Year after year the spirit of this Conference has deepened and its influence in the life of our Diocese has been beyond estimate. More and more this gathering of the Clergy has taken the character of an "Open Retreat".

The great experience of the gathering is the Corporate Communion with the large body of the Clergy of the Diocese kneeling together at the Altar. It is a significant fact that this gathering for mutual fellowship and for spiritual refreshment and renewal is attended by more of our Clergy than any other gathering in the Diocese during the year.

TRIPTYCH ALTAR PIECES DESIGNED FOR THE ARMY AND NAVY

The Triptych pictured above, "The Transfiguration" by Edith Emerson, is an example of the splendid Altar pieces being furnished our Armed Forces by the Citizens Committee for the Army and Navy. Sixty of these Triptychs, each one an individual painting by some gifted American artist, have been sent to Army Barracks, Battleships, Flying Fields and Ports of Embarkation. The Committee now has requests from Army, Navy and Marine Corps Chaplains for one hundred and seventy-one more, including a specific request from Midway.

The cost of each Triptych, which incidently when open is six feet by four feet in size, is $250.00. There is no intensive drive being made for these gifts. The usual method is to interest a single parish in giving one which will be the permanent property of the parish, loaned to the Armed Forces for the duration.

Mrs. Junius S. Morgan, President of the Citizens Committee, states that the donors may designate the final disposition of each gift. Several donors have requested that their Triptychs be presented to small Country Churches after the War, and some parishes have already made plans to use them as War Memorials, when they are returned. It is a particularly appealing idea for parishes with men in the Service to send something concrete and religious from the home parish for the use of its own men.

This work has the approval of Bishop Manning, and the head of our Army and Navy Commission, Bishop Sherrill.

A number of our parishes have already exhibited Triptychs; among them, the Church of the Incarnation, New York City; St. Mary's Church, Tuxedo Park; and St. Peter's Church, Peekskill. At the present writing, the Church of the Epiphany and St. James Church, New York City, are making plans to give such an exhibition and raise the necessary funds to donate a bit of religious beauty for the use of the men who are fighting for its preservation. The great Emerson Triptych will, by the Bishop's order, be displayed at the Cathedral.

DIOCESAN CLERGYMAN OFFICIAL JUNKMAN

The Rev. Dr. Frank Dean Gifford, Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, has been the official "Junkman" of his community.

A picture of Dr. Gifford pushing a wheelbarrow, loaded with an old gas stove, was typical of the way in which professional and business men took hold of the Salvage project in that city.

At a matinee in the Mamaroneck Playhouse the children turned in 12,000 pounds of rubber. A theatre party admission was five old phonograph records; nearly 5,000 pounds were turned in. Over sixteen tons of scrap of all sorts were collected in ONE afternoon.

The per capita of Scrap collection is one of the largest on record. The Scrap is to be sorted and sold; the money to be donated to appropriate war efforts.

DEATH OF DR. RALPH ADAMS CRAM ARCHITECT OF THE CATHEDRAL

On Monday, September twenty-first, Dr. Ralph Adams Cram, Architect of our great Cathedral, entered into life eternal. Dr. Cram was a truly great architect, the greatest in Gothic that our Country has produced. His genius is shown in Churches and other buildings throughout our land including the Chapel at Princeton University, the Military Chapel at West Point and many other noble buildings, but Dr Cram's masterpiece was his great Gothic Design for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. A large part of this superb design has been brought into realization and the great Nave stands complete.

It is a happy thing that Dr. Cram lived to see the Opening of the Whole Length of the Cathedral Interior and that he was able to be in the Procession and in the Chancel at the great Opening Service on Sunday, November 30th, 1941. A member of Dr. Cram's Firm, closely associated with him in all the work for the Cathedral, wrote on September 23rd, replying to the Bishop's letter of sympathy with the members of the Firm, "We are all deeply grateful for your letter of sympathy, and rejoice with you that Dr. Cram lived to see the Cathedral opened. That was the greatest day of his life, and he felt, in a sense, that with that day his work was done. It was the climax of a great career."

Dr. Cram was a man of great gifts, he was also a man of great faith, and of true devotion. All his great gifts were subordinated to a sense of his responsibility to God and the Church. May light perpetual shine upon him.

DIOCESAN WOMAN'S AUXILIARY PRESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Charles Gilmore Kerley, President of the Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council, died on Saturday, October twenty-fourth, at the Presbyterian Hospital. She was seventy-one years of age.

Mrs. Kerley was a communicant of St. Thomas Church, New York City, and was for many years a member of the Board of Managers of our City Mission Society.

The funeral service was held at St. Thomas Church on Tuesday afternoon, October twenty-seventh, conducted by the Bishop of the Diocese and by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks.

A number of the Clergy of the Diocese, officials of the Diocese and of the Woman's Auxiliary, and hundreds of members, representing all sections of the Diocese, were present.

Mrs. Kerley's devoted and untiring service had won for her the deep appreciation and affection of all the officers and members of our Woman's Auxiliary.

THE REV. JOSEPH HENRY IVIE

for thirty years Episcopal Chaplain of the New York Fire Department in Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond, died on Tuesday, July twenty-first. He was seventy-three years of age.

Chaplain Ivie had served the Diocese at Trinity Church, Fishkill, St. Bartholomew's Chapel, and St. Andrew's in New York City. He also served as a Chaplain of our City Mission Society.

The funeral service was held at the Cathedral with the Bishop of the Diocese officiating.

NEW RECTOR CHOSEN FOR ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S, WHITE PLAINS

The Rev. William C. Baxter, since February 1942 Priest-in-charge of St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, was elected Rector of the Parish on August twelfth. Mr. Baxter accepted the call and entered upon his duties as Rector on September second.

Mr. Baxter was graduated from the Virginia Theological Seminary in June 1930 with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, and ordained that year by Bishop Jett. A year later Mr. Baxter was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Ferris, then Bishop of Western New York.

He served as Priest-in-charge of St. Mary's Church, Gowanda, New York for three years and was then called as Rector of St. Simon's Church in Buffalo, remaining there until November 1940.

From this Parish, Mr. Baxter went to Manila in the Philippine Islands, as Dean of the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. John. The tropical climate proved detrimental to his health so that he resigned this post and returned to the United States in 1941.

Mr. Baxter succeeds the Rev. William T. Capers, Jr., who was compelled to resign because of ill health.

The late Bishop Arthur Selden Lloyd of beloved memory served as Rector of St. Bartholomew's, White Plains, after the reorganization of the Church and until his election as Suffragan Bishop of New York.

A SERVICE OF SOLEMN INTERCESSION HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL FOR THE SUFFERING PEOPLE OF YUGOSLAVIA

Bishop Manning with Cross Presented to Him By Bishop Nicholai of Serbia

A Service of Solemn Intercession for the Suffering People of Yugoslavia and of Thanksgiving for their courage and Steadfastness in this Time of Trial was held on Sunday afternoon, September twentieth, in the Cathedral.

A message from King Peter of Yugoslavia was read, and an address given by His Excellency Konstantin Fotich, Royal Yugoslav Minister to the United States. Bishop Manning delivered an address.

After the presentation of the offering at this service, which was given to the United Yugoslav Relief Fund, the Very Rev. Dushan Shoukletovich offered an Intercession and Thanksgiving composed by Archbishop Germanos of Thyateira and adapted by the Serb Archpriest Zivoin Ristanovitch. This Prayer was also offered at a similar Service held on the same day in Westminster Abbey.

The Blessing was given in Slavonic by the Serbian Bishop, the Right Rev. Bishop Dionysius, Representative of His Beatitude the Patriarch of the Serbian Orthodox Church, and in English by the Bishop of the Diocese.

The National Anthems of the United States and of Yugoslavia were sung at the close of the service.

The great and beloved Serbian Patriot Bishop Nicholai was brought vividly to the mind of his fellow Countrymen and of his many friends in America at this service. Bishop Nicholai participated in the Consecration of Bishop Manning in this very Cathedral twenty-one years ago.

Shortly before the outbreak of the present World War, Bishop Nicholai sent the exquisitely carved wooden cross, which is shown in the picture here, as a personal gift to Bishop Manning. On the back of the repository, Bishop Nicholai has written: "This simple sign of suffering and victory made by the Monks of Mont Athos—to my dear brother in Christ, Bishop William Manning, in brotherly love

+ Nicholai Ochrida"

Bishop Nicholai was taken from his Diocese and imprisoned and no definite reports of him have since been received.

FIFTEEN CLERGYMEN OF OUR DIOCESE IN MILITARY SERVICE

We are proud of the laymen of our Church who are serving in the Armed Forces of our Country, many in foreign lands. Some have already made the supreme sacrifice.

It is only to be expected that a number of our Clergy should answer the call to serve our men as Chaplains in the Army and Navy. The following Clergy from this Diocese are now in Military Service:—

The Rev. Donald B. Aldrich, D.D.
The Rev. Johnstone Beech
The Rev. Raymond E. Brock
The Rev. Charles A. W. Brocklebank
The Rev. Eric Eastman
The Rev. Leland B. Henry
The Rev. William M. V. Hoffman, S.S.J.E.
The Rev. Samuel P. Holiday
The Rev. Lewis R. Howell
The Rev. Matthew H. Imrie
The Rev. Thomas W. B. Magnan
The Rev. George R. Metcalf
The Rev. E. Rowland Taft
The Rev. Robert W. Woodroofe, Jr.
The Rev. Harvey L. Woolverton

A number of other priests of this Diocese have offered themselves as Chaplains and may shortly be called into Service.

The task of those who remain in their places is also of great importance. The need of faith and courage and of the ministrations of the Church is greater now than ever. Those who remain may be as truly in the first line of defense as are those in the trenches. Each of us has his own place to fill and to contribute to the full measure of our ability to God and Country.

PERSONAL NOTES

THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE visited St. Augustine's, Croton, St. Mary's Church, Mohegan Lake and the Church of the Good Shepherd, Granite Springs, on Saturday, September nineteenth. In each place the Bishop preached and held a service in the Church, assisted by the Priest in charge and afterwards met the people of the congregation. On Friday, September twenty-fifth, the Bishop held similar services at St. Paul's Church, Chester, Grace Church, Monroe, and at St. David's Church, Highland Mills; and on Friday, October ninth, at Grace Church, Port Jervis, St. James' Church, Callicoon, and the Church of the Holy Communion, Liberty.

THE RIGHT REV. JAMES P. DE WOLFE, Bishop of Long Island, returned to the Cathedral where he served as Dean and preached on Sunday morning, September thirteenth.

THE REV. HAROLD F. LEMOINE, for the past six years Curate at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, has accepted a call as Rector of St. Joseph's Church, Queens Village, Long Island, and began his rectorate there on November first. He will be succeeded by the Rev. Charles A. Weatherby, formerly on the staff of St. Mark's Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

THE REV. HAROLD C. WHITMARSH, Rector for the last five years of St Paul's Church, Wickford, Rhode Island, has accepted a call as an Assistant at St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City. He succeeds the Rev. Robert W. Woodroofe, Jr., who is serving as a Chaplain with the United States Army.

THE REV. J. HERBERT SMITH has resigned as Associate Rector of Calvary Church, New York City, to become Rector of All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, California. Before coming to Calvary Church thirteen years ago, Mr. Smith was Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Emporia, Kansas. He took his theological training at the General Seminary, from which he was graduated in 1926 with an S.T.B. degree. During this time he was a lay-reader on the staff of the Church of the Incarnation, New York City. Mr. Smith's position and influence at Calvary Church were second only to those of the Rector, the Rev. Samuel Shoemaker. He will be much missed at Calvary. His new parish offers a great field of opportunity and usefulness. A reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Smith at Calvary House on Monday evening, October nineteenth, at which a purse was presented to them.

THE REV. EDWIN LLOYD BALLINGER, formerly on the staff of the Cathedral, has been appointed Missionary-in-charge of the Church of the Regeneration, Pine Plains and Trinity, Millerton.

THE REV. RICHARD W. WAMSLEY, Curate at St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, since June 1940, has been appointed Missionary-in-charge of Christ Church, Patterson and Holy Trinity Mission, Pawling.

THE REV. ALLAN B. GRAYSON, formerly of the Mission Field in Wyoming, has been appointed Rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, Liberty.

THE REV. ORIN A. GRIESMYER, Rector of St. John's Church, Tuckahoe, for the past five years, has been elected Rector of St. Mary's Church, West New Brighton, Staten Island and has entered upon his new charge.

THE REV. WARREN H. SCOTT was ordained by Bishop Gilbert in the Cathedral on Saturday morning, October seventeenth. The Rector of St. Philip's Church in Harlem, the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, presented Mr. Scott, who will serve as an Assistant at St. Philip's Church.

THE REV. GERALD F. BURRILL, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, was one of the speakers at the Clergy Conference of the Diocese of Long Island in September. The Diocese is planning to hold Preaching Missions on the Island, and Mr. Burrill told of his experience in connection with the Bronx-Wide Preaching Missions.

PREBENDARY WILSON CARLILE, world known leader and founder of the Church Army, died on September 26th at the ripe old age of ninety-five. Even during his last years, neither his interest in nor efforts for the Church Army failed. The development of the Church Army in this Country has been marked by great results for God and His Church all over our land. In the paper of the Church Army, "Co-Partners", Bishop Manning paid the following tribute to Prebendary Carlile:—

> "Prebendary Wilson Carlile was a true and faithful Priest and a true Evangelist. He made the Gospel of Christ and His Church a living reality to the people of all sorts and conditions, and especially to the poor and neglected. I have never forgotten a meeting at Church Army Headquarters in London fifteen years ago at which I had the privilege of being with him. His memory and example are an untold blessing to the Church Army and a strength to all of us. 'May Light Perpetual Shine Upon Him'."

THE REV. WILLIAM F. CORKER, who has been on the staff of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, as Assistant Minister, has resigned to accept the rectorship of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

THE REV. CHARLES H. GRAF was instituted as Rector of St. John's Church, Waverly Place, New York City, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday evening, November fifteenth.

THE RIGHT REV. ROBERT E. L. STRIDER, Bishop of West Virginia, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Bronx Convocation, held at Trinity Church, Morrisania, on Tuesday evening, November tenth. The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Wood, for thirty-nine years a Missionary in China, told of his experiences as a Japanese prisoner, and of his trip home on the "Gripsholm".

THE REV. GEORGE F. LANGDON, Rector of the Church of the Regeneration, Pine Plains, and Priest-in-charge of Trinity Church, Millerton, has retired after nearly thirty years of service at Pine Plains.

THE REV. JOHN A. BELL was instituted as Rector of the Church of the Incarnation, New York City, on Sunday afternoon, November first, by the Bishop of the Diocese. Mr. Bell, formerly an Assistant at St. James Church, began his new duties on September thirteenth.

ALTAR IS MADE BY PARISHIONERS

Above is a picture of an Altar which was made and given by two men connected with the Chapel of the Redeemer, Lincoln Park, Yonkers. It is intended for use in the Sunday School.

The Altar is not only beautiful in its simplicity, but it shows considerable ingenuity, for the top piece folds down and the side pieces swing in, so that top and side pieces can be made to inclose the Altar proper; and when it is so closed, it is as portable as a small wardrobe.

NEW WORK FOR CHURCH COLORED PEOPLE IN HARLEM

St. Luke's Church, Convent Avenue at 141st Street, New York City, which recently consolidated with St. Martin's Church in Harlem, under the rectorship of the Rev. Dr. John Howard Johnson, was reopened on Sunday, September thirteenth, after having been closed since June.

A congregation of nearly fifteen hundred people filled every available seat in the Church and people stood in the porch throughout the service. There were thirty clergymen present who marched in the procession. Among those who brought brief greetings were the following clergy: The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Trinity Parish; the Rev. Dr. E. Elliot Durant, St. Ambrose Church; the Rev. Dr. George F. Miller, St. Augustine's Church, Brooklyn; the Rev. Dr. William Lloyd Imes, St. James Presbyterian Church; and the Rev. Samuel H. Sweeney, St. Mark's Methodist Church.

The combined choirs of St. Martin's and St. Luke's, under the newly appointed Organist of St. Luke's, Mr. John H. Sharpe, rendered the music. An organ recital by Mr. Julius Carroll of St. Martin's Church preceded the service.

This enlargement of our work for the Colored People in Harlem, under the direction of Dr. Johnson, is meeting a long felt need.

On St. Luke's Day, October eighteenth, the Bishop of the Diocese preached at St. Luke's Church to a great congregation and the Lesson was read by a layman, the Hon. Charles H. Tuttle, whose family have long been identified with St Luke's Parish.

RECTOR OF CHRIST CHURCH, PATTERSON, RETIRES

Seldom has Patterson, New York, witnessed a more gratifying approach to Church Unity than on Sunday morning, September twenty-seventh, when, despite the inclement weather, some two hundred persons—Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Methodists, Baptists and at least one member of the Society of Friends—crowded to the doors Christ Church, the parish of which dates back to the year 1770, and gathered to do honor to its beloved Rector, the Rev. William Henry Meldrum, who retired on October first, after a singularly faithful pastorate of more than forty-eight years.

There were many communicants from Holy Trinity, Pawling, of which Mr. Meldrum has also been in charge, as well as communicants from New York, Albany, Brooklyn, Peekskill, Ansonia, Brewster, Danbury, Mahopac and Poughkeepsie. About twenty-five Masons were also present to honor Mr. Meldrum, who is a Past Master of Harlem Valley Lodge, No. 827, F. & A. M. of Pawling, for over thirty years its Chaplain and a Past Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York.

The Rector was the Celebrant of the Solemn Eucharist and was attended by the Rev. Charles Carpenter, Rector Emeritus of St. Paul's, Brookfield, Connecticut, who read the Gospel, and by the Rev. Carl J. Ljunggren, Priest-in-charge of the Church of the Resurrection, Hopewell Junction, who read the Epistle and who, in the '90s, ministered to a Swedish congregation in Patterson. Also present in the Sanctuary was the Rev. Dr. Frederick L. Gamage, Headmaster Emeritus of the Pawling School.

Bishop Manning sent a letter of appreciation of the long and faithful service of Mr. Meldrum.

The vested choir of Christ Church was enlarged by choristers from Pawling, Patterson Presbyterian Church, St. Luke's, Brooklyn, and also a boy from the choir of the Cathedral. The musical selections included Agnus Dei in G, recently written by the Church Organist, Mr. Paul W. Townsend, in honor of Mr. Meldrum.

ST. JOSEPH'S WORK SHOP STARTED AT THE CHAPEL OF THE INTERCESSION

This new organization at The Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, New York City, is made up of boys and girls of High School age who have found, by experience, that they enjoy doing some practical work for Christ and His Church much more than they do a club which is intended primarily for their own amusement. In former years, it has been that such club programs, which were designed mostly for entertainment, ended by becoming a good deal of a bore and rather difficult to plan.

This Fall, an invitation was sent to all young people of High School age in the congregation to come to a reception given by the Clergy where plans for St. Joseph's Work Shop were outlined. It was definitely stated at that time that the primary objective of the new organization was to do hard and constructive work, and that all entertainment for the members was to be incidental to that main object. The large group of young people present responded with enthusiasm and, as a consequence, they spent about two hours each night of the week following in helping to clean out the Crypt Chapel, which had not been used for regular worship for many years, and to prepare it for the Eucharist to be held for the second sessions of the Church School on the following Sunday. This proved an enormous task, but the group entered into it willingly and with a fine spirit, and all who took part in it agreed that they had never had so much fun before in their ordinary club meetings.

This Work Shop is planning to continue along these same lines, and has already agreed to take over the work of decorating the booths for the Winter Carnival, which is to be held on December second and third, and to run a "Fun House" in conjunction with it. The girls are going to act as waitresses for the Chapel Dinner at the same time, while the boys are going to oversee many of the games. They also are planning to repair all the Prayer Books and Hymnals in the Church, to put on several dramatic productions to help raise money for worthwhile projects outside of the Church, and to act in a Christmas pageant.

It should be mentioned that this same group comprises many of the boys who are faithful members of the Acolyte Guild, and that many of the girls sing in the Girls' Choir, while some are members of the regular Altar Guild. This work is in reality an attempt to make practical the Forward-in-Service Program and, from the enthusiasm with which it has been received, the Clergy have found additional zeal and hope in their attempts to apply these same principles to all of the organizations of the Chapel.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH PLACES CROSS ON THE ALTAR

The absence of the Cross from the Communion Table of the present St. George's edifice for seventy-five years has been in some ways a significant blessing. For we have been saved from taking a cross for granted. Our placing it there today has come unhurriedly, and after prayerful thought by many people. We have felt the soul's demand that our worship shall be powerfully centered upon the commanding symbol of our faith. This symbol stands amid the shame and ignominy of our world as the golden hope of mankind. There has never been an hour in our history when the cross could proclaim its message with more telling power. . . . .

Blood, sweat and tears are not enough. Man in his blindness, sin and faithfulness, supposes something less than love can save the world. He is wrong. The Cross brings us to judgment; but it also lifts us to hope. No wonder it towers o'er the wrecks of time. . . .

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE "RAISES THE ROOF"

A 74 foot long ship's pilot house and flying bridge, to be used as a classroom for navigation students preparing for the Merchant Marine, Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force, was opened on Thursday, September twenty-fourth, on the roof of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York at 25 South Street.

Over 6,000 men have completed courses in the Institute's Merchant Marine School within the past two years and are now serving in the deck and engine departments of hundreds of ships on all the seven seas, as well as in military and commercial planes. After Pearl Harbor it became necessary for the School to expand its classroom space to meet the increased enrollment. The Institute's 13-story building with lodging accommodations for 1,600 was already crowded with merchant seamen on brief shore leave from the tankers and freighters. There was no available space for extra classrooms on the recreation floors. It became necessary, therefore, for the Institute to literally "raise the roof" and add what amounts to an additional floor to the 13 stories in order to accommodate the students in navigation. The staff of instructors was enlarged and now includes 22 men.

The bridge, from which students may take sights, is literally the highest navigation bridge in the world, 212 feet from sea level. With its Kearfott windows, it resembles the bridge of the U. S. Liner "America" and is equipped with all modern navigation devices, including Sperry gyro and a "Metal Mike" for automatic steering and for taking bearings, azimuth, etc., contributed by the Sperry Company. Long chart tables line the wall.

The structure was dedicated as "The Pilot House, a Memorial to Charles Hayden", a member of the Institute's Board of Managers until his death in 1937, and donor of the Hayden Planetarium. Generous annual grants to the Merchant Marine School and other activities of the Institute, especially those for boys and younger men, have been made from the Foundation established under his name.

At the dedication ceremonies, J. Willard Hayden, President of the Hayden Foundation, spoke. Clarence G. Michalis, President of the Board of Managers of the Institute, presided, and the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Institute, offered the dedicatory prayers.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH, CHELSEA, RESTORED

The largest congregation seen in years attended the Service of Restoration at St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, on Tuesday evening, September twenty-ninth, the Feast of St. Michael and All Angels.

Literally hundreds of contributions, mostly in small amounts, were received from friends all over the Diocese and many from persons in other states. A number of Churches in the Diocese made corporate gifts. The Christmas Church has a strong appeal to all Churchmen who remember " 'Twas the Night before Christmas", written by a one time Vestryman of the Parish, Dr. Clement Moore.

The Service of Restoration was of great beauty and impressiveness. The Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. Peter's met the Bishop of the Diocese at the door of the Church and escorted him to the Chancel. Nearly forty Diocesan Clergy were in the procession and members and friends of the Parish filled the newly restored edifice.

Upon reaching the Sanctuary, the Bishop said:—

"Dearly Beloved in the Lord, we are gathered here to re-dedicate this Restored and Beautified Church Building. Let us praise God's Holy Name for the mercy and goodness with which He has prospered this work; and let us devoutly pray that He will, of His good Providence, bless all those who in any way have given their aid in this work, and that He will send His blessing upon this Parish."

The Organist and Choirmaster of St. Peter's Church was assisted by the Organist and great Choir of over one hundred voices of the Church of the Crucifixion in Harlem, one of the best and the largest Choir of Negro singers in the Diocese. The singing of that great hymn, "God is Working His Purpose Out", was triumphant in purpose and volume. Perhaps never before in St. Peter's Church has there been such a magnificent rendition of Handel's Messiah as by the great choir of the Church of the Crucifixion, led by its Organist, Edward H. Margetson, A.A.G.O.

Regular services of St. Peter's are now in full swing. The Rector and people are entering upon a new though troubled era with buoyant faith and resolute courage.

JUST PROPORTION

The complexities of life today—the incessant and imperative calls upon us all for special services; for much needed contributions for Relief, for our Army and Navy Commission and for the U. S. O.; the pressure brought upon us to buy War Bonds and as a Priority; the demands upon all Christians to generously support our Church—make it necessary to to meet these vital obligaproportion all life's resources tions.

Our only surety that we shall with discrimination and loyalty to God and Country meet all these calls is to BUDGET our time, talents and money; and in this Budget we must put first things first. My Church IS a priority. Unnecessary expenditures, personal and general, must be discontinued or curtailed.

Life for most of us has been too easy. Things are changing. Our first essential step is to sacrifice and remember, not so much Pearl Harbor, as our Christian Vows.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE DEAF

You should know:—

That the deaf are very valuable members of the Church.

That they are willing and anxious to cooperate in all work pertaining to the Church. They are only waiting to be asked, and to have the work explained to them.

That their "singing" in the sign language is beautiful to see.

That the women have regular organized units of the Woman's Auxiliary.

That they have their United Thank Offering Blue Boxes, do supply work, Periodical Club work, and contribute to the various missionary projects of their respective dioceses.

That they are expert at making surgical dressings. Their hands are so flexible that they can do this work far better than you or I.

—Excerpts from "The Silent Missionary"

At St. Ann's Church on 148th Street an active, far-reaching, and inspiring work for Deaf-Mutes is carried on in our Diocese by the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, himself a Deaf-Mute, under the direction of the Parish of St. Matthew and St. Timothy.

Church people in New York may be reminded that pioneer work for the Deaf was done by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet, who organized the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes and founded the Gallaudet Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes at Wappingers Falls, New York.

All the statements culled from "The Silent Missionary" are true of our New York deaf Church people.

GENERAL NOTES

PRIORITIES: "THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD THY GOD WITH ALL THY HEART." "SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM OF GOD AND HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS." "THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF."

LOOK TO YOUR GIVING. The fifteen percent exemption allowed by the government in the income tax return is still in force. It is perfectly possible that a generous gift to your Church would place your income, subject to tax, in a lower bracket. Thus you would be able to generously help your Church and materially reduce your tax. Your patriotism can be expressed in Church and charitable gifts as well as by paying taxes or buying War Bonds.

EIGHTY YEARS IN ONE PARISH is a long time. Mrs. Carrie A. Scott, who just recently died, spent her entire life as a member of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville. She entered into the full life of the Parish and served on various committees. The Altar of St. Mary's Church was given by Mrs. Scott.

A MAN THERE WAS, they called him mad; the more he gave, the more he had. Bunyan

I DO NOT GIVE ALMS; I am not poor enough for that. Neitsche

WE CAN'T RUN A CHURCH ON TIPS; not by collection plate tips when we happen to go to Church, nor by tips masquerading as honest pledges. Your Church budget is low; your Church does not ask an excessive amount. But it isn't fair to pledge a dime to the Church and give 44 cts. to the movies. It isn't generous to give God a quarter a week and the hairdresser a dollar a week. Don't "tip" God. Give a fair and honest proportion of your income.

—Bulletin of the Church of the Holy Nativity, Bronx

If you want a suggestion, the Bible ratio is one-tenth. What do you think is a fair proportion?

PERHAPS MORE YOUNG PEOPLE of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, attend private schools and colleges away from home than any other parish in the Diocese. The November issue of "The Parish Messenger" prints the names and designates the schools and colleges of two hundred and fifty-two young people of the Parish. The Rector, the Rev. James Harry Price, has during the year visited many of these institutions and met these young people. News of the Church is frequently sent to them.

RULES OF THE ROAD is the title of a sermonette by the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, Vicar of St. Ann's Chapel for the Deaf, New York City, which appeared in the September 1942 issue of "The Silent Missionary". The analogy between progress in the Christian life and travel on the road is particularly apt:—

|---|---|
| The first rule | Go carefully |
| Second rule | Keep to the right |
| Third rule | Keep moving |
| Fourth rule | Keep your head low |
| Fifth rule | Lend a helping hand |
| Sixth rule | Do not travel at night |
| Seventh rule | The road leads home |

Any one who can read can make the applications.

A PLAQUE MEMORIALIZING SARA DELANO ROOSEVELT has been placed in historic St. Paul's Church, Mt. Vernon. The wording, approved by President Roosevelt, is as follows:—

"The restoration of this historic Church as a monument to God and as a Shrine to the Bill of Rights, was accomplished through the untiring efforts of Sara Delano Roosevelt, who was Chairman of the Restoration Committee from 1931 - 1941, and by the contributions of her friends and acquaintances, the descendants of the original Colonial pewholders and American citizens throughout the nation. That Also Which This Woman Hath Done Shall be Spoken Of For a Memorial of Her".

The amount secured for this memorial to Mrs. Roosevelt and for the completion of other phases of the restoration now exceeds $12,000.

DO YOU BUDGET YOUR TIME as you do your income? It is probable that most of us do neither. No satisfactory progress in the Christian life can be attained unless we do both. Under the terms of Christian Stewardship all of time, talents, and possessions are subject to strict accountability. A keen judgment and fine discrimination are necessary to a well planned personal budget.

FIRST BRONX BRANCH OF LAYMEN'S LEAGUE was organized at the Church of the Holy Nativity, of which the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen is Rector, on Tuesday evening, October sixth. Mr. Thomas P. Rabbage, Vice-president for the Second Province of The Laymen's League of the Episcopal Church, presented the work of the League. Following an interesting discussion, those present voted to organize a Parish Branch of the League and officers were elected. There are now four active Parish Branches of the League in the Diocese: two in Richmond Convocation, one in Manhattan and this new one in the Bronx. Information regarding the League may be secured by writing to Mr. Rabbage at 187 Burbank Avenue, Staten Island, New York.

I HAVE SUGGESTED that instead of using such profits as there may be from this year's Parish Fair for our own benefit and enjoyment we equip a chaplain, to be chosen later, with a suitable tryptych or altar piece, vessels—chalice, paten, cruets and ciborium, and vestments. This equipment could be purchased for not much more than $300. It may be that we can either lend or give one or two of our own sets of vestments in order to make the gift complete. I am sure you will all be eager to work and give this year to so worthy a cause as the maintenance of the communicant life of our young men in the service.

—G. B. W. in the bulletin of the Church of the Resurrection, New York City

AN OFFICIAL EPISCOPAL CHURCH FLAG was dedicated at St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, New York City, on Sunday, October twenty-fifth. The flag was given as a memorial to Arthur Lee Allin by his daughter, Mrs. Richard A. D. Beaty, wife of the Rector of the Parish. The gift has especial significance to this Parish as the designer of the Church Flag, the late William H. Baldwin, was baptized and confirmed there.

THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF TALK THESE DAYS about the opening of a second front in Western Europe, but there is another second front that is even more important. We urgently need a spiritual second front—a moral front here at home against the very forces of evil of which our military enemies are the personification. For of what use would a military victory be if in achieving it we should lose the spiritual values for which we are fighting? "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?" In our spiritual second front every one of us must find his place. The call is to personal rededication and a return to the vows of our baptism and confirmation.

—Sunday Bulletin of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City.

WE, INDIVIDUALS AND CHURCHES, have gladly and energetically engaged in SALVAGE. All sorts of materials large as steam boilers and as small as pins have been gatherd that our Armed Forces may have war materials. Trinity Parish gave its historic stoves that heated St. Paul's Chapel generations ago; St. Peter's, Chelsea, gave an old iron fence; the Cathedral five tons of scrap, including a hand-rail on the steps of the Old Synod House, over a hundred and twenty-five years old; Grace Church, Port Jervis, hundreds of pounds of iron and lead. The Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, the Rev. Dr. Frank Dean Gifford, accepted the chairmanship of a general committee for the Convocation of Westchester. The results astonished everyone and created comment from all over the county. Many of our parishes had scrap piles. We answered this call with specific and immediate action. The Call of God is sounding—"Onward, Christian Soldiers!"

FIVE COMMUNIONS AND THE BUDDHISTS have representatives on a newly organized committee to aid Japanese in New York, both citizens and aliens. Bishop Gilbert represents the Episcopal Church on this Committee. The Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council is also interested. Dr. Frederick B. Newell is Chairman of this New York Committee for Japanese work, with headquarters at 150 Fifth Avenue. About two hundred American men and women, of Japanese origin, born and educated in the United States, many of them college graduates, experienced in many kinds of work, were suddenly thrown out of work in December and have no prospect of employment. The esteem in which the committee is held is shown by the fact that the federal parole office has asked the committee to undertake the parole of men released from Ellis Island. The committee has full cooperation from other agencies, the FBI, City Welfare Department, Community Service, and especially the Friends' Service Committee.

THE VISIT OF BISHOP MANNING to Grace Church, Port Jervis, at noon on Friday, October ninth, was regarded as a community event. Promptly at noon as the Bishop entered Grace Church, the bells of the Dutch Reformed Church pealed forth a welcome. Among those present in the large congregation were the Mayor and Postmaster of Port Jervis, the Editor of the local newspaper, ex-Fire Marshall, a Rabbi, pastors of local Churches, wardens and vestrymen of the Parish, including the Manager of the Rockland Light and Power Company, members of the local Woman's Auxiliary, parish guilds, junior and senior choirs, Every Member Canvass Standing Committee, Church School faculty and members. All the official life of the Parish and many other communicants were present to do honor to their Bishop and to hear his message of Hope and Promise. The Bishop greeted many of those present after the service. The local press gave a two column writeup of the occasion ending with this paragraph: "This is the first service of the kind ever held here, it is believed, and it was a fine testimonial to the Rector and his people that the Bishop arranged for the meeting and inspection of the work here."

THE TRAGEDY OF WAR has descended upon the whole world and with its coming our Church has a far greater work than ever to perform. The faith and eternal hope that springs from the Church is needed more than any time before in the history of man. I do hope that during the weeks and months ahead that we may tighten the bonds that bind us into one fellowship and family. We will need each other, and we will need the strength and grace that can come to us only in His Presence at the Altar.—Bulletin of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania

ARE YOU LEADING A CONSECRATED LIFE? A life truly "set apart or dedicated to the service and worship of God"? Consecration may be shown in varying degrees: you do not have to be a saint, nor a priest, or member of some religious order; it is within the grasp of every man or woman who appreciates the reality of God and comprehends what this implies in regard to his duty of Love and Service. And is that all? Indeed not; he must permit his consciousness of spiritual responsibility to color his thoughts, his words and his deeds in each situation which presents itself in his busy everyday life.—Bulletin of the Chapel of the Redeemer, Yonkers

SPECIAL WAR SERVICES are being held every Sunday afternoon for the duration of the War at Trinity Church, New York City. Special prayers and intercessions will be offered for all those in our armed services everywhere, and for defense workers and volunteers in civilian defense. "These War Services," states Dr. Fleming, the Rector of Trinity Parish, "will be the first of their kind as a sustained spiritual contribution to our ultimate victory in the War. They are especially appropriate at historic Trinity Church, known as the Abbey of Wall Street, because of its establishment by royal charter, its close association with our national history from Colonial days, its monuments to our Country's heroic dead, and its three centuries of spiritual service to our Country."

A BEAUTIFUL STAINED GLASS WINDOW was dedicated in St. James' Church, Hyde Park, on Sunday, September twentieth. The window was presented by Mr. Henry K. Brent of New York in memory of his wife who, before her marriage, was Miss Emily Rogers, a member of a prominent Hyde Park family. The memorial is of medieval design; the reds and blues of the Middle Century artistry constitute the principal colors. A conventional medallion of a mother and her children adorns the window.

AN ANNUAL PARISH CENSUS has been in progress for several weeks at St. John's Church, Kingston. Forms were distributed in the Church for a number of Sundays, and were carried on the first page of the parish weekly paper, "The Eagle of St. John". The following gives the reason for the Census:—

> "At the beginning of the Church Year of Activities it is our aim to survey the needs and desires of our parish members. If we can assemble and correlate essential facts about Church families, and keep the information up to date each year, we will know our strength and our needs more fully. We hope that every family will be glad to supply this information. Perhaps there is something in the life of the Church in which you would like to take part. It is partly with the hope that many people will enter more actively into Church life in these soul-trying days through learning more about it that this Census is being made."

The Rector of the Parish, the Rev. Maurice W. Venno, states that the Census has been very successful and has furnished much valuable detail and helped to start off the Fall activities.

TWO WINDOWS ARE SET ASIDE in the vestibule of Christ Church, Suffern, as "Honor Roll Windows", as a permanent roll of the men of the Church in the armed services of our Country. The artist, Mr. Charles F. Gedney, has created a beautiful Honor Roll upon these two windows with appropriate Christian symbols, Scripture texts and illustrations. The names of those in service are inscribed on the glass. Mr. Gedney gave a brief descriptive address at the time of the dedication of the windows.

THE CONFRATERNITY OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT was founded in America seventy-five years ago. An Anniversary Celebration was held at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City, on Armistice Day, November eleventh. A Solemn Pontifical Mass was celebrated by Bishop Ivins of Milwaukee at eleven o'clock. Father Lewis, Rector of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, was the preacher.

THE CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE OF MAN is the subject of a seminar being conducted by the Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, the Rev. James Harry Price, in the Church House on Monday evenings. The first session was held on October twenty-sixth and the seminar will continue until December twenty-first. Books to be read include, St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, St. Thomas Acquinas' "Governance of Rulers", and William Ernest Hocking's "What Man Can Make of Man".

A MEMORIAL SERVICE for Prebendary Wilson Carlile, of the Church Army, was held in Trinity Chapel, New York City, on All Saints Day, Sunday, November first. Church Army Captains, Cadets, Associates and other friends of the Church Army were present. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Vicar of the Chapel, and an active supporter of the Church Army since its beginning in this country.

WE MUST NOT FORGET that at the same time Jesus said, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's", He also said, "And unto God the things that are God's."

THE CHURCH AT WORK, illustrated by motion and stereopticon pictures, was presented by the Rector of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville, the Rev. Dr. Charles Breck Ackley, at a series of afternoon and evening meetings from November fifth to the ninth.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES of the Soldiers and Sailors Prayer Book; 72,000 copies of the Forward Movement literature; 22,000 copies of the folder on the Holy Communion; and 11,500 identification cards have been issued by the Army and Navy Commission. The Commission has also supplied 95 portable Altars to Chaplains and is paying pension premiums for 138 chaplains. Over a hundred chaplains are being provided with discretionary funds.

A RED LEATHER BOOK has been placed on the Holy Table at St. George's Church, New York City, and will remain there for the duration of the war. It contains, handwritten in ink, the names of one hundred and twenty-five men and women of the Parish who are scattered to the ends of the earth serving in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or other government service.

A HUGE INCREASE IN EXPENDITURES for alcoholic beverages, tobacco, theatres, cosmetics, soft drinks, etc., since our entry into the War, has been noticed by keen observers. This increase is out of proportion to the contributions for Church support and war relief. National income has increased 49% in recent years, while Church and charity (including war relief) contributions have DECREASED 31%! Why? What is your personal responsibility.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE MARVELLED at the huge granite pillars in the Cathedral. A hundred ton, 60 foot lathe, the largest granite cutting machine ever made, was built especially to turn out the eight two hundred and seventy ton columns installed in the Cathedral. Word has just been received that the Rocks of Ages Corporation of Graniteville, Vermont, has turned this huge machine over to the Scrap Metal Drive. The eight pillars will stand for a thousand years in this world's greatest Cathedral, dedicated to Prayer, Justice, Righteousness and Peace.

THE RECTOR'S ADVENT TALKS, 1942, tenth year, will be held in Trinity Church, head of Wall Street, at 12 noon: November 30th to December 4th, William Lyon Phelps; December 7th to 11th, The Rector; December 14th to 18th; The Rev. C. Leslie Glenn, U.S.N.R., Chaplain of the Prairie State.

GOD HAS PROJECTED OUR LIVES on too grand a scale to make them easy. Infinite possibilities lie before us—great distances to be covered, steep heights to be climbed—and we progress by overcoming. Some experiences that seem to retard us in the onward and upward way really help us forward. In one sense the friction of the rail retards the speeding train. In a deeper sense the friction prevents the wheels from merely spinning around and drives them forward. The trials that fall upon us are the friction that is necessary to our progress. With speeding trains and human life progress is by friction.

THE HENRY HILL PIERCE HOUSE was dedicated on Sunday afternoon, November eighth, by the Rector of St. George's Church, New York City, the Rev. Dr. Elmore McNeill McKee. This addition to and enlargement of the work of St. George's is in memory of Mr. Pierce, a long time member and vestryman of the parish. Mrs. Mary Simkhovitch, head of Greenwich House, and Mr. C. C. Burlingham, Senior Warden of St. George's Church, gave brief addresses.

LIFE INSURANCE AND WAR BONDS may be purchased in such a way that both can be done at the same time and still keep within a normal insurance premium budget. In a brief leaflet, the Church Life Insurance Corporation, 20 Exchange Place, New York City, points out that Term Insurance, which normally is considered only as temporary protection, costs much less than the usual type of policies, but if the difference is put into War Savings Bonds and Stamps the individual will accomplish approximately the same result as if he had taken out a more permanent form of insurance and can later, without further medical examination, resume a normal insurance program after the need for the purchase of War Bonds is over.

THE CHURCH MISSION OF HELP makes use equally of the skilled techniques of modern social work and the ancient and unchanging resources of religion. The importance of its work is magnified as one of the agencies contributing to the war effort by doing its job faithfully, and it is standing for that faith which in wartime and after will mean more to the world than even victory.

—Rev. Dr. Don Frank Fenn

I BELIEVE IN AMERICA—an America fashioned from the fibre of many races and people, where none shall know discrimination and all shall have respect; an America where the decencies of brotherhood can be practiced under a common Fatherhood; where the sacredness of the individual is not lost under the domination of the state, and where the Church of God speaks not with the voice of a dictator but with the voice of God. I believe in America—an America which shall be the consummation of all the Utopian dreams of all the dreamers of the world—a Commonwealth of Goodwill.

A PARISH HOUSE has been purchased for St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains. The Parish Advisory Committee reported to the Vestry the need of more room in which to conduct the Sunday School and other parish activities. It was decided to purchase a house across from the Church, provided money could be raised to pay cash. In ten days the parish, because it was united under its new Rector, the Rev. William C. Baxter, bought and paid for a house which will cure 90% of its troubles. Occupancy of the new property, with necessary repairs, is expected November fifteenth.

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL is operating under a new form of organization. Instead of seven or eight departments, the entire activities are included in but four:—

Overseas Activities
The Rev. Dr. James Thayer Addison
Home Activities
The Rev. Dr. George A. Wieland
Finance
Dr. Lewis B. Franklin
Promotion
Mr. Joseph E. Boyle

ONE OF THE CHARACTERISTICS of Episcopalians as a whole is their casual attitude toward Church attendance. It is felt that weekly worship in Church is a matter of convenience depending upon the weather, visiting friends and disposition of health. This is the exact reverse of the official teachings of the Church. As it is so well stated in the second Office of Instruction on page 291 in the Book of Common Prayer, "My bounden duty is to follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in His Church, and to work and pray and give for the spread of His Kingdom."—St. Paul's News, Bronx

FARMERS AROUND MARLBOROUGH, NEW YORK have been assisted in harvesting their crops by fourteen boys from New York City working out an experiment instituted by the Rev. A. Van de Beek Vos, Rector of Christ Church, Marlborough. The Church is thus helping the community, and both Mr. Vos and the farmers consider the experiment successful.

QUOTAS DO NOT INDICATE the maximum for giving. Only the ability, plus personal sacrifice for God and His Church, can place a limit on "rendering unto God the things that are God's".

A SERIES OF BREAKFAST TALKS is being conducted on Sunday mornings by the Rev. Gerald V. Barry, Rector of Christ Church, Riverdale, for the older boys and girls of the Parish. Topics include: "The Book of Common Prayer, and its use in Private Devotion"; "Niemoller, German Sub Commander, Christian Pastor, Nazi martyr".

OUR TASK IN THIS WORLD is to form a character, to develop a soul, to grow in likeness to God whose children we are. We can't do this ourselves. But Christ can do it for us and in us. That divine-human One Who looks at us from the pages of the Gospel and Who speaks to us now from God's right hand can change each one of us into an unselfish, pure-minded, true-hearted courageous man or woman.—Bishop Manning in his sermon at the Cathedral on All Saints' Day.

MANY VACANT CHAIRS will be about our Thanksgiving and Christmas tables this year, as thousands of our men folk are away from home fighting their fight and our fight for freedom. We at home will have them in our minds and prayers, especially at the time of our festivities. May we not also remember the hundreds of the men of our gallant Merchant Marine who have been carrying the food, the munitions, and other supplies to our Armed Forces overseas? Many of these seafarers will be on shore in New York Harbor on these holidays, after running the gauntlet of all sorts of war dangers. Special entertainment and dinners will be provided for them at our Seamen's Church Institute of New York at 25 South Street. You can help by sending a gift to these men through the Institute which, for over one hundred years, has been "a home away from home" for these heroic seamen.

NOW IS THE TIME to clear your book-cases and tables of all books, magazines and periodicals that you do not need and send them to the various organizations who will distribute them wisely to our sailors, soldiers, hospitals etc. Adventure and detective stories are especially desired. Any and all good reading matter is welcome. Remember that our Church Periodical Club is a clearing house for reading matter. Christmas and other picture cards are desired at this time in preparation for the Christmas call from hospitals and other institutions. Thousands are distributed each year by our diocesan office of the Church Periodical Club, Cathedral Close. Mail them and your books, or otherwise deliver them to the Old Synod House.

A COMMISSIONING SERVICE was a highlight of the Fall Meeting of clergy and laymen, held at St. John's Church, Yonkers, on Sunday afternoon, October fourth. One hundred were present. Those taking part in the service besides Bishop Gilbert, who commissioned twenty-three laymen for the Fall Canvass, were the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. George F. Bratt, and the Rector of St. John's Church, the Rev. Dr. Oliver Shaw Newell. This service of Comissioning of Laymen for special work for The Program of the Church in their respective parishes is a dignified, impressive acceptance of service in and for the Church. The form of Commission is to be somewhat revised and will be available for similar services in the Diocese.

SIX ILLUSTRATED LECTURES on the Apostolic Church are to be given by the Rector and his Assistants at St. John's Church, Yonkers, beginning Wednesday, November eleventh.

A DICTIONARY OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, together with pictures and an historical sketch of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, is to be distributed by parish visitors to all in the parish. Efforts will be made to enlist all the parishioners in regular Church attendance, in active service, and to secure generous support.

TO VICTORY THROUGH LOVE is the subject of a nation-wide greeting and summons by the Presiding Bishop over The Episcopal Church of the Air, Columbia Broadcasting System, on Sunday morning, November fifteenth, from ten to ten-thirty o'clock.

THE BISHOP CALLS FOR OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Bishop Manning has sent the following letter to all the Clergy of the Diocese calling for Observance of Armistice Day, November eleventh, as a Day of Prayer and Supplication for a Victory which will open the way for Peace with Justice and Righteousness for the Sake of All Mankind:—

To the Clergy of the Diocese

At this time of worldwide calamity, suffering and tragedy—in the midst of the most frightful war in history—I call upon the Clergy and People of our Diocese to observe Armistice Day, November 11th, as a Day of Prayer and Supplication that Victory may speedily be given to the Forces of Freedom and that Peace with Justice and Righteousness may be established for the sake of all mankind.

On this Armistice Day I ask that in every one of our Churches the day shall begin with a Celebration of the Holy Communion to be followed throughout the day by frequent offering of special prayers at stated hours, and that the Church be open all through the day and evening so that continuous unceasing prayer may be offered by specially appointed groups or individuals, both men and women, and that all who wish to do so may come at any hour, and as often as possible, during the day to kneel in God's House and offer up their own personal petitions.

At our Cathedral continual and unceasing prayer will be offered from the first Celebration of the Holy Communion at 7 o'clock in the morning until the closing Service of Prayer at 8:30 o'clock at night. It will be a strength to all of us to feel that on this day our united prayers are going up to Almighty God and that we are praying together for our sons and brothers in the Armed Forces, for all those who are giving themselves in this great struggle for Right and Freedom, for all who are suffering through this war, especially those in the enslaved Countries, and for ourselves that with God's help we may do and bear faithfully and courageously whatever may be required of us.

We shall join our prayers on Armistice Day with those offered all over our land and in all Churches both Catholic and Protestant. In our own Diocese it will be a great strength to us to realize that in all our Churches unceasing prayer is going up to Almighty God and that at every Altar the Holy Eucharist is offered with that great prayer of the Whole Church throughout all the ages—"Thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer . . . Thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father".

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

William T. Manning

Your Budget and Your Soul

This is the title of a four page leaflet for general distribution throughout the Diocese. The opening sentences are:

"O for the happy church that does not have to beg for money! In it the minister could be free to deal with spiritual things, and the congregation could worship God undisturbed by the clink of coins. Could they! On the contrary, they would be in danger of losing their souls."

Ask your Rector for a copy or write to The Diocesan Bulletin. It's worth reading and it is free.

TEN DIOCESAN MISSIONS VOLUNTARILY INCREASE PAYMENTS TOWARDS CLERGY SALARIES

A number of our Mission Congregations this Fall have voluntarily increased their contributions towards the stipends of their Missionaries, thus helping our Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society to meet its obligations and to further extend its work. Already ten Missions, listed below, have taken this voluntary action.

St. Luke's, Williamsbridge
St. Martha's, Bronx
St. Barnabas, Ardsley
St. Mark's, North Yonkers
St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua
St. Mark's, Fort Montgomery
St. John the Divine, Tomkins Cove
St. Paul's, Spring Valley
St. Peter's, Stone Ridge
St. James, Callicoon

This action offers an admirable and inspiring example and it is confidently hoped that other Missions will be able to take similar action.

PICTURE STORIES FROM THE BIBLE ON SALE AT NEWS STANDS

A revolutionary departure in picture books for children has recently been made by the publication of "Picture Stories from the Bible".

Capitalizing upon the popular craze for the dozens of comic magazines for children (some good, others pointless and silly), this new publication presents the Old Testament Stories in popular colored, continuity form.

Designated for all children, irrespective of religious affiliation, the stories are reviewed and determined upon by an advisory board of leaders of Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews.

"Forth" magazine recently published a full page concerning this new venture; Morehouse-Gorham Company has a display in its windows, and an article will soon appear in "The Living Church". A number of Clergy of our Diocese have seen the first issue, some have purchased copies for distribution to the children.

These booklets sell on the news stands for Ten Cents per copy. They may be purchased for free distribution or for resale at Five Cents per copy, e.g.—children of the Sunday School could sell copies and retain the extra Five Cents for their Advent Offering.

Illustrations of man's activities were made in pictures on cave walls long before the dawn of history and comic strips are to be found on many ancient walls, together with hieroglyphics.

Children by the thousands now read the comics. It is hoped and expected that the spread of this new venture, "Picture Stories from the Bible", will familiarize our youth with Bible facts and create a desire to read the Bible itself. Persons interested should write to M. C. Gaines, 225 Lafayette Street, New York City.

A PEOPLE WILL EITHER BE RULED BY GOD OR GOVERNED BY TYRANTS—William Penn WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT IT?

We continue to spend literally handsful of money for all sorts of non-essentials

In spite of all our spending—Income Taxes, U. S. O., Relief Agencies, War Bonds, all necessary—WE STILL HAVE MONEY.

How about your obligation as a Christian to support the Church? Are you doing your full share to put your Church in the forefront of leadership; to establish peace with justice after we win this war?

This is the reverse side of a Diocesan Budget Dollar envelope enclosure. It can be furnished to parishes in the Diocese with only this side printed. Free in any quantity.

WHAT IS AN EVERY MEMBER VISITATION?

"Why should my fellow-parishioner be obliged to call on ME to ask for MY pledge for the support of MY parish?"—Quoted from a recent parish paper

It is a friendly visit within the Parish Family.

It is an exchange of information concerning the affairs of the Church.

It is a consultation on how to meet the problems and needs of the Parish and General Church.

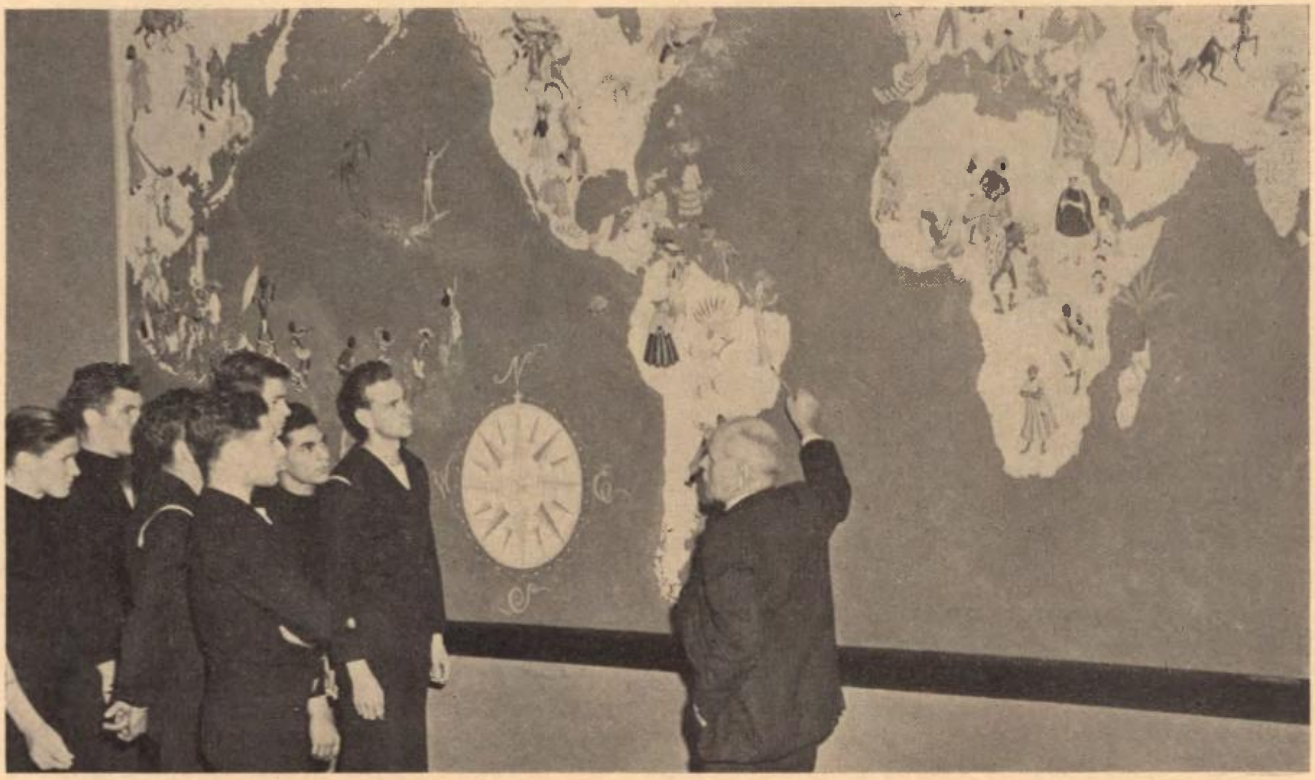
It helps to fix personal responsibility for the welfare of the Church.

It offers opportunity for each person to enlist in the service of the Church.

It presents the Budget of the Church and asks each fellow communicant to join others in making a financial contribution for the current expenses of the Parish and for the work in the Diocese and throughout the whole Church.

An Every Member Visitation in which a fellow-parishioner BEGS for a financial pledge misses the mark and fails to secure much of supreme importance, even if sufficient pledges are secured.

MURAL MAP PRESENTED TO THE SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE OF NEW YORK



A sixteen by nine foot mural map of the world was presented to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York on Monday, October twenty-sixth, by George and Mary Stonehill, the artists, as an adornment for one of the walls of the Apprentices' Room of the Institute.

The map portrays the peoples of the world in their native costumes, with present day interest naturally centered in the types found in the different islands of the Southern Pacific.

WILTWYCK SCHOOL CONTINUES UNDER NEW AUSPICES

Wiltwyck School for Boys was founded in 1937 by our City Mission Society to care for Protestant Negro Delinquent boys. The record of the School was outstanding as it outranked any institution in the State in the redemption of child life.

This was distinctly a Community Work and because of depleted income, the Society became financially unable to carry it on and felt obliged to close the School if no responsible agency was found to continue the work.

Wiltwyck School for Boys has been incorporated and money has been raised for its maintenance. The splendid work done by our City Mission Society is recognized by all, and this most important and constructive enterprise is to continue under a General Board of which the Rev. Dr. Eugene C. Carder is President. The Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, Rector of St. Martin's Church, and the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, Rector of St. Philip's Church, Harlem, are members of the Board.

HISTORIC ARTICLES CONTRIBUTED TO THE SALVAGE DRIVE IN NEW YORK CITY

Three large pot-bellied stoves, which have stood for generations in the corners of St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York City, have been dismantled and contributed to the City's scrap metal collection. Long before the installation of modern furnaces, these big stoves, burning coal or wood, furnished the only heat in the old edifice where George Washington and his staff came for divine worship following his first inauguration as President of the United States, and where he continued to worship in his own pew for two years thereafter.

In the attics of the 176 year old edifice additional metal pieces were discovered for the drive, including big metal chandeliers which once hung in the Church in gas light days, an old fashioned heavy clock weight from a clock which once stood in the vestibule, and a ponderous iron flag standard used at one time to support the staff of an American Flag in the front porch of the Church.

MEMORIAL GARDEN CHAPEL DEDICATED AT THE CHURCH OF ST. JAMES THE LESS, SCARSDALE

A service of dedication for a new Memorial Garden Chapel at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, was held in the churchyard on Tuesday, November tenth. Prayers of dedication and blessing were offered by the Rector, the Rev. James Harry Price.

The ground for the new Chapel was broken by Mrs. George D. Harris, Chairman of the Garden Club of the Church.

In his remarks to the Garden Club at the dedication Mr. Price said, "Your plan for a Garden Chapel is not common in the American Church and I am sure your example will be followed by other parishes. It is a great satisfaction to see this splendid beginning. This Chapel will become a true sanctuary and place of devotion for all members of our parish. Many people will certainly be interested in your plan to accept suitable shrubs and evergreens as memorial gifts to be planted in this garden. It will be for all of us a shrine in which we will ever remember those faithful ones to whom memorials have been made here."

The new Garden Chapel, which the Garden Club plans to develop gradually and as memorial gifts are made for it, is located on the south side of the Nave of the Church in a secluded, sheltered and particularly beautiful part of the churchyard of St. James the Less.

FIELDS OF SERVICE CONDUCTED BY OUR CITY MISSION SOCIETY

A simple statement of the various services rendered by our City Mission Society brings to the minds of all Church people in the Diocese the ministrations of this one hundred and eleven year old organization to this Diocese, and especially to the City of New York. We should all uphold the hands of our representative, the Rev. William E. Sprenger, who is the Director of the Society, and make such generous contributions as possible to assist in this great work.

DURING THE FIRST NINE MONTHS of 1942 our City Mission Society Chaplains made more than 70,000 visits to 26,000 patients and inmates in these city, county and state institutions. In addition 3,646 private communions were administered. The rite of Baptism was received by 311 children and adults, and 149 young men and women were confirmed.

A VICTORY SHRINE was dedicated at noon on Armistice Day at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray. "The Shrine", said Dr. Ray, "is in response to the many letters received from members of 'The Family of the Little Church Around the Corner', asking for prayers for their loved ones in the Armed Services." The reredos is a rich cloth of red, white and blue. Before the Altar stands a statue of Christus Consolator, and an inscription reads: "Pray for all those in the service of our Country and our Allies and for Victory and a righteous Peace". On either side of the Altar are grouped the Flags of the twenty-nine Allied Nations. "The Family of the Little Church Around the Corner" was formed in 1930 by Dr. Ray and numbers more than 25,000 members, including those who have been baptized or married at the Church or feel a special affection for the Little Church because of peace and comfort found there in times of trouble.

A NEW ORGAN was dedicated at St. Margaret's Church in the Bronx on Sunday morning, November fifteenth, by the Bishop of the Diocese, who also preached. The Rev. Claude F. Stent is the Rector of St. Margaret's.

NEW EDITION OF THE CATHEDRAL GUIDE BOOK PUBLISHED BY THE LAYMEN'S CLUB

The Twelfth Edition of the Guide Book to the Cathedral has just been published. It contains two hundred pages with fifty illustrations. ## The Bishop's Christmas Message to the Diocese

There is no other time in all the year like Christmas.

At this Holy Season the Door of Heaven stands wide open to us and we know that God is near.

We do not close our eyes to what is now happening in this world, nor forget the suffering and agony which the War is bringing upon men. But at Christmas the Heavenly Realities, the Power and Love and Goodness of God, are brought directly to us and we stand face to face with the things Eternal.

Christmas tells us, and tells all the world, of a Divine Power which no evil of men can overcome, of a Divine Purpose which no wickedness and wrong-doing can defeat, of a Light from God which no powers of evil can extinguish.

May this Christmas bring to men of good-will all over this world new strength and courage, and new certainty of Victory for Right and Freedom for the sake of all mankind.

May this Christmas bring to the men of our Armed Forces the Assurance that God is with them as they give their lives for others, and for the very principles of Righteousness, Humanity, and Religion.

To the Homes and Families where sorrow and loss have come may Christmas brings its blessed comfort telling them of the help that is from above, and of the life prepared for us in the Eternal Home in Heaven.

And may we have in our thoughts and prayers those in other lands who are suffering so unutterably, and do whatever may be in our power to aid them.

To everyone in our whole Diocesan Family, Clergy and Laity, I send my Christmas Greetings. Let every communicant in our Diocese kneel in his place at the Altar on Christmas Morning for it is there, at the Altar, that we find the Heavenly Help that Christmas brings, the Help revealed, assured, made available, to each one of us through the coming to this earth of God Himself in the Person of Christ our Lord.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

CHRISTMAS AT OUR CATHEDRAL

Christmas Eve begins at the Cathedral with Evening Prayer at five o'clock, followed by a procession of the Bishop, clergy, torch bearers, crucifers, banners, acolytes, and the boys of the Choir to the Manger erected in one of the bays of the Nave. "The Snow Lay on the Ground" will be sung, as it is each year, and prayers will be said at the Manger.

At eleven-thirty P.M. familiar carols will be sung, followed by the procession and a Midnight Celebration of the Holy Communion, at which the Bishop will officiate and will extend to the congregation a brief pastoral welcome. The full Cathedral Choir of sixty-five men and boys will sing the service.

On Christmas Day at eleven A.M. the Bishop will be the preacher at the service of the Holy Communion, with the full Choir present. Other services on Christmas Day will be Celebrations of the Holy Communion at 7, 8, 9 and 10 A.M., Morning Prayer will be said at 10 A.M., and Evening Prayer at 5 P.M.

The Christmas Carol Service, perhaps the greatest service of its kind in our whole land, will be held on the Sunday after Christmas, St. John's Day, at 4 P.M.

BISHOP MANNING SUPPORTS MAYOR LA GUARDIA'S ACTION IN CONDEMNING BINGO PLAYING

Mayor La Guardia has placed bingo under the ban. In his broadcast on Sunday, November twenty-ninth, the Mayor said: "I received some inquiries concerning bingo. Well, I guess I'll have to answer them, and I think most of the inquiries could be answered by this statement: If a game is unlawful, the ultimate disposition of the funds, or the auspices under which the game is operated, or the place that the game is operated does not make an unlawful game lawful. Do I make myself clear? If bingo is unlawful in one place, the same game cannot be lawful in another place."

Bishop Manning has given his full support to the Mayor's action in this matter and has stated publicly that if there is any parish or mission in this Diocese which has permitted the use of bingo, or any other gambling device, to raise money for the support of the Church, this has been done without the Bishop's knowledge and must cease immediately.

The Bishop asks us to reprint here the following statement which he made at the meeting of our Diocesan Convention in 1938:—

There is one matter of public and general concern upon which I feel it right to express my convictions here, and that is the proposal now being pressed to legalize gambling and lotteries in this state. Our State Constitutional Convention has appointed a hearing on this matter to be held today, May 10th, at Albany. In my judgment any action legalizing gambling or lotteries would be morally wrong and most harmful in its practical effects. It is not easy to draw the line between what is legitimate in the taking of chances and what is not legitimate, but the gambling instinct is a dangerous one and all experience shows that its encouragement is morally unsound and injurious. The gambling spirit is out of accord with Christian principles and teachings. This spirit is like a habit-forming drug, enervating to moral character and weakening to those virtues upon which personal integrity and robust character depend. The legalizing of gambling and lotteries would be a reactionary and anti-social measure and would be a harmful influence in the life of our people. The fact that the money raised by gambling would be used for Relief Funds would not excuse this action. Any action giving official encouragement to the gambling spirit would be gravely wrong, and is the more to be condemned because it is our poorer and more needy people who would suffer most from its evil effects. It is scarcely necessary for me to add that I am wholly opposed to the raising of funds for the Church or its work by means of gambling games, or gambling devices, and I trust that no Parish or Mission in this Diocese will permit or countenance such action.

BISHOP MANNING HOST TO MANHATTAN CLERGY

Forty-nine of the sixty-three Clergy of Manhattan who are in charge of congregations attended a Luncheon Conference, at the invitation of the Bishop of the Diocese, in the Crypt of the Cathedral on Tuesday, December eighth.

The Conference was arranged to present and discuss the conditions facing the Church at this time, the Forward Movement in the Church, and the responsibility of the Church in Manhattan for Missions and Church Extension. The meeting was a very encouraging one and many helpful suggestions were made by the Clergy who were present.

Bishop Manning and Bishop Gilbert spoke of the work of the Church as it is localized in Manhattan and urged those present to concentrate their efforts on spiritual growth in their parishes as the real basis of generous giving to the Church and as the only foundation for the work of the Church.

Mr. Theodor Oxholm, Assistant Treasurer of the Diocese, spoke of plans to promote The Program of the Church under the new arrangements which are to go into effect on January first.

Mr. Frank H. Merrill, Secretary of The Program of the Church, gave a brief digest of the last report of payments on the Quota, and stated that the Diocese was approximately $85,000 short of the total payment for 1941, of which $50,000 is chargeable to Manhattan. To secure this amount before the books close is not impossible, but it is a challenge to the faith and loyalty of the Church.

GRACE CHURCH MAKES SIGNIFICANT SOCIAL SERVICE CONTRIBUTION

On January 1st, 1943, Grace Church, New York City, will enter upon a new phase of its social service contribution to the life of the community. On that day it will make available to the Bureau for Men and Boys of the Community Service Society the section of Church property located at 86 and 88 Fourth Avenue, known as the Young Men's House, for use as a study center for boys and young men.

Grace Church considers itself fortunate to have been able to make arrangements with the Bureau for Men and Boys of the Community Service Society, whereby the latter organization will take over the Young Men's House to institute its own program under the direction of its own professional social service workers. The Church is grateful for the opportunity to contribute in this definite way to the life of the community by making these facilities available to one of the most responsible and outstanding social service organizations in the country. We feel that this new enterprise marks a significant step ahead in the relationship of Grace Church to the Community, and that by it we are continuing and extending the tradition created by those of social vision who have preceded us.

—Bulletin of Grace Church, New York City

THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH TO CHANGE MANAGEMENT

Since the appointment of the original committee by Bishop Greer in 1918, the Diocesan Committee on The Program of the Church has been appointed yearly by the Bishop of the Diocese. Beginning January 1st, 1943, this work will be conducted by a committee, of which Bishop Gilbert will be the Chairman and Mr. Theodor Oxholm, Assistant Treasurer of the Diocese, will be the Executive Secretary.

The office of the Treasurer of the Diocese will be moved as of January first, to the second floor of the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close, from which the work of the Committee on The Program of the Church will be conducted.

Miss Anne Weber, who has been the Office Secretary of The Program of the Church for over twenty-four years, will be associated with Mr. Oxholm in this work after January first.

SOCIAL SERVICE COMMISSION ANNOUNCES ITS WINTER PLANS

The Diocesan Social Service Commission, of which the Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren is the Executive Secretary, will in the near future resume the issuing of its regular Bulletins to the Clergy. An early number will be devoted to more adequate pre-marital counselling, especially dealing with war situations and problems, emphasizing particularly that the Church's attitude is to insure Christian marriage, and pointing out the dangers of too great latitude because of war conditions. Another early Bulletin will include a summary of the study which the Commission has been making on the care of the aged within the Diocese, including recommendations on special pastoral care for elderly people in our parishes.

Five years ago the Commission published a small book on Marriage Statues of New York State, together with an analysis of the Church's Canon on Marriage. Three thousand copies of this book were published because of the great demand for it among our Clergy in all the dioceses of this State. Other Churches and many social agencies also asked for copies. The New York Welfare Council had a special broadcast on the subject with quotations from the book. The Commission has now revised this book as a result of many inquiries and is ready to publish it, together with a brief practical bibliography, as soon as the necessary Five Hundred Dollars can be secured.

The Commission has conscientiously been carrying on the enrollment of Episcopalians in this Diocese in the Armed Forces, and has been sending special cards of commendation to their Chaplains and to Rectors nearest their camps.

ADVENT MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL DECEMBER FIRST

The Annual Advent Meeting of the Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council was held at the Cathedral on Tuesday, December first, opening with a Corporate Communion Service with special remembrance of Mrs. Charles Gilmore Kerley, President of the Auxiliary.

Despite the gasoline rationing, about eight hundred members of the Woman's Auxiliary were present at the Service in the Cathedral and at the afternoon meeting.

The Bishop of the Diocese conducted the service and preached, using the text, "Go ye into all the world and make disciples of all the nations". After announcing his text, the Bishop continued: "And if that command of Christ's had been more faithfully and fully carried out what a different situation we should see in this world today. At this tremendous moment of human history, in view of all that is now taking place in the world, this missionary service which we are holding has significance beyond all estimate.

"There was never a time when the need of the missionary work of the Church, the true missionary work, the evangelistic work of the Church, was so tragically evident as it is now."

At the opening of his sermon, the Bishop paid warm tribute to the life and work of Mrs. Kerley, President of the Woman's Auxiliary of this Diocese for four years, and for twenty-five years actively identified with its work.

The United Thank Offering, amounting at this time to $12,000, was presented.

Box lunches were served in the Undercroft of the Synod House.

The Advent Missionary Meeting was held in Synod Hall. Bishop Manning presided and welcomed the delegates. Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby gave greetings as President of the Woman's Auxiliary. Mrs. William Walker Orr, Treasurer, told of pledges and payments and the need of prompt remittances to meet this year's obligations. Miss Elizabeth F. Turk gave a report on the Supply Work.

The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Wood gave an intensely interesting and informative talk on China, where he served for many years as a Missionary. In spite of many recent difficult and harrowing experiences, Dr. Wood has retained his fine sense of humor.

Mrs. John E. Hill, National Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary, spoke on "Forward in Service" in which effort the entire Church is united.

The Bishop Coadjutor of Pennsylvania, the Right Rev. Oliver J. Hart, gave an address on "Our Church in Time of War". Bishop Hart affirmed that the men and women of our Armed Forces "constitute our greatest missionary field now". "The Church in War Time", said Bishop Hart, "must do everything in its power to keep in touch with the men in the service."

Memorial Resolution Adopted at the Diocesan Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary on October 27th

"Whereas as it has pleased Almighty God to call to her great reward Beth McClannin Kerley, we, the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of New York, wish to express our sense of keen loss, not only to us, but to the mission of the whole Church.

"In her twenty-five years of leadership in the Woman's Auxiliary, about twenty years were spent in faithful service on the Diocesan Executive Board, in charge of foreign Work, Evening Branches, Christian Social Service, the District of Dutchess, and for the past four years as President.

"Her friendly interest, her enthusiasm, her rare executive ability, her broad vision, but above all, her faith in God and love for His children, have been our constant inspiration."

NEW SET OF CATHEDRAL STEREOPTICON SLIDES READY FOR USE

The Laymen's Club of the Cathedral has just completed a new stereopticon lecture or pictorial pilgrimage of the Cathedral, replacing one which has been in use for many years.

The new slides are made by color photography and show in their natural colors all the details of the items pictured; many are especially beautiful. Included in this new set of slides are views outside of the Cathedral, as well as a large number of inside views, including the magnificent stained glass windows, close-ups of the Altar, sculptures, hand-carved wood, etc. There are fifty-four slides in faithful natural color and eighteen others in black and white.

The Bishop of the Diocese has had a preview of this new Pictorial Pilgrimage and has given his warm approval for its use throughout the Diocese.

The Laymen's Club has but one set of these new colored slides, which cannot be mailed, but is prepared to make them available as widely as possible to the Diocese. Members of the Club will accept engagements to give the lecture and show the slides, as their time will permit.

The regular set of black and white slides, brought up to date, is still available for use and can be sent by mail or express. No direct charge is made for the use of this lecture with slides of the Cathedral, but the Laymen's Club asks for a Two Dollar fee for its Slide Replacement Fund, plus carriage charges. When a member of the Club gives the lecture, transportation charges are expected and entertainment if the date necessitates an over night stay.

Parish organizations and groups are invited to make use of this opportunity to show pictures of our great Cathedral to their members and give them first hand knowledge of this magnificent structure built for the worship of God and as a House of Prayer for all People.

You are asked to select dates as far in advance as possible to allow for adjustments and to write to The Laymen's Club, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Cathedral Heights, New York City, for all details.

BRONX PARISH HAS SPECIAL CHRISTMAS CARD FOR MEN IN SERVICE

A special Christmas card is being sent to all men of the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx who are in the Armed Forces. The card, designed by a man of the parish, is a 4½ x 6 in. folder. The left inside page reads:

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO OUR BOYS

At this season of the year, your friends at Holy Nativity want you to know, wherever you may be, that you are always in our hearts and minds. Our prayers follow you. May God bless and keep you.

This message is personally signed by hand, "Lawrence B. Larsen, Rector".

To the other inside page of the folder is attached a photographic copy of the 18½ x 23½ in. Honor Roll which hangs in the Church. Over the top of the Roll is an American eagle with American and Church flags displayed on either side. The heading is:

HONOR ROLL
The Church of the Holy Nativity
The following persons from this Church are now serving in the Armed Forces of their Country

Attached to the face of the Roll are separate cards bearing the names of the individuals in service. Stars are affixed at each end of the cards. Over fifty-nine are now in service and they, with any others to be later inducted into service, will receive these cards.

An inscribed list of all men from the parish in service is on the main Altar and also on the Chapel Altar. Many of the mothers of service men meet with the Rector on Thursday mornings to pray for their sons by name.

In this Parish each man, before leaving, is presented with a Prayer Book, and when possible makes his Communion and is blessed by the Rector. A plan has been perfected whereby each man, regardless of where he may be stationed, receives some mail from the Parish each week. The Rector writes to each man twice a month, whether or not he receives a letter from him.

While this plan at the Church of the Holy Nativity has some unique features and is carrying the Church to its men everywhere, it may be remembered and give us satisfaction to know that many other parishes are keeping in personal touch with their men in our Armed Forces.

Shall we not as individuals keep these men, who are fighting our fight, more often in our minds and do all we can to help them? Groups of parishioners, young people's societies, men's clubs, etc. would bring great joy to their friends in the service by writing a round-robin or single letters every once in a while.

BEFORE SIGNING A CHURCH PLEDGE WHAT?

The visitors in the Every Member Canvass are in the living room of their fellow communicants. The needs of the parish, the opportunities of the Church have been presented and explained; the time has come to sign up. As Bishop Spencer of West Missouri writes in his Diocesan Bulletin —

"The subscriber may crowd into that brief moment all the blessings the Church has given him. His baptism, his confirmation, his first communion, and his many communions; the piety of his parents who loved the Church, lived in it, were gathered up into the Arms of God from its arms: the sacraments that have nourished all life's way; the feel of the difference when one has come into the Church hour, when one's lips have tasted the dust of a week-a-day world, and a chalice of Divine Love has cleansed them; the Church where One has brought to all our sins and temptations and struggles the pitiful heart of God—How much do I owe to my Church? All that, we must bring into that brief moment when our living fingers are making figures on a pledge card."

If we each shall give such prayerful consideration before affixing our signatures to the annual pledge card, our gifts will be both generous and joyful.

THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE INSTITUTES THREE RECTORS

The following Rectors of Parishes have recently been Instituted by the Bishop of the Diocese:

All Saints' Day, Sunday, November first, the Rev. John A. Bell as Rector of the Church of the Incarnation, New York City.

Sunday, November fifteenth, the Rev. Charles H. Graf as Rector of St. John's Church, Waverly Place, New York City.

Sunday, November twenty-second, the Rev. William C. Baxter as Rector of St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY PLANS NEIGHBORHOOD MEETINGS

The Girls' Friendly Society of the Diocese will hold neighborhood meetings in Staten Island, Yonkers, Upper Manhattan and Lower Manhattan on Saturday afternoon, February thirteenth, at two o'clock. These meetings will be under the direction of Mrs. Willis Kershner, 2nd Vice-President, and take the place of the usual February Leadership Training Council. The theme for the day will be "Attitudes through Activities". Ample opportunity will be given for leadership help, as well as time for discussion of group problems covering all ages. "Simpatico" will be the watchword and the center of interest in our Latin American neighbors.

The Society is cooperating with the Woman's Auxiliary in their Christmas project for the Japanese American children at the Minidoka Relocation Center at Eden, Idaho. There are approximately forty thousand children in relocation centers in the West who are fifteen years of age and under and who are in dire need of our prayers, help and support.

Filling Christmas stockings for our City Mission Society is another way of bearing one another's burdens, and all branches are urged to wholly cooperate in these two projects that Christmas may be brighter because we have given of ourselves.

POSSESSION DOES NOT MEAN OWNERSHIP

No man has a right to do as he pleases with his money. It is a common fallacy for man to assume that the money he has earned is his to use as he pleases. Most men act on that assumption, and, instead of honoring God with their income, they do dishonor to themselves and to God, and so often cause harm and misery by the selfish misuse of that which God has given them. Millions think only of spending their money for self-gratification.

To possess is not to own, but to owe. Possession of a thing does not mean ownership. You may own what you do not possess, and possess what you do not own. I may own an automobile, but leave it with a friend to use. I still own it, but he possesses it. So we are in possession of the gifts of God. He owns them, but He gives them into our possession for a time. So we do not own them, but owe them. And we owe it to Him to use them aright.

A Christian must definitely recognize that he is God's steward, which means that not only a small portion of his income is to be given to the Lord, but that all of his income is a gift to be used rightly. All that we have we receive from God. To feel that when we give a small portion of our income to God through His Church we are fulfilling our obligation is to fail to realize the full responsibility of Christian stewardship.

For stewardship does not involve money alone. True stewardship begins when we give ourselves to the Lord and when we consecrate ourselves to His service. Then follows the proper stewardship of time and talents, of business and occupation, of prayer and personality, yes, of life itself.

—From The Christian Courier, The Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant, Rector of St. Ambrose Church, Harlem, Editor

COAST GUARD QUARTERED AT ST. PETER'S, CHELSEA

The rededication and consequent full use of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, New York City, has released the parish hall for needed war time service.

A detachment of the Coast Guard has moved in and is in control and use of the hall twenty-four hours a day. A dormitory for eighteen men has been installed, reading tables set up, and a canteen for late night snacks is in operation.

The Rector, the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, states that the Vestry and the entire Parish are delighted to place the parish hall at the disposal of the Coast Guard and all are cooperating in every effort to be of help.

The men especially appreciate the opportunity for games and recreation. Mr. Beaty states, "These Coast Guard Boys have played more basketball in the last ten days than was previously played in the parish hall the last ten years."

Thus Church after Church in the Diocese, and all over the Country, is helping to meet the emergencies and giving practical aid to our Armed Forces, and the men fully appreciate this.

NEGRO SPEAKER MAKES PLEA FOR FULL RIGHTS AND OPPORTUNITIES OF CITIZENSHIP

Mr. Clarence L. Roberts of the New York State Employment Service, White Plains, was the speaker at a meeting of the Communicants' Guild of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on Sunday evening, November twenty-second.

Mr. Roberts spoke on the subject, "Your Colored Neighbors". He dealt with the difficulties under which Negroes are forced to live and the things that must be done to remove some of the injustices practiced against them. After telling in some detail of these conditions, which are common to any congested locality occupied by his race, whether in Westchester, Harlem or otherwise, Mr. Roberts concluded:

"We have not only given our lives for America, but we have labored long from dawn until dusk building your cities, levelling your roads, clearing your forests. Now we want the right to go on laboring for America as citizens who can expect that they will have a chance to live as decent human beings, to work at jobs for which we are qualified by skill and character. Only seventy odd years ago we were slaves. Since that time, whenever we have had the chance, we have proved our ability and our loyalty to the United States. White men taught us the Christian religion and we believe in it. We believe that there is only one God of all mankind, that we are His children, and that injustice to any of God's children is a sin."

It is well for us to have clear pictures presented of the facts relating to our Negro brethren. It also gives us joy to realize that the Diocese of New York is first in the Church in its number of Negro communicants, and that it is now, as ever, most vitally interested in their material as well as their spiritual welfare.

HAVE YOU ANY DISCARDED EYEGLASSES?

Seamen come to the Eye Clinic of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, 25 South Street, for a checkup and also to correct their vision by glasses.

If you have any discarded eye glasses, both lenses and frames, please send them to the Institute. The lenses are refracted and measured in a lensometer and then filed in envelopes and numbered accordingly. Thus, if a seaman comes in, is examined and prescribed for by the ophthalmologist, he can be fitted then and there with the correct lenses and frames. Then off goes the seaman to his ship and his job.

Both deck and engine crews are required to have good vision, and if incorrect, to have it corrected by proper glasses. About six hundred seamen receive eye treatment and glasses at the Institute each year, thus restoring their confidence and helping them to get better jobs.

The Eye Clinic observed its eleventh birthday on October thirtieth, having been supervised throughout this entire period by Dr. Conrad Berens.

MR. MERRILL RESIGNS

Mr. Frank H. Merrill, for over twenty-seven years connected with the work of this Diocese, has resigned his position as Secretary of The Program of the Church, effective January first.

Mr. Merrill's first connection with the Diocese was as Secretary of a diocesan committee, under the chairmanship of the Hon. J. Mayhew Wainwright, to secure contributions to the fund to cover accrued liabilities in order to inaugurate the operation of the Church Pension Fund. This was succeeded by a period as Secretary of the old Diocesan Missionary Committee. When Bishop Greer appointed the original Nation Wide Campaign (Program of the Church) Committee in 1918, Mr. Merrill was named as its Secretary and has continued in that capacity up to the present.

At the request of the Bishop, Mr. Merrill will retain his position as Managing Editor of The Diocesan Bulletin, Secretary for the Annual Clergy Conference, and also serve in such other capacities as the Bishop may direct. He will retain his office in the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close.

MAIL ALL CHRISTMAS PACKAGES NOW

Christmas packages should be mailed especially early this year because first class and service mail will be extra heavy and they have priority over cards, etc. Postmaster Goldman of New York City writes:

"The Post Office Department is again conducting a campaign for early mailing of Christmas cards and parcels in order to insure delivery before Christmas Day.

"It is our purpose to excuse from duty on Christmas Day many of the men and women of the postal service, in order that they may be able to attend service in their respective churches and enjoy the day at home with their families."

Any mail may be marked, "Please do not open until Christmas".

BIBLE STORIES IN COLOR BEING WIDELY READ BY YOUNG PEOPLE

"Picture Stories from the Bible", mentioned in the last issue of The Diocesan Bulletin, is receiving hearty commendations from religious leaders and is being read by thousands of our children in all parts of the country. Three hundred and fifty thousand copies of issue No. 2 are now off the press. The stories of David, Sampson and Daniel are told in vivid pictures.

A Correction

In our last issue we stated that copies of "Picture Stories from the Bible" could be purchased from the publisher, M. C. Gaines, 225 Lafayette Street, New York City, at Five Cents per copy. Announcement has been received that orders of not less that 24 copies may be placed at seven and a half cents per copy; remittance with the order. They may be sold through the Sunday School at ten cents per copy and the balance put into the Advent or Lenten Mite Boxes.

PERSONAL NOTES

THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE attended the twelfth Annual Dinner of the Church of St. John the Divine, Mount Vernon, the Rev. Jerome Dunbar, Rector, on Thursday evening, November nineteenth. The Bishop was detained by a blackout as he approached Mount Vernon and stated at the dinner, "I was glad to have a part in your blackout, glad to have part in anything in the war effort. These are times when we are eager to do anything in our power to hasten the victorious ending of the war." Speaking to the one hundred and fifty parishioners present, the Bishop said, among other things: "We must uphold and strengthen the life of the Church, for it is where we stand in our religion and in our faith that will determine the survival of the Church and of America. We will stand forever, because as we have already sung in the National Anthem, 'Our cause is just and in God we trust', and we must be faithful in prayer and in worship, strengthening the community life of the Church." Bishop Manning announced that the Rector has offered himself as a Chaplain in the Armed Forces, and that the application has received his endorsement.

THE VERY REV. HUGHELL E. W. FOSBROKE, Dean of the General Theological Seminary, was the special preacher at the Cathedral on the first three Sunday mornings of Advent.

THE BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE visited Holy Trinity Church, Pawling and Christ Church, Patterson on Friday, December fourth; and on Sunday, December sixth, St. John's Church, Cornwall and Trinity Church, Saugerties. On Friday, December eleventh, the Bishop visited Zion Church, Wappingers Falls, and the Church of the Regeneration, Pine Plains, and Trinity Church, Millerton, and also St. Paul's and Trinity Parish, Tivoli. In each place the Bishop preached and held a service in the Church, assisted by the Priest-in-charge, and afterward met the people of the congregation.

THE REV. CHARLES F. NUGENT of St. Andrew's Church, Marble Dale, Connecticut, has accepted a call to the rectorship of the Church of the Messiah, Rhinebeck, and will enter upon his work there on January fifth.

GENERAL NOTES

THE CHURCH LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION, a subsidiary of the Church Pension Fund, makes its facilities available to lay officers and active lay workers in the Church and to their families, but of course not to the general public. Those eligible are invited to correspond with the Corporation at 20 Exchange Place, New York City.

THE GOOD CANVASSER tones up the life of his parish. He is on the alert to correct misunderstandings, to make people feel happier in their parish life, to tell the people how he enjoys all his parish contacts The organist, the choirmaster, the rector, yes, even the humble sexton, are given warm words of commendation The good canvasser has a kind word for everybody except perhaps the chronic trouble maker. Many of our clergy whom some people in the parish do not altogether understand, many a parish undertaking which had not yet reached its full possibilities are mediated to the people by those joyous happy visitors. Not out to make a show, thankful for a brother canvasser's good fortune, glad if the parish has been toned up a bit by their efforts, happy to have been called upon for help, such are the men and women who are the Church's very heart and soul. Well done, Mr., Mrs. or Miss Canvasser. In the name of the Church we all love, we salute you.

FULL PAYMENT OF THE MISSIONARY QUOTA is seldom possible from the receipts of the red side of the envelopes. Most parishes which pay in full secure supplementary funds or grants from other parish funds. One particular instance of this is the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx. For a number of years now the contributions from the members of the parish have been supplemented by a large part of the receipts from the annual fair. In a recent letter to the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rector, the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen, states: "I am happy to inform you that we have found a way to pay our missionary quota in full again this year . . . The Vestry decided to vote the use of Nine Hundred Dollars for this purpose." This special grant amounts to three-fourths of the $1,200 Quota. How many other vestries are there in the Diocese which show so fine a loyalty to the work of the Church outside their own parishes as to make so proportionately large a grant toward their Quotas?

NO WORK WE CAN DO IN CIVIL LIFE for our Country will be more important than that for Church support this Fall. It is a privilege to be a Christian with convictions, and it is an honor to be a canvasser. If the Church bells stop ringing, through pagan conquest or "Episcopagan" apathy, the Liberty Bell will be no more. A successful canvass will mean "coats off" and hard work, because not all Christian people are thinking clearly about what comes first in importance and what comes second.

OUR DREAMS OF PEACE AND HAPPINESS will never come true unless we wake up! Our standard of living is on the highest level in the world. No country surpasses us in waste and useless expenditures Want and sacrifice are enforced upon most of the other nations of the world. We still think too much of our own comfort and personal security. Recent statistics indicate that we spend eleven times as much for soft drinks as we give for war relief. That is a reflection on a proper balance between unnecessary spending and needed gifts. But when we read that twenty times as much is spent for hard liquor as is contributed for war relief, we certainly should wake up!

ARMISTICE DAY SERVICES at St. Andrew's Church, Clason Point, were conducted by the congregation itself because of the illness of the priest-in-charge, the Rev. Donald Macdonald-Millar. The Litany and Prayers were read, and it was a helpful experience to all who attended.

A NEW ORGAN, fully paid for, was dedicated by Bishop Gilbert at St. Simon's Church, Concord, Staten Island, on Sunday afternoon, November twenty-second. The new Wick's organ was presented for dedication by the Rev. Arthur J. Torrey, Priest-in-charge of St. Simon's. Organ interludes were played by the Rev. Raymond G. Rogers, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton; and Miss Adolphine Bruns, Organist of St. Simon's Church, played for the hymns and the postlude. Many of our clergy on Staten Island were present and a large congregation filled the Church.

RECOMMENDATIONS THAT THE 1943 GENERAL CONVENTION, to be held in Cleveland next October, be limited to eight days and to official sessions because of the war situation were agreed upon at a conference called by the Presiding Bishop. Attending the conference were representatives of the two Houses of the General Convention, the Cleveland Committee on Arrangements, and officers of the National Council. The Convention will be held in the Euclid Avenue Auditorium, Cleveland, Ohio, October 5-13, 1943. There will be no special conferences, mass meetings, institutes or exhibits, except that provision will be made for the Triennial meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary and for a convention of Youth, with attendance limited to official delegations.

MEMORIAL GIFTS of a rose window, twelve stained glass chapel windows and two clerestory windows for the narthex were recently announced at St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. George Paull T. Sargent.

THE THREAT OF FOOD SHORTAGE at Bolahun, Liberia, was averted by the foresight of the Rev. Joseph H. Bessom who instructed all connected with the Holy Cross Liberian Mission to make farms and plant extra rice. "A hungry time" was thus averted. "The Hinterland" reports that prices of all commodities have increased. A new Church is being built under great difficulties. Colored motion pictures of this interesting work, including the erection of the Church and incidents in the life within the mission compound, are available for showing here. Write to the Rev. Francis W. G. Parker, O.H.C., West Park, New York, for information and dates.

HOSPITALITY AND FELLOWSHIP are being cultivated at St. George's Church, New York City, through informal gatherings in the parish house after the eleven o'clock service on Sunday mornings during Advent. The Clergy and other officials of the Church meet with the congregation. A cup of tea or coffee is served. St. George's is using this and other methods which are developing a fine Church family spirit in the parish.

THE CHURCH SUPPER AND FAIR is here. Some have already been successfully conducted. Others are Christmas Fairs. All have a very real value to a parish outside of the considerable financial results. Fairs are not and never should become standardized methods of Church finance. They are of distinct help in creating and enhancing a Church family relationship and can be, and frequently are, sources of spiritual power. The Diocesan Bulletin recommends attendance at all the Church Fairs you can visit.

THE PARISH OF ST. GEORGE'S IS INCREASING because the members of this Church are realizing more and more that the responsibility for its existence rests with them. Seventy-five members last year formed themselves into a committee to call on people throughout the city; they brought the message that Christ through the Church could bring more effectiveness, more power into the lives of men. The Committee for Pastoral Care, composed entirely of lay men and women, is now following up the work of the seventy-five by calling on new people every day. Many parishioners who are not committee members have told their neighbors about the Church and have brought them along to services. This is the Church at work, Christianity dynamically changing the world. Will you help? —Bulletin of St. George's Church, New York City

THE CHURCH MISSION OF HELP of the Diocese conducted an experiment of its work on Staten Island during the past Summer. Transportation difficulties render it difficult for persons on Staten Island to use the services of this most helpful organization at its Manhattan offices. Need was discovered of the specialized service CMH offers and arrangements are being made to open an office on the Island, with a part-time worker.

ALL ANGELS' CHURCH, New York City, has been designated to give the Christmas Service over the Blue Network. It will be broadcast from 11:30 to 12:00 Noon on Christmas morning from the Church and will be carried from coast to coast and short waved to many parts of the world. The service will include music by the Choir and an address by the Rector, the Rev. Ralph S. Meadowcroft.

THE BELL OF ST. MARY'S, Sherwood Park, Yonkers, is rung at noon, following immediately the daily alarm signal, as a call to Prayer in the parish Church. The Church is open for intercessions at this time, but all within sound of the bell are invited to join in prayer, especially for those in the Armed Forces. The Missionary in-charge, the Rev. Van Rensselaer Gibson, invites all in the community to meet him at the Chancel Rail and join these daily intercessions.

NO MAN EVER BROKE A LAW. He went up against a law of God and the law broke him. Freedom and growth are within the law.

AWARD PINS for Sunday School Classes may be purchased at the sales booth of the Laymen's Club of the Cathedral in the Exhibit Hall, Cathedral Close. These pins are gold plated, each with a cross set in colored enamel, in blue, red and white. They sell for Three Dollars ($3.00) per dozen, postpaid.

THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE men are listed by name in a recent number of "The Message" of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, as in the Armed Service.

WAS LIBERTY A DELUSION? Were our fathers duped by a delusion when they suffered and nearly starved in a "wide hollow in a rugged hill beside the curving Schuykill" or was their vision clear? If liberty costs so much, it must mean much to men who are men in reality. If liberty is the light of God in men, they will value it, protect it, guard it with a sleepless vigilance. They will not be suffocated by the poison gas of cynicism, as so many seem to be in our day! If the faith in God and man, which our fathers held, is lost, Christianity goes down and Democracy goes with it.
—The Message, St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City

A BOOK CONTAINING SLIPS OF PAPER, each inscribed with the names and addresses of men and women of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, who are in the service of our Country, has been placed in the vestibule of the Church. Parishioners are requested to take one or two names each from the book and write to such persons, whether known to them or not. This plan has been arranged with the thought of keeping all those in the Service in touch with the parish, and the parish with them.

CHRISTMAS GIFT PACKAGES, containing among other things the newly compiled Prayer Book for Service Men and the War Crosses, have been sent to all men and women of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, serving in the Armed Forces. These gift packages were provided through the courtesy of the Army and Navy Commission of the parish, supplemented by special donations from other members.

SPECIAL ADVENT SERVICES are being conducted on the four consecutive Monday nights during Advent at St. George's Church, New York City, under the direction of Miss Ruth Walmsley of the Church Army and the Rev. Thomas A. Fraser, Jr., Assistant Minister of the Parish. These services include congregational singing, prayers and a short address.

THE EPISCOPAL ACTORS' GUILD held its Annual Memorial Service, for members who have died during the past year, on Sunday afternoon, December sixth, at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City. The national headquarters of the Guild are in the Guild Hall of the Church. Addresses were made by Channing Pollock, Playwright; the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, Warden of the Guild and Rector of the Parish; and Vinton Freedley who succeeded the late Otis Skinner as President of the Guild.

SOMETHING FAR GREATER than an old fashioned notion has kept the Bible alive thousands of years. Its immortality is not due to the magic of printer's ink. "The Word of God" is more than a pious label. If that "Word" had a greater influence upon the thoughts and aspirations of today, we could look forward to tomorrow with greater hope; we would go forward into tomorrow with better equipment for the fulfillment of that hope!

GUIDED TOURS OF GRACE CHURCH, New York City, are being made at the close of the morning and afternoon services each Sunday. The tour takes about twenty minutes and is open to anyone desiring to take this opportunity to see and hear about some of the very beautiful and outstanding features of this Church. The edifice was built in 1846 and is rich in beauty and in symbols which reflect the place of Grace Church in the life of the City from these early days. Those wishing to make the tour are requested to sit in the rear pews of the center aisle at the end of the service. The tour will begin at the end of the Organ Postlude.

THE CHANNEL OF HELP for war relief through the Church is the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. Bishop Tucker states: "The tragedy of war is going to be felt by more millions this winter than ever before, and I wish to call your attention to the opportunity which is ours to play our part in relieving human suffering. While our country is at war and many disruptions in our normal life have resulted, we still know little of the tragedy, the hunger, the destruction, the agony which have been forced upon others." Contributions to this Fund may be sent through your Church or sent direct to 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. Checks may be drawn to the order of Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer.

CHRISTMAS BELLS RING OUT

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this.

ENGLISH ARCHBISHOPS RULE THAT WOMEN MAY ATTEND CHURCH HATLESS

The popular press has hailed the Archbishop's statement permitting women and girls to appear hatless in church as one more proof of the Church's readiness to adapt itself to the times. For all the tender susceptibilities of old-fashioned people, there is nothing objectionable in the matter of their ruling. Most Christians are agreed that, provided moral issues are not involved, the minutiæ of dress, like other details of etiquette and propriety, are matters of convention and vary with the age and the prevailing conditions. In view of the revolution in social habits since the first century, no binding authority attaches to the Pauline text condemning women who worship God with their heads uncovered. Much more questionable is the manner in which the ruling has been promulgated. It is rather startling for the two Archbishops, even after consulting other diocesans, to issue a pronunciamento regulating the dress of worshippers and altering traditional Catholic custom. The Archbishops have no lawful authority on such questions outside their own dioceses, and their present declaration is only a theological opinion of Dr. Temple and Dr. Garbett.

TRINITY PARISH RELINQUISHES TWO OF ITS CHAPELS

New plans for Trinity Chapel and St. Agnes Chapel, both in Trinity Parish, were recently announced by the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish.

Trinity Chapel, located on West 25th Street, New York City, will be taken over by the Serbian Orthodox Church of St. Sava, as of March 1st, 1943; and St. Agnes' Chapel, on West 91st Street, will be transferred to the Corporation of Trinity School, as of July 1st, 1943. These changes are the result of changing conditions in the neighborhoods in which these two Chapels are situated.

In its long history of nearly two hundred and fifty years, Trinity Parish has been responsible for the creation of many churches, chapels, colleges, schools and other religious and philanthropic institutions.

Recently the Serbian Orthodox Church has been searching for a Church with accompanying buildings, in which they could establish a National Foundation. It is expected that the buildings of Trinity Chapel will be used as the Serbian Bishop's See, and that the Serbians will establish here a centre for their work, religious, educational and cultural.

Trinity Chapel was commenced in 1851 and consecrated in 1855. The demand for the creation of this chapel in Trinity Parish was caused by the rapid movement from what is now the downtown area into a surburban development which reached its farthest northern point around Twenty-third Street. Today the district surrounding Trinity Chapel is given over entirely to manufacturing and warehouses. The members of the present congregation of Trinity Chapel now come to it from many other neighborhoods.

The step regarding St. Agnes' Chapel will enable Trinity School, a private school for boys, now in its 234th year, to provide more adequately for its rapidly growing enrollment and activities. Trinity School had its origin in 1709 in Trinity Church itself. It later was housed in its own building on what is now Trinity Place. Its present fine stone building is at 139 West 91st Street. St. Agnes' Chapel was completed in the year 1890 in response to what old records describe as the need "for another chapel in the upper part of the City." Through this new arrangement Trinity School will be greatly benefited, and at the same time provision will be made for the spiritual needs of St. Agnes' people, as the School will keep the Chapel open for worship.

The Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton has been Vicar of Trinity Chapel since 1915; and the Rev. Dr. William W. Bellinger has been Vicar of St. Agnes' Chapel since 1908.

The present Bishop of our Diocese was Vicar of St Agnes' Chapel from 1903 to 1908 when he became Rector of Trinity Parish. At that time St. Agnes' had one of the largest congregations, and one of the largest Sunday Schools, in this City and in the entire Church, but during the past twenty-five years the population in that part of the City has changed greatly.

YOUTH WORK IN THE DIOCESE

The work of the Youth Committee of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education opened this Fall with a conference at the Cathedral, held on Saturday, September nineteenth. There were 135 present. After short addresses by the Bishop and by the Rev. Frederick H. Arterton, National Youth Worker, our Diocesan Youth Leader, the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, presented the study program for the year.

The entire program is built around the Presiding Bishop's topic suggested for this year, "Evangelism". A series of twenty instructions has been prepared, most of which have already been mailed. They are being used by our Clergy throughout the Diocese and are recommended for every parish.

Since the time of the Cathedral Conference, Father Leeming has met with many groups. On October seventh he was at St. Mary's, Manhattanville. On Sunday, October twenty-fifth, he preached at the Church of the Crucifixion, New York City, at a service attended by over a hundred young people in addition to the regular adult congregation; and in the afternoon conducted the devotional service at the Annual Rally of the Servants of Christ the King at the Church of the Resurrection, New York City, which was attended by about one hundred and fifty.

The following Sunday, All Saints' Day, Father Leeming met with fifty-five young people at Holy Trinity Church on East 88th Street and spoke on the "Rule of Life". This was followed by a meeting with the youth of St. John's Church, Tuckahoe, held on Sunday evening, November eighth.

Another meeting was held in the Convocation of the Bronx on Sunday evening, November fifteenth, at the Church of the Mediator, where one hundred and twenty-five young men and women of the Bronx parishes gathered for an instruction having largely to do with the "Rule of Life" and its application to present day problems.

On Sunday evening, November twenty-second, sixty-five attended a conference at Christ Church, Staten Island. The Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer, Chairman of Youth Work on Staten Island, introduced Father Leeming who conducted a conference on "The Hope of a New World". The Archbishop of Canterbury's book of the same name was used as a textbook. After the address, the three discussion groups met with the Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer, the Rev. Albert H. Frost and Father Leeming. The groups as a whole then discussed the "Rule of Life". The conference ended with a devotional service in the Church.

On Sunday, November twenty-ninth, the Youth Worker met with the Yonkers young people at St. Andrew's Church, Yonkers; and also preached at the Corporate Communion of men and boys at the Church of the Mediator in the Bronx.

Father Leeming is conducting this work for the youth of our Diocese in addition to his regular duties as Headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill. He is at the service of our Clergy to assist them and supplement their Youth Work in any way in his power.

TRINITY CHURCH, MORRISANIA CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE RECTOR

The Rev. Edward Tower Theopold
Dean of the Bronx Convocation
Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania

The Wardens, Vestry and organizations of Trinity Church, Morrisania, held a reception in honor of the Rector, the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, on Sunday, December thirteenth, celebrating his ordination to the priesthood and the Tenth Anniversary of his rectorship of the Parish.

In spite of the inclement weather, a congregation of fully one hundred and twenty-five greeted the Rector at the eleven o'clock service.

After the Benediction and Recessional, the Organist rendered a number of musical selections as the congregation remained seated. The doors to the parish hall were then thrown open and all filed in and were served a buffet luncheon.

The Senior Warden, Mr. R. F. Baxter, served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the Junior Warden, Mr. A. H. Vela, who conducted the exercises.

The following telegram to Mr. Theopold from Bishop Manning was read:

> "I send my heartiest congratulations to you and your faithful people at Trinity Church on your Tenth Anniversary. May God's blessing continue to be with you in your devoted work for the Church, the Parish, and the Community."

Other messages were received from Bishop Gilbert; the Rector of Trinity Parish, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming; the Rev. Dr. W. W. Bellinger, Vicar of St. Agnes' Chapel; the Rev. Dr. S. Tagart Steele, Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession; the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, Rector of St. Philip's Church, Harlem; and from Julia Marlow Sothern. Also the Rev. Dr. Edward C. Russell, Rector of St. Ann's, Morrisania; the Rev. Claude F. Stent, Rector of St. Margaret's Church; and the Rev. F. Gray Garten of St. Stephen's Chapel, Woodlawn, of the Clergy in the Convocation of the Bronx sent messages of congratulation. A message of felicitation was also received from the Rev. Edward C. M. Tower, Rector of St. James' Church, Great Barrington, Massachusetts, uncle of Mr. Theopold.

Among the guests present who spoke were the Rev. Randolph Gall, Rector of the Church of the Advocate in the Bronx; the Rev. Arthur G. Best, Missionary in charge of St. David's in the Bronx; and Mr. Frank H. Merrill, Secretary of The Program of the Church. The Rev. Rex O'Neil, Pastor of the local Colored Methodist Church, brought fraternal greetings.

Mr. Vela then called upon the heads of the various organizations which cooperated in arranging the celebration. Each spoke in the highest terms of the services of the Rector and vied with each other to do him honor. The Daughters of the King presented Mr. Theopold with a written message and a sum of money.

Last, but not least, was the greeting from the Kindergarten. Without announcement, Roger Kellman Gibson, a five year old Colored boy, appeared at the front and said, "The Kindegarten of Trinity Church wishes to congratulate the Rector on his Tenth Anniversary."

Mr. Vela, representing the Vestry, presented Mr. Theopold with a written statement and announced that the Vestry had voted to increase the Rector's salary $300 per year as an appreciation of his long and faithful service to the Parish.

Mr. Baxter had the final word of congratulation and presented a sizeable purse to Mr. Theopold from the people of the Parish.

Mr. Theopold was much moved by these expressions of appreciation from the Vestry, organizations and people of the Parish. In replying to all these expressions of esteem and loyalty, Mr. Theopold said, "As you know, I can usually talk. I now find myself without words to adequately thank you" and then proceeded to do so with heartfelt and sincere expression of appreciation.

After singing "Auld Lang Syne", the gathering dispersed.

Mr. Theopold has not only served his Church faithfully and well, but has been in the forefront of community enterprises, served on the Diocesan Motion Picture Committee and took the pictures of our Diocesan Every Member Canvass motion picture, "The Unseen Friend", and is now the Dean of the Bronx Convocation. He has had a number of calls to other parishes, one quite recently, but elected to stay at Trinity Church. The Parish is more united than ever and a new era of usefulness is opening for it.

DIOCESAN WIDE OFFERING FOR THE WORK OF OUR ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION

The Bishop has sent the following letter to every Clergyman in our Diocese who is in charge of a congregation.

Reverend and dear Brother:

You all know well the vitally important work which our Army and Navy Commission is doing for us to aid our Chaplains in their ministry to the men in our Armed Forces.

Owing to the immense volume of this work, and to the greatly increasing numbers called into Military Service, our Commission must have additional funds and is asking the Church to give at this time a minimum of $200,000 to provide the help needed by our Chaplains and men during the present year.

This appeal goes straight to the hearts of all of us, clergy and people alike. We shall all be eager to help provide the full amount needed, for the spiritual care of our men touches all of us.

From every parish and congregation in our Diocese our men have gone. Our prayers are offered constantly for them. In Churches large and small all over the Diocese there are Service Flags with many stars on them. Already some of these stars are in gold, and we know that many more will be. And from our Diocese many of our ablest and most devoted clergy are serving as Chaplains and others are applying for this service. As we respond to this appeal from our Army and Navy Commission let us have especially in mind our brothers from our own Diocese, who are now in the ranks, and let us make our gifts accordingly.

As your Bishop, I ask that a Special Offering be taken for this purpose in every congregation of our Diocese on Sunday, March 21st next, the Second Sunday in Lent, or on a Sunday as near to that date as possible, and also that the clergy make earnest effort to secure special gifts from individuals. You will, I am sure, give your congregation adequate notice of this Special Offering and will support it with your own whole-hearted commendation in a sermon or address.

Literature relating to this Appeal, with Offering Envelopes, etc. will be gladly sent to all who apply to The Army and Navy Commission, No. 1 Joy Street, Boston. All Offerings and Gifts are to be sent directly to the Army and Navy Commission and checks should be made payable to Robert H. Hopkins, Treasurer. The Army and Navy Commission will report to me for record in our Diocesan Office all Gifts and Offerings which they receive from this Diocese. I am certain that our contribution for this sacred cause will be a most willing and generous one.

Faithfully yours,
WILLIAM T. MANNING,
Bishop of the Diocese

THE OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION SELECTS OUR CATHEDRAL CHOIR TO MAKE RECORDINGS OF HYMNS FOR THE MEN IN OUR ARMED FORCES

The Office of War Information of the United States Government recently made a request that recordings might be made of hymns sung by our Cathedral Choir to be broadcast to the men of our Armed Forces at home and overseas. This request was most gladly acceded to and recordings were made of seventeen of the most familiar and best loved hymns. These recordings were made at the Cathedral on our own equipment by engineers of the War Information Bureau.

Now, almost daily, these hymns are broadcast to our soldiers and sailors in our own land and all over the world.

A letter received from Mr. Macklin Marrow, Music Director of the Overseas Branch of the Office of War Information, says that these records "are magnificent and have met with high praise not only in England, but in Africa and Australia".

It is very gratifying that our Cathedral Choir was chosen to sing these great hymns for our men everywhere in the Armed Forces. We may be sure that they are appreciated and that they carry their message of faith and strength to all who listen to them, and not least to those in far off lands, soldiers, sailors, marines, airmen, chaplains, doctors and nurses, many of whom may often have joined in singing them in our Cathedral and in our Parish Churches.

To all who listen to these hymns, wherever they may be, we send our heartfelt greetings with the assurance of our constant prayers for them in the service which they are giving for our own land and for all mankind.

W. T. M.

CLERGY INSTITUTE TO BE HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL

An Institute for the Clergy of the Diocese, sponsored by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and heartily approved by the Bishop of the Diocese, is scheduled for Thursday, March fourth, at the Cathedral.

The Leader of the Institute will be the Rev. John Oliver Patterson, Rector of Grace Church, Madison, Wisconsin. Mr. Patterson is well fitted by training and experience to conduct Institutes and will discuss the topic, "The Worship of the Church in Relation to Daily Life". Mr. Patterson made a study of this subject at the College of Preachers. He has been a frequent speaker at Clergy Conferences in the Middle West on this subject. He was called to his present large and important parish to put into effect a program of corporate worship, which had successfully been conducted by him in South Dakota.

To make the Institute helpful and effective, those present will be divided into groups, each with its own Leader, for intensive discussion. It is expected that a hundred or more of our Diocesan Clergy will attend.

CLERGY PENSIONS ARE TAXABLE

Pensions of the Clergy are taxable, including the 5% Victory Tax. The latter, however, is not withheld by the Church Pension Fund Corporation, but must be deducted by the individual when the regular Income Tax is paid.

The rental value of a rectory is not subject to any tax, but if a cash amount is paid to the clergyman toward the rental of a rectory, that amount is taxable.

The amounts paid to widows and children of clergy are not subject to tax.

FORWARD-IN-SERVICE RADIO PROGRAM OF WESTCHESTER CONVOCATION

REPORT OF THE ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION

The following is quoted from the report of our Army and Navy Commission just issued by the Chairman, Bishop Sherrill.

We have assumed the responsibility of the Chaplain's pension premiums up to a salary of $6,000 a year—an act of justice and not of charity. We have equipped Chaplains with Communion Sets, Portable Altars, Vestments, etc. for their ministry. Chaplains have been furnished discretionary funds; almost 200,000 Prayer Books for Soldiers and Sailors; and 100,000 Church War Crosses. Over 100,000 pieces of Forward Movement literature have been placed in the hands of our men. Large grants have been made to support the work of Diocesan Army and Navy Commissions, especially in strengthening the Church in the areas near the great camps.

These are but some of the responsibilities the Commission has undertaken and which must be continued. Constant correspondence with Bishops, Chaplains, officers and men testifies to the vital necessity of this work. To insure the future we need at least $200,000 now.

This spiritual care of our boys is not alone the task of the Chaplains or the Commission, but the privilege of us all. So I lay this cause upon your consciences, confident that you will take gladly your full responsibility, and that we shall do our best to keep the Church with our men.

BRONX CONVOCATION HOLDS SCHOOLS OF PRAYER

Churches in the Convocation of the Bronx held Schools of Prayer during the week of February first. Because of the lack of fuel oil, some of the Churches could not cooperate in this movement.

The object of the Schools of Prayer was to deepen the prayer life of our people in the Bronx. The number of nights given over for this purpose varied from three for some to seven for others.

The study was concerned with Worship, public and private; Family Prayer; Grace at meals; Thanksgiving; also Intercessions and Prayer for our Armed Forces; Meditation; The Lord's Prayer; and the use of Devotional Manuals.

Boxes for Questions and Intercessions were used with discussion, and in some cases home work was carried on.

It is hoped that these Schools of Prayer will develop into Prayer Circles in connection with each parish. The parents and other relatives and friends of boys in the Armed Forces were urged to attend.

Most of the Rectors directed their own Schools. Among those having help from the outside were:—

Church of the Mediator
The Rev. Francis Parker, O. H. C.

St. Martha's
The Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowie, formerly of Grace Church, New York City

St. Paul's
The Rev. James Green, Headmaster of the Cathedral Choir School

St. Stephen's
The Rev. Gerald F. Burrill, Rector of St. Paul's

St. Peter's
The Rev. Father Stephens of the Order of St. Francis

Prayer has been called a "power line" between the resources of God and the needs of man. It is a two-way line. When man makes the connection, results in spiritual growth and Christian activity are certain.

THE BISHOP ROWE MEMORIAL FUND

Architect's drawing of proposed building to be erected in memory of Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe (left), pioneer missionary of the Episcopal Church in Alaska. It will provide Bishop's residence, diocesan offices, chapel. Bishop John B. Bentley (right) has been in charge of Episcopal work in Alaska since Bishop Rowe's death.

An appeal is being made for $55,000 to erect a Chapel, Bishop's Office and Diocesan House as a Memorial to Bishop Rowe, whose life and work were a blessing and inspiration to the whole Church.

Bishop Manning is one of the Sponsors of this Fund and, at the Bishop's invitation, the Acting Bishop of Alaska, the Right Rev. John B. Bentley, preached and presented this matter at the Cathedral on Sunday morning, January twenty-fourth.

The Woman's Auxiliary of our Diocese has undertaken to raise funds for this Memorial and the President of our Auxiliary, Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby, has sent, with the Bishop's full approval and commendation, a letter to all our Clergy from which we quote as follows:—

"One of the most beloved characters in the history of the Episcopal Church was the late Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe of Alaska. Now that he is gone, we realize more and more the important place he held in the missionary work of the Church, and how clear was his vision in seeing the great future in this now rapidly expanding field.

"His many friends have suggested the erection of a Bishop Rowe Memorial. It will take the form of a Chapel, Bishop's Office and Diocesan House in one of the Alaskan cities where he laboured, probably Fairbanks. It is estimated that this will require $55,000, including a small endowment.

"Our Bishop is taking a deep interest in the Memorial, and has granted me the privilege of sending this letter to you with his warm endorsement.

"Our Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary has undertaken to give the Altar and furnishings for the Chapel as a memorial to our beloved President, the late Mrs. Charles Gilmore Kerley. It is my earnest hope that the spontaneous gifts of our women, and other friends of Mrs. Kerley, will so greatly exceed any such limitation that their combined offerings will extend to the completion of the entire Chapel, with a goodly sum for its upkeep."

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY PLANS FOR THE BETH McCLANNIN KERLEY MEMORIAL

Throughout the Diocese many Branches and individuals have been giving much thought to the selection of a suitable memorial to our beloved President and friend, the late Mrs. Charles Gilmore Kerley. The Executive Board has found what we believe to be a most fitting choice, and we all commend it to your attention.

Recently we learned of plans to establish a permanent memorial to Bishop Rowe of Alaska, to take the form of a diocesan house and chapel which will be erected in one of the Alaska centers where Bishop Rowe ministered for nearly half a century. Bishop Rowe and Alaska are so closely associated with the United Thank Offering that they have always seemed to belong especially to the women of the Church. A Church at Anvik, Alaska, was built from one-half of the first United Thank Offering, presented in 1889 in the Church of the Holy Communion, during the Triennial Meeting held in New York. Since 1895, the name of one man has appeared on the list of salaries paid from the United Thank Offering, and that man was the first Bishop of Alaska, the Right Rev. Peter Trimble Rowe.

We know that Mrs. Kerley would have been deeply interested in this memorial to one of the great missionaries of our Church. We have therefore asked that, in the proposed Rowe Memorial House and Chapel, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of New York be granted the privilege of giving the Altar and Furnishings for the Chapel, in memory of Beth McClannin Kerley, and with gratitude for the example of her joyful service.

LETTERS FROM CHAPLAINS AND OTHERS TO THE BISHOP

Altar in Post Chapel
Building Made from Scrap Lumber

Bishop Manning receives constantly letters from the Clergy of our Diocese who are serving as Chaplains. From one of these letters, which is typical, we quote as follows:—

My dear Bishop,

As we are approaching the end of the first year of war with its many complications and hardships I want to thank you for your prayers and interest not only in the men, but in the work of the Chaplains as well. It is a great comfort to know that while we are away from home and our parishes, that you are leading the home forces in their spiritual life.

I am enclosing two of our weekly bulletins as a sample. The men write letters on the reverse side and send them home weekly. As we are on an island and have very little opportunity to shop I encouraged the men to make their own Christmas Cards using a picture of the Post Chapel Altar. As there is no allotment for a Chapel we had to make everything from scrap lumber. The Commanding Officer has given his permission that we put a steeple on the building and this will be a sign to new arrivals that religion has a place here. This does not portray a clear picture of all the difficulties involved, but when you realize we are living under an emergency you will know the complications that arise. As we did not have any paint we used a blow torch to give the Chapel a knotted pine appearance."

The following comes to the Bishop from a young man in one of our Parishes who hopes later to enter the Ministry of the Church:

"I am on the move again. I am now in Oklahoma, after completing a course at Fort Benning, Ga., for my commission. I went through the ranks as a non-commission officer with the purpose of getting the attitude of the enlisted man. This experience has been invaluable to me.

I want to thank you for the interest you have shown in me and to ask your blessing and your prayers that I and the new regiment of which I am a part may do the work that lies before us in an acceptable manner. There is something a little unreal about "going to war" and having my plans for the ministry so disrupted, at least temporarily, but I believe I am where God wishes me to be and I try to think of myself as a "Christian Soldier". The spirit of my new unit is excellent. The boys feel that there is a job ahead for them to do and they are anxious to do it and get it over with."

The Bishop of Rockhampton, Queensland, Australia, writes: "I feel that I am in closer touch with you now the war is on as I see quite a lot of American soldiers. In fact, there have been some at our house I think every day this week I have especially seen Colonel Miller (Episcopalian) Senior Chaplain at Corps Headquarters and Colonel Atterbury (Methodist) They have both been to my home frequently."

From the Archbishop of Armagh, Ireland, comes the following: "I take the opportunity of saying with what pleasure we see around us here and in so many parts of North Ireland your fellow-countrymen in uniform. I have had pleasant relations with some of your Army Chaplains, such as Chaplain Hoffenbacher and Chaplain Jones. There are not many Anglicans among the men stationed in Armagh, but in other parts they are very numerous and make use of our Churches. I rejoice to think that your Country and ours are side by side in this vast conflict, both for fraternal and for security reasons."

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, MANHATTAN, IS GROWING

In spite of all current difficulties, we are a growing parish.

1. In Church attendance—our statistics show a 17% increase in the past 4 years.
2. In membership—from 2,679 to 3,286 in 4 years—a 22% gain.
3. In number of envelope subscribers—the figure has doubled in the last 5 years. 1,228 individuals now subscribe through the envelope system.
4. In securing through the envelope system a substantial amount of new money each year—$7,142 for 1942; $8,867 for 1943—$16,000 in 2 years.
5. In numbers enrolled in girls' work and camps.
6. In concrete experiments to meet changing conditions in new ways: Rainsford House, Pierce House, a clinic for adults and children, midweek and special services, the Whittemore Mission, hospitality hours, visiting committees, etc.
7. In number of persons giving to Missions or World Christianity. One-third more have subscribed this year than last.

We face certain special obstacles:

1. The exodus from Manhattan. Children are leaving Manhattan schools at the rate of some thirty thousand a year, because of inadequate Manhattan housing and other related factors.
2. Population changes. Fifty years ago the neighborhood families were largely Protestant. Today they are mainly Jewish and Roman Catholic or unaffiliated.

ST JOHN'S CHURCH, HIGH FALLS, AND ST. PETER'S CHURCH, STONE RIDGE, ARE MISSIONARY CENTERS

St. John's, High Falls

The Vicar of our Church at Stone Ridge, the Rev. Auguste F. Marlier, invites us all to visit St. Peter's Church and to see that "here in our great Diocese we have as great a missionary field as any section of our Country".

St. Peter's Church in the Convocation of Hudson recently completed their new parish house which was dedicated last Fall by the Bishop of the Diocese. The inside of the house is finished in knotty pine panelling. It is equipped with a kitchen and furnishings suitable for dinners and similar functions.

A year ago no Sunday School existed; today twenty-four pupils are enrolled under four teachers. The School meets at the same hour as the eleven o'clock service. Thus parents may bring their children with them. Being a rural community, this is a particularly convenient arrangement.

The new parish house has proven most successful as it is a distinct help to the community. It affords a meeting place for the Church social activities, the Woman's Auxiliary, St. Peter's Guild and also for the Town Nursing Committee. At the suggestion of Fr. Marlier, the Nursing Committee has undertaken to help the Town Nurse in caring for the sick. Lessons on Nutrition are given in the parish house every week.

The parishioners of St. Peter's are also doing their part in the war effort. Forty boxes of clothing have been contributed and British sailors are being entertained in Stone Ridge at Ridgely Manor, where Fr. Marlier visits them and provides entertainment. Seventy-five percent of them are or have been connected with our Church and many of them attend services at St. Peter's.

Besides the care of St. Peter's, Stone Ridge, Fr. Marlier has charge of the work at St. John's, High Falls. There a fine Sunday School is flourishing and twelve candidates were prepared for Confirmation.

A new furnace has been installed at St. John's, costing $750.00, all but $90 of which was raised by the people themselves without asking for diocesan aid. The main money raising project here is an annual Flower Show. Ordinarily $150 was considered a good revenue for a one day show, but in 1942 $450 was realized.

St. Peter's, Stone Ridge, and St. John's, High Falls, under the guidance of Fr. Marlier are serving their respective communities in both spiritual ministrations and practical social service.

THE CHURCH CLUB OF NEW YORK HAS ANNUAL DINNER AT THE PLAZA HOTEL

The Fifty-sixth Annual Dinner of the Church Club of New York was held at the Hotel Plaza, New York City, on Monday evening, February first.

The Bishop of New York and the Hon. Walter Nash, the New Zealand Minister to the United States, were the speakers. Mr. Ludlow Bull, President of the Club made a brief address and introduced the speakers.

Approximately four hundred and fifty were present. Seated at the speakers' table, besides the President of the Club, the Bishop, and Mr. Nash, were: the Rev. J. Burt Webster, Chaplain U. S. A.; the Very Rev. Lawrence Rose, Dean of the Berkeley Divinity School; the Very Rev. H. E. W. Fosbroke, Dean of the General Theological Seminary; Sir Godfrey Haggard, H. B. M. Consul General at New York; the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop of New York; John Milton Potter, President of Hobart College; the Very Rev. Allen Evans, Dean of the Philadelphia Divinity School; and the Rev. Irving S. Pollard, Chaplain U. S. N. R.

The Bishop of the Diocese and Mr. Walter Nash, Minister to the United States from New Zealand were the speakers at the dinner. Mr. Nash's glowing picture of his country, its beauty of landscape, democratic government and social security, was so convincing that many of his hearers were "almost constrained to become" New Zealanders! The Minister told of the whole-hearted entrance of his Country into the war effort. The number of men and women in the Armed Forces and in defense work in New Zealand exceeds in proportion the present figures for the United States. As a devout and practicing Anglican, Mr. Nash urged that Churchmen stand militantly behind the Four Freedoms expounded by President Roosevelt and the principles of the Atlantic Charter, since these principles are based upon the same foundation principles of religion. "I do not agree with those who claim that the Church should not concern itself with the social and economic problems", he said. "I suggest that the Church has a responsibility perhaps greater than that of any other institution to see that moral principles are kept always to the fore in building a new world."

The playing of the American and the British National Anthems preceded the dinner. Bishop Gilbert gave the Invocation. President Bull made a brief address and introduced the Bishop of the Diocese.

Excerpts from the Bishop's address follow:—

"I join most heartily, Mr. President, with you and the members of the Club, in telling the Honorable Walter Nash how glad we all are to have him here with us.

"We welcome Mr. Nash as the representative of those brave and forthright New Zealanders whom we admire so greatly and with whom we are in such close relationship in this great World Struggle; we welcome him as a representative of the great British Commonwealth of Nations with whom we Americans are united more closely than ever, and with whom we intend always to stay united, for our mutual good and for the good of all the world; and we welcome Mr. Nash also as a fellow Churchman, believing and holding those great truths of Apostolic Faith and Order which the Church in New Zealand holds, which our own Episcopal Church holds, and which the whole World-Wide Anglican Communion holds. And I know Mr. Nash will agree with me when I say that the strongest and deepest of all the influences which held the English Speaking Peoples in enduring fellowship has been, and is today, the power of our Religion as Anglican Churchman, that Religion which we have all received from, and which we hold in common with, our Mother Church—the Ancient, Historic, Catholic and Apostolic Church of England, that Religion which we have in the Prayer Book which, let us remember, is not the Prayer Book of the Episcopal Church alone, but of the whole Anglican Communion. It is a significant fact, and it is an indisputable fact, that wherever the Anglican Church is strong, there you will find whole-hearted enthusiasm for the fellowship of the English Speaking Peoples, and whole souled loyalty to the Cause of the United Nations in this World War. . . .

A MESSAGE TO CIVILIANS

"Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness"—that is another phrase remembered. But we in this country, secure in the certainty that Liberty is merely a part of Life, and inseparable from it—for we have never lived in a world in which this was not true—give all our attention, and most of our strength as well to "The Pursuit of Happiness."

Why should we not? Why should we not "pursue Happiness"? No reason . . . Only that we must look so fantastic, all madly pursuing happiness, and all running in the wrong direction!

It is the Pursuit of Gaiety, not the Pursuit of Happiness, which occupies our time. When our personal, or household duties are done, when our business at the office is over for the day—then off we go in the pursuit of happiness, all running in the wrong direction! Fantastic spectacle. Cocktails, dinner, theater, supper, dancing—everything to try to keep from thinking of the war!—when our only real happiness is so close beside us: thinking of the war, not trying to shut it from our minds, thinking of it, and trying to think constructively about it. In this alone today our true happiness lies—we who truly love Democracy. We shall find little real happiness in any other direction, until we have won this war.

ST. ANN'S CHURCH FOR DEAF-MUTES IS NINETY YEARS OLD

St. Ann's, 511 West 148th Street
New York City

The Ninetieth Anniversary of St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes, 511 West 148th Street, New York City, was celebrated on Sunday, December 6th, 1942. The Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, Curate and Vicar of the Church since 1925, preached the Anniversary Sermon.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Gallaudet (not a deaf-mute) was a pioneer in religious and educational work for Deaf-Mutes in this Country. He started his work for this neglected people by organizing an adult Bible Class for them in 1850 at Stephen's Church, New York, and in 1851 organized St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes on 18th Street and continued as its Rector until he retired in 1892. Dr. Gallaudet then became Rector Emeritus until his death in 1902.

The work thus started in 1850 developed into services for normal people, as well as deaf-mutes. An early report of Dr. Gallaudet stated:

> "With free seats and free-will offerings at the very beginning of our parish life, we trusted that St. Ann's Church would prove to be the gracious giver of spiritual blessings to all sorts and conditions of men. We have not been disappointed, for . . . this parish has ministered to the people of almost every race and color, to deaf-mutes, to the blind and those suffering from other physical deprivations, to the rich and those in moderate circumstances, as well as the poor."

The number of hearing people attending St. Ann's Church increased so rapidly that in 1874 the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Krans was elected Associate Rector to give his time largely to this part of the congregation.

The Anniversary Sermon of Mr. Braddock contained the following brief historical sketch:—

> "In these ninety years, St. Ann's has changed its location four times. First, as remarked, it began in the Chapel of New York University. Then it moved in 1857 to a room in the New York Historical Society Building on Second Avenue and 11th Street. Two years later, in 1859, St. Ann's moved into its own Church building on 18th Street near Fifth Avenue, formerly a Baptist Church, bought with our Building Fund. This location was kept for thirty-six years, until the building was sold and demolished in 1895. St. Ann's then spent two or three years worshipping at the Church of St. John the Evangelist on Waverly Place in Greenwich Village. The building of our present home was completed in 1898, and we have been here on West 148th Street ever since—exactly forty-four years at New St. Ann's."

It is of interest to fill in other data concerning the recent developments affecting St. Ann's. Previous to the erection of its present Chapel and Parish House, St. Ann's consolidated with St. Matthew's Church in October, 1897. The Churches of Zion and St. Timothy were consolidated in April, 1890, and in 1922 they were consolidated with St. Matthew's Church and the mother Church is now known as the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy.

The first Rector after the consolidation (St. Ann's and St. Matthew's) was the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Krans, while the Rev. Dr. Gallaudet held the position of Rector Emeritus. Dr. Krans died in 1900 and was succeeded as Rector by the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Judge, who continued in that capacity until the consolidation effected with the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, when he became Rector Emeritus of the united parishes.

The Rev. Frederick Burgess was Rector of the Church of Zion and St. Timothy from 1919 to 1922, when he became Rector of the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, which position he now holds.

To continue the more definite details about St. Ann's:

The Rev. Dr. John Chamberlain was Curate to Dr. Gallaudet from January 1872 until the latter's death in 1902, when he became Vicar of St. Ann's, holding that office until December 1921.

The Rev. John Henry Kent (Deaf) was Dr. Chamberlain's Curate, May 1907 to December 1921, succeeding him as Vicar.

The Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock (Deaf) was Curate from October 1925 to January 4th, 1930, and Vicar since that date.

It is an inspiring experience to attend divine service at St. Ann's. The preaching, the singing, the teaching in the Sunday School are all in the sign language and are carried out with deep reverence and joyful participation.

The social activities of St. Ann's are about the same as in a regular parish. Social gatherings, entertainments, pageants, suppers are all held and enjoyed. The writer of this article has on two or three occasions attended a parish supper and addressed those present. A daughter of Dr. Gallaudet acted as interpreter and the speaker was introduced by a deaf-mute who had learned to speak.

This movement to serve the Deaf-mutes, which has spread to other parts of the Country, had its birth in the head and mind of one who had the basic missionary urge to make the Gospel of Christ available to all people and especially to a class of people who seemed shut off from the ministrations of the Church.

Today the Church Mission for Deaf-Mutes is one of the most dramatic and moving expressions of the Gospel of Christ, not only in New York City, but in our Country.

A BRITISH GENERAL GIVES HIS IMPRESSION OF EVENSONG IN ALL SAINTS CATHEDRAL, CAIRO

A distinguished British General on active service in the Middle-East wrote home to his wife an account of the service he had just attended in the Cathedral in Cairo.

"The Cathedral was quite full", the General said, "with soldiers and airmen and a number of Army Nurses, all singing with all their might—'O God, to us may grace be give, to follow in their train'." And he wrote as follows:—

"I don't think I am an emotional type, but these crowded services in the Cathedral here get me. All this mass of men there, I think, as much as anything because it gives them a feeling of nearness or link with their own home. They are, every one of them, taking part in the service. The acoustics are bad, but the clergy are good; the reading is excellent, the whole service is a corporate effort of everyone. The Bishop catches them and holds them.

"Over it all there is a feeling of genuine, wholesome religion: a getting together with God and with Him and through Him getting in touch with home. Out here somewhere are four of us from our little Wiltshire village, and perhaps others from the parish I don't know about. All just doing our bit, and all on Sunday night think, I'm sure, of our homes. And that Cathedral service, just one magnificent whole-hearted prayer from all of the seven hundred of us for our families at home. It was all alive, all true, all wonderful. Why shouldn't the home village service be the same? It can be, it should be, it must be. Out here the Church is giving the lead and delivering the goods. The whole lot of us feeling it, meaning it, doing it, loving it. Trying like mad to 'follow in their train'. Now, if ever, the whole body of the Church just must get together—man, woman, parson, child—the whole village, the whole of England, and realize what a mighty cooperative effort is needed from the whole lot of us, if this world of ours is to be a decent world for us all when all this war madness is over.

"I know God is is with us in all this. We've been given the lead all right by those who have gone before—

"O God, to us may grace be given
To follow in their train."

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE OF NEW YORK BENEFITS BY NEW SONG

"Let's All Say A Prayer Tonight" is the title of a new song by Steve Nelson, inspired by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's recent experience drifting for twenty-one days on a rubber raft in the Pacific. The major profits from the sale of this song will go to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York. Captain Rickenbacker endorses this song in the following statement released by the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Institute:

"My recent experience in the Pacific has made me realize the power of prayer. I believe that this song by Steve Nelson, "Let's All Say A Prayer Tonight", voices the sentiment of many who are praying not only for the safe return of their loved ones from the fronts, but also for the safety of our beloved country and the promise of a peace where freedom of worship may be assured for all time. As we sing this song, let us remember all those who are serving the cause of Freedom: the soldiers, the sailors, the aviators, the marines, and last, but certainly not least, the merchant marine of the United Nations who carry the essential cargoes to our fighting forces. I am happy to say a good word for this song, for I understand that the royalties will be given to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, largest shore home and club in the world for active merchant seamen of all faiths. Thus a song—and a prayer—can help to welcome these brave men when they are ashore on brief leave from their arduous and perilous tasks. So let us go on praying with deep-felt hope, but let us not neglect anything that we may do ourselves to speed Victory and Peace."

This song was introduced to the public over the radio by Frank Munn, the noted singer, on his Lincoln program Friday, February 12th.

THE CHURCH HAS A MINISTRY TO THE AGED

Bulletin No. 139 issued by our Social Service Commission, of which the Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren is the Executive Secretary, has to deal with the Church's ministry to elderly people. It contains a list of Church institutions for the aged in this Diocese. Of particular interest is this excerpt which is as worthwhile remembering in the home as in an institution: "People who helpfully work with and understand old people, stress first the need for winning their confidence, next the importance of understanding them, and then the necessity of helping them to understand themselves—to see themselves as they really are. What, for example, is their 'reaction pattern' as they talk to you of their successes and failures? Do they think of themselves as the victims of circumstances? Excusing themselves? Beaten by life? Thinking of old age as a dead-end? These and other attitudes may be revealed to a sympathetic listener who at the same time subtly directs the conversation. You can't be hurried in dealing with old people. Then, as one understands their hidden attitudes, there follows the opportunity to help them to understand them, too, and awaken in them an ambition."

STATEN ISLAND RECTOR INSTITUTED

The Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer was instituted Rector of St. Mary's Church, West New Brighton, Staten Island, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday afternoon, February seventh.

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE

The final figures of the 1942 Program of the Church Campaign are published elsewhere in this issue of The Diocesan Bulletin. Many Churches accomplished notable results either by meeting or exceeding their Quotas or by increasing their previous giving. Others have not done so well.

Perhaps the most discouraging fact in connection with the Campaign is that our total giving declined again. This decline has been going on since 1929 until we have now reached a point where the effective work of all the beneficiaries of The Program of the Church, including that of the National Council, may be seriously affected.

It will not solve the problem to simply analyze the figures and look for reasons or make excuses for this decline. We must take a more constructive view of the situation. Two things are necessary if we are to change the present situation:

1. A stronger belief in the Missionary Objects of our Diocese and of the National Council.
2. A greater willingness to work for these objects.

We feel that a more definite education of all Church people in the Missionary Work of the Church is needed and the Committee on The Program of the Church expects to undertake this with the cooperation of the Clergy. This education should foster a firm belief in the need of greater Missionary Giving.

Actual results have proven conclusively, even in this time of high taxes and reduced income from investments, that a well organized Every Member Canvass does produce results. Reports coming to us from Churches all over the Diocese show a marked increase in the number of people willing to pledge when they have been individually and personally approached. For a long time it has been said that the Canvass is "all right for the rural Churches". It may be more difficult, but it is definitely not impractical for metropolitan Churches. The following, taken from St. George's Bulletin of St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, New York City, provides excellent proof of this statement.

FINAL CANVASS REPORT

At the last meeting of the Vestry, the Committee in charge of the Every Member Canvass made its final report and a most encouraging report it was. The Envelope Subscribers have increased to 1,228, the largest in many years, and now about double the number of five years ago. One-third are new subscribers or have increased their subscriptions, and the gain over last year is $8,867. Some subscribers, however, have been compelled to reduce their subscriptions with a consequent loss of $10,474, much of which comes from a reduction in large special gifts—such as from $5,000 to $2,000 and so forth.

Because of the unusually strong canvass campaign, the income from Envelopes and special contributions for 1943 is estimated to be within $250 of what we actually received in 1942, or a total of $57,389 for the Parish.

Since the Canvass started last October, three factors have weighed against us: 1. Reduced income from Endowment Funds. 2. Added taxes, war damage insurance and added cost of youth work in wartime. 3. The fact that the Envelope System has not reached the increased Canvass goal, thus we face a deficit of $8,544 for 1943.

The substance of this report was put before the Parish Council last week and they requested the Rector and Vestry to appoint a Special Committee to raise the money to wipe out this deficit. The Vestry agreed to this and the Rector appointed the following Committee and asked them to make a report which will appear in the next Bulletin:

Mr. C. C. Burlingham, Chairman
Mrs. Beatrice M. Hetzler, Secretary
Mrs. Morgan Curry
Mr. Archibald Dudgeon
Mrs. Henry S. Morgan
Mr. H. H. Pike, Jr.
Mr. Allen Wardwell

In times like these, with taxes and the cost of living rising, it is not suprising that some of our most faithful supporters have felt compelled to reduce their subscriptions. We shall not press any of these to increase their subscriptions but merely lay the facts before them. Our chief effort will be to obtain new money. Of the 2,962 adult persons on our rolls, only 40% are envelope subscribers. Our hope is to increase subscriptions this year from 1,228 to 2,000. This is no time for St. George's to flag or faint. Our work must not be cut down. The fewer large gifts, the more small ones to take their place, as St. George's moves forward.

C. C. B.

This is only one instance of the power of the Canvass. We have definite information from eight neighboring dioceses that in every instance where returns are in from Canvasses, held last Fall or just completed, many pledges have been increased and in most cases the "new money" pledged has outweighed the losses from reduced giving of "large" contributors.

"It can happen here". We can meet our Church and Missionary budgets. This is the time for a vigorous and effective Canvass and your Program of the Church Committee stands ready to help.

EMMANUEL CHAPEL CELEBRATES FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Emmanuel Chapel
770 Courtlandt Avenue, Bronx

Emmanuel Chapel in the Bronx, now in charge of the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania, celebrated its Fortieth Anniversary on Sunday, February seventh. The services of the day were Corporate Communion of past and present members at 9:30 A.M.; Service of Praise and Thanksgiving with a sermon by Mr. Theopold at 8:00 P.M.; and a Birthday entertainment at 8:45 P.M. In accordance with a long established custom, members of the Parish made a Birthday Offering in grateful recognition of God's Blessings.

Emmanuel Mission was founded and located at 581 East 155th Street in the Bronx on February 8th, 1903. The first Clergyman in charge (1903-1907) was the Rev. Rufus W. Frost. The more recent Clergy were: the Rev. A. Van de Beek Vos from January 1914 to July 1932; and the Rev. Arthur T. Brown from July 1932 to December 1942.

Mr. Brown has been transferred to Staten Island and Mr. Theopold, at the request of the Bishop of the Diocese, has assumed charge. There have been ten clergyman in charge of Emmanuel during these forty years of its existence.

It is interesting to note that the first marriage performed in the Church itself was that of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Ganter on June 3rd, 1911, who are still communicants of the parish, and they were present at the Anniversary Service on February seventh.

Mr. John G. Christ was one of the early communicants and became active in the Sunday School in April 1915, and was also present at the Anniversary Service.

Mr. William L. Constantine was appointed Sunday School Superintendent in 1917 and continued his helpful and lively interest in the parish until his death last Summer. The Cross on the Altar, shown above, was designed by Ralph Adams Cram and dedicated on October 11, 1942, in memory of Mr. Constantine.

The Chapel has had numerous organizations, many of which are still active. The only women's bowling club in the Diocese was organized in February 1926 and flourished for years. Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts and Girls Scouts were lively groups at one time. A Girls' Friendly Society and Men's Club were also organized. The Sunday School started with but four pupils and grew to 110 in 1932, but declined to only 72 in 1942. Less than thirty persons were enrolled as charter members. In 1942 two hundred and sixty communicants were enrolled.

The building at 770 Courtlandt Avenue, the present location of the Church, was rented in January 1914 to June 1919 when the property was bought. To change a building that was used as a feed store into a churchly structure took time. A new front was erected, furniture secured, roof repaired. Later the entire structure was raised five feet, the basement extended, new walls built and a new roof put on. Today a good looking and well appointed Church continues to serve the community.

The current business depression affects this work as it does most others in the Diocese. Determined efforts are being made to sustain and carry forward the work of the Church in this community, and the hope is entertained that some day the Mission may reach self-supporting status.

The Anniversary Services were especially well attended. Many of the old parishioners from far and near were present. Eighty Communions were made at the early Celebration and one hundred and ten persons were present in the evening. Mr. Theopold was presented with a beautifully bound Hymnal and a Prayer Book, each embossed with his name in gold on the covers.

The Chapel is starting on its forty-first year with new courage and enthusiasm.

ONE DAY CONFERENCE FOR CLERGY HELD AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH, NEW YORK CITY

An event of much significance took place on Monday, January tenth, at St. Luke's Church, Convent Avenue and 141st Street, New York City, of which the Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson is the Rector and the Rev. Charles A. Levy, Vicar, when thirty-eight Clergymen from the Metropolitan and Philadelphia areas met in a One-Day Conference. This one-day meeting, the first of its kind, gave these Clergymen an opportunity for fellowship, discussion on the Church in War Time and on a program of action for Clergymen and Churchmen.

The Conference was divided into an afternoon and an evening meeting, addresses and discussions from the floor featuring each session. In the afternoon, Mrs. Fannie Pitt Gross, Field Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, addressed the group on "An Appraisal of the Women's Work in our Churches". Mrs. Gross asked for more active and understanding interest and cooperation on the part of the Clergy, in helping the women to promote programs that will challenge greater participation, invite more effective leadership, and necessitate good organization.

This address was followed by a graphic description by the Rev. Tollie Caution, St. Augustine's, Philadelphia, of his program with the children and young people of his Church. Mr. Caution told how Church children had been changed from "cheerless, careless children to cheerful, courageous Christians", by means of a program initiating with and centering around the children's interest in singing in the choir.

The Rev. Frederick Arterton, Executive Secretary of the Division of Youth of the National Council, followed with an address on the United Movement of the Church's Youth. Mr. Arterton challenged the attending Clergy to act now to enlist the young people of their Churches in this forward movement among the youth of the Church.

The evening meeting, held in St. Luke's Church, attracted a large gathering of Church people. The Rev. Louis H. Berry of Trinity Church, Montclair, New Jersey, opened the session with a stimulating address on "Some Post-War Objectives." The Rev. Dr. Edgar C. Young, Phillips Brooks Memorial Chapel, Philadelphia, followed with an excellent presentation of the subject, "The Theological Seminary Situation".

The next address by the Rev. Ebenezer H. Hamilton of the Church of the Resurrection, Corona, Long Island, "How to Increase and Strengthen Work Among Our Group" led to the final address of the evening by the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Bagnall of St. Thomas Church, Philadelphia, "The Preparation the Negro Churchman Must Make for the Post-War World". Dr. Bagnall's thrilling address was a challenge to the Negro people and fittingly summarized the trend of thought throughout the day's conference: the importance of making possible the Four Freedoms for all people and the necessity for more aggressive action and attitudes on the part of the Episcopal Church toward the realization of these Four Freedoms through its own program for the Negro people.

The attending Clergy were: the Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, the Rev. Charles A. Levy, the Rev. Seth C. Edwards, the Rev. Herbert C. Banks, the Rev. Dr. E. Elliot Durant, the Rev. Warren Scott, the Rev. Floarda Howard, the Rev. Joseph W. Livingston, the Rev. Randolph O. C. King, the Rev. Rollin Dodd, the Rev. H. A. Rogers, the Rev. James Rogers, the Rev. Dr. Egerton E. Hall, the Rev. Denzil A. Carty, the Rev. C. E. Harrison, the Rev. Charles S. Sedgewick, the Rev. Arthur G. Best, the Rev. Hugh H. Henry, New York City; the Rev. George F. Miller, the Rev. John T. Ogburn, the Rev. John M. Coleman, the Rev. A. L. Adams, Brooklyn; the Rev. E. S. Thomas, the Rev. Tollie L. Caution, the Rev. Arthur C. Moore, the Rev. Robert H. Tabb, the Rev. Louis W. Johnson, the Rev. Thomas S. Logan, the Rev. John R. Logan, Jr., the Rev. Edgar C. Young, the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Bagnall, Philadelphia; the Rev. Dillard H. Brown, Jersey City; the Rev. Charles W. Nelson, Trenton; the Rev. C. Canterbury Corbin, Atlantic City; the Rev. Louis H. Berry, Newark; the Rev. W. S. McKay, Camden; and the Rev. Robert S. Harris, Plainfield, New Jersey.

The Parish House Committee of St. Luke's Woman's Auxiliary served luncheon and dinner to the visiting Clergy. The evening meeting was followed by an informal coffee hour for everyone attending.

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB NEEDS BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

The usual generous supply of books and magazines sent to our Diocesan Church Periodical Club has dwindled to such an extent that the Society finds itself unable to furnish reading material to many institutions, such as City and State Hospitals, Homes for Old People, Missions, Shut-ins, etc., which for years have been supplied.

The current drives for reading material for the U. S. O. Army and Navy Chaplains and other agencies seem to have cut adequate supplies for our own Church institutions. Gifts to these agencies are desirable and our patriotic duty. However, we are still old fashioned enough to think that in all our giving the Church should come first. Our Church is a priority. Our giving should not only be generous, but discriminating.

The failure to receive reading material is causing distress to those usually cared for, as the following excerpt from a recent letter shows:—

"Again we thank you for the gift of magazines which you so kindly sent us for distribution. They are most helpful in our work and are now doubly appreciated. Now that so many books and magazines are being sent to our Army Camps, the Chaplains in our City and State institutions for the sick and for old people report that these people are sadly disappointed when our supplies for distribution are seriously curtailed."

Current magazines, detective stories, books of adventure are especially desired and all readable matter is welcome. Any gifts of money with which to pay for subscriptions to magazines would be gratefully received. Address letters or packages to the Church Periodical Club, Old Synod House, Cathedral Heights, New York City.

THE REV. FRANCIS AUGUSTINE BARRETT

Priest-in-charge of Advent Mission, New York City, since 1933 died suddenly of an heart attack on Monday, December 21st, 1942.

The funeral service was held at St. Ambrose Church in Harlem on Saturday, December twenty-sixth, and was conducted by the Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Rector of St. Ambrose Church, the Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant, and the Vicar of Trinity Chapel, the Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton. A Requiem Mass, celebrated by Dr. Durant, preceded the funeral service.

Father Barrett had been away on sick leave for some weeks before his return to his duties last Fall. The arduous work connected with his many Church duties was too much of a strain on his heart.

Mrs. Barrett died in 1937. He is survived by a daughter of sixteen years of age who is at St. Faith's School in Saratoga.

Advent Mission for Colored people was the first charge of Father Barrett in our Church and, under his leadership, had developed into a thriving organized mission of approximately one thousand communicants, taxing the capacity of the Church building. The Mission has the unique distinction of paying all current bills weekly.

Father Barrett was born in Belleville, New Jersey, on June 2nd, 1887. He was educated at Villanova School and College and was made a priest in the Roman Catholic Church. He was received into our Church on December 21st, 1933 by the Bishop of the Diocese at Trinity Chapel, being presented by Dr. Sutton.

Father Barrett was one of the two white priests in charge of Colored congregations in the Diocese, the other being the Rev. Rollin Dodd, Rector of All Souls' Church, New York City. The death of Father Barrett is a great loss to Advent Mission and to the work among the Colored people of this Diocese which has the largest number of Colored communicants of any diocese in the Country.

THE REV. CLAUDE R. PARKERSON

Priest and Chaplain of our City Mission Society until October 1, 1942, died on Christmas Day and was buried from St. Mark's Church, Mt. Kisco, on December 28th.

Chaplain Parkerson was born in England, received his education there and was a member of the English Church Army in London. He was priested in 1923 by Bishop Capers and had cures in Texas and Wisconsin before his service with the Society, which began in 1931.

Chaplain Parkerson served the Society and the inmates of Wallkill Medium Security Prison, Bedford Reformatory and State Prison for Women, as well as the 5th and 7th District Prisons, unselfishly and faithfully for twelve years.

Last October a serious illness made it necessary for him to retire at the age of fifty-seven. He leaves countless friends who turned to him for counsel and guidance in times of difficulty.

VESTRY RECORDS APPRECIATION OF RECTOR

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, held on January 25th, a minute, of which the following is a copy, was unanimously adopted:

"The Reverend George Paull Torrence Sargent, D.D., having assumed the Rectorship of this Church ten years ago, the Vestry desires to record its appreciation of the services he has rendered during this period. The times have been trying ones and he has been called upon to surmount many obstacles, all of which he has met with tireless energy and great success, so that today no Episcopal Church in New York ranks higher than St. Bartholomew's in the religious life of the city or in the social work which a great Church is called upon to render.

"The Vestry herewith assures its Rector of its wholehearted support together with its affection and esteem, and it has every confidence that he will administer the affairs of the Church as successfully in the future as he has during the past decade."

THE RECTOR OF TRINITY PARISH, NEW YORK, CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, celebrated his Tenth Anniversary as Rector of Trinity Parish, New York, on Monday, January twenty-fifth.

The Bishop of the Diocese, at the beginning of his Greeting to the Rector and the Parish, told of his long association with Trinity Parish, as Vicar for five years of St. Agnes' Chapel, and then as Rector of the Parish for almost fourteen years.

"The life of Trinity Parish", Bishop Manning said, "is interwoven with the life of New York City from the City's earliest beginnings. It has stood loyal to our country, loyal to the faith of the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church and so loyal to our Lord Himself.

"For two hundred and forty-six years Trinity Parish has stood as a great spiritual bulwark and a great spiritual influence in the life of the Church. We are now in the midst of the world-wide war. We are facing and meeting unprecedented problems, but Trinity will stand faithful, loyal and courageous, as she has stood through all of her history."

The Communion Service, attended by four hundred parishioners of the Mother Church and the seven Chapels of the Parish, was conducted by Dr. Fleming. The Rev. Dr. William W. Bellinger, Vicar of St. Agnes' Chapel, assisted as Deacon; and the Rev. Edward H. Schlueter, Vicar of St. Luke's Chapel, as Sub-deacon. The other Clergy of the Chapels of Trinity Parish were present at the service.

Following the service the vestrymen of the Parish were hosts at a private luncheon for the Rector, and especially invited guests, at the Bankers Club.

THE REV. DR. SEAGLE RESIGNS AS RECTOR OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, NEW YORK

The Rev. Dr. Nathan A. Seagle, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, New York City, since 1900, has resigned and been elected Rector Emeritus. Dr. Seagle was Assistant Minister of St. Thomas Church, New York City, from 1894 to 1899.

Dr. Seagle has made a large place for himself in the Church which is certain to be an interesting narrative of service. He is seventy-four years of age, exceeding the retirement age of sixty-eight by six years.

Dr. Seagle plans to write a history of St. Stephen's Church which is bound to be an interesting narrative of one of the oldest Churches in New York. It was organized in 1805, when there were but six other Episcopal Churches in the City and only fourteen in the Diocese, which then included the entire State of New York. Three lots on the Delancey Farm, at the corner of streets now named Chrystie and Broome, were secured for the new Church, a site described by the New York Post of that day as "both eligible and inviting", as the population was moving in that direction. To the west, green fields ran along the line of Broadway and the Bowery Lane. St. Stephen's remained at the original site for sixty years and then moved up town. After a period of temporary locations and difficult circumstances, the present Church, built in 1880, as a "Chapel of ease" by the Church of the Transfiguration, was sold to St. Stephen's and occupied by its congregation in 1897. Dr. Seagle became Rector in 1900 and the Parish was soon reported as going forward under him "with a united vestry and a harmonious congregation".

Dr. Sutton Succeeds Dr. Seagle

The Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Vicar of Trinity Chapel, New York City, since 1914, has accepted a call to become Rector of St. Stephen's Church on West 69th Street, beginning March first. Dr. Sutton is a Trustee of the General Theological Seminary and Secretary of the Board of Trustees. He is an Examining Chaplain of the Diocese, a Trustee of the Church Army in the United States, and a Director of the Diocesan Church Mission of Help. He was elected Bishop of Vermont in 1935, but declined. He is the author of several religious books. It was recently announced that Trinity Chapel on West 26th Street has been sold to the Serbian Orthodox Church and will become the seat of the Bishop of that Communion and its headquarters for administration. The election of Dr. Sutton as Rector of St. Stephen's Church is a happy solution, particularly as it places a younger but well experienced man as Rector to follow Dr. Seagle, who has occupied a long and useful position in the Church and community. Dr. Sutton will be the eleventh Rector of St. Stephen's Church.

GENERAL NOTES

DEBTS OF ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, Henry Street, New York City, which totaled nearly $850 on January 31, 1941 (the date of the appointment of the Rev. Hugh M. Farnsworth as priest-in-charge) have been liquidated. Only $50 in current bills was owed on December 31, 1942. Steady improvements have been made on a pay-as-you-go-plan with money given by the parishioners. Zeal for service and loyalty to the Church are steadily growing.

A SERVICE OF HOLY COMMUNION of great interest was held at St. George's Church, New York City, on Sunday, January twenty-fourth. It was especially for the relatives of all those in the service of the Country, two hundred and five in all. So far as can be ascertained these are scattered among our Armed Forces in all parts of the world and in almost all branches of the Service. This in thought and prayer, those present reached out to draw into the fellowship of Our Lord's Table all the loved absent ones.

A RECENT LETTER FROM AFRICA, from one of the nurses with the Roosevelt Hospital Unit, speaks of Mr. Woodroofe (The Rev. Robert W. Woodroofe, Jr.): "This morning Communion Service at nine-thirty. We have a wonderful Chaplain—Mr. Woodroofe from St. Bartholomew's in New York. At ten-thirty the regular service was out-doors and I was impressed by the setting. Several Arab men and children stood around watching us. Nearby on a hill was a youngster with a herd of sheep and goats. Off in the distance a few date palms were visible, and a white stucco building or two. The hills around are barren and figures on the top are silhouetted against the sky.

A LIBRARY IS MAINTAINED by the National Council at 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City. A large selection of religious and social subjects is available for the use of Church people. Books are loaned for two weeks. Renewals are granted on request, unless the books have been called for elsewhere. The borrower is asked to pay a nominal service charge of Ten Cents. Book lists are sent out three times a year. Names will be placed on the library mailing list if desired. This affords an opportunity to secure up-to-date books on specialized subjects.

BEQUESTS IN THE WILL of the late Miss Caroline White gave the Cathedral $50,000 and $100,000 to St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND TENTH ANNIVERSARY of the Church of the Epiphany, New York City, was observed on Sunday, January third. The Tenth Anniversary of the rectorate of the Rev. Dr. John W. Suter was celebrated on the same day. Bishop Manning delivered the sermon and confirmed a class of ten candidates.

"DELINQUENCY IS MOUNTING RAPIDLY", says J. Edgar Hoover, "and unless we all do our jobs better we can expect another era of lawlessness such as swept the country after the last war." This fact, and no one knows more about such conditions than Mr. Hoover, is a direct challenge to the Christian Church and every Churchman has a definite responsibility in the matter. Put first things first—support your Church by pledging yourself and your money to its service.

THE CHAPLAIN OF ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOL, Newport, Rhode Island, the Rev. H. Martin Davidson, spoke at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on Sunday, January tenth, in connection with the parish program of Religious Education. To quote but a paragraph, "Our faith in the Incarnation is the charter for the New World. That faith is that man is worthy of containing God, hence the definite and transcendent value of human life. This is back of and underlies all our worthy hope for a great future education in democracy."

INCREASES IN PLEDGES for the duplex envelopes have been made in many parishes because of the 1942 Every Member Canvass, which is an evidence of growing missionary zeal and Church loyalty. However, there is in many cases a decrease in contributions from those whose income is derived from investment. The greatly increased Income Tax and the new Victory Tax will make it hard for many congregations to meet their current obligations. These taxes are necessary to our war effort. There must, therefore, be a greater willingness to forego non-essential spending and an honest and determined effort to make sacrifices that the needs and opportunities of the Church may be met.

WE ARE NOT TO TAKE our necessary war sacrifices out on God and His Church. If we are to make sacrifices it is ourselves who must do the sacrificing.

—Bishop Conkling of Chicago

ACCORDING TO RECENT FIGURES furnished by the Rev. Dr. Henry B. Washburn of the Army and Navy Commission, 188,555 copies of "A Prayer Book for Soldiers and Sailors"; 111,200 pieces of Forward Movement literature; 31,396 Holy Communion folders; 96,067 Church War Crosses; and 21,212 Indentification Cards have been issued by the Commission. This is, of course, incidental to the ministerial and personal service which our Chaplains are giving to the men in the service.

A PRACTICAL WAY TO SERVE in this War time has been accepted by the Rev. James V. Knapp, Rector of All Saints' Church, Harrison. With the approval of the Vestry, Mr. Knapp has taken a night Job in a war plant and turns over his wages to the Church.

THE ANNUAL INSTITUTE of the Church Mission of Help was held on January 25th-27th at the George Washington Hotel, New York City. An all day discussion on the psychology of the adolescent was conducted by Mrs. Lucille Austin of the faculty of the New York School of Social Work. Bishop Sterrett of Bethlehem and the Rev. Dr. Don Frank Fenn of Baltimore, President of the National Church Mission of Help, were the speakers. The Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Rector of Grace Church, New York City, was head of the Program Committee.

THE SUGGESTION HAS OFTEN BEEN MADE that each parish should thoroughly cultivate its own missionary field. Ordinarily, less than half of the listed communicants of an average parish make regular contributions to current expenses, and less than half of those who do contribute give anything to Missions. One large city parish with over three thousand communicants listed received contributions from less than five hundred. Recently a certain rector stated, "I noticed that less than one-half of those contributing to my Church made any pledge for Missions. That would seem to indicate that these persons should be visited and asked to supplement their pledges to current expenses by pledges for Missions." A study of the Diocese over a term of years indicates that if those not pledging for Missions would equal the gifts of those who do pledge, our Dioceson Quota would be reached. Our Church vows include Church support. The Church is more than parochial; it is world-wide in its opportunities and obligations. Supplement your regular giving by generous weekly contributions for the extension of the Church.

THE ILLUMINATED STAR high above the Altar at Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall Street, New York City, which customarily shines only during the Christmas Season. will remain lighted for the duration of the war. "It will be a constant symbol of the Guiding Star of Bethlehem in a troubled world."

CONTINUED GIFTS ARE VITAL toward the maintenance of the Institute's program. The Institute never stands still. Improvements in program, fabric and equipment are continuous. As it grew from a little floating chapel in 1884 to the modern building (at 25 South Street), so it will continue to grow, serving merchant seamen of all nationalities, in peace and war. Therefore we face the New Year with confidence and faith.

(The Rev. Dr.) Harold H. Kelley, Director
Seamen's Church Institute of New York

Plan your 1943 budget to include a generous gift to this greatest of agencies devoted to sailors.

"I'VE BEEN A SIGNAL CAMERAMAN ever since I got into the Army. A very interesting job with interesting assignments. One was with a company of Negro infantrymen in the middle of the hot Arizona desert. Tough characters—but they said Grace before each meal."
—Excerpt from a soldier's letter to the Rev. Flint Kellogg, Rector of the Church of the Mediator in the Bronx

CHAPLAINS AND WORKERS IN COLLEGES in the East held their Annual Conference at the General Theological Seminary on January 25th-26th. The speakers scheduled included the Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr. Chaplain of Columbia University, the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham, Jr., of the Seminary, Prof. Charles E. Gus of New York University, and the Rev. Alden E. Kelley of the National Council.

THE ANNUAL DINNER OF THE CHURCH ARMY was held at Schrafft's Restaurant, New York City, on Thursday, January twenty-first. It took the form of a special occasion to honor the retiring Treasurer of the Church Army in the United States, Mr. S. Van B. Nichols. Mr. Nichols has been Treasurer of the Church Army for the past thirteen years and has rendered devoted and loyal service. At the importunity of the Directors, Mr. Nichols agreed to consider his resignation in abeyance until some one could be found to take his place. Members of the Church Army told of their work; the Director, Captain Estabrook, made his interesting annual report. About one hundred and seventy-five persons were present.

MISSION SERVICES at St. George's Church, New York City, were held during the week of February seventh. The Rev. Alan G. Whittemore, Superior of the Order of the Holy Cross, was the Missioner. In an open letter to the parishioners of St. George's, Fr. Whittemore said: "The Mission Services are very informal and consist chiefly of a straight-forward address each evening on one of the main tenets of the Christian Faith. During the six nights we cover the whole ground-work of our Religion. No difficulties are dodged; the facts of sin, sorrow and death are frankly faced; and we do our best together, as in God's sight, to catch the full, rich vision of His glorious revelation to a world staggering under the blows of war. I need not say how much every one of us needs this."

UNDERSCORED PASSAGES serve to personalize Testaments distributed through the U. S. O. to men in the Service. Small groups of women mark important selected passages and each marks, in addition, her own favorite verse These handmarked Testaments thus present a special and personal appeal to the men receiving them.

FORTY-SIX FORMER CHOIR BOYS of St. Thomas Church, New York City, are enrolled in the services of our Country. We can be sure that they join in the singing of the hymns of the Church at Camp Services, as well as do their full part in the grim tasks of war.

A SEVENTEENTH CENTURY PRAYER by Bishop Hackett is worthy of attention today. "Lord, lift us out of private mindedness and give us public souls to work for Thy Kingdom by daily creating that atmosphere of a happy temper and generous heart which alone can bring the Great Peace."

THERE IS TALK OF CLOSING UP THE CHURCHES. Closing up the Churches, Schools and Libraries would be a fatal mistake in our national policy. It is a serious state of mind that we have gotten into if we look upon theatres, saloons, breweries, and dance halls as "essentials" and the Churches, Schools and Libraries as "non-essentials". If we start going down that road the end does not present a happy picture. We cannot believe that this proposal to close the Churches and Schools will be carried out. Let us show how essential we think our Churches are by our regular attendance, no matter what the weather may be.

A SERVICE COMMEMORATING the Fifteenth Anniversary of the entrance into Life Eternal of Phillips Brooks, Bishop of Massachusetts, was held in the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, January seventeenth, at four o'clock. The Bishop of the Diocese presided and gave the closing prayer and blessing. The Rev. Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan, Rector of St. James Church, New York City, was the special preacher. After fifty years, the personality and spiritual power of Phillips Brooks are still felt in America's religious life. He was a great man and accompanies those others, great and good, who shine as a galaxy of stars in the firmaments of our nation's glory. To the later generation he is remembered best as the author of "O Little Town of Bethlehem", but to others he is the embodiment of our ideals of a great man, simple and of deathless spiritual power.

THE WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION of Grace Church, New York City, had the Very Rev. Angus Dun, Dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, as speaker at their meeting on Sunday, January tenth.

THE MOST EXPENSIVE PIECE OF FURNITURE in any Church is the empty pew, so stated an Insurance Adjuster to the Rector of Christ Church, Riverdale.

A CHRISTMAS TEA was given by the Mission Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary of our Diocese, Miss Elsie C. Hutton, Chairman, at the Beekman Hotel, New York City, on Tuesday, January fifth. Especial guests were the missionaries in the metropolitan area. Refreshments were served. Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby President, and Mrs. Henry Hill Pierce, a former President, poured. About seventy-five persons were present during the afternoon.

THE WEDNESDAY NIGHT DANCES for sailors and soldiers continue to be held in the parish house of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City. These are a much appreciated contribution of the parish to the social life of the Armed Forces of our Country, stationed for a time in New York.

"Our Father who are in Heaven"

Thy Kingdom come
Thy will be done
On earth as it is in Heaven"

Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us
Lead us not into Temptation"
January 24th—The Doxology
"For thine is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory
For ever and for ever. Amen."
January 31st—"Lord teach us to Pray"

THE HARDER THE GOING, the stronger the will to serve; the more difficult the times, the greater the urge to give—such is the nobility of mankind." (Selected) True of good Americans and of loyal Churchmen!

SARDAR HARDIT SINGH MALIK, C. I. F., O. B. E., I. C. S., First India Government Trade Commissioner to the United States and Canada, recently gave an authoritative and exteremely interesting talk on India in the parish house of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City.

THE JANUARY ISSUE OF THE LOOKOUT, monthly publication of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, carries an interesting article on "Sailor's Wives". It is packed full of human interest. Every issue of this excellent publication is replete with articles and stories of the sea, and of the work of the Institute for sailors, that will stir the heart and imagination of all lovers of the sea and doers of good works. Send a contribution to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, 25 South Street, New York City, and ask that your name be placed on the mailing list of The Lookout.

TALK IT OVER! Talk costs so little and yet it can mean so much. Why not use it to the benefit of our Church. If the Church is worth anything to you at all, it is worth talking about. So let us talk about it whenever we can. A mere statement of your own interest will serve in a great measure to interest others. Talk it over!

WHEN A MAN DIES it is expected that a service shall be held especially for him. Yet while that same man was alive, he may have ignored several thousand other services which his fellows gladly would have shared with him.

THE CHURCH OF THE MEDIATOR IN THE BRONX now owns the former Masonic Hall and Club House (in the rear of the Church) at 3037 Corlear Avenue with its excellent bowling alleys, pool tables, dance hall, and other recreational facilities.

SPECIAL RUSSIAN SERVICES for Russia at War were held at St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, on Sunday, January third. Bishop Makary of the Russian Orthodox Church of Brooklyn officiated. A Russian Choir sang. The service was sponsored by the Lower West Side Committee of Russian War Relief, of which the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Rector of St. Peter's Church, is the Chairman. A large congregation was present. This splendid service was followed by a rally on the afternoon of Sunday, February fourteenth, which inaugurated "Chelsea for Russia" Week. The specific activity of the Week was the drive in the interest of the Scrolls, which are signed testimonials carrying contributions for our Russian friends, which are to be placed in a permanent Museum in Moscow after the war.

"THE WORLD IS FACING its greatest moral and spiritual crisis. It is the work of the Church to inspire and strengthen in the people of our land the faith, the courage, the inflexible purpose that we need. Christianity is the only spiritual power great enough to overcome the philosophy of Nazism. It is our fervent prayer that when the war is ended there may be a better and more Christian world order and that America may bear her full share in organizing a fellowship of nations which shall bring justice and brotherhood and peace among men, and which shall make it impossible for any nation again to bring such a calamity and tragedy upon men as this World War."

MANY COMMUNICANTS OF THE DIOCESE will be interested in the review of the activities of the Church of the Transfiguration (The Little Church Around the Corner), New York City, for the past year. The following is taken from their Sunday Bulletin:—

"We have a membership of 602 active communicants. Public services during the year were: Holy Communion 614, Matins 38, Evening Prayer 38, Sermons 106, Special Lenten Services 47, Private Services (Communion for the Sick) 40, Funerals 89, Baptisms 177, Confirmations 14, Marriages 1311. The attendance for the year was as follows: 9,902 received Holy Communion; 51,084 attended services (Sundays, weekdays, Lenten services); 42,516 visitors (estimated from average weekly visitors and sightseers); 26,220 attended weddings. The visitors' book in the vestibule shows that every state in the Union is represented. The Parish has a very active Woman's Auxiliary, Altar Guild, Transfiguration Guild, Transfiguration Branch of the Periodical Club, Acolyte's Guild, Choir Organization and Daughters of the King. We have an active branch of St. Luke's Social Service and we support a bed at the House of the Holy Comforter and an endowed room at St. Luke's Home for Aged Women. We are the home of the Episcopal Actors' Guild which has a membership of more than 1,000. This organization meets in the Guild Hall and holds a tea for its members every afternoon except Saturdays, for eight months of the year."

"THE RECTOR'S MAIL BOX is the outgrowth of the many requests that we have received from our young men in the Armed Forces", states the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, "for the addresses of their friends from home now scattered as soldiers, sailors and aviators. As it is against the regulations for us to publish these addresses, we are notifying all service men from the Parish that they may send their letters to the Church office here for forwarding to the correct Post Office areas." Persons in the parish may also send letters to men in the Service to Mr. Beaty for forwarding to the proper addresses.

WHY DON'T YOU GO TO CHURCH is a live question. The Clergy of the Bronx recently sent out questionnaires in an attempt to secure reasons. Illuminating answers were received, some of which were not complimentary to the Church, but all worth study. The Clergy have collated their material and will use it effectively in their Forward-in-Service movement.

FORWARD MOVEMENTS when built on the fundamental truth that effective Christianity must mean bold witnessing for its Founder, adherence to undeviating principles, changing the community's life and conduct through personal change in the individual, can become the "Commandos" and shock troops of the whole Christian advance.

—R. J. Fraser, Ottawa

A STATEMENT AND A PROMISE: "And ye shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences . . . And many false prophets shall rise, and deceive many. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away."—St. Matthew XXIV

THE NEW WORK ON ST. MARY'S ORGAN has been finished. "When our organ was planned ten years ago, we did many things that were revolutionary to the accepted American practice. After careful consideration, the type of organ chosen was that found in European Cathedrals—the Classic Organ. This is the only type of organ suited to our Cathedral-like St. Mary's and to the music that belongs here. This type of instrument alone is capable of expressing the Catholic aspiration for the ideal. Our judgment has been justified by the passage of time. The organ at St. Mary's was one of the first to return to the classic conception of tonal structure. It initiated a movement that has spread over the whole of the United States.

MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND NAMES OF MEN in our Armed Forces have been inscribed in the Book of Prayer at the Victory Shrine at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, by relatives and friends who have offered prayers at the Shrine for their loved ones and for world peace. The Victory Shrine is visited daily by visitors from all parts of the Country.

THE CALVARY EVANGEL, New York City, for February has two pages of quotations from statements made by Washington and Lincoln. We print one of each: "No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men more than the people of the United States. Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency." (Washington). "I have felt His Hand upon me in great trials and submitted to His guidance and I trust that as He shall further open the way, I will be ready to walk therein, relying on His help and trusting in His goodness and wisdom." (Lincoln)

DEAF PEOPLE ARE HELPING THE WAR EFFORT by working in industrial plants in various parts of the Country. Eleven deaf women are employed in an ordnance plant in Des Moines, Iowa; sixty deaf persons (ten women) are competent workers in war production in a plant at Louisville, Kentucky.

"SOME OF US IN THIS ARMY feel that each hour of our time is spent in a really great cause, a cause much greater than any man can lead. We are here in the service of our Country. But, in a fuller sense, we are in the service of Him Who died for us almost two thousand years ago. He died to make us free. Not politically free, but spiritually free. Free from the fear of others. Aren't we fighting for that today? The privilege of not living always in the fear of war. The privilege of extending the Christian Ideal of Brotherly Love throughout the world. It is a great cause. I pray that it may be triumphant. We will hold the War Front. The offering I am sending (a bill enclosed) use to hold the Spiritual Front."

—From a letter to the Rector of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville, The Rev. Dr. Charles Breck Ackley, sent to him by a communicant

EVANGELISM TO BE REALISTIC must be the announcement of good news to people where they are. Furthermore the good news of the Gospel must be good news for people in the condition under which they live.

—Bishop Atwill, North Dakota

THE ANNUAL MESSENGER of St. Mary's Church, Sherwood Park, Yonkers, is a thirty-two page and cover booklet full of parish news, names of members of Church organizations, pictures of Church events and of young men who have gone into the Armed Forces. The Rev. Van. Rensselaer Gibson, Vicar of St. Mary's is Editor and General Manager. The cost of the book is covered by pages of advertising. St. Mary's was organized forty-seven years ago.

A CLASS OF EIGHTY-TWO CANDIDATES was confirmed by Bishop Gilbert at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on Wednesday evening, January sixth.

FIFTY-THREE CHURCHES in the Diocese are listed by the Seamen's Church Institute of New York as Church Auxiliaries which work for the Institute by knitting sweaters and socks, and making and rolling surgical bandages. The group of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City made a total of 26,500 surgical bandages in 1942. Other Church groups secured and contributed clothes, victrola records, games, books and magazines.

THE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER is to be observed throughout the Church on the first Friday in Lent. Special literature may be obtained from 281 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

VICTORY HONOR ROLL PLAQUES made of a new plastic, looking almost exactly like real bronze, may be purchased at very moderate prices. Parishes not able to afford real bronze plaques will find this new plastic much cheaper and a good substitute.

THERE IS MUCH IGNORANCE of and about the Bible among Church people. The Rev. Dr. Frank Dean Gifford, Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, attacks this problem by propounding a Biblical Question each Sunday during February, invites written answers, and gives the correct answer the succeeding Sunday, e.g.—"Where do we find the Hebrew poem called the A.B.C. of the perfect wife?" All persons correctly answering the four questions will receive a suitable reward.

FIFTEEN LAYMEN, communicants of our Church in the Bronx, are writng a book for Lenten reading with a Foeword by the Bishop of the Diocese. Topics include Prayer, Missions etc. Further details will appear in the next issue of The Diocesan Bulletin.

DO NOT PRAY FOR EASY LIVES. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you shall be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come to you by the grace of God.

——Phillips Brooks

FOR LACK OF OIL, the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx, the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen, Rector, has had to discontinue the regular services in the Church. At present, and as long as it is necessary, the Sunday services, Sunday School and public worship are being held at the Home for the Blind, of which Mr. Larsen is the Chaplain. While of course somewhat inconvenient, the important thing is that the essential services of the Church will not be curtailed.

A PREVIEW OF NEW CATHEDRAL PICTURES in natural color was given by Canon West to a small group in the Laymen's Club room recently. This set of new pictures, together with the graphic and exceptionally interesting descriptions by Canon West, gave a vivid and lasting expression of the majesty and beauty of this greatest of Gothic Cathedrals. The massive structure, arches, columns, huge dimensions, the beauty in detail of its glass and sculpture, the spiritual significance of its symbolism, as shown by word and picture, inevitably must cause one to believe and to say, Verily this is the House of God and a place of Prayer for all People. The immensity of the Cathedral is aptly illustrated by the fact, as stated by Canon West, that there are approximately forty Parish Churches in the Diocese, each of which could, so far as width is concerned, be set inside the Great Rose Window! Just how many Churches could be set into the nave and Crossing, that tremendous space of a tenth of a mile long, has not been estimated. A number of our largest New York City Churches could be placed there and leave room to walk about.

A TYPICAL CHURCH MISSION OF HELP CASE has been built into an interesting motion picture and is available to our Churches.

A MISSIONARY BISHOP SAYS that St. John's Cathedral is "our greatest piece of Missionary Work". In acknowledging the Christmas Card, sent to him by Bishop Manning, which showed the great Rose Window of the Cathedral photographed in color, Bishop Moulton of Utah wrote: "I do thank you most heartily and sincerely for the beautiful picture which came yesterday. It is superb, and I am happy to possess it. St. John the Divine inspires us all. It is our greatest piece of Missionary Work."

FOUR LENTEN LECTURES are to be given by the Church Club of New York in its rooms at the Hotel Ambassador, New York City, on four consecutive Tuesday evenings, beginning March sixteenth. The general topic, "The Gospel in a Gentile World", will be discussed by the Rev. Dr. Donald F. Forrester of the General Theological Seminary.

THE OFFICES OF THE DIOCESAN TREASURER and of the Secretary of the Diocesan Committee on The Program of the Church are now located on the second floor, West Wing, of the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close. Telephone: CAthedral 8-3100.

THE CHURCH CLUB OF NEW YORK held a dinner at the Hotel Ambassador, New York City, on Thursday evening, February twenty-fifth, with the Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., Chaplain of Columbia University as its guest. The Rev. Edward N. West, Canon Sacrist of the Cathedral, gave a talk on the Cathedral, illustrated by the new stereopticon pictures in natural colors.

TEN YEARS AGO THIS EASTER the Rev. Harold F. Hohly preached his first sermon in Christ Church, Bronxville, and was instituted as Rector by the Bishop of the Diocese on Whitsunday 1933. The year just closed has in many ways been a difficult and trying year, but it has been the first year in a long while that Christ Church Parish has at the closing of the year been able to pay all current bills, as well as the Diocesan Assessment, and end the year with a small balance in the bank. Christ Church also overpaid its Missionary Quota. During these ten years the indebtedness of the Parish has been reduced almost $24,000. The annual budget of the Parish is approximately $32,000. The Church property is valued at $280,000 and carries mortgages of $65,000. The Church is one of the most beautiful in the Country. The number of communicants is listed at 1,150.

IF ANYTHING HAPPENS or is planned in your parish that you would like to know about if it occurred in another parish, send an account of it to The Diocesan Bulletin.

NEGRO TROOPS OF THE 372nd INFANTRY REGIMENT, a regiment of the U. S. A. assigned to Guard Duty in New York, attended Vespers at St. George's Church on Sunday, February twenty-first. Major Alstone W. Burleigh led his men in parade from their quarters at 23rd Street and Lexington Avenue to the Church. The Rev. Dr. Elmore M. McKee, Rector of the Parish, preached and was assisted in the service by the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, Rector of St. Philip's Church in Harlem, the largest Negro Parish in the Diocese. Major Burleigh is the son of the noted baritone singer and composer who has been a member of St. George's Choir for forty-nine years, and who sang at this service.

THE FUEL QUESTION AND THE SERVICES OF THE CHURCH

To the Clergy of the Diocese:—
Reverend and dear Brother:

At this time many of our Parishes and Missions are meeting difficulties on account of the fuel shortage and these difficulties may increase still further during the winter months.

Our congregations will, I know, meet this situation courageously, as they are meeting the necessary restriction in the use of gasoline. From my observation in going about the Diocese, I am inclined to think that the more difficult it becomes for people to get to Church the more earnestly they go there.

In the present fuel shortage I hope that no Church in our Diocese will be closed for this could not fail to be spiritually weakening and depressing. Some temporary arrangements can always be made in a Chapel or in the Parish House and the Church itself should not be closed.

Whatever emergency arrangements are made must of course be in accordance with the Law of the Church as declared in Canon 24 of the General Convention and with the principles of the Church given to us in the Prayer Book.

We may properly ask ourselves—Is it an impossible thing for us to endure a somewhat uncomfortably low temperature in our Churches at this time? Would it be a great hardship for us to wear extra clothing and keep on our overcoats during a service of thirty minutes or even at a service of an hour in length, in this time of War?

The difficulties and inconveniences which we are now meeting are slight indeed as we look at the whole world situation.

In this great Day of the Lord I pray, and believe, that these present small difficulties, and the far greater tests to come, will but spur all of us, clergy and people, to truer faithfulness and to deeper realization of our spiritual privileges, responsibilities, and opportunities.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

WILLIAM T. MANNING

RESIDENTIARY CANONS OF THE CATHEDRAL ELECTED

The Rev. Thomas Ayres Sparks
Canon Pastor

The Rev. Edward Nason West
Canon Sacrist

The Rev. James Green
Canon Precentor

On January twenty-sixth the Board of Trustees elected three Residentiary Canons of the Cathedral who were nominated for these Canonries by Bishop Manning. The Canons thus elected were: the Rev. Thomas A. Sparks, Canon Pastor; the Rev. Edward N. West, Canon Sacrist; and the Rev. James Green, Canon Precentor.

The Constitution of the Cathedral provides that the Bishop is the Head of the Cathedral, that the Dean and the Canons can be elected only upon nominations by the Bishop, and that there may be three Residentiary Canons.

All three of the new Canons have been serving on the Staff of the Cathedral and have been carrying on the work of their respective Canonries, and the Rev. James Green is also Headmaster of the Cathedral Choir School, in which more than forty boys receive their education and sing at the Cathedral Services, both on Sundays and on Weekdays.

At the present time Bishop Manning is himself, as Acting Dean, taking supervision of the work of the Cathedral and may continue to do so for some time to come.

The Cathedral is not a Parish. It has no Parochial Organizations and keeps no lists of Communicants, and therefore it does not compete with the Parishes but serves as a great Missionary Agency. It is the Church of the Bishop and of the whole Diocese. All people are invited to share in its worship. Its seats are free and open to all and its congregations come from everywhere.

All the Canons take part in the Services and in the Preaching at the Cathedral. The special duties of the several Canons are declared in the Statues of the Cathedral as follows:

The Canon Pastor is responsible for pastoral and spiritual ministrations to any and all persons who seek such help at the Cathedral, provided that such pastoral ministration shall not conflict with the relation of the persons concerned with their Parishes. It is the duty of the Canon Pastor to do all that may be in his power to strengthen the relation of such persons with their Parishes.

The Canon Sacrist has the care of the Cathedral as a place of Divine Worship. He oversees the preparations for all the Services and is the Master of Ceremonies upon all occasions. He has the care of all the ornaments and furnishings of the Cathedral and is the keeper of the Cathedral Records.

The Canon Precentor has general oversight of the music of the Cathedral and is responsible for the fitting performance of the musical parts of the Services, performing such work in conjunction with his duties as Headmaster of the Choir School.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S ORDER AGAINST PROFANITY

Posted on a Service Board in an Overseas Chapel

"The General is sorry to be informed that the foolish and wicked practice of profane cursing and swearing, a vice hitherto little known in our American Army, is growing into fashion. He hopes that the officers will, by example as well as influence, endeavor to check it and that both they and the men will reflect that we can little hope of the blessing of Heaven on our Army if we insult it by our impiety and folly. Added to this it is a vice so mean and low without any temptation that every man of sense and character detests and despises it."

EXCERPTS FROM THE SERMON OF BISHOP MANNING AT THE CATHEDRAL ON EASTER MORNING

"The Glory and Power of the Resurrection"

On this great Festival of Easter, I give you these two texts—"I am the Resurrection and the Life, he that believeth in me shall never die", and "I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

Those are the words of the Son of God. On the third day He rose from the dead. He ascended into Heaven and is now at the Right Hand of the Father. And so, this Easter Day, we lift up our prayers and thanksgiving to Him, where He now is, in His Eternal Glory —that Glory which, as He tells us Himself, He shared with the Father, from all Eternity, "before the world was".

This Easter Day tells us three things clearly.

First. Jesus Christ Who rose from the dead is alive and is on the Throne of God. Jesus Who worked in the Carpenter's Shop, Who walked in the streets of Jerusalem, Who lived in a humble human home, Who died for us on the Cross, is now in Glory at God's Right Hand.

It is this, and this alone, which gives Him the right to speak those sublime words which have brought faith and hope and blessing to mankind. "I am the Light of the World". "I am the Resurrection and the Life". "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me". "I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also". Who but Christ on the Throne can speak these words to us. They are the words of the Son of God.

Second. Jesus Who lives for us in Heaven still is with us, still comes to give us His grace and blessing, in His Church here on earth. Jesus is as real, and as near to us, in His Church today as He was to those who met and talked with Him on the day of His Resurrection. "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world". That is His own word to us.

Third. Jesus the Son of God now reigns in glory in Heaven and, if we live as His followers here, if we follow in faith and in life where He has led the way, we are to share His glory there in that life and be with Him forever. He tells us this Himself. "I go to prepare a place for you", He says, "that where I am, there ye may be also". And this great promise of the Son of God has special meaning for us just now when great numbers in our land and other lands, are giving their lives in this World-Wide War.

Brethren—As we face the tragic realities of this day, many are realizing their need of help and strength from God, many are feeling afresh their need of a full and living faith in Christ. Here in our land, and in other lands, many have been drifting towards a Religion which says much about rights, but little about duty, a Religion which thinks only about humanity and little about God, which lays great stress on service but little stress on faith, which puts all the emphasis on man and his power and very little on God and His power. Such a Religion has no real help for the soul in the time of trial and need, or indeed at any time. What help, or support, or guidance, is there in a merely humanitarian Religion? It is that putting of man in the place that belongs to God which has brought this present tragedy and calamity upon the world.

If any of us have strayed along that barren and hopeless path, the path of a semi-rationalistic, merely humanitarian Religion, let the Glory of Easter call us

VISIT OF SIR WILLIAM BEVERIDGE TO AMERICA

The Visit of Sir William Beveridge to this Country has aroused Nation-wide interest, and his epoch-marking Report on Social Security has been widely discussed and commented upon.

At the Luncheon given to Sir William and Lady Beveridge at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on June 3rd, the speakers were Judge Thomas D. Thacher, Mayor La Guardia, Mr. Bailey B. Burritt and Sir William Beveridge, and the Opening Prayer which follows was offered by Bishop Manning.

O God the Creator and Father of all men, we pray Thee to hasten the coming of Victory for the Forces of Freedom with Just and Righteous Peace for the sake of all mankind; and grant, we beseech Thee, that the tragedy and suffering of this War may summon us to truer effort to make this a better and a more Christian World.

Stir and strengthen us to do all that is in our power to make this a World in which all Nations shall share justly in Thy bountiful provision, a World in which through wise and enlightened measures the well-being of all shall be advanced, a World ruled not by the spirit of covetousness but by the spirit of service, a World in which men shall be delivered from the evils alike of grinding poverty and of excessive riches, and, with full freedom, shall walk in the paths of Justice, Peace, and World-Wide Brotherhood.

We ask this in the Name of Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

ONE DAY CONVENTION A SUCCESS

The war time experiment of confining the Diocesan Convention to a one-day program, Tuesday, May eleventh, proved to be a great success. True, there was a little "time tension", and the prospect of taking too long to vote the ballot for Deputies to General Convention caused some anxiety; but happily all the business of the Convention was done with due decorum and finished well within the allotted time.

With the adoption of a new system of balloting, there should ordinarily be ample time for transacting the business of the Convention. Perhaps it is just as well to have most reports submitted by title, although the personal reports of the heads of our women's organizations were missed.

Deputies to General Convention Elected

Balloting for Deputies to the General Convention next October resulted in the election of:

The Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks, Rector of St. Thomas Church, New York.

The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, New York.

The Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of Saint James the Less, Scarsdale.

The Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, Rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York.

Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, Bursar of the General Theological Seminary, and a Vestryman of Trinity Church, New York

The Hon. Augustus N. Hand of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals; Vestryman of Grace Church, New York.

Mr. Clarence G. Michalis, Vestryman of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York.

Mr. Edward K. Warren, member of St. James Church, New York.

St. Philip's Church, Harlem, makes Notable Advance

Among the present evidences of faith, earnestness, and devotion, at this difficult time, I must mention the complete payment of the debt on their Church by the congregation of St. Philip's Church, Harlem, the oldest congregation of coloured people in the Diocese of New York, and today one of our largest and most active parishes. As a part of the observance of the 125th Anniversary of the founding of St. Philip's, the debt of more than $18,000 was paid through the heroic and sacrificial efforts of the Vestry and People under the leadership of their Rector, the Reverend Shelton Hale Bishop, and ten days ago on May first, the Feast of St. Philip and St. James, I had the great happiness and privilege of Consecrating St. Philip's Church. On behalf of this Convention, and of the Diocese, I offer most hearty congratulations to the Rector, Vestry, and Congregation of St. Philip's Church upon their notable achievement, which is another illustration of the noble work that is being done in this Diocese by our coloured clergy and the people of their Congregations.

Work of Laymen Honored

I am happy to be able to tell you that owing to the able work of our Treasurer, Mr. Mansfield, who has given most generously of his time and thought to these matters, and also to the able work of Mr. Oxholm as Assistant Treasurer and as Executive Secretary of our Committee on the Program of the Church, the financial situation as to the work of our Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society is distinctly encouraging, although earnest effort is still needed, and will always be needed, for the maintenance and further extension of our Missionary Work. And I wish here to express my appreciation, and yours also, of the faithful, effective, and conscientious work done for so many years by Mr. Frank H. Merrill as Executive Secretary of our Diocesan Program of the Church. At his own wish, Mr. Merrill retired from that position but I am glad to say that he still continues his work for the Diocese as Managing Editor of the Diocesan Bulletin and in other important matters.

The Proposed Basic Principles of Union of the Episcopal Church with the Presbyterian Church

(The full address of the Bishop has been printed by order of Convention and copies may be obtained by writing to the Bishop's Office.)

In this Address I cannot deal fully and in detail with these proposed "Basic Principles" but let me make three statements plainly and clearly.

1st. I am opposed to these proposed "Basic Principles" because they are contrary to, and destructive of, the principles and teachings of the Prayer Book as to the Apostolic Ministry, and as to other essentials of the Faith. Those who fully believe and hold the Faith as the Prayer Book declares and teaches it cannot accept, nor assent to, these present Proposals, as is shown by the great volume of opposition and protest which has arisen within the Church.

2nd. I am opposed to these "Basic Principles" because even if a majority in our Church approved them, which I do not for one moment believe, I am certain that Christian Unity cannot be achieved by over-riding the conscientious convictions of great numbers of our faithful clergy and people as these proposed "Basic Principles" would do. From the letters which have been coming to me, I know that these proposed "Basic Principles" are opposed by many of those who regard themselves as low churchmen quite as strongly as by those who are regarded as high churchmen.

3rd. I am opposed to these present Proposals because I know that if these "Basic Principles" were accepted, or approved, by our General Convention this would bring actual crisis in the Episcopal Church. I do not believe that the General Convention will accept these Proposals. But if these proposed "Basic Principles" were accepted, or approved, by our General Convention, the issue for those who hold and believe the Faith as the Prayer Book holds and declares it, would be grave indeed.

Manifestly the time limit for the Convention could not allow much discussion of this important subject. At the conclusion of the Bishop's Address, the Convention rose and joined in a great and prolonged demonstration of approval which expressed unmistakably the feeling of the Convention as a whole. Two of the Diocesan Clergy took the floor to express their disagreement with the Bishop's statement, but by an almost unanimous vote the Convention ordered the address to be printed for distribution. Letters are now coming from many parts of the country asking for copies of it.

NEWS RECEIVED BY THE BISHOP FROM OUR CHAPLAINS AND FROM OTHERS IN OUR ARMED FORCES

The Bishop receives letters constantly from our Chaplains in the Army and Navy and from those from our Diocese who are serving in the Armed Forces. A letter just received from a Chaplain says, "It is a great help to all of us to know that we are being thought about and prayed for by those back home. You may be assured we are thinking of and praying for you and the work of the Diocese." Another letter from one of our Chaplains from this Diocese tells of high commendation from the Battalion Commander. In his official recommendation of this Chaplain for promotion, the Commanding Officer wrote, "In helping the men make mental adjustments, and adjust themselves to Army life, his services are indispensable. The men of this Battalion respect and listen to him. He accompanies the men on night problems and numerous times during the days in their training. He knows he has a soldier congregation and speaks to them as such. From the standpoint of elevating morals his work has been superb. Recommend promotion to Captain. His work is superior in every respect."

The Bishop learns that one of our Postulants for Holy Orders who is in the Army has joined the Ski Troops because he hopes after the war to serve as a Missionary in Alaska and believes that the Ski Training will be of value in his work as a Missionary.

A Second Lieutenant, who also is one of our Postulants, writes, "At present I am on overseas duty in Australia. I have found Army life quite pleasant and, I believe, an excellent experience for one preparing to serve God as a Priest. The Army, especially in War time, is really made up of fundamentally religious men. There are no atheists in foxholes as one tough sergeant remarked when he was in rather a precarious position. I certainly thank you for giving me permission (while continuing as a Postulant) to serve our Country."

Recently, in the course of six days, the Bishop received four letters, one from a Sergeant in Texas, one from a Private in the Officers Training School in Oklahoma, one from a Lieutenant in the Air Corps, one from a Cadet in the Coast Guard, none of them belonging to this Diocese and all of them expressing most earnest opposition to the proposed merging of the Episcopal Church with the Presbyterian Church. Every letter at present received from those in the Armed Forces which has mentioned the matter has expressed strong opposition to this Proposal. One of these letters says, "My voice is as nothing in this unfortunate affair, but I do know that I speak with many laymen in the Armed Forces who are unable to express their opinions except in letters of this sort." And the same feeling is expresed in all these letters.

THE BISHOP'S EASTER SERMON

back, back to the Eternal Realities, back to the Glory and Power and Truth of Revealed Religion, back to the Faith of the Scriptures and of the Holy Catholic Church of Christ from the beginning; and so let this great Festival of Easter call us—not backwards but forward to the confidence of a certain faith and "the comfort of a reasonable, religious and holy hope",—forward with our whole minds and souls to full belief and trust in Jesus the Son of God, Who hung on the Cross for us, Jesus Who rose from the dead, Jesus Who today lives for us, and hears our prayers, and answers them from the Right Hand of God.

ANNUAL FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE SERVICE HELD IN THE CATHEDRAL MAY 16th

Nurses fill the Cathedral Crossing and Nave

"America is on the side of Almighty God in this world conflict", Bishop Manning told the nurses of all hospitals and religious faiths in New York at the 19th Annual Florence Nightingale Service held in the Cathedral on Sunday evening, May sixteenth.

"In this great conflict we know that we are fighting for the right", the Bishop said. "We know that our own nation and all other nations have much to repent of in the past, but in this world battle we and our allies are fighting for the very principles of humanity and of religion—justice, liberty and human brotherhood. The important thing is not how long we live in this world, but how we use our lives while we are here. Our work here is to form a character, to develop a soul, to grow in likeness to God whose children we all are."

The Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, Minister of Christ Methodist Church, New York City, also spoke. Taps were sounded for nurses who have died during the past year.

BISHOP MANNING WRITES FOREWORD FOR THE OFFICIAL BOOK OF MARTYRS OF THE SERBIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH

At the request of His Grace Bishop Dionysius and the Authorities of the Serbian Eastern Orthodox Church, Bishop Manning has written the Foreword for the officially prepared and verified Book of Martyrs of the Serbian Church in Yugoslavia. Ten thousand copies of this official volume are to be published and many of them will be distributed in the United States. From Bishop Manning's Foreword to this important volume we quote the following:

"Let us remember that in honoring the Serbian people we must pay full honour and reverence to the Serbian Orthodox Church, for the whole life of the Serbians is built around and upon their Church. It is the Orthodox Church of Serbia, which has inspired in the Serbians that love of justice and liberty, and that unfaltering fortitude, which makes them so noble a people, and which they have shown so truly in this World War. It is for this reason that the full fury of the Nazi invaders has been visited upon the Church and that the Bishops and Clergy have been treated with such special ferocity.

The martyrdoms and sacrifices of the Serbian Church and People are far greater than can ever be told but this volume gives the record in part. As a historic record, as a reminder of the hideous evils for which Nazism stands, and as a testimony to the spirit, the character, and the heroism of the Serbian people, in this World Conflict, this volume has great importance.

May the Serbian Church which has been so greatly served by its martyred Patriarch, Bishops, Priests, and People, ever continue its noble ministry and its unwavering witness to the Faith of Christ, and when this War is ended may the heroic people of Serbia be given the high place to which they are entitled in that better and more Christian World, that World of Justice, Peace and Brotherhood which we all hope and pray may be established.

THE REV. DR. VAN KEUREN ACCEPTS CALL TO ST. BARNABAS' CHURCH, IRVINGTON

The Diocesan Social Service Commission announces with regret the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren who, for over twelve years, has been its Executive Secretary. Dr. Van Keuren is returning to parish life and has accepted a call to the rectorship of St. Barnabas' Church, Irvington-on-Hudson.

Before coming to New York, Dr. Van Keuren was Rector of Christ Church, Indianapolis, and had previously served as Executive Director of the Family Service Society of Columbus, Ohio. As Executive Secretary of the Diocesan Social Service Commission, he has acted as consultant for the Bishop and the Clergy of the Diocese in social service matters.

The Social Service Commission, one of the first diocesan departments to engage an experienced specialist in social work, has held a position of leadership throughout the Church. Its monthly bulletins have had a wide circulation and have been frequently quoted in church and secular papers. Through its board committees on legislation, home and family life, and Christian social relations, it has had a deep influence on marriage and other welfare legislation and on the whole field of Church social work. Its book, "A Summary of Marriage Statutes in the State of New York", was given a special broadcast by the New York Welfare Council, and has served as a model for similar studies in other states. The Commission has conducted many conferences and study groups, published programs for service to the Armed Forces and for the care of the aged, and maintained a case consultation and referral service in many parishes and missions, leading to the relief of social problems and to better understanding and cooperation between the churches and social agencies.

Social Service Commission Adopts Resolution

In connection with the resignation of The Rev. Floyd Van Keuren as Executive Secretary, the Social Service Commission adopted unanimously the following resolution:

"Twelve and a half years ago in the depths of the great depression, the Social Service Commission of the Diocese of New York chose as its Executive Secretary the Rev. Floyd Van Keuren, D.D. He was selected because of his special preparation and experience in the field of social work and his ability to meet social workers of all schools and all faiths on their own grounds and to speak their language.

The Commission chose well. Throughout the most trying years experienced by this Diocese in its entire history, he has rendered understanding and notable service, not only in the organization and policy-determining functions of the Commission, but in counselling with individual rectors and parish workers in specified cases; not only in the limits of the social work of the Diocese and its parishes, but in representing the Episcopal Church in the councils of all social workers of all denominations in the greatest metropolitan area in the world at a time when the metropolis was in the greatest need in its history. In all this he has gained the respect and confidence of all.

He resigns to re-enter parish work as rector of St. Barnabas Church, Irvington-on-Hudson. We accept this resignation with great regret, and with gratitude for his distinguished service to the Commission and the Diocese, and we wish him many years of happiness, contentment and success in his new undertaking."

TESTIMONIAL DINNER TENDERED TO THE REV. DR. RUSSELL

On Thursday evening, April 29th, a Testimonial Dinner was tendered to the Rev. Dr. Edward Charles Russell, Rector of St. Ann's Church of Morrisania, on the occasion of his 32nd year as an ordained Priest and on his appointment as Chaplain of the Fire Department of the City of New York.

The Dinner was held at the Belvedere Roof Garden of the Hotel Astor. The Hon. James A. Hamilton, Ph.D., sometime Commissioner of Correction of the City of New York and later Secretary of State for the State of New York, was Toastmaster.

Among the distinguished guests present were the Hon. Newbold Morris, President of the City Council; the Hon. Patrick Walsh, Fire Commissioner; Assistant Chief in Command of the Fire Department, John J. McCarthy; Chaplain Edward R. Lissman; Chaplain Joseph A. Doyle; Chaplain Robert A. Brown; the Rev. Albert J. Hambret, Rector of Grace Church, West Farms; the Hon. James F. Geraghty; the Hon. James J. Deering; and Charles H. Wessbecher, Senior Warden of St. Ann's Church.

Among the clubs represented at the Dinner were the St. George Association, Abbott E. Kittredge Club, Fire Square Club, Daughters of the Defenders of the Republic, Anchor Club, Holy Name Society, American Bluejackets, Uniformed Firemen's Association, Lt's Eligible Association, Captain's Eligible Association, St. Ann's Choir and Church School, Naer Tormid Society, Chief's Association.

Mr. Wessbecher acted as General Chairman and presented Dr. Russell, on behalf of the committee in charge, with a gift in token of their respect and esteem.

Dr. Russell became Rector of St. Ann's Church in 1925. During the past eighteen years, besides conducting all of the work of an important parish, he has brought the parish into wide prominence as The Church of the Patriots. Here in the churchyard repose the remains of Gouveneur Morris, one of its famous parishioners, whose name is written immortally in the records of American history, who was in very truth the "Penman of the Constitution". Through Dr. Russell's continued efforts, the Council of the City of New York officially has recognized St. Ann's as an historical shrine and voted funds to appropriately mark the Morris grave.

The Centennial of the Parish was observed with stirring and appropriate ceremonies in October 1941.

THE BISHOP BLESSES FLAGS AT BELLEVUE HOSPITAL

A United States Flag and a Church Flag were blessed by Bishop Manning in an impressive and colorful service at the Chapel of Christ the Consoler, Bellevue Hospital, New York City, on Sunday, March seventh.

The flags were carried by two members of the American Women's Hospital Reserve Corps, and a girl and a boy, patients at the hospital, offered them to the Bishop for his blessing. Taking part in the processional and in the ceremony, and bearing their own flags, were representatives of the General Duffy Post, No. 1141 of the American Legion and the Woman's Auxiliary; of the Catholic War Veterans, of Metcalf Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; of the American Women's Hospital Reserve Corps, of the Woman's Auxiliary of the 369th Regiment of Harlem and of the Seegar Post, No. 1037 of the Amercan Legion.

In his brief address, Bishop Manning spoke of the Chapel of Christ the Consoler as the spiritual center of a "wonderful work" of ministry. Two great loyalties, he said, are demanded of us all today—loyalty to the great principles for which our Country stands and, as Christians, loyalty to the Faith.

Prayers were read by the Rev. William E. Sprenger, Director of the City Mission Society, which Society has chaplains in this and 33 other city, county and state institutions.

A GREAT EPISCOPALIAN

We all know a parish which unfailingly pays its obligations, and also its additional necessity for those who do not pay, and yet when it was urged that it abate its payment because the roof was leaking, its Rector said: "Let it leak. It is leaking worse in some poor mission station out in the 'field which is the world'!" Some of us might say that Rector is not very smart. But we have to say that he is a great Episcopalian!—Bishop Spencer, West Missouri.

We have some clergy in this Diocese who can match this in spirit and action; men who have given up special parochial activities that missionary obligations might be paid. Others there are who pay large sums for music, surpassing their Missionary Quota, and fail to do their share to care for the missionary work of the Church.

SESQUICENTENNIAL OF CHRIST CHURCH, MANHATTAN, OBSERVED

Christ Church, Manhattan
Broadway at Seventy-first Street

The One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of Christ Church, Broadway at 71st Street, Manhattan, was observed with special services during the week of March 31st—April 7th; the three important events being:—

Wednesday, March 31st. Historical Sermon by the Rector, the Rev. William H. Pickford.

Sunday, April 4th. Sermon by the Right Rev. Ernest M. Stires, Retired Bishop of Long Island.

Wednesday, April 7th. Confirmation and Sermon by the Bishop of the Diocese.

The circumstances preceding the organization of Christ Church are of especial interest. The Rev. Joseph Pilmore, who became the first rector, was originally sent as a missionary to the American Colonies by John Wesley, but decided later to adopt the principles of the Episcopal Church. He was ordained by Bishop Seabury in 1785 and accepted a parish in Philadelphia, which he represented at the notable General Convention held in St. Paul's Church, New York, in 1786. This Convention was the occasion of the great controversy as to the validity of Bishop Seabury's consecration as Bishop. Efforts were made to expel Mr. Pelmore from the Convention as not being properly ordained; these failed and happily the dissensions were finally healed.

In 1793 a petition signed by 173 members of Trinity Church was presented to the Vestry asking that Mr. Pilmore be called as Assistant Minister of Trinity Parish. This was denied and the petitioners organized a parish of their own and in 1793 filed in the County Clerk's office their certificate of incorporation under the name of Christ Church, and called Mr. Pilmore as their first rector.

A house of worship was erected on Ann Street. The second rector was the Rev. Thomas Lyell who served the parish for 44 years.

The Rev. Ferdinand C. Ewer was the fifth rector of Christ Church. He resigned in 1871 because his congregation were unable to follow his advanced churchmanship, and organized the new Church of St. Ignatius.

The present Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston was the tenth rector, and is the only living ex-rector of the Parish.

The Rev. John R. Atkinson, who died a few years ago, was Rector from 1917 to 1934.

The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Robinson, a former rector of Christ Church, Bronxville, acted as Priest-in-charge during the difficult transition period from 1934 to 1941, when the Rev. William H. Pickford was called as the twelfth rector.

The Church building on Broadway at 71st Street was completed in 1890. In 1925 the front of the church property was leased for commercial purposes, which involved the tearing down of towers and the Broadway entrance. Shortthereafter the remainder of the building was seriously damaged by fire. The Church edifice was rebuilt and consecrated by Bishop Manning in 1926.

At times during these one hundred and fifty years the Parish has had mission chapels and operated trade schools, day nurseries etc. The parish has passed through a difficult period of adjustment and seems well set on a new era of usefulness to the community.

The Church was filled with parishioners and friends to hear Bishop Stires preach the Anniversary Sermon.

Present at this Anniversary Service, by special invitation, were representatives of other "old churches", among which were Trinity, Grace, St. Michael's, St. Mary's, Manhattanville, St. Peter's, Westchester.

Bishop Manning confirmed a class of candidates presented by the Rector on Wednesday, April seventh. These with the forward looking communicants of the parish represent the future.

CLERGY INSTITUTE HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL

Fifty-nine of the approximately one hundred and fifty clergy who attended a part of or the entire Conference

An Institute for the Clergy of the Diocese, sponsored by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, was held at the Cathedral on Thursday, March fourth. The Rev. John Oliver Patterson, Rector of Grace Church, Madison, Wisconsin, was the Leader.

The Bishop of the Diocese was the celebrant at the service of Holy Communion at 8:45 a.m.

Leslie J. A. Lang, the Rev. James Harry Price, the Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer, the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason, the Rev. Edward N. West, and the Rev. James Green.

Approximately one hundred and fifty of the clergy were present at some time of the day, and many came from out of town.

The Institute was a success and the Leaders are planning for another later in the year.

The Bishop greeted those present at the opening session and also presided at the general sessions in the Synod Hall. Group meetings for discussion were held during the morning under the following Leaders: The Rev. Albert H. Frost, Chairman, the Rev. Hugh McCandless, the Rev.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PRESENTATION SERVICE, MAY 22, 1943

The Banner for the largest Missionary Offering was presented to the Sunday School of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, for its offering of $1,729.73.

Over three thousand children and their friends from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese attended the Annual Service for presenting their Missionary Offerings at the Altar in the Cathedral on Saturday afternoon, May twenty-second.

Many who used to come from points outside of the City in private cars and buses were unable to attend this year because of gas rationing.

The Rev. Canon Edward N. West had charge of the procession and the great Vested Choir of one thousand, in many hued vestments, marched in procession about the Cathedral Close and were reviewed by the Bishop and other Clergy before entering through the Great Bronze Doors to their reserved section in the Cathedral.

The Rev. Canon Thomas A. Sparks read the Lessons and Prayers, and Bishop Gilbert made the announcement of the awards.

Bishop Manning Welcomes the Children

Bishop Manning welcomed the children and said, "We are all glad to be here again at this Service at which, year after year, you bring your Missionary Offerings to send the help and blessing of the Church to others in all parts of the world."

According to his custom at this service, the Bishop asked the children a number of questions and indicated the right answers which were repeated by the whole of the great congregation in unison. We learn that these questions and answers were carried home by the children and repeated in their Sunday Schools in many parts of the Diocese

It is a gratifying and encouraging fact that the Missionary Offering of the children was $1,559 larger than last year; the total offering this year being $26,190.

After his address, the Bishop presented the various awards and banners as listed below. All awards are made on the basis of the official reports received.

This Year's Service Sponsored by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education

For a number of years the Junior Clergy Missionary Association of New York was in charge of the Annual Presentation Service. In 1922 the promotion of this great Children's Service was turned over to the Nation Wide Campaign. Mr. Frank H. Merrill, its Secretary, was for some time the only layman active in this association and naturally fell heir to the Presentation Service and had charge of planning this Service for the past twenty years. With the retirement of Mr. Merrill from the secretaryship of the Program of the Church, the Bishop transferred the sponsorship of the Presentation Service to the Diocesan Board of Religious Education.

All missionary money secured by the Sunday Schools, including the Lenten Offering, applicable to the Budget of the Diocese or the General Church, counts on the parish and diocesan quotas.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS

The office of the Registrar of the Diocese of New York has been moved to St. Barnabas Rectory, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York. Letters should be sent to the Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren at that address.

The Office of the Social Service Commission has been moved to 416 Lafayette Street. A secretary will be on duty only part time. Appointments should be made by telephone (GRamercy 5-1413).

CHURCH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Church Club of New York held its Annual Meeting on May third in its rooms at the Hotel Ambassador and elected the following officers:

A SOLDIER'S EQUIPMENT

"Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

"Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;

"And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

"Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

"And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God."

Ephesians 6:13-17

THE KING OF KINGS SHOWN IN DIOCESE

THE TEAM

The Committee on Visual Education, Diocesan Board of Religious Education, of which the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania and Dean of the Bronx Convocation is Chairman, did good service to the Church during Holy Week by showing the great motion picture, "The King of Kings", for twelve parishes in the Diocese. These were: St Peter's, Peekskill; St. George's, Manhattan; St. Luke's, Williamsbridge; Chapel of the Incarnation, New York; St. Stephen's, Woodlawn; Grace Church, City Island; Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale; St. Thomas Chapel, New York; Church of the Mediator, Bronx; St. James' Church, Fordham; Trinity Church, Morrisania; and Emmanuel Church, Bronx.

Over 2,200 persons saw the picture during the week; Showings were made every night during Holy Week and others in the afternoon.

The Team in the picture above put in a strenuous week, sometimes not reaching home until after midnight, the two clergymen taking their regular work besides. The Rev. Mr. Henry furnished the car for the trips. Mr. Bittner helped with the equipment; the Rev. Mr. Theopold supervised the whole experiment and projected the twelve reel sound film.

The great success in showing this film demonstrated the need of greatly enlarging this department of diocesan activities.

NEW ZEALAND FLAG PRESENTED TO ZION CHURCH, DOBBS FERRY

The Flag of New Zealand was formally presented to Zion Church, Dobbs Ferry, on Sunday morning, May sixteenth, by Thomas Magee, a member of the parish, and was received by the Rector, the Rev. Charles E. Karsten.

Robert Magee of Khandallah Wellington, New Zealand, sent this Flag to his uncle in Dobbs Ferry for presentation to Zion Church and it has been added to the historical collection which has been assembled over a period of years. Among the flags of foreign nations that are included in the collection are the standards of Great Britain, France and Norway.

In addition, the original pewplate of Washington Irving and the rare lace chalice veil from the Alhambrah in Spain are here. During this special service, there was the massing of the colors.

Last year, the flag of a torpedoed Norwegian freighter was added to the collection of hstoric objects. The Church is one of the oldest places of worship in this part of the country. Records indicate that the first Zion congregation met in an old barn on Ashford Avenue and later in a school-house on Sunnyside Lane, Irvington. The original church, only a third of its present size, was built in 1833, the land being donated by Van Brough Livingston, a prominent resident.

In the Sacristy, Mr. Karsten has placed an interesting collection of old sketches, paintings and photographs, including a portrait of Washington Irving and a photostatic copy of the parish records which mention his name. To help perpetuate the Irving tradition, well known writers have contributed to the Church.

MOTHER ROPER MEMORIAL FUND IS CREATED

Wherever boats of the Merchant Marine sail, news of the death of Mrs. Janet (Mother) Roper on April fifth came as a distinct personal shock. Thousands of sailors of the seven seas mourn her as a personal friend.

For over twenty-eight years, Mother Roper, as she was affectionately called, served our Seamen's Church Institute of New York, the greatest seamen's work in the world, as House Mother and Supervisor of the Missing Seamen's Bureau. During these years literally hundreds of seamen lost to their families, sometimes for years, have been reunited to their dear ones.

Mrs. Roper completed a total of fifty-four years of faithful service for Merchant Seamen and on all seven seas wherever boats go. She was revered and beloved as a friend and confidante of the men of the freighters and tankers. Neither word nor space can tell of what the thoughtful care and direction of this wise counsellor meant to the many shipwrecked and torpedoed sailors who found refuge at the Institute, especially during the past few years.

A Janet Roper Memorial Fund has been set up and contributions are already being received. The purpose of the Fund is to continue and expand the Missing Seamen's Bureau and other personal services to seamen and their families. Seamen, as well as others, will contribute to this Fund, many having expressed the wish to honor Mother Roper's memory in some practical way.

A biography of Mrs. Roper by Jonathan Finn will be published early in the Fall by Doubleday Doran.

Contributions to the Fund may be sent to the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Institute, 25 South Street, New York City.

NEW ALTAR CONSECRATED AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, CLASON POINT

The new Altar at St. Andrew's Church, Clason Point, was consecrated by Bishop Gilbert on Maundy Thursday, April 22nd.

The Altar and Reredos were designed and made by the Vicar, the Rev. Donald Macdonald-Millar, and given by him and Mrs. Macdonald-Millar as a Thank Offering.

The Reredos enshrines the fine painting, "The Descent from the Cross", given to the Church by the Rev. Philip Schuyler, Priest-in-charge of St. Andrew's 1928-1940. The woodwork is painted buff and white. At the top of the Reredos is a shield with the cross of St. Andrew, patron saint of the Chapel.

The original Altar Table, which was used in the early mission days before the Church was built, has been enclosed in a paralled front. The lovely new gold and white frontal and vestments add much to the beauty of the Church and its services. Mrs. Louis Johnson made the frontal; Mrs. Ernest Erickson, the vestments, which were given by the Servers' Guild; St. Andrew's Guild gave the Altar Linen.

On the same occasion Bishop Gilbert dedicated a baptistry shrine with a Della Robbia plaque of the Holy Mother and Child, given by the Vicar in memory of his mother.

The picture of the new Altar, with descriptive reading, was used on the Easter folder of St. Andrew's Church.

THE REV. DR. RAY OBSERVES TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY AS RECTOR OF THE CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION

In honor of the Twentieth Anniversary of the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray as Rector of the Church of the Transfiguration (the famous Little Church Around the Corner) New York City, a commemorative tablet of unusual design was placed in the vestibule of the Church on Low Sunday. The carved inscription on the tablet reads, "The restoration of the fabric of this Church was completed to mark the twentieth year of the rectorate of the Reverend J. H. Randolph Ray, D.D., April 1943. A thankoffering to Almighty God".

The restoration refers to the gift by an anonymous donor of funds which made possible the removal of the accumulated coats of brown paint from the exterior walls to reveal the original dark red Holland bricks of a century ago. At the same time extensive redecoration of the Church interior was carried out. The work was begun a year and a half ago and final details have recently been completed.

Dr. Ray was appointed as the successor of the second Rector of the Church, the Rev. Dr. George Clarke Houghton, in the spring of 1923. The parish was founded in 1848 by the Rev. Dr. George H. Houghton, uncle of the second Rector. Dr. Ray was formerly Dean of St. Matthew's Cathedral, Dallas, Texas.

FAITH IS AS ESSENTIAL AS FOOD, WATER, SLEEP

"When people get down to bedrock, they begin to know what counts. Food, water, sleep are not luxuries, they are necessities, and so is faith in God". Thus Major General Alexander Archer Vandergrif stated his opinion of the place of religion in the Armed Forces in an address on behalf of the United Church Canvass. General Vandergrift was in command of all United States forces in the Solomon Islands area during the first great American offensive of the War, and he is the first commanding General of the United States combat forces to return home from the scene of a successful action.

The General told of the reliance of the Marines on religion; of the splendid work of the chaplains of all faiths, their modesty and heroism, and urged that people at home hold the same faith, and practice with the same regularity and the same devotion, the worship of the Church. "As the war gets more bitter, and it will", he said, "you will need inner stamina to help you with the work you must do here at home. You will want to find courage. You will need it to do all the things you can towards Victory. I think you will find that strength in religious worship, just as we of the Marines found it on Guadalcanal."

THE RECTOR OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH, CHELSEA, OBSERVES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty,
Rector, St. Peter's Church, Chelsea
Secretary, Diocesan Convention and Ass't Secretary
House of Bishops

The Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty observed the Tenth Anniversary of his rectorship of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, on Sunday, May second. Mr. Beaty came to St. Peter's in 1933 from Grace Church, City Island, where he had been in charge for six years. All of his ministry had been in the Diocese of New York. He was ordained in 1925, and advanced to the priesthood in 1926 by Bishop Manning; served as Curate to the Rev. Dr. Thomas Sparks Cline, who was rector from 1924 to 1928, for two years before going to City Island. Mr. Beaty is the ninth rector of the parish.

The rectorship of Mr. Beaty at St. Peter's has been marked by many notable achievements. The rectory, built in 1831, was completely renovated in 1933, and is constantly used for all sorts of Church social purposes, as well as the rector's residence. The old Church, 112 years old and standing on its original site, was restored as to its foundations and more recently completely renewed as to its roof which was condemned as unsafe. The congregation worshipped in the parish house for two years or more while these necessary repairs were being effected.

In 1935 a modern electric central oil heater was installed for all buildings—church, parish house and rectory. The beautiful tower of the Church was repaired at about this time. Then the 100 year old organ was rebuilt. Bishop Manning reconsecrated the fully renovated and repaired Church on St. Michael's & All Angels Day, September 29, 1942, restored to its original decorations of over a century ago.

St. Peter's is also making a much valued contribution to the war effort. The large parish house has been turned over for the exclusive use of a company of men in our Armed Forces, by vote of the Vestry who also cooperate with the rector in promoting games canteens and other services for the men.

Mr. Beaty is engaged in other Diocesan and General Church activities. He served as Assistant Secetary of the Diocesan Convention from 1931 to 1935, when he was elected Secetary, and has continued to serve in that capacity, being reelected at the 1943 Convention. In his capacity as Secretary of the Diocesan Convention, Mr. Beaty has been instrumental in reducing the cost of printing and issuing the Convention Journal by hundreds of dollars annually. Mr. Beaty was also appointed Assistant Secretary to the House of Bishops at the 1940 General Convention. He has also served for many years as Assistant Secretary on the Committee on Arrangements for the Annual Conference of the Clergy of the Diocese, and has been a Trustee of the Berkeley Divinity School since 1936.

St. Peter's is affectionately known to many as the "Christmas Church" because of the poem "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" written by Clement C. Moore, a vestryman of the parish.

With its great heritage, its present renovated and beautiful Church buildings and its enlarged numbers and services, St. Peter's rounds into its second century of spiritual power and usefulness to the community.

NOTED ORGANIST RETIRES

Dr. T. Tertius Noble, for thirty years Organist of St. Thomas Church, New York, retired as of June thirteenth. He passed his 76th birthday on May fifth. He will devote his time after retirement to further creative work and will edit church music scores.

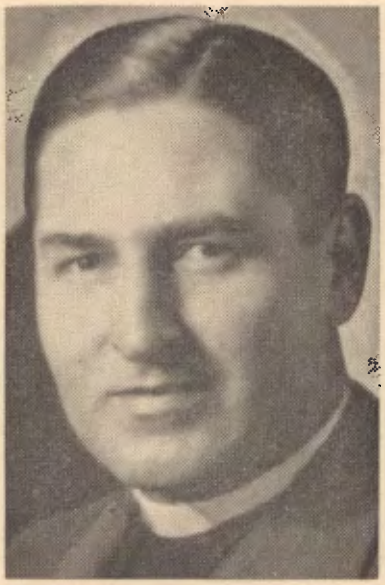
Dr. Noble has had a notable career since coming to the United States to follow William C. Macfarlane as Organist at St. Thomas Church in 1913. He is a distinguished composer and has made a deep and lasting impression upon the musical expression of the Church throughout the Country, and his religious compositions are welcomed and used by organists and choirs very generally.

One of his notable and lasting achievements was the founding of St. Thomas Choir School, now housed in a beautiful building near the Church, given by the late Charles Steele.

Dr. Noble was appointed Organist and Choirmaster of Ely Cathedral in 1892, and to the same office at York Minster in 1898.

THE RECTOR OF CHRIST CHURCH, TARRYTOWN OBSERVES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Christ Church, Tarrytown, N. Y.



The Rev. C. Kenneth Ackerman

The Tenth Anniversary of the Rev. C. Kenneth Ackerman as Rector of Christ Church, Tarrytown, was observed on Thursday, March twelfth, in the parish hall at which two hundred members and friends of the parish were present.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ackerman were presented with a silver platter and a purse of $200.

Called the Result of a Dream

Mr. George W. Briggs, Senior Warden of the Parish, told the company present that the call to Mr. Ackerman was the result of a dream he had just after the former rector left. He did not know him personally, but called upon the owner of the Gracemere School for Boys, Tarrytown, of which Mr. Ackerman had been principal for four years, who highly recommended him for the rectorship of Christ Church, as did certain other friends to whom Mr. Briggs spoke about the matter. "So", said the speaker, "it was foreordained that Mr. Ackerman should become our Rector." Mr. Briggs continued, "The parish is in excellent shape. There is perfect harmony, the congregation has grown fourfold, and the financial condition of the Church is perfect."

Other speakers made appropriate remarks, and an eight stanza poem, a tribute to the Rector and Mrs. Ackerman, composed by Mrs. Frank Chicachee, was read.

Mr. Ackerman replied to the many testimonials, expressing his great appreciation of the honor shown him, but asserting that Mrs. Ackerman deserved a large share of the credit. "Without the cooperation of the parishioners", said he, "nothing could have been accomplished. If the same spirit shall prevail in the future, the Church will surely flourish."

Following is a excerpt from an editorial in the Tarrytown News: Mr. Ackerman has developed a loyal and devoted congregation and Christ Church is, as it has been during its long history, one of the community's strongest institutions. And to Mr. Ackerman goes most of the credit. He has made many warm friends because of his fine character and because he has been a man among men. Locally, he is popular with everyone regardless of denomination.

THE REV. DR. DONEGAN OF ST. JAMES CHURCH CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, D.D.

The Rev. Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan assumed the rectorship of St. James Church, New York City, on May 1st, 1933. His ten years of service in the parish was recognized by a special service on Sunday morning, May second. Dr. Donegan preached an Anniversary Sermon and the same music was sung which was rendered on his first Sunday, ten years ago.

The Senior Warden, well known diocesan Churchman and for many years Chairman of the Committee on Diocesan Finances, Mr. Stephen Baker, spoke at this service.

Dr. Donegan has made a large place for himself in the Diocese.

BRONX CONVOCATION PUBLISHED "THE SECOND FRONT"

Another book, "The Second Front", has been published by the Convocation of the Bronx, of which the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of Trinity Church, Morrisania, is the Dean. The first book, "Working, Watching and Winning the Parish", was written by a number of the clergy of the Bronx and has had a wide distribution throughout the Diocese. This new book was written by fifteen laymen, communicants of the Church in various parishes of the Bronx. The writers offer this book as a contribution to the Presiding Bishop's Forward-in-Service Ten Year Program.

Bishop Manning states in his Foreword to this book: "As Bishop of the Diocese it gives me much happiness to commend this little book to the attention of our clergy and people. It has special spiritual significance and value for it is written by laymen to laymen. Its writers are laymen in some of our parishes in the Bronx and their sincere and heartfelt words will be of help to many. We greatly need such personal testimonies and such participation by our laymen in the evangelistic work of the Church."

Much of the credit for the plan and issuance of these valuable publications is due to the Rev. Herbert R. Stevenson, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Wakefield, and former Dean of the Convocation, and to the Rev. Edmund Sills, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester.

HOLYROOD CHURCH CELEBRATES 50th ANNIVERSARY

Holyrood Church, Manhattan, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its founding on the First Sunday after Easter, May 2nd, with appropriate services and the dedication of a new reredos erected to commemorate the first half century of the history of the parish.

The reredos is of oak with three principal panels, each richly polychromed, and greatly enhances the altar and sanctuary, and it is fully paid for.

The reredos not only commemorates the Jubilee anniversary, but also serves as a memorial to the late Gustav Arnold Carstensen, Ph.D., D.D., the sixth rector of Holyrood Church. In accordance with his own expressed wish, provision was made for his ashes to find a permanent resting place in a receptacle in one end of the reredos, and therefore behind the high altar.

The Jubilee celebration began with a Parish Communion at eight o'clock, with the Rector as Celebrant. At eleven o'clock the great service of thanksgiving was held with the Rt. Rev. Robert Erskine Campbell, D.D., O.H.C., officiating, and a congregation that filled the entire building.

Bishop Campbell confirmed twenty-two candidates and then blessed and dedicated the reredos, after which the Rector was the celebrant at the Sung Eucharist with Bishop Campbell as preacher, and ending with a Te Deum of thanksgiving.

At five o'clock in the afternoon a community service was held, the music being rendered by the choir of the Chapel of the Intercession. There were many visitors in the congregation from neighboring churches and brief greetings were brought by neighborhood clergy, the Rev. S. Tagart Steele, D.D., of Intercession Chapel, representing the Episcopal churches of Washington Heights and Inwood.

Bishop Manning was the preacher, and after the presentation of the offerings he placed the ashes of Dr. Carstensen in the receptacle in the reredos, with appropriate prayer.

On Tuesday, May 4th the Jubilee celebration was brought to a close with a parish reception in Embury Hall of the parish house, at which the Rev. Thomas Ayres Sparks, M.A., Canon Pastor of the Cathedral and Special Preacher at Holyrood Church, was the guest of honor and the speaker of the evening.

The present rector, The Rev. Arthur P. S. Hyde, succeeded Dr. Carstensen in January, 1927, coming to Holyrood after three years rectorship at St. Peter's Church, Peekskill.

New Reredos, Holyrood Church

The first service of the new Church was held in a store in a small two story building at the corner of Kingsbridge Road (now Broadway) and 182nd Street, on Low Sunday, April 9, 1893.

In 1911 the church property was sold and the present handsome gothic church was erected at the corner of Fort Washington Avenue and 179th Street.

The spiritual and material affairs of Holyrood Parish have taken a turn for the better and the future of the Church in this community looks promising.

UNIQUE LENTEN SERVICES HELD IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, YONKERS

The Friday night Lenten services held in St. John's Church, Yonkers, were unique in that they were Union Services in charge of our churches in Yonkers, but were all held at St. John's Church.

The series was opened on Friday, March 12th, by the Bishop of the Diocese, and the service was in charge of the Chapel of the Redeemer, and St. Mark's Chapel.

March 19th. The service was in charge of St. Paul's Church and St. Mary's, Sherwood Park. The Rev. Dr. Cuthbert A. Simpson of the General Theological Seminary was the preacher.

March 26th. The service was in charge of Christ Church, and the Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., Chaplain at Columbia University, was the preacher.

April 2nd. The service was in charge of St. John's Church, and Bishop Gilbert was the preacher.

April 9th. The service was in charge of St. John's Church, Tuckahoe, and the Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, O.H.C. was the preacher in place of the Rector of Trinity Parish, New York City, who was unable to be present.

April 16th. The service was in charge of St. John's Church, and Fr. Hughson was the preacher.

Yonkers has a larger number of Episcopal congregations than any other city (save New York) in the Diocese. A very fine spirit of unity is manifested not only by these and similar annual meetings, but by a deep sense of community obligation and Christian service.

PRICE OF PRAYER BOOKS FOR THE ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION IS ADVANCED

Announcement has been made through The Church Pension Fund of the necessity of a small increase of Two Cents per copy in the price of Prayer Books for Soldiers and Sailors, which is published by The Church Pension Fund, through its subsidiary, The Church Hymnal Corporation, in behalf of the Army and Navy Commission. Heretofore, the cost to the Army and Navy Commission was Fifteen Cents per copy, plus carriage charges. Many small orders for these books, however, are also received direct by The Church Pension Fund from rectors of parishes and others who want to give these books to those who are entering the Armed Services. The price to the general public has been Eighteen Cents per copy, postpaid. Effective April first, the price will have to be advanced by Two Cents per copy in both cases. This small increase in the price of the Prayer Book for Soldiers and Sailors is due entirely to an unavoidable increase in the cost of manufacture.

Approximately 375,000 copies of the Prayer Book have been manufactured, of which about 300,000 have already been distributed. In the effort to avoid making a profit, it develops that the estimates of cost were too low, with the result that the publishers of this valuable book have made a substantial contribution to the Army and Navy Commission which, of course, no one regrets. It is felt, however, and rightly so, that so far as the future is concerned the Book should carry itself; hence the advance in price.

CORPORATE PRAYER NEEDED

Why Pray Together

You remember the story of the old British Chieftain. The Romans had invaded Britain and the Chiefs of the tribes were gathered in council. Each had a different plan, and each was determined to go his own way. Until an old Chieftain arose. Picking up a bunch of fagots, he handed each man a stick. "Break them!" he directed. And each broke his stick with ease. Then he took an equal number of sticks and tied them together into a bundle. "Now try to break them!" he told them. And not even the strongest man could do it. "That", he pointed out, "is the difference between working separately and working together as one!"

The word Religion is derived from the Latin "re" and "ligo" meaning "To bind together". And that is the main purpose of religion—to bind people together for a common purpose.

Our Lord said: "Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Fa is in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

St. Matthew 18: 19-20

CHURCH WORK FOR NEGROES INCREASING IN THE DIOCESE

Work for the Negroes has always been of great importance in this Diocese. New York Churchmen were prominent in the establishment of the American Church Institute for Negroes which conducts a chain of schools and colleges from Virginia to Florida, including the Bishop Payne Divinity School.

We have more Negro communicants than are listed in any other diocese, North or South; a total of 14 congregations with approximately 12,000 communicants. The largest Confirmation Classes presented in the Diocese are those of Colored people, St. Martin's Church in Harlem having classes annually of from 170 to 220.

Within the past few years the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society has arranged for the purchase of church buildings for the Church of the Crucifixion, and St. Ambrose Church, and other Churches for our colored people.

Large Confirmation Classes at St. Martin's and St Luke's

A class of 170 was confirmed at St. Martin's Church, Harlem, March seventh, by Bishop Gilbert who also preached the sermon.

Easter Services at St. Martin's Church, Harlem, were better attended this year than ever before. There were four celebrations of the Holy Communion and 1,100 people received the Sacrament.

St. Luke's Church, at Convent Avenue and 141st Street, which was recently consolidated with St. Martin's Church, held its first Confirmation Service on Sunday morning, March twenty-eighth. Bishop Gilbert preached the sermon and confirmed a class of 85 candidates.

ST. DAVID'S IN THE BRONX HAS 48th ANNIVERSARY

Class of Thirty-five Confirmed by Bishop Manning at St. David's Church, 384 E. 160th Street, New York, on February 28th
The Rev. Arthur G. Best, Vicar

St. David's Organized Mission in the Bronx celebrated the Forty-eighth Anniversary of its founding on St. David's Day, February twenty-eighth. The Anniversary Services culminated with a special one on that Sunday evening when the Bishop of the Diocese preached and confirmed a class of thirty-five candidates presented by the Rev. Arthur G. Best, who has been Vicar of St. David's for the past fifteen years. A congregation of over six hundred filled the Church.

Bishop Manning congratulated the members of the Church upon their loyalty throughout the years past and urged them to continue as true Christians during the present days which are trying men's faith. Continuing, the Bishop said, "As St. David was faithful to his charge in his day and left us so great an heritage, so should we be faithful in our day in order to leave an heritage to those who shall come after us."

Among the visitors present were the Rev. Claudius A. Nero, Vicar of St. Clement's Church, Mt. Vernon and St. Simon's, New Rochelle; the Rev. Hugh H. Henry of St. Augustine's, Yonkers and St. Luke's, Williamsbridge; the Hon. James A. Hamilton, member of the Diocesan Social Service Commission; and Mr. Frank H. Merrill of The Diocesan Bulletin.

The inspiration of this significant service will long animate those who were present.

EMMANUEL CONFIRMATION CLASS

Confirmation Class presented to Bishop Gilbert at Emmanuel Church in the Bronx, by the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, on Wednesday in Holy Week. Sixteen were confirmed and three received.

The Easter Service at Emmanuel Church was one of the best in its history. There were 130 Communions at the 9:30 a.m. Service, and the offering was over three times that of 1942.

ST. PHILIP'S CHURCH, HARLEM, IS CONSECRATED

The Preacher
The Presiding Bishop

The Consecrator
The Bishop of New York

The Rector
The Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop

An event of great interest to the Colored people of our Church throughout the country, and especially to those who are communicants in the Diocese of New York, was the Celebration of the 125th Anniversary of the founding of St. Philip's Church in Harlem, and the consecration of the parish Church on Saturday morning, May first.

St. Philip's Church was founded in 1818. Its first place of worship was on Collect Street, now Centre Street. There have been three church edifices since that one—in Mulberry Street, in West 25th Street, and now in West 134th Street. During the 125 years of its history, the Church has had only five rectors: the first three, the Rev. Peter Williams, the Rev. William Alston and the Rev. Joseph Atwell, were followed by the Rev. Dr. Hutchens C. Bishop, father of the present Rector, the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop. Dr. Bishop rendered distinguished service to the Parish and to the Church from 1886 to 1933, when he retired. The present Rector served as Curate to his father from 1923 to 1933, thus being connected with the parish for twenty years. Fr. Bishop came to St. Philip's Church after nine years of service in Chicago and Pittsburgh.

The present Church at 214 West 134th Street was built in 1910-11 and dedicated on March 25, 1911. The late Dr. Bishop was the rector at that time and was responsible for moving the congregation from 25th Street to Harlem. The sale of properties on 25th Street and 30th Street at the time of the building of the Pennsylvania Terminal brought sufficient funds to build the church and parish house and to purchase for investment purposes a long row of houses on 135th Street. Dr. Bishop was also largely responsible for the design and construction of the church edifice.

Three years ago, plans were formulated for celebrating the 125th Anniversary of the Founding of the Church on May 1, 1943. In these plans were included two definite objectives: the paying off of the then existing mortgage of $21,500.00 and the modernization and restoration of the pipe organ, these two objectives to cost $30,000.

Fund Grows Slowly

Only $7,000 of this anticipated fund had been recceived by the 15th of March 1943. The Rector then made an appeal to the people of the congregation to bring in enough money by April 9th to pay off the remaining mortgage of $18,000. In three weeks the people of the parish brought $16,000 to the Church, in amounts multiple of 125 to carry forward the idea of the 125th Anniversary. Gifts ranged all the way from $1.25 to $125. April 4th was designated as In-gathering Sunday. There was no great drive or campaign. People of the parish went out to call on anywhere from four to ten members to ask them to share in this responsibility.

Results Astounding

On the first of April the money began to pour in in unprecedented amounts—$1,000 on Friday, April second; another $1,000 on Saturday. On Sunday, at the services, $7,000 for the Anniversary Fund was received. Only $1,500 was needed to obtain the goal. There were five days remaining before April tenth. There was no further special effort made, but on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday following an average of $900 a day was brought or mailed in voluntarily by individual members of the parish.

On Friday, April 9th, when the mortgage was paid, there was still approximately $2,000 remaining, to be applied to the Organ Fund. Since then nearly the whole $30,000 has been raised; a splendid consummation of the efforts of the Rector and congregation, inspired by faith, and carried out by hard work.

Consecration Service

The Service of Consecration was held on Saturday morning, May first. The Bishop of the Diocese consecrated the Church, and the Presiding Bishop of the Church preached the sermon.

Because of the outstanding position of St. Philip's Church, the largest colored congregation in the Country and second largest of any, and the second oldest Church for colored people in the United States invitations to the Service were sent to all the colored Episcopal Clergy in the Country.

The Clergy of our Diocese and scores of people of outstanding position in the community were also invited. Special music was arranged for the Choir under the direction of Mr. Walter B. Witherspoon.

The clergy present included members of the staff of the Cathedral, Trinity Church, Calvary and St. George's, New York, and other congregations from distant points between Virginia and Massachusetts; also the Rt. Rev. Edward Thomas Demby, D.D., retired Suffragan Bishop of Arkansas, and the only Negro Bishop in the American Church.

An excellent luncheon was served to the invited guests in the undercroft after the service by a special committee, of which Mrs. Hattie Polk was Chairman, assisted by Mrs. M. Marshall and Mrs. Clara Stewart. Mrs. Craft and Mrs. Chism poured tea and Mrs. Norwood and Mrs. Strange served coffee.

The Rector, the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, the Church officials and the faithful and hard working congregation face the future with thanksgiving for the past and zeal for the greater days to come.

Address of the Bishop at the Consecration of St. Philip's Church, Harlem

This is a great and notable day in the history of St. Philip's Parish and it is an occasion of great interest to our City and Diocese and to the whole Church. Under the devoted leadership of your Rector and by the most earnest, and sacrificial, and really heroic effort you have paid off all indebtedness so that on this 125th Anniversary this noble Church Building can be formally and officially Consecrated to the Worship and Service of Almighty God. That would have been a remarkable achievement at any time—and it is doubly so in this time of Trial and Crisis in which we are living. As your Bishop I congratulate your Rector and your Vestry and your whole congregation, and I give you the congratulations and good wishes of our whole Diocese.

And on this important day for St. Philip's I think with affectionate remembrance, of your Rector's noble Father, the Rev. Dr. Hutchens Chew Bishop, who for fifty years (1886-1936) was Rector and Rector Emeritus of this Parish.

Through its entire history St. Philip's has given an example of faithful devotion and of love for Our Lord and for His Church and now you have added to this and still further ennobled your record by your action at this time. We have in this Diocese more Negro communicants than any other Diocese of the Episcopal Church, North or South, and as Bishop of this Diocese I am especially proud of the work that is being done by our colored Clergy and Congregations. Their devotion and faithfulness is a great strength to the Church and an honour to the Diocese and among them St. Philip's, the oldest of our colored Churches stands conspicuous.

We hear many things said today about conditions in Harlem, and there are housing conditions in Harlem which ought not to exist anywhere, and which add greatly to the problems of our true and upright fellow citizens there, but I wish to say that I know of no finer work for religion and good citizenship, and for the good of our City as a whole than that which is being done day by day by our Clergy and Congregations in Harlem, and in this splendid work St. Philip's has its great part.

We are especially happy that our Presiding Bishop is here with us and that he is to preach to us at this Service and in your name and my own I welcome him most warmly.

May God's grace and blessing be with St. Philip's Church and with all of you on this day of your Anniversary and of the Consecration of your Church, and in all the years to come.

St. Philip's Church

THEY ARE GOING BACK

Jimmy Corrigan Makes Deposit

In the various gathering rooms of the Seamen's Church Institute where from 6,000 to 8,000 merchant seamen drop in daily for one reason or another, there are hundreds who have survived torpedoed ships; some of them have survived several times. You talk to them as they sit over their pipes, over checker and chessboards, or at pool and card tables. They are all going back, every one of them. They wear no uniform. They want none. They are individualists who object to being identified, or regimented. They take part in no parades. As a matter of course they face storm and fog, the blackness of night and hidden dangers revealed only when tragedy suddenly strikes. They prefer tankers—more danger but better food and accommodations.—The Lookout for March, Seamen's Church Institute of New York

How thankful we Churchmen should be that the Seamen's Church Institute, our Institute, is manned and equipped to serve these seamen who are doing such heroic service for us all.

Jimmy Corrigan a Typical Case

The story of Jimmy Corrigan in the March issue of The Lookout illustrates a service of the Institute. Jimmy was a torpedoed victim: three days in a life-boat in winter; frost bitten feet; came to the Institute; studied at the Hoffman Island Training School; deposits his money in the Seamen's Bank for Savings, the first account in the new branch. Jimmy is off to sea again. Before leaving, the Institute gave him a Bon Voyage package containing a sweater, socks, muffler, mittens and helmet, knitted by women volunteers.

As The Diocesan Bulletin frequently suggests to its readers why not send a contribution to the Institute at 25 South Street, New York City, to help support its great work, and do not fail to ask for copies of The Lookout, the monthly bulletin of its work. Each issue is crammed with worthwhile stories of human interest.

YOUNG PEOPLE CONDUCT SERVICE IN ST. JAMES', FORDHAM

Young People of our Churches in the Fordham section of the Bronx were invited to a service at St. James' Church, Fordham, on the first Sunday evening in Lent. Young People planned the service, read the Prayers and Lessons, provided the organist, formed the Choir, and secured the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason of the Forward-in-Service, National Council, to preach.

After the service the more than one hundred Young People adjourned to the parish hall where motion pictures of Missions in Latin America were shown.

This is the Fourth Annual Youth Service of similar meetings in Lent arranged for and conducted by Young People. Missionary pictures and speakers, some returned from foreign lands, feature these meetings.

VICTORY SHRINE DEDICATED AT THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY NATIVITY

A Victory Shrine, a small Altar, was dedicated to the honor of the young men and women of the Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx, who are in the Armed Forces, on Sunday morning, May twenty-third. A beautiful Honor Roll bearing their names forms a part of the reredos. A perpetual blue light is kept burning here as a constant reminder of our thoughts and prayers on their behalf.

This Shrine is very simple and dignified and is situated in the Nave, on the pulpit side of the Church. The front of the Altar was made from a part of the door of the old Church building. The Rector, the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen, urges all people of the Parish to drop in often during the week and kneel at the Altar to make intercessions for those who are away, and for their families at home.

The picture shows one group of men inside the fence about the grounds and another marching on 113th Street toward Amsterdam Avenue. The Home for Old Men and Aged Couples is seen across the Avenue at the corner of 112th Street.

DIOCESAN AUXILIARY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council was held on Tuesday, May fourth. The Corporate Communion and the presentation of the United Thank Offering in the Cathedral were followed by the meeting in Synod Hall, Cathedral Close.

Bishop Gilbert officiated at the Cathedral Service. The Bishop of the Diocese gave his greeting and spoke briefly to the women at their meeting in Synod Hall.

Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby, President, gave her report of the year's activities. The very great loss to the Auxiliary in the death during the year of its beloved President, Mrs. Charles Gilmore Kerley, was first in the minds of the women at this Annual Meeting. Mrs. Jacoby announced that a fitting memorial to Mrs. Kerley's memory is to be the Altar and Furnishings for the Chapel in the proposed Bishop Rowe Memorial, a Chapel and Diocesan House to be erected in Alaska.

Every obligation of the Auxiliary for 1942 was met, a usual annual statement at these meetings of the New York Auxiliary:

|---|---|
| Budget, Christian Social Service, Specials | $40,671.51 |
| Supply Work | 45,753.42 |
| *United Thank Offering (1942) | 21,671.75 |
| Expense Fund | 1,464.69 |
| Total for the year 1942 | $109,561.37 |

*The total United Thank Offering for the triennium, to be presented at the General Convention in Cleveland, will be over $45,000.00.

Mrs. Jacoby's report gave the special items of interest in the various committees and of the different districts during the year, which indicate that a cohesive and efficient organization of the women of the Diocese has been perfected and produces missionary results. As the concluding part of her report, the President stated that in accordance with a resolution adopted at the triennial meeting in 1940, a "Name Survey" was made throughout the Diocese. The majority of the opinions freely expressed was that the old name, "Woman's Auxiliary" is preferred.

The triennial meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the whole Church will be held at Cleveland at the time of the General Convention in October. The Diocesan Delegates are: Mrs. J. Ralph Jacoby, Mrs. Charles Minturn Baxter, Jr., Mrs. C. Helme Strater, Mrs Howard, Mrs. Jefferson and Miss Elsie C. Hutton.

EXCUSES ARE NOT REASONS

If it is too hot, or rainy, or even threatening rain or one is really tired, or thinks he is; any or all of these EXCUSES seem to many people to be REASONS for not going to church. As a matter of fact all of these are poor excuses, not one of them a real REASON for not going to church and all EXCUSES are bad.

One man told his rector that he could not come to church because he always washed his dog every Sunday morning. It was his way of making it quite plain that he did not want to come to church and the heat or the newspaper or lying in bed on Sunday morning are other peoples way of saying they do not care to worship.

GENERAL NOTES

AN EASTER SERMON by the Bishop of the Diocese appears in the April issue of Church Management, a monthly periodical widely distributed throughout the country among the clergy and laymen of all communions. A picture of Bishop Manning accompanies the article.

THE EASTER MESSAGE of the Episcopal Church of the Air was broadcast by the Right Rev. Ernest M. Stires, Retired Bishop of Long Island.

A LETTER FROM ALASKA to our Diocesan Church Periodical Club, written by the Rev. Marvin L. Wanner of Vadez, tells of the interesting work done by the Church for our armed forces there, with both white and negro troops. Mr. Wanner expresses great appreciation to the Church Periodical Club, for its "wonderful help in carrying on our present work of providing material, books and magazines for the Boys in service."

THERE MUST BE NO BITTERNESS in the reconstructed world. No matter what we have undergone or suffered we must try to forgive those who injured us and remember only the lesson thereby—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek in her address at Madison Square Garden

SIXTY-SIX MEMBERS of St. Martin's Choir, New York, gave a program of sacred music at the afternoon service, on Sunday, May twenty-third, at Trinity Church, Morrisania. The Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson, Rector of St. Martin's, gave an inspirational address, and the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector of the Parish, made an address of welcome. A large congregation of both white and colored people were present. "This occasion was to me", said Mr. Theopold, "a fine demonstration of harmony and friendly understanding between races."

THE ESSENTIAL DOCTRINE OF DEMOCRACY is that each man, as a free human soul, lives of his own free will in the service of the whole people.—Gilbert Murray

IF A MAN CANNOT BE A CHRISTIAN in the place where he is, he cannot be a Christian anywhere.
—Henry Ward Beecher

EVEN THE PESSIMIST might be thankful for the good things he receives if he were not so busy grumbling about the unpleasant things he expects.

BLESSED IS HE that truly loves and seeketh not love in return. Blessed is he that serves and desires not to be served. Blessed is he that doeth good unto others and seeketh not that others do good unto him.
—St. Francis of Assisi

THE ANNUAL YOUTH SERVICE was held at the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, April eleventh. Approximately seven hundred were present. The Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., Chaplain of Columbia University was the preacher. An unusual feature was the congregational Hymn singing for fifteen minutes before the Cathedral choir entered.

A REVISED PICTORIAL PILGRIMAGE to the Cathedral is just off the press. This new edition contains forty-eight beautiful illustrations, including twelve new ones. The outside covers have pictures of the Great Bronze Doors. Copies may be obtained at One Dollar each from the sales booth in the Exhibit Hall, Cathedral Close, or they will be mailed on receipt of One Dollar sent to the Laymen's Club, Old Synod House, Amsterdam Avenue and 111th Street, New York City.

THE TIME FOR BROADCASTING the Forward-in-Service Program of the Convocation of Westchester over Station WFAS, White Plains, is now Sunday evenings at 7:30 p.m. These programs, under the direction of the Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, are bringing the helpful message of the Church to many in Westchester.

ONE CHARTER MEMBER of Trinity Chapter, No. 12, Daughters of the King, organized fifty-three years ago at Trinity Church, Morrisania, is still active. Few Church women can equal this long service. Are there others in the Diocese?

A MEMORIAL TABLE AS DEDICATED by Bishop Manning at the House of the Holy Comforter, Bronx, on Thursday afternoon, May twenty-seventh. The tablet is in memory of Mrs. Henry Whitney Munroe, who for over fifty years was active in the interest and management of this Home for incurably ill women.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS ON DUTY in the Panama Canal Zone are much interested in the Children's Home at Bella Vista, Bishop Beal reports. They visit the Home, provide motion pictures and other entertainment for the children, and some of them have made donations for the work.

WARNING THAT WAR EFFORTS MUST NOT BE PERMITTED to interfere with the work of the Church, Bishop Washburn of Newark declares that the Church is a vital part of the war effort, particularly essential just at this period. "This is no time to take a vacation from the Church, despite our many patriotic tasks", the Bishop says. 'These other tasks are also important to our war effort, but they should be taken on as additional duties and not in place of our Church work. Even the State recognizes that the Church must go on, and exempts clergymen from service."

WE REALIZE THAT GOD IS PRESENT EVERYWHERE. He is in the mountains and woods, on the high seas, the hot sands of the dessert and the icy slopes of Alaska, as well as in the majestic cathedral and the parish church. However, for you and me, although he is everywhere, it is necessary to realize His Presence somewhere. I must take some definite place, and be still and know Him. "Be still and know that I am God", says the psalmist. Lent is a time for us to discipline and train ourselves to regular, definite times and places when we deliberately and willfully seek His Presence and listen for His Voice.
—Messenger, Grace Church, Nyack

NO PERSON ATTENDING the recent National Social Work Conference or the meetings on the subject of Civilian Hospitals in War-time could fail to be impressed with the fact that social and medical workers are keenly aware of the demands of these troublesome times and are prepared by training, and motivated by high purpose, to meet them. To those Churchmen familiar with the personnel and activities of our Church Social Service agencies—the National Social Relations Department and the Church Mission of Help particularly—it is a source of gratification that the character and services of these church agencies are not surpassed by any. They not only are at the top in training and efficiency, but they have the PLUS of doing all "In His Name". A friendly competition in scientific advance and personal sacrifice characterize all these agencies. Particularly should our people give larger and generous support to our Church agencies, Church Mission of Help, City Mission Society, Seamen's Church Institute of New York, than which there are no superior social service agencies in the country.

IT IS NOT EFFORT ALONE that makes the Christian powerful. It is the extra-effort! It has always been in the voluntary, unbidden second mile that the secret of Christian strength has been found. The Christian is not just the ordinary good man who does his duty—the Christian is the extraordinary good man who does more than is required and carries his life into the field of extra service. Look at it in this light and bad weather, transportation, dim-out and other difficulties are not barriers to be overcome, but rather, opportunities to put our extra-effort Christianity into action!—Bulletin of St. Mary's Church, Staten Island

HYMN NUMBER 415 in the list of those given in our Hymnal as Song Prayers for Travelers by Sea and Land has been enriched by an added verse (to take the place on occasion of the fourth verse) composed by the Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Staten Island, the Rev. Francis R. Godolphin. It reads as follows:—

Thou God of land and sea and sky,
Guard those who in Thy heavens fly.
In loneliness, in dark or light.
Do Thou be with them day and night.
Our Hope and Strength, hear this our prayer
For those in peril in the air.

A DEVOTIONAL ADDRESS by Bishop Manning was broadcast over a nation-wide hookup of the National Broadcasting Company on Good Friday evening, from 6:45 to 7 o'clock. The subject of the Bishop's address was "The Victory of the Cross".

"THERE ARE TWO FREEDOMS: the false, wherein a man is free to do as he likes; the true, wherein a man is free to do as he ought."

CAST THY BURDEN upon the Lord and He shall sustain thee. —Psalms 55: 22

A CLASS OF EIGHTY-FOUR CANDIDATES was confirmed by Bishop Manning at St. James Church, New York City, on Sunday afternoon, March twenty-eighth. The candidates were presented by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan.

SEVENTY-SIX MEMBERS of the Choristers Guild of St. James Church, New York City, are now serving in the Armed Forces. Letters have been received from many of these boys telling of playing the organ in some remote place for a service or in leading the singing of hymns and carols.

THE GREATEST DISCOVERY of the next fifty years will be along spiritual lines", wrote Charles Steinmetz, the famous inventor and research engineer. "Here is a force which history clearly teaches has been the greatest power in the development of man and history. Some day the scientists of the world will turn to the study of the spiritual forces. When this day comes, the world will see more advancement in one generation than it has in the past four."

DISCIPLINE AND REGULARITY makes the wheels go round. Absenteeism is bewailed and condemned in business. It is known as truancy in school. In church it seems to be a matter of course. "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" —From the bulletin of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City

OUR EDUCATIONAL CRISIS is the title of a radio address given by the Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, over Station WEVD on Wednesday evening, January 27th. The broadcast was under the auspices of Freedom House and has been printed and distributed by the Committee for the Establishment of Christian Principles in Education. Address the Committee at 3 Rectory Lane, Scarsdale, New York, for a free copy. "When civilization faces a crisis there are likely to be many manifestations of it. That our civilization is now facing a crisis no one doubts. That as part of the general crisis, there is also a crisis which the educational world faces has been apparent to many thoughtful people for a long time. Indeed, some of them go so far as to say that the fundamental manifestation of crisis is in the educational field." Mr. Price's address is a thought provoking and stirring one.

PARISH NOTES of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville, is sent each week to those of the parish in the Service. Besides parish news, each issue has personal notes from the letters sent home by the men on duty in this country and abroad. Among the Notes in March was a clipping sent by Bob Farrell which referred to the words endorsed on furlough papers, "Not good if detached". The clipping states: "This applies to men in the Army who have no Church attachment. Just Church orphans." It goes on to urge the men to keep in touch with their Army Chaplains and with their home pastors. "Not good if detached", Bob writes, "might well apply to those at home."

AN HOUR'S PAY EACH WEEK pledged to Christ Church, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, raised a budget twice the amount of the previous year with but little effort. The rector of the parish simply asked his people to give "proportionately" one hour's pay out of 48 weekly. Doubling the budget income on 1/48 weekly proportionate giving (not a tithe) indicates the possibilities of general church giving which at present is less than 2%.

THERE IS NOTHING MORE VITAL to our Country today than to keep the Christian Church a powerful force and influence in our National Life. If the religious life of our people is allowed to die, we have lost all hope of ever living again in a peaceful world. We may win this war but if the Christian standards and ideals of life are gone we will have another war in a few more years—St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville

EASTER PACKETS have been sent to 130 members of Christ Church, New Brighton, Staten Island, who are in Service. Each packet contains a letter from the Rector, the Rev. Andrew C. Long, picture of the Church Altar, a copy of "Forward Day by Day" etc. The Church Bulletin is also sent to them. The Rector's letter is a homelike newsy typewritten sheet and helps to keep the men in touch with each other in different stations, as well as in personal touch with their Rector.

DO YOU KNOW the "skeleton outline" of Church membership? Jawbones, who only talk of the need of getting something done. Wish-bones, who hope somebody else will do it. Back-bones, who get it done.—Bulletin of Christ Church, Riverdale

THE DATE FOR THE GENERAL CONVENTION has been advanced to Saturday, October second and the Convention will continue for about eight days. This earlier date is made necessary by the congestion of the Cleveland hotels. The plans call for a war-time convention stripped of all accessory events and devoted strictly to business. There will be no great Opening Service as at previous conventions. As Bishop Tucker has previously pointed out, this Convention will be able to provide no accommodations for the usual visitors, concurrent meetings of various Church organizations, and exhibits. While recognizing fully that this is a definite loss, the Convention faces rigid wartime restrictions on travel and accommodations, so that the action is unavoidable.

CHURCH MANAGEMENT, a monthly magazine for clergy and lay workers of all communions, has had various items concerning this Diocese in its 1943 issues. The January number printed in full the publicity folder used by the Program of the Church, "Your Budget and Your Soul". The April issue contained an Easter Sermon by Bishop Manning with his picture. The May number had a picture of the Cathedral as its front cover design, showing the High Altar from the West End of the Nave; also a reproduction of the cartoon, "One Man With Prayer Can Lift the World", designed by the Managing Editor of the Diocesan Bulletin, and with appropriate scripture, widely distributed in the Diocese.

THEREFORE, I SAY UNTO YOU, what things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them and ye shall receive them. St. Mark 11:24. In other words, ACT as if you already had what you prayed for. TRY IT.

UPON RECOMMENDATION of the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, and the Dean and Council of the Convocation of the Bronx, the Bishop has admitted St. Luke's Chapel, Williamsbridge, as an Organized Mission of the Diocese. This work is under the charge of the Rev. Hugh H. Henry.

ONE OF OUR SERVICE MEN "DOWN UNDER" sent an air mail letter enclosing a money order for a generous sum, allocated to various pledges, offerings and other benevolences, which arrived in time to count on his Lenten Offering and other benefactions, to St. Augustine's Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York. This thoughtful and Christian act is full of encouragement to those at home.

THE BISHOP IS THE CHIEF PASTOR of the Church in every diocese and his office symbolizes in a very special sense the unity of the world wide church and its historic continuity through the ages. We welcome Bishop Manning and present to him a class of thirty-five young people and adults.—April 18th Bulletin of St. George's Church, New York City

THE BOY SCOUT TROOP of St. John's Church, Kingston, is to have a clubroom all its own. A room is being built for the Troop in the basement, lumber for which was contributed by a faithful member of the Church.

A NEW ROCHELLE BOY, WOUNDED IN ACTION, was treated in a Church Missions Hospital. He found later that it was one of the hospitals that his mother supported through her Church Mission contribution. This man might have been your son. Would you not be glad to think that you had contributed to Missions?

—St. John's Record, Yonkers

LO, THERE WAS AN EPISCOPALIAN who had joined the Church at Easter, 1939. And he went thereto every Sunday thereafter until Christmas. Then came to him others saying proudly: "Fie, novice! For we Episcopalians go to Church only at Easter and Christmas, whilst you, in nine months have completed twenty years of churchgoing." So he took thought unto himself in this wise: if in 1940 I marry and the next year have a daughter and when she is about 18 she marries and has a son, then I can stay away from church and take my grandson to be baptized in Easter 1960, and still will my record of churchgoing be perfect. And so it was. And many did likewise. But alas, when they took each his grandson to be baptized, where do you suppose the Church had gone? Right!

THE PRESIDING BISHOP, The Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, was the preacher at a special service held in the French Church du Saint-Esprit, New York City, on Wednesday evening, April twenty-eighth. This service was in connection with the Congress of the Federation of Huguenot Societies in America, being held in New York City at that time, and delegates from the various state societies were present. This congregation of Huguenot refugees started services in New Amsterdam in 1628. They were first held in the "Church in the Fort" owned by the Dutch Reformed Church. In 1688 a church building was opened on Marketfield Street, the present site of the New York Produce Exchange. From 1704 for over 100 years services were held in their church building on what is now Pine Street, near Nassau, then known as King Street. As the various neighborhoods changed, the Church moved from time to time, being located on Franklin, West 22nd Street, East 27th Street, and in 1941 property was purchased at its present location at 109 East 60th Street. The congregation starting as a French Reformed Church united with our Church in 1804, the Rev. Pierre Antoine Albert being the first Rector. It is the oldest continuous congregation now connected with the Diocese of New York. Services have been conducted for over three hundred years in the French language. The Rev. Dr. John A. Maynard is the present Rector.

THE REV. ROBERT T. SHELLENBERGER, Curate of St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity Parish, since May 1929, has accepted the rectorship of St. John's Church, Kingston, and assumed his duties on May first. Mr. Shellenberger was born in Marietta, Pennsylvania, in 1900, is married and has a seven year old son. He was ordained by Bishop Darlington in December 1928 and served for one year in Pennsylvania. In becoming Rector of St. John's Church, Mr. Shellenberger follows the Rev. Maurice W. Venno who recently resigned to enter the Armed Forces as a Chaplain.

THE REV. EDMUND SILLS, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, since November 1928, has resigned as of May fifteenth. He has accepted the rectorship of St. Luke's Church, Newtown, Pennsylvania. Fr. Sills was born in Kent, England, in November 1884, and received his early education, including music, there. He received his B.A. from Union College, Toronto, and graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1913. He was Curate at Trinity Church, New York, from 1913 to 1916, and Rector of St. John's Church, Dunkirk, New York, from 1916 to 1928.

THE REV. THOMAS AYRES SPARKS, Canon Pastor of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, had the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology conferred upon him by the General Theological Seminary at the Commencement exercises held on Wednesday, May 26.

THE REV. AUGUSTUS BATTEN, Vicar of St. George's Church, Williamsbridge, since 1937, resigned as of May first. Mr. Batten served in various places in the Diocese, going to St. George's Church from St. John's, New City, where he was Rector from 1926 to 1937. His new address is 4036 Barnes Avenue, Bronx, New York City.

THE REV. CHARLES FLINT KELLOGG, B.A., Bard College, M.A., Harvard, Rector of the Church of the Mediator in the Bronx since May 1937, resigned as of Easter Day, 1943, and has assumed the rectorship of the Church of St. Stephen and the Incarnation, Washington, D.C.

STROHSAHL, B.A., Columbia, S.T.B., General Theological Seminary, has resigned as Vicar of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua, where he had been priest in charge since 1939. He has accepted the post of Assistant to the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Gomph, Rector of Grace Church, Newark, New Jersey, and began his duties on May fifteenth.

BISHOP NICHOLAI OF SERBIA

A letter to Bishop Manning from a close friend and fellow countryman of the heroic Bishop Nicholai of Serbia says, "The latest information about the Bishop is that he is with his fighting people in the mountains of Serbia and Bosnia. That is just like him and exactly what he would wish in these tragic days."

THE REV. DR. WILLIAM W. BELLINGER

The Rev. Dr. William W. Bellinger, Vicar of St. Agnes' Chapel, Trinity Parish, since 1908, died on Tuesday, April sixth, at St. Luke's Hospital, New York City, after an illness of two weeks.

Dr. Bellinger was born on Christmas Day, 1863, graduated from Union College in 1883, from the General Theological Seminary in 1886, and was ordained by Bishop Niles in 1887.

His first charge was at Grace Church, Albany, New York. Later, he was rector of Trinity, Weathersfield, Connecticut; St. Mary's, Brooklyn and Grace Church, Utica, leaving the latter parish in 1908 to succeed the present Bishop of the Diocese as Vicar of St. Agnes' Chapel.

Dr. Bellinger was connected with many Church organizations. He was Secretary of the American Church Building Fund Commission; President of St. Luke's Home for Aged Women; Trustee of the New York Bible and Prayer Book Society; and was a Delegate to the General Conventions of 1904 and 1907.

He was greatly beloved by the people of St. Agnes Chapel to whom he ministered with never failing faithfulness. His work as a priest and pastor will long be gratefully remembered.

APPEAL FOR THE BISHOP ROWE MEMORIAL FUND

Architect's drawing of proposed building to be erected in memory of Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe (left), pioneer missionary of the Episcopal Church in Alaska. It will provide Bishop's residence, diocesan offices, chapel. Bishop John B. Bentley (right) has been in charge of Episcopal work in Alaska since Bishop Rowe's death.

The following letter has been sent to the Clergy of the Diocese with the full approval of the Bishop.

Reverend and dear Sir:

As a Committee for this Diocese to bring before the Churches the Bishop Peter Trimble Rowe Memorial Fund, Bishop Manning has appointed the persons below named.

Enclosed is a brief leaflet explaining this Fund and its timeliness now. All who knew Bishop Rowe or were familiar with the accomplishments of his life in the Alaskan wilderness will need no urging, we feel confident, to answer this call.

The procedure the Committee recommends is that the Rector or Minister-in-Charge prepare for a Sunday service when, with proper publicity preceding, the entire parish may be given the opportunity of responding to the appeal for this Fund. You will agree, I am sure, that everyone who knows how much Bishop Rowe meant in the work of the Church would be sorry to think that our great Diocese might seem lacking in interest. With the place that Alaska has taken now in world events, the Memorial will be unusually important. In some parishes it might be a help to the Rector to organize a small group of those who were particularly interested in Bishop Rowe to aid him in all the plans.

Bishop Manning has suggested that contributions when finally collected be sent to the Treasurer of the Diocese, Mr. Richard H. Mansfield, at his office in the Old Synod House on the Cathedral grounds. Mr. Mansfield will transmit the whole amount received to the Bishop Rowe Memorial Fund.

From the responses already made in other dioceses to this challenge before the Church, as well as to the responsive attitude of the clergy already personally approached in this Diocese, your Committee feels encouraged that the Diocese of New York, on being adequately informed about this Fund, will do its full share.

Yours faithfully,
For the Committee:
By: STEPHEN BAKER

This appeal has my most hearty approval and I hope it will meet with generous response.

WEST SIDE CHURCHES UNITE IN LENTEN SERVICES TO REACH UNCHURCHED COMMUNITY

Twenty churches in the area west of Central Park, New York City, presented a United Lenten Preaching Program by their pastors on the six Sundays in the penitential season. The plan, believed to be the first of its kind, is the second step in a united project to reach the unchurched in that section of the City.

The cooperative effort began with a district visitation, made by the clergy and laymen, to the apartments and homes from 59th Street to 96th Street, and from Central Park West to Riverside Drive. As the contacts were made, invitations were extended to worship and join in the activities of the cooperating churches. A folder with a list of the names, addresses, pastoral staff, and services of each church was left by the visitor, as well as copies of the Gospel and Psalms.

MORE ABOUT BINGO

Attempts are being made in a number of eastern states to have laws passed to legalize Bingo. Powerful influences, religious and benevolent orders have been arrayed in its favor. Some months ago the Mayor of New York City spoke against the practice, and the Bishop of the Diocese declared a ban against the game in this Diocese. Legalizing Bingo or similar games only seems to whitewash a bad game. An interesting editorial in the April issue of Church Management has this to say:

"A lot, recently, has been said about bingo as a method of church finance. Protestants have been particularly vocal in the discussion. That is probably because such a small proportion of Protestant churches are guilty of the practice.

"But bingo doesn't stand alone. It is very close to raffling; close to door prizes, close to sales schemes of one kind or another. The sending of small children from house to house with tickets and sales items is no higher in the ethical scale. Pressure schemes for giving the donor prestige through a window or organ can hardly be sanctioned in the last analysis.

"But having mentioned all of these we have still excluded the most vicious practice in church finance. It is the habit easily acquired of violating ethical trade considerations because work is being done for the church. It may be the furnace dealer, the builder or the architect. But all have experienced the same thing: 'Can't you throw off some of the charges because it is the Church?' ".

How long will the Christian Church try to finance its work by such specious practices? Has the Church for which Christ died descended to the position of seeking questionable and "easy" money? Shall the Church, any Church, be labelled "supported by Bingo" or shall the free will offerings of a loyal and devoted people carry on the local parish and be also sufficient to extend the Kingdom?

THE ANGLICAN CHURCH IN CANADA FORBIDS "BINGO"

MONTREAL, June 4—(RNS)—The raising of money for parochial, diocesan, or missionary purposes by means of lotteries, "bingo" games, raffles, or any other form of gambling, in connection with church bazaars, sales, or entertainments, is forbidden in all Montreal Anglican churches. A decision to this effect was taken unanimously at the eighty-fourth session of the Montreal Anglican Diocesan Synod.

GRACE CHAPEL TO CLOSE

Grace Chapel, on the East Side of New York City, closed on May second. Its remaining communicant membership merged with Grace Church, which established the mission chapel 47 years ago and has supported its work. The chapel building will not be used for any purpose, for the present.

In addition to the chapel itself, the property comprises a large parish house, a residence for the vicar, and a large dormitory. For a time the Church Army enjoyed the hospitality of the dormitory. The whole property is valued at $450,000. For many years the work of the Chapel flourished. Gradually the neighborhood changed. Today it is said to be almost entirely non-Protestant.

The last Vicar, the Rev. William B. Sperry, resigned several months ago. Since then, the Rev. John B. Coburn, on the staff of Grace Church, had been in charge.

VICTORY GARDENS STARTED AT THE CATHEDRAL

Bishop Manning Turns Over First Earth for the Cathedral Victory Gardens

The picture above shows the Bishop of the Diocese turning over the soil of one of the six plots within the Cathedral Close prepared for Victory Gardens. The Bishop is seen surrounded by Cathedral workmen who will plant and tend the gardens under the direction of Mr. Thomas Muncaster (extreme right), the Superintendent.

The crops will help supply the tables of the workers on the Cathedral grounds.

The Cathedral Victory Gardens, as a practical enterprise and an example of war time saving, have created widespread interest and comment.

An editorial in the Buffalo Courier-Express, under date of April 4, 1943, said:

> "This is very good soil," said Bishop William T. Manning as he broke ground for the first of six Victory Gardens on the lawn of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine of New York.
> When he said that, perhaps, the Bishop was mindful of the parable of the seed which fell on good ground and sprang up and bore fruit an hundredfold. And the 15,000 square feet of gardens to be planted on the cathedral lawn may bear fruit on a comparably generous scale. For they set an example which many other churches well may emulate.
> "We want to do everything possible, spiritually, morally and materially, toward winning the war and establishing a just and righteous peace," the 76-year-old Bishop said after he doffed his black cape and turned up a dozen spadefuls of earth. There is religion, as well as patriotism and sound sense, in the Bishop's venture into gardening.

DEMAND FOR BIBLES EXCEEDS SUPPLY

Where people suffer most the tenors of war, the call for God's Word is increasing.

Recently the American Bible Society added to its list of special bound volumes for the various branches of the Service, a book bearing the insignia of the Merchant Marine. No special provision of this kind had ever heretofore been made for American seamen, who in this war are so constantly exposed to danger from submarines. Admiral E. S. Land had responded promptly to the Society's proposal to provide seamen with Testaments and had written a special foreword for the Testament bearing the insignia of the Merchant Marine.

The books are already available and waterproof containers are being prepared. The envelope is made of stout oil paper lined with lead and cellophane—the same sort of material that has heretofore been used successfully in waterproof packaged rations now carried on the lifeboats and rafts as regular equipment. Tests made at the headquarters of the Bible Society indicate that these books will continue dry even though submerged in salt water for days at a time. Ordinarily they would not be subject to such a severe test. Already the Society has received orders for the complete equipping of approximately 1,000 ships, requiring over 8,790 Testaments. It is estimated that at least 20,000 packaged volumes will be required.

Tens of Thousands Distributed

From June 30, 1942 to January 1, 1943 the following have been distributed: 14,460 Bibles; 499,330 Testaments and 155,073 portions of Scripture to United States sailors and soldiers. Covering the same period, 3,351 Bibles, 14,110 Testaments, and 241,709 portions have been given to war prisoners in all parts of the war-torn countries. The languages of these are Amharic, Arabic, Armenian, Bohemian, Bulgarian, Croatian, Dutch, English, Estonian, Ethiopian, Finnish, French, Galla, German, Ancient Greek, Modern Greek, Hebrew, Hungarian, Icelandic, Italian, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Serbian, Slovakian, Spanish, Swedish, Ukrainian, Welsh, Yiddish.

DR. FLEMING AT TRINITY TEN YEARS

The Rev. Frederic S. Fleming, D.D.

Dr. Fleming is among the Clergy who have been ten years in their present parishes. He was for two years Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession before becoming Rector of Trinity Parish. He is on the Standing Committee; Trustee of the Cathedral, City Mission Society, Seamen's Church Institute of New York, General Theological Seminary; and a Deputy to General Convention.

REV. J. S. MINNIS NAMED VICAR OF INTERCESSION CHAPEL

Appointment of the Rev. Joseph Summerville Minnis, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Joliet, Ill., as vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, Broadway and 155th Street, was announced by the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, rector. The appointment is effective on September 1st.

The new vicar will succeed the Rev. Dr. S. Tagart Steele, Jr., who will leave on August 1st, to become rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Germantown, Philadelphia.

Mr. Minnis was born in Terre Haute, Ind. and was graduated from Nashotah House. He became a deacon in 1928 and was ordained to the Episcopal priesthood in June, 1929. After two years as assistant at the Church of the Atonement in Chicago, he went to his present post in Joliet.

He is dean of the Southern Deanery; chaplain of the Illinois State Penitentiary; chairman of the department of Church Extension; a member of the Youth Commission, and a member of the Diocesan Council, Diocese of Chicago. He is thirty-nine years old, married, and has three children.

BISHOP MANNING DEDICATES CHANTRY AT SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE

The Bishop of New York dedicated the Chantry of the Holy Comforter at the entrance to the Chapel of Our Saviour, at the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, 25 South Street on Thursday, June 24th at 1:45 p.m.

Two earlier chapels of the Institute bore the name "Church of the Holy Comforter". The first was a floating church, built in 1846 and was moored at the foot of Dey Street, North River. It was designed by Richard M. Upjohn, the architect of Trinity Church. The church was used by merchant seamen as their place of worship until 1866. Its successor, a brick church, on land, was built in 1888 at the corner of West and Houston Streets with funds received from a legacy of William H. Vanderbilt. Adjoining it was a parish house used for seamen, and a rectory. The church was used until 1914, and was razed in 1926 when the N. Y. Central Railroad purchased the land. With the funds received from the sale, the Building Fund was started for the newer portion of the Institute's 13-story building at 25 South Street, which is now the largest shore home hotel and club in the world for merchant seamen of all nationalities and creeds.

In order to perpetuate the name of the Church of the Holy Comforter the Rev. Harold H. Kelley, D.D., Director of the Institute asked Bishop Manning to dedicate the chantry, which adjoins the Chapel of Our Saviour, named after the first Floating Chapel, built in 1844, and moored at the foot of Pike Street, East River. Bishop Manning in 1930 dedicated the present Chapel of Our Saviour, the fourth in the succession bearing that name. Thus the names of the Institute's floating chapels will be perpetuated. The Chapels are used for weekday and Sunday services, for private devotions, for seamen's funeral, marriage and baptismal services, etc.

THE CHURCH MUST MAKE ADVENTUROUS ADVANCE

The Rev. Dr. James Thayer Addison, vice-president of the National Council, and Director of the Overseas Department, is taking every opportunity to point out to the Church that the present is the time for looking ahead and wise planning for missionary work overseas, following the war. He sees unlimited opportunities; new needs and old ones made greater by the war; and a new receptiveness by Church people at home, indicating a greater willingness to support the missionary enterprise than heretofore. "The Church has two chances," Dr. Addison says: "A timid retreat or an adventurous advance."

"IT WILL RING FOR THE FIRST TIME on July 4th." The Rev. Walter W. Reid, Vicar at St. Mark's, Fort Montgomery gives us this message concerning a Church Bell, the gift of Lady Archer-Shee of Highland Falls. The gift was unsolicited but much appreciated.

SIXTY-FIVE PERSONS WERE CONFIRMED by Bishop Gilbert at St. John's Church, Yonkers, on Sunday, June 13th, including one from the Church of the Good Shepherd, Bronx.

BISHOP MANNING ORDAINS FIVE AT CATHEDRAL

The Annual Trinity Sunday Ordination Service was held at the Cathedral on Sunday, June 20th, and the Bishop of the Diocese ordained five, two as priests and three as deacons.

The two deacons who were ordained as priests were the Rev. James Hart Morgan, a staff member of the Cathedral Choir School, who was presented by the Rev. Canon Green, precentor of the Cathedral, and the Rev. Warren Henry Scott, who was presented by the Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop, rector of St. Philip's Church, where Mr. Scott will continue on the staff.

The three laymen ordained as deacons were Alfred Clark Arnold, Jr., who will be attached to Grace Church, White Plains, where his father is rector; Richard Alban Johnson, who will be connected with the parish of the Church of the Resurrection, 115 East Seventy-fourth Street, and Ellison Fletcher Marvin, who will be on the staff of St. Mary's Church, Manchester, Conn.

The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Oliver Shaw Newell, rector of St. John's Church, Yonkers, who reminded the young men that they were going forth into the world "not only to give men just laws and economic freedom but to feed them with the bread of life."

Quoting Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, Dr. Newell told those ordained that "fundamentally the world has no need of a new order or a new plan but only of the honest and courageous application of the historical Christian idea."

For the twenty-third successive Trinity Sunday, Bishop Manning confirmed a class at Welfare Island that afternoon. The three newly ordained deacons accompanied the Bishop to this service.

YOUTH CONFERENCE MEETS AT ST. PETER'S

The responsibility of the Church for establishing the principles upon which a just and durable peace may be made to follow the war was the theme of a Conference for Youth held on Sunday, June 20th at St. Peter's Church, New York under the auspices of the Youth Division of the Department of Religious Education of the Diocese, of which the Reverend Frank C. Leeming is Director.

Those taking part in the conference included the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, the Rev. James Harry Price, Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, the Rev. William H. Pickford, Christ Church, N. Y. C., the Rev. Nicholas M. Feringa, Incarnation Chapel, N. Y. C., the Rev. Harold E. Towne, St. Thomas' Chapel, N. Y. C., the Rev. William C. Kernan, Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, and the Rev. Llewellyn O. Diplock, Christ Church, Yonkers.

Subjects considered by the conference were labor, education, trade, and youth delinquencies. Brief statements on each of these subjects were made by representatives of groups from several New York parishes.

THE LIVING CHURCH—NEW YORK ISSUE

The May 2nd issue of the Living Church was an especial Diocese of New York edition. It was a 64 page booklet and is full of interesting reading about the Diocese and its work with approximately 75 illustrations.

A double page of 33 illustrations shows all sorts of Churches, from the small wooden buildings of our missions to the large parish churches in both country and city and also the great nave of the Cathedral.

A historical sketch by Dr. Chorley, Historiographer of the Diocese; the aim and ideal of the Cathedral by the Bishop; the statement about Diocesan Missions and the work of the Convocations by Bishop Gilbert; articles about the various Diocesan organizations; a map of the Diocese and a list of all churches, chapels, missions and preaching stations in the Diocese with the names of the clergy and hours of service, make this special issue of the Living Church well worth reading and keeping for reference.

Thousands of copies have been distributed in the Diocese.

The Rev. Canon Thomas Ayres Sparks, D.D., was in charge of gathering the material of this issue and had much to do with its "make up".

Many congratulatory letters have been received in the Diocesan offices concerning the excellence and usefulness of this special edition.

The Bishop's Christmas Message To The Men and Women In Our Armed Forces

Bishop Manning has issued a Christmas letter addressed to the men and women from our Diocese who are serving in the Armed Forces of our Country. The letter follows:—

The Cathedral of Saint John the Divine
New York

November 30, 1943

To the Men and Women of our Diocese
who are serving in the Armed Forces:

I send my greeting, and my blessing as your Bishop, to all of you who are serving our Country, in every branch of the Service, on land, on the sea, and in the air.

At the Altars in our Churches all over this Diocese you are constantly remembered, and in the parishes and congregations to which you belong, you are remembered by name, and prayers are offered for you and also for the homes which you have left. We pray to God that you may be sustained and upheld, that you may be guarded in danger, that you may be given strength and courage, that you may serve in all things without reproach, and that you may be brought safely home to us.

In this World Conflict, you are giving yourselves for our Country, for us, for your fellow-men in the enslaved countries who are suffering untold cruelty and wrong, and for the great principles of the Christian Religion, Justice, Freedom, and Human Brotherhood. The cause for which you are fighting is the cause of Right, Humanity, and Justice and so we lift up our prayers for you in full confidence and pray for a Righteous Victory, a Victory, which shall open the way for true and lasting Peace.

And as the Christmas Season approaches with its holy message of the Coming of Christ for the help of all mankind, we shall be praying for you with all our hearts, praying that God will be with you wherever you are, and that after this conflict there may be a true fulfillment of the promise which Christmas brings, the promise that, by the power of Christ, this shall be a world of Peace and Good Will and Brotherhood for all men everywhere.

I pray that this Christmas may bring its true help and blessing to each one of you.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

BISHOP SENDS LETTER TO DIOCESAN CLERGY

The following letter has been sent by the Bishop to all the Clergy of our Diocese:

To the Clergy of the Diocese,
Reverend and dear Brother:

I send you herewith a copy of a message which I am issuing to the men and women from the congregations of our Diocese who are serving in the Armed Forces of our Country. I shall be grateful if you will send this to those who have gone from your congregation and I shall be glad to send you as many copies as you may wish to have.

And, as this year, owing to war conditions, I am not sending Christmas cards let me at this time give my affectionate Christmas wishes to you and yours, with the prayer that the Holy Season may bring you its Divine help and strength, and that before another Christmas comes we may celebrate the Victory of Right and Truth and the establishment of a Just and Lasting Peace.

Please note:

The Bishop's letter to those in the Armed Service has been printed as a small folder which can be mailed in an ordinary size envelope, and the Bishop asks the Clergy to send this letter to all those who have gone from their congregations. As many copies of it as may be desired will be sent to the Clergy, on request to the Bishop's Office, or to any others who may wish to mail it to members of their families or to friends in the Service.

CITY MISSION COURSE IN PASTORAL TRAINING COMMENDED

The following letter to the Director of our City Mission Society from the Bishop of Tennessee testifies to the excellence of the special course in Pastoral Training given by the City Mission Society to some of the younger clergy and to Candidates for Holy Orders. Bishop Maxon writes:

"I am mightily pleased over your good report about Mr. ..... and Mr. .....

"I have talked with both these young men on my recent visit to Sewanee. Both were filled with enthusiasm for their experiences of the summer and also in deep appreciation for the guidance you had given them, and the patience you had shown with them. Certainly, this splendid privilege accorded them has meant much in every way. Both these young men are of fine character and good background. Before a group of eight or ten theological students I outlined a rather pathetic case of one of the Navy V 12 men having been broken and Court Martialed, in an endeavor to get their reactions to the type of contact to be made and the kind of ministration to be used. I noted with pleasure that both ..... and ..... were quick to grasp the situation and to take whole-heartedly the redemptive attitude. Their response in this case was away beyond what I have frequently found in my experience with priests. Certainly I am grateful to you for the fine contribution you have made and I hope it may be our privilege to have men with you in the future."

PATRIOTIC SERVICE HELD AT THE CATHEDRAL

Representatives of thirty-seven patriotic organizations marched with their banners into the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, November 21st, for their Annual Patriotic Service. The Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, was the preacher.

"Human beings are equal in the absolute sense that they all have the capacity to reason", Mr. Price said. "This capacity to reason is the common denominator of all humanity. Some think that equality is a condition we are working toward. Actually human equality is the fact which free men start. As true patriots we have the same calling as Christian people. We must proclaim the democratic principles upon which our country rests just as we proclaim Christianity. We must teach these principles because we are right about them. We must make of our land a new and spiritual Jerusalem to which the tribes of the Lord may come to give thanks unto the Lord our God."

RADIO BROADCASTS FEATURE FORWARD-IN-SERVICE IN WESTCHESTER CONVOCATION

The Forward-in-Service Committee of Westchester, under the chairmanship of the Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, has used the radio as its special medium for spreading the message of the Church. Believing this to be an excellent way to gain direct contact with many who are not Church goers, a series of radio broadcasts was arranged and has been continued over Station WFAS, White Plains, on Sunday evenings from seven-thirty to seven forty-five.

There has been a varied group of broadcasters, some clergy from surrounding parishes, some laymen who have come to believe in these principles through study. There have been parents and directors of religious education.

Advance notices of these broadcasts have been publicised in the papers and then followed up with news releases the next day, with quotes from the essentials of the speech. The local papers have been most generous in cooperating with Mr. Price, giving liberal space and attractive headings to the reviews.

The response of the listeners has been most gratifying. Immediately following these broadcasts the station has been notified by phone by many, expressing their interest and desire for continuance of such expressions of the aims of Forward-in-Service. Many requests for copies of the speeches have been made and are available. People are willing and anxious to listen to the truth and men and women from all walks of life are anxious and willing to speak out their firm convictions.

This method of presenting the Christian doctrine of man over the radio has proved to be most successful and truly "forward in service" in that it has clarified and unified a large group of clergy and laity in their hopes and aims for the Church. On the broadcasting of the Christian doctrine of man as a reasonable creature, it has tried to establish a universal understanding of Christianity as the basis of true and right government for all peoples.

These broadcasts began on February 7th and have been given for forty-two weeks, and they will continue. Twenty-nine different people, mostly Westchester clergy and lay workers, participated in the series, some more than once. The names and topics follow. This series of broadcasts is a distinct addition to the educational and spiritual advancement of this part of the Diocese.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, HARRISON CELEBRATES 45th ANNIVERSARY

"Today (October 31st) we are celebrating our Forty-fifth Anniversary. It was on November 1, 1898 that this church building was dedicated and consecrated. We can imagine the excitement and the hurry and bustle that went on that day. The congregation had been worshipping in the Old Firemen's Hall since January of that year. During the summer money had been raised and the church built on the site of Mrs. J. K. Purdy's orchard. The members of the congregation had worked on this project, but most of the credit should go to Dr. William W. Kirby, Rector of Christ's Church, Rye, whose foresight and energy pushed the matter through to its successful conclusion in spite of a good deal of criticism.

"Bishop Potter could not be present on All Saints' Day, but sent the Right Rev. Leighton Coleman, Bishop of Delaware, in his stead, and the Certificate of Consecration in his own handwriting hangs in the vestibule.

"We regret exceedingly that the man who had most to do with the subsequent life of the parish, the Rev. George K. MacNaught, is unable to be with us today. He served well and faithfully as your Pastor from 1903 to 1935. The beautiful Parish House next door stands as a tribute and a memorial to his leadership."

—Sunday Bulletin of All Saints', Harrison

Compared to the venerable age of many of our diocesan parishes, in Manhattan and elsewhere, All Saints' Church is a very young parish. The Church, however, has settled into the life of the community and has the energy and outlook of youth.

The Rev. James V. Knapp has been the Rector since October 1935, following the Rev. George K. MacNaught, who served the parish faithfully for over thirty years.

SANCTUS WINDOW DEDICATED AT ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S CHURCH

The beautiful Sanctus Rose Window at St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, given to the Glory of God and in memory of Lila Vanderbilt Field by her mother, Emily Vanderbilt White, was dedicated in a special service on Sunday, November 7th, at the eleven o'clock service.

Description of Window

The glory of the Church's hymn of Adoration, the Sanctus, is shown forth in this magnificent window. In its design and color one sees exemplified, as in the transcendent words of the hymn itself, Creation's worship and praise of its Creator. The company of earth unites with the company of heaven in adoration of the Most High; with upifted hands the great priests of the ages present humanity's offering of prayer and praise to the Father Almighty; and angels and archangels, clad in light, manifest the glory of God. The basic architectural plan of this window is a wheel, rather than a rose. The four central openings form the hub, with sixteen spokes radiating from this center to the perimeter of the outer circle. The window shows a color tone of gold, red, and blue, the secondary colors of orange, green, and violet linking together and harmonizing the primary colors.

BIBLE CLASS ORGANIZED FOR DEAF NEGROES

EPHPHATHA BIBLE CLASS
St. Ann's Church for Deaf Mutes

A new development at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf, 511 West 148th Street, Manhattan, is Ephphatha Bible Class which is composed of adult Negroes. There are 55 members on its roll, all being deaf. Their activities consist of prayer meetings on two Sunday evenings each month, followed by Bible Class or lectures on current events.

A choir of Colored girls is in process of formation to assist at these special services which are conducted by the Vicar of St. Ann's Church, the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock.

Since the inception of Ephphatha Bible Class some time last year, Mr. Richard Thompson has been Acting President of the Society. A full slate of officers will be elected in December. About thirty of the members are communicants of our Church. Membership is open to baptized persons of the various Protestant denominations.

MASS MEETING ON UNITED CHURCH CANVASS HELD IN MAMARONECK

A great Mass Meeting was held on Sunday, November 21st, in the Mamaroneck Playhouse in connection with the National Church Canvass and the local United Church Enlistment. All religious bodies in the community cooperated, the Roman Catholics unofficially. The speaker was a distinguished Roman Catholic, the Hon. William F. Bleakley, former Judge and candidate on the Republican ticket for Governor a few years ago. The massed choirs of the various churches sung and also the children's choirs.

Processions of vested choirs and the people from their own Churches to the Playhouse were part of the ceremonies. This United Church Campaign in Mamaroneck was a great demonstration of faith and fellowship. All the groups will conduct their own campaigns from November 21st to December 5th.

OUR CLERGY HOLDS SERVICES AT BEAR MOUNTAIN CAMPS

Summer Services provided by our Clergy in the Bear Mountain Camps during the past season met with unusually gratifying response. These services were not only well attended by the children of the camps, but by the parents who visited them at the weekends.

On Kanawauke Lake the Rev. George W. Dumbell of Highland Mills provided an Evening Service every Sunday during July and August with an aggregate attendance of 2,407. The average for each service was 327. Two Celebrations of the Holy Communion were provided with an average attendance of 59.

For the camps on Lake Tiorate and Lake Strahahe, Sunday Services were provided by the Rev. Walter F. Hoffman of Haverstraw during the two summer months, with an aggregate attendance of 4,289. A total of 24 Sunday services were held with an average attendance of 186. Four Communion Services were provided on Thursdays with an average attendance of 88.

The Bear Mountain Park authorities and Camp leaders express deep appreciation of the Church's ministrations and have given cordial and helpful cooperation.

A NEW YORK CITY RECTOR TALKS TO HIS PEOPLE

During the period of November 14th to December 5th we are planning a Visitation Campaign in which we hope to call upon every family represented in this Parish including the Church School. Our purpose is two-fold: first, to bring our records up to date and discover exactly who regard themselves as active members of the Parish. Our second purpose is to awaken a greater interest in the work of the Parish and recruiting of more active members.

This is not primarily a "financial drive" but the visitors will provide cards upon which those who so desire may indicate what offering they are willing to make for the support of the Church, and presented in a sealed envelope, will be known only to the Rector and Treasurer. We do not say that we do not care how much you give or whether you are willing to give anything, because we care very much and we believe that everyone who believes in Christianity and the Church must have a convincing reason for making no financial contribution to its support. So long as any of us can afford the little luxuries of life we can afford a substantial gift for that which really makes life worth living. A regular offering through the envelopes is the most effective means of accomplishing this. It will help you and help us. We can have some idea what to expect for our budget and it will help you to be loyal to your duty of "paying" some share of what you owe to God. To give when you feel like it, or when you happen to be in Church, is a casual practice which you would never use in any important matter. If you are not a regular contributor through the envelope system ask yourself whether as a Christian you have any right to neglect that obligation and privilege.

HISTORIC STONE FROM LONDON ENSHRINED HERE

A fragment of Kentish stone carved by the Saxons and used by the Romans in the wall surrounding the old City of London, from which it was taken and placed in the wall of All Hallows Church, on Tower Hill, London, was enshrined recently in the wall of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City.

The Rev. Dr. Michael Coleman, former acting Vicar of All Hallows, who brought the stone to St. Bartholomew's Church as a gift from the Vicar and people of the English Church, preached the sermon of dedication. The Rev. Dr. George Paull T. Sargent, Rector of St. Bartholomew's, pronounced the prayer of dedication.

The stone, which is about 4" x 5" in size and imbedded in a marble slab in the southwest corner of the Church at the right of the pulpit, will be inscribed as follows:

> "This stone, taken from the Roman wall, built about 110 A.D., was carved by Saxon stone carvers about 675 A.D. and placed in the east end wall of All Hallows' Church, Tower Hill, London, whence it comes to this church with friendly greetings and blessings."

All Hallows' Church was destroyed in the bombings of 1940 and 1941. The ancient crypt beneath the altar, however, remains and plans are being made for the rebuilding of the church after the war.

DEAF CLERGY MEET IN CONFERENCE

A Conference of Church Workers among the Deaf was held at Columbus, Ohio, October 8-10th and was replete with interest and crowded with discussion and work. This meeting had no lay delegates on account of the difficulties of travel. All the business was done by 11 deaf clergymen and 1 candidate for Holy Orders. Five clergymen were unable to attend on account of distance or local engagements. The most important topic of discussion was methods of reaching deaf children and young deaf people, to assure a continuity of religious training.

The responsibility of the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, Vicar of St. Ann's Church for the Deaf in New York City, as Editor of "The Silent Missionary" ends with the February 1944 issue. His greatly increased parochial duties prevent the continuance of this work. With the change of editorship the name will be changed to "The Deaf Missionary". News of this dramatic and widespread Christian ministration to the Deaf will, as ever, fill the pages of this monthly periodical and ever serve to remind us of the work of our Church carried on so successfully for many years in this Diocese and now in many parts of the Church and Nation.

CHRIST CHURCH, SUFFERN, PUBLISHES UNIQUE GRAPHIC

One of the best pieces of publicity for use in the Every Member Canvass is a unique graphic published for general distribution in the parish of Christ Church, Suffern, the Rev. Hugh McCandless, Rector.

It is an illustrated paper of about 17 x 22" depicting the varied work of the parish with the Altar as the center of the graph. The relations of the parish to the National Church, the Diocese, the Armed Forces, Missions are all shown, together with glimpses of the parish activities. It is a painstaking and excellent job and well illustrates Christ Church and her relationship to the community and the world.

The following in large script covers one-half of the back of the folder:

> "This is a partial pictograph diagram of how our parish works. Much is omitted for clarity's sake. But you will never really get the idea until you take some part in the work and/or the worship of the Church and its support. What you are missing is much more than an idea. Here's the picture."

THE REV. DR. GIFFORD CELEBRATES TWENTY YEARS AT MAMARONECK

The Rev. Dr. Frank Dean Gifford completed twenty years as Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, on the last Sunday in November. The following program was planned in celebration: Sunday, November 28th, Bishop Manning was the preacher at St. Thomas's Church at the 11 a.m. service, and a class of young people and adults was presented; Sunday, December 5th, a Parish Corporate Communion was held and the Rector preached on "The Past and the Future at St. Thomas's", Sunday, December 12th, a Parish and Community Reception was held from 4 to 6 p.m.

Parish Shows Progress

The number of communicants of the parish has increased during the present rectorship from 447 to more than 900, and the baptized membership to more than ten per cent of the population of Mamoroneck.

A modern parish house, costing over $100,000., has been erected and paid for and the endowments of the parish greatly increased. There are now 240 Memorial Endowment Funds.

St. Thomas's Weekly was established in 1924 and has been financially self-supporting. Its circulation is not far from the thousand mark, including 163 men in service all over the world.

In 1942 New York University awarded the degree of Ph.D. to the Rector for his studies in American History and Sociology. Because of his activities as Salvage Chairman for Mamaroneck and member of the War Council, Dr. Gifford recently was given the silver trophy awarded to the citizen in Mamaroneck who has rendered outstanding public service.

TRINITY CHURCH, MORRISANIA

Sunday School of Trinity Church, Morrisania
The Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector

The picture above is part of the Sunday School at Trinity Church, Morrisania. It is of especial interest as an illustration of how many of our churches are ministering to the spiritual needs of a changing community. In recent years a larger number of Negroes have moved into this section and are looking to the Church for religious training and worship.

The Sunday School at Trinity now numbers over one hundred pupils, mostly Negroes, with both white and colored teachers. The organist and choir director of the junior choir is white; one secretary of the Sunday School is white, the other colored. There is complete cooperation between the two races.

"God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth." Acts 17:26

WOMEN PRESENT U. T. O. AT GENERAL CONVENTION

The greatest United Thank Offering ever contributed by the women of the Church was presented at a great service in Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio, in connection with the General Convention of the Church. The total for the triennium was $1,119,878.91 of which $78,485.58 was contributed by the women of our Diocese. This is an increase of $1,733.00 over the amount reported at the last previous General Convention. The greatest parish increase in giving was made by the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua.

This magnificent offering by the women of the Church, plus an estimated interest of $30,000.00, making a grand total of almost $1,150,000.00 has been allocated to various important objects including items in the budget of the National Council aggregating $738,000., the largest item of which is $575,000.00 toward the salaries of women workers. $100,000.00 is allocated to the Ida W. Soule Pension Fund, set up for retired women workers.

New buildings are to be provided to the extent of $85,000.00; upkeep and repairs of other buildings, $35,000.00; present emergency in Free China, $15,000.00.

The women of the Church are to be congratulated first upon the splendid result of their labors during the past triennium, and second upon the fine discrimination shown in the allocation of this great free will offering.

The bases for this are loyalty to Christ and His Church and missionary education.

The Diocese and the Church owe much to the Woman's Auxiliary.

CHAPLAINS FROM OUR DIOCESE

Each month, more of our clergy from this Diocese are offering themselves for service as Chaplains in the Armed Forces. The Bishop receives many letters from our Chaplains and from one of these we quote the following: "I came overseas last September, spent a month in England, and then came down here to North Africa. Our unit has been fortunate in being given interesting assignments and in having lots of work to do. The Tunisian campaign has given us confidence that the European War will not last so long as we originally thought it would. That does not hurt our feelings. In addition to fighting for the cause of Democracy, most of the men are fighting to get home as soon as possible."

Our Chaplains have won the highest confidence and regard both of officers and men wherever they have been stationed. The following commendation of one among them from his Commanding Officer is typical—"Upon the Chaplain's transfer from the 289th Infantry it affords me pleasure to note as a matter of record his outstanding services to this regiment as Regimental Chaplain. The spiritual well being and morale of this organization owe much to his tireless efforts. He was very close to the officers and men and his departure for new duties is regretted by all this command. I consider his services worthy of the highest commendation".

SAINT PETER'S SCHOOL EXPANDS

Saint Peter's School, Peekskill, opened for its sixth year on Tuesday, September 14th, with an enrollment of fifty-three boys. This is by far the largest number ever enrolled. The boys come from widely scattered areas, there being some from Rochester, Syracuse, Philadelphia, Doylestown, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Panama Canal Zone, England, Germany, Persia, etc. Several of the English refugees are sponsored by the English Speaking Union.

The Reverend Nicholas M. Feringa, former Vicar of the Chapel of the Incarnation, New York City, has joined the staff as Associate Headmaster and is now in residence at the School.

During the Summer an additional estate of thirty acres was purchased with suitable houses on it which makes it possible for the School to take ninety boys without doing any further building. The campus now has seventy acres. Work on the enlarging of the School Chapel is now completed.

Saint Peter's School was started as literally a venture of faith by the Reverend Frank C. Leeming, the Rector of Saint Peter's Church, Peekskill. He soon resigned from his parish and has developed a sound and growing Church School which has the warm commendation of the Bishop of the Diocese and the support of many prominent Churchmen.

CLERGY CONFERENCE MEETS AT THE CATHEDRAL

The Sixteenth Annual Conference of the Clergy of the Diocese was held this year at the Cathedral on Thursday, October 21st, a one-day session, and was a very successful and helpful gathering. Previous conferences have been two-day sessions held in a hotel about fifty miles from New York; the last two being held at the West Point Thayer Hotel at West Point.

The enrollment and attendance at this one-day session was only about 10% less than the usual number. One hundred and ninety-eight enrolled for the Conference, and one hundred and eighty-seven registered for dinner.

Because of the difficulty of war time travel, and the need for economy in time and finances, the reservations for the West Point Hotel was cancelled by mutual arrangement and the Bishop invited the clergy to the Cathedral for the Conference.

The program follows:—

8:30 A.M. The Holy Communion. Cathedral.
9:15 A.M. Breakfast. Synod House.
10:15 A.M. Morning Prayer. Cathedral.
10:30 A.M. The Bishop of the Diocese

11:30 A.M. The Right Rev. Robert N. Spencer, Bishop of West Missouri
"Preaching the Gospel to the Post-War World"
12:30 P.M. Recess
1:00 P.M. Lunch. Synod House.
2:30 P.M. Professor Frederick A. Pottle, Yale University

5:00 P.M. Evening Prayer. Cathedral.
5:30 P.M. Supper. Synod House.

AMERICAN CHURCH UNION MEETS IN NEW YORK

A yearly event of importance, The American Church Union Regional Conference in New York City, took place on Thursday, November 11th, at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City. High Mass was celebrated by the Right Rev. Wallace E. Conkling, Bishop of Chicago. Father Joseph, Superior of the Order of St. Francis, preached the sermon. Over 600 persons were present at the service. Luncheon, attended by 300, was held at the Hotel Capitol, with Mr. John Krember, President of the American Church Union, as toastmaster. Bishop Conkling, Bishop Gardner and Kenneth J. Tillotson, M.D., M.Sc. of McLean Hospital, Waverly Massachusetts, were the speakers.

Bishop Manning sent a telegram of greeting to the luncheon with regret at his inability to be present. Bishop Gardner announced that he had been appointed by the Presiding Bishop as a member of the reconstructed Commission on the Approaches to Unity and gave a carefully considered and helpful talk in that connection. He said he hoped that the heated and sometimes acrimonious letters to the Church papers and other discussions which were common during the last triennium would cease. We all know that it is the will of our Lord that His Church shall be one. All of our thinking, all of our methods of approach must leave room for the operation of the Holy Spirit. Dr. Tillotson declared with emphasis that the Church offers the solution to many of the ills that perplex and confuse people. Bishop Conkling made the main address. His opening reference to the Bishop of the Diocese as "The Valiant Bishop" brought a resounding burst of applause and approval. The central thought of Bishop Conkling's address was "And I if I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto me". With eloquent persuasiveness, he brought this great truth home to his hearers. The Anglo-Catholic Clergy of the metropolitan section were well represented. Among those present were: the Rev. Edmund Sills, the Rev. Albert H. Frost, and the Rev. Vincent H. Strohsahl, formerly in charge of parishes in this Diocese.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

The shortage of doctors and nurses is very acute and it is, therefore essential that the civilian population be instructed in how to care for the sick in their own homes when the need for such care occurs.

"To meet this need, the American Red Cross is offering classes in Home Nursing to the community.

"The course consists of 24 hours of instruction, 2 hours twice a week, for 6 weeks.

"A graduate of this course is under no obligation to the Red Cross although the completion of the course would qualify the graduate to be of use in an emergency if she wishes to volunteer her services.

"The Red Cross will make every effort to enroll you in a class convenient to your home or business.

"If you are interested, will you please sign the slip which will be presented to you at the door."

This urgent appeal is made directly to the members of the Episcopal Church in this Diocese, and carries the warm endorsement of Bishop Manning. In giving this publicity, I naturally commend it most heartily to our people, both for themselves, and to encourage their approach to others of their acquaintance. A member of this congregation will be present at the door in uniform, as you leave the church this noon, to give you enrollment blanks and talk further with anyone who may wish information.

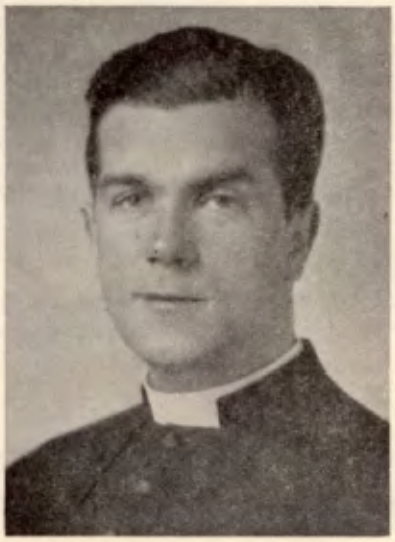
ST. PETER'S, WESTCHESTER, OBSERVES 250th ANNIVERSARY



The Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang
New Rector, St. Peter's Church, Westchester

One of the less than six parishes started in New York before the year 1700 is that of St. Peter's, Westchester. St. Peter's was founded by Act of the Provincial Assembly on September 21, 1693. Its first church was erected in 1700. The present edifice, its fourth, was built in 1879.

A charter to "Saint Peter's Church in the Borough-town of West Chester was granted by King George III of England on the 12th day of May in the year of our Lord, seventeen hundred and sixty-two."

Special services are being held during the month of November. The Rev. Bernard Iddings Bell preached at the Morning Service on Sunday, November 7th.

A great Community Service was held on Sunday afternoon, November 14th, at which the Hon. Samuel Seabury was the speaker. Judge Seabury is a descendant of Bishop Seabury, Rector of St. Peter's 1766-1777, and the first Bishop of the Church in this Country, the 159th Anniversary of whose consecration occurs on this Sunday.

The Institution of the Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang as the sixteenth rector of the parish occurred on Sunday, November 21st; the Bishop of the Diocese officiated. Fr. Lang succeeds the Rev. Edmund Sills who was rector from 1928 to 1943, and to whom the new rector was assistant from 1934 to 1940, before serving as rector of the Church of St. Edward the Martyr, New York City, for three years. Fr. Lang is a member of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and serves as Chairman of the Committee on Released Time.

BRITISH NAVAL OFFICER VISITS THE CATHEDRAL

Among those shown through the Cathedral recently was a British Naval Officer. After making the tour of the Cathedral this British Officer said to the Official Guide: "I think you might like to know why I came to the Cathedral today. Well, all day yesterday I was on censor duty, reading letters from our men to their folks at home. Many of them wrote so interestingly about their visit to this Cathedral that I decided I must see it, too. You see, many of the people who will receive those letters wont be able to come at all, but I thought I might come and look around for myself and, by proxy, for them, too."

A MESSAGE FROM CANTERBURY

A letter to Bishop Manning from the Honorary Steward and Treasurer at Canterbury Cathedral, dated September 24th, says: "The friendship and help that we in this Country have received from the United States during the times of the raiding of this Island will, I can assure you, never be forgotten and now there is the pleasure of taking service men from the United States and Canada round the Cathedral looking almost as beautiful as it did in peace time, the one exception being that all the ancient glass is stored away. However we are back in the Choir after one year of service in the Crypt owing to the damage that was caused by blast."

THE HOUSE OF THE HOLY COMFORTER CAN RECEIVE, AND CARE FOR, MORE PATIENTS

We are asked to publish the following statement in regard to the House of the Holy Comforter and its work:

The House of the Holy Comforter was established in 1880 as a Free Home for Incurables. Thirty-seven patients are, and will remain, in the Home who entered under this arrangement. Others continue there on small weekly payments arranged for on their admission a few years ago. To meet the present cost of high wages, food, and other supplies, it is now necessary to charge Twenty Dollars a week for all incoming patients. The House can accommodate seventy-five patients. The present census is fifty-seven.

Applications for admission may be made by addressing the Superintendent at the Home, 196th Street and Grand Concourse, New York City.

Many of the Churches of this Diocese, either through special solicitation or collections or through the Rector's Discretionary Fund, have contributed to the Home or support a bed in the name of the Church. The Home asks the interest and support of all who are sympathetic with the care of those who are ill and are no longer able to care for themselves.

BRONX CONVOCATION MEETS AT TRINITY CHURCH, MORRISANIA

The Fall Meeting of the Bronx Convocation was held on Tuesday, November 9th, at Trinity Church, Morrisania, the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold, Rector and Dean of the Convocation. The meeting was attended by nearly three hundred persons, a record for Convocation meetings. The customary dinner was omitted because of rationing restrictions.

The Program

The Call to Order and Prayers by Bishop Gilbert

Singing of the National Anthem

Address by Bishop Manning who commended Bronx Clergy and people on their courageous spirit in the face of manifold problems and difficulties. He asked the meeting to stand in silent prayer for the Rev. Claude F. Stent who was seriously ill and is now on the way to full recovery. The Bishop stressed both the spiritual and practical importance of the Every Member Canvass and called on the Bronx Clergy to do their utmost in its promotion this Fall. He asked the laity to cooperate fully in this program.

Introduction of the Rev Gerardus Beekman, new worker in the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, who offered his services to the Clergy.

Address by the Rev. Herbert R. Stevenson, Chairman of the United Church Canvass, explaining this important program among the churches of all faiths. This address was illustrated by stereopticon slides prepared by the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold.

Showing of the sound motion picture, "Army Chaplain", through the special courtesy of the RKO-Radio Pictures Corporation. The showing and projection was handled by Mr. Theopold.

The meeting closed with the Blessing by Bishop Manning.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, WOODLAWN

Complete renovation of the interior of St. Stephen's Church, Woodlawn, has been accomplished since the first of the year, and shingling and painting of the exterior will soon be completed. Much of this work is due to the interest and labor of the Men's Club of the Church, the members of which have spent long hours in cleaning, painting and carpentry.

Many handsome gifts, a number of them memorials, have been made. These include a new altar rail, vicar's kneeling desk, credence table, dossal cresting and aumbry, all of carved oak. Among other gifts are an antique aumbry lamp, a carpet for the center aisle and the recovering of the altar rail cushions.

These improvements and gifts are outward signs of a growing spiritual interest in St. Stephen's. Evidence of this is to be found in the following figures. For the first nine months of 1943 Church attendance increased 1,753 over the same period in 1942, and 3,500 over the corresponding months of 1941. The number of communions has in these same periods increased from 617 in 1941 to 1,074 in 1942, to 1,805 in 1943.

The entire work of the Chapel is showing a fine development under the leading of the Vicar, the Rev. F. Gray Garten.

GRADUATION AND COMMISSIONING OF MIDSHIPMEN IN THE CATHEDRAL

The Graduation Exercises of the great Midshipmen's School in New York are being held every few weeks in our Cathedral. It is a thrilling sight to see this splendid body of young men graduated and commissioned as Ensigns, and the gathering assembled each time, including the families and friends of the midshipmen, numbers more than seven thousand.

After the last Graduation, on October 20th, Captain Richards, the Commanding Officer of the Midshipmen's School wrote the Bishop as follows:

"My dear Bishop Manning:

May I repeat what I said to you on Wednesday, that the graduation of the School at the Cathedral, was one of the most beautiful and solemn that we have held.

It seemed to all of us, officers and graduates and their families, that it was most fitting that this take place in a House of God, with the blessing of the Church on the stern duty on which these young men are embarking.

Thank you for being there and giving the Invocation, and for your continued hospitality in the use of the Cathedral.

With high personal esteem,

Sincerely,

(Signed) J. K. Richards

GENERAL NOTES

ARRANGE TO MAIL your Christmas parcels and greeting cards earlier than usual this year. Indications point to a tremendous increase in postal business. Do your best to mail early.

THE GREATEST FACT in the nature of man is the wings of his spirit. They lift him above the things transitory into the Eternal God. They make him an immortal. No loss or sorrow of earth can trim the spirit's wings. Sing on, and let us radiate the true spirit of Christ, especially during difficult days.—The Bulletin, Church of the Holy Nativity, Bronx

A NEWLY ARRANGED WAR SHRINE was blessed by the Rev. Van Rensselaer Gibson, Vicar of St. Mary's, Sherwood Park, Yonkers, at a special Rally Service recently held in the Church. The Service Light was lit following the ringing of the noon prayer bell. Special prayers were offered for the St. Mary's Servicemen to whom the shrine is dedicated. Patriotic hymns were sung with cornet accompaniment. The Vicar made a strong plea for renewed devotion to Christ's cause. The rally was very well attended.

THE FIRST PRINTED SPANISH NEW TESTAMENT came off the press of Estuan Mierdmanno in Antwerp on October 1, 1543. It had been translated into the Castilian language by a young student named Franzisco de Enzinas. Even before the invention of printing, there were people in Spain who read the Bible usually in Latin, although translations of several parts had been made in various forms of the language by both Christians and Jews. When the Jews were expelled from Spain, they took with them manuscripts of the Old Testament in Spanish. It was even recorded that there was also a translation in Spanish from the Moors in Granada.

—Bible Society Record, November 1943

THE CHURCH PENSION FUND and its affiliates of the Protestant Episcopal Church has subscribed to $1,840,000. of the Third War Loan, it is reported by Bradford B. Locke, Executive Vice-President, who says that altogether the Fund and its affiliates have bought a total of over $5,300,000. of the issues offered by the Government in the First, Second and Third War Loans.

A MEMORIAL TABLET TO OTIS SKINNER, noted actor and president of the Episcopal Actors' Guild at the time of his death, was unveiled on Sunday afternoon, October 24th, at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City, in the presence of his daughter, Cornelia Otis Skinner. The tablet is of terra cotta, and bears the dates 1858-1942, the span of Mr. Skinner's life, and this quotation from Hamlet: "Goodnight, sweet Prince, and flights of angels sing thee to thy rest". This was a favorite quotation of Mr. Skinner and was repeated at his funeral by the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, Rector of the Church, at the special request of Miss Skinner.

THE CATHOLIC LAYMEN'S CLUB held a meeting at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City, on Tuesday, November 2nd. Bishop De Wolfe of Long Island gave an interesting address on "Interpreting the General Convention and Plans for the Future".

AT A MEETING OF THE WOMEN of the Church last week we talked of the growth of the Church around the world. We talked of early apostles and modern ones: men and women who had ventured into far lands to proclaim the Good News to men. The part that women are taking in this great outgoing adventure is striking. As evangelists, teachers, doctors, nurses, social workers and emissaries in other varied lines they have gone out to give new life to the world's great non-Christian masses. The missionary enterprise will enter upon new chapters after the war. It has just begun. There is an upsurge of vital faith in the breasts of many now in the armed forces. They will lay down weapons and be eager to take up callings of reconciliation. This is the dream of the apostolic Church voiced by St. John the Divine: "The sovereignty of the world has passed into the possession of our Lord and His Christ and He will reign forever and ever." The Christian Church has not yet seen this hope realized. But we follow in the steps of the Incarnate Lover of men, moving towards one world fellowship in Christ.

—Bulletin of St. George's Church, New York

OVER TWO HUNDRED NEW PEOPLE said last year St. George's, New York City, is my Church and in my small way I want to help. At the Canvass Dinner on October 19th the goal was set for an additional two hundred new givers. A copy of the Church budget and a pledge card for 1944 has been sent to every member of the parish, young and old. It is confidently expected that the goal will be reached so that the great work of St. George's will continue unabated.

WHEN YOU CHANGE YOUR ADDRESS notify your rector at once. One rector requests: "Once again I ask you to help me with a simple matter. In my calling I spent many hours looking up people at the wrong addresses. This waste of time, and it is indeed serious, for so heavy is my schedule that I have been averaging fourteen hours a day since September, could have been avoided if you would please notify the Church office before you move.

ONE PARISH PLANS the yearly Canvass this way. This year our Every Member Canvass will begin on Sunday, November 14th. At the eleven o'clock service we will be priviledged to hear the Reverend A. Ervine Swift, formerly of Hankow, who will tell us about his work in this field. In the afternoon the canvassers will visit each home to leave pledge cards and descriptive material. During the next few days you will have the time to give this matter full and prayerful consideration so that you may fill out your card with the amount which you wish to give as your share in the work of the Church, and bring it on Sunday, November 21st, to either the eight or the eleven o'clock service. At either service you will have the opportunity to make your communion and to dedicate your own gift by placing it upon the almsbasin. —Church of the Redeemer, Yonkers

ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING THINGS about St. Paul's Church in the Bronx is the large number of men who attend the services every Sunday. Few parishes can boast that there are more men in Church than women, but this happens very often at St. Paul's.

—St. Paul's News, Bronx

BOY SCOUT TROOPS of the Chapel of the Intercession, New York City, put on an interesting and entertaining show in the parish house on November 5th. A full evening's program was presented, consisting of original plays and scenes depicting Scout activities. Troop 702 has been active for twenty-seven years. Fifty members of Troop 703 joined our Armed Forces in the early days of the present war. Two of these are known to be dead, one is missing and one is in an Italian Prison Camp. These Boy Scout Troops, in common with others in our parishes, receive an excellent training which fits them for service as good citizens.

A NEW IDEA in a Service Honor Roll came to us recently. The Service Board carries photographs of those in the Service as well as names and stations, if known. The Board is photographed and a copy, together with any special Church announcement, is sent to each person named on the Service Roll.

ANOTHER NEW IDEA to us is the "Eavesdropper Letters" sent to all members of a parish in the Armed Service. These letters are written to an individual in the Service, but the content of the letter is general so that mimeographed copies may be sent to all on the Church list. A postscript may be added to the effect "you are eavesdropping on the letter from, e.g.—James Smith, who, as you may remember, is President of our Men's Club" or Mrs. Harry Johnson, President of our Woman's Auxiliary.

STILL ANOTHER IDEA. A Church in the West has adopted the "Buddy plan". Each man in the Men's Club agrees to act as Buddy to one or more men in the Armed Service. He visits the home of the man selected, learns of his background, the home conditions etc. and writes him personal letters, giving home and Church news. Through these letters a friendly relationship will be established which may carry through to post-war readjustment. These three suggestions are compiled from items in the November issue of "Church Management".

THE SUMMER ACTIVITIES of the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Suffern, included two buffet suppers and two days of canning. One hundred quarts of vegetables and two kinds of pickles were made for use at parish dinners.

IT IS THE CUSTOM in many parishes to designate a certain time of the year as one in which a special effort is made to secure contributions and pledges to underwrite the program of the Church. Such an effort is called the "Every Member Canvass". Of even greater importance than the financial aim is that of arousing interest in the Mission of the Church, and of awakening a sense of personal responsibility for its success. This year our EMC is being planned carefully and will be executed efficiently.

—Christ Church, Riverdale

(We would especially commend this last sentence.)

A CERTAIN SOLDIER, wounded in action, was treated in a hospital connected with one of our Church Missions. Later he learned that his parents helped support that hospital through contributions in the "red side of the envelope". Had the man been a member of your family, wouldn't you be glad you had contributed to Missions?

—A Parish Bulletin

THE CHURCH PIONEERS again these days as the war creates new needs and opens news fields for Christian service. In every part of the United States, today, there are new "mission fields" and the Church is moving forward to serve in these new areas. On three Wednesday evenings in November, the Missions Committee will bring to St. George's outstanding leaders of the national church to discuss with us "Americans Uprooted by War". November 3rd, 10th and 17th will give us an introduction to this subject which many parish organizations will be studying intensively through the year. On November 3rd, Dr. Weiland will describe the work the Church is doing in defense areas. Bishop Reifsnider, formerly in Japan and now in charge of the resettlement of Japanese in this Country, will speak on his present work on November 10th Save these dates and comes to Memorial House at 8 o'clock.

—St. George's Church, New York.

IN THE CENTER OF THE PARADE GROUND on Sunday mornings the Church Flag (white pennant with blue cross) flies briskly in the breeze above the Nation's Colors. In the doorway of the arching nine hundred foot drill hall, a lone bugler sounds "Church call" across the barracks. Two thousand men in blue swing up the steps, respond to the Chaplain's greeting and assemble before a platform rigged for worship, with altar and pulpit desk. Most of the men are from the South—Baptists and Methodists. They love the old revival hymns: "The Old Rugged Cross" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus". A brief but direct sermon by the Chaplain on the subject, "Shift That Load", follows and concludes, "Suddenly the lever behind our thoughts begins to shift the load. When we so shift self from the center of the picture, God comes in. That is how life is geared up. Let Him shift your load."

TRINITY SCHOOL FOR BOYS opened its 236th year on Monday, September 27th. It is one of the oldest Church Schools in the Country. Its first classes were held in 1709 in the steeple of Old Trinity Church. In 1806 the School was incorporated as a separate institution, and in 1836 adopted its present name.

ONE OF OUR CHURCH BOYS at the Fighting Front asked his Rector in a letter if "his folks were regular in their Church attendance. He hoped they were."

THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, the leading Divinity School of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, established by General Convention in 1817, began its Michaelmas term on Wednesday, September 22nd, with twenty-eight new students. Of these fourteen are Juniors, or first-year men; five are special students, and nine are graduate students. These new students come from twenty-seven colleges and universities, and represent nineteen dioceses. Three men from New York are among the number: L. E. Dobriansky, George W. Edwards and Henry W. Swasey.

LOYALTY SUNDAY IS THE ONE DAY OF THE YEAR when the Rector preaches about money. At this service the pledges of the parishioners will be offered along with the regular collection. Our hope is that some day every adult member of this parish will share in the support of his Church. It will help if you will try to be present instead of mailing your pledge in. It encourages the others to see a large number in Church on the day when we are there to show the sincereity of our loyalty. Pledges will be received at all services.—Christ Church, Suffern

THE SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, was observed on Sunday, November 7th. Bishop Manning was the preacher at the 11 o'clock service. This beautiful edifice on Fifth Avenue at 90th Street houses the combined congregations of the Church of the Heavenly Rest and the Chapel of the Beloved Disciple. The Rev. Dr. Henry Darlington has been Rector since the consolidation in 1922.

THE NINETIETH ANNIVERSARY of St. James' Church, Fordham, was celebrated during the week of November 14th-21st. The Bishop of the Diocese preached at the morning service on Sunday, November 14th, and dedicated a Church Flag. This Flag is the gift of the "Men of St. James" and is in tender memory of Arthur John Keller, Vestryman and President of "Men of St. James". New hymnals, many of them memorials, were dedicated at this service and used for the first time on November 21st. The Reverend Arthur V. Litchfield has been Rector of St. James' Church since December 1934.

TODAY WE STAND AT THE DOOR of a New Church Year. The past year was unsettling and full of tumult. No one can foretell what the new year will bring: pain and misfortunes aplenty no doubt, but also the finest opportunities any age has known. At a divide we look both ways. Let us not, like Lot's wife, look back overlong, but forward, with hope and courage.—From "Forward Day By Day, Sunday, November 28th, the first Sunday in Advent

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16th, was Gift Day at St. James' Church, Fordham. In place of the Annual Fair a Gift Day was planned. This freed an enormous amount of time and energy for the special demands of these days. As the gifts of money were laid upon the Altar, each donor was asked to light a candle and to kneel with the Clergy at the Altar Rail as God's Blessing was asked upon the 91st year of service and witness.

THE RESULTS OF THE SHOWER for Diocesan Institutions, given by the women of Grace Church, New York City, were very gratifying to the committee in charge. One hundred and eighty-two women of the parish gave three hundred and sixty-eight articles of useful clothing for men, women and children and articles for household use. These were distributed to the City Mission Society, the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, the Church Mission of Help, and St. Mary's Hospital for Children.

A SERIES OF FOUR LECTURES will be given by David McK. Williams, Organist and Choirmaster of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City, and a member of the Joint Commission on the Hymnal, on the Wednesday evenings in November at 8:30 in the auditorium of St. Bartholomew's Community House. All interested are cordially invited to attend and to extend this invitation to friends.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, on October 30th, the cornerstone of Grace Church, New York City, was laid. Upon this foundation was built an edifice of extraordinary physical beauty, in which we take an honest pride. But it has had a purpose far greater than that of manifesting beauty in architecture, namely, that of developing the power of the spirit and the spiritual interpretation of life. Furthermore, there has been for one hundred years an ever-deeping sense of responsibility for the people of the neighborhood. Here, then Grace Church stands—a witness to Christ, a witness to the glory of the worship of God, and a witness to the essential brotherhood of all men. Long may she stand! —Parish Notes, Grace Church Bulletin. This anniversary was observed by a special service at which Bishop Manning was the preacher. The congregation at this service filled the Church to its capacity. A large congregation filled the Church and among those present were: the Rev. Dr. W. Russell Bowie, for sixteen years Rector of Grace Church; the Rev. Dr. George A. Wieland of the National Council; and the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York.

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKERS are to address the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Ascension, New York City. The schedule is:

Tuesday, November 9th, 3 P.M.

The Rev. C. L. Pickens, Jr., "Present-Day China through Marco Polo's Eyes"

Tuesday, January 11th, 3 P.M.

Mrs. Harper Sibley, "Tensions"

Tuesday, March 13th, 3 P.M.

Mr. Austin H. McCormick, "Preventing Criminal Careers"

THE DIOCESAN ASSEMBLY of the Daughters of the King was held at St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville, on June 12th. The sermon was preached by the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Charles Breck Ackley. Obedience to Divine Orders and Submission to Christian Discipline were the keynotes of the sermon.

THESE ARE DIFFICULT DAYS in which to keep one's head. It is much easier to be a human weathervane, turning gaily and briskly in the wind to tell everyone which way the wind of popular sentiment is blowing, than to be a human compass with the soul's magnetic needle swinging steadily to its magnetic north, which is Christ. Yet the need is only for compasses; there is none for weathervanes.

Selected

INCLUDING THE RECTOR, 10% of the congregation of St. Stephen's Church, Tottenville, Staten Island, is in the Service. The Rector, the Reverend Raymond E. Brock, is Chaplain in an Army unit at Camp Pendleton, Virginia.

IT IS MORE THAN EVER IMPORTANT these days that we all attend the Services of Worship in our Church regularly. The Rector intends to make this a central idea of our Parish Life for this season. Nothing else will help the hard-pressed, sad, disturbed, worried, bereaved people of our time to keep their heads high, and to face this troubled world.——Bulletin of St. Peter's Church, Chelsea

WITH APPROPRIATE PICTURES drawn by the Rector of St. Mary's Church, Staten Island, the Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer, the Sunday Bulletin of the parish illustrates how one man spends his money, e.g.—Monday, $6.25 for a box of 50 cigars; Tuesday, $10.75 for golf bag and clubs; Wednesday, $6.50 for theatre tickets; Thursday, a new toy for the boy, $4.49; Friday, a new kind of lawn sprinkler, $3.00; Saturday, a recapped tire, $10.00; on Sunday the man is depicted as nonchalantly dropping a duplex envelope into the alms basin. What is in it? Our personal concern in this matter of giving to our Church is whether or not it is proportionate to our spending or to our income.

THE JOHN HARMS CHORUS WILL SING "The Messiah" in St. Peter's Church, Chelsea, New York City, on Wednesday evening, December 15th, at 8:30 o'clock. This is their annual Christmas Presentation of this famous Oratorio and it promises to be one of the important musical events of the Season. No tickets will be sold but there will be an offering and by order of the Vestry it will be given to The American Church Building Fund Commission. This Fund generously contributed $1,000. for the restoration of St. Peter's Church last year, and other churches all over the country benefit by the offerings made to the Fund.

MOST OF YOU WORSHIPPING HERE TODAY would not hesitate to spend $1.00 on amusement or entertainment. Will you not do as much for us and place $1.00 in the Alms Basin today? As you give for God's work so it will return to you with a double blessing.—A New York City Church leaflet. Church giving should at least equal spending for pleasure.

THERE IS NO OTHER DEVOTIONAL BOOK in the world to compare to the Prayer Book of the Anglican Church throughout the world. John Wesley said, "I know of no liturgy in the world, ancient or modern, which breathes more of solid, scriptural, rational piety than the Common Prayer of the Church of England." Robert Hall, the famous Baptist, said: "The Evangelical purity of its sentiments, the chastened fervour of its devotion and the majestic simplicity of its language combine to place it in the very first rank of uninspired compositions."

ON SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20th, the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, D.D., Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese, acting for the Bishop of the Diocese, ordained to the Priesthood the Rev. Claxton Monro. The service was held in the Cathedral and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Church, New York City. Mr. Monro continues as a member of the staff of Calvary Church where he has been since his Ordination to the Diaconate.

ARE YOU EVER BURDENED with a load of care? Does the cross seem heavy you are called to bear? Count your blessings, every doubt will fly, and you will be singing as the days go by. Count your blessings, name them one by one; count your blessings, see what God hath done.

THE RIGHT REV. Y. Y. TSU, Assistant Bishop of Honkong, preached at the Cathedral on Sunday morning, November 14th.

THE RECTOR'S ADVENT TALKS, the eleventh year, will be given at Trinity Church, New York City, from November 29th to December 17th, at twelve o'clock Noon on the general subject, "The Judgment of the Coming Peace". There will be fifteen informal addresses as follows: November 29—December 3, The Rev. Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell; December 6—10, the Rector of Trinity Parish; December 13—17, the Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, Minister of Christ M. E. Church, New York City.

A CHAPLAIN'S CORNER is provided in the G. I. Gazette of Camp Pendleton, Virginia Beach, Virginia, where the Rev. Raymond E. Brock of our Diocese is now stationed. Chaplain Brock had a half column in the November 13th issue in which he quoted General George Washington's famous order to his troops against profane swearing. The "growing fashion" of that day is still a bad habit of many of our present Army. "We can little hope", said General Washington, "for the blessing of Heaven on our Army if we insult by our impiety and folly."

MONEY MAY BUSY THE HUSK of many things, but not the kernel. It brings you food but not appetite, medicine but not health, acquaintances but not friends, servants but not faithfulness, days of joy but not peace and happiness.—Hendrik Ibsen. True, but we tend to believe that the sacrificial use of money in His Name will greatly help to bring all these blessings to the true Christian.

A GREAT RED CROSS SERVICE was held in St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, on Sunday, October 24th, with a very large attendance of Red Cross workers of all branches in their various uniforms. The Church was filled; the Lessons were read by Major Ralph Mann, Chairman of the Disaster Branch of the Red Cross, and by Ralph Jennings, head of the Auxiliary Police. The Rector preached a special sermon on the Parable of the Good Samaritan, giving also the history of the Red Cross and its present needs and deeds. As a result of this service, the number of workers at Surgical Dressings was tripled on the day following. St. Thomas's Parish House is the center for Red Cross work in Mamaroneck.

THE CHURCH YEAR is an orderly arrangement. The first Sunday in Advent is the beginning of a new Church Year. The seasons, Advent, Christmas, Epiphany, Lent, Easter, are not arranged haphazardly. They provide a frame for an orderly sequence of religious instruction and impression the re-enactment in dramatic presentation of the Life of Christ, that perfect life which brought God near to men and made Him real. We begin our year, however, not with Christmas, but with a four week's preparation for it. We are reminded of the historic backgrounds of the Christian religion, the way in which the Old Testament lies back of the New Testament and helps us to understand it; so do we prepare ourselves for the blessed Christmas Day when God made Himself known through the birth of the Lord Jesus.

I REGARD PRAYER as the transcendent act of human intelligence.—President Eliot

EVERY PARISHIONER PLEDGING SOMETHING FOR MISSIONS. Make that the slogan of your parish campaign in the Every Member Canvass. You will be surprised how it will give you more for your parish support, even as it increases your support of Missions.

WHAT IS A QUOTA? It represents the minimum responsibility. How many of us thought of it as the maximum? Would it not be refreshing to ask ourselves as rectors, vestries and congregations—"What is the utmost we can pledge to Missions". That should be the Objective Accepted.

EVERY TIME THE NAME OF THE PERSON against whom you are tempted to hold a resentment is presented to your mind, breath a prayer for him. Meet every resentment with a barrage of prayer. It was said of John Forman, a saintly missionary, that all his thoughts of his friends turned to prayer. Make the rule in your mind that, invariably, all your thoughts of your enemies, real or imaginary, are to become prayers for them. Make the mind understand that and admit no exceptions. Soon you will have no enemies, for you will have no enmity. Prayer dissolves enmity as certain bacteria dissolves filth and turns it into clear water.—E. Stanley Jones in "Abundant Living".

PEOPLE USED TO SAY—and some still do—that they don't believe in Missions. Their eyes have been opened by the accounts of military and naval campaigns in this war—campaigns in the parts of the world where Christian missionaries have nurtured cannibals into the way of living fine, Christian lives. The natives have been the first heroes in many campaigns, simply by befriending and assisting the American and British forces and often—as in the case of the Igorots in the Philippines—by giving direct and large scale support to our men. So the work in foreign fields has proved itself in a new way—Diocese of Fond du Lac

MONEY FOR THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH was secured by St. Peter's Church, Peekskill, the Rev. Dean R. Edwards, Rector, from a lecture given in the parish house by Major John Dilley, West Point graduate, a Churchman who recently returned from Africa where he led a battalion from the West Coast to Bizerte. About $75.00 was the net return.

ONE ESPECIAL OBJECT for your Christmas gifts should be our Seamen's Church Institute. Fifteen hundred sailors of all nations are expected at the Institute Building, 25 South Street, New York City, on December 25th, where they will be served Christmas dinners Your contribution will help make Christmas a gala day for these men, many of whom have had tough war experience. When you send in your check ask to have your name put on "The Lookout" mailing list. You will read this monthly magazine with its old sea yarns, adventures on the seven seas, and its chanteys—songs of seamen, as avidly as you do any "best seller".

THE GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY has established diocesan headquarters on the third floor west in the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close, with Mrs. George Adams in charge as Office Secretary. Her office hours are from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. The telephone number is UNiversity 4-4620. The GFS shares office space in the general offices of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education.

A LAST MINUTE BOOTH was a feature at the Red, White and Blue Fair held at the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, New York City, on December first and second. Gifts suitable for hostesses to give Service men and women, who may be spending Christmas in New York, were available. A turkey dinner was served both nights.

THE HOPE OF HUMANITY in our time is enshrined in the local churches of the free peoples. Within these local churches men preserve and protect that faith which is not only the stay of their hearts but which is also the prelude to peace and freedom. It is their task but it is also their glory to provide the service and support which make the Church of Christ a world power.—Bishop Reinheimer

WHAT IT TAKES is a booklet sponsored by "The Calvary Evangel", a monthly paper published by Calvary Church, New York City. It contains stories from the lives of soldiers, sailors, airmen and others, including Generalissimo and Madam Chiang Kai-Shek, Captain Rickenbacker, Commander Tunney, Francis B. Sayre, Lt. General Sir W. G. S. Dobbie, and many others—26 in all. These articles illustrate the power of faith and of God's care. They are helpful to any reader and are good sermon illustrations. The book is having a circulation which will approach 100,000. It sells at 25 cents per copy.

THE CATHEDRAL VICTORY GARDENS were a worthwhile experiment. Rather poor soil, an army of pigeons and the half dozen squirrels living in the Cathedral Close, were obstacles which had to be met. But a good crop of beans, lettuce, swiss chard, turnips, tomatoes and some corn was harvested. Those caring for the gardens are already planning for next year.

A PRAYER SHRINE for the members of St. Paul's Parish in the Bronx, who are in the Armed Service, was dedicated on Sunday, November 7th.

ON SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31st, Grace Church, New York, celebrated the 100th Anniversary of the Laying of the Cornerstone of the present Church building. Bishop Manning preached the sermon and congratulated the congregation upon the remarkable development of the life and work of the Parish under the rectorship of the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt. At this service the Church was filled to its utmost capacity.

ON SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 14th, at eleven o'clock, the Bishop of the Diocese visited St. James' Church, Fordham, at the observance of the 90th Anniversary of the Parish and preached to an overflowing congregation. At four o'clock on that Sunday, at St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie, the Bishop instituted the new rector of the Parish, the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy. The impression already made by Mr. McEvoy's work was shown by the large congregation present, and in his address the Bishop emphasized the fact that St. Mark is not only an Historic Shrine, but has today a great and real opportunity for spiritual ministry, and that the great need in the life of the Church at this time is true pastoral work to carry the power of Christ into the lives, and hearts, and homes of the people.

THE OLD PARISH OF ST. JOHN on Waverly Place, New York City, is making remarkable progress in strengthening its spiritual work and also in reducing the great burden of debt under which the parish has labored for a number of years. A good and courageous beginning towards this was made under the rectorship of the Rev. Dr. Walter P. Doty, and under the leadership of the present rector, the Rev. Charles H. Graf, most encouraging progress has been made. On November 29th at a Parish Meeting several Notes will be burned, representing obligations of more than $27,000. which have recently been liquidated.

AN ERROR CREPT INTO THE CONVENTION JOURNAL. In the 1943 Journal of Convention there is an error on page 215. The total given there as coming from Trinity Church, New York, for the Program of the Church is $6,840. It should have been $24,917.28. The Secretary expresses his regret that this error occurred in the printing of our Diocesan statistics.

The Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Secretary of Convention

NATIONAL COUNCIL TO SPONSOR 1945 STEWARDSHIP DIARY

The Diary and Budget Account Book, generally known as the "Stewardship Diary", distributed at cost for the last sixteen years by Frank H. Merrill, will not be available to the Church until the 1945 edition.

After Mr. Merrill's resignation last January first as Secretary for the Diocesan Program of the Church, attempts were made to find a new sponsor for the Diary, but without success. Arrangements have now been made whereby the National Council will undertake to furnish this special Church edition for 1945.

In the meantime an insert to fit a vest-pocket diary of the same size as the usual editions (5½ x 2¾") with the Church Year Calendar will be available free to all who write the National Council Book Store, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., for it. Samples will be sent throughout the Church. The hundreds of clergy and lay people who have used this especial Church edition of the Diary will be glad to know that it is sponsored by the National Council.

An exceptionally good vest-pocket diary with Church dates is on sale at branches of a chain store throughout the country. The especially prepared insert will fit this book.

THE CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN, CHAPPAQUA, BECOMES A PARISH

The Mission Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua, has become incorporated as a parish and has applied for Union with the Convention.

This happy event was celebrated by a large family dinner meeting on Tuesday, November 16th, which more than 160 persons attended. The feature of the evening was the welcome to the first parish rector, the Rev. Howard D. Perkins, and Mrs. Perkins. Letters of welcome and felicitation addressed to Fr. Perkins from Bishop Manning and from Bishop Gilbert were read. The program consisted of short talks by the Rector, Mr. E. C. M. Stahl. Mr. C. Herbert Gale and Mr. James Elton Bragg, being ended with a prayer of thanksgiving and the Doxology.

An interesting exhibit of documents, photographs, books and papers, covering the inception and progress of the Church and congregation, was placed on view.

After thirty-seven years the Church has become a well known landmark in the Harlem Valley, and many persons have reiterated Bishop Potter's remark that it is the most beautiful rural church in America. It was built by the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Clendenin as a memorial to their small daughter, Muriel, and as an offering for the reunion of Christendom. It is copied after an old English church at Monckton Hadley outside of London which was built in A.D. 1400 in the Norman Castle style. The site of the Church in America is a portion of the farm bought by Horace Greeley in 1852 and the structure was built mostly out of the old boundary walls and field stones picked up nearby.

Ground was first broken on July 4, 1904. The cornerstone was laid September 29, 1904, and the Church was consecrated on June 21, 1906, by Bishop Seymour of the Diocese of Springfield, Illinois, assisted by Bishop Coleman of Delaware. The ceremonial attendant on the consecration was very colorful, there being two Bishops and over fifty of the clergy present in full regalia, with the vested choir of St. Peter's Church in the Bronx, of which Dr. Clendenin was Rector. The procession started in the pine grove and wound about the grounds to the Church door, whereupon the ritual of consecration started. More than three hundred people were in attendance, most of whom remained on the grounds surrounding the Church.

For some years past the congregation had been working to attain the status of an incorporated parish and this was recently accomplished. The Rev. Howard D. Perkins, who was the missionary priest at the time of incorporation, was elected by the parish and asked to become the Rector, which office he has accepted. Fr. Perkin's previous work was in New Haven, Connecticut, and more recently he was Dean of the Cathedral in Portland, Maine.

THE BISHOP'S SERMON ON THANKSGIVING DAY

We have received from Florida, from the office of The Daytona Beach Evening News, the following editorial on the sermon which Bishop Manning preached in our Cathedral on Thanksgiving Day.

THE BISHOP PROBES DEEPLY

The Right Rev. William T. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, preached a Thanksgiving sermon last week in which he stressed as the most earnest reason for Americans to be thankful this year is the nation's retreat from isolationism, and its determination to unite with other nations in maintaining world peace after the war is won.

The bishop, probing deeply beneath the surface of superficial and immediate developments, searches his own soul and that of the American people and finds there, this newspaper believes, not only cause for thankfulness but cause for hope.

"We see now, not yet perhaps quite clearly, that we can not escape our share of world responsibility and that our nation must join with other nations in some form of world organization which shall maintain world security and peace, and which shall have armed force at its command to deter any would-be aggressor," the bishop said, as quoted in the New York Herald-Tribune.

"In the recent Moscow conference," he continued, "we have seen the most real and encouraging advance that has ever been made toward this great world ideal. There are great difficulties to be met in effecting such a world fellowship, but the difficulties will be solved.

"We now see the vision of a world of united nations, and we shall not go back from it. The world will not go back to the level of isolationism, on one hand, or of imperialism, on the other. With God's guidance, we shall go forward to such a fellowship of nations and to such international cooperation as shall make possible a truer and more Christian world order and lasting peace."

Bishop Manning, according to the New York Herald Tribune, noted the determination of Americans "not to listen to any proposals for a false and delusive peace, a so-called peace which would, in reality, be a betrayal of peace." He added that we should all insist on the adoption of "an adequate, courageous, non-political financial policy" to save our country from inflation.

The ecclesiastic also found cause for Thanksgiving in the fact that victory is nearer than it was a year ago; for the certainty that the allies are fighting on the side of justice, mercy, and freedom; for the spirit of the men and women who are serving in the armed forces; for the continued struggle of "those true spiritual heroes in the conquered and enslaved countries."

Truly a great sermon and an inspiration to all of us who see more to this war than just slapping the Japs because they bombed Pearl Harbor.

THE REV. DR. JOSEPH PATTON McCOMAS

who retired in 1938 as Vicar of St. Paul's Chapel, after twenty years' service with the Chapel, a part of Trinity Parish, died on October 5th, at seventy-three years of age.

Before coming to Trinity Parish, Dr. McComas was from 1895 to 1899 Curate of St. Anne's Church, Annapolis, Maryland, and Rector of the same until 1916 when he joined the staff of Trinity. Dr McComas is remembered with affection by all who knew him.

The funeral service was held in St. Paul's Chapel on Thursday, October 7th.

A memorial to Dr. McComas is the Annual British Harvest Festival, a survival of the centuries-old observances superseded by Thanksgiving Day in the United States. Dr. McComas revived the festival in 1921, housing it appropriately in the only British-built church remaining in Manhattan. These autumnal services, held in a church decorated with seasonal produce, became memorable in Trinity Parish and were transferred to Trinity Church after Dr. McComas retired.

Dr. McComas was a student of old New York, and a cherished project was the restoration of St. Paul's to its appearance in the day of George Washington, when it stood in a field of wheat. He began planning the work the year he became Vicar of St. Paul's, and twelve years later was proudly on hand when the restoration was complete and scaffolding that had covered the face of the Church for nine months was removed.

THE REV. DR. ROBERT FREDERICK LAU

Vicar of St. Paul's Church, Spring Valley and St. John's, New City, died on October 5th at fifty-seven years of age.

Dr. Lau was a former staff member of the Cathedral. He was appointed Counselor on Ecclesiastical Relations of the National Council in 1934 and was considered an authority on the history and doctrines of the Eastern Orthodox Churches.

In 1936 Dr. Lau resigned from the Cathedral to take up missionary work in Haiti where he became Dean of the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity in Port au Prince. He returned to New York a year later to become an Assistant at the Chapel of the Intercession. In 1938 and 1939 he was chaplain and instructor at the Rectory School, Pomfret, Connecticut.

Among the churches he served as rector are St. Mark's, Mendham, New Jersey; St. John's, Bayonne, New Jersey; and Grace Church, White Plains, New York.

LIFE OF BISHOP ROWE IS PUBLISHED

A copy of the life of that great Bishop and Christian, the Rt. Rev. Peter Trimble Rowe of Alaska has been received by the Diocesan Bulletin.

This biography is written by Bishop Rowe's close friend, the Rt. Rev. Thomas Jenkins, D.D., retired Bishop of Nevada, and is entitled "The Man of Alaska'. The attention of our Clergy and people is called to this interesting and inspiring book which is published by The Morehouse-Gorham Co.

CATHEDRAL SERVICE HELD FOR MERCHANT SEAMEN

A Service of Prayer for God's Blessing upon the officers and men of the Merchant Navies of the United Nations, with thankful recognition of their heroic service, was held in the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon, November 7th. Over five thousand five hundred people were present.

The service began at four o'clock with half an hour procession, including representatives of the thirty-four Allied Countries fighting the Axis, with their flags; following were 1,025 seamen cadets from the nearby marine academies and graduate schools. Next came four hundred seamen from ships of the United Kingdom, Denmark, Greece, Poland, Yugoslavia, China, France, Norway and the Netherlands, with their flags. Sir Godfrey and Lady Haggard headed the representatives of the sixteen Consulates General. The chaplains of the academies and the ministers of several churches with foreign congregations were also present.

The Bishop of the Diocese blessed the massed flags which were borne to the Altar and offered prayers for a just and lasting peace for all mankind.

The Lesson was read by the Rev. James C. Healey, Ph.D., of the American Seamen's Friend Society. The Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of our Seamen's Church Institute of New York, preached the sermon. Dr. Kelley stated in part: "Merchant seamen are the keystone in the Victory Arch. Without our merchant seamen Guadalcanal might now be a powerful Japanese base, and Australia a Japanese colony. Russia might not have fought her marvelous campaign for freedom had not merchant seamen from Great Britain, Norway, the United States, Holland and Belgium been courageous and skillful enough to brave the heat of the Persian Gulf and the terrible winter runs to Murmansk with supplies. Truly global has been the task of merchant seamen in this war. If they, as the keystone, had collapsed we would be rubble under the Nazi heel."

Chaplain Harkness of the Seamen's Church Institute and Chaplain Pollard of the United States Marine Academy offered prayers in the service. Prayers and Blessing were said by the Bishop of the Diocese.

Organizations represented at this great service included the Seamen's Branch YMCA, Maple Leaf Club, American Theatre Wing Club for Merchant Seamen, United Service Organization Club, Music Box Canteen, Inc., United Seamen's Service, Inc., New York Port Area and Staten Island Clubs, American Women's Hospital Reserve Corps, Whole World Service Club, French Seamen's Foyer and Free French War Veterans.

AS JUST ONE EXAMPLE of the need of Church work in war industry areas, the Rev. Dr. Almon R. Pepper, points to Richmond, California. In October the Richmond yards built 31 ships, and within recent months there has been a population increase from 27,000 to 127,000.

SERGEANT FRANK KARR MAKES AN INTERESTING EVERY MEMBER CANVASS IN NORTH AFRICA

Not many parishes have been able to extend their Every Member Canvass to North Africa, but this has been accomplished by St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck. Sergeant Frank Karr, a member of St. Thomas's, received a copy of the Parish Weekly and decided to take up some contributions for the Program of the Church among the men in his tent.

The contributions amounted to Twenty Dollars which Sergeant Karr sent to his Rector, The Reverend Dr. Gifford, in the form of a 1000 franc note, a highly pictorial piece of French African currency which was pinned across the top of the Sergeant's letter.

Sergeant Karr's letter to Dr. Gifford follows:

Dear Mr. Gifford:

Received your V-mail letter yesterday and was delighted that you wrote me. Have received three copies of St. Thomas's Weekly and enjoyed them very much.

Am contributing something to your Church support fund. I sort of scouted around my tent and obtained a few contributions from the boys totaling $20.00 which I'm sending in the form of a 1000 Franc note. You will be able to change it there easily enough, and I thought that, in addition, you might wish to see some French African currency. The contributions are S/Sgt. Tatone, $4.00 Cpl. Vining, $3.00; Cpl. Yelverton, $3.00; Cpl. Montgomery, $3.00; and T/5 Woodward, $3.00—and, I contributed the remainder. Our sincerest holiday greetings and wishes go with it.

Glad to see Len Grosso better his position but sorry to see him leave the Parish. He will be missed by a lot of us.

Everything is as usual here. We are still pushing steadily toward Berlin. Hope to see the end of all this in the near future.

Thanking you for everything you are doing in our behalf, I remain.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Sgt. Frank Karr

GRIPSHOLM LANDS OUR MISSIONARIES

Twenty-one of our Missionaries, including Bishops Craighill and Roberts, who were prisoners of the Japanese, were landed in New York on Wednesday, December first, after sixty days at sea.

Because the family and friends of the evacuees were excluded from the landing docks, mimeograph sheets listing the names of our Missionaries and where they could find their relatives and friends were prepared and distributed to them on landing. A helpful service by Church headquarters.

Temporary "Gripsholm Headquarters" have been established in the lobby of the Prince George Hotel, 14 East 28th Street, New York City. Ration Books were issued by the O.P.A. to all the passengers. Church, Red Cross and other service agencies are doing all possible to welcome and care for the nearly 1,500 passengers, most of whom had been interned by the Japanese for nearly two years.

A service of Holy Communion and Thanksgiving was for our Missionaries, their families and friends at Calvary Church, Gramercy Park, on Saturday morning, December 4th. An intimate luncheon, limited to the evacuees and families, was given by the National Council at the National Arts Club on Saturday.

We all rejoice at the safe arrival of these Gripsholm passengers. This is the second trip the Gripsholm has made. Over 6,000 more American civilians are still held in the Orient.

NATIONWIDE CHRISTIAN MISSION ON WORLD ORDER LAUNCHED AT CATHEDRAL

More than seventy prominent clerical and lay leaders have agreed to participate as speakers in a nationwide Christian Mission on World Order, held in one hundred cities throughout the country from November 1st to November 20th, under the auspices of six major interdenominational agencies. The mission speakers traveled in teams of four. The purpose of the Mission is to encourage people to study the problem of World Order.

At the invitation of the Bishop of the Diocese, the Mission was officially launched with a mass meeting in the Cathedral on Thursday, October 28th. Admission was by ticket secured from local churches and from the Greater New York Federation of Churches.

The service was under the auspices of: Brooklyn Church and Mission Federation, Greater New York Federation of Churches; and the cooperating agencies were: Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; Foreign Missions Conference of North America; Home Missions Council of North America; International Council of Religious Education; Missionary Education Movement, and the United Council of Church Women.

Bishop Manning gave the Invocation. The Lesson from the prophecy of Isaiah and the Gospel of St. Matthew was read by the Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Minister of St. Nicholas Church, Fifth Avenue. The Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, Presiding Bishop, offered prayer and made introductory remarks. The speakers were:—

John Foster Dulles, Chairman of the Commission to Study the Bases of a Just and Durable Peace.
Sumner Welles, Former Under Secretary of State
Joseph H. Ball, United States Senator from Minnesota

There was a procession of flags to the Altar where Archbishop Athenagoras of the Greek Orthodox Church gave the Benediction of the flags and the people. Bishop Manning pronounced the Blessing.

The offering received at this service was toward the cause of promoting the Christian Mission on World Order.

The Hon. Sumner Welles was kept at home by illness; his speech was read by Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, General Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches in America. Mr. Welles said: "In their search to serve the highest interests of the people of the United States and of humanity as a whole, the Federal Council of Churches could have made no more vitally important contribution than that which is represented in the Church's National Mission on World Order. . . The moral and the practical significance of the work which has been undertaken by the churches, founded as it is on the great principles represented by the Six Pillars of Peace, is recognized throughout the length and breadth of this land of ours and the concrete and constructive results of this great effort are already apparent to all.

"The vital force of our religious faith is thus breathing the breath of life into the plans—and the confident hopes—of so many millions of our fellow citizens for a new and better world, when the tragic price of our future victory is paid."

In one of his concluding statements Mr. Welles said, "The Religious faith which we hold is dynamic; it is not static. It is strengthened by our confidence that as mankind progressively practice the Divine teachings in which we believe, so will humanity at last break the self imposed chains which have so long shackled it."

The other two speakers, Mr. Dulles and Senator Ball, called for post-war world-wide cooperation as a means to a lasting beace.

A procession of about five hundred Church leaders and New York Church representatives, with different national backgrounds and dressed in native coustumes, carrying fifty flags of the United Nations, and a great choir of four hundred voices from ten City Churches filled the Choir and Chancel. A congregation of over six thousand was present.

PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTING THE SCRIPTURES IS A MAJOR WAR ENTERPRISE

The yearly circulation of the Bible and parts of it has always exceeded that of the so called "best sellers". No book to compare with this has ever been or will ever be printed. It is not a man's book, but God's Book. Statistics of only one Bible agency, the largest, are now at hand:

During 1942 the American Bible Society

Achieved a known distribution, even on incomplete returns from Foreign Agencies, of 8,254,629 volumes of scriptures, exceeding that of any year since 1931;

Distributed in the United States 5,371,293 volumes of Scriptures, the greatest number in any year of the Society's history;

Issued in the United States for domestic and foreign distribution 8,230,865 volumes of Scripture, exceeding that of any earlier year;

Distributed 1,511,777 New Testaments in the United States, the greatest number since the year 1918;

Participated in the formation of the "United Bible Societies" of Brazil, bringing together the work of the American Bible Society and of the British and Foreign Bible Society;

Distributed 8,924 embossed volumes and talking-book records for the blind—surpassing that of any other year in 108 years of service;

Produced an average of 5,444 New Testaments in the Army and Navy editions, every working day of the year;

Maintained its work in both occupied and unoccupied China;

Inaugurated studies with the British and Foreign Bible Society looking to the supply of Scriptures for the post-war world.

Do we realize that millions of people are now learning to read for the first time and must be given the Holy Scriptures? Prisoners of war and refugees from all countries were furnished nearly 500,000 copies free last year. Tens of thousands of others will need them.

NEW WORKER APPOINTED

The Rev. Gerardus Beekman has accepted the position of Director of Religious Education under the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and is established in his office on the third floor of the Old Synod House. This appointment was made with the approval of the Bishop of the Diocese.

Mr. Beekman was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Manning at a special service of Ordination, which because of the War emergencies was advanced from Trinity Sunday to Saturday, February 20th. He served as Assistant at St. George's Church, Newburgh, and Vicar of St. Paul's, Newburgh, until his appointment to his present position.

A part of his work is the editorship of "Action", the monthly publication of the Board of Religious Education, and he is Chairman of the important Released Time Committee. He is at the call of the Clergy of the Diocese to assist in all matters of Sunday School curriculum and activity.

ST. PAUL'S CHAPEL MARKS ITS 177th ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, New York, preached a sermon on Sunday, October 31st, at St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity Parish, in commemoration of the 177th Anniversary of the opening service in the Chapel in 1776.

The Rev. Robert J. Gibson, Vicar of St. Paul's Chapel, was the Celebrant at the Holy Communion and blessed a set of purple vestments in memory of the Rev. Dr. Joseph P. McComas, who was Vicar for twenty years.

"St. Paul's Chapel stands here today in its original structure", said Dr. Fleming, "and continues to shape the lives of the people who come into it, a place where they find present the Divine Ruler of all men, the only Lord and Master of all lives."

BISHOP MANNING INSTITUTES THREE RECTORS

The Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang was instituted Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday afternoon, November 21st. The service was held in connection with the 250th Anniversary exercises of the Parish at which the Bishop also preached.

The Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton will be instituted Rector of St. Stephen's Church, New York City, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday, December 12th, at the eleven o'clock service.

The Rev. Alexander A. Frier will be instituted Rector of St. John's Church, Staten Island, by the Bishop of the Diocese on Sunday afternoon, December 12th, at four o'clock.

The Service of Institution in our Prayer Book is a very beautiful and moving one and the frequency with which it is used in this Diocese shows how truly its significance and its teachings are appreciated by our clergy and people.

DIOCESAN WOMAN'S AUXILIARY HOLD ADVENT MEETING AND LUNCHEON

The Sixth Triennial Missionary Luncheon of the Woman's Auxiliary was held on Tuesday, December 7th, in the Crypt of the Cathedral, after Advent Cathedral Service. To these a most heartfelt welcome was given.

About 450 women attended the Service in the Cathedral at 10:30 a.m. for Holy Communion and Sermon. The Bishop of the Diocese was the Celebrant and The Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., Chaplain of Columbia University was the preacher.

NOTES ON STEWARDSHIP

"All things come of thee, O Lord, and of thine own have we given thee". So sing we as our offerings are placed on the altar.

Our daily lives should acknowledge this fundamental truth as it relates to our time; our talents; our money. Worship, Service, Giving, all come under this Christian tenent.

God is the owner of all things. We are His Stewards. Christian Stewardship refers not only to tithing or proportionate giving but to all of life's activities: How we spend all our time; How we employ all our talents; How we earn and how we spend all our money are Stewardship obligations.

The Church of Christ the Lord should come first in our giving. The extension of His Kingdom should be our basic thought.

"My business is serving God, I cobble shoes to pay expenses" is a Christian classic. To be a true Steward, one must be both loyal to Christ and His Church and discriminating in the distribution of the "separated portion".

WE MUST NEVER THINK

of our church as merely a local organization, but as a vital part of the world-wide Church, the very Body of Christ, which has come down to us through the ages, and which is His instrument for the salvation of mankind. Just as our parish grew out of the efforts of others, we must work and give for the growth of the greater Church in all the world.

—Leaflet of the Church of the Holy Nativity, Bronx

BISHOP TUCKER CONTINUES AS PRESIDING BISHOP

We join with the entire Church in gratitude that Bishop Tucker is to continue as our Presiding Bishop for the next triennium.

To him is given one of the greatest tasks that ever faced any of our great Church leaders. To pilot the Church through these War days into the equally strenuous Peace-time will demand all of his great qualities of leadership and devotion.

He should have our continuous prayers for Divine strength and guidance. Let us all rally to his leadership that the Church may surge forward with power.

BRITISH MISSIONS STILL NEED HELP

Aid to British Missions is a continuing need. About one-half of the dioceses are including their 1943 giving for this purpose in their budget Expectations, and from this source $47,868 will be raised. The other dioceses preferred to continue their special appeal, but the amount received to November 1 from all of such dioceses is only $22,770.78. The record stands: Gifts in 1941, $341,520.04; in 1942, $172,026.33; Budget items and specials received to November 1, 1943, $70,638.78.

The Bishop's Lenten Message to the Diocese

We are living in a great Day of the Lord. This Lent and Easter should mean more to us than any Lent and Easter that we have known. In this world situation we are being shown clearly that the one true hope for this world is Christ. We see that in literal truth "there is none other Name under Heaven given to man in Whom, and through Whom, he may receive health and salvation but only the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ". And the purpose of Lent is to make the Lord Jesus Who is at the Right Hand of God more real to us. The one great purpose of Lent is to bring us nearer to our Lord, to strengthen our faith in Him, to bring us nearer to Him in our daily lives, and so nearer to each other, and to all our fellow-men.

And so I give to our whole Diocese, clergy and people alike, as our watch-word for this Lent these words of St. Peter—"But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To Him be glory both now and forever".

Let us repeat that text to ourselves once every day this Lent. And let us have before us, all over our Diocese, these definite aims.

First. Let us believe more fully in the Divine realities of our Religion. The very soul of our religion as Christians is belief in the Lord Jesus Christ as Saviour, Lord, and God. In the pages of the New Testament we see plainly what faith in the Lord Jesus meant to those first Christians, and what it ought to mean to each one of us.

Second. Let us make fresh effort to understand the glorious teachings of our Religion. Let us see to it that we know what we believe, and why we believe it. Our Religion cannot mean much to us unless we do this. And in our Prayer Book we have a wonderful guide and teacher. The Prayer Book declares to us the full Gospel—the Gospel of Christ and His Church. The Prayer Book is our guide in Doctrine, in Worship, and in the living of the Christian life. Let us see to it that we know, and understand, what the Prayer Book teaches as to the Faith, the Sacraments, and the Ministry of the Holy Catholic Church.

Third. Let us, this Lent, more faithfully practise our Religion. Let us be practising Churchmen and Churchwomen. Certainly our Religion cannot mean much to us without that. What we need, all of us, is to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." What we need is not more argument about Jesus Christ but more faithful coming to Him in Prayer, in Sacrament, and in Worship.

If we will do this, if we will practise our Religion, it will be a reality to us, it will be a living power in our lives and will give us the strength that we need, the strength from God to do our part in this day in which we are living, to do our part in the Armed Forces or on the Home Front, to do our part towards winning the Victory for Justice, Freedom and Humanity, and to do our part towards the establishing of a better and more Christian World Order and a true and lasting Peace.

THE BISHOP DEDICATES A CHAPEL IN MEMORY OF THE REVEREND HENRY MOTTET

On Sunday, January 15th, at the Church of the Holy Communion, Bishop Manning dedicated a Chapel erected by the Rector and Vestry to the memory of the Reverend Henry Mottet who was for fifty years the beloved Rector of the Parish. Acting with the Bishop at the service were the Reverend Worcester Perkins, the Reverend Lewis H. Webster, and the Reverend Dr. Kelley of the Seamen's Church Institute. We quote the following from the Bishop's sermon on this important occasion which is also being printed by the Rector and Vestry of the Church of the Holy Communion.

"In this tribute to the memory of Dr. Mottet I join with deep personal feeling for I knew and loved him well. During the years that I was Rector of Trinity Parish I was drawn into close and affectionate relationship with him, a relationship which continued to the time of his death. I remember vividly the last time I saw Dr. Mottet. It was in our great Hospital of St. Luke which was founded by the revered First Rector of this Parish, Dr. Muhlenberg, and with which Dr. Mottet always maintained close and special relations. As he lay there in the Hospital at the end of his earthly journey, we talked and prayed together. He asked me especially to give him, as his Bishop, the Church's Blessing, and then I asked him to give me his blessing which he did as I knelt beside his bed, and those words of blessing were near to the last that he spoke in this world.

There were three things outstanding in Dr. Mottet's life and ministry.

First. His devotion to this Parish and its tradition of faith and service, and to the memory of the great and noble founder of this Parish, Dr. William Augustus Muhlenberg.

Second. His realization of his responsibility as Priest and Pastor. His faithful care for the Worship of the Church and the due administration of the Sacraments, and his care and thought for all sorts and conditions of men, his interest in people and in all that might help towards human welfare and human betterment.

Third, and greatest of all because this was the foundation of everything else in his life, his full and living faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, his faith in the Gospel of Christ and His Church "as this Church hath received the same".

He believed in the Church as a Divine Reality, not as an organization formed according to the ideas of men.

He knew the meaning of those great words which are written in the official Certificate of the Incorporation of this Parish, and are written also on the tablet in your Sanctuary beside your Altar, that the Church is to stand "for the worship of Almighty God according to the Catholic Faith whole and undefiled", the Faith, that is, of Christ and His Church as this comes to us from the beginning without addition or diminution.

He believed, as our Prayer Book declares, that the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church with its Faith, its Sacraments, and its Three-fold Ministry of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, comes to us "from the Apostles' time". And, so believing, he was able to help others to believe, and to accept the help and blessing which Christ Himself promises and gives us through the holy ministrations of His Church."

THE BISHOP EXPRESSES HIS THANKS

Owing to an attack of the prevailing influenza, which developed into a light case of pneumonia, Bishop Manning was unable to be present at the services during the Christmas Season, but is now well again and has resumed his work.

The Bishop wishes through the Bulletin, to express his heart-felt thanks for the many kind messages which came to him by telephone and otherwise from all parts of the Diocese.

MANHATTAN CLERGY MEET AT LUNCHEON. DISCUSS FORWARD-IN-SERVICE PROGRAM

On the invitation of the Bishop of the Diocese, the Clergy of Manhattan came together for a luncheon meeting at Synod Hall on January 5th, at which the Manhattan Committee on Forward-in-Service presented proposals dealing with the Church's responsibilities and opportunities in post-war reconstruction.

Following suggestions approved at this meeting, the Committee is now planning an all-day meeting of the Manhattan Clergy to be held at the General Theological Seminary on Tuesday, February 15th, when, it is hoped, there may be opportunity to consider ways and means whereby the Church's influence can be made a more effective factor in the building of a Christian World Order.

The members of this Committee on Forward-in-Service are:

The Right Reverend Charles K. Gilbert, Chairman.
The Reverend Dr. Charles Breck Ackley, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville.
The Reverend Frederick Burgess, Rector of the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, New York.
The Reverend Lucius A. Edelblute, Rector of the Church of the Holy Apostles, New York.
The Reverend Dr. John H. Johnson, Rector of St. Martin's Church, New York.
The Reverend Dr. Elmore McNeill McKee, Rector of St. George's Church, New York.
The Reverend James A. Paul, Vicar of Holy Trinity Church in St. James Parish, New York.
The Reverend Samuel M. Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Church, New York.
The Reverend Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, New York.
The Reverend Dr. Grieg Taber, Rector of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CATHEDRAL

Just as in any Parish Church, preparations for Christmas at the Cathedral must be made long before the Feast of the Nativity actually arrives. On Christmas Eve at 5 P.M. Evening Prayer was sung by the boys of the Choir, after which all went in procession to the Manger, erected in the Narthex of the Cathedral against the great Bronze Doors. (It is interesting to note that the Bethlehem medallion in the Pilgrims Pavement is directly in front of the Manger.) There a Station was made, new Choir boys formally admitted, and the Procession returned to the Choir, singing throughout the Carol, "The Snow Lay on the Ground." This intimate and, so to speak, domestic service is a touching one and draws a considerable congregation which joins in the Procession.

Beginning at 11:30 P.M. familiar Carols were sung by the congregation, and shortly before Midnight the Liturgical Procession of clergy, crucifers, torch bearers, banner bearers, and acolytes, and the full Cathedral Choir of men and boys left the High Altar, made its way through the whole length of the Cathedral, singing Christmas hymns, and so returned again to the Sanctuary, where the Service of Holy Communion began. This Service was broadcast over Station WJZ and the Blue Network. A brief Message and Christmas Greeting from the Bishop was read, which he had intended delivering in person but which an attack of influenza prevented him from doing. There was a great congregation present, and many messages and letters received from members of the "invisible congregation" testified to their interest and appreciation.

On Christmas morning, in addition to several celebrations of the Holy Communion at early hours, the full Choir again sang the Service at 11 A.M., at which time the Reverend Canon Edward N. West delivered the sermon.

Bishop Gilbert was the preacher at 11 A.M. on Sunday morning, December 26th, substituting for the Bishop of the Diocese, who was still confined to his home.

The Annual Christmas Carol Service, one of the greatest in the entire Country, was held on Sunday afternoon, and was broadcast over Station WEAF and the NBC Network.

All of the above services were attended by large congregations, and many men and women in uniform were present and made their Communions.

ANOTHER DIOCESAN MISSION LOOKS FORWARD TO SELF-SUPPORT

Following the example of other Missions and Aided Parishes in the Diocese, our Advisory Board at its last meeting generously granted your Vicar an increased Cost of Living Bonus of $230.00 for this year. At our next meeting we are to consider the possibility of increasing the amount which we provide each year toward our own support, thus relieving the Diocese for the current year of some of the burden placed upon it; and taking a step toward the ultimate goal of Complete Self-Support. This is something for which all of us must be praying, giving and working with increased zeal.

PICTURE STORIES FROM THE BIBLE MEET NEED—OVER A MILLION COPIES SOLD

Profits from the publication of the first million copies of the quarterly magazine, "Picture Stories from the Bible" (which tells the stories of the Old Testament in color continuity form) were presented by the publisher, M. C. Gaines, to representatives of ten prominent religious organizations who serve as members of his Editorial Advisory Council, at a recent luncheon meeting.

Announcement was also made of the publication of all the stories contained in the first four issues in book form, known as the "Complete Old Testament Edition". This books contains 232 pages, is printed in full color and tells in chronological order all of the stories of the Old Testament from the Creation to the Maccabees.

In making the presentation, Mr. Gaines said: "It is my deep conviction that the interests of American democracy will be advanced if our young people know the Bible better. Through these 'Picture Stories from the Bible', told in the popular comic strip form, millions of American children are now able to understand for the first time the eternal lessons the Bible has to teach. At this time, when Catholic, Protestant and Jew in our nation are strongly united for the defense of democracy, it sems highly fitting to spread a better knowledge of the great Book which is our common heritage and which for so many centuries has taught democracy, the importance of the individual and social righteousness."

It was also announced that Dorothy Canfield Fisher, educator, noted novelist and translator of Papini's Life of Christ, and Dean Raimundo deOvies of the Cathedral of St. Philip, Atlanta, Georgia, and well known newspaper columnist and radio commentator, would serve as members on the Editorial Council for the New Testament series.

ST. JAMES PARISH, NEW YORK, OBSERVES 134th ANNIVERSARY

St. James Parish, New York City, founded in 1810, observed on Sunday, January 23rd, its 134th Anniversary, at an 11 a.m. Festival Prayer Service.

A procession of the parish guilds of St. James Church and of the Church of the Holy Trinity, a tradition on "Anniversary Sunday", was held at 4:30 p.m. The Reverend Dr. Dudley S. Stark, former Vicar of the Church of the Holy Trinity and present Rector of St. Chrysostom's Church, Chicago preached at the afternoon service.

The Reverend Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan, Rector of St. James Parish, in his sermon eulogized St. Paul, recalling that the Apostle did everything he could to overcome racial barriers. "If people had his world mind today", Dr. Donegan said, "there would not be all these racial hatreds. He is astonishingly up-to-date in manner and message, and would have some startling things to say to us about the problems and social and racial tensions with which every intelligent man and woman is or ought to be deeply concerned today."

This event of outstanding significance to St. George's Church and to the community was observed by a reception in honor of Mr. Burleigh at the Memorial House on Friday evening, February 4th. ## OPPORTUNITY GIVEN TO OBTAIN ORGAN AND ALTAR

A church in the metropolitan area of New York City wishes to dispose of its high altar and reredos, also its finely equipped organ, at reasonable terms. The altar and reredos, Romanesque in treatment, are of marble with inlaid polished marble and glass mosaic borders in blues, buffs and light green, the whole effect is both impressive and graceful. From the upper platform to the top of the Cross the height is approximately 27 ft, 6 inches and the width 15 ft., 8 inches. Photographs and blueprints with detailed measurements are available free; also a detailed description of the organ, built by J. H. and C. S. Odell. The organ measures 29 ft high, 22 ft. wide, and 19 ft. deep. Inquiries may be addressed to the Managing Editor, The Diocesan Bulletin.

CHAPLAIN AT FORT DIX ASKS THAT THE NAMES OF OUR MEN BE SENT TO HIM

The Reverend Herman Anker, Chaplain of the Reception Centre at Fort Dix, New Jersey, writes that he will gladly be of service to any of our men in that Camp if their names are sent to him by their Rector or their families.

Chaplain Anker writes that he wants to do all that he can to help our men make their first adjustment to Army life, but that it is very difficult to find out who they are, and that "in the confusion and bewilderment of the first days they often do not discover that Episcopal services are available to them'. "A personal reference given to men", he adds, "will help so much to make it possible for me to minister to them".

Many of our clergy and people will be glad indeed to send to Chaplain Anker the names of men who are at Fort Dix.

CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION, NEW YORK, REPORTS ACTIVE WOMEN'S WORK

The Transfiguration Guild is a very active group of women of the parish which meet in the parish house and make and supply layettes and children's clothes for the very poor. They report having made and given out 69 layettes, and 112 garments for young children during 1943. This is a very fine record for the year and shows how faithful the members of the Guild have been.

During the past year the Woman's Auxiliary of this Parish made 94 garments. In addition to these, 15 sweaters were knitted and sent to Voorhees School, Denmark, South Carolina; St. Elizabeth's Mission, White Rock, Utah; and Redeemer Mission, South Carolina. Our institutional box, consisting of 18 sheets, 10 pillow cases and 12 pairs of knitted socks, was sent to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York; also 4 overcoats and many other articles of used clothing were sent there during the year. The summer Diocesan work was sent to St. Mary's Hospital, New York City, and consisted of children's slips, pairs of rompers and knitted blankets. The value of the supplies and donations sent in 1943 to all the above institutions amounted to $302.27. Our Christmas Box, which was sent to the Reverend Henry Rayner, Mandan, North Dakota, was valued at $112.66. This is a splendid report and we are most grateful to, and very proud of, our branch of the Woman's Auxiliary.

REPORT ON THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH FOR 1943

The final tabulation of the results of contributions for the Program of the Church for the year 1943 reveals many encouraging facts. Most important is the apparent renewed realization by many of our parishes and missions that our interests as Churchmen extend far beyond parish boundaries. This realization is evidenced by the increased giving of 143 congregations over the previous year. The full effect of these larger contributions of 143 congregations is not fully reflected in the $20,000. overall increase as there were cases where because of unusual circumstances contributions for the year were lower than in 1942.

The total cash receipts for the year were $256,161.67. This total compares with $235,864.19 in 1942, and $246,168.04 in 1941. The total amount has been disbursed as follows:

|---|---|---|
| To the National Council for the work of the Church outside this Diocese | | $128,080.83 |
| To our Diocesan Organizations: | | |
| Treasurer's Office | $ 2,000.00 | |
| Committee on the Program of the Church | 12,000.00 | |
| Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society | 48,150.26 | |
| City Mission Society | 25,433.51 | |
| Diocesan Board of Religious Education | 10,173.40 | |
| Social Service Commission | 1,000.00 | |
| Church Mission of Help | 11,260.11 | |
| Girls' Friendly Society | 1,000.00 | |
| Church Periodical Club | 1,043.35 | |
| Church Mission to Deaf Mutes | 2,586.70 | |
| St. Luke's Home for Aged Women | 3,000.00 | |
| Seamen's Church Institute of New York | 10,433.51 | |

The improved missionary spirit in the Diocese is perhaps most dramatically illustrated by a glance at some statistics. Since 1925 the average number of congregations meeting their Quotas in full in any one year was 83, whereas in 1943 there were 105 congregations so doing. This is the highest representation on this honored list since 1925 and compares with 83 in 1942 and 85 in 1941. The Woman's Auxiliary contributed approximately $33,000. to the general missionary budget and $2,500. to the special Ellis Island project of the City Mission Society. These contributions are reflected in the contributions from the individual parishes.

The Committee on the Program of the Church, upon which devolves the task of stimulating our missionary contributions, is indebted to the Clergy who by their devotion to the cause lead their congregations in this effort. Thanks also are extended to the Woman's Auxiliary for their part in the financial achievement and for their continued help in bringing the challenge of the Church's Mission to all their branches. The Program of the Church Chairmen in the Convocations have been of material assistance in encouraging the use of our literature, in organizing Every Member Canvasses and in followup work towards the end of the campaign. These Convocation Chairmen are: Mr. Samuel Thorne, Westchester, assisted by regional leaders —The Reverend George F. Bratt, Mr. Frederic C. Kurz, Mr. Harold C. Barlow, Mr. Walter W. Pettit and Mr. Charles A. Houston; the Reverend Raymond M. O'Brien, Hudson; the Reverend George W. Dumbell, Ramapo; the Reverend J. Benjamin Myers, Dutchess; and the Reverend Claude F. Stent, Bronx. In Richmond the Convocation Officers and the Convocation Council constituted themselves a Committee on the Program of the Church. Members of this group are:—the Reverend Raymond G. Rogers, Dean; Mr. Thomas P. Rabbage, Secretary; Mr. Ranse Rogers, Treasurer; the Reverend Orin A. Griesmyer, the Reverend Andrew C. Long, Mr. William H. Brinley, Dr. Robert Carroll, The Reverend Arthur J. Torrey, Mr. A. C. W. Cooper and Mr. Norton Fremd.

The Church is also indebted to all the members of parish or mission canvass committees who devoted much time and energy to the Every Member Canvass. We particularly commend the Bronx Clericus Committee, under the chairmanship of the Reverend Herbert R. Stevenson; and the committees organized through the efforts of members of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, the Reverend Dr. Frank Dean Gifford, Rector; and St. Barnabas' Church, Irvington, the Reverend Dr. Floyd Van Keuren, Rector. These representatives of our Church were instrumental in the successful outcome of United Church Canvasses in the Bronx, Mamaroneck and Irvington.

A full report of all contributions, quotas and disbursements will be submitted to the Diocesan Convention and incorporated in the Convention Journal.

WHAT PEOPLE ASK ABOUT CONFIRMATION

Above is the title of a two-page article printed in a recent issue of "The Message" of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York City. The article was written by the Reverend Dr. William E. Gardner, formerly of Trinity Church, Boston. We reprint two pertinent items:

I Do Not Know Enough.

How true! Neither do I, and the longer I live in the Church the more the horizon of the unknown in religious things widens. The real question is: Do I want my life—my mind and spirit—enriched by some of the beauty and power that has been gathered through the ages in the Church for the strengthening of man? I do!

So I come to the Church as into a treasury to receive an inheritance. I come to the Church as to a teacher to sit at her feet and be taught. I come to the Church as to a physician, that a tempted and aspiring spirit may be kept in health.

I Am Not Good Enough.

None of us is! In fact it is because we are sinners—"weary and heavy laden"—that we come to Jesus Christ and His Church for forgiveness and healing.

Therefore in each service we have a confession: "I have left undone the things I ought to have done, and I have done the things I ought not to have done."

The Church on earth is for sinners.

The Church Beyond is for Saints.

Troop, Vicar, St. Martha's, President of Bronx Clericus; Joseph H. Dodshon, Rector, St. Simeons; Donald Macdonald-Millar, Vicar, St. Andrew's, Clason Point; Claude F. Stent, Rector, St. Margaret's.

Front Row: Lorenzo Di Sano, Vicar, St. Mary of the Angels; Hugh H. Henry, Vicar, St. Luke's; Leslie J. A. Lang, Rector, St. Peter's, Westchester; Fessenden A. Nichols, Assistant at St. James', Fordham, and Chaplain of the Home for Incurables; Edward Tower Theopold, Rector, Trinity, Morrisania and Vicar, Emmanuel, Dean of the Convocation; F. Gray Garten, Vicar, St. Stephen's, Woodlawn; Lawrence B. Larsen, Rector, Holy Nativity; P. Douglas Gough Chaplain, City Mission Society; Randolph Gall, Rector, Advocate.

Under the stimulus of the Bronx Clericus, a Laymen's Movement is under way in the Convocation of the Bronx. It is beginning with the formation of chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in eight parishes and missions.

A central committee of laymen has been started, comprising two representatives from each of the eight churches at present interested. The committee held its first meeting on December 8th and was addressed by Mr. Douglas C. Turnbull, Jr., National President of the Brotherhood and Assistant to the President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

At a second meeting in early January plans were made for a Men's Rally to be held on Washington's Birthday. This is to take place at St. James' Church, Fordham, beginning at 9 A.M. The program is to comprise a Corporate Communion, simple breakfast and assembly. The last will be featured by two talks by prominent laymen: President Clark G. Kuebler, Ripon College, Ripon, Wisconsin; and Mr. W. Ross Baley, Jr., Field Secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. Bishop Gilbert will be the Celebrant at the Corporate Communion.

The plan of the central committee of laymen is to push the formation of Brotherhood Chapters in as many of the 25 Bronx parishes and missions as possible, and also to work out other ways of interesting men who may not be attracted to the Brotherhood. Meetings of this committee are held monthly. Lay officers are to be elected in February.

At present the movement is under the leadership of a committee of clergy appointed by the Bronx Clericus.

This consists of the Reverend F. Gray Garten, Chairman; the Reverend Leslie J. A. Lang and the Reverend Lawrence B. Larsen.

Those articles which are too large to be moved may be exhibited by sketch or photograph. Those of sufficient merit to be useful as permanent additions to church property will be awarded Certificates of Merit; and prizes will be awarded to the best piece of work in each class. Preliminary announcement of this new Committee was made in the January number of "Action", the monthly periodical of the Board. Inquiries and applications for exhibit space should be addressed to Canon West at the Cathedral. It is hoped that many rectors and directors of religious Education will take advantage of this opportunity to encourage their young parishioners to "learn by doing'.

DUE IN A LARGE MEASURE to the work of the Every Member Canvass Committee, as well as to the generosity of our people, the 1944 Every Member Canvas broke all previous records. The latest report is as follows: 406 persons made a pledge of some sort to the work of the Parish. Of these 374 made pledges totalling $12,687.00 to Parish Support; 162 pledged $1,669.50 for the support of Missions; and 270 pledged $4,852.40 or the payment of the interest and principal of our new mortgage, making a grand total of $19,208.90 for all purposes.

A QUIET HOUR for the women of the Convocation of Richmond was held at St. Mary's Church, West New Brighton, on Thursday, January 27th. The Rector of St. Mary's, the Reverend Orin A. Griesmyer, led the Meditations.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S FELLOWSHIP of St. Paul's Church, Morisania, acted as hosts to all the young people of the Bronx at a Youth Rally conducted by the Youth Worker of the Diocese, the Reverend Frank C. Leeming, on Sunday evening, January 9th. At that time, the young folks were led in an old fashioned hymn sing in the Church and later took part in a discussion about the relationship of the Church to the current problems of our times. Refreshments were served and a general social was held to conclude the evening.

A PROGRAM OF CHORAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC was given by the American Guild of Organists at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York City, on Monday evening, January 31st. The choir of St. Mary's Church assisted in the program, which was to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the death of William Byrd. Compositions by a number of noted composers were rendered.

THE BISHOP ROWE MEMORIAL BUILDING FUND has reached a total of $38,500. The total goal is $55,000. for the building and a modest endowment for maintenance. Bishop Bentley is hoping that all the money will be in hand by the time it becomes possible to start building. The goal of $55,000. is certainly a modest sum to secure for a memorial to one of our greatest Missionary Bishops!

SIR ISAAC NEWTON WAS AN ILLUSTRIOUS MATHEMATICIAN and a hardy pioneer in the realms of physics. During his profound research efforts he paused to make his thought known to us, "I account the Scriptures of God to be the most sublime philosophy. I find more sure marks of authenticity in the Bible than in any profound history whatever."

A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY is to be given the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Church, Yonkers, on February 10th in the parish house. They are to hear and see Mary Margaret McBride, radio speaker. Miss McBride meets her visible audiences with the same informality and charm which characterize her radio talks. Tickets for this special occasion are for sale at 75 cents, and a large attendance is expected.

INDIFFERENCE, INDEFINITENESS, haziness, postponement, non-commitment—how man suffers from these maladies of the unawakened soul. Religion is the world's supreme need. Christianity we believe to be the supreme expression of religious truth. All who so believe should stand up and be counted. All who so believe will belong to some organized fellowship which is striving to give Christ's spirit right of way among men and nations. Confirmation is a great opportunity for study and dedication and for entering deeply into the experiences of the Church's age-long and universal fellowship. I hope many will attend the classes in search of deeper understanding and conviction and with readiness to stand up and be counted.

—Bulletin of St. George's Church, New York

ST. GEORGE'S, NEW YORK, EXTENDS WELCOME to members of the Armed Forces in the following item published in their Bulletin:—To those of you who are our first guests in the Saturday night Service Men's Dormitory, which opens January 22nd, we would extend a very hearty welcome. You become charter members in a new project which our War Service Committee has undertaken at the request of official community agencies. May your stay in New York be a happy one, and your stay with us rewarded by peaceful slumber, good food, and good companionship. If we can serve you in any special way, let us know.

Elmore M. McKee, Rector

IT IS A GOOD THING to practice a little gratuitous will power every day, said William James. He knew and understood a great deal about human life. It was his belief that a little self-discipline, like doing something we don't want to do or don't need to do, every day, builds up a strength of will which will be ready and equal to a bigger test whenever it may come. Almost every person is enough of a psychologist and philosopher to know this is true. What we do today always prepares for tomorrow. What we do today and tomorrow prepares for what we are able to do and meet and overcome next year and twenty years from today. The Boy Scout, "Do a good deed everyday" is based on this precept.

MEMBERS OF OUR LAYMEN'S LEAGUE sponsored a most successful parish dinner on Friday, January 14th. The men themselves prepared and served the entire meal. All who were present agree that Oscar of the Waldorf could not have improved on its delicious flavor. The men served two hundred and ten dinners assisted by the members of the Boy's Club, who acted as waiters. The boys also had charge of the Check Room.

After dinner a very pleasant entertainment was given by the members of our Church School.

Bulletin, Church of the Holy Nativity

UNTIL THE ONE-MAN NATIONS of the world can produce greater military leaders and strategists than Joshua; until they can point within the circle of their own to men who stood closer to God than Moses; until some Aryan is wiser than Solomon, or a sweeter singer of lyrics than David; until they can produce a greater moral philosopher than Jesus of Nazareth—let them beware of asserting that no good can come out of Palestine, that there is no heroism or genius among the fellow citizens of Isaiah, no heritage of character left to the descendants of Maccabees. —The Hon. W. B. Bankhead, Speaker of the House of Representatives. "The American Hebrew"

LETTERS OF APPRECIATION are being received because of the announcement that the so-called Stewardship Diary, for many years distributed by Mr. Frank H. Merrill of this Diocese, is to be sponsored by the National Council. Insert pages of the Church Year Calendar for use in 1944 pocket diaries are being distributed from the Book Store, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N. Y. Orders for the 1945 Church edition of the Stewardship Diary and Budget Account Book are now being received. It is expected that advance orders will reach several thousand copies.

BY VOTE OF THE VESTRY AND PARISH COUNCIL a "St. George's for Tomorrow Committee" has been appointed consisting of thirty-one persons, well qualified by diversity of age, interest and experience, to represent the entire Parish. This committee which held its first meeting on Friday, January 28th has been asked to study the probable trends and needs of the world tomorrow; to gather opinions from members of the armed forces regarding the Church's task; to survey our changing neighborhood and the efficacy of our Parish and the Church at large in this community, in our nation, and throughout the world; and to evaluate the present policies and program of St. George's. The Committee is asked to prepare the Parish for its most significant years of service to a world in exceptional need. If it so desires, it will report its findings from time to time to the Parish Council and to existing committees, but its major contribution will come in the form of a printed report at the end of a considerable period of study, after which the committee will disband. This report can be adopted by the Council, if it desires, for the guidance of Parish leaders and committees during the next five or ten years. The co-chairmen of this special committee are Mrs. William Richmond and Mr. William B. Olmsted. Mr. Charles C. Burlingham is honorary chairman.—St. George's, New York Bulletin

THE HUGUENOT SOCIETY OF AMERICA held in the French Church of Saint Esprit, New York City, a service on Sunday, November 28th, which has now become an annual affair. The preacher was the Reverend Dr. Charles Breck Ackley, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville. Dr. William J. Schieffelin read the Lesson. Since acquiring its new building at 109 East 60th Street, the French Church of Saint Esprit is doing an increasing work among French people in New York, including refugees. Its French American School now has 70 pupils ranging from ages 3 to 10. The Eglise des Refugees Francaise a la Nouvelle York was organized in 1687 and in 1804 was admitted into Union with Convention as the French Church du Saint Esprit. The Reverend Dr. John A. Maynard has been Rector since 1925.

EXPANDING ITS WORK WITH COLORED GIRLS, the Youth Consultation Service, Church Mission of Help of New York, announces the appointment of Mrs. Ruth Dixon Smith as a case worker in that agency. Mrs. Smith received her social work training at the University of Cincinnati and has done some advanced study at the New York School of Social Work. She has been teaching case work at Howard University until this past Fall. She was also recently connected with the Katy Ferguson Home and brings to CMH special knowledge in dealing with adolescents.

IT IS HARD TO TELL, sometimes, which of the small books in pew racks are Hymnals and which are Prayer Books. The Church of the Epiphany in Washington has remedied this difficulty by marking an H or a P respectively on the top edges of the books. An indelible pencil is better than ink for this work, unless great care is used, the ink is liable to run into the leaves of the books.

OATH OF THE YOUNG MEN OF ATHENS

We will never bring disgrace to this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks.

We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

Thus in all these ways we will transmit this city only not less but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

—Reprinted from St. John's Record, Yonkers

Can we in this day and generation be as loyal to our Country or less keen in our personal integrity?

PUT YOUR CHURCH IN YOUR WILL

Dear Parishioners of St. Mary's:

In this the first "open letter" of the new year, I purpose to fulfill the injunction placed on me through a rubric of the Book of Common Prayer. This rubric orders me "from time to time to advise the People, whilst they are in health, to make Wills, arranging for the disposal of their temporal goods, and when, of ability, to leave Bequests for religious and charitable uses."

Have you made your will? Have you made it prayerfully, with a full realization of your responsibility as a Christian? Whatever we acquire through our efforts we really acquire as a result of our use of God-given talents. Our possessions, then, become a solemn trust for which we must give a just account to God. They are to be used for God's honor, for the support of those in our immediate family and for charitable works among those of the greater family of the living God. Whatever of our possessions remain to us at the time of our death should be willed to our relatives and those who are in need, to the Church, and to charitable institutions.

As one of your New Year's resolutions I urge you to make your will. Make it a thanksgiving to God Who has been for you the Giver of every good and perfect gift. Remember those in need, remember organizations who minister to those in need, remember above all the Church which ever ministers to those who are always in need of God's grace, remember Saint Mary's.

—Published in "Ave", the monthly magazine of the Church of Saint Mary the Virgin, New York City.

We pass this admonition on to all our readers. Make your will and remember your parish Church, your Diocese and its great organizations like our City Mission Society, the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, the Cathedral. Your lawyer can easily get the exact legal titles. Perhaps you will want to help your Country and your Church at the same time. Buy War Bonds and give them to the Church.

THE REV. EDWIN WALTER COLLOQUE

Honorary Curate of the Church of the Holy Communion, New York City, died on December 10th. Mr. Colloque graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1876 and was ordained that same year, and advanced to the priesthood in 1877. His first parishes were in Ohio. He came into this Diocese as Rector of St. Mary's Church, Mohegan Lake in 1906, remaining there ten years. He served as Curate at the Church of the Holy Communion, New York City, from 1917 to 1930, when he retired as Honorary Curate.

Mr. Colloque lived in the Home for Old Men and Aged Couples for many years previous to his death.

The funeral service was held in the beautiful Chapel of the Home, and was conducted by the Chaplain, the Reverend Albert W. Hind of the Cathedral Staff.

A son of Dr. Colloque, the Reverend Orrok Colloque, is Chaplain of St. Mary's in the Field, Valhalla, N. Y.

THE REVEREND ARTHUR PENRHYN STANLEY HYDE

Rector of the Church of the Holyrood New York City, since 1927, died on December 27, 1943. The funeral service was conducted in Holyrood Church by the Right Reverend Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop, who represented the Bishop of the Diocese, and was assisted by the Reverend Cannon Thomas A. Sparks of the Cathedral.

Fr. Hyde graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in 1900 and from the Coast Artillery School in 1907. He reached the rank of Colonel and remained in service until 1922 when he retired. He took a non-resident course at the General Theological Seminary and was ordained in 1907 and was advanced to the priesthood in 1922. While still a deacon, Fr. Hyde had charge of religious and welfare work at various Army Posts, including charge of welfare, educational and moral activities of all U. S. Troops in the Canal Zone from 1919 to 1922. He came into this Diocese as Rector of St. Peter's Church, Peekskill, where he remained for three years, before going to Holyrood Church.

WATERPROOF WALLETS FOR SEAMEN

Seamen K. Bodnenig receives the first wallet from Dr. Kelley

Ten thousand special waterproof wallets are being distributed to merchant seamen with the compliments of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York. The wallets are of the same kind of paper with tin-foil on one side as is used to keep ammunition dry. The Institute has long been working on a wallet which would preserve seamen's papers from being damaged by sea water and sun, when the men are compelled to abandon ship and spend long periods in lifeboats. Since seamen's papers are their job credentials, and since the time required to obtain duplicates from Washington is often lengthy, the new wallets are proving popular with men who sail the freighters and tankers for the United Nations. The Institute's Central Council of Associations has devised adjustable money belts, made of blue denim, to hold the waterproof wallets, and several hundreds of them have been made and distributed to seamen. Other groups making these belts, as a project for the new year, are Parent-Teachers' Associations, the House of Industry, etc.

MR. MERRILL RETIRES FROM BULLETIN

With this issue of the Diocesan Bulletin, Mr. Frank H. Merrill retires as Managing Editor.

The Bulletin is now entering its twenty-first year. Its first issue was under the date of April, 1924. It was, and continued for a few years to be, a four page paper of the same size and masthead as at present. At first the paper was a publicity sheet for the Campaign to Build the Cathedral as well as for Diocesan news. Mr. Merrill was associated with the management of the Bulletin practically from its beginning and Managing Editor since 1926.

Mr. Merrill resigned as Secretary of the Program of the Church as of January 1st, 1943, but retained his position with the Diocesan Bulletin at the request of the Bishop of the Diocese.

The Committee on the Program of the Church will continue its relations with the publication of the Bulletin.

CONTRIBUTORS RECEIVE OFFICIAL THANKS

The Finance Committee of Christ Church of Ramapo sent the following letter to the Parish at the conclusion of the Every Member Canvass.

Dear Fellow Parishioners:

The Finance Committee takes pleasure in congratulating the members of our Parish on their increased contribution to its financial support. In 1943, the number of regular contributors and the amount of pledges and payments all increased; 1944 promises to continue this upward trend. Contributions this past year covered somewhat over 50% of running expenses and this, together with increased endowment income, enabled the Vestry to repay borrowings which were made from the building fund in prior years when operating costs could not otherwise be met.

We cannot be overly proud of paying only half of our expenses but we can be proud of the progress and of this evidence of greater appreciation for the benefits of the Church and enhanced sense of responsibility toward it.

REPLIES TO THE BISHOP'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO THE MEN AND WOMEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

Bishop Manning has received a great many letters in response to his Christmas Message to the Men and Women from our Diocese who are serving in the Armed Forces. We quote from two or three of the letters which are typical of many others:

"I am with a Seabee Unit attached to a Naval Air Station on an Island out in the Pacific, and am rounding out a year of duty here. I was so impressed and comforted by your words that I felt obliged to write and tell you so. I have passed it about amongst my mates and everyone seemed to appreciate it as much as I did. I felt that you might like to know that your words were most far reaching."

"I'm writing you a few lines this evening to tell you how much your greeting at Christmas meant to me. I know that your cards were addressed to all members of our Diocese but I feel as though it was a very personal greeting to me from a very close friend. I have been in the service quite a number of years now and as a result have drifted from my church, but I am proud to say that I received Communion this Christmas."

"The foregoing, Bishop Manning, simply means that your Greetings and Blessings have made me feel as though I was attending one of your services and no matter where I will be on this great holiday I will certainly think of all you folks back home and give my prayers for the safe return of all others in the Armed Forces."

SUMMER CONFERENCE TO BE AT ST. PETER'S SCHOOL, PEEKSKILL

Due to transportation problems and the difficulty of getting food in a small community for so large a group of people, it has been decided by the Diocesan Board of Religious Education to have its usual Summer Conference at Saint Peter's School, Peekskill.

Those of us who have attended the Conference in past years at Incarnation Camp, Ivoryton, Connecticut, will regret not being able to go to Ivoryton, but feel the decision is a wise one.

Since the School can only accommodate 75 at one time, the Conference will be divided into two groups—from June 25th to July 1st, and from July 2nd to July 8th. Parishes will have the opportunity of choosing which week their groups would like to attend.

The subject of the discussion groups will be "The Christian and his Vocation". Christian leaders in the various professions will be present and will present their own fields of work in the light of Christian vocations.

HOSTS TO THOSE IN UNIFORM

Our group of young women who greet the men and women in uniform attending the Sunday services at St. Thomas are doing a splendid piece of work and one that is much appreciated by the "stranger within our gates." The visitor is met in the narthex and is asked to sign his name on a card and the name and address of his nearest relative or friend. If he has no plans for his noonday meal, he or she is invited to be the guest of the Parish for dinner at the Hotel Gotham, the management of which has been most co-operative and kind in arranging a special table in the Grill and providing most excellent food. The funds for this entertainment are given by our parishioners. Anyone who wishes to provide a dinner, or dinners for uniformed men and women who come to us from all over the world, may send their gift to the Rector who will transmit it to the treasurer of the Hospitality Committee.

As you know, the Rector sends a personal letter to the relatives or close friends of these men and women which has been greatly appreciated by their "home folk." The following is a copy of an article which appeared in the "Belfast Telegraph" on July 30:

> "Ulster churches have had their attention drawn this week by the 'Belfast Telegraph' to the happy thought and enterprise displayed by Rev. R. H. Brooks, rector of St. Thomas Church, Fifth Avenue and West Fifty-Third Street, New York City, in letting the relatives of British servicemen know that their loved ones are well and obviously keeping in the best of company in the land of their temporary exile.
> "A good example is always worth copying, so I shall not be surprised to learn soon that Dr. Brooks' enterprise has encouraged Ulster churches to reciprocate for the benefit of our friends in the United States.
> "A Bangor parent, whose son is on war service, was touched and cheered to receive a few days ago a happily-phrased letter from the Rector of the New York Church. With it was a photo-postcard of the church, a fine example of Gothic church architecture in America, and the text of a prayer for those in the Armed Forces as used regularly in the church.

LUNCHEON MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CONVOCATION OF WESTCHESTER HELD IN SCARSDALE

The annual luncheon in honor of the Vicars of the Convocation of Westchester was held at the Scarsdale Lodge in Scarsdale on Tuesday, January 11th. This luncheon is given under the auspices of the Convocation Council for the purpose of acquainting the Council members of the progress of the missionary work in the Convocation and to extend to the priests in charge the cordial cooperation of the members of the Council.

Under the energetic leadership of the Dean, the Reverend George F. Bratt, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Ossining, the missionary program has been enlarged and considerable progress has been made during the past year. One Mission, that of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua, has become an independent parish. It is expected that another Mission will soon apply for admission to the Diocese as an independent parish; and it developed at the luncheon that a third Mission may within a year or so take this same step.

The reports brought out the fact that the work of all the missions in the Convocation shows highly encouraging progress.

The Reverend Claudius A. Nero, Vicar, reported progress at both St. Clement's, Mt. Vernon, and St. Simon's, New Rochelle. He made a plea for the rebuilding of the slate roof at St. Clement's.

The Vicar of the Chapel of the Redeemer in Yonkers, the Reverend Herbert J. Goodrich, said that the material fabric of the Chapel had been improved and that there was an increase in attendance at the services. This increase in the attendance at the services of the Church was stressed by all those who made reports.

The Missions of St. Mark's, North Yonkers, and St. Barnabas, Ardsley, were specially mentioned by the Dean. Here under the devoted leadership of the Vicar, the Reverend Bertram J. Mortlock, the growth in both chapels has been most encouraging. The need of a vicarage was mentioned as urgent since the Vicar operates the two missions from his own home in Pelham Manor.

The appointment of the Reverend George W. Edwards, Ph.D., Professor in the Department of Economics at the College of the City of New York, to the Chapel of St. Andrew's, Hartsdale, under the direction of the Reverend Walter G. Harter, has been a most interesting development and has greatly stimulated the growth of the Church in that community. Dr. and Mrs. Edwards have entered upon the work of the Mission at Hartsdale with such zeal and energy that the Church School and the Church organizations have increased in membership, and plans for the eradication of a mortgage are now under way. It is hoped that the liquidation of the mortgage will soon be accomplished.

In another part of the Convocation, at St. Augustine's, Croton, and the Church of the Divine Love, Montrose, the Reverend J. Marshall Wilson reported that these places afforded sufficient opportunities to justify a priest resident in each community.

The Reverend Walter G. Harter, recently appointed Vicar of St. Luke's, Tuckahoe, expressed great satisfaction at the acquisition of a vicarage adjacent to the Chapel, and described the opportunities to minister to a large population in the vicinity of the Chapel and particularly in the large suburban development known as "Interlocken".

BISHOP MANNING INSTITUTES BRONX RECTOR

Bishop Gilbert acting for the Bishop of the Doicese instituted the Reverend Sydney A. Temple, Jr., Rector of the Church of the Mediator in the Bronx on Septuagesima Sunday, February 6th, at four-thirty p.m.

A large congregation was present including a number of the Bronx Clergy.

Mr. Temple was born in Santa Monica, California, in 1912, was ordained by Bishop Jenkins in May 1936. He served in Trinity Mission, Fallow, Nevada, for three years, and comes to New York from the Diocese of Maryland where he was Rector of St. Thomas Church at Hancock. Mr. Temple is married and has two children.

BRONX RECTOR ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT AS FORWARD IN SERVICE SECRETARY

The Reverend Gerald F. Burrill, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, since 1935, has accepted appointment by the Presiding Bishop as Assistant Secretary of Forward in Service, with headquarters at 281 Fourth Ave., New York City. He is to be associated with the Reverend Dr. C. Avery Mason, also from this Diocese. His work will be largely in the field.

Mr. Burrill was ordained by Bishop Manning in June 1933. His first charge was priest-in-charge of All Saints' Church, Mariners Harbor, Staten Island, from 1933 to 1935. He has been active in the Clericus of the Bronx, and has been a member of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education since 1939 and its President during the last three years.

During the years that Mr. Burrill has been Rector of St. Paul's Church he has been especially effective in his work with young people. The Order of St. Stephen, an organization for young men has been one of the most successful aspects of this work. These young men (a large number of whom are now in the armed services) have provided the parish with acolytes, and with carpenters, painters who worked on the church buildings etc. The watchword of the group is "To serve Our Lord and His Church."

Mr. Burrill will continue to have oversight of St. Paul's Church until other arrangements are made.

THE ADJECTIVE REVEREND

No one would refer to a Judge as "The Honorable Smith" or "The Honorable Jones", and yet many people who should know better will refer to a clergyman as "The Reverend Smith" or "The Reverend Jones".

The word reverend is not a title. It is an adjective which may be correctly used only when the first name or initials are also added, or when the title "Mister", "Father", "Doctor", or "Canon" is also used. It is correct to say "Rev. John Doe", "Rev. J. K. Doe", "Rev. Mr. Doe", "Rev. Father Doe", "Rev. Dr. Doe" etc. It is incorrect to say "Rev. Doe" or to write "Dear Reverend".

The Bishop's Easter Message

Christ is Risen from the Dead.

Jesus our Lord now lives and reigns

for us in Heaven.

That is the message which Easter brings to us and to all mankind.

It was only three short days from the Cross to the Resurrection.

And so Easter tells us that the power of God is greater - infinitely greater - than the power of evil.

Christ is Risen, therefore we know that God Reigns. In spite of all the evil that men may do, God Reigns. He will have the Victory.

May this Easter bring renewed faith and strength to all the clergy and people of our Diocese.

May this Easter carry its special blessing to those who are now absent from our homes and parishes, giving themselves for us and for others, in our armed forces.

May this Easter bring fresh hope and courage to those in the enslaved countries who are suffering cruelty, wrong, and terror in this War.

To people all over our land, and all over the world, may this Easter bring new certainty of victory for the Right and new hope for the future, new hope that, by the power of Christ Who lives and reigns for us in Heaven, this shall be a better world, a world of truer Christian living for each one of us, and of truer Justice, Freedom, and Brotherhood for all men everywhere.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

JAPANESE SERVICE

It may not be generally realized that there is in New York City a group of Japanese people who are communicant members of the Nippon Seikokwai (Holy Catholic Church in Japan) and who are loyal and firm adherents of the Church. From time to time they have met in the Cathedral for a Service of the Holy Communion in the Japanese language. Such a Service was held on Tuesday, February 22nd, at 9 a.m. and was celebrated by the Rev. Kenneth Abbott Viall, S.S.J.E., who was formerly a missionary in Tokyo, Japan, and an instructor in St. Paul's University there.

BISHOP TO BROADCAST ON GOOD FRIDAY

On Good Friday morning, from 10:45 to 11 o'clock, Bishop Manning will broadcast over a nation-wide hookup of the National Broadcasting Company on the subject "The Cross and the War".

The Bishop will be the preacher at the Cathedral on Palm Sunday and on Easter Day.

BOMBING OF GERMAN CITIES THE BISHOP EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS

Holding that the recent protest against the bombing of German Cities was in itself a mistaken and harmful one, the Bishop has set forth his views in a letter published in the New York Times and the New York Herald-Tribune, as follows:

"There has been wide discussion of the protest published by twenty-eight ministers of religion and others against the present bombing of cities in Germany.

As a minister of the Christian church, may I express through your columns my profound disagreement with the position taken in that protest, a disagreement which I believe is shared by the vast majority of the ministers of all churches in our land. I have great respect for the signers of that protest individually but the protest which they have issued is spiritually and morally a gravely harmful one. It is morally confusing and weakening to our people at a moment when they need every support that religion can give them; it depreciates and casts a doubt upon the heroic service of the men in our armed forces who are giving their lives for us and for others; it gives aid and comfort to the aggressors and evildoers in this world conflict; and it tends to discredit religion by giving the impression that the pacifist position is the true Christian position.

The pacifist principle, the principle of "peace at any price" is not the Christian principle. The Christian religion teaches that there are evils worse than bodily suffering and death, and that there are things which we must uphold and defend even at the cost of life itself, and it is on this principle that our airmen and all the men in our armed forces are giving their lives.

All of us abhor war quite as deeply as do the signers of this protest. All of us are grieved and horrified at the destruction and suffering which war brings. Our airmen have no desire to bomb cities or to kill civilians but this is brought upon us by the forces of aggression, cruelty and terror which we are fighting, and those evil forces have it in their power to end the bombing of their cities at any moment by giving up their evil aims and oppressions and laying down their arms.

But as matters stand the bombing of cities which are military objectives, fearful as this is, is only a necessary and inescapable part of our whole effort to end the war, to stop the bloodshed, cruelty and suffering, to liberate the enslaved and tortured peoples, and to open the way for a just and righteous peace and for such cooperation and fellowship of the peace-loving nations as shall safeguard the world against another such outbreak of barbarism.

If the war is to be shortened and the world freed from this assault of brutality and terror, what substitute can the signers of this protest suggest for the bombing of cities which are military objectives, terrible and grievous as we all feel this to be?

William T. Manning,
Bishop of New York"

New York, March 10, 1944

ARCHBISHOP OF YORK TO VISIT THE CATHEDRAL

Arrangements have now been completed for the visit to this city of the Most Reverend and Right Honorable Cyril Forster Garbett, Archbishop of York, Primate of England, and Metropolitan.

Before coming to New York the Archbishop will spend a few days in Washington where he will be the guest of Lord Halifax, the British Ambassador.

During his visit in New York the Archbishop will be the guest of Bishop Manning. He is to be here from Saturday Evening, April 22nd, until Friday, April 28th, when he goes to Chicago for two or three days and from thence to Canada where he will make a brief visit before returning to England.

The Archbishop will preach at the Cathedral at eleven o'clock on Sunday Morning, April 23rd. On Sunday Night April 23rd, at eight o'clock, there will be in the Cathedral a "United Service of Prayer for the Establishment of a Just and Righteous Peace" and the Archbishop will preach on "The True Foundations of a Just and Durable Peace". The Archbishop's recent visit to the Church in Russia will lend special interest to his sermon on the above mentioned subject.

At the United Service of Prayer on Sunday Night, Ministers of all Churches are invited to take their places in the Procession and to bring their congregations with them.

During the week that he is to be in New York the Archbishop's schedule includes the two services at the Cathedral, as stated above, a visit to the General Theological Seminary on Monday, on Tuesday a meeting at Columbia University where he will receive an Honorary Degree, on Wednesday a Dinner given in his honor by The Church Club of New York at the Waldorf Astoria, and many other meetings and engagements which will make his schedule each day a very crowded one.

It is, historically, an interesting fact that the Archbishop of York holds the title "Primate of England" and the title of the Archbishop of Canterbury is "Primate of All England".

THE BISHOP'S INSTITUTE FOR CLERGY

The Bishop's Institute for the Active Clergy of the Diocese was held at the Cathedral on Wednesday, February 9, 1944, beginning with the Holy Communion at 8:45 a.m.

The meetings, with an attendance of one hundred of the Clergy, were held in the Synod House, where breakfast and luncheon were served in the Undercroft.

Morning Prayer was read at 10:15 a.m., after which the Bishop opened the Institute, greeted the members, and set forth the purpose of the assembly, which was to consider the "Social Implications of Worship". The Rev. Hugh D. McCandless was Chairman.

The various speakers all dwelt on the importance of God as God, that He should be worshipped in and for Himself, and that in worship man could find all his activities, fellowship and aspirations raised to the highest degree, inspired by God and directed to God, and so also to one's neighbor. In the worship of God we come face to face with God as we know Him in Christ.

The Rev. Dr. John W. Suter, Rector of the Church of the Epiphany, quoted Miss Evelyn Underhill in his support of the double tradition of Biblical and Sacramental Worship in the Anglican Communion and urged that the Office of Morning Prayer be given its full place in any plan of parish worship.

The Very Rev. Dushan J. Shouklevotich, Dean of St. Sava's Serbian Cathedral, pointed out that a worshipper is a living member of Christ's Church and never a passive spectator, that while one might forget a sermon one could never forget the teaching of the liturgy which serves to unite all the worshippers in a common Body.

The Rev. Dr. Elmore M. McKee, Rector of St. George's Church, said, "All real life is meeting," the Holy Communion is meeting, that meeting is unifying, that meeting can deal only with persons, but that things, not being persons, tend to separate rather than to unify, that civilization has dwelt too much on things and forgotten persons, that in the Holy Communion God meets Man in a community of Man and Man, and that God's gift of Christ to us is for the purpose of establishing community.

The Rev. Dr. Edward R. Hardy, Jr., who presided over the panel discussion, summed up the whole Institute by saying that the thing that mattered was the reality of sacrifice, and what was of most importance was that the entire congregation should participate no matter what the Office of Worship might be.

THE CHURCH MISSION OF HELP

The Board of Directors of the Youth Consultation Service-Church Mission of Help of the Diocese announces the appointment of the Reverend Thomas J. Bigham Jr. as Chaplain to succeed the Reverend Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., who has enlisted in the Navy.

Fr. Bigham is a Fellow and Tutor of the General Theological Seminary and Assistant to the Reverend Gordon B. Wadhams, Rector of the Church of the Resurrection, New York City. He was born in Pittsburgh, is a graduate of St. Stephen's College and the General Theological Seminary, and has done graduate work at the School of Applied Religion in Cincinnati, Columbia University, and the New York School of Social Work.

From 1937 to 1940 Fr. Bigham was Director of Pastoral Training of the City Mission Society where he developed a program for practical training of theological students in preparation for the pastoral ministry.

He is familiar with the work of the Youth Consultation Service-Church Mission of Help as he was the clerical member of the staff of the Director of the Survey of the beneficiaries of The Program of the Church made in 1940.

Fr. Bigham has long been interested in social problems, especially as applied to young people, and will bring to his new appointment deep and sincere sympathy in working with adolescents.

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL OF SERVICE TO MERCHANT SEAMEN APRIL 12th

"Last Days Afloat"
The Second Floating Church of Our Saviour Built in 1869 and Moored at Pike Street, East River

Three events will mark the celebration of the centenary of the incorporation of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York. On Wednesday, April 12th, at 4 p.m. the Institute will hold a Centennial Service in its Chapel of Our Saviour, 25 South Street, New York City, at which the Reverend Dr. Donald B. Aldrich, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, New York City, and at present serving as a Chaplain in the Navy, will be the speaker. The Bishop of the Diocese will officiate, assisted by the Reverend Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Institute.

On Sunday, April 16th, Bishop Manning has requested prayers in all of the churches of the Diocese for the work of the Institute and for the merchant seamen whom it serves. The Reverend Dr. Robert W. Searle has made the same request through the Greater New York Federation of Churches Bulletin for prayers in churches of all denominations.

The third event honoring the Institute's Centennial will be an exhibition of New York in the Sail-Steam Decade, the 1840's, to be held at the Museum of the City of New York, 103rd Street and Fifth Avenue, beginning on April 18th and continuing through May and June and open to the public. The Marine Museum and the City Museum and the Institute are jointly sponsoring the Exhibition which will contain maritime scenes of 100 years ago, including a replica of the original Floating Chapel, a shipyard where packet ships, early clippers and steamers were built, and a shanghaiing scene; also ship models and paintings of the period.

At its incorporation in 1844, the objects of the Institute as declared in its charter were "to provide by building, purchase, hiring, or otherwise so many floating and other churches for seamen, at different points in the city and port of New York, . . . . in which churches the seats shall be free; and to provide suitable clergymen, to act as missionaries in said churches".

The Second Floating Church of Our Saviour pictured above was presented to the Archdeaconry of Richmond in 1910 and was towed to Mariners Harbor, Staten Island, in 1911, where for about two years it was used afloat. After the incorporation of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society in 1912, this new corporation acquired a site at Mariners Harbor and moved the floating chapel to it. Situated in the midst of the great wartime ship-building industry of Staten Island, the Church now known as All Saints' Church continues to serve the community.

In 1854 the Seamen's Church Institute amended its charter to permit of the purchase and equipment of facilities on land "for boarding, lodging, and entertainment of seamen and boatmen". Under this amended charter the present home of the Institute at 25 South Street was built. It is a fitting monument to the many clergy and laymen who dedicated themselves to the task of providing spiritual and material help and guidance to the merchant seamen of the Port of New York over the years.

The Institute has been able to expand to meet the needs of the hour, through depression and war boom. It is now rendering as a matter of routine many services which could hardly have been envisioned by its founders. The Institute can house 1,600 men and feed them. It has a newsstand, a laundry, and barber and tailor shops. It operates general medical, ear, nose, throat, eye and dental clinics. It provides religious services, pastoral conferences and a chaplaincy service in hospitals and training centers.

Entertainment is provided both at the Institute and at the Janet Roper Club at 3 East 67th Street.

One of the Institute's contributions to the war has been its Merchant Marine School where men are helped to attain ratings, and where many Coast Guardsmen have received a part of their training.

A PRAYER FOR THE SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE

The Bishop has issued the following Prayer for use in the Diocese at this time when the Seamen's Church Institute is observing its Centennial.

O God our Father, Lord of the earth and sky and sea, Whose footsteps are in the great waters, we ask Thy blessing upon the Seamen's Church Institute in its unceasing work for the help and welfare of the seamen.

We thank Thee for all that the Institute has accomplished in the years that are past, and we pray that its work may be carried forward through the years to come.

Raise up, we pray Thee, generous benefactors and supporters of this work done in the Name and Spirit of Thy Church.

Give to those who serve on the staff, and to all who are connected with the Institute, faithfulness, devotion, and wisdom, in the performance of their duties.

And we ask Thy Divine help and blessing for the seamen. Be with them wherever they may be. Watch over them in the hour of peril. Sustain and uphold them in the great service they are giving in the cause of Right and Freedom and guide them ever in the ways of uprightness and truth, through Christ, Thy Son, our Lord. Amen.

CHURCHMEN COMMEND RED ARMY

Service at Grace Church

The twenty-sixth anniversary of the establishment of the Red Army was celebrated on Sunday night, February 27th, at a Service in Grace Church, Broadway and 10th Street, of which the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt is Rector and who presided. The Service was held under the auspices of, and at the request of, the Greenwich Village Committee of American-Soviet friendship.

A letter was read from Bishop Manning as follows:

"I join with you and all who are present at the meeting in paying tribute to the courage, devotion and heroism of the Russian people and to the invincible spirit of the Russian armies which have played so great a part in our common struggle against the forces of nazism and fascism."

Lights in the Church during the blackout were dimmed and the Service continued. Donald Dame, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, sang the new national anthem of the Soviet Union.

Capt. Sergei N. Kournakoff paid tribute to Russia's fighting forces. Other speakers included the Rev. William Howard Melish of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Guy Emery Shipler, editor of The Churchman. The Grace Church choir under the direction of Vincent Mitchell sang selections from Russian composers.

During the Service a portrait of George Washington was presented to a representative of the Red Army.

BISHOP MANNING HONORED BY YUGOSLAVIA

In recognition of his labors on behalf of the people of Yugoslavia during the two World Wars, and in gratitude for his friendship toward the Serbian Orthodox Church, the Grand Cross of Saint Sava has been conferred on the Bishop by the Royal Yugoslav Government.

This action by the Yugoslav Government follows closely upon the decoration of General Patrick J. Hurley, President Roosevelt's personal representative in the Middle East, which took place recently in Cairo, and the exchange of courtesies between the King and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The official presentation of the Order took place at a luncheon which His Excellency Konstantin Fotitch, the Royal Yugoslav Ambassador, gave in honor of Bishop Manning, on Saturday, February 26th, at the Waldorf Astoria.

In presenting the Cross to the Bishop the Ambassador said: "In the dark, probably the blackest, hours of our history your friendship has been an unwavering support and encouragement to all of us. You have never failed to raise your voice in defense of our people, who are fighting for a just and noble cause under the most difficult conditions and hardships. Recently your writing of an eloquent foreword to the book "Martyrdom of the Serbs" has undoubtedly contributed greatly to making better known to our friends in this and other allied countries the suffering and untold sacrifice endured by the Serbs from the brutalities inflicted by the Axis powers and their satellites."

In accepting the Cross the Bishop spoke of the invincible spirit of the Yugoslav people and said, "I trust and pray that your country may speedily be delivered from its present grievous trials and sufferings and that God's blessing may ever rest upon the people of Yugoslavia, upon your King and government, and upon the noble, martyred and glorious holy Orthodox Church of Serbia."

Among the guests were Bishop Dionisije of the Serbian Eastern Orthodox Diocese of the United States and Canada, and author of the book referred to above; Thomas J. Watson, Lieut.-Gen. Hugh J. Drum, commander of the New York Guard; Dr. Isaac Alkalay, former chief Rabbi of Yugoslavia and Senator in its Parliament; William M. Chadbourne; the Very Rev. Dushan J. Shoukletovich, Dean of the Serbian Cathedral of Saint Sava; and the Canons of our own Cathedral.

HISTORIC FLAG RECEIVED

The Cathedral has received the gift of an historic American Flag from Mrs. Charles Von Mayhoff, who for thirty years has been its custodian as a member of the National Society of Patriotic Women. It is interesting to know that this flag was presented to the Society by the late Bishop Henry Codman Potter of this Diocese, and the Society wished to have the flag placed in safekeeping in the possession of the Cathedral.

LETTERS TO THE BISHOP FROM OUR MEN AT THE FRONT

From the many letters received recently by the Bishop from men of our Diocese who are in the Armed Forces we print the following:

Sardinia
February 18, 1944

Dear Bishop Manning:

Late last month I received your Christmas message through my Church, St. James', Fordham. I want to let you know that I appreciate it.

Since last September I have been unable to attend any services of the Episcopal Church - that because there are, so far, no Episcopal clergy on this island. All the more reason, then, that your letter brought a measure of comfort and spiritual blessing. It gives us a feeling of "belonging" to know that you and our friends at home do find time to remember us in your prayers. It also makes us feel that there is a strong support behind us that cannot fail us. Those prayers do give us a source of extra strength upon which to draw during these times that we are without the ministrations of our clergy.

Thanks again for remembering us.

Sicily, March 1, 1944

Dear Bishop Manning:

In civilian life many times I attended the Lenten Services, Musical Services and Nativity Services. I was present at the opening of the Nave on St. Andrew's Day, November 30th, 1941. It was a Service I shall never forget. Your hallowed edifice holds many pleasant memories for me. Enclosed you will find a money order check for five dollars which I hope you will use for the spread of the Gospel. Here on the other side of the world I am attending my Lenten Services. Under separate cover am sending you "Stars and Stripes". God bless you in your work for the spread of God's Kingdom on earth.

Faithfully yours,

TRAINED CHURCH WORKERS HELP IN RURAL COMMUNITY PROBLEMS

Convinced that causes growing out of the war are seriously affecting the life and work of Churches in rural regions, leaders of the Episcopal Church have gathered twenty experienced women Church workers from all parts of the country, for a three-weeks' course of intensive training in dealing with present-day problems of their work. These workers represent various kinds of communities, a mill town, a farming area, a small town, etc. The Institute is sponsored by the Church's Divisions of Domestic Missions and Christian Social Relations, and by the Woman's Auxiliary.

Basic courses being taught include analysis of community organization, taught by Dr. Edmund DeS. Brunner, professor of rural sociology at Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, and techniques for improving individual case work and general community service, so that the Church may serve more effectively, individual and community needs. In addition there is a long list of special sessions describing programs and resources available, led by Church leaders, members of the faculty of schools of social work, members of Federal Government bureaus, and others.

Such timely problems as Population Changes in War Time, Work Projects as Christian Community Service; Needs of Children; Needs of Youth; Material Relief Practices of the Church; Principles of Case Work, etc., are being studied.

The women attending are carefully chosen, and come from twelve States of the Union. Mr. Samuelson, largely instrumental in organizing the Institute, said that "this experiment, one of the first by any National Church body, is already showing its worth. After this training, these workers will be better equipped to cope with the perplexities of their communities and of the individuals with whom they work. It is a good beginning. We hope to continue the plan on a larger scale."

THE REVEREND E. SPENCER GILLEY is in charge of Grace Church, Middletown.

ST. LUKE'S MAINTAINS ITS STANDARDS

In connection with the general subject of "Hospital Care", Dr. Claude W. Munger, Director of St. Luke's Hospital, has made public some interesting facts regarding the work of the Hospital in War time. He declares that no patient has cause for alarm, even though there has been grievous losses of doctors, nurses and other key personnel; that by mobilizing its remaining staffs into efficient, tremendously hard-working units they are able to give the same scientific, yet kindly service to which patients of St. Luke's are accustomed.

Two hundred physicians from St. Luke's have joined the Armed Forces, doctors from all ranks of the Staff, from young men just finishing their internship up to the most eminent and skilled specialists. The military prefer doctors under forty-five, and so dependence is put upon older men to occupy posts of greatest responsibility, and who from their longer experience and skill, can direct and teach younger men.

There has been already a total of 50,000 Graduate nurses called into military service, and St. Luke's has had to supply its share of them. It has been found that nurses' helpers could be employed, capable of assisting nurses and in fact doing many non-nursing tasks formerly done by the nurses themselves, thus freeing the latter for those services to the patient which none but a professional nurse is qualified to do. Also many new students are being received into the Nurses' School for training to become graduate nurses, but the standards of admsision have not been relaxed, and it is interesting to note that recent applicants have been a definitely superior group.

Dietitians, skilled technicians in massage, hydrotherapy; skilled technicians in X-Ray and laboratories, and other specialized personnel in work with the sick have gone to the military hospitals. Beyond the groups who minister directly to the sick, engineering and power plant staff, accountants, orderlies, watchmen, porters and other such are now in uniform. Many new faces are seen among the Hospital personnel.

Evacuation Hospital Number 2 which is in fact a complete hospital in itself, left St. Luke's more than two years ago, and has done yeoman service in England and later in Scotland. It is a completely out-fitted 1,000 bed hospital, and St. Luke's doctors and nurses serve as the nucleus of its personnel.

While all this movement of trained people from the Hospital to the War effort has put a severe strain upon the remaining staff, the level of service in the Hospital is kept at a pre-war high standard. The secret is that everybody works harder. Perhaps the windows aren't as clean as formerly, and building and grounds may not be kept in as good a state of repair as they were formerly, but vital hospital services to all patients are maintained as well as ever.

MIDSHIPMEN'S GRADUATION

On Thursday morning, February 24th, Graduation and Commissioning ceremonies were held in the Cathedral for the United States Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School (Columbia Univesity), when 1160 men were graduated and commissioned as Ensigns. The Invocation was delivered by the Reverend Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Rector of Grace Church; Rear Admiral Edward J. Marquart, U.S.N., Commandant of the Third Naval District, made the Address. The Benediction was given by Chaplain (Lt. Comdr.) C. Leslie Glenn. Capt. John K. Richards, U.S.N., Commanding Officer of the School, presided, administered the officer's oath to the Ensigns and presented the Commissions. The total attendance at the service was more than 7,000.

In connection with this last graduation, Captain Richards announced that a total of 12,000 men had been commissioned by the Midshipmen's School at Columbia. He revealed that 135 graduates of the school had been killed or were missing in action, twelve were prisoners of war and seventeen had been wounded. The Congressional Medal of Honor has been awarded posthumously to one graduate; six former students have received the Navy Cross, nine the Silver Star Medal and seven the Navy and Marine Corps Medal.

Seventeen combat ships have been named in honor of graduates of the school killed in action, Captain Richards announced.

The trainees at the Midshipmen's School are required to follow a rigid schedule, amounting to about fifty-eight hours a week. Upon graduation the men are commissioned ensigns and leave the school with orders to report to every type of duty.

"We are informed by the high commands in the various theatres that our graduates' performance of duty under the stress of actual combat measures up to the highest traditions of the Navy," Captain Richards declared.

DEAF GIVE AMBULANCES

Members of the National Association for the Deaf have raised a "Victory Fund" of over $7,700. It was used to purchase three Clubmobiles for use of the Red Cross. The Reverend Guilbert C. Braddock, who is active in work with deaf people, says that many people with this affliction are engaged in war work. Employed in war industries, he cites as examples, are 700 in Akron, Ohio, and 400 in Hartford, Connecticut, and corresponding numbers in other war industrial centers.

Mr. Braddock is in charge of the work of the Church Mission to Deaf Mutes in the Diocese of New York and Vicar of St. Ann's Church for the Deaf on West 148th Street.

Deaf people from the whole metropolitan area worship regularly in the sign language at St. Ann's, which is a chapel of the Church of St. Matthew & St. Timothy. The Chapel has recently organized a Bible Class for adult deaf Negroes, fifty-five of whom are already on the roll.

BRONX LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT

Men gathered for the Corporate Communion in St. James' Church. Bishop Gilbert in the foreground.

Christians of today have an extraordinary opportunity to assume the leadership of the world, asserted Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, president of Ripon College, Ripon, Wisconsin in a stirring address to 165 men of the Convocation of the Bronx on Washington's Birthday.

He called upon the men to assume their share of this leadership and urged three necessary prerequisities: better preparation of themselves by learning more about the Faith; greater enthusiasm for that Faith expressed in personal evangelistic activity, and putting the worship of God first in their lives.

Dr. Kuebler spoke at an assembly following a Corporate Communion and breakfast held at St. James' Church, Fordham. His audience comprised men from 16 Bronx parishes and missions.

The celebrant at the Holy Communion was the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese. He was assisted by the Reverend Edward T. Theopold, Dean of the Convocation; the Reverend Arthur V. Litchfield, Rector of the parish and the Reverend F. Gray Garten, Chairman of the Bronx Clericus' committee on laymen's work.

A second speaker was W. Ross Baley, Jr., Field Secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, who described briefly the principles and activities of the Brtherhood.

The program was planned by a steering committee of men of which George E. Heerwagen of St. Paul's is chairman and the Reverend F. Gray Garten is advisor. It was the first such gathering of Bronx men since 1940 and represents the start of a new men's movement in the Convocation.

A prominent feature of this movement is the urging of the establishment of Brotherhood chapters in parishes and missions where they are needed. Chapters are in the process of formation in seven churches. One has already been started. It is at St. Stephen's, Woodlawn.

Tracing the shift in our mental attitude from optimism and opportunism before World War I to cynicism and pessimism after it, President Kuebler said that both the leading intellectuals and the popular novelists of the present day are writing in positive terms, realizing and stressing the importance of the eternal verities.

Pointing to such current best-sellers as "The Robe", "The Apostle" and "The Song of Bernadette", the speaker asserted that ten years ago such books would not have been essayed let alone become best-sellers. That they are being written and so widely read is evidence, he said, that people are realizing that there is something more important in life than the merely secular.

He went on to state that all the best we have in our civilization today comes from three sources: the Greeks, who contributed freedom of inquiry and expression; the Jews, who learned most about the problem of how men can live together; and our Lord, who gave us the supreme revelation of what God is and what man can become.

A thrilling section of Dr. Kuebler's address had to do with his description of how the people of Europe are discovering the true values through the blood bath they are experiencing. The result of this experience, according to Dr. Kuebler, is that "there is more vigor in European Christianity today than at any time since the Reformation."

INCOME TAX AIDS GIFTS

Pointing out the advantage of income tax deductions, the diocese of Western New York tells Church members there that "the saving for gifts is greater than ever before. Assuming a net income of $6,000 a year and deductible gifts of 15%, the government pays one quarter of the gifts. With an income of $20,000 the tax saving is one half the gifts. Church people have an unusual opportunity to show their loyalty to their Church and at the same time to take larger advantage of the privileges the government offers."

We quote another comment on this subject from "The Episcopal Church Evangelist":—

The Government recognizes the importance of our supporting the Church and provides that a gift which doesn't exceed 15 percent of the donor's net income may be deducted before federal income taxes are figured.

In this way, a person is enabled to give an amount at much less expense. Here are some examples:

| Taxable Income | Amount of Gift | Net Cost of Gift |
|---|---|---|
| $ 10,000 | $ 1,000 | $ 660 |
| 20,000 | 2,000 | 980 |
| 30,000 | 3,000 | 1,170 |
| 50,000 | 5,000 | 1,550 |
| 100,000 | 10,000 | 1,700 |

CHURCH FIRE LOSSES ABOVE NORMAL

Churches apparently were not exempt from the unfavorable fire loss experience common to most fire insurance companies during the year 1943, according to the recently released report of The Church Properties Fire Insurance Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Church Pension Fund. The Corporation confines itself exclusively to the insurance of Episcopal Church property.

In a statement accompanying the report, Bradford B. Locke, President of the Corporation and Executive Vice-President of The Church Pension Fund, stated that the fire and windstorm losses in 1943 amounted to $235,936. "which is much higher than normally". Despite this, however, Mr. Locke reported that the Corporation earned an underwriting profit. The total assets of the Corporation at the end of 1943 are reported to be $776,696, compared to $745,628 at the end of the previous year, and the surplus was increased by $42,171, bringing the total capital and surplus up to $701,456, representing 90.3% of the total assets. It is stated that at the end of 1943 total insurance in force was $115,136,285, compared to $106,986,999 at the end of the previous year, and that the Corporation now carries insurance on approximately 3,400 Episcopal churches, aside from many other ecclesiastical institutions. It is claimed that through rate reductions and other means, the Corporation has saved its policyholders several hundreds of thousands of dollars in the cost of carrying their essential insurance protection since the Corporation was established in 1929. Being a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Church Pension Fund, all profits of the Corporation go to the Fund.

TWO MORE PARISHES MEET QUOTAS

Two more parishes which paid their 1943 Missionary Quotas should be added to the list published in the last issue of The Diocesan Bulletin. Checks overpaying the quotas of Christ Church, Red Hook, and All Saints', Upper Red Hook, were lost in the mail and did not arrive until after our last issue went to press. The total number of congregations meeting their quotas in 1943 is now 107 as compared to 83 in 1942.

EASTER SERVICES AT THE CATHEDRAL

At the Cathedral on Easter Day there will be celebrations of the Holy Communion at 7, 8, 9, and 10 a.m.; Morning Prayer will be read at 10 a.m.

ALASKA CONTINUES TO FEEL FULL IMPACT OF WAR

The Right Reverend John Boyd Bentley, Bishop of A'aska, has written a letter to the National Council vividly describing the great changes taking place in this field because of the war. As quoted in "The Living Church", the letter reads:

"Alaska continues to feel the full impact of war. Our whole economic and social life has been altered. Gold mining, which prior to the war, has been our second industry, fishing taking first rank, has come to a virtual standstill throughout most of the territory. The men and machines that had been employed in mining are now busy in building airfields, roads, camps, etc. This total conversion from peace to war has caused many dislocations. Many women and children have been evacuated to the States. Tens of thousands of civilian workers have come to the country. Changes, which under peacetime conditions would have taken 50 years to accomplish, have come to us in the brief span of two or three years. Work is plentiful; wages are high; the cost of living is the highest in the history of the country.

"Our land is an armed camp. Troops are everywhere, in the larger centers of population, and in the most isolated and unlikely places. The Navy has established great bases at several points along our coast. The services have brought their own chaplains with them, which is fine. Our missions and missionaries have been able to minister to some of the men in uniform. This has been a privilege and a joy to us all. Our associations with the chaplains, of whatever faith, have been wholesome and happy. Often they have been able to minister to our own people, where they are without the services of a resident minister. For this service we are grateful. I feel that the whole cause of missions must be helped by these contacts and mutual services. Our men in uniform have seen with their own eyes, and for the first time, the Church actually at work in a mission field.

"In spite of the war, in spite of its consequent and inevitable distractions and discouragements, the work of the Church goes on. I am sometimes amazed that it goes on so well. That it does, speaks well for our missionaries, their faith, their courage, and their ability and stamina in a changing world. It speaks well too, for the loyalty and faith of our people. Congregations have been good, and contributions have been generous. Alaska promised $3,000 as its expectation in 1943. We gave $3,365.51, while contributing to Aid to British Missions, the Army and Navy Commission, the Good Friday Offering and the American Church Building Fund Commission as well as other charities."

Bishop Bentley, since becoming Archdeacon of the Yukon in 1930 and Suffragan Bishop in 1931, has covered practically all of Alaska's 586,000 square miles by auto, dog teams, launch, plane and railroad. There are twenty missions and twenty-four preaching stations scattered from Ketchikan in the southeast to Point Hope on the northeast under his care.

OBITUARIES

THE REVEREND CLARENCE ARCHIBALD BULL

Formerly Rector of the Church of the Holy Comforter, Poughkeepsie, died on February 24th at the age of 73. A native of Mount Vernon, N. Y., educated at St. Stephen's College and the Berkeley Divinity School; ordained a deacon in 1898 and a priest in 1899, he was Rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Plainville, Connecticut until 1901, later Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Binghamton, N. Y. and from 1916 until he retired, Rector of Holy Comforter.

THE REVEREND FRANCIS BANKS WHITCOME

Institutional Chaplain for Dutchess County for the past thirteen years, died on January 28th at the age of 78. He was educated at Trinity College and the Berkeley Divinity School, becoming a deacon in 1890 and a priest in 1891, and served successively as Rector of Christ Church, Unionville, Connecticut, Trinity Church, Branford, Connecticut, St. Luke's Church, East Greenwich, Rhode Island, St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie and Christ Church, Watertown, Connecticut. He was a Trustee of the Berkeley Divinity School from 1927 to 1929.

In 1930 he was appointed by Bishop Manning as general Chaplain of the many institutions in Dutchess County in which he conducted a busy pastoral ministry including services of prayer and preaching, administering the Sacraments including celebrations of Holy Communion, and giving Christian burial to many who otherwise might not have had it.

The funeral service was held in Christ Church, Poughkeepsie on January 31st by the Rt. Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop, who represented the Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Reverend Dr. Alexander G. Cummins, Rector of Christ Church and by the Reverend Canon Sidney W. Wallace of Christ Church Cathedral, Hartford, Connecticut.

A large congregation including the clergy of the Convocation of Dutchess and many citizens from all professions and walks of life was in attendance.

KIPLING KIN BAPTIZED

At the Cathedral on Thursday, March 9th, the Bishop baptized Wolcott Balestier Dunham, Jr., the infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott Balestier Dunham, and the great-nephew of Rudyard Kipling.

THE DIOCESAN BOARD OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

At a meeting on February 24th, the Diocesan Board of Religious Education accepted with regret the resignation of its President, the Reverend Gerald F. Burrill, former Rector of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, who is now Assistant Secretary of Forward-in-Service with the National Council.

The Board has elected as its new President to serve until the annual meeting in June, the Reverend Leslie J. A. Lang, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester, and Vice-President of the Board.

With a foreword by Fr. Burrill, the Board has just issued a booklet entitled "Ideals for Church Schools" and presented it to the Clergy of the Diocese to stimulate thought and action for the Church Schools, to serve as a basis for the work of the Diocesan Director of Religious Education, the Reverend Gerardus Beekman, and to indicate the ends towards which the Board is striving in this Diocese.

The booklet is divided into seven sections, namely:

1. Integration of the Church School into the Life of the Parish.
2. Worship
3. Teachers
4. Children
5. Curriculum Material
6. Organization
7. Physical Equipment

The Board believes that a serious study of these ideals with a view to finding the general principles underlying each recommendation would benefit the work of our Church Schools in both large and small parishes and missions.

THE GOOD FRIDAY OFFERING

As we approach Holy Week we again focus our attention on the Good Friday Offering which for some time has been designated for the Jerusalem Mission. The Bishop of the Diocese has appointed the Reverend W. D. F. Hughes, Rector of Grace Church, Hastings-on-Hudson, to represent him in soliciting support for this work in the Diocese. Fr. Hughes in his letter to the Clergy says:

> "The Bishop has asked that I act in his behalf in the matter of the Good Friday Offering. I am more than happy to do so both because of the obvious appeal of the work supported by the Offering, and also because of the connection of Archdeacon Bridgeman with the Parish which I serve. He lived here for many years and often ministered in the congregation, of which his father was a vestryman and warden."

The Reverend Dr. Charles T. Bridgeman is Residentiary Canon of St. George's Cathedral, Jerusalem, and Archdeacon of Syria and the Lebanon, where he has spent nearly twenty years in the work of the Church.

The war has brought many opportunities for this work in the Holy Land, often taxing to the limit the resources of staff and fabric. St. George's Cathedral at Jerusalem plays an important part. Here has been opened a hostel for chaplains with the forces. Here, also, center courses in training for men now at work in Army and Navy not only in connection with the specific work of chaplains but with respect to the normal work in parishes to which they will return. A further highly interesting effort has been the reception and, in a degree, the training of men in the armed forces centered on Jerusalem and the Near East who have a vocation for Holy Orders. Several hundreds of such men have spent conference intervals in the Cathedral Close and form an important nucleus for clerical reinforcements when once the war is over.

A summary of the Church's institutions indicates the great sweep and range of its opportunities.

Hostel

Hostel for Pilgrims in St. George's Close, Jerusalem.

These institutions of the Jerusalem Mission extend from Gaza to the Turkish boundaries and then far eastward along the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, an enormous sweep which can only be covered by the constant use of airplanes.

By action of General Convention, fifteen per cent of the total raised in the Good Friday Offering is made available for the work of the Russian Theological Seminary in Paris. This school has been unmolested during the German occupation of the French capital, and instruction of prospective priests for the Russian Church has been continuous. This gift from America has been a large factor in maintaining the work and is vitally necessary to its future.

THE RETIREMENT OF BISHOPS

In his Address to our Diocesan Convention, the Bishop made the following statement, which was received by the Convention with prolonged applause:

"I want to say a few words as to the recent action of the General Convention in regard to the Retirement of Bishops of the Church.

"The Convention adopted an amendment to the Constitution which reads as follows—'Upon attaining the age of 72 years a Bishop shall tender his resignation from his jurisdiction.'

"The great preponderance of legal authority holds that such legislation cannot take effect retroactively and that this amendment cannot, in law or in equity, apply to Bishops who were consecrated before this amendment was adopted and who accepted office on the universally established and accepted contractual principle that the office of Bishop includes a life tenure.

"In the House of Bishops this amendment was adopted with the distinct understanding, and with the declaration of the Presiding Bishop from the Chair, that it could not apply ex post facto.

"It seems clear that this ruling was correct but the Presiding Bishop has requested eminent legal authorities to give their opinions on the question and the matter will be further considered at the meeting of the House of Bishops next year and at the next meeting of the General Convention in 1946.

"In my judgment the whole question of the Compulsory Retirement of Bishops of the Church needs far more careful and serious consideration than it has received. There are spiritual and constitutional principles involved which have certainly not had adequate consideration. It is a grave question whether the relation of a Bishop with his Diocese should be terminated by an authority outside the Diocese, acting, quite possibly, against the judgment and desire of the Diocese.

"But, whatever may be said upon those questions, I hold as do many of our Bishops, and as most of the legal authorities who have been consulted hold very decidedly, that the recent amendment adopted by the General Convention does not apply ex post facto and therefore, as the matter now stands, I shall continue to serve you as your Bishop so long as I am given health and strength sufficient."

A GREAT CONGREGATION

On Sunday afternoon, May 21st, the Bishop of this Diocese spoke to a congregation which according to the police estimates numbered 1,400,000. The occasion was the great gathering in Central Park in observance of "I Am An American Day" at which Bishop Manning was invited by the Mayor to be one of the speakers.

The amplifying system was perfect and the Addresses were heard by everyone in this crowd of nearly one million and a half, which is said to be the largest gathering ever assembled in New York.

VISIT OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK

Herald Tribune-Rice

The visit of the Most Rev. and Right Hon. Cyril Forster Garbett, Archbishop of York and Primate of England, to the Diocese and to the Cathedral was of signal and historic importance, not only because of the great place which the See of York and its occupants have held in the history of Christendom from the very earliest times, but also because the Archbishop's visit was made during the present World Crisis.

Bishop Manning formally welcomed him to the Cathedral at 11 a.m. on Sunday, April 23rd, although the Archbishop had been the celebrant at Holy Communion at 8 a.m. In his sermon at night the Archbishop declared that never in his life had he spoken to congregations so large as those which he saw in our Cathedral except in Moscow last October, and it may be added that this distinguished visitor spoke most appreciatively of the dignity and beauty of the Service in our New York Cathedral, and of its complete accord with the rubrics and teachings of the Prayer Book.

At night, although it rained heavily, the Cathedral was thronged at a United Service of Prayer for the Establishment of a Just and Righteous Peace. Archbishop Garbett declared it necessary that every nation should have political freedom and opportunity for its own development; that the individual must also have economic freedom; that international relationships must be decided by justice and not by violence; that the Axis nations must be disarmed and kept disarmed; and that, above all, both nations and individuals must be brought to accept the Lordship of Christ.

We quote the following from the Bishop's Address to our Diocesan Convention:

"The Archbishop's simplicity, sincerity, and strength, impressed everyone and his visit was a most helpful and memorable one. Both by his presence with us and by his words the Archbishop emphasized the unity and fellowship of the Episcopal Church with our Spiritual Mother the Church of England, and with the whole of the Anglican Communion, in the Faith and Order of the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church, the Faith, the Sacraments, and the Three-fold Order of Bishops, Priests, and Deacons coming to us in unbroken succession from the Apostles' time.

"And at this time the Archbishop's visit had a further value and significance in emphasizing the fellowship between our Country and Great Britain. Nothing is more important for the welfare of the World than the close and enduring fellowship of the English Speaking Peoples. The two great English Speaking Democracies, the United States and the British Commonwealth, must stand always in full fellowship for the welfare, hope, and peace of the World."

The Archbishop stated that his purposes in visiting the United States were: "To further the cooperation between our two Churches in the extension of the Kingdom of God overseas"; to thank the American Church for its generous aid to British Missions, which in three years has reached a total of $578,000; to confer with the members in this country of the Anglo-American Committee which has been set up to promote closer cooperation in the Service of the younger Churches overseas; and to meet and to talk with various agencies and groups on topics of common interest. The Archbishop carried out all these, and spent a busy and crowded week in New York doing so. While in the Diocese, he was the guest of Bishop Manning.

We are grateful to the Archbishop for his visit, and trust that he may some day again be a guest here.

YOUTH CONFERENCE AT OSSINING

The finest Youth Conference in the Diocese, held outside of the Metropolitan area this year, was that which took place at Trinity Church, Ossining, of which the Rev. Donald W. Lloyd is Rector, on Sunday afternoon, April 30. Eighty-seven young people assembled at three o'clock to be registered. They came from ten parishes in Westchester, eight of which were also represented by their clergy. The opening Service was held at half past three and consisted of short devotions, followed by three keynote addresses given by the young people's own chosen representatives from their number. The subjects covered were Christian Education, Economic Life, and Race Relations as related to a Post-War World. The Rev. Donald S. Labigan, former instructor at Hobart College and at present a master at St. Peter's School, was the lecturer and discussion leader of the Christian Education group. The Rev. Daisuke Kitagawa, a Japanese Priest, was in charge of Race Relations, and the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, Headmaster of St. Peter's School, of the Economics group. After one hour spent in the discussion groups, the members of the Conference assembled for a panel discussion. The Rev. Llewellyn O. Diplock, Rector of Christ Church, Yonkers, was the Moderator. Following this, supper was served, after which Fr. Leeming gave information regarding the Summer Conferences to be held at St. Peter's School from June 25th to July 1st, and from July 2nd to July 8th. Fr. Diplock then showed movies of the Ivoryton Conferences. The Conference ended at eight o'clock.

RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF

More than 2,000,000 pounds of clothing have been given as a result of the "Clothing for Russia Drive", of which the Bishop acted as Chairman.

U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman sent a cabled appeal from Moscow to the offices of Russian War Relief in New York, calling attention to the critical shortage of clothing, particularly in the recaptured areas, devastated and looted by the retreating Nazis.

An appeal went out to all churches and synagogues stating that the need was great and urgent, that there had been virtually no civilian clothing production for the year 1944 in the Soviet Union, and that gifts of clothing from the American people would not only meet physical needs, but would also serve as a heart-warming message of friendship, and be a symbol of our gratitude for the privations which the Russian people have endured and of the superb courage with which they have fought and driven back the invaders of their home-land.

The drive ended on June first with a most enthusiastic meeting at the Commodore Hotel, attended by many labor union members.

The venerable Patriarch Sergei, head of the Russian Orthodox Church, died in Moscow on May 15th. When Russia was invaded, he had ordered all believers to fight to the end. Under his leadership the Church was recognized by Premier Stalin, the Godless League was disbanded, Church attendance increased greatly, and a happier era began. His last official act was to dispatch to Bishop Manning a telegram of thanks, which read:

"RUSSIAN WAR RELIEF HAS INFORMED ME YOU ARE HEADING CLOTHING CAMPAIGN FOR PEOPLES OF THE SOVIET UNION WHO ARE VICTIMS OF WAR. ON BEHALF OF MY RUSSIAN ORTHODOX CHURCH CONGREGATION I THANK YOU FOR YOUR BROTHERLY CARE FOR OUR WAR VICTIMS AND CALL DOWN THE LORD'S BLESSING ON ALL AMERICANS WHO AT YOUR APPEAL WILL COME TO OUR SUCCOUR. MAY THESE CRUEL ORDEALS OF WAR BE FOR OUR PEOPLES A SALUTARY BOND CEMENTING THE JOINT EFFORTS OF OUR AMERICAN AND SOVIET PEOPLES IN THE NAME OF A COMMON HAPPY FUTURE.

PATRIARCH OF MOSCOW"

SUMMER PREACHERS AT THE CATHEDRAL

The Special Preachers at the Cathedral for the Summer, at both 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. will be:

TWO RECENT VISITORS AT ST. BARNABAS HOUSE

Just before midnight on the evening of April 22nd, two five-year old weary blue-eyed boys were brought to St. Barnabas House, 304 Mulberry Street, the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society's temporary shelter for women and children.

Tommy and Danny were their names, they had told the policeman who took them in charge at the Times Square station of the Interborough subway. They were not able to tell where they lived nor how they had reached Times Square, nor why they had been riding the Seventh Avenue line from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.! It was only next day, after the police of nine states had been notified, and two families in New Jersey had spent a sleepless and anxious night that the children were reunited with their parents and the whole tale of their adventure could be pieced together.

Upon their arrival at St. Barnabas House, which is accustomed to midnight newcomers, though not often under such spectacular circumstances, the tired children were, of course, put immediately to bed. The next morning they were lively and talkative, played happily with toys and seemed to feel entirely at home. Miss Frances Hains, assistant director of St. Barnabas and in charge on this particular Sunday, questioned them gently.

Danny told her that he lived on 14th Street, and Tommy said his father was a policeman. They talked vaguely about a man who had given them ice cream cones and asked them if they'd like to take a train ride. From these and other details, Miss Haines came to the conclusion that possibly they lived in Hoboken, and she telephoned this fact to the Missing Persons Bureau of the Police Department, with which she had been working. An hour later the two fathers, one a shipyard worker, the other a patrolman, both of whom had red-rimmed eyes that gave evidence of their all-night search, arrived to take their offspring home. Other details then filled out the story of the nearly 24-hour saga of the children's wanderings.

The two families lived in the same apartment house in Hoboken. Though the boys showed confusion on the point of their departure from home, the patrolman father thought they might have boarded a bus with the crowd of shipyard workers who daily leave from a station near the apartment house. How the children got into the subway was, and still is, a mystery.

It had not occurred to their parents that the boys would even dream of running away, for Tommy was having a birthday party and the two youngsters were eagerly looking forward to the ice cream and cake. Nor had it occurred to anybody that they could have left Hoboken, to say nothing of reaching New York City; therefore, no general alarm was at first sent out.

As for the youngsters themselves, they appeared to take the whole proceeding as a matter of course, and went home with their fathers as nonchalantly as they had come to "St. B."

To St. Barnabas House, caring for a "missing" child is more or less all in the day's work. Children are frequently brought there by the police from the New York Foundling Hospital, the City's official clearance center for lost children, and cared for and kept happy until relatives claim them.

At the end of their Subway Tour

International News Service

By far the greater part of St. Barnabas' work for children today is shelter for them in time of family emergency. Such emergencies are more common these days, with many fathers absent in service and unexpected illness and other problems arising in the lives of mothers and children on small income. Many neglected or abandoned children awaiting foster homes are also frequently placed in the care of the House.

Within the last few months, St. Barnabas House has been remodeled to accommodate at least 300 more children annually, meeting a very great community need, the demand for the shelter of children having made it advisable to reverse the previous ratio of 40% children and 60% women.

Girls and women, sheltered for varying periods, are given personal counsel and practical aid just as they have always been helped since the House was founded nearly 80 years ago. Among them are, at any time, a number of unmarried mothers whose need for understanding is adequately met by the skilled aid and counsel of Miss Mary Bolster, director. The greater employment opportunities for older women have somewhat reduced their numbers, but there are still many tragedies of age, incapacity for work, and stringent temporary need that require the skilled service of a center such as this.

Service to all is carried on in close and careful cooperation with other agencies so that the best possible solution may result in each individual case.

ORDINATIONS

On Trinity Sunday in the Cathedral, the Bishop ordained to the Diaconate Roger Geffen, presented by the Rev. Gordon B. Wadhams, Rector of the Church of the Resurrection, Manhattan. He is to work in the Diocese of Nassau, Bahamas, under the Right Rev. Spence Burton, S.S.J.E.; William James Matthers, presented by his brother-in-law, the Rev. Auguste F. Marlier, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Stone Ridge. He will be on the staff of Lawrence Hall, Chicago.

Two deacons were ordained to the priesthood: the Rev. Ellison Fletcher Marvin, presented by the Rev. Melford L. Brown, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, Mount Vernon, and who has become an assistant at St. Mary's Church, Manchester, Conn.; and the Rev. Dr. George William Edwards, presented by the Rev. Walter G. Harter, Vicar of St. Luke's Church, Tuckahoe. Dr. Edwards, who has been working as lay-reader and then as Deacon at St. Andrew's Church, Hartsdale, will become Vicar there.

The ordination of the Rev. Dr. Edwards has aroused a great deal of interest and comment in the press because he is a well known economist, having been dean of the business school at City College from 1927 to 1932 and now head of its department of economics, where he will continue his academic duties. He says that he believes economic values will be supplanted by spiritual values in the post-war world, and that he desires to serve a small parish.

The Rev. Dr. J. Wilson Sutton, Rector of St. Stephen's, Manhattan, preached the sermon in which he said "Millions of people in the world are underfed. The tragedy of this is so overwhelming that we dread to think of it. But it is rooted in a deeper tragedy, and that is the tragedy of millions who are starving for God."

The Ordinands and their presenters were guests in the Bishop's House at luncheon, after which the newly ordained Deacons and the Rev. Dr. Edwards accompanied the Bishop in his twenty-fourth annual visitation to the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, Welfare Island, where he confirmed candidates prepared and presented by Chaplains of the Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society.

EASTER IN THE CATHEDRAL

Lent, Palm Sunday and Good Friday had brought large congregations to the Cathedral in preparation for Easter Day when there were altogether eight Services.

At 11 a.m. alone, when the Bishop presided and preached, the total attendance was seven thousand, five hundred, a considerable proportion of whom were in uniform, including a detachment of one thousand WAVES stationed at Hunter College. The congregation, arriving early, occupied every seat and many stood throughout in every available space. The newspapers reported this to be the largest congregation at one time in any church building on Easter Day in the Western Hemisphere.

At 4 p.m. the Service was one of Liturgical Music, Broadcast over the NBC network, and this brought another large congregation to the Cathedral.

ASSETS OF CHURCH LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION INCREASE

The assets of the Church Life Insurance Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Church Pension Fund of the Protestant Episcopal Church, increased from $6,967,226. to $7,457,401. during the year 1943 according to the annual statement just released by Bishop Cameron J. Davis, the President of the Corporation. He remarks upon the fact that if market values had been used for all the investments of the Corporation, the assets would have been further increased by over $200,000. at the end of 1943, and he reports that none of the investments is in default as to principal or interest. The total assets are reported as exceeding all liabilities by $900,801. compared to $843,379. at the end of the previous year.

Bishop Davis states that the Corporation earned a slightly higher rate of interest during 1943 than in the previous year, and that the mortality experience was unusually favorable. The total insurance in force is now $28,760,000. The facilities of the Corporation are confined exclusively to the clergy and the active lay workers of the Protestant Episcopal Church and the members of their immediate families. The report states that the insurance in force has shown a steady increase during the entire history of the Corporation since it was started in 1922. During this period it has paid dividends to The Church Pension Fund, its sole stockholder, in a total amount of $405,000.

"The Corporation moves along in a steady and modest way, and is in a very strong financial position," Bishop Davis said. "It is unquestionably performing a useful function in the interests of the Church, as well as in the interests of The Church Pension Fund, its sole stockholder. The more widely its facilities are used, the more useful will be its function. The premium rates at which the Corporation offers its insurance and annuity facilities are so much more favorable than those offered by most other companies that this advantage ought to appeal to those who are eligible."

BROADCAST FROM WESTMINSTER ABBEY TO ST. JOHN'S CHOIR

On Good Friday at 1:45 p.m. New York Time, the boys of the Choir of Westminster Abbey broadcast a program in honor of the boys of the Choir of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. This was under the auspices of te British Broadcasting Corporation, and was re-broadcast in the United States over Station WOR.

Dr. O. H. Peasgood, Acting Organist of the Abbey, explained the present formation of the Abbey Choir, then introduced six of the Abbey boys who called by name six of St. John's boys. The Abbey Choir sang "Let the Bright Seraphim" by Handel, and explained that the latter was buried in the Abbey.

NATIONAL COUNCIL ANNOUNCES BUDGET FOR 1945

The National Council has adopted the 1945 Budget set by General Convention, namely, $2,667,132. Of this amount $1,944,402. has been apportioned to the dioceses and the apportionment to the Diocese of New York is $200,000., the same as for this year.

BRITISH MISSIONS IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS

Explaining the present and future status of Episcopal Church Aid to British Missions, the Reverend Dr. James Thayer Addison, Vice President of the National Council, and in charge of Overseas Missions, has issued this statement:

"Gifts to British Missions from the Episcopal Church during the last four years have developed somewhat as follows:

"During 1941 we gave $300,000. as a blanket gift, to be distributed under the direction of the Archbishop of Canterbury. During 1942, $200,000. was given and distributed in the same way.

"During 1943 we gave about $90,000. in the form of 'designated' gifts, certain percentages of the total being allotted to certain fields. Like 'designated' gifts to the National Council, these applied to the budgets of the various British Societies and served to increase their annual income.

"During 1944, for the first time, we are giving 'special gifts' directly to work in several specific fields, such as Southwest China, Dornakal in India, and Melanesia. The total for the year will be $30,000.

"We expect that in 1945 a somewhat larger amount will be distributed in a similar manner.

"After this triennium it is our expectation that annual gifts in Aid of British Missions will cease, and that in place of this type of giving our Church will undertake responsibility in supporting certain districts now chiefly supported by one or more of the British Societies."

Our acquaintance with the work in Dornakal and Southwest China has been fairly intimate as it has been well publicized. On the other hand, the work in Melanesia is not so well known to us in this Country, although since the War it probably comes closer to more of us than any other. The Diocese of Melanesia operates under the New Zealand Board of Missions and is divided into the Archdeaconry of Southern Melanesia, including the New Hebrides Island and the Archdeaconry of the Solomons.

The Solomons were named by the Spanish explorer, Alvaro de Mendana, who discovered them in 1567. He apparently stayed several months during which time he visited and named most of the islands. Ysabel apparently was named for his wife, and the Solomons were so called because he felt they were possessed of great riches.

There are about 100,000 native inhabitants of the Solomons, about half of whom are concentrated in the Island of Malaita. They are strong and sturdy people and mostly of Melanesian stock. Largely due to the splendid efforts of the missionaries, these natives have proven intensely loyal to our troops and are credited with saving many lives. Much property of the missions has been destroyed by bombing, but the spirit of the missionaries remains undaunted. Bishop Walter H. Baddeley, after having stayed in the bush with the natives until after the Japs had been driven out, wrote:

"There will be a nasty bill to meet in the years ahead for the replacement of property - Taroaniara, Siota, probably Buana and Maravovo and Tulagi Church. But we have been lucky with our ships, having lost only a launch and a whaleboat. The Japs did a lot of ransacking and pillaging before they destroyed buildings. Still things might have been much worse; and none of us has suffered physically except perhaps a marked diminution in girth. We shall be glad when stores can be got through, for none of us has received anything for more than nine months. There will be, I am sure, a lot of chatter as to the wisdom of missionaries having stayed. I felt there was no question of going unless we were compelled; but we were not compelled, and I have reason to believe that the best opinion in Government circles is that we owed it to our people to stay—which, of course, is our opinion."

LETTER FROM A CHAPLAIN IN NORTH AFRICA

One of our Chaplains in North Africa writes as follows:

"For the last few months I have kept a register of the Churchmen who make their Communions, and have been advising the Rectors of the parishes concerned. The hold which our Church has upon its members is strikingly demonstrated here in North Africa. I venture to say that the percentage of Episcopalians carrying out their religious obligations faithfully is exceeded by no other body—including the Roman Catholics. This is an encouraging fact."

A LIEUTENANT IN THE COAST GUARD CONDUCTS SERVICES

A Lieutenant in the U. S. Coast Guard, who is one of our Lay Readers in this Diocese, writes that he has received his commanding officer's permission to conduct Services aboard his ship, which has no Chaplain.

The Lieutenant writes as follows:

"You'll be interested to learn that I have conducted services aboard each Sunday when at sea (as far north as Greenland) with an average attendance of about 40. One officer assists me, another plays the piano for the hymns, and one of the enlisted men—who was in a Roman Catholic Seminary prior to the war—reads the lesson. The men select the hymns, "Rock of Ages" being a favorite, and several have said they want the services and would like a period of silent prayer, which I have included in the order of service."

MEDICAL BOOKS TO RUSSIA

Medical textbooks valued at $1,700.00 have been purchased by the Lower West Side Committee of the Russian War Relief, of which the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Manhattan, and Secretary of the Diocese, is Chairman, and have been presented to the central committee for distribution to medical colleges throughout Russia.

RELIGIOUS PREFERENCE IN THE ARMY

Members of this Church, serving in the Army have the right to state their religious affiliation, which is then recorded in the files of the War Department. Most of our members do not seem to know about this, or else do not know how to go about it. The following circular letter, dated June 15, 1942, was signed and sent out by the Rev. William R. Arnold, Chief of Chaplains, follows herewith:

WAR DEPARTMENT
SERVICES OF SUPPLY
Office of the Chief of Chaplains
Washington

June 15, 1942

Circular Letter No. 253

Religious Preference: Officers and enlisted men may now indicate their religious preference by denomination on appropriate records. The instructions sent to units of the Army are as follows:

"Each man enlisted will be informed that he is authorized but not required to indicate his religious preference by denomination (Jewish, Moslem, Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Methodist, Baptist, Christian Scientist, etc. The term 'Protestant' will be used only when the enlisted man claims no specific denomination). Notation of preference will be made under 'Remarks' in the service record, or statement made that the enlisted man does not desire to express a preference. The word 'None' will be entered only when the enlisted man states that he has no religious convictions.

"Personnel assigned to duty of obtaining religious preference will be carefully instructed in questioning procedure to insure that the information is voluntarily given without violating any of the rights of the individual.

"All military personnel will be encouraged to indicate on appropriate records their religious preference by denomination or religion (Jewish, Moslem, Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, Methodist, Baptist, Christian Scientist, etc. The term 'Protestant' will be used only when the officer or enlisted man claims no specific denomination).

"The preference of officers will be indicated under 'Remarks' on W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 66-1, or statement made that the officer does not desire to express a preference. The word 'None' will be entered only when the officer states that he has no religious convictions.

"Commanding officers are permitted to furnish information as to the religious preference of members of their command to local churches and accredited denominational representatives on their request.

"Hereafter there will be no religious census of military personnel except such as may be necessary to obtain data from those who have entered the military service prior to the time that these instructions became operative."

These instructions will not prevent chaplains from maintaining in their office files such data as to religious preference as will enable them to fully minister to their men. The needed information should be obtained from the official records of the men concerned.

WM. R. ARNOLD,
Chief of Chaplains

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE NURSES' SERVICE

The Twentieth Annual Florence Nightingale Service for Nurses was held in the Cathedral on Sunday night, May 14th, at which time the Bishop made the address.

This annual event in the world of nursing, originally instituted by St. Barnabas' Guild for Nurses in 1924, is now held under the auspices of the New York League of Nursing Education, and the New York County Registered Nurses' Association.

The Bishop urged "peace through victory", declaring that "a negotiated peace would not be a Christian peace and would defeat the purpose for which we are fighting." "Anything short of a complete victory", he said, "would be a false peace, and those who work for such movements as a 'negotiated peace' and 'peace now' are doing the work of Hitler and are betraying the cause for which our men are giving their lives." He continued "Any peace short of complete victory would mean that we or our children would have to go through another such struggle. We must do everything in our power to insure that after the victory is won the United Nations shall continue to cooperate and to act together in the cause of world fellowship and world peace."

This Service, attended by many hundreds of nurses from local hospitals and training schools, and nurse cadets, constitutes an unforgettable picture as the long procession slowly files in through the Great Bronze Doors, until every seat is taken. After the closing prayers and blessing, taps were sounded for nurses who died in the last year.

PARISH URGES MEMBERS TO BE MISSION-MINDED

A letter from the Wardens and Vestrymen of Christ Church soon will be received by all members of the Parish. It refers to our Easter Offering, and makes request that each endeavor to make it a generous one.

All who are aware of the importance of raising the spiritual level of contemporary society will understand the reasons for making such a request. It is not simply a case of "paying our bills" at home, (though creditors generally think this is important), and it is a far more vital matter than simply maintaining a world-wide institution for human welfare. The Church is committed to the continuing, expanding program of bringing "The Light of the World" into every dark corner of society, both at home and abroad. All of us, in other words, must be mission-minded, and make contributions in every and any way we can to the most important agency on earth for lifting human life to the level upon which God desires it to move.

Such an enterprise cannot be maintained simply by murmurings of approval. Christian schools, hospitals, social service organizations and mission stations require the same sort of wherewithal to operate as does any home Parish!

NEW YORK PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CITY MISSION SOCIETY MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

With a foreword by Bishop William T. Manning as president, the annual report of the Rev. William E. Sprenger, director of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, points out that during last year, the 112th in its history, the Society aided a total of 37,827 persons.

"This is a time of change in every aspect of our lives," said the Bishop's foreword. "Many people are faced with problems which they never anticipated. Consequently, in the past year, the Society has made greater adjustments in its program of work than at any other time in its history. In all departments, it strives to maintain the morale and spirit of our people and to make them strong in faith and courage."

Changes in the Society's work included the addition of facilities for the care of children at St. Barnabas House, 304 Mulberry Street, the Society's temporary shelter for women and children. Three hundred more boys and girls can now be cared for annually; many at present are children of service men.

A new 500-acre camp site was purchased at Parksville, N. Y., which will ultimately accommodate the organization's camps for both boys and girls, nine to fifteen. These camps, as well as Edgewater Creche-Rethmore Home in Englewood, N. J., for children four to eight, accept campers on a non-sectarian basis.

The family service department of the Society, with its case load reduced, was able to do extensive follow-up with many of last year's 934 campers, so as to make permanent the benefits of their stay.

A large proportion of those aided by the Society were the Protestant inmates of 33 public institutions in the New York Diocese, to whom 21 chaplains of the Society minister throughout the year. In addition to 87,000 individual interviews, the chaplains conducted services attended by 114,000 persons.

Girls on parole from Westfield State Farm, who are given special counsel by a social worker of the Society, were able to find many positions in industry, whereas formerly only domestic work was open to them. At Ellis Island, says the report, the Society's representative during the year gave assistance to 2652 persons, the majority of them interned alien seamen and repatriated Americans.

CHURCH MISSION OF HELP CHANGES TITLE TO YOUTH CONSULTATION SERVICE

The agency formerly known as the Youth Consultation Service - Church Mission of Help of the Diocese of New York Inc., announces through its President, Mr. George W. Van Slyck, that its title has been changed to that of Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York, Inc. It is felt that the shortened title is more descriptive of its service as well as making clear its Diocesan connection.

The surprise periods will be special trips to points of interest in New York, including the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Trinity Church, and the Metropolitan Museum.

DIOCESAN INVESTMENT TRUST NEARS END OF ITS FIRST YEAR OF OPERATION

An event of outstanding importance during the past year has been the creation of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Diocese of New York, which had its inception on July 15, 1943.

The Trust is operated by the Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New York, and on April 17, 1944, held net assets of approximately $3,500,000 and had received subscriptions for its shares from or in behalf of forty-two churches and eight diocesan organizations. Formation of the Trust was authorized by a special act of the legislature of New York, and by the action of the Diocesan Conventions of 1942 and 1943. As stated in the announcement, it provides "an opportunity for the Churches, Missions, and other organizations of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New York to combine their trust or endowment funds and thus obtain the benefit of diversification of investments under experienced management."

The distinct advantage of this "benefit of diversification" may be realized from the fact that the funds of the Trust are divided among some 100 different securities, and if one of these should prove unsatisfactory, the percentage loss that would be incurred would be small on account of the large size of the total fund. Usually a parish has no such opportunity of diversity of selection, and one unfortunate investment may result in the loss of the greater part of its endowment. By the same token, a broad diversification in investments increases the probabilities of receiving benefits from improved conditions in some of the industries represented in the portfolio.

"Experienced management" assures to parishes, missions and other institutions the best possible financial supervision of their funds. As the Trust may select its management from the entire membership of the Diocese, it can readily be seen that a high standard should be easily maintained. The present Board of Trustees, nine in number, consists of the Bishop, President ex officio, and eight laymen elected in four classes by the Diocesan Convention. Officers or directors of six large institutions are on the Board: Mr. Clarence G. Michalis (treasurer) President, The Seamen's Bank for Savings; Mr. Harry M. Addinsell, Chairman Executive Committee and Director, The First Boston Corporation; Mr. Kingsley Kunhardt, Vice-President, Guaranty Trust Company of New York; Mr. Richard H. Mansfield, Vice President, The Chase National Bank, and Mr. Samuel R. Peale, Assistant Treasurer, Bank of New York; Mr. Jarvis Cromwell, President, William Iselin & Co., Inc. and Trustee, Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, and also Mr. Lyman Rhoades, retired, formerly Vice-President and trust officer, The Chase National Bank, and Mr. Edward K. Warren, Chairman of the Committee on Diocesan Finances.

The Bank of New York and the Chase National Bank are the custodians for the securities of the Trust, and the Guaranty Trust Company furnishes investment advice. Messrs. Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft have been retained as counsel, and Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery as auditors. Mr. Walden Pell has been elected secretary and is in charge of the office of the Corporation at 74 Trinity Place, New York 6, N. Y.

As the Trustees by the enabling act are not limited to the narrow field of "legal investments," but are permitted to purchase preferred and common stocks as well as Corporation bonds, they can more easily overcome the many investment problems brought about by changing conditions. Moreover, if the trustees were limited to so-called "legals" the return on the investment would be so low that the work of the parishes would be curtailed. The Finance Committee of four trustees meets at least once a month, and the full Board of Trustees holds quarterly meetings. Application for shares of the Trust, which may be made either in securities or cash, are received and acted upon by the Trustees on the 15th day of January, April, July and October of each year, at which time the net asset value of the shares is determined and certified to by the Auditors, and certificates of beneficial interest are thereupon issued to the subscribers at their then appraised value without charge. The net income of the Trust is distributed quarterly among the shareholders, and dividends have been paid as follows: on November 1, 1943, five cents a share; on February 1, 1944, nine cents a share; and on May 1, 1944, six cents a share.

Without cost, shareholders may withdraw their funds in whole or in part at quarterly periods upon due notice, so that the Vestries' control over their parish funds is in a large measure preserved. The parishes, missions and other organizations of the Diocese are expressly authorized by law to invest in this common fund. The Trustees receive no compensation for their services and the Trust is not operated for profit.

The Massachusetts Diocesan Investment Trust has been in existence for four years and the following is quoted from their First Annual Report:

> "It is believed that, over a period of years, churches which invest their funds through the Diocesan Investment Trust will fare better, both in regard to the preservation of the principal of the funds and to the return thereon, than if they leave the handling of their funds to Committees of the churches whose members are not always trained in financial matters or who have not the time to devote to periodic studies of the securities in their charge."

Since the formation of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Diocese of New York, the progress already made would seem to indicate that it is a step of a logical and constructive nature from which the parishes and the Diocese as a whole will receive increasing benefit.

ANNUAL PRESENTATION SERVICE

Increased Offerings

More than three thousand children and their friends from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese attended the Annual Service for the Presentation of their Missionary Offerings at the Altar in the Cathedral on Saturday, May twentieth, at two o'clock.

The total offering received from the children of the Diocese on the day of the Service was $30,839.35, which is $4,649.15 more than reported at the Service last year.

Bishop Manning presided and made the address in which he took occasion to catechize the children in their faith.

Many who used to come from points outside of the City in private cars and buses were unable to attend this year because of gas rationing.

A vested choir, in many hued vestments, marched in procession about the Cathedral Close and were reviewed by the Bishop and other of the Clergy before entering through the Great Bronze Doors to their reserved section in the Cathedral.

Bishop Gilbert read the announcement of the awards.

After the Bishop's address, he presented the various awards and banners as listed below. All awards are made on the basis of the official reports received. The awards are as follows:

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

The following article from "The Parish Kalendar" of Trinity Church, Miami, Florida, was reprinted in "The Palm Beach", the organ of the Diocese of South Florida. It expresses clearly the situation in our own Diocese and we are also experiencing the change which is taking place in our attitude towards Missions.

We have, in the Episcopal Church, for a long while tried to educate our people to the idea that they had a responsibility to support the local Parish; and also, to support the general work of the Church.

The general work of the Church meant Diocesan Missions, i.e. the weaker places in the Diocese not able to support themselves; and also, the "Far flung battle lines of Christianity," i.e. the Church Schools—Chapels—hospitals in Liberia, India, China, South America, Alaska, West Indies, and the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands.

This was a very worth while, definite and real objective. We failed in a large measure because our people did not know anything about, or have any interest in, this far flung line.

Some, who were willing to follow the leadership, said in substance, "I will do what I can and you may divide it as it should be," others said, "I have no interest in the work elsewhere. Whatever you give is all right with me." Others, in turn, had no vision, and said in fact, "I will support the local Church, but I have no intention of supporting missions."

Anyone can see that this situation as thus represented made it a matter of the "vision" of the Vestry, or the "leadership" of the Rector, or more, and too often, the demands of the local situation.

"Things are changed today." Many people who never heard of Africa, never saw the National Geographic, had no idea of the needs of other peoples of the world, now have sons and daughters in these far off places. They are suddenly faced with a fact they never seemed to have caught before. A letter of a soldier son, husband, or brother says, "the school, the hospital or the church at —is the one spot of American life in all this great country." They found friends, and were surprised to find this place in a far off land.

It is hard to do—but we must begin now, and continue to think in "GLOBAL" terms.

The Church has called repeatedly, but now the whole world—political and religious—calls us.

CHRISTIANITY—the church in the community—the hospital here—the school there—the nursery somewhere else—the medical missionary—the teacher—the catechist—wherever they may be—are our responsibility.

The full measure of your responsibility is "GLOBAL". The church has long taught that principle. Our hymns have echoed it—"From Greenland's icy mountains—From India's coral strand—Where Afric's sunny fountains—."

ST. PETER'S SCHOOL

On Tuesday, April 4, 1944, the Right Reverend Robert Erskine Campbell, retired Bishop of Liberia, as the representative of Bishop Manning, visited St. Peter's School, Peekskill.

At five o'clock in the afternoon, the entire School of fifty-eight boys, along with members of the Staff, went in procession to the adjoining estate, which has been recently purchased by the School. There Bishop Campbell blessed several buildings, which are being used as dormitories and residences for Masters. At 5:30 services were held in the School Chapel when twenty-one boys were confirmed, which is by far the largest class ever presented at the School.

St. Peter's will operate a summer camp, from July 10th to September 5th, accommodating forty boys.

With the purchasing of the new estate, the School can now house seventy-five boys during the school year and has an estate of seventy acres. The Reverend Frank C. Leeming and the Reverend Nicholas M. Feringa are in charge of the School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY IN THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE May 23, 1924

WORK ON THE CATHEDRAL of St. John the Divine is to be carried forward immediately. Bishop Manning startled the convention of the New York diocese by his announcement that the building fund has already grown to $2,500,000.

ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION REPORTS LARGE DEMAND FOR PRAYER BOOKS

The supply of Prayer Books for Soldiers and Sailors will soon be replenished, according to an announcement from the Army and Navy Commission. The demand for these little books has been so heavy that the supply was reaching the point of exhaustion and the undertaking of a new edition had to await special permission from the War Production Board to use additional paper for this purpose. That permission has now been secured and the Army and Navy Commission states that The Church Hymnal Corporation, which publishes the Prayer Book for Soldiers and Sailors in behalf of the Commission, is going to press immediately with a new edition.

The Prayer Book for Soldiers and Sailors, prepared by a special committee and containing a foreword by the Presiding Bishop, is of a size that fits easily into the pocket of the uniform. It is bound in khaki cloth for soldiers and blue cloth for sailors. It is distributed by the Army and Navy Commission under the chairmanship of Bishop Sherrill with headquarters at 1 Joy Street, Boston. So far, approximately half a million copies have been distributed and it is stated that the demand seems to be increasing. These little books are used by our soldiers and sailors in every part of the world, wherever our armed forces may be.

It is partly for this purpose that the Army and Navy Commission is appealing to the Church for funds, although the Commission also carries on many other important functions, including the protection of the Chaplains in respect to their pension provisions under The Church Pension Fund while they are on active duty with the Army or the Navy.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE 1944 BUDGET AS ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

By the adoption of the annual report and budget of the Committee on Diocesan Finances by the Convention on May ninth, several new procedures affecting appropriations from contributions for The Program of the Church and from the Diocesan Assessment, were initiated.

For several years past Convention has adopted a budget of appropriations to Diocesan Organizations from contributions for The Program of the Church, based on the hypothetical total receipts of either $200,000., $300,000., or $400,000. During the long period of financial depression receipts had dwindled to less than $250,000. so that the proposed division of receipts above this figure became rather meaningless. Beneficiaries had to assume that they would receive little more than amounts appropriated to them in the "first" or $200,000. column. This system, therefore, was not realistic and contributors were under the impression that the beneficiaries were receiving much larger amounts than they actually were, and larger than the beneficiaries could use unless they expanded their programs.

For sometime Convention has divided receipts for the Program of the Church evenly with the National Council, although at one time the National Council received 60% of all receipts and more recently 55%. Heretofore, therefore, when we spoke of a $400,000. budget it was indicated that half of this amount would go to the National Council. The whole question of what should be paid to the National Council for the work of the Church outside of the Diocese became much confused during the depression. General Convention found it difficult to apportion quotas to the Dioceses in the face of rapidly declining contributions and the same situation faced the Dioceses themselves.

With the increase in giving which was evidenced last year, General Convention instructed the National Council to follow Canon 4 which calls for an apportionment to be made to each Diocese. These apportionments are based on the current expenses of all the parishes, missions and chapels in each Diocese and are weighted by communicant strength, record of past giving, etc. The mathematical quota of the Diocese of New York for 1944 was $237,517., but the apportionment is $200,000.

In order that we might give the National Council an estimate of what might be expected from us towards this apportionment, and also that we could intelligently arrive at proper appropriations for our Diocesan Organizations, the Bishop of the Diocese asked each parish and mission whether or not it expected to pay its quota in full, and if not, how much it did expect to pay.

As a result of this inquiry, it appeared that we could expect a total of at least $285,000. With this information in hand, the Committee on the Diocesan Finances sat in conferences with representatives of each of the Diocesan beneficiaries of The Program of the Church and discussed their minimum needs for the year. The tables of appropriations approved by Convention reflect their needs although, of course, much larger sums could be used by several of the beneficiaries to great advantage. The total of these Diocesan needs amounted to $128,000. The Committee on Diocesan Finances, therefore, after approval of the Committee on Coordination of Diocesan Activities, recommended that this sum be appropriated and a like sum to the National Council. As it appeared that receipts would exceed this total amount of $256,000., it was also recommended that additional contributions go to the National Council until they receive the amount of our apportionment of $200,000. While it is not expected that contributions will reach $328,000., which would be the amount needed to meet the full apportionment of the National Council and our Diocesan budget of appropriations, it was necessary to provide for any eventuality and contributions are definitely increasing.

Previously, for some years, contributions received above minimum requirements were divided proportionately among all beneficiaries. This actually meant that some beneficiaries received more than they needed and others not so much. Consequently this year the Committee on Diocesan Finances secured Convention approval to hold all receipts above $328,000. until 1945 to be appropriated by Convention of that year to Diocesan Organizations in accordance with demonstrated need.

Another significant change in procedure was the request of the Committee on Diocesan Finances granted by Convention that the Treasurer be permitted to disburse to all beneficiaries out of contributions applying to 1945 quotas, up to 25% of what they received in 1944. The Program of the Church operates on a calendar year. Consequently when Convention meets in May it is appropriating to organizations which have been operating for four months without funds from this source. This practice with the uncertainty it entailed made it necessary for some of our organizations to carry large balances of cash and there was always the possibility that Convention would not make an appropriation at all. Under the new plan each organization will know that it will receive at least 25% of the previous year's allocation, provided contributions actually enable the Treasurer of Convention to make the disbursements.

The Diocesan Assessment

While the total amount appropriated by Convention from the Assessment was the same as in other recent years, the division between the beneficiaries was somewhat changed. An increase in the needs of the Diocesan Expense Fund was occasioned by the increase in our Assessment for expenses of the General Convention and the Presiding Bishop. This Assessment has now reached its canonical limit of $8. per resident clergyman, whereas for many years it amounted to only $1. to $4. Another factor in the additional needs of the Diocesan Expense Fund is the meeting of the Provincial Synod which this Fall takes place in this Diocese.

Rates of Assessment remain the same as for some years past, but no credit of 7% as was granted the past two years was allowed this year. This credit was made possible by the collection of considerable arrears which produced a large cash balance which was returned to the parishes and missions by means of this credit. At the present time it does not seem likely that there will be any considerable arrears in the payment of the Assessment.

MIDSHIPMEN GRADUATE

At the invitation of the Bishop, on Thursday, April 13, at 11 a.m., the United States Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School of New York (Columbia University) again held its Graduation Exercises in the Cathedral, when seventy-five hundred persons were in attendance. One thousand and ninety-one men were graduated and commissioned as ensigns, bringing the total number who have graduated from this School and gone out to active duty to more than fourteen thousand.

Captain John K. Richards, U.S.N., Commanding Officer of the School, presided and administered the oath. The address was made by Captain James L. Halloway, Jr., U.S.N., Director of Training of the Bureau of Personnel. The Invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Theodore Cuyler Speers, Minister of the Central Presbyterian Church, and the Benediction was given by Chaplain C. Leslie Glenn.

The next Graduation will be Thursday, June 29, when an even larger number will be commissioned, and the Bishop himself will give the Invocation.

COMMENDED

MISS MARGUERITE MURPHY, in charge of the Information Office and of the Cathedral Telephone Exchange, was recently commended by the New York Telephone Co. on the grounds of: "Pleasantness of Voice, Speed of Service, and Courtesy on both in and out calls."

MEMORIAL ALTAR

St. John's in the Village, West 11th Street and Waverly Place, Manhattan, will soon have a new High Altar. Through the generous gift of the Rector, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, and the Vestry of Trinity Parish, and with the consent of the donors, St. John's will receive the Altar and Reredos formerly in St. Chrysostom's Chapel, one of the Trinity Parish Chapels, which formerly stood at the corner of Seventh Avenue and Thirty-ninth Street.

The Altar and Reredos, of French Caen stone, in English Gothic style, was designed by Thomas Nash and executed by Alexander Pelli & Co. of New York. They are a memorial to the late Reverend Thomas Henry Sill, Vicar of St. Chrysostom's Chapel from 1865 to 1910. A tablet to that effect will be placed in St. John's Church.

The stone Altar will replace a small wooden one in St. John's and the stone Reredos will replace the present plaster one. The weight of the new installation will rest upon an iron work and brick foundation. The Reredos is approximately fourteen feet in height and sixteen feet in width. The Altar is of the proper liturgical proportions. The Rector of St. John's, the Reverend Charles Howard Graf, and the Vestry announce that the work will be completed by September.

THE IMPORTANCE OF INTELLIGENCE TO THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

"The Church has continually reminded us that wisdom, intelligence, knowledge, is a precious gift of Almighty God, imparted to us through His Holy Spirit. But I sometimes fear that the teaching of the Church regarding the Spirit of God is one of the last of her teachings we will ever really appreciate and accept. When we celebrate Whitsunday, or Pentecost, the day when the Spirit of God descended upon the Christian fellowship in Jerusalem, and they began their ministry for the salvation of all men, we do not pray that God may give us any emotional uplift or mystical spiritual raptures, but that he will impart to us what we need most of all—'a right judgment in all things.' And we find this teaching in the Old Testament. When men were appointed to design and construct the Tabernacle in the wilderness, we are told that it was the Spirit of God who inspired them to be clever architects and craftsmen. And many years later we find in the religious writings of the Jews, some in the Old Testament, and some in the Apocrypha, that the activities of God in the minds of men are pictured as those of the divine Wisdom. Goodness is thought of, as it should be, as the highest manifestation of wisdom. And in the Middle Ages the Christian Church thought of the Holy Spirit as inspiring judges and kings and students with intelligence for their tasks. But the idea has somehow become popular that religion has nothing to do with intelligence, indeed that it is almost in opposition to it. The good man is likely to be the stupid one, and the wicked man the clever one. Indeed there has been, chiefly among Anglo-Saxons, almost a prejudice and suspicion against cleverness.

"Now we must of course love God with all our hearts. All religion is rooted in a deep emotional loyalty to God, a hearty desire to be in union with Him. We must love God with all our strength. We must exert every effort of the will to carry out his plans for us. But that will not carry us far enough on the right course till we learn to love him with our brains, to devote all the intelligence and insight we possess to an adequate understanding of what God is, what He demands of us, how we can carry out His purpose as revealed in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ."

—The Rev. Wilbur L. Caswell, Rector, St. Paul's Church, Yonkers, Forward in Service for Westchester County

THE BEGINNING OF LIBERATION

June 6th, 1944 will probably go down in history, along with other memorable dates. The armies of Liberation are on the march. The way that lies ahead is not easy. It is no series of primrose paths. War is a grim and tragic business. Human flesh is weak; it is tender. It tears easily and may be quickly destroyed. It is human flesh that composes the armies of liberation. Trained as these men have been from Commander to lowly privates, mistakes will be made. Human bodies will be torn and wracked with pains. But their courage will not fail them. They will win freedom for themselves and for the oppressed peoples they have come to liberate.

One thinks almost immediately of the composition of these armies, that on this historic day invade the continent of Europe, Armies of United Nations. Here are men from the hamlets and villages; from the industrial cities, and the cities where cultural pursuits are held high. There are men from that tight little island, England. They are the descendants of long lines of warriors. They love and respect freedom. Here are men from a new continent. These lines go back to England, but their forbears also dared to build a new nation in the northern half of a vast continent. They too love and respect freedom. They are Canadians. Then there are the armies of a young giant, that in a brief span of years has become a powerful nation. Her armies are composed of men, whose forbears have come literally from every race and clime. They come from a nation that was conceived in liberty and dedicated to the great experiment that democracy will work when given a chance. They, too, have freedom and liberty. These are true armies of liberation.

Now throw all this approach against the background of our Christian heritage. First "God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth." Surely this means that it is the will of God that His children and His potential children shall dwell together in peace and harmony. The armies of Liberation are going to do their part to see that the opportunity to give expression to this will of God is made possible for all men. You and I as individual Christians must do the part assigned to us. Prayer is one phase of that part. We trust that there was no parish in this Church to which we belong that was closed on Invasion Day. We cannot all, physically speaking, be at the "front." We can and should be there in our prayers.

Again from our Christian approach we should exhibit a courage and a radiant faith, that out of the cauldron of this dread hour, a new and living way will be created for those who will have paid with their lives. In that way and in that way only can we, as Christians, bring comfort to those who by this war have tasted the anguish of bereavement. If there was ever a time when the faith of the Resurrection morn was needed it is now. We believe it; so too may these sorrowing thousands believe it, if we, as Christians, express that faith nobly in our lives.

Finally, we headed this editorial the Beginning of Liberation. True freedom cannot come for any of us until all our brethren made in the image of God are free. That means even our enemies. And as Christians we know that true liberty is only found where the spirit of Christ Jesus abounds. This is the beginning of liberation from the cruelties of evil men, who have in their vaunted boastfulness, attempted to banish God from His universe. The true Christian has always been aware that their plans were doomed to failure. At their point of failure we must take up the banner and prove our faith in God and our love for our fellow man by using all means at our disposal to see that true liberation is granted to all men every where.

The beginning and the end of true liberty is to be found in Christ Jesus our Lord.

GIFT FROM DEAN AND CHAPTER OF YORK

The Archbishop of York, during his visit here, presented to the Bishop and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine, on behalf of the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitical Church of St. Peter, at York, a book entitled:

"Gothic Ornaments in the Cathedral Church of York" drawn and etched by Joseph Halfpenny in 1795. The second edition from original plates 1831, printed by John and George Todd, Stonegate, York.

In the quaint eighteenth century description this extremely valuable book reads:

THE GOTHIC ORNAMENTS
IN THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF YORK
ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE DIFFERENT
SPECIMENS: TO WHICH ARE ADDED
FOUR GENERAL VIEWS
OF THE INTERIOR OF THE CHURCH AND CHAPTER-HOUSE INTENDED TO EXPLAIN THE SITUATION OF THE ORNAMENTS, AND THE DIFFERENT STYLE OF DESIGN AT THE SEVERAL PERIODS OF BUILDING, AND ALSO TO CONVEY A JUST IDEA OF THE MAGNIFICENCE OF THE WHOLE:
FAITHFULLY DRAWN, AND ETCHED ON ONE HUNDRED AND SIX COPPER-PLATES
ACCOMPANIED WITH DESCRIPTIVE LETTER-PRESS.

The book was printed, as were all great editions of the day, by private subscription. The individual plates are eleven by thirteen. The book is a collector's item, but more than that is an absolute necessity in the library of a growing and building Cathedral. The book bears the book-plate of York Minster.

ROGATION SERVICE

After Evening Prayer had been sung in the Cathedral on Rogation Monday, the Bishop, Canons, clergy, acolytes and choir went in procession, singing the Litany, to the Cathedral Victory Gardens, where an appropriate suffrage and response were sung, then to the lawn in the south east part of the Close. There the boys, leaving the Choir School this year, presented a tree to the Headmaster, the Rev. Canon James Green, then the Bishop offered prayer and gave the blessing, after which the tree was planted, and the Procession returned to the Cathedral.

The Ninety-first Psalm

He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day; Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Thou shalt tread upon the lion and the adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore, will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him. With long life will I satisfy him and shew him my salvation.

The Bishop's Christmas Message to the Men and Women in our Armed Forces

Bishop Manning has issued a Christmas letter addressed to the men and women from our Diocese who are serving in the Armed Forces of our Country, and the Clergy are sending it to the men and women who have gone from their congregations. The letter follows:—

THE CATHEDRAL OF SAINT JOHN THE DIVINE
New York

Christmas, 1944

To the Men and Women of our Diocese
who are serving in the Armed Forces
of our Country:

The Holy Christmas Season is again approaching with its Divine Message of Faith and Courage, and, as your Bishop, I send my greeting and my blessing to each one of you, on land, at sea, and in the air, in every Branch of the Service. I send also a special prayer, which I hope you will offer up at Christmas, and at other times.

We pray for you constantly at the Altars of our Churches all over the Diocese. In your own parishes and congregations you are especially remembered and prayers are offered for you and your homes and families. We pray that in the service which you are giving for Right and Freedom God will sustain and uphold you, and that He will give you grace and strength to serve in all things without reproach, and that by His goodness and mercy you may be brought safely home to us.

At the Christmas Services we shall be praying especially for you who are absent from us, that God will be with you and bless you wherever you are. And we shall pray at Christmas, as we do each day, for speedy and complete victory over the Forces of Aggression throughout the World, that the cruelties and sufferings of war may be ended, and that there may be Righteous, True and Lasting Peace.

The only sufficient foundation for Peace and Brotherhood in this World is belief in the Living God and acceptance of His Law of Righteousness—belief in the Living God, the Creator and Father of all men, Who has revealed Himself in Jesus Christ His Eternal Son "Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, And was incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, And was made man."

This is what Christmas tells us.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,
WILLIAM T. MANNING

A PRAYER FOR THE USE OF THOSE IN THE ARMED FORCES

O Lord Jesus Christ who by thy holy Incarnation didst open the way for this to be a world of justice, peace, and brotherhood: Give to us who serve in the Armed Forces of our country faithfulness and courage to do our part that right and justice may be upheld, and that lasting peace may be established for the sake of all mankind. And give us thy help that we may be true to the vows made at our Baptism to be thy faithful soldiers and servants unto our life's end. We ask this of thee who liveth and reigneth with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end.
AMEN.

THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

Theological Education Sunday has been set by the Presiding Bishop for Sunday, January 21, 1945. The purpose of the Church in doing this is first to inform the Laity of the Church of the necessity and purpose of theological education and the training of all candidates for Holy Orders, so that the Church shall continue to have an educated ministry, as well as to encourage vocations to the Sacred Ministry. This program will raise up an increased supply of men who will willingly offer themselves for such service.

Second, no professional school can live on its tuition fees. The Seminaries are largely supported by gifts made by pious donors in the past, and it is now evident that their income must be augmented by gifts of those now living and sharing in the Church's life.

All the Seminaries are materially benefiting from Theological Education Sunday, and the Seminary of your choice, upon application, will gladly supply you with printed material and other suggestions, so that all parishes and missions of the Diocese may take their proper share and responsibility in this cause.

ANNUAL CLERGY CONFERENCE

The Seventeenth Annual Clergy Conference of the Diocese of New York held on Tuesday, October 3, began at 8:30 A.M. when the Bishop was the celebrant at Holy Communion at the Cathedral's High Altar.

Originally inaugurated by Bishop Manning in 1928, the Conference in pre-war days met in a suburban hotel reserved for the purpose, and lasted the best part of two days, but due to War Conditions was limited to one day and met at the Cathedral.

Two hundred attended. All sessions were held in St. James' Chapel. Breakfast, luncheon and supper were served in the Undercroft of the Synod House where the Clergy were guests of the Bishop. The day throughout was marked by a spirit of deep devotion, close attention, and fellowship. The Bishop was asked to send a message to all Chaplains from the Diocese in the Armed Services, assuring them of the interest and prayers of the members of the Conference.

Bishop Gilbert officiated at Morning Prayer, after which Bishop Manning, who presided, declared the Conference open and made an address on the subject: "When the Men Come Home", in which he stressed the fellowship of priest and people in ministering to men who, having faced the realities of battle, would on their return look for the reality of eternal truths. The Right Rev. Noble C. Powell, Bishop of Maryland, spoke on "Our Ministry to the Homes and Families of those Serving in the Armed Forces", pointing out the many wonderful opportunities afforded the priest for vital pastoral work, and that personal knowledge of our people is essential. Chaplain (Lieut. Col.) Harry Lee Virden, Assistant to the Chief of Chaplains, Washington, D.C., spoke on "Our Chaplains and our Men, now and when they Return", saying that the Church only can offer spiritual resources, and that it is the Church's "job" to do it; the Ven. Charles T. Bridgeman, Archdeacon in Syria and the Lebanon, spoke briefly on the Church's task in the Holy Land and brought a message of thanks from the Right Rev. Weston Henry Stewart, Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem, who had charged him to express to the American Church people his gratitude for the help they have given him through their annual Good Friday offerings; the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop of New York, on "Our Forward in Service Work in this Time of War", declared that it did not mean a "pepping up" program, but did mean the Church's response to the challenge of God to men to live in Christian fellowship; and the Very Rev. Hughell E. W. Fosbroke, Dean of the General Theological Seminary, on "The Church's Responsibility for the Shaping of the Post War World", who said that the Incarnation didn't take man away from the scene of his activities, but did bring God to man in all his needs.

All the addresses were most timely and of a very high order and evoked questions and answers in the discussion periods. The Conference ended with Evening Prayer in the Cathedral at 5:30 P.M.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN

The Bishop and Part of the Congregation Kostich Photos

Five thousand persons attended the Service of Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the Victory Granted in the Battle of Britain held in the Cathedral on Sunday, September 17, at 4 P. M. It commemorated the fourth anniversary of the Victory of September 15, 1940, when the Royal Air Force successfully repelled the enemy's massed air attack. Similar services were held throughout the world at the suggestion of the late Archbishop Temple of Canterbury.

Francis E. Evans, British Consul General in New York, read the lessons. Air Vice-Marshall R. P. Willock of the Royal Air Force read a message from the Earl of Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, in which he said that two questions had been decided. "It decided that Germany would not win the war; and it decided that Britain and all she stood for would survive. . . . I cannot doubt that in this deliverance we may truly see the hand of Providence."

The Royal Marine Band played for the Procession, as it marched up the Nave, in which in addition to the Bishop and Clergy, there were Army and Navy officers, Consuls of the United Nations, representatives of American and British patriotic organizations, and details from the Royal Air Force, Royal Navy, Merchant Marine and other service branches together with a large detail from the United States Navy Midshipmen's School at Columbia.

Bishop Manning in his sermon said:

"We are all giving thanks for the great victories in Europe at this time. There may be desperate battles and grievous losses still to come but our Armies and the Armies of our Allies are advancing into Germany.

The day of the Nazi Terror is near its end. The liberation of the enslaved countries is taking place. Complete victory over the German forces is in sight, and victory over the Japanese aggressors will follow.

But we are here today to look back to a time when the situation was a very different one. We are gathered here in this Cathedral in New York to give thanks to God for the victory granted four years ago in the epochal Battle of Britain, the Battle of Britain which stemmed the tide, which checked the onrush of the Nazi Conquerors, and which held the gates of Freedom for the World.

We think of the situation four years ago when Britain stood absolutely alone — alone and with almost no land forces or equipment — against the Axis Forces flushed with victory, drunk with power, and already the masters of a great part of Europe. We think of those immortal words of Winston Churchill to the people of Britain as they faced invasion, when he told them that he could offer them only blood, sweat and tears in their desperate struggle. We remember his tribute to the marvellous deeds of the Royal Air Force when he said that "never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few." And we give thanks to God for the heroism, the fortitude, the never faltering courage with which Britain met that great Day of Moral and Spiritual Crisis for Humanity. That Battle of Britain in 1940 was one of the most crucial victories in the history of the World. It was not a victory only for the British people, it was a victory of all who love Justice and Freedom. If Britain had surrendered, Nazi Germany would have dominated the World. The Battle of Britain, like the Defence of Stalingrad, was a miracle. It was a miracle of the free spirit of man which no power of Tyranny or Terror can destroy."

He quoted an editorial from the New York Times recounting the immense effort Britain had put forth: "Since the beginning of the War, The Royal Navy, that is the fleet of England, has lost ninety-five ships of war and 41,000 men, a great navy in itself. A fifth of her merchant seamen will not come home.

The British Navy and Air Force have destroyed two enemy navies, sunk more than half of the German U-boats yielding prisoners, and 40 per cent of others known to have been sunk. The R.A.F. carrying the war to Germany, has lost more than the Navy, 48,700 men and 10,400 planes. The British Army, recruited from England, Wales, and Scotland, has fought all over the world, suffering harrowing defeats yet winning victories that will ring through history. Its ranks have been thinned by warfare in nineteen separate countries or colonies. On every front its contribution has been far out of proportion to the population of the British Isles."

The Bishop went on to say: "We pay full honour to all those in all Countries, who have resisted so far as possible the wicked and brutal powers which attacked them. But we do not forget, and the World will not forget, that in the hour of Supreme Crisis it was Britain who stood alone while all around her went down in ruin. And so today we commemorate the Battle of Britain and express our sense of the immeasurable debt which we in America owe, and all lovers of Freedom owe, to the King and Government, the Royal Navy, the Royal Air Force, the Armies, and the People of Great Britain, and we join with them in giving thanks to God for the service which their great Prime Minister and Leader, Winston Churchill, has given to Britain in her time of supreme trial and to the Cause of Freedom throughout the World."

ANNIVERSARIES

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, Harrison, the Rev. James V. Knapp, Rector, celebrated its Forty-sixth Anniversary on November 1. On October 8, the Rector celebrated his Tenth Anniversary in that office.

THE CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION, New York, of which the Rev. Dr. Donald B. Aldrich (in Military Service) is Rector, observed on Sunday, November 5, at 8 P.M., the Fifteenth Anniversary of the "Open Door", with Bishop Gilbert as the preacher of the sermon.

THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, New York, the Rev. Lucius A. Edelbute, Rector, celebrated its One Hundredth Anniversary as a Parish of the Diocese on November 19, at 11 a.m., with Bishop Manning participating and preaching. In connection with this anniversary, the Parish, with the cordial endorsement of the Bishop, is seeking to increase its endowment to insure its continued usefulness as a "downtown" parish.

THE CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION (the Little Church Around the Corner), the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, Rector, celebrated the Ninety-sixth Anniversary of its foundation on Sunday, October 1.

AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, Ossining, on Sunday morning, September 24, at 10:30, the Bishop preached at the One Hundred and Tenth Anniversary of the Parish, the Rev. George F. Bratt, Rector, and at 11:30 officiated at the re-dedication of All Saints' Chapel, Briarcliff, of which the Rev. George F. Bratt is Vicar, following the restoration made necessary by a serious fire.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, Yonkers, the Rev. Dr. Oliver Shaw Newell, Rector, celebrated the Two Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the beginning of Church Services in what is now the City of Yonkers, with a Parish Service on Sunday morning, October 1, when Bishop Manning was the preacher, and on Sunday afternoon, October 8, when the Presiding Bishop preached at a Community Service.

GRACE CHURCH, West Farms, the Rev. Albert J. Hambret, Rector, observed its One Hundredth Anniversary, beginning on Sunday, November 12, when the Bishop was the preacher, and with services continuing through the week. It was also the Rector's tenth anniversary.

THIS YEAR'S EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

The Every Member Canvass in most parishes and missions has just taken place in the period adopted by the National Church—November 12th to December 3rd. Some parishes held their Canvasses earlier and many still have theirs ahead of them.

To assist our parishes and missions in bringing the entire program of the Church, parochial, diocesan and world-wide, before all people of the Church, the Diocesan Committee on the Program of the Church made some excellent material available.

Through the National Council, a film entitled "We, Too, Receive", was produced by Cathedral Films, Inc., based on a script prepared by Robert D. Jordan, Director of Promotion of the National Council. The film tells a simple story of the rescue of an American flyer, who bailed out in a South Pacific Jungle, by Christian natives, products of missionary effort. These natives, cannibals less than a hundred years ago, afford the demonstration that support of Christian Missions does bring results. There is no preaching in the film, no appeal for money and no clergyman appears. It tells its story and its audience draws its own moral. The Committee on the Program of the Church in this Diocese has purchased one print for use in each of the Convocations. They can be secured for showing in the parishes and missions at no cost except transportation. The film requires a 16 mm. sound projector. It may be scheduled by communicating with the following:-

BRONX—The Rev. George W. H. Troop, Y. M. C. A., 470 East 161st Street, Bronx 56, N. Y.

RICHMOND—Mr. Thomas P. Rabbage, 187 Burbank Avenue, New Dorp, Staten Island, New York.

WESTCHESTER—The Rev. James V. Knapp, Harrison, New York.

DUTCHESS—The Rev. J. Benjamin Myers, Fishkill, New York.

HUDSON—The Rev. St. Clair L. Vannix, Box 573, New Paltz, New York.

RAMAPO—The Rev. George W. Dumbell, Highland Mills, New York.

MANHATTAN—Diocesan Treasurer's Office, Old Synod House, Cathedral Close, 112th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, New York 25, N. Y.

A very effective set of four mailing pieces, designed to bring the work of the whole Church vividly before its people, is available at Diocesan headquarters of the Committee on the Program of the Church. The first of the pieces stresses the theme, "Sometimes, We Receive", as portrayed in the film above mentioned; the second piece outlines the Diocesan Missionary Program, and the third piece is designed for the parish program. The fourth piece sums up the previous three and can carry the final parish message before the Canvass.

For those who wish to provide canvassers with material on the Diocesan Program to be handed to those visited, a small folder entitled, "Our Plan for the Year Before Us", is available free of charge at Diocesan headquarters. This pamphlet can also be used as a mailing piece enclosed with a letter or handed out at a parish meeting.

Pledge Cards are available in a new simplified form adaptable to the needs of any parish, with sufficient space to imprint the name of the individual parish or misson.

The following is reprinted from the Diocesan circular, "Our Plan for the Year Before Us":

WHAT IS "THE PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH?"

The Program of the Church is the Church's plan of work for the year before us. By "the Church" we mean the Episcopal Church, in your town, in your County, in your Convocation, in your Diocese, in your Nation, in your World.

Who Evolves the Program?

The Program is developed by your representatives in the Diocese of New York and the National Council. Every member of the Church in this Diocese is a member of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society and the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society. Each year your Diocesan Convention approves a Program and every three years your General Convention approves a Program for the triennium.

How is the Program Supported?

The Church's Program is supported by the voluntary gifts of individual members of the Church. The canons of the Church provide that each Diocese be assigned a missionary apportionment or "Quota", and that the Diocese likewise assign a "Quota" to each congregation. The canons further provide that the clergy "shall instruct all persons in their parishes or cures concerning all the missionary work of the Church at home and abroad, and give suitable opportunities for offerings to maintain this work."

Quotas are met, therefore, by individual gifts or, in some cases, by Vestry appropriations of parish income, though it is better for each communicant to make his own personal gift.

How is the Work of Our Army and Navy Chaplains Supported?

This vitally important work is supported by "special" gifts of members of our Church. Special offerings for this purpose are solicited each year.

THE WORLD IS OUR THEATER
THIS IS OUR PROGRAM
ACT I
SCENE 1. YOUR HOME

As a member of the Church you study your parish budget and the Diocesan budget and estimate your share for their support. You make your pledges for parish support, and for the work of the Church in the Diocese, Nation, and World.

SCENE 2. YOUR CHURCH

You place your offering in the plate. The Parish Treasurer retains the Parish share and remits the "Missionary Offerings" to the Diocesan Treasurer who in turn disburses them according to the budget. This scene takes place in 260 Churches in this Diocese claiming more than 100,000 communicants.

ACT II

SCENE 1. YOUR DIOCESE

Through the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, some 80 parishes and missions are provided with the services of a clergyman, are helped to maintain their church property and to build new churches, rectories, and parish houses. In this Diocese we are maintaining work among our Negro fellow citizens larger than that in any other Diocese, and if the necessary funds are provided it can be greatly increased.

SCENE 2. YOUR NATION

Through the National Council similar aid is rendered to parishes and missions in more than 30 Dioceses and Missionary Districts within our borders and in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

SCENE 3. YOUR WORLD

Through our missionaries we bring the teachings of Christ and His Church to the people of China, Brazil, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, India, Liberia, Mexico, New Guinea, the Solomon Islands, and we are prepared to return to the Philippines, and lend our aid to the Church in other occupied countries as soon as they are liberated. We help to build strong native Churches and many of these are now aiding our Armed Forces in far flung places.

SCENE 4. YOUR DIOCESE

Through the City Mission Society, the Seamen's Church Institute, the Youth Consultation Service, the Church Mission to Deaf Mutes and many other agencies, we minister to inmates of prisons, hospitals and other institutions; to thousands of merchant seamen entering the great Port of New York; to adolescent girls seeking counsel and advice; and to hundreds of the deaf in the metropolitan area.

SCENE 5. YOUR DIOCESE

Through our Diocesan Board of Religious Education, the Girls' Friendly Society, the Church Periodical Club and the Social Service Commission, we provide assistance to Church Schools, sponsor Youth Conferences and Clergy Institutes; foster Christian ideals among young girls and boys; furnish reading material to those in need, and relate the Church to social agencies and social agencies to the Church.

SCENE 6. YOUR NATION

We bring the Church to great industrial areas born of the war and to relocation centers. We provide the means for a study of race relations and participate in conferences looking towards a Christian solution of racial misunderstandings and difficulties.

SCENE 7. YOUR HOME

You thank God for having given you His Church and the Teachings of His Son and pray for strength to keep Christ's light shining before all men.

PRESIDENT AND DIRECTOR OF SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE HONORED

At a ceremony held on October 11th in the "Netherlands Room" of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York at 25 South Street, Mr. Clarence G. Michalis, President of the Board of Managers, and the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director, were made Officers in the Netherlands Order of Orange-Nassau, in recognition of their services in behalf of the numerous Dutch merchant seamen who have found hospitality in the Institute since the war. Mr. Michalis has been a member of the Board of Managers of the Institute for twenty years and is also a Trustee of the Cathedral, Parish Vestryman and Convention Delegate. Dr. Kelley has been Director of the Institute for ten years. Mr. A. H. de Goede, President of the "Nederland ter Zee" Foundation (Free Holland on the Seas, Inc.) presided. The decorations were presented by the Hon. T. Elink-Schuurman, Netherlands Consul General in New York, and Dr. M. P. L. Steenberghe, head of the Netherlands Economic, Financial and Shipping Mission to the United States, made the address.

Both Mr. Michalis and Dr. Kelley were surprised at receiving the decoration. Mr. Michalis reminded the assembled guests that the Netherlands Room was the first clubroom for foreign seamen opened at the Institute, and he expressed appreciation of the honor conferred upon him by Her Majesty, Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, an honor which he said the Board and the Staff of the Institute all shared. Dr. Kelley also expressed gratitude for the honor, and recalled the visit of Her Majesty to the Institute and of the two visits of Crown Princess Juliana and of their satisfaction at seeing in this clubroom a little bit of Holland, and a clubroom which pioneered and set the standard for similar ones in many seaports. He stated that this site, once occupied by Dutch settlers, was an especially appropriate place for Dutch seamen to congregate. Dr. Steenberghe said: "It is in this room that some of our Netherland seamen, after their arduous duties at sea, find a homelike atmosphere where they can forget their worries and troubles during the short hours of their stay ashore."

The Seamen's Church Institute of New York is the second oldest missionary activity of the Diocese of New York. It celebrated on April 15th of this year the 100th anniversary of its incorporation. It has grown from a Floating Chapel in 1844 to the present 13-story building which is the largest shore-home, club and hotel in the world for merchant seamen of all races and creeds.

YOUTH CONSULTATION SERVICE REPORTS ON EXPERIMENT

Editors' Note:

In January 1944, Mrs. Ruth Dixon Smith, a Negro case worker, joined the staff of the Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York (formerly known as Church Mission of Help). This article is condensed from her report, made after six months' work in the field.

Basis of Experiment

As far back as 1940 (and even before) the Youth Consultation Service began to see the need for expanding its services. The agency was one of the very few of its kind in New York City specializing in case work services to the adolescent girl and it was felt that not enough of this group was being reached. In May 1940, a survey of the New York Diocesan welfare agencies was made with a view to improving the services. (The committee responsible for the survey was composed of Mr. Clarence G. Michalis, Chairman; Mr. Edward K. Warren, the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, the Rev. Thomas McCandless, and Mr. George H. Corey; assisted by a professional staff composed of Mr. Leonard Mayo, Director; Mr. Howard Hopkirk, Assistant Director; Miss Gordon Hamilton, Consultant; the Rev. Thomas J. Bigham, Jr., Miss Barbara Jack, and Mrs. Frances Humphreys.)

One of the recommendations to the Youth Consultation Service made by the survey was to make our services available to more Negro girls than had hitherto been reached. This suggestion was accepted and acted upon. Also by way of expansion, in 1943, the age limits of 16 to 25 years (which had been established in 1931) were removed, with the result that the agency extended assistance to all adolescent girls regardless of chronological age. Another step in expansion was taken in 1944, when the YCS began to experiment with services to delinquent girls referred by the Juvenile Aid Bureau. This was an attempt to reach the girl who had not known private case work services and who was in some conflict with authority. All of these plans were devised to make the work of the agency more meaningful to the community as a whole. All of this has resulted in larger intake, necessity for increased staff, etc. To the agency itself, it has involved an expansion of services both quantitatively and qualitatively which brought to Youth Consultation Service a satisfying sense of doing constructive work with a group that has caused so much concern since the beginning of the war, namely, the adolescent girl.

While all of these plans have required careful and constructive work, it has been the work with the Negro girl which has aroused the greatest interest and concern. Realizing that the services of Youth Consultation Service were not too well known in the Negro community, special efforts were made to see that interested persons and agencies in that community were acquainted with the work. As a result, the Negro case load steadily increased. In 1939 (before the survey) only 13.1% of the total case load was Negro. In 1943, 25% was Negro. But it was not the quantity which gave concern. This was operating according to plan. It was the qualitative factors that necessitated study and analysis.

Somehow the Negro girl was not responding to case work in a satisfactory manner. There was an acceptance of plans for the more urgent surface needs, such as shelter care, medical attention, etc., but when the deeper, more basic needs were explored, efforts were met with all sorts of accommodation attitudes, defeating the purpose of the relationship. Smiling surface agreement or open hostility in the girls very often covered embarassment, fear, lack of understanding, and confusion. The continuance of such attitudes made it impossible to establish real case work relationships and frustrated both worker and client. It was felt that the difficulty lay on both sides of the desk; that is, both worker and client were being motivated by racial feelings which lie quite deep in the unconscious. Both, sincerely wanting to help and be helped, were blocked by forces neither quite understood. Because the agency was sincerely concerned about the effectiveness of its work and unwilling to think that Negroes could not be helped on a deep level, it was agreed that perhaps a Negro case worker might be more effective.

Similarity of background, knowledge of the same problems, having to meet the same frustrations, working toward a common goal, all of these would serve to dispel the fears that are so devastating to a workable relationship. One basic fear could be removed at the outset, that is fear of not being accepted as a person but rather as a Negro with all the prevalent connotations. As a result of these considerations, a Negro case worker was added to the staff in January 1944. Her training and experience were comparable to the other workers in the agency. The only attribute she had that was different from the others was the fact that she was a Negro. It was agreed that for six months the work with the Negro girl would be carefully watched on a qualitative basis to see if more effective work was produced. Now that the six months are over, a picture of the experiment can be given and certain conclusions drawn.

Altogether during the first six months of 1944 there were 91 applications made for services of Negro girls, of which number 51 applications, or 56%, were taken under care. These numbers alone indicated a need for expansion of services. Before the fourth month was over, the agency was faced with the choice of either lowering standards of work or closing and rejecting cases. The latter course was chosen for fairly obvious reasons. If there comes a forced choice between quantity and quality in case work, it is quality that had best be preserved, else the fundamental purpose of the agency will be defeated.

Types of Problem Presented

Now let us look at the 51 cases taken under intensive care during this experiment with a view to analyzing the services given, always remembering that the major interest lay in whether or not a person who is a part of a minority group can give a more effective service to members of her group. The following factual data will give the background out of which many of their problems come.

These girls come to Youth Consultation Service from a variety of sources. Most of these sources are aware of an acute need for more service of this kind. The girls bring with them a variety of individual problems that fall into four main headings. The unmarried mothers form the largest group—72.6% of the total. Delinquents form the next largest group with 13.7%. School adjustments are 11.7% and health is 2%.

Ages of Those Under Care

The 51 girls who were accepted ranged from 14 to 23 years of age. 86.2% of this total were between 16 and 20 years of age, 27.5% being 16 years of age. These girls come for help at an age that is difficult for parents, the community, and even the girls themselves to understand. They have ideas, longings, and desires which are all a part of growing up and yet sometimes are very disconcerting even to themselves. V. exclaimed with a rueful grin, "How do I know what I think or want—it changes every day."

Areas from which Clients Came

Nearly half of the girls were born in New York City. The others came from small communities in southern United States or from the West Indies. Practically all of the parents were born either in the South or in the West Indies. The problem of conflict of cultures is very real. For the girl born in New York City there is the pull of urban culture to which she has been exposed, against the pull of her parents who were born elsewhere and only came to the city in late adolescence or early adulthood. Those with parents born in the Indies find the conflict even more difficult because the racial pattern of the Indies is so different from the pattern in the United States. For the girl born elsewhere and coming to New York, there is the whole problem of adjustment from a rather simple, small community life to a very complex urban situation. Knowledge of the situation from which they come, appreciation of their reasons for wanting a change (for the better, they hope) appreciation of their frantic desire to make a place for themselves (even though sometimes they have distorted ideas of making places for themselves); all these are essential. There is a quite understandable tendency to over-identify if one is outside the group. Within the group, however, there is a tendency to be more balanced in viewpoint. The girls themselves appreciate this without conscious realization that they do. We hear them say, "You know what I mean! Do you think I'm going overboard?" That "You know what I mean" represents a basic feeling of kinship which leads to real understanding. With one of another racial group it would be very difficult to discuss things because it is pre-supposed that the worker cannot know of these feelings and strivings.

Parental Status

The need for parents and their affection is basic to the shaping of a useful, happy life. The loss of one or both parents can lead to serious complications in the life of adolescents. Of the 51 girls, only 39.2% were so fortunate as to have both parents living in the home. These girls suffered because both parents are working in order to build an adequate home, hence supervision and often the showing of affection is lacking. 35.3% were half-orphans and 23.5% were whole orphans. Many of the half and whole orphans have been shifted from relative to relative and sometimes even to friends. Seldom were they given a feeling of really belonging to a family group. The case work relationship becomes very important to these deprived girls. The case worker, in a number of instances, really becomes the mother-person until adult independence is finally achieved. This has been much more easily accomplished when both case worker and client are Negro. It seems to be extremely difficult for a Negro girl in this generation to accept a person outside her group as a mother-person. Somehow it doesn't seem natural to her and she unconsciously sets up barriers.

Place of Residence in New York City

About 77% of the girls live in Manhattan—mainly between 125th and 145th Street. Families are moving in two directions: north and west to the Washington Heights section, and north and east to the lower Bronx. There has been movement in these two directions for some time —movement which was accelerated by the recent destruction of property in Harlem.

Educational Background

All but two of the girls had some high school training or were in high school at the time of referral. This is an area of strain and tension. Problems involved in school adjustment itself very often involve race feeling. Progress has been made during these months with both school authorities and homes. The happy relationship is shown by the referral of cases to us by the schools (7 cases) and their willingness to make adjustments which are suggested by us when such is necessary for sound planning.

And then there is the frustration of ambition when vocational choices are made. Vocational Guidance teachers attempt to steer the girls into channels already open to Negroes and have no encouragement for the one who wants to enter a new field. They do this honestly, believing they are doing the best for the girl's happiness—not understanding the drive and emotional emphasis, which Negroes have, to become integrated into all phases of American life and to acquire prestige. Had not some been able to work out their ambitions against great odds, the progress made so far would never have been known. Another area is the conflicting ambitions of parents and daughters.

Employment

As regards work, these girls form a rather dissatisfied group. In the main, they do factory work of the unskilled type or domestic service. Both types of jobs bring small pay and most are not a challenge even to the low average intelligence. Some express their dissatisfaction by going from job to job—always seeking but never finding a niche. Others, with more positive qualities attempt evening or continuation school in an effort to improve. It is in this area of vocations that most of the girls are frustrated. The variety of reactions are not always understandable to one who does not face this dilemma herself, especially if the reaction is one of belligerence or the other equally devastating extreme—docile acceptance of what comes.

Recreation

The choice of recreational life is another area of tension. It is here that an intimate knowledge of the recreational facilities of the community in which the girls live can be of inestimable value to the case worker. Guidance to the newcomer and the misdirected is necessary.

Conclusion

Let us now consider what seem to be some of the needs of the girls. These needs are essentially the same as those of any other group of girls, except that they are intensified by accident of birth in a minority group. What are these needs?

1. The girls need sustaining during a difficult period. They are at the same time a child and an adult—having feelings of ambivalence in both directions. Today they wish to leave childhood behind, yet at the same time they crave to hold on to the protection a child receives. Tomorrow they want to be considered an independent adult, yet shrink from the assumption of responsibility. One girl aptly said, "We are a mystery to ourselves."

2. These girls need someone to understand their problems and yet not over-identify with them (or vice-versa). They appreciate a person whose outlook is broad enough to comprehend their point of view and yet sufficiently adult to be strong and respected.

3. They need help not only with problems of normal adolescence but the complication of these problems by problems of race such as limited choice of vocation, selection of school courses, etc.

4. They want and need an appreciation of their yearnings and frustrations in efforts to be at once an integrated part of a nation and a member of a struggling minority of that nation. Too often these yearnings are misinterpreted to mean that the girl wants to be different in a racial sense when she really only wants equal opportunities for adjustment.

5. They want and need acceptance as a person with all their individual characteristics, not categorized as a Negro with all the prevailing "notions" about the group.

It is our feeling that a person of the group can be of greater help when problems are intensified by accident of birth in a minority group. We realize that there will be some who may not be benefitted by a relationship with a Negro worker. There should be considerable flexibility in the program to allow for these cases. We also know there will not be a one hundred per cent success in the work of a Negro case worker with a Negro client. However, this lack of success will be due for the most part much more to the personality differences which occur in any case working service.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY WEEK

October 29 to November 5, 1944

Girls' Friendly Week has just been celebrated all over the country, from New York to California, from Wisconsin to Texas. In each diocese observance of this week varied, but the basic purpose was the same—to spread the word of the G.F.S. and to give its members a renewed feeling of belonging to a large national society.

G.F.S. Week in the diocese of New York began with a festival service on Sunday afternoon, October 29, at the Church of the Incarnation, New York. The service was conducted by the rector of the church, the Rev. John A. Bell, and the sermon was given by the Rev. C. Avery Mason, S.T.D., Secretary of the FORWARD IN SERVICE MOVEMENT. The choir was composed of junior members of the G.F.S. from Christ Church, Staten Island, and from Holy Trinity, Yorkville, and two additional members of these G.F.S. branches participated in the service by reading the psalm and the lesson. The high point of the service was the giving of 36 service awards to members of the Society for ten or more hours of community or war service this Fall. Presentation of these service pins was made at the Altar by Mr. Bell, and is the first step in the establishment of a system of awards for G.F.S. members for specifiic accomplishments. The offering at this service was presented to the National G.F.S. as a gift from the members and associates of the New York G.F.S.

One of the two Council Meetings held during the year occurred on November 4, and its theme was directed toward the National G.F.S. Under the very able leadership of Miss Frances P. Arnold, program advisor for the National G.F.S., the New York G.F.S. had an opportunity to hear what was happening throughout the country in the Society, with glimpses of the work done in branches in Puerto Rico and Cuba; in Mexico and Alaska; and finally at Friendly House, the big new project at Wayne, Michigan, in which the G.F.S. is so active.

A more personal glimpse of the breadth of the Society and its membership was made possible at this meeting by the attendance of two G.F.S. members from out of the Diocese—one from Pittsburgh, Miss Doris Wilson and the other from San Francisco, Miss Mary Fukui. Miss Wilson is the only Negro girl studying at Windham House, and she is there because the G.F.S. mission project for 1944 made it possible for her to come to New York to be trained as a worker in the Church.

The final Diocesan event of the week occurred on Sunday, November 5, when a Diocesan Corporate Communion Service and Breakfast was held at St. Thomas Chapel. The celebrant at this service was the Rev. Harold E. Towne, Vicar of St. Thomas Chapel. The Sunday nearest All Saints' Day has always been an important one in the life of the G.F.S., for all over the country members and associates come together spiritually to remember G.F.S. members who have gone on. The offering at this service is turned over to the All Saints Memorial Fund of the National G.F.S. Reports from individual branches in the Diocese have not been received.

Individual branch activity within the Diocese in observance of G.F.S. Week is not yet known as we go to press. It is expected, however, that G.F.S. Week has meant renewed zeal on the part of the membership and a new interest in the Society on the part of the clergy and lay people in this significant Church organization whose purpose is "to help girls build sound bodies—alert minds—creative relationships—spiritual strength."

The Girls' Friendly Society is pleased to announce the formation of three new branches; All Angels Church, Manhattan, St. James, Fordham (for junior girls); St. Stephen's, Woodlawn. These are all branches for teen age or younger girls and are under the guidance of trained volunteer leaders.

The Society is also pleased to announce the election of the following to membership on its Board of Directors: Miss Dorothy L. Cramer, All Angels Church; Miss Doris E. M. Dymock, Church of the Epiphany, and Mrs. Fannie Pitt Gross, St. Luke's Church.

CHAPLAINCY DIRECTOR ASSUMES POST

The Rev. H. Rushton Bell has assumed his post as Director of the Chaplaincy Service of the 113-year old New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, it has been announced by the Rev. William E. Sprenger, Director of the Society.

Mr. Bell was appointed a year ago, but shortly after he undertook his duties he was obliged to take a year's leave of absence because of illness. He is now fully recovered and has taken over full responsibiiity for his department. Under his charge will be the work of 20 Chaplains of the Society in 32 city and county and state institutions within the Diocese. The Chaplains, especially trained for their work, many of them with years of background in pastoral work, bring cheer and comfort, spiritual solace and practical service to inmates of hospitals, reformatories, prisons and homes for the aged.

A former rector of St. John's Church, Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. Bell entered upon his present service with the Society in 1938 at City Hospital on Welfare Island. Following this he was assigned to the Westchester County institutions. He has been active in county community projects and a frequent speaker on the radio.

A graduate of Nashotah House, Nashotah, Wisconsin, from which he later received a B.D. degree, his first pastorate was at Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. For two years, from 1929 to 1931, before going to St. John's Church, he served in New York City with the City Mission Society as Assistant Chaplain at Seaview Hosptal and Farm Colony on Staten Island. In 1937-38 he attended the Graduate School of Applied Religion in Cincinnati.

LIBERTY SHIP NAMED FOR FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE

On August 29th last, Mrs. Archibald Romaine Mansfield sponsored the new Liberty Ship, "Archibald R. Mansfield", at South Portland, Maine. This ship, the two hundredth vessel to be completed at the New England Shipbuilding Corporation yard, was named for the Rev. Dr. Mansfield who was Superintendent of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York for thirty-eight years. He pioneered in building decent lodging houses for merchant seamen and fought vigorously to abolish the practice of shanghaiing ships' crews. The Institute, at 25 South Street, New York City, built largely through his efforts, is the largest shore home, hotel and club in the world for merchant seamen of all nationalities, ratings, races and creeds.

Among those attending the launching were Mr. R. H. Mansfield, son of Dr. Mansfield, and Treasurer of Convention, his wife and son, and the Rev. Lt. Andrew C. Long, USN, Rector, on leave of absence, of Christ Church, New Brighton, Staten Island, Mrs. A. R. Mansfield's Parish.

MISSIONARY CONTRIBUTIONS EXCEED LAST YEAR'S

The total goal for the Missionary Program of the Church for 1944 is $396,000 of which $200,000 is budgeted for the work of the National Church, $128,000 for Diocesan agencies and the balance to be appropriated for work in the Diocese if raised. As of October 31st contributions totaled $193,035 which enabled a distribution of $96,517 to the National Council and $96,518 to Diocesan agencies. This figure of $193,035 represents an increase over contributions received a year ago at this time of $35,709 and $43,693 more than in 1942.

This progressive increase in giving indicates a deeper recognition of the importance of the Church's Mission; and it offers the hope that the Church in this Diocese may soon reach its full measure of ability to support its work.

A larger budget of much needed world-wide work has been adopted by our National Church for 1945 and reports from our Diocesan agencies indicate a greater need in the Diocese also. This means that each member of our Church in this Diocese must do his part in meeting his pledge for Missions in 1945, and it is hoped that all of our parishes and missions will endeavor in the months remaining of this year to meet their full quotas.

INCREASE IN THE GOOD FRIDAY OFFERING

The response to the appeal for the Good Friday Offering for work in the Holy Land has been excellent this year. The amount of the offering in this Diocese, taken during Holy Week, and usually on Good Friday, was $2,274.97, an increase of 33% over last year's amount. There were 24 new names on the list of contributors this year, two of them being Manhattan parishes which between them added nearly $200. to the total. The great congregations at Old Trinity and St. Paul's Chapel on Good Friday gave over $800.

Those who are interested in the work of the offering will be glad to know that Archdeacon Bridgeman arrived home for a well deserved furlough the end of July. Also, now that Paris has been liberated, perhaps the funds due to the Russian Seminary there can be made available to them. Part of the offering was designated by General Convention for this work.

The Rev. W. D. F. Hughes, Rector of Grace Church, Hastings-on-Hudson, acted on behalf of the Bishop of the Diocese in soliciting gifts for this work.

MERCHANT NAVIES SERVICE
SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE'S 100 YEARS

On Sunday, November 5, before a large congregation, the heroic labors of the United Nations' Merchant Navies were commemorated in a Service of Prayer for God's Blessing upon their Officers and Men. It also marked the completion of the Observance of the 100th Anniversary of the Seamen's Church Institute. Speaking of the work of the Institute, the Bishop in his sermon said:

"As to the work of the Seamen's Church Institute, it is a work which expresses most nobly the spirit and service of the Church, and it is a work of which the City of New York may rightly be proud. Both in its extent and in its character it is the greatest work for the help of seamen, which is carried on in our own Country or anywhere in the world.

I can say without qualification that I know of no more practical, effective, and beneficent work than that of the Institute, and of no Church Agency which has given nobler service during this War. For a full hundred years the Institute has carried on its ever growing work for seamen of all races and of every sort, in recent years the scope of its work has been immensely enlarged, and during this time of World War its work has been greater than ever before, ministering as it does to the welfare of the Merchant Seamen of our own Nation and of all the United Nations, and giving them every service and every aid in its power, both bodily and spiritually. In eleven months of last year its records show that it provided more than 360,000 lodgings, its commissary served 1,200,000 meals, its auditorium entertainments had an attendance of 126,000—this in only eleven months.

Here in New York, where so many of the Merchant Ships arrive and depart, many of the seamen are far from their homes and their personal friends, these men deeply appreciate the welcome which they find in the great Building at 25 South Street, and the Seamen's Church Institute is proud to welcome them and serve them. At the Institute they find clean comfortable quarters, friendly welcome, reading and game rooms, moving pictures, dances, a well supplied library, athletics, tea parties, a job bureau, a funds bureau where a loan may be arranged, a school for those who want to fit themselves for higher branches of the service, and back of it all, giving inspiration to it all, a Chapel with the services of the Church, and with its doors wide open to those of all Faiths. In these War years the Institute has been host and friend to more than a hundred crews of ships sunk by enemy torpedoes and bombs. The Director of the Institute, the Reverend Dr. Kelley, tells me that on any day at the Institute there are many men who have been torpedoed three or more times, all of them eager to return to service. During their long absences they can store their belongings at the Institute. It is their Club.

No words can express what this work means to seamen, and to their families all over the world. Eighty percent of those who enjoy the hospitality of the Institute are American boys who are in our Merchant Service but the seamen of all the United Nations are equally cared for and are equally welcomed. Seamen of every sort, and all who realize what the seamen are doing for us in this War, have reason to bless the Seamen's Church Institute.

But we are here not only to pay tribute to the work of the Seamen's Church Institute, we are here also to pay our tribute of honor and of grateful appreciation to the officers and men of the Merchant Navies of our own Country, of Great Britain, and of all our Allies, who have given such magnificent service and who day by day risk their lives in the vital work of transportation and supply. Even our Armed Forces are not more essential to Victory than the courageous crews who man our Merchant Ships and those of our Allies.

The authorities in every branch of Military Service agree that in the importance of their service, and in their willingness to face danger and death, there is no difference between the men who serve in a combat unit and the men who serve in the Merchant Ships. The Merchant Navies in this War are the very life-line of the Combat Forces.

The problems and difficulties of the Merchant Service, and the enormous scope of its work, stagger the imagination—the problems and difficulties of transporting an unending stream of men, munitions, and supplies thousands of miles, over all the seas and oceans, to all the Fighting Fronts, and of keeping these Fronts supplied in spite of submarines, mines, airplanes, and every form of attack. This is the work of the men of the Merchant Navies, and if these supplies were not transported and delivered the men at the Fighting Fronts would be helpless.

It is a notable, a significant, and a most honorable fact that since the date of Pearl Harbour there has been no strike in the Maritime Industry, and no delay in the sailing of a vessel as the result of a labour dispute or of a lack of men to man the ship. Amazing examples of daring and fortitude at sea are recorded of the men of the Merchant Service, and these are matched by hundreds of similar examples which go unrecorded because they are seen only by the sea-gulls and the waves, and are witnessed by no human eye.

We know that you men of the Merchant Ships do not ask for any special acclaim for your service and sacrifice in this War, but we want you to know that you have the grateful appreciation of our whole People, and that we want to do everything in our power to aid and uphold you in your service for your Country, for Human Freedom, and for God. We want you to know that we offer up our prayers for you, and that we remember before God your comrades, and they are very many, who have given their lives in the Merchant Service. This we know you will welcome because there are no men who, as a class, have a more real religious instinct and feeling than "they who go down to the sea in ships". The sailor may perhaps be of rough, or even tough, exterior but he is essentially and at heart a religious man. The sailor is not one of those whom the Bible describes as the fools who say in their heart "there is no God". The sailor knows better, for he sees "the works of the Lord and His wonders in the deep". The typical qualities of the sailor are Honesty, Courage, Loyalty, and Faith in God. And those are the qualities for which Religion stands, and which the Christian Religion gives us in full measure if we truly believe it and follow it.

It was an Admiral in the time of Queen Elizabeth, in the 16th century, who wrote these words — "If we can thoroughly believe that this which we do is in defense of our Religion and Country, no doubt but our merciful God, for our Christ His Saviour's sake, is able and will give us the victory." That was the spirit of the sailor in the 16th century, and that is the spirit of the sailor today. Whether he fully realizes it or not that is the spirit in which the sailor does his part. In that spirit and in that faith may all of us carry on until full Victory is won, until Aggression and Tyranny and Cruelty are completely overthrown, and the ships on every ocean shall be engaged in just and lawful commerce for the good of all men everywhere".

In the procession of one thousand persons were members of the Board of Managers of the Seamen's Church Institute, and details of merchant seamen cadets from the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, from the Maritime Training Stations at Sheepshead Bay, Hoffman Island, the Maritime Service Graduate Station, twenty-four decorated cadets, thirty-two sailors with colors from the Norwegian Navy, twelve chaplains, Vice Admiral Thomas T. Craven, U.S.N. (Ret.), Superintendent of the New York State Maritime Academy, Rear Admiral L. C. Farwell, U.S.C.G. (Ret.), and others.

Among the consular representatives present were: Francis E. Evans, British Consul General; F. B. A. Rundall, British Consul; Major Robert H. Tait, Newfoundland Government Representative; R. Webster, Acting Consul General of the Union of South Africa; Karel Hudec, Consul General of Czechoslovakia; B. C. Butler, Canadian Consul; Major H. H. Bonilla, Vice Consul of Costa Rica; E. C. Husband, Australian Official Representative; Georg Bech, Consul General of Denmark; and Count J. Kazimierz Krasicki, Consul of Poland.

NEW CHAPLAIN GENERAL, SISTERHOOD OF ST. MARY

On Sunday, October 22, at 4 p.m., the Bishop visited St. Mary's Convent at Peekskill to officiate at the Installation of the Rev. Dr. Edward H. Schlueter, who is Vicar of St. Luke's Chapel, Trinity Parish, as Chaplain General of the Sisterhood.

DEATH OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

The Bishop's Statement to the Associated Press

"The news of the death of the Archbishop of Canterbury will be received with profound sorrow and with a great sense of loss by the clergy and people of the Anglican Communion throughout the world.

To me the loss is that of a greatly valued friend through many years. Archbishop Temple's unwavering faith, his sincerity and his great gifts had given him a place of leadership in the whole of Christendom and his fearless utterances on the War Issues have been an immense moral influence for Right and Justice. His death is an immeasurable loss, especially at this time.

WILLIAM T. MANNING

Bishop of New York"

OPEN DOORS TO OUR CHURCHES

The Bishop asks us to print the following letter which he has received from a layman and which he commends to the attention of the clergy:

"My dear Bishop:

While it is true that Episcopal Churches in New York City are open daily for private meditation and prayer, yet many people are unaware of it, due to the fact that it is necessary to approach the church and try the doors to find out if it is open. Several times I have observed people standing on the sidewalk in front of churches looking toward the entrance, and am certain that it was their desire to enter, but would not make any attempt to see if the doors were actually open.

Would it not be a good plan to have the doors of our churches swung open, so that those passing could see the Altar of God, sufficiently illuminated? The widely opened doors would then be accepted by the public as an invitation to enter and offer up their prayers to our Heavenly Father. These are trying days for all of us, and much comfort and strength can be given us by kneeling in prayer and meditating before the Altar of God in His Holy House.

This suggestion would also be very helpful in our churches having Victory Shrines."

SILENT CHURCH BELL CAUSES CONFUSION

When a cable broke recently in the 106-year old clock in the tower of St. Peter's Church, West 20th Street, many of the neighbors telephoned to, or called upon, the Rev. A. D. Beaty, the Rector, asking what was wrong, and saying that they depended upon the bell to regulate their daily activities. A subscription for repairs has been taken up in the neighborhood, and soon the clock will do its duty as always.

THOMAS MEATYARD

Verger of the Cathedral, died on July 25, aged eighty-two, after a brief illness in St. Luke's Hospital.

Born in the Parish of Bow, London, England, Mr. Meatyard became junior Verger of the Cathedral in 1904 and was promoted to senior Verger in 1916. During his forty years with the Cathedral he met and guided hundreds of thousands of persons through the mighty edifice. Mr. Meatyard was known to many Archbishops, Bishops and statesmen who visited the Cathedral.

A funeral service was held at 11 A.M. on Saturday, July 29, in St. James' Chapel of the Cathedral. The Rev. Canon Edward N. West, Sacrist of the Cathedral, presided as representative of Bishop Manning, and other clergy of the Cathedral participated in the Service. Men of the Cathedral Choir furnished the music.

The Bishop issued a tribute in which he said:

"Mr. Meatyard's faithful and devoted service as Verger of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine will long be remembered. He served during the administrations of four Bishops and four Deans of the Cathedral. He will be greatly missed by the members of the Chapter and by all who are connected with the Cathedral, and to me as Bishop his death is the loss of a most faithful fellow-worker and friend."

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Helen Holbeck Meatyard, and a daughter, Florence.

THE REVEREND DOCTOR SMITH DE LANCEY TOWNSEND

Rector Emeritus of All Angels' Church, New York, died on September 17 in his eighty-fifth year. Born in North Attleboro, Mass., he was educated at Hobart College and the General Theological Seminary and held several honorary doctorates. He was ordained deacon in 1883 and priest in 1884. After serving parishes in Decatur, Ill., and Whitewater, Wis., he went to All Angels' in 1887, becoming Rector in 1897, and served as such until he retired in 1928 as Rector Emeritus. The funeral service in All Angels' Church, Tuesday, September 21, was conducted by the present Rector, the Rev. Ralph S. Meadowcroft, assisted by a former Rector, the Rev. George A. Trowbridge, now Rector of St. Paul's, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

DEACONESS ROMOLA DAHLGREN

Formerly one of the Head Deaconesses of the New York Training School for Deaconesses and Other Church Workers., died in Newport, R. I., on October 9. Born in Rome, Italy, where her father, Paul Dahlgren, was in diplomatic service and son of Admiral Dahlgren of Civil War fame, she was privately educated in this country and abroad. She entered the Deaconess Training School in 1911, graduated in 1913, and was set apart as a Deaconess in 1914. Her first work was in the rural missions of Rhode Island, and in 1919 she and Deaconess Jane B. Gillespy became Head Deaconesses of the School, and remained as such until 1939, when both Deaconesses retired. During all these twenty years she held many positions of importance in the deaconess order. The funeral was held in St. Mary's Church, South Portsmouth, R. I., on Friday, October 13, with burial in the Churchyard there. A Service in her memory with an Address by the Bishop, was held in St. Faith's House on Friday evening, November 10.

CONVOCATION MEETINGS STRESS "FORWARD-IN--SERVICE

Under the Chairmanship of the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Bishop Suffragan, and the Rev. Hugh McCandless, Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, as Vice-Chairman, the Diocesan Committee on Forward-in-Service participated in the six Convocation meetings held throughout the Diocese in October and November.

A very successful and well attended meeting and dinner was held at the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, on October 10th.

Stimulating addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. C. Avery Mason of the National Council, and the Rev. Mr. McCandless and by the Rev. Dr. Frank D. Gifford, Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, the Convocation's representative on the Diocesan Committee. The Rev. James Harry Price, Rector of the Church of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, gave an interesting report of the weekly radio program maintained for the past year or more over Station WFAS in White Plains, under the auspices of the Convocation's Committee on Forward-in-Service.

On October 15th about 100 clergy and laymen from the 25 parishes and missions of the Hudson Convocation met at the Wallkill Medium Security Prison at Wallkill, New York. Here the Warden and other prison officials took the guests on an extended tour of the prison and explained the principal features of the work. After the tour the visitors were the guests of the prison at supper and then adjourned to the auditorium where the business of the meeting was transacted. Reports of the various chairmen of Religious Education, Social Service, Program of the Church and Forward-in-Service were presented, and Mr. Theodor Oxholm, Secretary of the Diocesan Committee on The Program of the Church, gave a talk on the Church's Mission and showed the new missionary film, "We, Too, Receive". The laymen at this meeting were mostly non-members of Vestries or Advisory Boards. After the showing of the film, the meeting was addressed by the Rev. W. Osborne Budd, Chaplain of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, stationed at the prison. Chaplain Budd told of his work among several hundred prisoners and then led the party to the upper floor of one of the prison buildings to the new St. Peter's Chapel. Here, after a service of Evening Prayer, the meeting adjourned.

On October 18th the Convocation of Richmond met at St. John's Church, Rosebank, Staten Island. The meeting was preceded by a service of Evening Prayer in the Church with about 250 men and women from the 15 parishes and missions present. Vested choirs, totaling about 70 voices from several of the parishes and missions, led the procession. The Rector, the Rev. Alexander A. Frier, conducted the service, assisted by the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. Raymond G. Rogers, Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton. The Rev. Hugh McCandless, Vice-Chairman of the Diocesan Committee on Forward-in-Service, delivered the sermon. After the service the congregation adjourned to the parish house where brief reports were made. Bishop Gilbert then addressed the meeting and Mr. Oxholm introduced the film, "We, Too, Receive". Refreshments were provided by the ladies of the parish.

The Convocation of Ramapo met at a service of Evening Prayer in the Church of St. John the Divine, Tomkins Cove, on October 22nd. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. Walter W. Reid, assisted by the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. Ernest W. Churchill, Rector of Grace Church, Nyack. About 100 clergy and laymen attended. After the service four discussion groups were formed: Forward-in-Service under the Rev. Hugh McCandless of Christ Church, Suffern; The Program of the Church, under the Rev. George W. Dumbell of St. David's, Highland Mills, and St. John's, Arden; Social Service, under the Rev. Paul F. Williams of St. Stephen's, Pearl River and All Saints', Valley Cottage; and Religious Education, under the Rev. Oliver D. Carberry of Christ Church, Warwick. After about one-half hour of discussion, the groups gathered again in the Church and the various chairmen reported on the discussions which had taken place in each group. The meeting then was addressed by Bishop Gilbert and adjourned to the parish house where the film, "We, Too, Receive", was shown and refreshments served.

The Convocation of Dutchess met in St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie, on October 26th. Bishop Gilbert presided at the business meeting. Mrs. John R. Gardner spoke of the Woman's Auxiliary study of "The American Indian" and urged all present to encourage the use of available material on this subject as suggested by Forward-in-Service.

The Rev. Hugh McCandless gave a short address on the Forward-in-Service program for the year, particularly stressing the Parish Planning Conference which has been so successful in many places.

Then followed a service of Evening Prayer conducted by Bishop Gilbert and the Rev. R. Maxwell Bradner, and including an address by the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. H. Ross Greer.

Supper was served to about 40 people by the ladies of the Church. The guest of honor at supper was the Rt. Rev. William Payne Roberts, Missionary Bishop of Shanghai, who told of the Church's Work in Occupied China. Following this talk, the Rev. J. Benjamin Myers, Convocation Chairman of The Program of the Church, gave a brief but stirring talk on our responsibility towards the Church's Mission. He reviewed the literature which is available for use in the Every Member Canvass, but stressed the point that the most vital thing needed to encourage our people to contribute to The Program of the Church was the inspiration of the clergy. Fr. Myers then showed the film, "We, Too, Receive", which was enthusiastically received.

The meeting closed with a few remarks by Bishop Gilbert at 8:15 P.M.

The Convocation of the Bronx met in the parish hall of the Church of the Holy Nativity, of which the Rev. Lawrence B. Larsen is Rector, at eight o'clock on Thursday evening, November 9th.

Bishop Gilbert presided at the short business session. The film, "We, Too, Receive", was shown, after which the Rev. Hugh McCandless. Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, gave a very inspirational talk on the parish planning phase of the Forward-in-Service program. He pointed out that St. Stephen's, Woodlawn, had held a parish planning conference which had been used as a model for other parishes throughout the country.

Mr. George E. Heerwagen, a member of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, gave an interesting talk on the work of the laymen in the Bronx who have organized themselves to correlate all of the work of the laymen in the different parishes and missions.

The Rev. Hugh H. Henry of St. Luke's, Williamsbridge, reported on the reorganization of the Diocesan Social Service Commission on which he represents the Bronx.

A resolution was offered mentioning the illness of the Dean of the Convocation, the Rev. Edward Tower Theopold of Trinity Church, Morrisania, and St. Simeon's, Melrose, and the Secretary, the Rev. Fessenden A. Nichols of St. James' Church, Fordham, was instructed to transmit the good wishes of the meeting to Mr. Theopold.

The meeting then adjourned to the Church where a service of Evening Prayer was held.

CONSECRATIONS

CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY

The Church of the Epiphany, New York, of which the new Dean of the Cathedral at Washington, the Very Rev. Dr. John Wallace Suter, was rector from 1933 until his election to his new post, was Consecrated by the Bishop on Sunday, October 29, at 11 A.M. The Church of the Epiphany was formerly located at Lexington Avenue and 35th Street, and it was under Dean Suter's leadership that the new Church was built at York Avenue and 74th Street, and its Consecration marks the final payment of all debt on the new building.

ST. MARTIN'S CHURCH

St. Martin's Church, Lenox Avenue and 122nd Street, of which the Rev. Dr. John H. Johnson is Rector, recently paid off all its indebtedness, and was Consecrated by the Bishop on St. Martin's day, November 11, at 10:30 A.M. St. Martin's occupies what was formerly Holy Trinity Church until the latter was burned out and removed to the Dyckman section.

The building was then entirely rebuilt for the new St. Martin's Congregation. Under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. Johnson, a large and strong parish has been developed, only to have another disastrous fire. Now entirely restored, its Consecration marks another mile-stone in its history.

MESSAGE TO FRANCE ON ALL SAINTS' DAY

At the request of the Office of War Information Bishop Manning wrote the following Message which was sent to France by the O.W.I. on All Saints' Day:

"As a Bishop of the Christian Church in America, I feel it a privilege to send my greetings to the people of France on this great festival of All Saints'.

All Saints' Day reminds us of the faithfulness and courage shown by the Saints, the true and loyal servants of God, in all ages and in all nations. And so, today, I send my greetings and my tribute of honour to the men and women of France who in these years of unspeakable trial and suffering have stood true and loyal to France and to Right and Freedom.

We in America give thanks with our whole hearts that France is now free and able to play her great part among the freedom loving Nations. On this All Saints' Day we salute the true and loyal leaders of France and especially her noble and never-wavering son General Charles De-Gaulle.

We salute the men and women of France whose spirit the powers of evil, cruelty, and terror could not crush or overcome.

And we remember before God all those sons and daughters of France who in these tragic years laid down their lives for their Country, for Justice and Human Liberty, and for their fellow-men.

We join the people of France in paying honour to their memory and in praise to God for their faith, their heroism, and their devotion. May light perpetual shine upon them!

WILLIAM T. MANNING
Bishop of New York"

BISHOP MANNING DEDICATES PRISON CHAPEL CONSTRUCTED FROM CELL BLOCK ATTIC

A new St. Peter's Chapel at Wallkill Medium Security State Prison for Men, Wallkill, N.Y., constructed from an attic over a cell block, with wood carving and all other labor done by inmates, was dedicated by Bishop William T. Manning in a ceremony at the institution on Thursday afternoon, November 9th, at 4:00 o'clock.

State officials, members of the Episcopal clergy and prominent laymen attended the dedication, together with representatives of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, under the auspices of which the chapel has been constructed, and under the supervision of which it will be used. Bishop Manning is the Society's president. Its director, the Rev. William E. Sprenger, also gave an address at the dedication.

Regular services are held in the chapel for the Protestant inmates of the prison, who constitute about one-half of the body of selected men from maximum security institutions sent to Wallkill for opportunity to equip themselves through its constructive rehabilitation program for community life and self-support after release. The Rev. W. Osborne Budd is the full-time Protestant chaplain.

Begun a Year Ago

Taking the place of a very small and temporary Protestant chapel formerly situated in a balcony overlooking the mess hall, the new St. Peter's chapel was begun about a year ago. Through the cooperation of Warden Walter M. Wallack and with the approval of State Commissioner of Correction John A. Lyons, the one remaining unoccupied attic over a cell block was made available to the Episcopal City Mission Society. No state funds were used, but gifts from clergy and laymen, and from members of the prison staff made possible the purchase of necessary supplies. Reuben F. Bowden, an architect, contributed plans accepted by the New York State Department of Architecture with only minor changes, and this department cooperated throughout the project.

All labor of construction, including the making and laying of cement blocks for the walls, the wood carving, the fashioning of the lighting fixtures and their installation, the staining and finishing, the intricate carving and assembly of the reredos, and all other work was done by the inmates of the institution assigned to the construction as part of their regular work. Most of the furnishings were donated.

Prisoners Prepared For Release

The Wallkill State Prison for Men, erected in 1932, as a medium security institution, consists of four cell blocks and an administrative department, built in Tudor Style and set on a hill overlooking the valley of the Walkill River and the mountains.

Its program of rehabilitation is famous throughout the United States. The majority of the inmates work in the open on the prison farm which is noted for its blooded stock and scientific methods of cultivation; or in the creamery, the machine shop or the cannery. Each man, upon entrance, selects some trade or special line of study to equip him for self-support and for acceptable participation in community life after release.

State Commissioner of Correction, John A. Lyons, has made the following statement on the completion of the chapel:

"The more I see of the human reclamation problem, the more I am convinced that true reformation of the criminal cannot be achieved without moral conversion. There can be no question as to the efficacy of the spiritual approach of the Chaplain to the inmate whose first reaction to prison life is one of bitterness and the feeling that he has been abandoned by God and man.

"I personally know how assiduously Warden Wallack has worked to effect a close and constructive relationship with the Chaplains of his institution in order to develop a sound religious program. The relatively few parolees who are returned as parole violators or convicted of new crimes are a significant commentary as to what the Walkill program is accomplishing."

Dr. Wallack, the warden, said:

"As Warden, I have no patience with any plan or scheme for the rehabilitation of men, that does not properly take their spiritual rehabilitation into account. In His life and teaching, our Lord has given mankind a pattern for perfect living. The men at Wallkill appreciate this chapel. Here, they may strengthen their desire for the good life and upon their knees they come into the presence of God.

"We are grateful for the contribution of Chaplain Budd toward meeting our need and for the effective support we have received from Mr. Sprenger and the Episcopal City Mission Society. I wish also to express our appreciation to Bishop Manning, to the employees of Wallkill, to the inmates of the institution, the supervisors of construction and the members of the State Deparment of Architecture, whose untiring efforts and interest have given us this beautiful House of Worship."

The chaplaincy service provided at Wallkill by the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society is part of an extensive work carried on by its 20 chaplains. Especially trained for their work, many of them with years of background in pastoral posts, the chaplains bring cheer and comfort, spiritual solace and practical service to inmates of 33 city, county and state hospitals, reformatories, prisons and homes for the aged. The 113-year old Society, a multiple-service organization, has headquarters at 38 Bleecker Street.

DIOCESE CONDUCTS IMPORTANT WORK IN BEAR MOUNTAIN PARK

The Diocese has reason to be proud of the work that is done during the Summer months in the various camps in Bear Mountain Park. This past season, under the auspices of the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, regular Sunday services were maintained at the various centers; frequent week-day visits were made, and, as opportunity offered, the Holy Communion was provided for the members of our own Church.

The Rev. Walter F. Hoffman of St. Luke's Church, Haverstraw, had charge of the services on Lake Cohasset, Lake Stahahi and Lake Tiorati in addition to the services he maintains throughout the year at St. John's-in-the-Wilderness. He reports an aggregate attendance of over 3,500 campers and their parents. In the Chapel on Lake Kanawauke the Rev. George W. Dumbell, Rector of St. David's Church, Highland Mills, conducted services every Sunday during July and August with an average attendance of over 250. Services were also provided each Sunday for the camps on Twin Lakes by the Rev. Hugh McCandless, Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, with an average attendance of 110. The authorities of the Inter-State Park Commission, this season as in previous years, have been most cooperative and express deep appreciation of the work which the Church has done for the summer campers.

In a remoter part of the Diocese the Rev. Archibald S. Winslow of St. John's Church. Monticello, provided frequent services for Church boys in the Ten Mile River Boy Scout camps which were much appreciated.

RESS MEMORIAL TABLET

A bronze memorial tablet to John Richard Ress, Jr., who lost his life in the torpedoing of the U.S.S. Reuben James, October 31, 1941, was dedicated by the Rev. Richard A. D. Beaty, Rector, at St. Peter's Church, 344 West 20th Street, at the 11 A.M. service on Sunday, November 5. The tablet, the gift of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ress, Sr., was placed at the memorial flag staff to their son which stands in the Church garden. The 30-foot staff is made from a spar of an old sailing-vessel. Young Ress, born July 24, 1923, died October 31, 1941, was the first communicant in the Diocese of New York to lose his life in World War II as the result of hostile attack.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT TRINITY CHURCH

The British Harvest Festival held its twenty-third annual observance at Trinity Church, Sunday, October 22, at 3:30 P.M., with many British Societies cooperating. The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, extended greetings, and the sermon was preached by Chaplain Kenneth Boulton-Jones, Royal Navy Volunteer Reserve.

THE PHILIPPINE MISSION IN WARTIME

General MacArthur's recent invasion of the Philippines serves to focus our attention on our missionaries who have remained there through these last years of Japanese occupation.

After eighteen months had gone by with no news from the Philippines mission staff, letters and other first-hand reports came on the Gripsholm, the repatriation ship, in December, 1943.

None of the Episcopal Church's missionaries was on the ship but many had been able to send word home, to the profound joy and relief of their families and friends.

In Manila Bishop and Mrs. Norman S. Binsted are living in part of their own house; the Cathedral has had services every day and is said to be "the only normal and peaceful spot on the Islands." Most of the women and children are living in one or two mission residences. St. Luke's Hospital is running under Japanese management.

Up in the Mountain Province, Bishop Robert F. Wilner and the other missionaries are interned at Baguio and write most cheerfully of their numerous duties in running the camp, teaching in the camp school and carrying on as active and normal a life as can be managed under such abnormal conditions. "Your entire group have played a most important part in camp life," reports a business man who returned from Baguio. No churches have been reported destroyed or damaged. The Sagada Hospital is said to be running, though whether under Japanese or Filipino management is not stated.

From the southern islands no direct word has come about work in Zamboanga and Upi but the missionaries are said to be safe and well, interned at Davao.

Of the regular American staff there are now in the Philippines: 16 clergy, 1 layman, 14 women workers, and 14 wives. (Two laymen and their wives and two clergy are on furlough.) In the Philippines are also 8 from Japan: 1 priest and his wife, and 6 other women; and 11 from China: 1 layman and his wife, and 9 other women. Sixty-four Americans in all, and a number of children.

The native staff, Filipinos, Igorots, Chinese, and others, including five clergy, many nurses, day school teachers, and Church school teachers, totals more than 300, besides a great number of faithful servants, indoor and outdoor, some of whom have given all their working life to the Mission.

The missions in the Mountain Province of Northern Luzon form the largest group of missions the Episcopal Church has anywhere in one missionary district, with more than 7,000 communicants and another 7,000 baptized persons, Igorots and members of other primitive tribes to be shepherded and trained by a handful of clergy and lay workers without benefit of all the printed matter and other helpful paraphernalia of more literate places. The older mission stations may be reached by roads, but only after arduous journeys on foot over steep trails can one see all the forty or fifty outstations. Equipment is often pitifully inadequate; in many places where missions have been started in response to urgent requests from the people, the church is only a thatch-roofed, mud-floored hut.

Yet even these simple efforts produce striking results. The whole outlook is changed. A government official of the province has said that only the Church can bring enduring peace to the land. Certainly only the Church can set the people free from their age-old slavery to the fears and terrors of their primitive religion, to say nothing of some of their highly unsanitary social regulations growing out of that religion.

In Manila, the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. John always has been in close touch with officers and men of the Army and Navy, and with countless other people who come and go in this great seaport visited by the merchant ships of all the world. Two Chinese missions also are in Manila, and St. Luke's Church and Hospital.

Far to the South on the sea coast is Zamboanga, ancient seaport for Malay traders, on the Island of Mindanao, with palm trees framing vistas of the Sulu Sea on one side and the Celebes Sea on the other. The people here are mostly Moros (Moslems); they are the outer fringe of Asia's great world of Islam. Across a wide bay from Zamboanga is still another center of work, St. Francis Mission to the Tiruray and other tribesmen at Upi and in the surrounding country.

With all this going on, there are still large areas untouched. Many villages in the mountains have been begging earnestly for Church and school to come to them and have been refused because the staff was not numerous enough to take on any more work.

No field has shown a more eager response or richer returns for the help given to it. Thinking back over the events and the persons of the past brief fifty years in the Philippines, it is hard to realize from what small beginnings the work has grown. In the late 1890's, as in 1942, American soldiers were fighting in the Islands, and a few chaplains were working among them. The British and Foreign Bible Society had agents there, striving to spread the use of the Bible among the native people, unaccustomed to handling it.

With the ceding of the Islands to the United States, great numbers of Americans took up residence there, which led the General Convention of 1901, in San Francisco, to elect a bishop for that field, Charles Henry Brent, a Boston clergyman, not quite forty. He started pioneer work, caring for Americans in and around Manila, cooperating every way he could with the government. The mountain country was found to have thousands of tribesmen, untouched by the Roman Church, so missions were soon started among them. One of the earliest clergy sent to them by Bishop Brent was a former Bible Society agent who came to Manila in March, 1900, and is still on the active mission staff, priest in charge of the work at Baguio, George C. Bartter.

Bishop Brent accepted election as Bishop of Western New York in 1918. At that time there were 15 clergy, 22 stations, and 1,380 communicants in the Philippines Mission.

The Rt. Rev. Gouverneur Frank Mosher, coming from twenty years' work in China, became second Bishop of the Philippines and for twenty years strengthened and extended the work.

The second decade of his episcopate laid upon him, as upon many missionary bishops, the heavy financial burden of the depression, all the harder to bear since the work was growing and golden opportunities were opening to him on all sides. Aided, from 1938 on, by a suffragan bishop, Robert F. Wilner, Bishop Mosher continued until ill health compelled his retirement in 1940; he died in 1941. He left a staff of 28 clergy, 60 missions, 8,959 communicants.

Norman H. Binsted, resigning as Bishop of the Tohoku when Americans withdrew from Japan took charge in the Philippines, and at the House of Bishops' meeting in February, 1942, was elected bishop of that field, although by that time communications had been suspended and it was not known for months whether word of his election had reached him.

Japanese occupation of the Islands is but the latest step in a long history.

Hindu travelers and traders went there from Java and the Malay peninsula early in the Christian era, leaving Sanskrit words and letters in the island dialects. Authentic stories report the visits of Chinese traders in the 10th and 13th centuries.

Magellan, the Portuguese, in 1521, first made the Islands known to Europeans and named them for St. Lazarus. In 1542 they were named for King Philip II of Spain.

Four Spanish expeditions extended the conquest, and before 1600 Spain ruled all except the southern islands, where the Malay Mohammedans were intrenched. Spain had fought Moslems for seven centuries in Europe. To them Moslems, anywhere meant Moors, or Moros, by which name the people in the southern islands are still known. They kept up trouble for Spain until 1850.

Portugese, English, and Dutch expeditions disputed the Spanish possession for some years but in the end it was the Filipinos themselves who threw it off, declaring their independence on June 12, 1898, but surrendering it in turn to the United States forces in 1901. The American chapter of the story, to date, has been told many times, as an almost unique attempt, nearing completion after less than fifty years, to create a nation.

CHURCH SCHOOLS TO MAKE ADVENT OFFERING

For the 40th successive year, the Church Schools of the Diocese are preparing to participate in the annual Advent Offering for the benefit of our City Mission Society in its yearly care of nearly 3,000 children.

Last year 101 Church Schools sent for the offering a total of $3,846.81, an increase of nearly $1,000. over the 1942 amount. Of the Schools participating, 15 had never before taken part in the Offering or had not done so for some years.

In 1904, when the annual Advent Offering was first approved by the Diocesan Convention, it came from only 34 Schools. Each year since then has seen a steady increase in interest and desire to cooperate with the Society.

This year, the City Mission Society, while issuing the same Mite Boxes as always, has planned new features to make the collection of the Offering more interesting to the children and easier for the Rector and the Church School Superintendent. Its new folder tells in cartoon form the story of the Spirit of Giving as she takes a small boy and girl over the city in her celestial airplane to show them children who need City Mission's help. An accompanying playlet outlines a simple "acting out" of the story in the folder. The script may be obtained from the Society free, upon request. With parts for a cast of nine, it has extremely easy lines and is very simple to produce, requiring only about ten minutes for presentation.

The folder also bears the following message from Bishop Manning to the children:

Dear Boys and Girls:

Won't you fill your Advent Mite Boxes as full as you can this year so that our Episcopal City Mission Society can help hundreds of other children less fortunate than you?

A full Mite Box is a way of expressing your gratitude for the coming of the Christ Child.

Affectionately, your Bishop,

WILLIAM T. MANNING

As our Church Schools know, funds given through the annual Advent Offering make it possible for the City Mission Society to serve children in many ways. During each year, St. Barnabas House at 304 Mulberry Street shelters small boys and girls temporarily homeless; 549 of them last year. At Schermerhorn Convalescent Home in Milford, Connecticut, 396 boys and girls were restored to health during the year. Nearly 900 needy boys and girls were sent to camp this past Summer. At this Christmas Season, many children also, through the Advent Offering, will be provided with clothing and Christmas toys.

The Warden, the Rev. Dr. Charles N. Shepard, continues in that position, assisted by a corps of competent instructors. Deaconess Ruth Johnson is the Head Deaconess.

Courses are offered to prepare women for parish work, social service, and religious education, as well as training those who look forward to becoming deaconesses.

ALTARS RE-DEDICATED

St. Ambrose' Church, 9 West 130th Street, of which the Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant is Rector, received as a gift from Trinity Parish, the Altar formerly in Trinity Chapel, West 25th Street. The Bishop re-dedicated the Altar on Sunday, October 8, at 11 A.M., together with a new marble Chancel, stone Pulpit and other additions. The Bishop also preached the sermon.

On the same day at 8 P.M. the Bishop visited St. John's Church, Waverly Place, of which the Rev. Charles Howard Graf is Rector, to re-dedicate there the Altar and Reredos formerly in St. Chrysostom's Chapel of Trinity Parish which was located at Seventh Avenue and 39th Street. The Altar and Reredos, likewise a gift from Trinity Parish, are a memorial to the late Rev. Thomas Henry Sill, for forty-five years Vicar of St. Chrysostom's. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish.

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING

The Hon. Albert Goldman, New York's Postmaster, requests that all Christmas cards and parcels should be mailed early. Over 40,000 postal employees have entered the Armed Services. Transportation lines are overburdened with war traffic. Use Postal Delivery Zone number in all addresses. Parcels may be marked: "Do not open until Christmas."

1945 MISSIONARY BUDGET

The National Council has adopted a missionary budget for 1945 in the amount of $2,677,132, the figure approved by General Convention for that year. Dr. Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer, explained that from the United Thank Offering, income from trust funds, and other sources, the Council can depend upon $732,730, leaving $1,944,402 to be raised by the Church. "Unless," Dr. Franklin said, "all quotas are met in full some of the work provided for in this budget must be abandoned or reduced. The magnitude of the task is shown by the fact that the quotas for 1945 are $186,343 more than the pledges for 1944."

THIRTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF THE CHINESE REPUBLIC

The friends of China gathered to the number of twenty-five hundred on Sunday, October 15, at 4 p.m. to give Thanks to God on the Thirty-third Anniversary of the Founding of the Chinese Republic and to offer prayers for the Chinese people in their great trials.

American criticism of alleged "imperfections" in China's Government and lack of unity in her forces was declared "harmful to the cause for which we are fighting" by the Bishop in his sermon. "Such criticism at this time is not helpful to China. What China now needs from us is not criticism, or meddling in her internal affairs, but understanding sympathy and sorely needed material and military supplies. Whatever the reason, it is the bitter truth that only a pitifully small amount of aid has been furnished China by the United States and the British Commonwealth of Nations." He emphasized the "absolute necessity" of united action by the four great powers toward world peace.

During the Service, Dr. Tsune-chi Yu, Chinese Consul General, read a message from Dr. Wei Tao-ming, the Ambassador.

Dr. H. H. Kung, Vice President of the Executive Yuan and Minister of Finance of the National Government of China, who is in this country, wrote and thanked the Bishop, saying:

"Dear Bishop Manning:

Consul General Tsune-chi Yu has told me about the impressive service conducted by you at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine on Sunday afternoon, October 15, in commemoration of the founding of the Chinese Republic. I write to extend to you my sincere appreciations for arranging the ceremony, and hearty congratulations on the remarkable sermon you delivered on this timely occasion. May the words of truth and wisdom contained in your message be echoed and re-echoed in this great land and the traditional understanding between our two peoples be increased as days go by.

Yours sincerely,

H. H. Kung"

WINDOW IN MEMORY OF BISHOP LLOYD

On Sunday morning, September 17, in St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, the Bishop of the Diocese dedicated a window in memory of the late Bishop Arthur Selden Lloyd, who before becoming a Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of New York, was for one year Rector of that Parish, and where his spirit and influence are still strongly felt. In his address, Bishop Manning spoke of the way in which Bishop Lloyd was personally beloved and honored by all who knew him, and also by the whole Diocese and by the National Church. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Churchill J. Gibson, son-in-law of Bishop Lloyd. The Rector officiated at Morning Prayer.

ENGLISH CLERGY NOT PAID FROM TAXES

There is a popular misunderstanding that the clergy of the Church of England are paid from money raised by taxation. Such is not the case. Even in England people are to be found who believe that Church of England clergymen are paid by the State. A statement to correct that misundersanding, issued by the Church Assembly, has reached Episcopal Church headquarters in New York. "None of the clergy or bishops of the Church of England is paid by the State," the statement declares. "Don't believe careless talk. Search of the estimates of national expenditure, which the Treasury submits each year to Parliament, shows no entry for pay of archbishops, bishops, parsons or curates. There is, however, one of £1,160,000 for the salaries of chaplains to the Fighting Services and in prisons, but these chaplains include Roman Catholic priests and Nonconformist ministers."

The bishops and clergy of the Church of England are supported, the statement points out, "from the proceeds of old endowments or of tithes, which are ancient gifts for religious purposes. These are not State payments. They are as much private property as other charitable trusts or as ordinary rent.

"The mistake probably arises through a misunderstanding of what the Establishment of the Church means. People suppose vaguely that it must mean that the clergy are State-paid. It means nothing of the kind. The Establishment means many things, but principally it means this: Britain is a Christian State; the King must be a Churchman and is consecrated to his office in Westminister Abbey; Parliament and the High Court of Justice open with prayer; the Church has its spokesmen in the House of Lords. It is from the past and present voluntary gifts of Christians that the Church is maintained."

WASHINGTON IRVING

Life Magazine for October 30, in an article, "The World of Washington Irving", has a picture of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, Rector, entitled Esopus Church, and goes on to say it stands near a former edifice, of which Irving wrote "The captains of the river craft talk of a little bulbous-bottom Dutch goblin . . . with a speaking trumpet in his hand, which they say keeps the Dunderberg. They declare that they have heard him, in stormy weather . . . giving orders . . . for the piping up of a fresh gust of wind, or the rattling off of another thunder-clap . . . There is . . . a story of this foul-weather urchin, by Skipper Daniel Ouslesticker, of Fishkill, who was never known to tell a lie. He declared that, in a severe squall, he saw him seated astride his bowsprit, riding the sloop ashore . . . and that he was exercised by Dominie Van Gieson of Esopus, who happened to be on board . . . whereupon the goblin threw himself up in the air like a ball, and went off in a whirlwind, carrying away with him the nightcap of the Dominie's wife, which was discovered the next Sunday morning hanging on the weathercock of Esopus Church steeple, at least 40 miles off . . . "

$20,000 GIVEN TO "AID FOR EUROPEAN CHURCHES"

The National Council has forwarded $20,000 in response to the recent emergency appeal of the World Council of Churches on behalf of Churches in Europe in areas not now enemy-held, and others soon to be liberated. The payment was partly from the budget item, "Aid for European Churches," partly from the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. The Presiding Bishop's Fund so far this year has amounted to $73,000, which has been received and disbursed through accredited agencies, or as designated by givers.

ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION FUND REPORTS ON CONTRIBUTIONS

During the first nine months of 1944, people of the Church gave $374,817.61 for the budget of the Army and Navy Commission, Bishop Henry K. Sherrill, Commission Chairman, announces. The original goal for the year was set at $440,000. Bishop Sherrill believes that by the close of the year at least $400,000 will have been received, and while this is less than the amount hoped for, it will permit the work to go on at the present rate of expenditure which is approximately $1,000 a day.

Bishop Sherrill revealed that nearly 500 Episcopal clergyman are now serving as Chaplains; 310 in the Army; 165 in the Navy and 21 on the Navy Waiting List.

PLAN DEVELOPED TO SELL HAVANA CATHEDRAL

A plan is being developed to sell the present Cathedral, Episcopal residence and deanery in Havana, Cuba, and to build in a residential neighborhood. The present buildings are entirely unsuitable and inadequate,, Bishop Blankingship said, and on account of their location, can be sold at a good price. The Bishop will raise $100,000 locally, which, with the proceeds of the sale, will provide a modern and adequate Cathedral, Episcopal Residence, Deanery and parish house.

$3,000,000 FUND PLANNED FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND RELIEF

In the very near future the National Council will begin a campaign to raise $3,000,000 for reconstruction and relief "in areas ravaged by war, and for a reconstruction program in the domestic missionary field and in other non-war areas." The Department of Promotion will conduct the campaign, and details will be forthcoming shortly. The campaign was authorized by unanimous vote of the National Council.

A Message from the Bishop

As Lent comes to us again I send my affectionate greeting to our Clergy and People all over our Diocese, to those who are serving in the Armed Forces wherever they may be, and to all to whom this War has brought, or shall bring, personal loss and bereavement.

Those of us to whom this great sorrow comes have the comfort of knowing that our men are giving their lives for their Country, for their Fellow-Men, and for the Right. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." They have laid down their lives for our sakes. Our whole Nation owes them a gratitude beyond the power of any words to express.

May this Lent help all of us to be more sincere in our faith, in our prayers, and in our lives as Christians.

These recent weeks of enforced quiet in the Hospital have helped me to see many things with new clearness.

More than ever, I thank God for the spirit of the Clergy and People of our Diocese, the spirit of Christian Fellowship, of Brotherly Love, and of Earnest Purpose which prevails so largely in our Diocese from the Cathedral to the smallest and most remote Mission Stations. And with this in mind I must express my heart-felt thanks for the kind and cheering messages which have come to me just now from every part of the Diocese and which have meant more to me than I can attempt to say.

And more than ever I feel the solemn call which now comes to all of us to do our utmost as Christians towards making this a better World.

1. Let us do our part more faithfully and vigorously in our own Parishes.

2. Let us believe the Divine Realities of our Religion not doubtfully and half-heartedly but with all our hearts, with all our souls, and with all our minds.

3. Let us pray more earnestly than ever that, at this Turning Point in the History of the World, the Christian Church in every part of the World may be awakened to new faith and life, and that the great Anglican Communion throughout the World, of which the Episcopal Church is a part, may meet its unique opportunity - which means that, by the Grace of God, all of us, Bishops, Clergy and People, shall realize, more fully than we have ever before done, the Glory and Wonder and Power of Christ's Religion and the Divine Mission of His Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church in this sinful and agonized World.

Faithfully and affectionately your Bishop,

William T. Manning

CHOIR BOYS SEND LETTERS TO THE BISHOP

The Bishop, who is in St. Luke's Hospital, received on Saturday, February 17, forty-six letters from the Boys of the Cathedral Choir School, a letter from each boy. Their opportunities for writing to a Bishop are limited, and so they all entered upon it with great zest. The bundle of letters, together with a fine tulip plant, were carried to the Hospital by Canon Green, who is also Headmaster of the Choir School, assisted by Allan G. G. Kennedy, one of the School prefects, and by Fowler Manchester, ranking boy in the School. The Bishop received the delegation and in return sent his hearty thanks and best wishes to all the boys for their thoughtful kindness.

BEQUEST

The church of the Holy Apostles, New York, of which the Rev. Lucius A. Edelblute is Rector, under the will of the late Louis Ferguson, received a bequest of $5,000.

OUR CHAPLAINS' NEED

The whole Church and every baptized member of it is concerned and responsible for the ministrations of our Chaplains to our members in the Armed Forces. It is imperative that our Chaplains receive what they need so that they can do this work which is ours as well as theirs. The Bishop hopes confidently that this appeal of our Army and Navy Commission will have large and generous response from our Parishes and from our people, and he has addressed the following letter to the Clergy of the Diocese.

"February 13, 1945

To the Clergy of the Diocese in charge of Congregations:

My dear and Reverend Brother:

The Chaplains in our Army and Navy are in desperate need of your help. We know from eye witnesses how patiently and heroically these men are ministering to the needs of the young men and women who are fighting this War on our behalf. In the two vast theatres of War, victory is surely coming, but the cost in casualties and human suffering is great beyond the utmost we can imagine. In the midst of these horrors our Chaplains are bringing the Church to those who need it.

Our Chaplains must be supplied with needed equipment and some discretionary funds. We have a definite responsibility to them, to see that their pension payments are kept up while they are away doing this work on our behalf.

This great Diocese should provide $50,000. of the sum our Army and Navy Commission is asking. The Diocese can do this if all our Clergy act vigorously—every congregation doing its full part, led by its Rector or Vicar.

I ask therefore, that on Sunday morning, March 4th, a Special Offering be made for this purpose in every congregation, large or small, in our Diocese. I ask that the Clergy take up this matter at once with their Vestries and Congregations and prepare for this Special Offering both by prayer and preaching. Envelopes for this offering may be obtained from the office of the Army and Navy Commission, 1 Joy Street, Boston 8, Massachusetts. All the offerings and gifts should be sent directly to the Commission, and cheques should be made payable to Robert H. Hopkins, Treasurer.

I am appointing a Special Committee to aid in raising our gift: Bishop Gilbert as Chairman, the Deans of our six Convocations, and the Reverend Dr. Donegan to represent Manhattan.

As your Bishop, I commend this need to your heart and to your conscience.

Faithfully and affectionately yours,
William T. Manning"

ORTHODOX SERVICE

Patschke

The Right Reverend Bishop Dionisije
Bishop of the Serbian Orthodox Diocese of the United States and Canada

On the 708th anniversary of the death of St. Sava, Serbian hero and educator of the thirteenth century, a Service of Intereession for all Orthodox Peoples and particularly for the Clergy and Laity of the Serbian Orthodox Church was held in the Cathedral on the afternoon of Septuagesima Sunday, January 28, at 4 p.m., when his Grace the Right Rev. Bishop Dionisije, Bishop of the Serbian Orthodox Diocese of the United States and Canada, preached the sermon, and also gave the blessing at the end of the service. Among those who participated were the Right Rev. Bishop Germanos (Polyzoides) of the Greek Orthodox Church, the Very Rev. Dushan J. Shoukletovich, Archpriest, Dean of St. Sava's Serbian Orthodox Cathedral, New York, who offered prayers, and the Rev. Vasile Hategan, Rector of St. Dumitru Roumanian Orthodox Church, New York.

The full Cathedral Choir sang the service which included "Gospodi pomilui" (Lord have mercy) by Lvovsky, Tschaikowsky's anthem: "O Praise the Lord", "the Kontakion" set to the Kiev Melody, and the Serbian Kyrie.

Bishop Dionisije in his sermon, the topic of which was: "The Orthodox Church and the Episcopal Church: Their Relations in the Past and their Mutual Work in the Future", said:

"The Eastern Orthodox Church believes and confesses that Jesus Christ as her Founder and Spiritual Head is ruling the Christian Church on earth through the Holy Ghost, whom He sent to the Apostles. Since there is only one God, but in three persons called the Holy Trinity, which is eternal and undivided in substance, so the Christian Church on earth should be one and undivided. For this reason, on the eve of His crucifixion, Christ prayed that all Christians—all of His followers, should be united in one faith, with the same dogmas, with the same creed, and in one Church organism. For these reasons all of the Holy Ecumenical Councils from the fourth century have confessed to the same faith and to the same beliefs.

We have abundant proof from Church History of how many Church Fathers were inspired by the Holy Ghost to strive for Church unity against every attempt to break it up, or, if the Church had been divided, to re-unite it. The first attempt to disrupt the unity of the Church came from Arius, who preached that Jesus Christ as the Son of God is God's creation, and not eternally co-existent with God, the Father, but Arius was condemned by the First Ecumenical Council, when Athanasius the Great defended the truth of Christian doctrine and the unity of the Church. At that very time, through a vision, Christ, clothed in a divided robe, had revealed himself to one of the Holy Church Fathers. Perplexed at seeing Christ with a divided robe, the Holy Father asked: 'who rent your garment, O Lord and Saviour?' 'Atheistic Arius' was the answer.

The Holy Ghost has always striven, and is still striving, through various means, to re-establish the unity of the Church. It is indeed a stupendous task to unite a divided Church on earth, or even to create a spirit of Christian cooperation between the great organizations of the Christian Church among her schismatic branches, but the Holy Ghost and Jesus Christ are still calling for unity. Who has heard and who is hearing this voice of Christ? The Orthodox Church is hearing it and the Episcopal Church is hearing it. As far back as the 16th century our Churches heard this voice and started to work out. a mutual plan for better understanding, for more serious collaboration and, through this collaboration, for Church unity.

They approached each other, conferred on this question, and came to a mutual understanding.

According to the verified data of history, the nearest approach to mutual understanding come in 1716, when our Orthodox Bishop, Metropolitan Arsenius, from Egypt, arrived in London to ask aid for the Christians in Egypt. He visited the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the two discussed the problems pertinent to the unity of the Churches. Metropolitan Arsenius was very well received by many Church dignitaries in London. He soon started to celebrate the Holy Mass for the Greeks in London, and in these Holy Masses, the Russian representatives, sent to London by the Russian Emperor, Peter the Great, participated. In this connection, the Church of England held a council in 1717 in London, during which, the first plan for collaboration between the two Church bodies—the Orthodox and the Anglican—was made. Proposals were sent to the Russian Emperor, begging him to build a Church in London, where the Holy Mass could be held in three different languages: Russian, Greek and English. Other proposals were sent to Eastern Patriarchates which met in 1718, 1722 and 1723, to hold councils in which they might discuss cooperation and, eventually, the unity of the Church.

The Oxford Movement, which began in the University of Oxford more than a hundred years ago, gave fresh impetus toward unity. Correspondence was entered into with Paisius, the Patriarch of Jerusalem, and this correspondence was published in 1851 by William Palmer, himself a great worker for the unity of the Anglican and Orthodox Churches. Under the influence of the Oxford Movement, many excellent books by Anglican writers appeared praising Orthodoxy, and on the other side Orthodox writers and theologians praised the Anglican Church for her goodwill in collaboration, for her devotion to Christ, and for her excellent social work. Even an American wrote a book entitled, 'Apology for the Greco-Russian Church,' published in New York in 1863. In England Dr. Overbeck perfected a plan for the establishment of an Orthodox Church in the West, and the Archbishop of Canterbury organized a special committee for 'Establishing mutual relations with the Orthodox Church.' In 1866 this committee submitted their proposals to Parliament for establishing permanent mutual relations with the Orthodox Churches. These reports were adopted by the Convocation of the Church of England in 1869, and they were also agreed to by the American Protestant Episcopal Church. 'We wish to say,' wrote this committee, 'that our primus, Archbishop of Canterbury, with the assistance of others of our Bishops, should lay a foundation for the ties with the Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople, and thus to have established any mutual relations between these two, long since divided branches of the one Universal Church of Jesus Christ.'

From that time on a better mutual understanding has prevailed, especially through the work of the Lambeth Conferences.

Twenty years later the same committee solemnly declared that the Orthodox Church always has had a genuinely sincere sympathy for the Anglican Church, and that there were existing friendly relations between the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Eastern Orthodox Patriarchates. On the basis of this mutual and friendly sympathy a harmonious agreement was worked out at the last Lambeth Conference in the year 1930, in which all the Orthodox Churches participated, among them the Serbian Orthodox Church which was represented by Bishop Irineus of Novi Sad. The mutual Committee for Dogmatic questions, established at the Conference, clarified many common teachings of both Churches and advanced the hope for unity. Three main conclusions crowned the work of this Conference.

1. The individuality and the independence of each Church represented in the Conference were recognized.

2. It was established that there could be mutual participation in the Sacraments.

3. It was agreed that the Churches should work together in the future to advance and strengthen Christianity.

What do these conclusions mean in actual practice?

They mean, in the first place, the recognition of the Anglican (or Episcopal) Church in the same way as the Orthodox Church is recognized Each local or national Church may have some differences in her ritual or in her own mission but not in her creed or faith.

In the second place, they mean that participation in the Holy Sacraments by adherents of Orthodoxy may, if necessary, be permitted through the ministrations of an Episcopal clergyman and vice versa, by an Orthodox clergyman to Anglicans. This agreement is especially advantageous now in time of war, but it is also very necessary for the Orthodox Church in times of peace, especially in those places and countries where there is no Orthodox Church, but where the Anglican Church has been established, and vice versa.

In the third place, these conclusions mean much for the mutual work of our Churches in the future, and for the expansion and strength of Christianity in the world.

This third mutual agreement is self-explanatory, but I wish to say a few words about it.

Christianity from its very beginning had many enemies, in the political reign of Herod, in the legalistic religion of the Pharisees, and in the unbelief of the masses. There are still many enemies of Christianity today, among which we may mention atheism, skepticism, and general indifference. Excluding any kind of proselytism the Christian Church has her own specific duty to perform, given to her by Christ himself—namely, to preach the gospel to all nations and to extend the influence and teachings of the Holy Bible, certain that the Holy Word is the very basis for a better and more progressive world. In this field of action all help and fullest cooperation are badly needed.

Atheism as an idea or as a teaching must be opposed by every Christian, for it cannot furnish a substantial basis for the progress of mankind. It is well-known that atheism is the destroyer of all virtue, replacing the virtues with those characteristics which produce the forces of evil and set at large the criminally-minded in the world.

Taking into consideration negligence and indifference, we may find many persons among the members of our Churches, who through these very means may easily become apostates of the Church or even enemies of the Church. We must consider that the Church has a sacred duty to strengthen the faith among her own members and so preserve them from many evils that would be damaging to themselves, to society of which they are a part, and to their country.

The Church must also oppose any intolerance among different confessions or national groups and must promulgate that goodwill of which the world heard from the angels before the Manger of Bethlehem at the time of the birth of our Lord. The Church must be vigilant to assure to mankind these freedoms given by God, and through mankind to assure democracy, fraternity, equality and salvation to all peoples.

I am positive that only Christianity, extended, strengthened, and put into practice, can assure a permanent peace in a world of war, or promise any future program to mankind. But to attain this goal it is necessary that, as nearly as possible, the Orthodox Church and the Anglican Church must determine to work together. And now, since they have begun to work together in a spirit of goodwill, some lasting results may be expected, and I pray that our combined efforts will bear greater and greater fruit in the future.

Finally, in closing this address, I wish to pay a tribute of my deepest gratitude to the Episcopal Church of America for the noble consideration she has given to our martyred Serbian Church in Yugoslavia, and I wish especially to express my appreciation to the Right Reverend William T. Manning, Bishop of New York, for this opportunity to speak in this famous Cathedral, which has become such a landmark in the Western Hemisphere.

May God bless the Protestant Episcopal Church of America and may the bonds be strengthened between your great Church and the Eastern Orthodox Churches, looking toward the future when there will be only one, holy, universal, indivisible Church in the world. Amen."

CHURCH CLUB DINNER

The Church Club of New York held its Fifty-eighth Annual Reception and Dinner in the Grand Ball Room of the Waldorf-Astoria on Tuesday evening, February 6, with Dr. Ludlow Bull, President of the Club, presiding. The Bishop of New York, who is always the chief guest on such occasions, was unable, because of illness, to attend. He did, however, send a message through Bishop Gilbert, who said:

"I am glad to be able to bring you a brief message from our Bishop. It is, of course, a matter of very keen disappointment to all of us that he is not able to be here to speak for himself. And we may be sure that it is a disappointment to him. We can be thankful that our Bishop is now making very favorable improvement. We may hope that he will soon be out of the hospital and able to take up again the heavy duties that he has always carried, as we know, with such remarkable courage and devotion. The Bishop asks me to give his affectionate greetings to the officers, the invited guests, and the friends and members of the Church Club. And to express his deep regret that he cannot be with you at this Dinner.

'Please tell them,' he says, 'that I appreciate and value beyond measure the kind and cheering messages which have come to me from every part of the Diocese. These messages have meant more to me than any words can express. I give thanks to God every day for the spirit of the clergy and people of this Diocese.'

In presenting this message, I am sure, Mr. Toastmaster, that we shall all wish that there be conveyed to our Bishop some word of our thankfulness for all that his leadership means and has meant to this Diocese and the affectionate assurance of our prayers that he may be spared to continue that leadership, with strength and health, for many years to come."

Other speakers were the Right Rev. Henry W. Hobson, Bishop of Southern Ohio, and Sir Gerald Campbell, British Minister in charge of Consular Affairs. Sir Gerald made a plea for a greater degree of union between all Christian churches so that they might take the lead in providing a basis of common understanding among nations after the war. He said: "There is a chance that there will emerge a solid foundation on which our children can work. The Four Freedoms will be fine and solid only if we prove worthy of them. If we have no freedom of speech, we shall sow seeds of hate and then we shan't get freedom from fear, and so on. Those whom war hath joined together let not peace put asunder."

Bishop Hobson, who had just returned from a tour of the Western Front, described conditions as he found them in the Army, saying that not only in the front lines but also among the wounded he found great cheerfulness, optimism and the will to conquer. He declared that the "Battle of the Bulge", far from being in any sense a defeat, was in fact a great victory for the Allies, and so would shorten the conflict and save the lives of our soldiers. He also expressed his deep regret that Bishop Manning was unable to be present and asked all to respond to a greeting to the Bishop by saying "aye" which they did to the accompaniment of loud applause.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CATHEDRAL

Began with the Annual Carol Service at 4 P. M. on Christmas Eve, during which a Procession singing "The Snow Lay on the Ground" was made to the Manger erected before the Great Bronze Doors at the West Front. where the candles were lighted and prayers said.

At 11:30 P.M., congregational singing of familiar carols was led by the Rev. Canon James Green, Precentor of the Cathedral. Shortly before midnight the Procession entered, assembled before the High Altar, and then made its way through the whole length of the Cathedral, back to the High Altar, where Canon Green sang the Service.

Owing to the Bishop's illness, he was unable to be present, but from his hospital bed sent the following message:

"The Bishop of the Diocese, who is unable to be at this Service, sends his truest Christmas wishes for all who are present and for all in the Diocese and elsewhere, whom his voice may reach, and especially for those who are absent from us in the Armed Forces.

The Bishop prays that the Glory and Wonder of the Incarnation may enter all your homes, and into your individual hearts and lives; that it may bring happiness to all children, comfort and peace to those in sorrow and bereavement, strength and courage to those who are fighting that Peace and Good Will may be established in this world for the sake of all Mankind.

The Bishop invokes upon you all the grace and help of Him who was born for us in Bethlehem, and who now liveth and reigneth with the Father and the Holy Ghost, God forever and ever."

Canon Sparks read this message to the congregation and asked the prayers of all for the Bishop's speedy recovery.

The great congregation, stretching the whole length of the Cathedral, made a most impressive sight.

There were seven other services on Christmas Day. The Rev. Canon Edward N. West, Sacrist of the Cathedral, was the preacher at 11 A.M. Preceding his sermon, he read the Bishop's message.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

A half-hour's Organ Recital started at 11 P.M., long before which a large congregation, in spite of the heavy rain, had begun to assemble.

At 11:30 P.M. the men of the Choir came in followed by Canon Sparks who went at once to the Pulpit from which he conducted what the newspapers described as a "simple evangelical service" and made an address. Silence was kept for a brief space at midnight. The singing of the hymns by the congregation was noteworthy both for its volume and its devotion. The service concluded promptly at 12:15 a.m. of the New Year.

MANY NEW RECORDS MADE BY PARISHES AND MISSIONS OF THE DIOCESE IN PROGRAM OF THE CHURCH CONTRIBUTIONS

The parishes and missions of the Diocese of New York achieved many new giving records in the year just ended. Total giving of $291,325.09 exceeded the total for the year 1943 by $35,000. This made possible the full payment of all appropriations to our Diocesan organizations and a payment of $163,325.09 to the National Council against an apportionment of $200,000. The contribution to the work of the National Council exceeded the Expectation by more than $8,000. and placed the Diocese of New York at the head of all other Dioceses in total giving to the National Council.

Many individual accomplishments are evidenced by the final figures. Numerous records of consistent payment or overpayment of quotas were maintained and there were also many increases over past giving. 115 parishes and missions, out of 223 to which missionary quotas are assigned, paid or exceeded their mathematical quotas. We list below some of the outstanding advances made.

Outstanding achievements were made by two missions: St. Stephen's, Woodlawn and St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, St. Johns. St. Stephen's growth has now reached the point where it is self-supporting and is looking forward to parochial status.

| Name | Mathematical Quota | Excess Quota Accepted | Expectation | Payment |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| St. Stephen's Woodlawn | $ 259. | $ 500. | $ 900. | $1,186.78 |
| St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, St. Johns | 5. | 40. | 40. | 50.00 |

Three parishes accepted excess quotas; two of them exceeded these quotas and the third paid its excess quota in full. These congregations were:—

| Name | Mathematical Quota | Excess Quota Accepted | Expectation | Payment |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Briarcliff, All Saints | $ 223. | $ 275. | $ 275. | $ 324.90 |

SERVICE MEN AND THE CATHEDRAL

Thousands of members of the Armed Forces, men and women, American and Allied, visit the Cathedral, both as worshippers and as sightseers. A great number of them say it is a "first" on their list of places to be visited in New York. Sunday by Sunday, and also on week-days, uniforms are plentifully sprinkled among the members of the congregations. The come in groups, by twos and threes, and often alone. Such adjectives as overpowering, stupendous, awe-inspiring, uplifting, and such expressions as "the most beautiful place I ever hope to see", "so religious", "so devotional", are used in voicing their individual reactions, together with a multitude of questions, architectural, historical, ecclesiastical, and financial. The statement that no debt is owed on the Cathedral never fails to elicit surprise and warm approval. Many say that they hope it may soon be completed, and ask as to when that may be expected, and often "I hope I may live to see it all done!"

Many Midshipmen from Columbia University during their period of training there, completed by graduation exercises in the Cathedral, learn to know the Cathedral very well and express their interest, pleasure and gratitude at having such a rich opportunity for learning, study and worship.

Out of the hosts who come here some become known to the Cathedral Clergy, ask to be remembered by name at the Altar on Wednesdays at 8 a.m., when the Service is always in behalf of the Armed Forces, and become valued friends. They are warm in their expressions of appreciation, deeply grateful because consciously known as members of God's Family, thankful for the interest shown in them and for the prayers offered for them. Many of them are not members of the Episcopal Church.

Numerous letters pass to and fro. The writers treat of a variety of topics. They say such things as:

"I have now seen a number of Cathedrals over here but I still think that St. John's is the most beautiful of all."

"Please write soon and I promise a prompt answer."

"Thanks for the Cathedral Leaflets. I always hand them to my friend the Dean of the Cathedral near here, who, in turn, gives them to the Organist."

"Last Sunday afternoon I managed to get a pass to the city and located there the Episcopal Church."

"I wish to again express my sincere thanks for the warm friendliness extended to me on my visit to the Cathedral."

"Will you please send me a good French conversation book?"

"A few days ago I received your letter enclosing the books of meditation and the war cross. I wish to thank you in behalf of my wife and myself for them. I shall be pleased to wear the cross since it will continually remind me of Him whose Church prepared it, and of him who gave it to me."

"I am glad to say that the American fighting man has not left his Church behind, even if he has not a church to go to."

"Again I thank you for your wonderful letters, for the helpful thoughts which you give me and for your prayers which mean so much."

"At the moment I have access to a piano and this delights my very soul. It is dilapidated, having been shot at and rained on, with bits of plaster wedged between the keys and a couple of hammers missing, due to shrapnel. But I have done some rehabilitation work on it and am happy to report that at long last have gotten started on the second movement of my piano concerto."

"Thanks for the Bishop's Christmas message."

"On my way from Australia, I was able to attend divine service at your glorious Cathedral. I would be very much obliged if you could forward me some detailed information on the Cathedral."

"I am sending you a 'K Ration'."

"I want to say how much I appreciate your friendship, counsel and hospitality. You have helped me a great deal in many ways. This week I have had the feeling of very definite progress in my desire to prepare for Holy Orders."

"Someone must have prayed a whole lot for me."

"I have also received The Diocesan Bulletin which I found to be of great interest."

"I plan to revisit the Cathedral on my next furlough, as I could not see enough of it in one small visit."

"I benefit daily from your advice."

"Oftentimes I have baffling problems that almost overwhelm me and I find the Holy Communion helps me when nothing else could."

"There were a goodly number of American soldiers present and as the children sang the Adestes Fideles for the offertory we all hummed it with them. The director caught on immediately so after it was all finished he urged the Americans to sing it. We all did in English. It was very impressive, all the Americans singing this age-old song in a strange place, far from home, still joining in the common act of worshipping God." (In Corsica.)

"I always carry one or more of your letters around with me as a bulwark for my morale."

(From a mother) "His father joins me in thanking you for all you have meant to our beloved boy."

"I lost my war cross when I was wounded. Will you please send me another?"

"It was a very handsome thing for you to do in arranging that Christmas dinner for me."

"Whenever I am free I am singing in the neighboring Cathedral choir." (In England).

"Simple words that I know must have come from the depth of your heart have led me to regard you as my Church father. So let me call you Father, not only because you have a right to that title but because you have won my respect enough to cause me to humble myself as a helpless child within the Church looking up to his father who is older and wiser."

"Almost every community has as its heart a church. Now many are ruins, nothing remains but broken rocks, glass and towers."

"Thank you very much for the two pamphlets."

"I am sending you a 'patch' from the Fourth Army to which I am attached."

"Your wishes for my warmth, dryness and an opportunity to see the country were well taken. Only the last was fulfilled — and that on foot!"

"I see they are having numerous strikes in the United States. Strikes in times like these almost cause me to lose my faith in human nature, although I know that is not Christian."

"You can never know the appreciation and warmth I felt in my heart for the interest you took in our wedding."

"I would love to be present when you celebrate the Holy Communion this coming Easter."

"You know I would swap about 50 degrees of this tropical heat for that cold you have in New York."

"The Crucifix is attached to my dog tags and strung around my neck. Thanks a lot."

"How am I doing with my left hand?"

MRS. TEMPLE'S LETTER

Below is printed a copy of the letter which Bishop Manning has received from Mrs. William Temple, widow of the late Archbishop of Canterbury. Her letter is in acknowledgment of the cablegram of sympathy which the Bishop sent to her upon receipt of the news that the Archbishop had died.

"Old Palace, Canterbury
23rd November, 1944

My dear Bishop,

I was most grateful to you for cabling such a kind and understanding message of sympathy and prayer. I knew that we had many friends in the United States who would be thinking of us and praying for us.

On the Sunday before his death the Archbishop enjoyed his talks with Bishop Oldham and Bishop Hobson. It seemed specially appropriate that on the Sunday after his death the pulpits of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's were occupied by these two Bishops, and I was so glad they could be with us at the Service at Canterbury.

My husband always remembered our visit to your magnificent Cathedral—in the time of dear Dean Gates, who received us so kindly there on the Sunday morning (I think it was). He looked forward to meeting you again at the next Lambeth Conference, and renewing your friendship then.

Yours sincerely,
Frances Temple"

CHURCH CONGRESS

W. Norman Pittenger of the General Theological Seminary on: "The Meaning of the Church for the World's Travail". After each lecture period, there was opportunity for questions and discussion from the floor.

APPRECIATION

"My dear Bishop Manning:

I recently received a letter from a young woman whose husband is overseas and who is living as a stranger in New York City. In this letter, after having said that she had attended the Christmas Eve Eucharist at St. John's, she continued as follows: 'St. John's is beautifully unfashionable—a great Cathedral, though still unfinished, it has impregnated its grandeur with humility. The very fact that the worship of God has continued, though the walls are still rough, has made the spiritual being of the Cathedral present to even the most careless tourist. On Christmas Eve the meek and lowly sang carols without any touch of subservience, while beside them stood the respectable successful. An old colored woman with a shopping bag beside her, shared her prayer-book with a dowager who had trouble following the service. The organ-grinders and the fruit-peddlers came; tired business men brought their stilted wives; sailors and soldiers drifted in, looking lonely and a bit lost; babies were hushed in tired arms, and the great floor of the Cathedral was filled until people sat in all the niches of the pillars and crowded the walls. The power of the Cathedral took away all pretence. We were all lonely and bewildered, we had come for help and the Cathedral took us in and gave us courage and comfort. And the Service let us show our gratitude.'

I am sure that this spontaneous expression of gratitude for what the Cathedral does is something you will be glad to receive.

Yours very truly,
Howard D. Roelofs,
Department of Philosophy,
January 6, 1945, Hanna Hall, University of Cincinnati"

Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, made the address.

He was Professor of General Literature at the University of the South, 1908-1911, when he became Rector of St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie, remaining there until his retirement in 1937. He wrote extensively on literary and religious subjects. The Right Rev. Angus Dun, Bishop of Washington, officiated at the funeral service held in the Cathedral there. ## MRS. WALTER L. HERVEY

Mrs. Antoinette Bryant Hervey, wife of Dr. Walter L. Hervey, president of Teachers College, Columbia University, from 1892 to 1897, and chairman of the Board of examiners of the Board of Education until his retirement in 1933, died February 10. Her age was 87. Born in Gilbertsville, N. Y., she was educated at Granville Female College, Granville, Ohio, and Wellesley College. After her marriage she devoted herself to woman's suffrage and child welfare work and for fourteen years was a lecturer in the New York public schools, at Columbia University and at the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

She began the study of photography at the Clarence H. White School of Photography, and after graduation she began her self imposed task of photographing the building of the Cathedal of St. John the Divine and devoted herself to the work almost daily, climbing ladders and scaffolding and often waited patiently for proper lighting effects. She presented her prints, about 3,000, to the Cathedral in 1933, and gave a duplicate set to the New York Historical Society and was made an honorary associate member. She was the author of "The Saints in My Kitchen" and "The Seamy Side of Labor", which appeared in The Outlook.

The Burial Office was held in St. James Chapel of the Cathedral on Ash Wednesday with the Rev. Albert W. Hind, and the Rev. Canon Sparks, who officially represented the Bishop, conducting the service.

It is believed that there is nowhere in the world such a collection of photographs of a great Cathedral during its construction, and the Bishop and Chapter of the Cathedral wish to express their sense of a great debt of gratitude both to Mrs. Hervey and Dr. Hervey for their interest in the Cathedral and in its construction.

SOUTHWEST ASIA AND THE AMERICAN INDIAN ARE MISSION STUDY TOPICS FOR THIS LENT

In many parish programs Lent is a time for concentrated study of a particular theme. New and interesting materials are available on a number of subjects. Forward in Service through its 1944-45 Plan of Action has recommended a number of these.

The themes selected for this year are Southeast Asia and the American Indian. Probably at no time in history has attention from so large a part of the world been centered on the Southwest Pacific. No foreign theme could have been more timely. Recommended are:

Unfolding Drama in Southeast Asia by Basil Matthews. A background book on the missions and churches of Southeast Asia and the western Pacific. 60 cents.

West of the Date Line: Christian Pioneering in Southeast Asia by Constance M. Hallock. Illustrated with maps and photographs. 50 cents.

Discussion and Program Suggestions for Adults on Southeast Asia by Raymond P. Currier and Constance M. Hallock. 25 cents.

Philippine Kaleidoscope by Vincent H. Gowen. Illustrated story of the work of the Episcopal Church in the Philippine Islands. 35 cents.

Bring Your Brother With You by Edward G. Mullen. Episcopal Missions in the Philippines as told by the Secretary of the Philippine Episcopal Church. 25 cents.

Fuzzy-Wuzzy Angels of Papua by John D. Bodger. The native background to the Papuan Campaign and its influence on the future of the Territory by the Sub-Dean of the English Cathedral. 25 cents.

Southeast Asia Wall Map in four colors. 25 cents.

Many are asking why the American Indian was selected for the home study in the light of the problems that need the attention of Church people. It is because though small in number in the total population, it is a group that has not fully enjoyed American Democracy. Today the Indian is serving his country in every possible capacity, both overseas and at home. At the same time many are wards of the government, do not have the right to vote, do not speak English, and have not been integrated into American life. The Indian has been uprooted as have other groups of people. Will we send him back to the Reservation or will we give him the advantages of full citizenship in this land which was once his? Recommended are:

The Indian in American Life by G. E. E. Lindquist, with the collaboration of Flora Warren Seymour, Erna Gunther, and John H. Holst. A study and interpretation of the changing way of life of the American Indian with emphasis on the program of the Church now and in the future. 60 cents.

Speaking of Indians by Ella C. Deloria. The daughter of the well-known Indian priest, Philip Deloria, writes an intimate story of the daily life and tribal customs of the past and shows what is happening as adjustments to new conditions are made in Church and community. 60 cents.

American Indian Packet containing a guide for leaders of adult groups, a new illustrated pamphlet in the series Building the Church Around the World, a picture book, Indians Today, and other helpful material. 35 cents.

Forward in Service has also made available study material giving the theological basis for the year's emphasis. This year Christian Doctrine of God will be used in some parishes as the program for the mid-week Lenten services. Where this is not done we recommend adult groups study the material available in the packet, The Christian Doctrine of God. A packet containing a leaders's guide and a series of tracts on God and Myself, God and the Nation, God and Race, God and Economics, God and the Church. 35 cents. All of the above may be secured from the National Council, 281 Fourth Avenue, N. Y. 10, N. Y.

CHURCH SCHOOLS TO USE MISSION STUDY UNITS

The 1945 Mission Study theme for the boys and girls of the Church includes our work with the Sioux Indians and the work of six pioneer missionary bishops in various parts of the world.

The Division of Christian Education of the National Council has prepared two units of study, one for Kindergarten and Primary children, called The Driving Hawks' Adventure, and one for older boys and girls called, Pioneers of the Kingdom. The younger children's stories are about an Indian family's annual trip to the Niobrara Convocation. The older children will study something of the life and work of Bishop Brent, the Church's Ambassador to the Philipines; Bishop Rowe, the Man of Alaska; Bishop Hare, Apostle to the Indians; Bishop Payne, Pioneer in Africa; Bishop Schereschewsky, the Crippled Scholar; and Bishop Azariah, the Bishop of the Lowly.

The Lenten issue of Forth, which boys and girls sell to raise money for their Offering, will have additional material about these pioneers.

The World to Christ is the title of a Service of Worship which may be used during the study of Pioneers of the Kingdom. 50 for 30 cents.

The Friendship Press has two publications which make fine supplementary material for younger children. They are My Indian Picture Story Book by Mabel Niedermeyer (50c) and Indians of the U.S.A., a decorative wall map (25c).

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS REPORTS

While the Committee on the Program of the Church has only received a few detailed reports of the results of last Fall's Every Member Canvass, indications are that wherever the campaign was well organized large increases in pledges for parish support and missions were recorded.

St. John's Church, Larchmont, reports a very successful Every Member Canvass under the chairmanship of Mr. Arthur Perkins. 140 Church members acted as canvassers and the number of subscribers was increased more than 20% over the previous year, and the amount pledged more than 40% over 1944.

St. Thomas's, Mamaroneck, reports a very large increase in pledges for parish support and its full missionary quota pledged from the red side of the duplex envelopes. This parish used the four direct mail pieces made available by the Diocesan Committee on the Program of the Church, followed up by personal visitations. The parish also participated in the local United Church Canvass.

Grace Church, Hastings, credits the direct mail pieces with a large share in its successful canvass which resulted in increased pledges for the parish and missions.

St. Stephen's, Woodlawn, conducted a canvass which resulted in pledges exceeding their most optimistic goals for both their own support and missions. This mission now has 180 subscribers for self-support and 150 for The Program of the Church. St. Stephen's reports some interesting figures:

| | 1941 | 1942 | 1943 | 1944 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Church attendance | 3,586 | 4,669 | 7,999 | 9,122 |
| Communions | 853 | 1,620 | 2,641 | 3,215 |
| Sunday Services | 84 | 66 | 100 | 112 |
| Weekday Services | 12 | 19 | 63 | 144 |
| Total Income | $2,816. | $3,716. | $5,600. | $7,433. |
| To Missions | $ 270. | $ 458. | $ 885. | $1,186. |

This mission is hoping to be admitted as a parish in Union with the Diocesan Convention in May.

Trinity Church, New Rochelle, reports a successful canvass by mail and visitation, resulting in a marked increase in the number of subscribers and the amount pledged. The Canvass Chairman was able to report to the Vestry that in 1944 contributions from pledges reached a ten year peak and that during the same period plate offerings also increased. Trinity Church has pledged itself to meet its full missionary quota in 1945.

Grace Church, Nyack, reports a successful participation in a United Church Canvass with seven churches in Nyack. This parish used the four direct mail pieces.

The Chapel of the Atonement in the Bronx, using the direct mail pieces and personal visitations, obtained more than 25 new subscribers. This mission has secured more than 100 new subscribers in the last 3 years.

St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, had a "Roll Call" Sunday Service at which time was allotted for those in attendance to fill out pledges. The service was well attended and the innovation considered successful. Following this "Roll Call" Sunday, a brochure and a pledge card were sent to all members of the parish who had not made a pledge at the special service.

Grace Church, Port Jervis, reports its most successful canvass on record. Increases of 35% in pledges to the parish and 26% in pledges for missions were obtained.

St. Mark's Church-in-the-Bouwerie conducted a mail campaign for the second time. The first canvass in 1943 more than trebled pledges and it is expected that the present effort will double the number of subscribers obtained last year. The parish has registered a marked increase also in its contribution for missions.

ARMY AND NAVY COMMISSION APPEALS FOR SACRIFICIAL GIFTS

Bishop Henry K. Sherrill, of Massachusetts, Chairman of the Army and Navy Commission, asks for "generous and sacrificial gifts from every member of our Church" for the Commission's 1945 budget of $400,000. "Thousands of our Church people have made gifts totaling over a million dollars," Bishop Sherrill said, "during these past four years. For such support we are deeply grateful. You have shown you care that the Church should go with our young men and women as they face the hardships of war. Your gifts have been translated into inspiring and helpful service.

"This work must not stop now. We cannot tell our Chaplains 'the Church is tired, so now you are on your own without the support of the Church at home.' Such a message is incredible and you will never allow this to happen. Instead I have every confidence that your gifts will send to the far-flung battle fronts words and deeds of faith, of love, and of inspiration. But it all depends upon you.

"As I write this, the war is intensified on every front. The work must continue unabated. The war with Japan is far from victory. Even when peace comes there will be a long and difficult period of demobilization. We shall need every penny of the $400,000 and more!"

RELIEF FOR FREED FILIPINOS

Looking toward the day that the Philippine Islands are liberated, women of the Episcopal Church, at the prompting of the Woman's Auxiliary, are making garments to aid the relief that will be needed immediately after the Japanese are driven out. Materials are supplied through the National War Fund, and the women sew the garments according to specifications supplied.

CREEDLESS CHRISTIANITY

The Bishop in his Convention Address, comments on recent statements in regard to Creedless Christianity as follows:

"Looking out over the world and over our own land today when we are filled with longing for World Brotherhood and Peace, it is more clear than ever that the supreme need among Christians everywhere is deeper and more sincere belief in the Revealed Truths and the Divine Realities of the Christian Gospel.

Pay no heed to those who tell us that the Creed and the Sacraments are unimportant for Christianity today, that the Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church has no reality, and that we can have Christian Unity by casting aside the Christian Creed. We must all pray and work for Christian Unity but it cannot be attained in that way. There can be no such thing as a Creedless Christianity, or a Creedless Christian Unity. A Christian is one who believes in and prays to Jesus Christ and strives by the grace and help of Christ to follow His teachings. The Christian Creed is what the Gospel itself tells us about God and about the Lord Jesus Christ. A Unity without the Christian Creed would not be Christian Unity. Anyone who advocates a Creedless Christianity is, consciously or unconsciously, striking at the very foundations of the Christian Religion.

What we need now in the Church, what our returning soldiers will need when they come home, what the whole suffering and sorrowing world needs, is the Christian Gospel in all its supernatural reality, truth and power. We need now a religion not of mere intellectualism, or of vague emotionalism, or of mere humanitarianism, but of full and humble faith in God, faith in God and in Christ, faith in the glorious things declared to us and to all the world by the Scriptures, faith in the Christian Creed, faith in the Holy Catholic Church with its Faith, its Sacraments, and its Ministry, coming through all the ages from Christ and His Apostles. And it is this Religion in its majesty, its simplicity, and its supernatural power, which is given to us in our Prayer Book."

JEWISH PEOPLE'S APPRECIATION

On May 27, at the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany, the Empire State Zionist Region presented a new automobile to the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, Director of Religious Education and Youth Work in the Diocese of New York. This gift is made in appreciation of the extensive work done by him in the field of race and interfaith relations, with special reference to the problems confronting our Jewish population. The idea of the gift came from the Kingston District where the recipient was Rector of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, for four years before coming to the Diocesan Office on Easter of this year. This fine spirit and outstanding example of interfaith relations is an inspiration and source of gratification to us all.

SPECIAL ECUMENICAL SERVICE

By invitation of the Bishop to the American Committee for the World Council of Churches and the World's Student Christian Federation a Special Ecumenical Service was held in the Cathedral on the evening of Thursday, May 17, in cooperation with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and with the assistance of other agencies. Addresses were made by the Bishop of Chichester, the Rev. Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, and the Rev. Dr. Marc Boegner. The invocation was given by his Grace, the Right Rev. Bishop Iriney of the Serbian Orthodox Diocese of Dalmatia; the lesson was read by the Rev. Dr. Joseph N. Sizoo, Pastor of St. Nicholas Collegiate Church; prayers were offered by the Rev. Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Vice-President of the Federal Council of Churches and by the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, Chairman of the American Committee for the World Council of Churches. Dr. John R. Mott, Vice-Chairman of the World Council of Churches, presented the speakers; and the Right Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, Suffragan Bishop of New York, gave the blessing.

Bishop Bell declared that the World Council of Churches is a means by which Christians of all communions except Rome may unite to make the weapon of God effective.

"The council is a means by which the churches can be the conscience of Christendom—the means, not the end," he said. "The world is a drowning one, and its rescue demands immediate action by every Christian."

Dr. Boegner voiced the thanks of his countrymen in France for America's aid in their liberation.

Urging a common front in the rehabilitation of the Church, Dr. 't Hooft declared that those who have lived in this disorganized world through many years will need patient education before they can become the builders of a new order.

MANY SERVICES

The Cathedral is a place of many services testifying to the great place which the Cathedral has come to hold, not only in New York City, but in a much wider area, extending throughout the United States and even beyond. Special Services for the American Guild of Organists; for the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Revival of the Religious Life in the Anglican Communion; the St. George Day Service, at which messages are exchanged with Buckingham Palace; a Service for the Junior Members of the Girls' Friendly Society; the Knights Templar Service; the Whitsunday Service, at which Bishop Iriney of the Serbian Orthodox Diocese of Dalmatia was the preacher; six extra Services on V-E Day; Special Services of music and other special services, all in addition to those specially noted in this issue of the Diocesan Bulletin, were held. In fact, in the week of May 6 to May 12, there was a total of forty-five Services in the Cathedral.

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

In the sudden death of President Roosevelt, mourned and eulogized by the whole world, the Cathedral lost in him a more intimate touch, for he was a Trustee of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine from 1914 until his death, a period of thirty-one years.

Speaking of him to the Diocesan Convention, the Bishop said:

"Here in this convention today, we think of the late President of the United States, our fellow-churchman, our fellow-member of this Diocese, a Trustee of this Cathedral, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. The whole civilized world pays honour to his memory. It was he more than any other who saved us from the blind folly and the fatal consequences of Isolationism, and led our Nation into realization of its World Responsibilities and Obligations. It is to his influence that we owe the San Francisco Conference which is now meeting and which we pray and believe will have great and momentous results. We give thanks to God for Franklin Roosevelt's great services to our Country and to the World in this most terrible of all wars and to the ideal and aim of World Cooperation and World Peace."

On Saturday, April 14, at 4 p.m., the same hour as that of the Service at the White House, a Memorial Service was held in the Cathedral, conducted by Bishop Gilbert assisted by Canon Sparks and Canon West, and other of the Cathedral Clergy. It consisted of parts of the Burial Office from the Book of Common Prayer, together wth familiar hymns. A great congregation, consisting of all sorts and conditions, very devout and reverent, filled the Cathedral.

The great main entrance on the Amsterdam Avenue front was draped with black mourning, and the American Flag in the Cathedral Close was put at half-mast, to continue so for thirty days.

Memorial Services were held generally in all the Churches throughout the Diocese.

Prayer set forth by for use in Public and in Private on the occasion of the Death

of
President Franklin Delano Roosevelt

O Eternal Lord God, Ruler of Heaven and Earth, we commend to Thy gracious care and keeping the soul of Thy servant, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Give us thankfulness for his great services to our Country and to the World in this war.

Give to the member of his family in their sorrow the support and comfort which come only from Thee.

To him upon whom the great responsibilities and burdens of the President's Office now rest give wisdom, guidance and strength to do his duty faithfully and in Thy fear.

Grant we beseech Thee that in this hour of crisis our Country may be guided aright and that as a Nation we may continue to do our part with our Allies steadfastly and unwaveringly for the achievement of complete victory for the Right, for the ending of Tyranny, Cruelty, and War, and for the establishment and maintenance of World-wide, Just, and Lasting Peace, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Who with Thee and the Holy Ghost liveth and reigneth, one God, world without end. Amen.

A MISSION REGISTERS ITS APPRECIATION

It is news when the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society receives an unsolicited gift from one of its Missions.

St. David's Colored Mission in the Bronx, of which the Rev. Dr. Arthur G. Best, is Vicar, recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of its establishment. As a feature of the celebration the congregation raised a fund of $1,000. which was presented to the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society as a token of gratitude for the help and support provided by the Board during the past fifty years.

The Board has assured the Vicar and people of St. David's of its appreciation of this gift and the spirit which prompted it.

DIOCESAN CONVENTION

The One Hundred and Sixty-second Annual Convention of the Diocese of New York was held on Tuesday, May 8, and began with a celebration of the Holy Communion at the High Altar in the Cathedral at 8:15 a.m., when the list of the Bishops of the Church, and of the Clergy and Laity, who had died since last Convention, was read. After breakfast in the Undercroft of the Synod House the Convention was called to order at 10 a.m.

Among items of business transacted, general approval was given to the Five Million Dollar Reconstruction and Advance Fund called for by General Convention.

ANNUAL PRESENTATION SERVICE OFFERINGS INCREASE

More than thirty-five hundred children and their friends from the Sunday Schools of the Diocese attended the Annual Service for the Presentation of their Lent Missionary Offerings in the Cathedral on Saturday, May 19, at 2 o'clock. Bishop Gilbert presided, made the address and presented the awards. The Cathedral Clergy and the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, Director of Religious Education and Youth Work in the Diocese, assisted in the Service. Persistent rain prevented the out-of-door Procession, as is the custom, and so it formed in the Crypt of the Cathedral and marched through the Nave to places reserved in the Choir and Crossing. In its many hued vestments this procession is a striking feature of the Presentation Service, and always serves to draw many admiring comments.

On Tuesday, March 27, at the Dumont Television Studio, 515 Madison Avenue, a group of the Cathedral Choir Boys, under the direction of the Rev. Canon Green, Precentor of the Cathedral, made a television broadcast for the Blue Network. This was in preparation for Easter, and as a help and comfort to returned veterans and to those in hospitals.

ST. LUKE'S GRADUATION

On the afternoon of Ascension Day, May 10th, St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing held its Commencement Exercises in the Cathedral, at which eighty-two nurses received their diplomas, of whom the majority will enter the Armed Forces. This is the largest class of nurses ever to graduate from St. Luke's, one of the first schools of nursing to be established in New York City, and the first time its Graduation Exercises have been held in the Cathedral.

Mr. Lincoln Cromwell, president of St. Luke's Hospital, presided at the Commencement Exercises and conferred the diplomas. Speakers included Dr. Edward S. Donovan, president of the Medical Board of St. Luke's Hospital, and Mrs. Eleanor Stevenson of the American Red Cross.

EASTER AT THE CATHEDRAL

Easter at the Cathedral was observed with Services of Holy Communion at 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11 a.m., Morning Prayer at 10 a.m., and Evening Prayer at 4 p.m. Bishop Manning was present in his Official Seat at the 11 o'clock Service, when his sermon on the topic "The Glory and Power of Jesus Christ" was read for him from the pulpit by the Rev. Canon West, in which the Bishop declared that present world conditions have compelled men to see more clearly than ever that Christ Who rose from the dead is the one hope for mankind. "We have been compelled to see", he said, "that Jesus Christ is the one true Light of this world, the one true Guide, the One and Only Saviour from our sins, the one who alone can give us strength to meet the griefs, the trials, the experiences, which come to all of us in this life." The Service, which was attended by more than 7500 persons, included 675 uniformed WAVES from the United States Naval Training School at Hunter College.

At the 4 o'clock Evening Prayer Service anthems by Bach, Shaw, Handel and Coke-Jephcott were sung, and the Service concluded with a festival Te Deum before the High Altar.

THE BISHOP OF CHICHESTER

The Right Rev. George Kennedy Allen Bell, Lord Bishop of Chichester, who has been visiting this country by invitation of the Episcopal Church and the World Council of Churches, was the preacher in the Cathedral at 11 a.m. on the Sunday after Ascension Day, May 13th. In his sermon, which was heard by a large congregation, the Bishop dealt with the subject of Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the victory on the European Battle Front. He went on to say: "I take the opportunity, as a representative of Great Britain, of thanking the great American Nation for the way in which you have given Great Britain your aid with military supplies and supplies of all kinds, and have proved a most liberal partner and comrade in the time of need. We have endeavored to do our part too, and we shall continue to do it, to the very end of the war with Japan, and in the Post War period. It was a belief in might and for might's sake that led Germany to count on the conquest of Britain, and in due course of Russia and the United States. Might had to be met by might, but the Allies' might proved stronger in the end, because it was inspired by faith in a cause outside itself. The United Nations believed in somehing more than force * * * I know only too well the weakness of the contemporary Church, and let Catholics, and Protestants and Orthodox who have been separated by the War, do their parts, relying on God's grace to work together as companions in arms for the titanic task of reconstructing a world which has been shaken to its foundations. 'This is the victory which overcometh the World, even our faith.' "

The Plans of Action, which will be printed and distributed throughout the Diocese, follow:—

DIOCESAN PLAN OF ACTION

We, the undersigned, acting as the Forward in Service Committee of the Diocese of New York, feel that it is essential that a Plan of Action on a Diocesan basis be adopted. Last year we prepared a suggested Plan of Action for each parish and mission and have done so again.

We strongly urge, however, that in addition to the Parochial Plan, the following objectives should be carried out on a Diocesan basis:

1. That the Board of Religious Education study the need for, and explore the possibility of obtaining a Diocesan Conference Center. This Conference Center to be at the disposal of all groups within the Diocese.
2. Summer Conferences, conducted by the Board of Religious Education, study one of the following:
   (a) HE SENT THEM TWO BY TWO
   (b) THE DOCTRINE OF THE INCARNATION
   (c) OUR EXPANDING CHURCH
3. The Convocation Clergy Retreats to use the Christian Fellowship theme. (See LISTENING TO GOD.)
4. The February Clergy Institute to be devoted to the study of the Doctrine of the Incarnation. The Board of Religious Education to be responsible for planning this Institute.
5. Sunday School children of the Diocese write biographies of living missionaries of our Church. At the annual service, a prize to be given to the children writing the best biographies. The Board of Religious Education to work out the details of this plan.
6. That the Missionary and Church Extension Society continue to study the possibilities of opening new churches by providing an adequate building and guaranteeing the clergy in charge a sound salary for a definite period of time.
7. Forward in Service Committee should appoint a committee of its members to promote the week of Lay Evangelism. (February 24th)
8. That the opportunity for extension of the Christian Fellowship be especially considered in Church work among returning servicemen and we recommend that the Social Service Commission of the Diocese work out ways and means of making the most of this opportunity.

PARISH PLAN OF ACTION

The Christian Fellowship

The Missionary Imperative Today

Membership in Christian Fellowship implies that we are all a part of the Missionary enterprise, as the General Convention stated in 1835: The Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society "shall be considered as comprehending all persons who are members of this Church". Canon XXI, Section 1, of the Diocese of New York states "All Members of the Church in this Diocese shall be considered as constituting the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society".

Parish Planning Conference

It is strongly urged that a Parish Planning Conference take place in every parish and mission before the first of October. (See THE PLANNING CONGREGATION.) We suggest that on the first Sunday in October every congregation have presented to it the Plan of Action for the year.

Worship

We recommend that each parish and mission:

1. have public Baptism as often as posisble and at least three times during the year with instructions which emphasize the missionary implications of Baptism. (See EXTENDING THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE PRAYER BOOK.)
2. hold a Feast of Lights during Epiphany. (See EXTENDING THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE PRAYER BOOK.)

3. emphasize, through the priest, the specific duties of all newly confirmed. (Our suggestion, see Spiritual Pledge Card in EXTENDING THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE PRAYER BOOK.)
4. hold instructions about the Missionary Imperative on two occasions during the year, when the Celebration of the Holy Communion is the main service of the day. Have a lay reader assist the celebrant by reading the missionary implications involved in the service. (See EXTENDING THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE PRAYER BOOK, Page 14.)
5. have regular Intercessions for missions and parishes by name. See:
   (a) "The Diocese of New York Prayer Calendar".
   (b) "The Calendar of Prayer for Missions".
6. have sermons on the missionary implications of the Holy Communion. (See EXTENDING THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE PRAYER BOOK, Page 10).
7. Secure on two occasions during the year missionaries from the field to present the cause of Diocesan and General Missions (Names may be obtained from the Office of the Program of the Church, Old Synod House, Amsterdam Avenue and 112th Street, New York 25, New York.)

Study

We recommend that each parish and mission:

1. (a) conduct a Lenten School on the Doctrine of the Incarnation, and use this material as basis in Lenten preaching. (See DOCTRINE OF THE INCARNATION.)
   (b) study, in all Young People's Groups, during Lent, LO, HE COMES, an adapted study of the Incarnation prepared by the National Council's Department of Youth.
2. encourage group study of specific Missionary fields:
   (a) AFRICA
   (b) UPROOTED AMERICANS
   (c) OUR EXPANDING CHURCH
   (d) For Young People, CHURCH IN THE WORLD (Prepared by the National Council's Depart- of Youth.)
3. learn of the purpose, history and goals of the World Council. (See THE WORLD COUNCIL OF CHURCHES.)

Service

We recommend that each parish and mission:

1. determine specific goals for Evangelism and Church attendance. (see Chart THIS IS OUR TASK.)
2. set aside the week of February 24 for Lay Evangelism. (See HE SENT THEM TWO BY TWO.)
3. provide opportunities for young people to study and choose vocations in the Church. (See THE CHURCH CALLS YOU.)
4. support the Reconstruction and Advance Fund according to the plan of the Diocese of New York.

RICHMOND MISSIONS AND ASSISTED PARISHES SHOW PROGRESS

At the annual meeting of the Convocation of Richmond, held on April 17th, the Reverend Raymond G. Rogers in his report as Dean noted encouraging progress in the work of the several missions and assisted parishes operating under the supervision of the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society.

In speaking of St. Anne's, Great Kills, and the Church of the Holy Comforter, Eltingville, he said:
"Since the last report, a merger had been contemplated between the Churches of St. Anne's, Great Kills and Holy Comforter, Eltingville. At the decision of the Bishop, arrangements were made for the work to continue at both stations. The Reverend Byrle S. Appley, who for a short while was at Tottenville, was appointed Vicar of these Missions, succeeding the Reverend Arthur T. Brown. A brief glimpse of these two Churches will not be amiss.

"The women of St. Anne's undertook the responsibility of making the interior of the building more churchly. They have done a splendid job and are to be highly commended. Attendance at the 11 A.M. services averages 23. On Christmas there were 54 Communions, and on Easter there were 58. The Church School averages 25 children and 6 teachers.

"Since December, $400. has been paid to reduce the mortgage, of this $300. was given by the Women's Service League. The mortgage is now $2,050.

"Gratifying indeed was the evident interest shown in the increase in the part of the Vicar's stipend paid by the Mission; they now pay $83.32 per month.

"It is hoped that painting of the exterior of the building (stopped by cold weather) may be resumed shortly. The Women's Service League has also undertaken the task of landscaping the grounds and planting of shrubs, and new steps and walk to the Church are contemplated. The Vicar reports that preliminary steps have been taken looking to the organization of a Men's Club. It is hoped that this group will be meeting regularly before Summer. The present balance of more than $500. indicates real health.

"Congregations at the Holy Comforter have averaged 23 since the Vicar came. On Christmas and Easter there were 53 Communions. The Church School averages 35 children with 7 teachers.

"The Mission doubled its share of the Vicar's stipend: it is now $40. per month. Of the monthly income of $178., $80. was contributed by the Women's Guild.

"It was my privilege to attend the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the parish. In addressing the members of the congregation, I tried to point out that there was need for increased endeavor on the part of each individual to pull together and to do something concretely towards the growth of the Church. No matter how good or poor a priest is, he cannot do a constructive piece of work without fullest cooperation of each member.

"A necessary as well as splendid piece of work was instituted by members of the Holy Comforter in the Youth Canteen for young people of the community. This has been most successful during the Winter. This has now been merged with the Coordinating Council of the 123rd Precinct and will move to the new Eltingville Youth Center as soon as that building is ready.

"A Y.P.F. has been formed this past Lent and though small gives promise of future development.

"I must not pass by the improvement in the Chancel of the Church. Under the direction of the Vestry, the shaky steps at the Altar have been removed and the Altar brought down to a more dignified as well as safe position in the Sanctuary. Dangerous conditions of steps and lack of a railing on the porch of the Church have been remedied."

"We rejoice", said the Dean, "with the Church of St. Stephen, Tottenville, working under the lay-leadership of Mr. R. Elliott Brock, in the greatly improved financial condition of the parish. The Church entered 1945 completely free from debt for the first time in its history. The mortgage of $2000. was burned at the annual meeting on January 15th. The Lay Reader in charge reports that payments on the stipend have more than doubled in the last four years. Steadily increasing congregations have put the parish in the lead of the six non-Roman Churches in Tottenville. Both they and we look to a full parochial status in 1946. We congratulate the members of St. Stephen's.

Reporting on St. Simon's, Concord, Fr. Rogers continued, "St. Simon's continues to show the kind of interest and faithfulness which is most encouraging. The Reverend Arthur J. Torrey reports attendance well above the average. According to figures presented to me, each month the average for the early Celebration is about 20, and the general average throughout the year at the late service runs 50 or better.

"The Vicar tells me that the music under the leadership of Mr. Mark Kerr has shown a great improvement. Especially was this true on the great festivals of Christmas and Easter. Just to give you a glimpse of the financial situation, I would like to quote the balance of last April with that of this present time. Then it was $1,451.10 and by December the balance was $2,101.57. This present month the parish carries a balance of $ 701.69 after having invested approximately $1,500. (That deserves a round of applause.)

"The Church School, under the leadership of Mr. Norton Fremd, is well attended and manifest real live interest. Credit is due to the Ladies' Guild and the Friendly Club for many ways in which they help as well as contribute.

"The Mission suffered a real loss in the death of Gordon Cumming, U.S.N.R. who had been a leader of the young people and former crucifer. A memorial Communion Service was held on January 6th and recently a tree was planted in the Churchyard in his memory, near the spot where he stood as crucifer with Bishop Manning at the laying of the cornerstone of the Church.

"The Church will be 90 years old on June 29th, or perhaps more accurate to say, the original Church was dedicated 90 years ago by Bishop Potter. As the Vicar puts it: 'We are still having to be milk fed. The great desire of our people is to become a parish. Their increasing interest and support show this.' Plans are being formulated for the purpose of raising a fund for a rectory. This seems a necessary step in looking toward life as a parish, and we in the Convocation and Council will do what we can to help."

SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE ISSUES 1944 REPORT

The 1944 Report of the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, recently made public by the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director, disclosed that 337,027 lodgings and 1,223,414 meals were provided for active merchant seamen of all ratings, nationalities and creeds at the Institute's 13-story building, 25 South Street.

The year marked the completion by the Institute of 100 years of service to seafarers prefaced by a decade of general missionary activity; the beginning of a new century free and clear of its building debt, and with a reserve fund for the modernization of the headquarters as soon as war restrictions permit. The depression and war years taxed all the facilities of the building, and during 1944, the maritime industry under the chairmanship of Mr. Ernest J. McCormack, rased $302,000 for modernizing and equipping the building. During 1944 the main lobbies and Baylies lobby were redecorated and sound-insulated.

Other vital services to seamen included the handling of 154,092 pieces of baggage; the protecting of 16,020 deposits of seamen's earnings; the lending of 13,676 credit loans to 6,306 individual seamen; the visits to 3,493 ships by Institute representatives who sold a total of 5,809 War Bonds to ships' crews; received 10,897 deposits or allotments for banks. They distributed 68,468 items useful to seamen: games, wallets, booklets, calendars, victorola records, etc.

The Central Council of Associations of Women packed a total of 7,120 Christmas boxes for the Merchant Marine which were distributed by the Institute in its building, in hospitals and on shipboard, also 1,883 Bon Voyage packages and 1,060 comfort bags.

The Merchant Marine School continued its classes for high school boys. Cadet and Merchant Marine enrollments for 1944 totalled 1,008 and Coast Guard students, 1,451, a total attendance of 41,789 at 3,694 lectures.

The Personal Service Bureau handled 45,697 interviews and the Credit Bureau aided 6,306 individual seamen needing temporary loans.

The Institute took vigorous action to improve recreation facilities for the ever-expanding American Merchant Marine as well as for seamen of the United Nations. During 1944 its Janet Roper Club at 3 East 67th Street recorded 24,158 visits; its Janet Roper Room at 25 South Street reported 18,314 visits by seamen; 46,133 visits to its Seamen's Lounge; a total attendance of 108,168 at 321 entertainments such as movies, concerts, lectures and sports. Allied Club Rooms for Dutch, British, Belgian and Danish seamen continued to provide homelike meeting places for these men.

The Conrad Library which celebrated its 10th anniversary, reported an attendance of 19,168 seamen readers and distributed 20,489 books and 69,000 magazines. The Employment Bureau, which cooperates fully with the Recruitment and Manning Organization of the War Shipping Administration, obtained 6,203 jobs for seamen. The Missing Seamen's Bureau located 387 missing mariners. The Institute chaplains held 701 religious services at the Institute, Marine Hospitals and Hoffman Island with a total attendance of 13,620.

Other services rendered included 5,224 treatments in dental, eye-ear-nose and throat clinics; 36,528 calls at barber, tailor shop and laundry; 5,875 pieces of clothing and 1,516 knitted articles distributed. The Information Desk answered 41,270 inquiries.

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB HAS BUSY YEAR

An increased interest in its work, and a resultant expansion of its services, characterized the program of the Church Periodical Club, Diocese of New York, in the past year. The C. P. C. has had to give many more direct subscriptions to supplement the magazines regularly remailed, because of the increased war-connected demands for magazines. Many subscriptions to religious, secular and children's periodicals have been given to missionaries, church organizations, hospitals and individuals in isolated districts, and as a large number of these are passed on by the recipients to others who need them, they have helped many people.

Books have been sent to schools, libraries and individuals and 101 were sent from the Diocesan Office for Christmas gifts to our missionaries and workers. The letters received are most encouraging and reveal the need and appreciation of the recipients. The following is a sample of the responses received:—

"I can't express our deep gratefulness to you for these gifts; it goes deeper than just being happy to have the books; it is a feeling of fellowship and a belonging to something bigger and warmer than just an organization—the Church—but a friendly Church where real people remember the missionary workers and make them feel part of something vital and friendly out beyond St. Peter's Parish."

"It is impossible to over-rate the work of the C.P.C. Those who live in isolated places like to feel that they are really a part of our great Church and that others remember them. Sometimes I think that what Tennyson said of prayer can be applied to 'something to read', and that the sharing of that reading material does much to 'bind the whole world about the feel of God'.

Among the donations of books sent from the Diocesan Office during the year were the following:—

Frontier Nursing Service, Brutus, Kentucky
New books on nursing and for children and workers, including Lippincott's Quick Reference Book. The latter was acknowledged as follows: "It more than meets our highest expectations, a library in itself. Being able to read up on our cases before calling the doctor helps greatly in many ways."

Patterson School, Lederwood, North Carolina
75 new Hymnals and other books

Missionary District of Cuba, Bishop Blankinship
Hymnals and Prayer Books

Bishop Thomas of Brazil
Necessary educational and reference books

House of Happiness, Scottsboro, Alabama
Books for children

St. Mary's School for Indian Girls, Springfield, S. D.
For the school library

The Children's Village, Dobbs Ferry, New York
New Hymnals

St. Faith's House, New York
Books for their library

Four subscriptions to the "Reader's Digest" in Braille are given, and the C.P.C. would like to give many more, and would also like to help to provide Talking Books, including the Bible, to those more recently blinded in the war who are not yet able to read Braille.

There is a special need for Church periodicals to pass on regularly. All new books which can be obtained are needed to fill requests in addition to the older books received.

Diocesan headquarters of the Club are located in the Old Synod House, Cathedral Close, Amsterdam Avenue and 111th Street, New York, 25, N. Y.

"I used to wonder where my mite box pennies went, when I was a youngster", Chaplain Gordon M. Reese quotes from a naval officer's letter. "Now I know. I've seen some of the work the Church is doing in Honolulu. I am certainly proud of its activities. I have attended services at St. Peter's Chinese, the Hawaiian congregation, Holy Trinity Japanese, and also St. Andrew's Cathedral. All of us will go back better missionaries and better Christians for these experiences."

NEGRO LEADER CONSECRATED BISHOP OF LIBERIA

The Right Reverend Bravid W. Harris, who last month was consecrated Bishop of Liberia, is the only Negro Bishop in active service in the Episcopal Church. At present the Right Reverend Edward T. Demby is the only other Negro Bishop. He retired in 1939 as Suffragan Bishop of Arkansas.

Bishop Harris came to national headquarters of the Episcopal Church in 1943, the first Negro to hold the recently established position of Secretary for Negro Work in the Division of Home Missions of the Church's National Council. Previously he had been Archdeacon for Negro Work in the Diocese of Southern Virginia.

Born in 1896, Bishop Harris was educated at St. Augustine's College, Raleigh, North Carolina, and the Bishop Payne Divinity School, Petersburg, Virginia. During the first World War he was a lieutenant in the Army and saw active service overseas. He has written various brochures about the Church's work with Negro people, and is a member of the Joint Commission on Negro Work of the General Convention. He is President of the Board of the Norfolk Community Hospital, an institution of 140 beds, and the only hospital exclusively for Negroes in the City of Norfolk.

In Liberia, where he fills the vacancy created by the retirement of the Right Reverend Leopold Kroll, who served since 1936, he is the head of the Episcopal Church's only work on the continent of Africa. Liberia is the oldest mission field of the Episcopal Church, dating back more than a hundred years. In the little Republic are 36 parishes and missions of the Episcopal Church, with 30 clergymen, also schools for boys and for girls, and a hospital.

Bishop Harris preached at the 11 o'clock service in the Cathedral on Sunday morning, April 15th.

BRONX MISSION PRESENTS GIFT TO BOARD OF MANAGERS

St. David's Colored Mission in the Bronx, upon the celebration of the Fiftieth Aniversary of its founding, presented to Bishop Gilbert a check for $1,000. to be delivered to the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society. Accompanying the check was a letter from the Vicar, the Reverend Dr. Arthur G. Best, which stated:

> "That the people of St. David's felt that it was their duty to show in some tangible way their loyalty to the Bishops and the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society for the help and support they have received throughout the past fifty years."

The Board of Managers at its next meeting expressed by acclamation their appreciation of this unusual gift and the spirit which prompted it.

DIOCESAN AGENCY EXPANDS SERVICE

Much is being written and said today about the problems of youth. In a prolonged war period such as we have been living through, with its dislocating effects on home and family life, it is inevitable that young people must face situations and problems with which they have neither the experience nor the ability to deal.

The welfare of young people is a matter of grave concern to the Diocesan membership and every year a portion of the funds raised for The Program of the Church is allocated to services especially designed to give guidance and protection to the young.

Youth Consultation Service is one of the Diocesan agencies that is devoting its entire attention to the problems of adolescent girls. Organized in 1911, through the efforts of Father Huntington, O.H.C., and Bishop Manning, the agency in its more than thirty years of existence has helped thousands of young girls throughout the Diocese find solutions to serious personal problems.

The map carried on the opposite page gives some indication of the extent to which the services of the agency are sought by young girls throughout the Diocese. The agency maintains two service centers at the present time: one in the old Trinity Rectory on West 25th Street, New York City; and the other in White Plains. At the headquarters office, New York City cases are cared for, and from the White Plains office all Westchester County is served.

In the last eighteen months the number of applicants living north of 110th Street who have appealed for help has enormously increased. This has created a serious problem for YCS, as the long distances the girls are obliged to travel reduce the effectiveness of the service. It is a demonstrated fact that in dealing with adolescence best results are obtained when there is close and frequent conference between the worker and the young person needing guidance.

After a careful study, the Board of Directors of YCS has decided to open a branch office on June 1st at 384 East 149th Street in the Bronx. This branch will be easy of access to any girl living in upper Manhattan or the Bronx and following the established policy of the agency, the new service is planned to provide for both white and Negro girls and will have both white and Negro case workers on its staff.

A young hospitalized soldier back from the South Pacific saw the film, "We, Too, Receive", sought out his rector and said: "You may tell the congregation that the sort of thing that picture shows happens every day . . . it is the absolute truth. I know. I was there!" This film is still available by application to the Committee on The Program of the Church, Old Synod House, Cathedral Close.

Hohly of Christ Church, Bronxville, spoke on the "Fellowship at Prayer"; the Reverend Beverly Boyd, Executive Secretary of the Department of Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of Churches, stressed the need of world-wide extension of the fellowship. The Reverend Philip M. ## Convocation of Dutchess

The Convocation of Dutchess held its annual meeting on April 26th at St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie, convening at 4 p.m., with Bishop Gilbert presiding.

The Reverend William J. Matthers reported on his work at the Church of the Regeneration, Pine Plains, and at Trinity Church, Millerton. His report showed that both places under his care were making progress. Advances have been made in Church attendance, Church School registration and income. The people at Millerton desire keenly to have their own building and are raising a fund to help meet this need.

Convocation of Ramapo

The Convocation of Ramapo met in St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, St. Johns, on April 30th, at 10:30 a.m., at which time the service of Holy Communion was celebrated by Bishop Gilbert with the Dean of the Convocation, the Reverend Ernest W. Churchill, and the Vicar of St. John's, the Reverend Walter F. Hoffman, assisting.

Bishop Gilbert presided at the business meeting. After the reading and acceptance of the minutes of the last meeting and the Treasurer's report, Mr. Churchill gave his report as Dean. He spoke of the increased giving towards clergy stipend of the missions at Pearl River and Valley Cottage; the payment of the last of an old indebtedness by Grace Church, Port Jervis; and the large repairs which had been undertaken at Spring Valley, Piermont and Jones Point. He also complimented the Reverend Gordon W. Weeman on the status as a self-supporting parish recently assumed by Trinity Church, Garnerville; and announced that the Reverend Walter F. Hoffman was now in charge of the work at Mt. Ivy and Willow Grove in addition to his other work at Haverstraw and St. Johns. Mr. Churchill announced that the giving of the parishes and missions of the Convocation for The Program of the Church had increased and hoped that the Convocation as a whole would soon meet its full quota.

In speaking of missionary giving, Mr. Churchill stated that it was interesting to note that those parishes and missions which had used the film, "We, Too, Receive", had considerably increased their giving.

The Reverend G. Adolph Zeltner, now in charge of St. Paul's, Spring Valley, and St. John's, New City; and the Reverend Harry B. Malcolm, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Greenwood Lake, were introduced. It was noted with regret that the Reverend Hugh McCandless, Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, would soon leave the Convocation to become Rector of the Church of the Epiphany in New York City.

The Reverend Paul F. Williams spoke of the excellent services rendered by the retiring Dean and particularly mentioned the work he was doing as Chaplain of the Rockland State Hospital. Mr. Williams also reported upon his activities as Representative of the Convocation on the Diocesan Social Service Commission. The Reverend Oliver D. Carberry of Christ Church, Warwick, reported on the work of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and mentioned the need of a Church School for girls in New York City.

The Reverend George W. Dumbell of St. David's, Highland Mills, and St. John's, Arden, reported as Convocation Chairman of The Program of the Church; and the Reverend Walter W. Reid in charge of the work at Tomkins Cove, Fort Montgomery and Jones Point reported for the committee on a Home for Aged.

The following officers were duly elected by the Convocation:

Dean for a term of 3 years
The Reverend George W. Dumbell, St. David's, Highland Mills and St. John's, Arden

Clerical Member of Council for a term of 2 years
The Reverend Ernest W. Churchill, Grace Church, Nyack

Lay Member of Council for a term of 2 years
Mr. Walter H. Belding, St. David's, Highland Mills

Secretary
The Reverend Gordon W. Weeman, Trinity Church, Garnerville

Treasurer
Mr. A. J. Miller, Christ Church, Suffern

Representative on Diocesan Board of Religious Education
The Reverend Gordon W. Weeman, Trinity Church, Garnerville

Representative on Diocesan Social Service Commission
The Reverend Paul F. Williams, St. Stephen's, Pearl River and All Saints', Valley Cottage

Convocation Representative on The Program of the Church
The Reverend Oliver D. Carberry, Christ Church, Warwick

Clerical Representative on the Board of Managers
The Reverend Albert H. Ohse, Christ Church, Piermont

Lay Representative on the Board of Managers
Mr. Floyd D. Frost, St. John the Divine, Tomkins Cove

Convocation Representative, Forward-in-Service
The Reverend G. Adolph Zeltner, St. Paul's Spring Valley and St. John's, New City

The Reverend Raymond M. O'Brien was introduced and spoke briefly on the program for Youth Work in the Diocese. Mr. Theodor Oxholm spoke of the great service Mr. A. J. Miller had rendered the many years he had been the Representative of the Convocation on the Board of Managers.

Luncheon was served by members of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Mission. In acknowledging the thanks of the meeting for his hospitality, the Reverend Walter F. Hoffman spoke of the high place the Mission held among many campers in that area. He stated that 350 campers filled the Church to overflowing on Palm Sunday.

The afternoon session was in charge of the Reverend Hugh McCandless, Vice-Chairman of the Diocesan Committee on Forward-in-Service. The Reverend Gerald F. Burrilll, Assistant Secretary of Forward-in-Service of the National Council, briefly described the Plans of Action adopted by the Diocesan Committee.

Under the leadership of Mr. McCandless, there followed a discussion of each item in the proposed Plans of Action, after which the meeting adjourned.

REPORT FROM THE PHILIPPINES

We have only to glance at the pictures in our daily papers to see the scars that war is leaving on the cities and towns of the Philippines. Accounts by those recently released from internment tell us of the complete breakdown in public health service, schools, and the whole mental and spiritual life of the people. For over three years a ruthless enemy has had the Filipinos in its grip, and it will take many years to wipe out the effects of that occupation.

There are many organizations which give relief in times of suffering, but organizations do not work by themselves. There is no solution for the problems caused by man during war, except that found by man in times of peace. The kind of men needed to rebuild the moral and spiritual and physical life of seventeen million Filipinos cannot be trained in a mass-production factory. The need is for men and women who have come under the influence of the Church, for no better agency has been developed for training the whole life of man. For forty-five years the Church has been at work in the Philippines training the people on whom the burden of reconstruction will fall. It is up to the Church to continue to train such leaders.

Letters recently received tell of the fine work of the Filipino clergy during the time that the American members of the mission staff were interned. It is to the credit of the late Bishop Mosher that he insisted on the ordination of Filipinos and stressed the need for proper preparation on their part before ordination. Little did anyone know that so soon would come the period of persecution and trial. That the Filipino clergy have stood up under such severe testing is proof of the wise policy of native leadership.

One of the first needs of the Church in the postwar period is a staff for the Theological Training School in the Philippines. We need many more like Eduardo Longid and Albert Masferre and Mark Suluan to lead their own people, and to encourage them to more self-help.

No nation can rise above the level of the women of that nation. Forty-five years ago a kindergarten was opened in Manila in connection with St. Luke's Church. It was the first kindergarten to be operated in the Philippines, and boys and girls were trained together from the first day of school. Later schools especially for girls, like the Moro Settlement School at Zamboango, and St. Stephen's Girls' School for Chinese at Manila, were founded to provide proper education for girls. Teachers like Sister Estrella, formerly Lillian Bagis, a Moro girl from Zamboango, and nurses like Virginia Atienza, show to what heights of usefulness one may rise with proper training and emphasis in education.

St. Luke's Hospital is the center of the mission's medical life. There nurses are trained — more than 400 of them since 1911 — and there young physicians receive their final instruction before going out to practice on their own. There, in 1940, 4000 patients were admitted to the hospital for treatment, and more than 40,000 received care in the out-patient department. All through the occupation of Manila the hospital has kept open and it is still a temple of healing in the midst of suffering and distress.

These schools and hospitals — each with a Church as the center of its life — would not have been built were it not for the Episcopal Church. Our Church is growing because it appeals to the Filipinos. Like them, it is bridging the gap between authority and freedom. Like the government of the Commonwealth, the Church is keeping the best of the old, but it is not afraid of the new. That is why the Philippine Episcopal Church is now the largest Diocese our Church has outside of the United States.

NEW QUARTERLY BULLETIN

The Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York has just issued the first edition of its new quarterly bulletin. Copies may be procured from the office at 27 West 25th Street, New York 10, N. Y. The aim of the bulletin will be to "report on what we are learning currently about the causes and treatment of the problems of youth".

OHIO PARISH BACKS MISSIONS 100%

At its annual meeting in February, the parish of St. Stephen's Church, Columbus, Ohio, adopted the following resolution:—

"Whereas, to be a Christian is in truth to be a missionary for the Church, and

Whereas, every pledge from members and friends of St. Stephen's Church, Columbus, Ohio, for the year 1945, was for 'both sides of the envelope', and that is, for both parish and missions, now

Therefore be it Resolved by the members of St. Stephen's Church in Parish Meeting assembled this thirteenth day of February 1945, that St. Stephen's Church strive always to maintain this one hundred percent (100%) support of the Church's whole program, and

Be it Further Resolved that the Vestry of St. Stephen's Church take every step consistent with the teaching and practice of the Church to make this forever possible from year to year, and that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Parish Meeting."

DIOCESAN CONVENTION SUPPORTS RECONSTRUCTION AND ADVANCE FUND

The Convention of the Diocese of New York, held on May 8th, unanimously adopted the following resolution in support of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund:

WHEREAS, the General Convention, the National Council, and the Presiding Bishop are calling upon the Church to raise a Special Fund of Five Million Dollars to be used for Reconstruction and Advance Work in our Missionary Fields as soon as the War ends; and

WHEREAS, the Bishop of this Diocese calls upon the Diocese to participate in this undertaking to the full extent that is possible without conflicting with our efforts for the support of The Program of the Church, or with the present appeals of our Diocesan Missionary Agencies for the maintenance of their work; and

WHEREAS, the plan for raising this Fund contemplates an educational campaign and an appeal for special gifts during 1945 and a general appeal in 1946 so that the Fund may be raised before the next meeting of the General Convention;

BE IT RESOLVED: That the Clergy of the Diocese are urged to study the Fund Handbook for their information and to cooperate actively in the educational features of the plan, including the dissemination of literature as it is released from the headquarters of the Fund at 281 Fourth Avenue;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That, in accordance with the plans officially announced, each Rector or Vicar of a congregation in this Diocese is requested to appoint without delay a committee to obtain special gifts, large or small, for the Reconstruction and Advance Fund from the members of his congregation, The Parish Committee to act under the direction and guidance of the Rector in soliciting such special gifts;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the Committee on Diocesan Finances be requested to confer with the Committee on The Program of the Church and to report to the Bishop what, in the judgment of these two Committees, is the wisest way in which the general appeal, suggested for 1946, can be made in this Diocese.

"A Handbook for Clergy", which has already been distributed, is an explanation of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund, which was authorized by the General Convention, approved by the House of Bishops, and is now being launched by the National Council. The Handbook emphasizes the necessity of practically a year of education for the whole Church. The Fund has a twofold purpose:

"First, the creation of a deep feeling of appreciation for the missionary work the Church is doing throughout the world. It calls for the teaching of the direct relationship between the establishment of a Christian fellowship among nations and a lasting peace after the war. It calls for a complete understanding of what the Church is doing to strengthen the souls, the minds, and the bodies of the people with whom it works.

"The second goal, the raising of $5,000,000 for Reconstruction and Advance Work in the mission fields, is dependent upon the first objective. Only as Episcopalians everywhere understand and appreciate the great good which has been done and the vast opportunities of the future can such a sum be raised. In plain terms, the success or failure of this effort depends completely upon the leadership given to it by the clergy."

Starting the first of May, Church members all over the country will begin an intensive study of the missionary work, in this country and in foreign fields, being done by the Church, and the postwar program of missionary maintenance and extension.

The plan for the remainder of 1945 calls for intensive study of a particular mission each remaining month of the year, with the exception of July and August. For May the study topic is the work of the Church in the Philippine Islands, considered a topic of very special interest, as, following American occupation, it has been learned that the Japanese destroyed most of the Church's property in the Islands. Writing from Manila, the Reverend Clifford E. Barry Nobes said: "A pile of concrete rubble. Scorched tree stumps. Craters. Twisted structural steel. Blood-stained cartridge belts. Shattered pews. Innumerable decaying Japanese corpses. Over it all a slender steel girder miraculously supported by the remnants of a concrete wall on which is affixed a wroughtiron cross. That is what remains of the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. John in Manila."

Mr. Nobes told also of destruction of the Bishop's House, the rectory, and other Manila church buildings burned or destroyed by shellfire. He said also that tremendous damage has been done to church property at Zamboanga, Bontoc, Sagada, Besao and other places where the Church had churches, schools and hospitals. St. Luke's Hospital, Manila, is intact and is operated by the United States Army as a civilian hospital, Mr. Nobes said.

The Service was held at the Church on Tuesday, April 10, at which the Rev. Dr. Randolph Ray, the Rector, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Charles A. Weatherby, Chaplain of the Guild, and the Rev. Harold F. Lemoine, former Chaplain. Interment was in the Actors' Fund Plot at Kensico Cemetery.

CITY MISSION SOCIETY CAMPS TO OPEN AGAIN

At all the Society's camps, regular outdoor services with music and worship instill in young minds high ideals and reverence and a realization of God and His nearness. These are girls at Camp Wepawaug.

Nearly one thousand children are expected to attend the three summer camps of the City Mission Society this coming season. The boys and girls to be given this privilege are the needy children from the Diocese, accepted after careful consideration of home situations and the children's own need for health building and for the training that camping offers. The Society's camps all carry on programs designed to give children appreciation of their relationship to God and to man; fun in the out-of-doors; ideals of sportsmanship, knowledge of how to live with others; and a foundation for good citizenship.

"The training that our camp programs give to these boys and girls is based on the Christian way of life", says the Director of the Society, the Reverend William E. Sprenger, "and we believe will help to make them, in years to come, citizens who will know how to keep the peace we are framing today."

The first camp to open this season under the City Mission Society auspices will be Edgewater Creche and Rethmore Home at Englewood, New Jersey, with its first group scheduled for June 7th. This, the former Edgewater Creche, is a beautiful six-acre property with rolling green lawns and shade trees, a recreation building and other permanent structures. It is ideally suited for the small boys and girls of four to eight who are sent here for a two-week period of health building and fun. The director this year will be Miss Emily Eastwood who has had nine years' experience in summer camp work. This vacation center is one of the very few available to young children in this section of the country.

Plans for the New Camp

Camp Wanasquetta for boys is now located on the new 500 acre camp site with 54 acre lake purchased by the Society last year at Parksville New York. This camp was operated the past season with existing buildings and the efficient and experienced direction of Dr. H. Leigh McCurdy, Director of Physical Education in the Yonkers Schools, created a fine program of outdoor and indoor activities including land and water sports. The 560 boys who were sent to camp came home improved in body, mind and spirit.

But additional adequate buildings are now absolutely essential and a special campaign is under way by the Society to obtain funds for these. Architects' plans have been drawn to provide a combination administration building and dining hall to serve the boys' camp and also the girls' camp which eventually will be located on another part of the property. A recreation building is necessary and double cabins are projected for each camp which will make for greater economy in construction and maintenance.

The girls' camp will be carried on for one more season on its present site at Milford, Connecticut, on the grounds of Schermerhorn House. This year's director is Miss Jean Burgess, Head of Physical Education at Rahway High School. As program director, and later director at the Society's vacation center for small children, she initiated outstanding activities and the girls' camp will have this year an unusual program under her leadership.

An important aspect of the Society's camping program is the careful followup given campers throughout the year under the direction of the Family Service Department, to assure that the benefits of the outdoor stay shall be permanent. This plan gives the camps an important place among the welfare activities of the Society that have constructive and lasting value.

DEACONESS BERTHA M. GARVIN

Died at her home in Sanbornville, N. H., on March 23. A graduate of the New York Training School for Deaconesses in 1900, she became Secretary to the Rev. Dr. Huntington, Rector of Grace Church, New York, in 1909, and continued that office under the Rev. Dr. Slattery, the Rev. Dr. Bowie, and for a few months under the Rev. Dr. Pitt, until failing health caused her retirement. She not only acted as Secretary to the Rector of the Parish but also as Secretary of the Vestry. The late William Rhinelander Stewart, for many years one of the Wardens of Grace Church, said of her in 1924: "She is, in fact, the concentrated intelligence department of the Parish and is constantly on duty. Always within reach of a telephone call, with pad and pencil, and typewriter near at hand, she is efficiency embodied. Often weary, but never impatient, a rare combination of sweetness, discretion and strength; to one who has been in close touch with her during all these years, it is a privilege to pay her this tribute." A Memorial Service was held in Grace Church on April 8, at which the Rev. Dr. Walter Russell Bowie, former Rector, made the Address.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE

The Bishop requested the Clergy in the Diocese to offer Special Prayers in all our Churches on Sunday, April 22nd, for God's Blessing and Guidance upon the opening of the San Francisco Conference and during its continuance.

RECONSTRUCTION AND ADVANCE FUND COMES FIRST
RE-OPENING TO VIEW OF CATHEDRAL HIGH ALTAR AND SANCTUARY

On Sunday afternoon, October 14, the Bishop officiated and preached at a Special Service for the Re-opening to View of the High Altar and the Sanctuary of the Cathedral, and announced that: "Important as it is that this great undertaking should now be carried forward, we are postponing our Organized Campaign for funds for this great object because we believe that the first place should be given to the Appeal made by our National Council for a Fund for the strengthening and upbuilding of Religion and the Reconstruction of Churches in our Missionary Fields, especially those devastated by the War." Calling upon the whole Diocese to act in this matter, the Bishop in his Sermon said:

"We are here this afternoon to take part in a service which is of special interest from the standpoint of Architecture and Art as well as of Religion, and which is of great importance in the history and progress of this Cathedral.

Last June I announced that the Reredos behind and above the High Altar was to be removed, and stated that in the judgment of all who are responsible there ought not to be a Reredos in this Cathedral, and that by simply removing the inadequate Reredos then in place a far nobler architectural effect would be produced than even the finest Reredos could give.

That work has been completed and today, as we look at the effect produced, we see that our hopes and anticipations have been more than realized.

The Altar now stands out clearly and dominantly, as it should, the supreme and all important object to which the whole Cathedral leads up.

Those majestic columns around the Apse have now come into their own. They were partly hidden and rendered ineffective by the Reredos. Now they stand in full view in their noble dignity and strength and are a magnificent feature of the Sanctuary.

From the Western Doors up to and beyond the Altar the unbroken vista now opened is unsurpassed, and in fact unequalled, in any Cathedral in the World. This vista extends through the vast length of the Nave and Crossing, on through the great Choir and the Sanctuary to the High Altar, and beyond the Altar into the Chapel of St. Saviour; and as one approaches the Choir there are, on either side, views into some of the other Ambulatory Chapels. One of the fine features of this present change is that through the open spaces around the Sanctuary one now sees into these beautiful Chapels, and these Chapels thus become more truly a part of the Cathedral instead of being shut off from view as they were heretofore.

One other adornment which has been added I want to mention. I wish to express our great appreciation of the anonymous gift of the beautiful wrought iron screens and gates which are now placed around the Sanctuary.

The whole effect of this change is most noble and inspiring. It may be summed up by saying that the glory of the Nave and the vast length of the Cathedral now lead up not to a disappointment but to a Sanctuary of befitting majesty and beauty. We rejoice and give thanks for the accomplishment of this work.

And as we look at what has been accomplished I must express our appreciation of the great part played in this undertaking by the Canon Sacrist of the Cathedral who suggested this important change in the Sanctuary and. with the full approval of the Architects of the Cathedral. has given his unceasing personal care and supervision to the carrying out of the work. To him and to all, including the workmen, who have laboured on this work with such deep interest and such great devotion, we are most grateful.

But this noble addition to the beauty of the Cathedral Interior brings strongly to attention the urgent need for another step—the transformation of that great Round Arch at the junction of the Choir and Crossing to bring it into harmony with all the rest of the Interior. That Round Arch would be noble and impressive in its proper architectural environment but it is entirely out of place in this Cathedral. It breaks the great succession of Gothic Arches through the whole length of the Building; from the Nave it obstructs the vision of the beautiful vaulting in the Choir; it detracts from the effect of the Cathedral Vista and from the beauty of the completed Choir and Sanctuary. I wish greatly that some generous man or woman would provide the funds for the work on that Round Arch, and also I hope that funds may be given to enable us to resume work on the beautiful partly built, North Transept which is being built by the special gifts of Women and is to be dedicated to the Blessed Mother of our Lord.

We long to see this great Cathedral completed. It is a monument of Architecture and Art of which our great City and our Country may justly be proud. It is a symbol of the highest ideals and the noblest aspirations of this Metropolis. It is a mighty witness for the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, a witness the influence of which is felt throughout our Country and beyond. It is one of the greatest Missionary Influences in our whole Church, as to which we receive frequent testimonies from the Missionary Fields, and from the visitors who come from far and near, many of them not members of our Communion. Let us not forget that Religion—true Religion—is the only foundation on which Democracy can endure, that the only answer to the World's problems is God, and that the solution for our difficulties, National and International, is not the tyranny of Fascism, or of Communism, but the Way which Christ offers—The Coming of His Kingdom in all the World. It is this for which this Cathedral stands and bears its witness before all men. This mighty edifice is more than two-thirds built and all that is built has been paid for. Since the days of Bishop Henry C. Potter, when building operations commenced, more than twenty million dollars has been expended on it and, as I stated in my sermon on this subject last June, it will require approximately another ten million dollars to complete its construction including the transformation of the Round Arch in the Crossing, the completion of the North Transept, the building of the South Transept, the building of the Chapter House, the completion of the two Western Towers which are built up to the height of the Nave, the raising of the Outer Roof of the Choir and Sanctuary, and the completion of the Crossing which will eliminate the present temporary and unattractive Dome. This great House of God in the Metropolis of our land must not stand unfinished. We who live in New York must have in mind the claim of this Cathedral upon us, we must remember it in our prayers, our gifts, and our bequests. It would be magnificent for it to be completed as a great visible thank offering to God for the ending of the War, for the Victory granted to the cause of Humanity and Freedom, and for the hope of true and World-Wide peace. It is only natural that we should wish to express our thankfulness in some visible and lasting form, and what better expression of thanksgiving could there he than the completion of this Cathedral for the service of Almighty God and for the blessing of all whom its ministrations can reach?

But now, before I close, I want to make an important announcement. Eager as we are to complete this Cathedral, important as it is that this great undertaking should now be carried forward, we are postponing our Organized Campaign for the funds for this great object because we believe that at this time, in this Diocese and all over the Church, the first place should be given to the Appeal made by our National Council for a Fund of Five Million Dollars for the Strengthening and upbuilding of Religion and the Reconstruction of Churches in our Missionary Fields, especially those devastated by the War. This Appeal is now before our whole Church and this is the reason that there will be no Organized Cathedral Campaign in this Diocese at the present time. This Appeal for the strengthening and upbuilding of Religion in our Missionary Fields devastated by the War has now the first claim upon us. I hope that in every congregation, large or small, in this Diocese, the Clergy and their appointed Committees are actively at work obtaining the larger gifts from the members of their congregations who are able to make such gifts. The Fund of five million dollars asked for is not enough. To meet these World-Wide Needs and Opportunities, our Church should raise far more than this sum, and if our Clergy and people are in earnest we shall raise more than this. The Appeal for this Fund requires no argument. Your Clergy are having full information about it sent to you. Not one of us has the right to be indifferent to it. But we are not yet taking hold of this as strongly as we should. We must give more vigorous and personal effort to it.

I call upon our whole Diocese to act in this matter.

I call upon our Clergy and their appointed Committees in every congregation to redouble their efforts.

I call upon all the men and women of this Diocese to realize the meaning of this obligation upon us, and to share generously in this effort of our whole Church to help our brethren who are in need, and who have such a sacred claim upon our help."

PROPOSED NEW PARISH HOUSE

The Church of the Messiah, Rhinebeck, the Rev. Charles F. Nugent, Rector, is planning to build a Parish House, and under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Parish inaugurated the scheme with a parish supper in the Town Hall on October 10, under the general heading of "The Future of our Parish."

Mr. Oscar H. Murray, Architect, was introduced, who showed plans and sketches of the new building, and then suggestions were invited from all present.

BISHOP GILBERT'S FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Right Reverend Charles K. Gilbert was consecrated as Suffragan Bishop of New York on St. Simon and St. Jude's Day, October 28, 1930, and at the invitation of Bishop Manning, a group consisting of the Deans and Councils of the Six Convocations of the Diocese, together with a representative committee from Manhattan, gathered at a Luncheon on Monday, October 29, in the Undercroft of the Synod House, to celebrate his Fifteenth Anniversary, expecting, of course, that Bishop Gilbert would be present as the guest of honor, but unfortunately, due to a bad cold, he was confined at home, although now able to be out again. After prayers in St. James' Chapel, the company assembled at luncheon, and the Bishop asked the Rev. Harold F. Hohly, Rector of Christ Church, Bronxville, and President of the Standing Committee of the Diocese, to read the letter sent by Bishop Gilbert:

"My dear Bishop:

Needless to say it is a bitter disappointment to me that I cannot be present to share with you and my brethren in this observance of the Fifteenth Anniversary of my Consecration, which you have so graciously provided. It is with a rebellious spirit that I comply with the doctor's orders. I do so only on the assurance that I may thereby the sooner be able to take up my usual duties again.

This is one of those occasions when one gropes in vain for words with which to express his real feelings. Were I with you today there are two things that I would be trying to say:

First, I would hope to indicate in some way my heartfelt thankfulness and my grateful appreciation for all the kindliness and patient goodwill which the clergy and people of the Diocese have shown me as I have tried, during these fifteen years, to measure up to the high obligations of my Office.

Secondly, I would hope to find some way to make you know, my dear Bishop, how truly grateful I am for the privileges that have been mine as I have tried to share, in some small way at least, the heavy burdens that you have to carry—and my affectionate appreciation of your generous consideration and forbearance during these fifteen years of our close association. No Suffragan has ever served under a more thoughtful, gracious and fair-minded Diocesan. It is my earnest prayer that I may be permitted to stand more helpfully by your side until your work is done. Then I shall feel that I have fulfilled the commitment to which I pledged myself at the time of my consecration fifteen years ago.

Please give my affectionate greetings to those who have done me the honor of joining with you in this anniversary. One cannot but be humbled by the knowledge of their prayers and generous good wishes on this occasion which means so much to me. It gives new incentive and determination for whatever years may lie ahead.

I can only pray that God will give to all of us wisdom and courage and renewed consecration for the anxious tasks laid upon His Church in these crucial days in which we are now living.

Affectionately and gratefully yours,

CHAS. K. GILBERT"

The Right Reverend Charles K. Gilbert

Bishop Manning then said: "It would be impossible for me to say how much those words from Bishop Gilbert mean to me, though they are far too generous, and I know how much those words mean to you. In this Diocese we have many things to be thankful for. In our work together, carried along as it is in such a spirit of true fellowship and good will, one of the chief reasons that we have for thankfulness is the life and example and the devotion to his holy calling of our beloved and honored Suffragan Bishop.

We are gathered here to give thanks to God, and to pay to Bishop Gilbert our heartfelt tributes on the Fifteenth Anniversary of his Consecration as a Bishop in the Church of God. No words could express adequately what Bishop Gilbert's work and service during these years have meant to the Church, to the Diocese, and to me.

While our beloved friend and Father in God, Bishop Lloyd, was here with us in the Church on earth, I said on one of his anniversaries, and on other occasions more than once, that I believed that in the whole history of the Church there had never been three Bishops working in such close relationship who have worked in truer fellowship and brotherly affection than the three of us, and what I said then I can say today, for I know that Bishop Gilbert feels as I feel, that that relation between us, of fellowship and brotherly affection, has only deepened and strengthened as the years have passed. In this fellowship he and I have done our best to carry forward the work of this great Diocese, although, in order to keep up in some measure with the schedule, we have had to rely and lean upon the generous and invaluable help of our brother Bishops, Bishop Campbell, and Bishop Littell who is sitting here beside me.

In your name and in my own and on behalf of the whole Diocese, I pay to Bishop Gilbert our tribute of deep personal affection and of deepest appreciation for all that his never tiring single-hearted service has meant to the Diocese and to all of us."

The Bishop then called upon the Rev. Dr. E. Clowes Chorley, as one of Bishop Gilbert's oldest friends among the clergy, who briefly and felicitously voiced the affection and admiration of all for the Suffragan Bishop.

Mr. G. Forrest Butterworth, Jr., Chancellor of the Diocese, then spoke on behalf of the laity, and said: "I am sure that I speak not only for myself, but for all the laymen of the Diocese, when I say that our regard and affection for Bishop Gilbert are second to none, and we endorse most heartily the fine tribute which has so justly been paid him by Bishop Manning and Dr. Chorley. This Diocese makes great demands upon the Diocesan and the Suffragan, and there must have been many times when Bishop Gilbert found them burdensome, if not unreasonable, but I know of no occasion when he failed to respond with sympathetic understanding.

Bishop, I hope that you will take to Bishop Gilbert this message from the laymen of the Diocese. We send to him our affectionate greetings; we regard it a great privilege to welcome him in our parishes and in our homes; we look upon him not only as a loving Father in God, but as a good friend, and we pray that our fellowship may continue for many years."

The gathering sent the following engrossed testimonial to Bishop Gilbert, signed by Bishop Manning and all present:

"ASSEMBLED AT THE CATHEDRAL THIS 29th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1945, TO GIVE THANKS TO GOD AND TO HONOR THE RIGHT REVEREND CHARLES KENDALL GILBERT ON THE FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS CONSECRATION AS BISHOP, WE OFFER TO BISHOP GILBERT IN BEHALF OF THE WHOLE DIOCESE OUR HEARTFELT TRIBUTE OF AFFECTION, OUR APPRECIATION OF ALL THAT HIS WISE, ABLE AND UNTIRING SERVICES HAVE MEANT TO US AND TO THE DIOCESE DURING THESE YEARS, AND OUR HOPE THAT WE MAY LONG CONTINUE TO HAVE THE BLESSING OF HIS FAITHFUL, DEVOTED AND HELPFUL MINISTRATIONS."

Bishop Manning then arose, and holding aloft an envelope in his hand, said: "In the name of the Diocese, in my own name, and in the name of all of you who are here, I am going to send to Bishop Gilbert this envelope, which contains a complete set of Bishop's Vestments. I see some looks of doubt. Some may find it difficult to believe that this envelope contains a complete set of Bishop's Vestments, but in this day of atomic energy, we can believe anything. In this envelope are cassock, rochet, chimere and scarf of the finest quality and of the best make, and it will go to Bishop Gilbert with our love, and with every good wish for him on this anniversary and in the years to come."

Bishop Littell gave the benediction.

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS FACES LARGE TASK

The Every Member Canvass, which will take place in most parishes and missions between November 18th and December 2nd, will stress the great power of the Church for peace. With the end of war, the need for strengthening and extending the Church in the Parish, the Diocese, and the World places a greater responsibility on all of its members than for many years.

Many parishes and missions have gone through the war period on skeleton staffs and have postponed all but the most urgent repairs and improvements to their properties. In some places congregations have outgrown their physical facilities and the housing shortage has increased the need for rectories and parish houses.

The Diocese is faced with urgent demands for funds for building new churches, acquiring rectories and renovating plants which have served long without major repairs. The Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, which maintains or assists about 80 churches in the Diocese, is planning a large program which the war has delayed in execution. The Society also hopes to be able to meet the demand from several missions and parishes in the Diocese for the full-time leadership of a clergyman.

Other Diocesan Organizations, the City Mission Society, the Youth Consultation Service, the Seamen's Church Institute, and others participating in the Diocesan Program of the Church, face new needs in the days ahead.

Similarly, the National Church is called upon to rebuild and extend its work all over the World and to strengthen and extend it in the Missionary Districts in this country.

The story of all these needs, Parochial, Diocesan and Worldwide, is told in the literature the Church will make available this Fall. Every Churchman will want to read this literature so that when he is approached by the canvasser from his parish he will be prepared to make his carefully considered pledge.

NATIONAL COUNCIL ADOPTS BUDGET

The National Council at its September meeting adopted a budget for 1946 in the amount of $2,735,058. which represents an increase over the 1945 budget of $117,421. The apportionment to this Diocese toward this budget is $205,000., representing an increase of $5,000. over our apportionment for the year 1945.

In December the Bishop is usually requested by the National Council to submit an estimate (called an "Expectation") of the amount the Diocese expects to contribute towards this apportionment. This estimate is based on reports submitted to the Bishop stating the "Expectation" of each parish and mission. The Bishop requests these reports in November when most parishes and missions have completed their Every Member Canvasses and can make a reasonable estimate based on the pledges they have received. It is hoped that in view of the increased budget of the National Council and the increases expected in the budgets of our Diocesan agencies that giving to Missions will be particularly stressed in this year's Canvass.

THE CLERGY CONFERENCE

The Eighteenth Annual Clergy Conference of the Diocese of New York was held on Monday, October 22, beginning with a celebration of Holy Communion at the Cathedral High Altar at 8:30 a.m. Over two hundred attended. All sessions were held in St. James' Chapel of the Cathedral. The Clergy were guests of the Bishop at breakfast and luncheon, served in the undercroft of the Synod House, and at tea in the Bishop's House.

Close attention, deep devotion and fellowship were marked features of the Conference. Having in mind the unprecedented problems, opportunities, and needs which the Church is facing, together with unmeasured responsibilities which mark the Post-War World, Bishop Manning set as the theme of the Conference "The Reconstruction and Advance Fund and its Call to us in this Diocese."

After Morning Prayer was read, the Bishop opened the Conference sessions by quoting the late George Tyrrell "What distinguishes religion from ethics is the belief in another world and the endeavor to hold intercourse with it. If the tone of life is to be deep and rich, and not hard and metallic, it needs a strong infusion of mysticism, an abiding consciousness, or at least, subconsciousness, of the transcendent and infinite, of the darkness that walls round our tiny sphere of light. It needs that humility begotten of a felt finitude, evanescence, and dependence, without which man becomes ever more pert and provincial with every step of his progress. Untempered by such humility, morality easily becomes pharisaical, and more perilous to character (as Christ perceived) than vice itself."

The Bishop went on to say that humanistic religion errs especially in this respect, because there is no humility in it, because it has no place in it for Christ as Saviour. It likewise has no place for Creed, because it puts Man in God's place; that the object of the Conference was to promote fellowship with one another and with Christ, Who is our means of communication with the other world, and that our religion centers in the Altar and the great Sacrament of Fellowship. He urged that the Reconstruction and Advance Fund demanded that every priest should be the active head of his parish committee, the large gifts must necessarily be secured first, and that personal calls upon prospective givers should never be omitted, and that no general offering be taken now, as it would do harm and not good at this time, and that there would be a later opportunity for such an offering.

Dr. Lewis B. Franklin of the National Council spoke on "The Work that Must Be Done to Raise this Fund," saying that just any committee would not do, as it was most important to get the right committee of the highest talents; that community leaders, who had not hitherto understood the vital role that religion and missions must play in the present day world, be sought out to serve on such committees. He went on to say that the Church was already there in mission lands, but that equipment was needed, and that future world welfare depends on doing the work now. Mr. Robert D. Jordan of the Department of Promotion of the National Council then described the Fund's campaign methods and literature, and said that a quick campaign would be the best campaign.

The Right Rev. Robert F. Wilner, Suffragan Bishop of the Philippines, who was a guest of the Conference, spoke of the destruction in that Field, and told how two native Philippine priests and two Chinese priests were able to carry on while the American clergy were interned.

Father Hughson, O.H.C., whose subject was "The Opportunity of the Church in this Post-War World," said that such a large subject must be narrowed down to the consideration of the chief and fundamental opportunity; that opportunities do not occur but are made; that the opportunity is about the same thing in the Post-War World as it has been in the Pre-War World; that realism is the great need; that many plans had been made, but that they appear to be without God, and if so, they would fail; that even if all men do not respond, many would, and that the duty of the Church and the clergy was to go on presenting Christ as the means of man's salvation, and that all depended on the great commandment to love God and Man.

The Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, the Presiding Bishop, said he thought it was absolutely necessary that the building of the Cathedral should proceed, so that non-Christians, especially in foreign fields, could see that Americans were really religious, and that the completion of the Cathedral would be a sure indication of the soundness of our own profession of faith. He then went on to speak of the necessity for the Reconstruction and Advance Fund, pointing out the great new opportunities which had arisen in China, where at present the people are very receptive to the teachings of Christ, and urged the Fund as a means for providing advances in the mission field before the present opportunities are lost; that it would mean the inauguration of a new era there, and that both China and Japan could in fifty years' time be a great help in the progress of the world, or else could be equally a great menace.

The Conference closed with the singing of Evening Prayer in the Cathedral at 5 o'clock. Bishop Littell was a guest throughout the day.

All the addresses were most timely, and of a very high order, and there were many expressions that the Conference had been a most profitable occasion.

THE ROSE WINDOW AND CHINA

The Rev. Dr. Robert E. Wood, the Church's well known missionary priest in China, writes from Central China College in Yunan Province to Bishop Manning, the following:

"A few days ago I was invited to tea by Mrs. Hsiao, wife of the head of our Department of Biology in the College. Her maiden name was Erica Karawina. She showed me many of her drawings and designs and works of art, but what interested me most of all was a detail from the great rose window of St. John's Cathedral, New York, in the working out of which she had had a part. I thought you would be pleased to hear that in this out-of-the-way place I had had the glorious Cathedral brought to mind in this most delightful way.

Faithfully yours,

ROBERT E. WOOD"

PROVINCIAL SYNOD

The Twenty-sixth Synod of the Province of New York and New Jersey met in Albany on Tuesday, October 23. The Diocese of New York was the host diocese this year, but owing to the impossibility of obtaining hotel accommodations in New York City, the sessions were held in Albany. The program included:

Tuesday, October 23: Youth Leaders' Conference, meetings of Commissions, Woman's Auxiliary, Church Periodical Club, Daughters of the King, Church Mission of Help, and other organizations. There was a business session of the Synod at 5 P.M., and the Right Rev. S. Harrington Littell, retired Bishop of Honolulu, was the preacher at the Synod Service in All Saints' Cathedral at 8:15 P.M.

Wednesday, October 24: Corporate Holy Communion at 7:30 A.M.; Joint Session of the Synod at 9:30 A.M., and the Synod concluded with a luncheon at which Dr. John Milton Potter, President of Hobart College, was the speaker.

JAPANESE CHRISTIANS

Dr. Francis Wei, President of Central China College, and now lecturing in this country, addressing the National Council, urged that Christians should "not forget the Japanese. You remember atrocities and wonder if the Japanese can be civilized human beings. But the darker the picture, the greater the challenge. Unless Japan can be civilized and Christianized, there is no hope for that nation. Let us remember our Japanese Christians as brethren, the Japanese Church as part of our Church. Here as in China there is a great job to do and, in spite of our weakness, we can do it, with God's help and in His time."

NEW MISSIONARY MOVIE TO BE AVAILABLE

The National Council film, "Thy Will Be Done", a sound movie for 16 mm. projectors and of about twenty minutes duration, is available for showing in each of the Convocations of the Diocese. ## YOUTH CONSULTATION SERVICE HOLDS TEA IN NEW QUARTERS

An Open House Tea, to which the public was invited, was held for the Uptown Service Center of Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York, on Wednesday afternoon, October 17.

This new Center is located at 384 East 149th Street, in what is known as the "Hub of the Bronx." It was established in response to the large number of requests for help on personal problems that came to the agency from young girls living north of 125th Street.

Youth Consultation Service is the only agency connected with the New York Diocese that devotes its entire attention to the problems of adolescent girls. Both white and Negro girls are served and white and Negro counsellors are on the staff. In addition to contributions from individuals, it receives financial assistance from the Program of the Church of the Diocese of New York, the Greater New York Fund and interested foundations.

The new Center is charmingly furnished and has a homelike atmosphere. The plans for the Center were worked out by a special committee of the Board of Directors of which Mr. George W. Van Slyck is Chairman and Mrs. Fannie Pitt Gross, Vice-Chairman.

CHURCH CORPORATION PLAN HELPS PARISH BUILD ENDOWMENT

In a statement from the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen, it is announced that Bethesda Church in Saratoga Springs will celebrate its 115th Anniversary on October fourth. A special feature of the occasion will be the fulfillment of the Bethesda Centennial Endowment Fund which began 15 years ago with the active cooperation of the Rector and Vestry, under the direction of the Church Life Insurance Corporation, a subsidiary of The Church Pension Fund.

The Reverend Irving G. Rouillard, who has been Rector of Bethesda since 1917, has steadfastly urged the building of Endowment, and in spite of two World War periods has seen approximately $250,000 added for the upkeep and work of the Church.

The plan involved the use of 15 year Endowment insurance policies placed with Church Life. Bethesda was the first Episcopal Church to initiate a program of this kind and was the first to carry it to a successful conclusion. This special Centennial Endowment program was inaugurated in 1930 with the result that approximately $100,000 was subscribed to be paid into a fund over a period of 15 years under the control of the Vestry. Seventy-five Thousand dollars of 15 year Endowment insurance was placed upon the lives of a number of individuals in the Parish. All of the policies have now matured, and the check for the full proceeds was handed to the Treasurer of Bethesda Church on October fourth. The income from this Fund is reserved to help maintain the physical fabric of the separate church properties.

Bethesda Church is the creation of Upjohn. Among its former Rectors are The Reverend Francis C. Wainwright, son of Bishop Wainwright and uncle of General Jonathan M. Wainwright; and The Reverend John Henry Hobart, son of Bishop Hobart.

CITY MISSION SOCIETY SUNDAY

Was observed at the Cathedral on Sunday, September 30, when the Rev. William E. Sprenger, Director of the Society, preached the sermon, and reviewed the work of the 115-year-old Church Service Agency. He appealed for support of the Society's drive for $1,000,000 for expansion and replacements, and went on to say: "As an instrument of the Church to help people who get into every type of human difficulty, the mission brings assistance to 40,000 persons yearly. Through depression and war the Society has never lost vigor in its fight against spiritual and physical ills and personal maladjustments.

Today, with our problems greater than ever, understaffed and with our building facilities and equipment inadequate and worn out, we are appealing to your generous hearts that we may not fail troubled souls who are our moral dependents.

Without fanfare the Episcopal City Mission Society has effectively functioned for 115 years. During the war it was necessary for us to change our efforts to meet new needs. We are now faced with the task of raising $1,000,000 to cover the repair and replacement of equipment which has functioned for more than a century and to plan for post-war adjustments."

Prayer for God's Blessing upon our City Mission Society and its work set forth by the Bishop for use in the Diocese of New York at the 115th Anniversary of the Society, and especially on Sunday, September 30th.

Almighty God, Creator and Father of us all, we ask Thy blessing and guidance for our City Mission Society in its work for all sorts and conditions of men.

Give to the Chaplains, and to all the members of the Staff, wisdom and zeal that they may minister faithfully to the needy, the burdened, the lonely, and the sick. Enable them to bring Thy grace and healing to those whose lives are darkened by sin, and to minister with loving care to all, especially to the children and to the aged.

In this day of new responsibility and opportunity drive out from each one of us, we beseech Thee, those attitudes of mind and spirit which bar the way to brotherhood among all men and nations, and open our hearts to give generously of our means that the work of our City Mission Society may be strengthened and enlarged, for the honor of Thy name, for the upbuilding of Thy Church, and for the help of all whom our ministrations may reach, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SERVANTS OF CHRIST THE KING

Chalmers of Kent School; refreshments and a social hour at 5:30 P.M.; Conference at 6:30 with the Rev. Jerome Harris, Assistant at St. Ignatius', presiding, together with an address by the Rev. John V. Butler, Jr., Rector of St. Martin's Church, Providence, R.I., and concluded with a Service of Benediction at 8 P.M.

GENERAL WAINWRIGHT, SON OF THE CHURCH

General Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, hero of Bataan, is a great grandson of the Fifth Bishop of New York, the Right Rev. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright. On the occasion of his recent triumphant reception by the City of New York, Bishop Manning sent him the following telegram:

NEW YORK TRAINING SCHOOL FOR DEACONESSES and Other Church Workers

Opened its Autumn term October 10, with a celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Ansgarius' Chapel of the Cathedral. Instruction began that same day at St. Faith's House, in which the School is located, on the Cathedral grounds.

This is the second year of its re-opening under the leadership of Deaconess Ruth Johnson, and begins with a senior class of three, a junior class of four and two special students. One of the special students has passed her canonicals and is to be set apart as a deaconess in the course of the year, after taking "refresher" courses.

The faculty is as follows: The Rev. Dr. Charles N. Shepard, Warden of the school, will teach Old Testament History and Literature, as for a number of years past. The Rev. Canon Thomas A. Sparks will continue to teach Church History. The Rev. W. Norman Pittenger of the General Theological Seminary, will continue to give the courses in Christian Doctrine, Christian Ethics, and Worship. The New Testament courses will be given by the Rev. John W. Wing, Jr., of the General Theological Seminary. In addition to the courses, there will be the customary Friday evening lectures throughout the year, given by experts in various fields relating to Church life and work. The first of these will be a series of four lectures, to be given in Advent by the Rev. Canon Edward N. West, on Church Art.

STUDY PRECEDES GIVING

Accordng to the Port Jervis Union-Gazette, the people of Grace Church, Port Jervis, of which the Rev. Robert Gay is Rector, have learned a lot about the various mission fields of the Church in preparation for the raising of the sum of $5,000,000 or more for the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. We quote:

"Each month Episcopal Church people have been asked to study a different part of their Church's world work. Already the Philippine Islands and China have been studied. For September the study was of the remarkable work of the American Church Institute for Negroes, sponsored by the Episcopal Church. The Institute is made up of nine schools in the Southern States. Five are high schools with agricultural, industrial, and normal training, some with junior college grades; one is a college, fully accredited; one is a theological seminary for the training of Negro clergymen, and there is a College Student Center at Fort Valley State College, Fort Valley, Ga."

FIRST-DAY COVERS INAUGURATED ON MAIDEN VOYAGES OF U. S. LINES SHIPS

A first-day cover will be serviced for stamp collectors in connection with the maiden voyage of the new United States Lines 10,500 ton C-2 cargo ship COURSER, which inaugurates the American Pioneer Line Trans-Pacific trade. The ship sailed recently on the first peace-time voyage to the Philippines since Pearl Harbor loaded with food, clothing and medical supplies.

The "cachet" on each envelope carries a drawing of the new ship, printed in red and blue ink, with the United States Lines house flag and the American flag crossed. The covers will be mailed from Manila when the COURSER arrives, and each envelope will bear a first-class Philippine stamp.

Since there was no time to notify stamp collectors before the ship sailed, Captain W. A. Woodman took along covers addressed in pencil to the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, which has again been appointed the cover agent by the United States Lines.

The COURSER is named for a fast California clipper which was built in 1851 in Medford, Mass.

This will be the seventh in a series of nineteen new cargo ships being built for the United States Lines. Advance notices regarding ships, sailings and the foreign stamps to be used for return postage will be announced in due time.

A TRAVELLED BIBLE

A Marine writes to one of the Cathedral clergy. "The Bible you gave me has travelled many thousands of miles with me—the Marshall Islands, Saipan, Ie Shima and Okinawa—and maybe we will reach Japan together! You and the Cathedral will always be with me wherever I go."

NATIONAL COUNCIL WELCOMES POSTPONEMENT OF CATHEDRAL CAMPAIGN

The National Council has sent to all the Diocesan Papers the following:

"Bishop William T. Manning of New York has announced the postponement of an organized campaign to raise ten million dollars for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, so that the Reconstruction and Advance Fund Campaign may come first.

Bishop Manning emphasized that 'this decision has been made not through any special request or suggestion, for none has been made, but solely because,—eager as we are to go forward with the building of our great metropolitan Cathedral, and deeply as we believe in its value to the whole Church as a mighty and far-reaching missionary influence as to which we receive many testimonies from the missionary fields,—we believe that the first place should now be given to the urgent needs and opportunities represented by the appeal of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund, and we are acting on this conviction. It is for this reason also that I am devoting our Clergy Conference in October to consideration of the call of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund to our diocese.'

Bishop Manning added that the decision was not influenced by a very large gift which is to come to the Cathedral, because, he said, 'This wholly unexpected news came to us two months after our decision to postpone our organized campaign was made and put on record.' "

WEST PARK FLOWER SHOW

The Sixteenth Annual Flower Show and Bazaar was held on August 30 in the Parish House of Ascension Church, West Park, the Rev. Frank N. Butler, in charge. In spite of unfavorable Summer weather, many fine groupings of flowers were on display. Among the prize winners were Samuel Tinnie of Port Ewen: the Sweepstakes Cup; Mrs. Gesina Hendriks of Ulster Park: six firsts, four seconds and one third; Harry Weezenar, Jr., Highland: seven firsts and one second; the Order of the Holy Cross, West Park: first prize for vases of flowers and for its old fashioned nosegay of garden flowers; Julian Burroughs (son of the late Naturalist), West Park: third prize for vegetables; Nancy Oxholm: first prize for bowl of peaches; Theodor Oxholm, Jr.: first prize for yellow neck squash. There were displays by Mrs. Edward Demarest, Rosendale, tropical pond lilies; Robert Drake, miniature garden; Mrs. Ernest Huser, old fashioned bouquet of phlox and sweet alyssum; Mrs. Carrie Gindrat, basket of marigolds; Mrs. Walter Burger, first prize hall table arrangement of larkspur.

Judges: Frank M. Berry and Charles O. Conger of Poughkeepsie; Mrs. Herman A. Kelley of St. Remy, and Mrs. Alton Brooks Parker of Esopus. The General Committee included Miss Viva Freer, Mrs. Richard E. Gordon, Mrs. Theodor Oxholm, and the Rev. Frank M. Butler. Mrs. Parker, under whose chairmanship the first show was held in 1929, acted as honorary Chairman.

TO HELP BUILD THE CATHEDRAL

A sailor writes: "I plan to ask my parents to give the Cathedral the money they would have given me as a Christmas present. This indeed would be the fittest gift."

CHRISTMAS BOXES FOR MERCHANT MARINE BEING PACKED BY SEAMEN'S CHURCH INSTITUTE

In accordance with its annual custom, the Seamen's Church Institute of New York, is packing Christmas boxes which will be distributed to merchant seamen who will be at sea on Chirstmas Day, and to seamen in marine hospitals. The goal is 7,000 boxes filled by December 15th, and volunteers are needed to help pack and fill these boxes. They will contain candy, billfolds, pencil, soap, handkerchiefs, shaving equipment, flashlights, stationery, pocket knife, etc. The Institute also gives a box to each of the 1,600 seamen who will stay at "25 South Street' on Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Grafton Burke, secretary of the Central Council of Associations, in issuing the appeal for volunteers, said: "The Institute furnishes the cardboard boxes and sends a list of the items required. Each donor may enclose a self-addressed postcard. (In other years many seamen have written to express appreciation.) This is especially suggested where children are filling the boxes. It is also important to attach a card with a list of the articles to the package. Please avoid sticky candy or perishable fruits.

"Through these gifts the Seamen's Church Institute of New York hopes to give these seamen a real touch of Christmas, and to let them know that landsmen have not forgotten the wonderful service they rendered during the war, delivering the cargoes and speeding Victory. They are now carrying cargoes of peace—food, clothing, medical supplies—to liberated countries, and to our armies of occupation, and they are re-establishing world trade routes."

By our gifts let us express the true Christmas spirit of "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

CHRISTMAS IN JAPANESE INTERNMENT CAMP CHURCHMEN CARRY ON

Major General Edward P. King, Jr., U.S.A., Commander of United States forces on Bataan, who spent three years in Japanese prison camps as General Wainwright's roommate, writing for the North American Newspaper Alliance, and reported in the New York Times, describes Christmas there:

"Our first Christmas in prison, 1942, was spent at Karenko. For some time we prisoners there had held Sunday Church Services. There was no chaplain among us, but each week one of the prisoners would volunteer to conduct the services. We had organized a choral singing group, so when Christmas came we decided to have Christmas carols. There were many British officers among us, and they too took part in our Yuletide plans.

If you can imagine us out there—thousands of miles from our loved ones, trying to hold on to life and trying to carry on for a merry Christmas—let your mind's eye look at haggard and worn men, thin almost to skeletons, wearing tattered and faded uniforms, marching from barrack to barrack singing "Silent Night, Holy Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "God Rest Ye merry, Gentlemen" and many more of the favorites.

If you have ever seen men singing with breaking hearts, you have a picture of these lonely and distressed prisoners. Tears rolled down our cheeks—I was not one of the singers, however—as emotions ran their course. All of us joined the singers in their visits to the barracks and soon we all herded together, singing and dreaming of peace on earth, good-will toward men.

In the distance Japanese guards eyed us with anything but good will. You don't forget looks like those in Oriental eyes. Singing does a lot to boost morale and for these men whose thoughts and spirits were back home, those songs provided a blessed relief from a never ending heartache.

The next Christmas, 1943, we were at Mukszak. Conditions there were pretty much the same, except that we were allowed to buy bananas and pineapples, which we added to what meager rations we had. Christmas Day the Japanese gave us a little pork and a piece of bread. That was a far cry from the Christmas tables we dreamed about at home, with turkey, cranberry sauce and plum pudding. We had our private thoughts at dinner that day and there was not much talking during the meal. Our minds were far away.

At this camp were eight British civilians and officers, five Netherland civilians and officers and General Wainwright, General George F. Moore of Texas and myself.

As in the previous camp, we held religious services. And as we three American officers and the British officers were all of the Episcopalian faith, Episcopalian services were held most of the time. This was true of Christmas Day in 1943.

There were no beatings at this camp. Life became a period of agonized waiting. The tension was relieved by mental flashbacks to life and home. I remembered Christmas days my wife and I had spent in Army camps in the United States, the freedom we had enjoyed and happiness we had shared, blissfully unaware of what lay ahead for us. At Mukszak, we made a feeble attempt to enjoy the day. But there was something missing. It was our families.

My last Christmas as a Japanese prisoner—in 1944—was at Sian. Had I dreamed then that Christmas, 1945, would find me back in America with my beloved wife, Betty, I think the day would have passed more quickly."

NEW SCHOOL OPENS

St. Luke's School, the new progressive school, opened Monday, September 24, on the grounds of St. Luke's Chapel, Hudson Street, Trinity Parish, the Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector. It occupies a three-story brick building which has been remodeled and redecorated during the Summer for the occupancy of the School. The grassy lawns and old shade trees of the garden afford a charming playground for the children, both boys and girls, aged 5 to 8 years. The well-equipped Chapel gymnasium will be used as a recreational center for indoor play in inclement weather. The School aims to educate its pupils mentally, physically, and spiritually. It has a definitely religious foundation and character, and the pupils will be instructed "in the Christian religion according to the teaching of the Episcopal Church,"

The new school has been founded with the approval of Trinity Church, which will give oversight and support to the project. The Rev. Dr. Leicester C. Lewis, Vicar of St. Luke's Chapel, is Headmaster, Mrs. Marguerite S. Gates, Principal, and Mrs. Arensa Sondergaard, Consultant on curriculum and school policies.

Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, George Hobson, American Order of Sons of St. George, Bernard L. Holloway, former president of St. George's Society, Owen R. Jones, president of St. David's Society, Errol Kerr, president of St. Andrew's Society, and William Masson, president of the British War Veterans of America. ## MIDSHIPMEN'S FINAL GRADUATION

Wide World Photos.

The Cathedral was host to the Twenty-sixth and Final Graduation Exercises of the U. S. Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School (Columbia University) on Friday, November 2, at 11 a.m., when 1,121 new Ensigns received their commissions.

Bishop Manning gave the blessing and Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal made the address.

The Midshipmen's School began to hold its Graduation Exercises in the Cathedral, by invitation of the Bishop, in the summer of 1943, and ever since, at intervals of ten weeks or three months have continued to hold such exercises there. These have not been Services to which the general public could be admitted, because of lack of space. The officers of the School, its graduating class, its undergraduates, and their friends and relatives, admitted by tickets issued by the Navy, have crowded the whole available space, the total number of persons present each time being about 7,000. It has been an inspiring and unforgettable experience, both from the dramatic and pictorial side, as well as from the depth of feeling shown by all present. The program has regularly consisted of the playing of "America," the invocation, the address to the graduates, administration of the Officer's Oath to the Ensigns, the presentation of commissions, and the benediction, followed by the singing of "America's Crusaders" by a Class Band of the School, and the playing of the National Anthem.

A total of 13,500 Ensigns have been commissioned in the Cathedral, and to commemorate this, an Inscription, the gift of the School to the Cathedral, has been cut in relief letters on the inside wall of the West Front of the Nave, just south of the great Bronze Doors, reading as follows:

Midshipmen's School in Grateful Appreciation

Commodore John K. Richards, U.S.N., Commander, U. S. Naval Reserve Officer Training Center, expressed the deep appreciation of himself, his officers, and all the members of the School, for the great privileges they had enjoyed in the Cathedral. In response, and in accepting the Inscription on behalf of the Cathedral, Bishop Manning said:

"Commodore Richards: I appreciate most deeply the words which you have spoken, and we shall remember your words here always with deep satisfaction. All of us at the Cathedral have felt it a privilege and an honour to have the Graduation Exercises of the Midshipmen's School held here. This Cathedral is dedicated to the service of God and of men, and it was most fitting that the young men who were going forth to give their lives for their country and for Humanity should be graduated and commissioned here in these sacred surroundings.

We prize very greatly the Inscription which you and the Midshipmen's School have placed here in the Cathedral. That Inscription, cut in one of the stones of the wall, will be an imperishable reminder of the midshipmen who have been commissioned here, and of the splendid work done by the Midshipmen's School and its great contribution to the Victory of our Country and our Allies. In this Cathedral, in common with our whole Nation, we give thanks for the mighty part played by our Navy for the winning of the Victory and the ending of the War. We pray that as a Nation we may ever be grateful to those who gave this great service, and that we may do our part faithfully for the preserving of freedom here in our own land and for the establishment and maintenance of Just and World-Wide Peace."

Secretary Forrestal in his address asserted that the work of the Navy is not yet ended. "It will not be either in your lifetime or mine," he said, "because no matter how deep our faith in the construction of a world society built on law, power and force will be necessary to that new world order if it is to have any practical chance."

As the new Ensigns left the Cathedral with their families and friends, enlisted men in the neighborhood had a field day. According to military tradition, the first enlisted man to salute a newly-commissioned officer receives a dollar, and despite attempts of the Shore Patrol to keep them moving, a small group of gleeful enlisted men made the rounds. "They ought to graduate these classes more often," a busy sailor said.

IMPRESSIVE SURROUNDINGS

In an editorial on the splendid work of the Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School and upon the impressive graduation exercises of the successive classes of Midshipmen which were graduated in the Cathedral during the War, the New York Herald Tribune said recently: "It might not be a bad idea if thousands of other young men and young women took an oath of loyalty under circumstances as impressive as those in the great Cathedral of St. John the Divine."

CONVOCATION MEETINGS HELD THROUGHOUT DIOCESE

The series of six Fall Convocation meetings were held during the latter part of October and early November. In each Convocation the program was built around the Reconstruction and Advance Fund.

DUTCHESS

The Convocation of Dutchess met on October 25th in St. Luke's Church, Beacon, with the Reverend H. Ross Greer, Dean of the Convocation, presiding in the absence of the Archdeacon, Bishop Gilbert. The Dean spoke of the interesting report of the Provincial Synod Committee on the State of the Church and urged a study of this report when it becomes available.

The report of the Convocation Chairman on Religious Education was given by the Reverend Albert O. Tritsch, who spoke of the School of Religion held at St. Paul's Church, Poughkeepsie, the very successful Youth Rally at the Greer School in Verbank, and of his trip to most of the churches in the Convocation in company with the Reverend J. Benjamin Myers.

The Reverend J. Benjamin Myers, reporting for Forward-in-Service and The Program of the Church, urged the clergy to use the "Parish Plan of Action" and offered the services of his committee in connection with the Every Member Canvass. He also spoke of the successful use of the film, "We, Too, Receive," and announced that the new film, "Thy Will Be Done," was available on application to him.

Mrs. John R. Gardner of the Woman's Auxiliary spoke of the missionary study topic for 1945-46, "Uprooted Peoples," and told of the significance of the Church's work in this field.

The Service of Evening Prayer was conducted before supper by the Rector of St. Luke's Church, the Reverend Albert O. Tritsch, assisted by the Dean of the Convocation, and with the Reverend R. Maxwell Bradner as preacher.

The guest speaker after supper was Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer of the National Council, who spoke of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. Mr. Franklin portrayed the great challenge to the Church, especially in Asia where he stated nearly one billion people, or one-half of the world's population, await the coming of missionaries to strengthen and expand the native Church. The speaker pointed out that while there are approximately only four and a half million Christians in China out of a population of 450 million, it should be remembered that some 30% of the delegates from China at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco were Christians and that a large percentage of all Chinese leaders today are Christians.

The meeting closed with the showing of the new missionary film, "Thy Will Be Done."

HUDSON

The Convocation of Hudson met in the parish house of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, on Tuesday, October 30th. More than one hundred clergy and laymen from a large majority of the parishes and missions in the Convocation were present at supper.

After supper the Dean of the Convocation, the Reverend Frank L. Carruthers, presiding in the absence of the Archdeacon, Bishop Gilbert, introduced the Deacon in charge of the host parish, the Reverend Frank M. Butler, who spoke of the plans for Youth Work in the Convocation.

The Chairman next presented the Reverend Osborne Budd, Chaplain of the City Mission Society at the Wallkill Prison. Chaplain Budd spoke of the many departments of the Society's work and pointed out that its activities reached out into all parts of the Diocese.

Mr. Theodor Oxholm, Secretary of the Diocesan Committee on The Program of the Church, traced the history of the Diocesan Assessment and missionary offerings from the beginning of the Church to the present time, and urged all those present to the realization of their membership in the larger aspects of the Church's work beyond the parish.

Mr. Carruthers then introduced Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer of the National Council, who traced the history of the missionary work of the Church outside of the Diocese, and described the aims of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. Mr. Franklin stressed the responsibility of each church, along with all other Christian bodies, in not only replacing buildings in our missionary fields wrecked by the War, but the need of building on the foundations we have laid in providing leadership over the last one hundred and fifty years. He urged the clergy to immediately appoint their committees to solicit large givers to the Reconstruction and Advance Fund so that the campaign would be well under way within the next thirty days.

WESTCHESTER

The Convocation of Westchester met on Thursday evening, November 1st, in the parish house of Grace Church, White Plains. The Reverend Francis J. H. Coffin, Rector of St. John's Church, Larchmont, opened the meeting with prayer, and the Dean of the Convocation, the Reverend George F. Bratt, presided in the absence of the Archdeacon, Bishop Gilbert.

The Dean reported on the activities of the Convocation Council in connection with the many problems of the missions and spoke appreciatively of the help he had received from the members of the Council and the Assistant Treasurer of the Board of Managers. Mr. Bratt told of the excellent work being done at St. Luke's, Tuckahoe, under the Vicar, the Reverend Walter G. Harter, and the appropriations which had been made to put the new rectory and the church in first-class condition. He mentioned also the purchase of a rectory for St. Mark's, Nepera Park, pending the time when a new rectory could be built on the mission property. Announcement was made that a rectory had also been purchased for the use of the Vicar of St. Andrew's, Hartsdale, the Reverend Dr. George W. Edwards, and that a new Colored work in Elmsford had been organized under the Reverend Arnold M. Ross who is also in charge of St. Augustine's, Yonkers, which for some years has worshipped in St. John's Church. It is hoped this Mission will soon move into its own quarters.

The Dean summarized his report, saying that throughout the Convocation the spiritual and physical condition of missions and assisted parishes was excellent.

The Reverend Charles E. Karsten submitted his report as Convocation Chairman for Religious Education, the Reverend Wendell Phillips as Convocation Chairman for Social Service, the Reverend James Harry Price as Convocation Chairman for Radio, the Reverend Dr. Frank Dean Gifford as Convocation Chairman for Forward-in-Service, and Mr. Samuel Thorne as Convocation Chairman for The Program of the Church.

Mr. Coffin spoke of a visit he had made to the Morning Service in St. Simon's Colored Mission, New Rochelle, and urged that action be taken to secure more suitable quarters for this growing and active mission. There was some discussion from the floor to the effect that appropriations for such projects could only be made if all the parishes and missions would meet their missionary quotas, as otherwise the funds of the Board of Managers were barely sufficient to meet missionaries' salaries and other fixed charges.

Mr. Bratt then introduced four newly elected rectors in the Convocation: The Reverend C. Ronald Garmey, St. Bartholomew's, White Plains; the Reverend Dr. W. Colin Lee, St. Mark's, Mr. Kisco, the Reverend George E. Keith, All Saints', Harrison, and the Reverend Fenimore E. Cooper, Trinity Church, Mt. Vernon, and the Vicar of St. Luke's, Katonah, the Reverend Dr. Percy L. Johnson.

The meeting then adjourned for supper, after which the new missionary film, "Thy Will Be Done," was shown as well as another film entitled "Religion in the Family."

After the showing of the films, Dr. Gifford, Rector of St. Thomas's Church, Mamaroneck, acting as Chairman, introduced the Reverend Raymond E Abbitt, missionary formerly stationed in the Philippine Islands and recently returned from an internment camp. Mr. Abbitt spoke of the work of the Church in the Philippines since the Spanish American War, and of the great destruction wrought by the War just ended.

Dr. Gifford then introduced Mr. Robert D. Jordan, Director of Promotion of the National Council, who made a stirring appeal for the Reconstruction and Advance Fund and urged the participation of every parish and mission in the Convocation in the campaign to raise this fund.

The Reverend Alfred C. Arnold, Rector of the host parish, closed the meeting with prayers and gave the blessing.

RICHMOND

The Fall meeting of the Convocation of Richmond was held at the Church of the Ascension, West New Brighton, on November 7th at 8 P.M. There was a large attendance of the clergy and laity of the Convocation.

The Reverend Andrew C. Long, Rector of Christ Church, New Brighton, and recently returned from service as a Chaplain in the United States Navy, conducted the service of Evening Prayer. The Reverend Orin A. Griesmyer, Rector of St. Mary's Church, West New Brighton, read the Lessons and Bishop Gilbert said the closing prayers and gave the Blessing.

In the place of a sermon, Mr. Lewis B. Franklin, Treasurer of the National Council, gave an inspiring address on the challenge presented by the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. A feature of the service was the procession of vested choirs from many of the parishes in the Convocation.

After the service refreshments were served by the ladies of the Church of the Ascension.

RAMAPO

Th Convocation of Ramapo held its Fall meeting at Christ Church, Piermont, on November 8th. Bishop Gilbert presided and called the meeting to order at 5 P.M., at which time the various chairmen of the Convocation committees and the Dean of the Convocation reported on their work.

The Reverend Fessenden A. Nichols, Rector of Christ Church, Suffern, and the Reverend Claxton Monro, Rector of Grace Church, Nyack, were elected to the Convocation Council to succeed the Reverend Ernest W. Churchill who is now on the staff of Calvary Church, Manhattan, and the Reverend Oliver D. Carberry, who is now Rector of Zion Church, Wappingers Falls.

The Reverend George W. Dumbell, in his remarks as Dean of the Convocation, stressed the hope that during the year ahead there would be a closer fellowship among the clergy and their wives and plans were made to promote such a fellowship by inviting all of the clergymen and their wives to a dinner under the chairmanship of the Reverend Walter W. Reid.

In his report on The Program of the Church, the Reverend Robert Gay, Rector of Grace Church, Port Jervis, urged the clergy to show the film, "Thy Will Be Done," in their parishes and missions and stressed the importance of conducting a thorough Every Member Canvass.

After a service of Evening Prayer, supper was served in the parish house and Mr. Robert D. Jordan, Director of Promotion of the National Council, spoke on the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. Mr. Jordan pointed out that the effort of our Church in raising this fund at the present time was a challenge which we would not have the opportunity of facing again in our life-time. A general discussion followed his talk, after which the meeting adjourned.

BRONX

The Convocation of the Bronx held its Fall meeting at St. Simeon's Church, Melrose, on the evening of November 14th, with Bishop Gilbert opening the meeting with prayer.

The Reverend Arthur V. Litchfield, Rector of St. James' Church, Fordham, and Dean of the Convocation, presided and asked Bishop Gilbert to address the meeting which was largely attended by the clergy and laity of the Bronx. Bishop Gilbert stressed the anxiety of the times and expressed the hope that our people in the Bronx would do their full share in the Church's work and especially in connection with the Reconstruction and Advance Fund.

Mrs. Ruth Dickson Smith of the Youth Consultation Service gave a very interesting talk on the work of this organization, especially with reference to the new branch which has recently been opened in the Bronx. She told of the various types of cases which come under the care of the organization and urged close co-operation between our parishes and the Youth Consultation Service in matters concerning adolescent girls.

Mr. Robert D. Jordan, Director of Promotion of the National Council, made a stirring appeal for support of the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. He stated that the only way to a lasting peace would be through the building of a Christian fellowship, and that the missionary work of our Church could help bring this fellowship into force.

After Mr. Jordan's address, the meeting adjourned from the parish hall to the Church for the service of Evening Prayer, conducted by the Rector, the Reverend Edward Tower Theopold. After this service refreshments were served and the Rector and members of the Parish were congratulated on the work which had been done in the renovation of the entire church, parish house and rectory.

ARCHBISHOP LANG

Commenting on the death of Archbishop Lord Lang, former Archbishop of Canterbury, who collapsed while hurrying for a train near his home, and died on December 5 while being taken to a hospital, Bishop Manning, in response to a request from the Associated Press, said:

"The news of Archbishop Lang's death will be received with sorrow by his many friends in this Country, and especially by the clergy and laity of the Episcopal Church. Archbishop Lang gave great service to the Church in his office as Archbishop of Canterbury. The Archbishop's visit to this Country at the most critical moment of the first World War made a profound impression and is still remembered with grateful appreciation."

GRACE CHURCH SCHOOL FOR BOYS

At the turn of the year, the Day School for Boys, operated by Grace Church, Broadway and 10th Street, the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Rector, will occupy two of the parish buildings at 86-88 Fourth Avenue, which have been occupied for the last two years by the Community Service Society of New York as a house for underprivileged boys. It is hoped that the School, which has been in existence for half a century, may make a good contribution in the field of education motivated by a desire to teach ethics and religion as well as the regular secular subjects of an elementary and secondary school. Dr. Pitt, with an assistant, gives several hours each week to sacred studies and the regular conduct of worship in Grace Church Chantry.

DIOCESAN AUXILIARY TO THE CATHEDRAL

At a largely attended gathering at the Hotel Plaza, New York, on Wednesday, December 12, the Diocesan Auxiliary to the Cathedral witnessed a showing of colored pictures of the Cathedral by the Rev. Canon West. The Boys of the Cathedral Choir, under the direction of the Rev. Canon Green, furnished the music.

The Rev. Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan, Rector of St. James' Church, New York, on Sunday morning, November 18, dedicated a War Memorial to the 675 men and women of the Church who served in the Armed Forces, thirty-three of whom gave their lives. The Memorial, a figure of St. George in a high relief plaque of stone, is a gift of Edwin S. S. Sunderland, a Vestryman of the Church, and was designed and executed by Katharine Thayer Hobson, a parishioner.

St. George is represented as looking upward toward his banner, with his left hand resting on his shield. Both banner and shield bear the cross of St. George. At the four corners of the relief are four small shields, with the arms of St. George, the arms of the Diocese of New York, the arms of the United States of America, and the arms of the Sunderland family. Between the two lower shields are the words: "And Their Names Shall Live Forever."

SEVENTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, the Rev. Dr. Henry Darlington, Rector, observed the Seventy-seventh Anniversary of the Parish on Sunday, November 3, with a Special Parish Memorial Service at 11 a.m., in memory of those who in the history of the Church have passed on, at which the Rector preached the sermon.

THANKSGIVING DAY

On Thanksgiving Day in the Cathedral, at a Service of Morning Prayer and Te Deum, Bishop Manning was the preacher, his topic being "Thanksgiving Day in this Atomic World." After summarizing the present World situation the Bishop called attention to the fact that "this mighty elemental power, now unleashed, comes from God. Its discovery ought to fill the world with thanksgiving. Instead, it has filled the world with fear. Why?—because of the evil that is in man." He continued: "The second fact is that Atomic War can be prevented only by the ending of all war. There can be no peace and brotherhood among men without accepting the moral law of God. The third fact—and the mightiest fact of all—is that there is one power, and one only, which is great enough to bring this change in the life of the World—the power of Jesus Christ the Eternal Son of God, the Redeemer and Saviour of mankind 'the same yesterday, and today, and forever.' Where is there any other who has this power? Where is there any other who speaks to the hearts and consciences of men of all nations, all times, and all races, as Jesus Christ does? There is no other. This present World Situation calls our land and the whole World to turn to Jesus Christ, not from fear of World Destruction but because he alone has power to make this a World of Justice, Brotherhood and Love.

But what does turning to Christ mean? Turning to Christ means that we must come to Him in penitent confession and in humble faith. Turning to Christ means that we must put aside that popular, self-sufficient humanistic religion, which has no place in it for humility, no place for confession of sin, no place for Christ as Saviour, no place for Creed and Doctrine, because it puts man in the place that belongs to God. Turning to Christ means that we must believe in Him and put our trust in Him as Saviour, Lord, and God.

What the World now needs to hear is not the complacent commendation of the Golden Rule or the Sermon on the Mount, which we hear so often, as though man in his own strength is able to attain these ideals. We should all know ourselves well enough to know the hollowness of this teaching. What the World now needs is the preaching of the Lord Christ Himself, the Saviour of each one of us and the Redeemer of the World. This is the message of the New Testament—'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved'—BELIEVE in Christ and He will give you the strength that you need to live as a child of God.

Jesus Christ says 'I am the Light of the World,' 'I am and the Life.' He—is the Hope of the World."

Our place, all of us—Scientists, Military Men, Statesmen, Business Men, Labour Men—our place, all of us, in His presence is on our knees with the prayer of that man in the Gospel who came to Him, 'Lord, I believe, help Thou mine unbelief.'

This tremendous event—the unleashing of Atomic Power, is a call to the whole World. It brings a moral and spiritual crisis for mankind.

May this World Situation speak to the souls of men everywhere, here in our own land and in all nations.

May the Christian Church throughout the World more powerfully fulfill its mission, and may we all of us as Christians more faithfully do our duty to bring men to the knowledge and the love of Christ, the Christ of Bethlehem, the Christ of Calvary, the Christ Who rose from the dead and Ascended into Heaven, and Who now from God's Right Hand says to us and to all mankind—'I am the Light of the World—I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life.' He is the Hope of the World!"

TWO DEACONS ORDAINED

Irving Anthony and George Richard Tiebel were ordained to the Diaconate on St. Andrew's Day, November 30, in St. Ansgarius' Chapel of the Cathedral by Bishop Gilbert, acting for the Bishop of the Diocese.

Mr. Anthony was presented by the Rev. Dr. E. Elliott Durant, Rector of St. Ambrose Church, New York, who also read the Epistle. He will be attached to the staff of St. Ambrose, and will also continue as a teacher in the New York public schools.

Mr. Tiebel was presented by the Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Church, New York. He will serve on the staff of Grace Church, Nyack, of which the Rev. Claxton Monro is the Rector, and who read the Litany.

The Rev. Canon West acted as Master of Ceremonies, and Canon Sparks preached the sermon.

ST. PAUL'S UNIVERSITY FREED

By order of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, St. Paul's University, Tokyo, built and operated by Episcopal Church missionaries in Japan, has been freed from the control of Japanese officials, thus returning this School to its original purpose. The Japanese, who had seized control of the University, had forbidden all Christian teaching. St. Paul's was opened 70 years ago, and has a charter issued by the Japanese Government to operate as a Christian school. General MacArthur, in his order, called for an end to what he characterized as "inexcusable and unjustifiable subversion of such institutions to militaristic and ultra-national ends."

THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

PAUL W. TOWNSEND observed his Thirty-fifth Anniversary as Organist of Christ Church, Patterson, on St. Simon and St. Jude's Day, October 28, at a Special Service commemorating the event. Mr. Townsend has also served Trinity Church, Pawling, in a like capacity for the past twenty-five years. In addition to the congregations of both Church, many former parishioners and friends were present. The Rev. Richard W. Wamsley, Rector, who was the Celebrant, in his sermon paid warm tribute to Mr. Townsend, and read a congratulatory telegram from Bishop Manning. The Rev. William H. Meldrum, Rector Emeritus, was the Gospeler, and the Rev. Carl J. Ljunggren, former Priest in Charge of the Church of the Resurrection, Hopewell Junction, was the Epistoler. The members of Christ Church Guild served a buffet luncheon, and the Parish presented Mr. Townsend with a gift of recordings of the Third, Fifth and Seventh Symphonies of Beethoven.

RETURN OF ROYAL SAVOY SILVER

Press Association.

The Earl of Halifax and the Bishop.

Eight Altar pieces of sterling silver belonging to the Royal Chapel of the Savoy in London, and held in the custody of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine for safekeeping during the War, were returned to the British Ambassador, the Earl of Halifax, who accepted them in behalf of King George VI at a Special Service held in the Cathedral on the afternoon of Sunday, December 9.

This silver, consisting of two floor candlesticks, two altar candlesticks, two altar vases, an altar cross and an alms basin, were brought to this country to be exhibited at the World's Fair. The Savoy Chapel is the only structure remaining on the site of the old Palace of the Savoy, burned in 1381, when lived in by John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster. The altar pieces were presented to the Chapel by the Royal Victorian Order.

Bishop Manning, who presided, described the temporary placing of the altar silver in the custody of the Cathedral as "a fitting symbol of the deep and vital friendship between our country and Great Britain, and it speaks to us of the faith, the courage, and the never-faltering steadfastness, of the British people in the tremendous task which the War brought to them. It also symbolized the full and sacred union between the Episcopal Church in this land and our Spiritual Mother, the Ancient, Historic, Catholic Church of England," and declared that while differences often would arise between England and the United States, "we know that the chief human hope for the peace and welfare of the World lies in the fellowship of the English-speaking peoples. We pray that America and Great Britain may do their part in this World in the faith and fear of God. It is in this Faith, and in this Hope that we place in the hands of Your Excellency these holy symbols which in the King's Chapel of the Savoy will again adorn the Altar of Him, Who is the Prince of Peace, and the only Saviour of the World."

Lord Halifax, expressing the gratitude of "His Majesty the King for the services you have rendered," accepted the return of the silver. The silver was then carried from in front of the High Altar to St. Columba's Chapel, where it remained on exhibition. The Service closed with the national anthems of the United States and Great Britain.

CHOIR SCHOOL BEQUEST

The Choir School of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine receives $155,130 as residuary legatee of the will of the Rev. Dr. William H. Owen, who died on May 7, 1944, leaving a net estate of $193,583. Dr. Owen was a Trustee of the Cathedral, former Rector of Holy Trinity Church on Seaman Avenue, and had been in Holy Orders for forty-three years. He directed that the gift be used for the benefit of the Edward Sands Brooks-Henry Codman Potter Memorial, the income to to used for the support of the Choir School.

NEED FOR CHAPLAINS

Major General Luther D. Miller, one of our Priests, who is Chief of Chaplains of the United States Army, cautions Church people against the belief that, now that peace has come, there is no more need for Chaplains, and their interest and support may be forgotten.

Chaplain Miller said: "Now, with the turmoil of war passed, the Chaplains are finding that occupational forces and troops awaiting deployment offer continuing challenge for service. As long as men are in uniform, away from home, in strange surroundings, beset by temptations, there will be work for the Chaplains to do, and they will continue to serve with the same loyalty and devotion to their Lord and their fellowmen that they showed during the trying days of combat. They will need your thoughts and prayers until their service is over, and their opportunity to return home has come."

The work of Army and Navy Chaplains, and of the Episcopal Church's Army and Navy Commission is being studied all through the Church as a part of the intensive study of Church work around the world which is a part of the preparation for what is called the Reconstruction and Advance Fund. The Episcopal Church is asking its members for a minimum sum of Five Million Dollars to rebuild Church property damaged and destroyed by war, especially in China and the Philippines, and to permit Church extension in places where new opportunities have opened for growth, both overseas and in this country. The continuing work of the Chaplains is one item in the program requiring a probable $400,000 for the year 1946.

UNITED THANK OFFERING REPORT MADE IN BROADCAST

The United Thank Offering for missions was the subject of a Forward in Service radio address Nov. 11, over Station WFAS, White Plains, by Mrs. John H. Michaeli, Diocesan Treasurer of the United Thank Offering.

Explaining the nature of the United Thank Offering Mrs. Michaeli said, "At this time of the year the parishes in our Diocese are presenting the United Thank Offering of the women of our Church. This offering, which is presented semi-annually, is accumulated through the medium of the United Thank Offering Blue Box and is used in support of women missionaries both at home and abroad. Finally the total is gathered from parishes and missions throughout the Church for presentation, every third year at a Corporate Communion of the women of the Church, as they assemble in their Triennial Meeting."

Mrs. Michaeli pointed out that in 1943 the total United Thank Offering for the preceding three year period amounted to $1,119,898.00. Of this amount the Diocese of New York contributed $71,485.00.

Speaking of the allocation of the funds raised during the three year period preceding 1943, Mrs. Michaeli said, "$738,000.00 was allocated for the support of women workers; this amount to be used for salaries, training new workers, medical and dental care and travel expenses.

"Funds were also provided for War Prisoner's Aid, British Missions, the emergency in Free China and various missionary projects supported in cooperation with other Communions. Included in this list of projects we find Ginling College, China; The Women's Christian College in Madras, India and The Missionary Medical College for Women in Velore, India. From centers such as these come trained Christian leaders of immeasurable influence among the women of their countries. The budget also includes an item for buildings which are among the most popular undertakings carried on by the offering. Up to the present time over 50 buildings have been erected in North and South America, Asia, Africa, Hawaii, Alaska and the West Indies. To visit all the places where needs are being met would be an interesting and instructive journey, as they are scattered from Maine to Western China."

Mrs. George C. Bartter, who through the exercise of much ingenuity saved the United Thank Offering of the Church of the Resurrection, Baguio, from Japanese searchers in an internment camp, has heard from a friend that the Woman's Auxiliary has been revived there. Mrs. Inez Masferre wrote to Mrs. Bartter saying that she has the Auxiliary "going again" and as a temporary measure she has resorted to match boxes instead of the usual Blue Boxes.

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

THE REV. JEROME DUNBAR, Rector of the Church of St. John the Divine, Mt. Vernon, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of his coming to that Church with a reception tendered to him by the Wardens and Vestrymen of the Parish on Sunday afternoon, September 15, when parishioners and friends gathered in the Guild Hall in large numbers to felicitate him. Letters and telegrams were read from Bishop Manning, Bishop Gilbert, Dean Fosbroke of the General Theological Seminary, and others, conveying congratulations and good wishes. A Mission fifteen years ago, under the painstaking and vigorous leadership of Fr. Dunbar, it became a full-fledged Parish in 1938. At the fifteenth annual parish dinner held on November 15, at which the Rev. Canon Sparks was the speaker, a scheme was inaugurated for the painting of the entire Church building.

GOVERNOR DEWEY SPEAKS

Government assistance to the needy will never be able to replace "the warm, friendly help of private religiously sponsored charitable work," Governor Thomas E. Dewey declared at a dinner on Tuesday, December 5, at the Hotel Plaza, marking the start of the Episcopal City Mission Society's Campaign for One Million Dollars.

The dinner was given by Bishop Manning to 300 campaign workers and supporters of the Drive. The Bishop, who presided, described the expanding welfare activities of the Society. He said that $421,000 of the amount sought was for a new building for St. Barnabas House, a haven for homeless women and children, kept open day and night, at 304 Mulberry Street, and $100,000 for additional chaplain training.

Governor Dewey, a Director of the Society, said that for 115 years a chief factor in the Diocese had been the Society's work, carried on without regard to race, creed or color. Pointing out that Episcopal Chaplains are serving in our State institutions, even in those where there are few, if any, members of the Church as inmates, the Governor said:

"Perhaps some of you think we have bitten off too large a share and should sit back and let others take some of these responsibilities from our hands. Well, if we say that, in a few more years we will find that others who do not believe in our type of society will have taken it over —and I measure my words as I say that. We have made a great basic decision," he went on. "Everything we drop from our hands is eagerly picked up by those who would like to see the Government do it all." The decision, he said, lay between continuing individual responsibility for welfare and relief, and being willing to become godless, soulless, regimented beings.

The Governor said that every policeman in the City knew the address of St. Barnabas House, and knew it was open every hour of every day in the year, to receive wayward minors, and homeless women and children, "as long as there is room for them." Saying that it had been necessary in the past year to turn away over five hundred homeless children for lack of space, he said that success in the fund drive would make such action unnecessary next year.

"Neighbor-to-neighbor help, that is the spirit which for eighty years has reigned at St. Barnabas," said Governor Dewey. "Charity which degrades defeats its own purpose. The warm friendly help of private, religiously sponsored charitable work can never be duplicated by the Government. There can be no substitute for the helping hand of Church and neighbor.

"It is very important for our form of free society," the Governor declared, "that all those who believe in it should give generously to the voluntary services which are the essential expression of the love of free men for their fellow men in distress.

"The Episcopal City Mission Society, with its great services, must be carried on. This Campaign for $1,000,000 is a test of our devotion to the American tradition of lending a hand to our neighbors and of the warmth and generosity of spirit without which free government cannot survive."

Mrs. Muriel Lenton, Director of the society's family service division, told of the work which has been expanded to aid war veterans with their problems. The Rev. George H. Hann, Chaplain at the State Training School for Boys at Warwick, described the rehabilitation work done there by the Society. The Rev. Alan R. Bragg, Chaplain at the city's Sea View Hospital on Staten Island, spoke of the work done by Chaplains in thirty-seven city and voluntary hospitals and in prisons and reformatories. William M. Chadbourne, Chairman of the Fund Committee, and Walter L. (Red) Barber, sports broadcaster and a member of the Society's Executive Committee, said additional workers were still needed.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES

Forty-four different organizations participated in the Twenty-fourth Annual Joint Service for the Patriotic Societies of New York in the Cathedral on the afternoon of Sunday, November 25. The spectacle, which was a brilliant and stirring one, included a procession in which marched the president or commanding officer of each society, accompanied in each case by a standard bearer. A large congregation was present.

The preacher was the Rev. Charles W. Baldwin, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Scarborough, and Chaplain of the St. Nicholas Society of New York, one of the participating organizations. In his sermon he said: "The Patriotic Societies of New York here gathered today, are here giving witness to the ideals for which you stand. You have standards of Freedom, of Fairness, of Fortitude, all based in the Christian standard of Faith. We cannot go wrong while we hold fast to these things. They are standards handed down to us from the Patriots and Founders of this nation—from the past, but for use in the present, and for the building of the future. One month from today we shall all be listening with the shepherds of Bethlehem to the Song of Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men. Its correct translation is of course Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will, for peace is maintained by men of good will, who have to fight the Battles of peace to keep it, just as they fought the battles of the War to gain it."

To the organ music of "Pomp and Circumstance" the standards of the various patriotic societies were massed before the High Altar for the final prayer and blessing. The Service closed with the National Anthem.

Major Herbert T. Wade, Governor of the New York Society of Colonial Wars, was Chairman of the Committee in Charge, which included: Errol Kerr, President of St. Andrew's Society of the State of New York; W. Harold White, President of St. George's Society of New York; Brigadier General Charles E. Warren, Commandant of the Veteran Corps of Artillery; Reginald T. Townsend, President of the St. Nicholas Society of the City of New York; the Hon. George L. Genung, President of the Sons of the Revolution in the State of New York; Leigh K. Lydecker, President of the Holland Society of New York; Dr. Frank C. Yeomans, Governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of New York; and George H. Tower, Governor of the New York Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Advent Service of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Diocese of New York was held at the Cathedral on Tuesday, December 4, beginning with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 10:30 A.M., at which the Rev. Canon Green was the Celebrant, assisted by all the Cathedral Clergy. The Rev. A. Ervine Swift, Overseas Department of the National Council, former Missionary in China, was the preacher. He stressed that while all good men wish peace, it can best be insured by Christians carrying their thinking, principles, and faith, out into the world. He said that especially at this time, it is necessary that Church buildings and other institutions destroyed or damaged in the War, should be promptly repaired, and that funds ought to be forthcoming for the important and very necessary advance of the missionary enterprise in foreign fields. He cited several instances in which missionary work would have been impossible without the support of the United Thank Offering of the Woman's Auxiliary.

After a box luncheon in the Undercroft of the Synod House, a missionary meeting was held, with the Bishop presiding, who emphasized the importance of the Church's work, and that the true faith of the Church is witnessed to by history, experience, and by the Book of Common Prayer; that while some people think the work of the Church "not very important," it is, as a matter of fact, of the greatest importance, for the Church is Christ's agency for bringing men to God and for keeping them there, and if we so understand and believe that, we shall all want to share our faith with all others everywhere. He went on to say that the Reconstruction and Advance Fund is vital to the missionary work of the Church, that it is an enterprise of the whole Church, that the Convention of the Diocese had adopted it, and he then made an urgent plea that all in the Diocese should help, and that every priest should appoint a committee in his cure for the securing of the larger gifts; that this primary obligation of the Church is a living witness to the power of Christ in men's lives, and that we must help the men and women in the mission fields.

Mrs. James S. McCulloh, President, welcomed the gathering, and introduced Mrs. Charles Minturn Baxter, Jr., Treasurer, who reported that on the Pledge for 1945 Budget of $34,500, $30,327 had been received up to December 3, leaving a balance of $4,173 to be met before the end of the year.

Mr. Robert D. Jordan, Secretary for Promotion of the National Council, said that a new Christian spirit was being manifested as the result of missionary education, and called attention to the fact that many of the more prominent leaders of present day China had been trained in our Church's educational institutions there, and that foreigners look at us to see how Christian Americans really are, and, finally, that we cannot make others more Christian than we are ourselves.

Mrs. Clinton S. Quin, wife of the Bishop of Texas, made a stirring address on: "A Plan for Unifying the Women of a Parish." She said that while the women's work in any given parish might vary in the details from the point of view of organization, it could all be summed up under three headings—Why, What, and How. She asked "Do we all take the call, coming from Christ Himself, seriously enough?" and "Are all the women of the Church sharing in the work of the Church?" She went on to say that any unified parish program must be made known to all the women in that Parish, and added as a needful caution that all the work in the parish should be done in consultation with the priest of the parish.

SAILORS' DAY

The Annual Sailors' Day Service, under the auspices of the Seamen's Church Institute, in tribute to Merchant Seamen, was held in the Cathedral on Sunday, October 28, at 4 P.M.

In addition to a large congregation, the Service was attended by 2,000 Naval personnel, including guards of honor, members of the Midshipmen's School of Columbia University, the United States Navy, WAVES from the Training School at Hunter College, U. S. Coast Guard, U. S. Merchant Marine Cadet Corps from Kings Point, the N. Y. State Maritime Academy, Fort Schuyler, and the U. S. Maritime Service, Sheepshead Bay. In addition to all these in the Procession were members of the Board of Managers of the Seamen's Church Institute, Consuls and Consuls General, the Rev. Dr. Harold H. Kelley, Director of the Seamen's Church Institute, Chaplains, the Clergy, the Cathedral Chapter, and the Bishop.

The Rev. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, Rector of Trinity Parish, and a Vice-President of the Institute, said in his sermon that the United States now has the challenging position of one of the leading nations of the world. "Whatever else we shall have to say of this last War, it certainly has been a time of the greatest testing of nations of all time. Out of this period some nations have fallen down almost to the point of obliteration, while others have risen. We may count ourselves among those nations who have emerged in a leading position." The Bishop of the Diocese, who presided, said the final prayers and gave the blessing.

On the morning of that day the preacher was the Rev. A. Roden Blackledge, who said that one of the main difficulties in the Church today is that people expect a solution of the troubles of the world "either through a miracle or through something vague and comforting, such as 'good will'." Mankind, he continued, was presented with a miracle on V-J Day, "although I have not noticed that mankind as a whole has been vitally affected in the deepest and most serious sense."

While Chaplain aboard the British warship "Warspite," during the invasion of Normandy, he related, prayers were broadcast over the ship's loudspeaking system before the vessel went into action. Everyone at that time felt "good will toward God, but somehow or other these deep and true emotions tend to die unless something else is brought in." He continued, "to each of us remains the duty to do our part toward helping to settle the troubles of this world, not by waiting for a miracle, or trusting in something vague and formless, however excellent in itself, but by loyally obeying the Church to which we belong, and fervently trying to spread its truth among men."

CHRISTMAS AT THE CATHEDRAL

Christmas at the Cathedral began at 5 p.m. on Christmas Eve, with a Procession to the Manger, where appropriate prayers were said. The Boys of the Choir sang the Service. A large congregation was present. At 11:30 P.M. there was congregational singing of well known Christmas carols, followed at midnight by a celebration of the Holy Communion, with a Procession. Every seat in the Cathedral was occupied.

On Christmas Day there were Services of the Holy Communion at 7, 8, 9 and 10. Morning Prayer was read at 10. There was a sung service of Holy Communion at 11, with a sermon by the Bishop, who took as his subject "The Glory and Wonder of Christmas," and posed the question: "Who was it Who was born in that Bethlehem Stable?" And went on to say: "He was not merely one of the Prophets. He was not merely a great Teacher. He was not merely an Angelic Messenger. He Who was born there was God Himself—the Eternal Son of the Eternal Father. This is the Glory and Wonder of Christmas. And this is the very heart of the Christian Gospel. God came to us Himself, and still comes to us, in Christ. 'The Word became flesh, and dwelt among us.' We cannot fully fathom this great truth. But we know that in Jesus, it is God Himself Who comes to us. We know that Jesus is our Friend, our Saviour, our Lord and our God. We know that 'for us men and for our salvation He came down from heaven, and was Incarnate by the Holy Ghost of the Virgin Mary, and was made man.' How strange it is that some men—earnest and sincere men—think they cannot accept this miracle. They think they cannot accept anything which goes beyond their own intelligence. There are three facts which even the most determined rationalist or humanist must admit.

1. A merely human Christ could never speak to the heart of all mankind as Jesus does.

2. A merely human Christ has no real power over the lives and consciences of men.

3. A merely human Christ—the Christ of our modern humanists—has no power to save us and to redeem this world from sin.

It is the Godhead of Christ which gives Him His power to help this world. It is the fact that He Who came down to be born in Bethlehem is our God and Creator which gives its glory and its power to the name of Jesus . . . Christmas tells us that God reigns, and that in spite of the world-wide anxiety and fear, and the mutual suspicion which we now see among the Nations; in spite of the new and dire threat of World-Destruction; in spite of the sin that is in the heart of man, Christ has power to make this a World of Peace and Good Will." Evening Prayer was read at 5 P.M.

WEST POINT CADETS LEARN TO TEACH SUNDAY SCHOOL

Go to Episcopal Church Headquarters

West Point, N. Y.—Twice a year thirty West Point Military Academy cadets have been making a pilgrimage to Episcopal Church headquarters in New York to learn how to teach in the Post's Church school. The cadets give of their spare time on Sundays to teach the Post children, and as they have had no special training in this field, they go down to New York and sit at the feet of the Rev. Dr. Vernon C. McMaster of the Episcopal Church's Division of Christian Education.

The visits are planned for Saturday afternoons. A bus brings the young men and Chaplain John B. Walthour, and discussion continues from 2:30 to 6:00 P.M.

The first half hour is usually spent on a discussion of how people learn. One of the cadets who went last year reported that this year he had tested the discovered laws of learning in his aviation training and had found them to be effective even there.

The next hour is spent in planning the teaching of a specific course either for primary or junior children.

At the end of the first two hours there is a fifteen-minute recess to give the cadets a breathing spell and to allow them to find out how the Army team is doing.

After the group is herded back by the superintendent of the Sunday school, this year Cadet Bob McCoy, time is given to study of the questions which are uppermost in the minds of the cadet teachers. One of the hottest discussions this year was, "What do you tell boys and girls who want to know about heaven and hell?"

THE CATHEDRAL IN JAPAN

An American soldier, writing from near Tokyo, reports on his visit to the home of one of our Japanese priests: "He still retains the Japanese customs of his forebears with very little furniture in his house, and that conforming to the Japanese pattern, indeed making few, if any, concessions to Western things, one of the chosen few being a beautiful picture of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. I managed to convey to him the fact that I live near the Cathedral, and he was duly impressed."

ANKING CATHEDRAL BADLY DAMAGED

Building Will Need Extensive Repairs

The beautiful Gothic bell tower of the Cathedral of the Holy Saviour, Anking, China, has been totally destroyed, according to the information received by Bishop Lloyd R. Graighill. The information the Bishop received indicated that both transepts are also destroyed or badly damaged, and the Cathedral is serving some Japanese military purpose. Other buildings on the Cathedral compound have been pulled down.

A Chinese friend wrote:

"The amount of destruction of property among the Churches along the Yangtse cannot be estimated. They can harm the body, but not the soul. Material losses and destruction each time only succeed in revealing spiritual reserves."

The Bishop's Message

Meet Our Family Publication

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

The Diocesan Bulletin now comes to you in very different form and content. Hereafter it will be issued each month, except during the summer, on a regular publication date. We mean to make it, in the most helpful sense possible, a "family" publication through which the Diocese may become better acquainted with itself. We want it to be a medium through which our people may keep themselves informed regarding those activities and developments and undertakings within our own Diocesan field which should be of interest and concern to them.

Bishop Gilbert

If we are to measure up to the task laid upon us in these anxious and difficult days, we shall need to make real to ourselves what St. Paul meant when he said that "we, being many are one body in Christ and every one members one of another". It is in "togetherness" that we shall find strength. The Church to which we belong is something more than the particular parish or mission with which we happen to be associated; and these parishes and missions may not live unto themselves if the Body of Christ is to be what He meant it to be.

Ours is a large Diocese. To keep ourselves aware of ourselves, to rejoice as we should in one another's achievements, to share one another's burdens and encourage one another in our common task, we must know what is going on in the many places within our Diocesan household with which we may have little contact. Only so can we live and work together as one family in Christ. To promote that kind of "sharing" is the purpose of the Diocesan Bulletin. If it is to serve that purpose, our people must join in extending its influence. First of all, we must read it—all of it, not just the portion that relates to matters with which we are personally concerned. Items will be brief and there will be illustrations where these will be helpful. My hope is that you will be willing to spend a little time each month in keeping yourself aware of what your Church in your Diocese is doing.

And there is another important consideration. We need your subscription. We need your subscription to enable us to meet the cost of the publication. And I cannot believe that one dollar a year is too much to pay for something of that "family spirit" which will help to make our Church mean more to us and which The Bulletin will seek to promote. Moreover, you can do your friends, as well as the Church, a service if you will encourage them to subscribe—or subscribe for them. The usefulness and influence of The Bulletin, as well as its financial health, will be determined by the number of readers on its regular mailing list.

We shall be looking to the clergy and Church members to provide us with information regarding developments in their own parishes and missions that would be of interest to the Diocese. And we shall hope that our Diocesan organizations will make The Bulletin a medium through which the Diocese may be kept informed of their activities.

I am confident that our people will welcome the new Diocesan Bulletin and help us to make it of real service to the Diocese.

Charles C Gilbert

New Rectory at Stone Ridge, N. Y.

Stone Ridge Finds Housing for Vicar

St. Peter's Parish at Stone Ridge, New York, has acquired a new vicarage.

Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne, a prominent resident of the community, made the purchase of the house possible at a price representing less than half of its cost to her.

There are four bedrooms and a bathroom upstairs; a large living room on the lower left; a dining room, dinette and kitchen on the lower right. In the basement is a laundry and a lovely room with a fireplace which is used as the vicar's study.

There is an acre of land, planted with maple and mulberry trees with shrubbery to provide privacy for the large lawn at the back, an ideal space for garden parties. Automatic coal-stoker supplies heat. There is a two-car garage and tool shed at the end of a cinder driveway.

The new vicar, the Reverend Robert C. W. Ward was for thirteen years a missionary to the Indians, prospectors and trappers of the Yukon Territory, Canada. During the war, he was the Protestant Civilian Chaplain on the Alaska Highway Project. In 1946 the Rev. Mr. Ward attended the Calvary Clergy School in New York City and served as assistant minister.

Religious Education Board Studying Field

A new set-up of committees has been made to investigate the field of education in the diocese from the child-parent relationship up through adult education with the purpose of discovering and organizing the most needed activities in each field, it was announced by the Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, president of the Board of Religious Education.

This activity is being projected in preparation for the appointment of a new director.

Activities already sponsored by the Board include a one-week children's and young people's conference in the early summer each year; a School of Religion (usually at General Seminary in Manhattan in the fall, with schools also in the various convocations); a Clergy Institute; the Guild of the Christ Child; the Sunday School Presentation Service in the Cathedral (for the Lenten Offering); the Christmas Box Project; the Episcopal Young People's Fellowship.

In addition, the Board maintains a library including samples of all the available Sunday School lesson materials, a sound projector for motion pictures and also one for slides and filmstrips.

New Rector Called for St. Margaret's, Bronx

The Rev. Leo L. Twinem has been called to be rector of St. Margaret's Church in the Bronx, and he and Mrs. Twinem are now in residence in the rectory there. His canonical connection has been with the Diocese of Long Island, and during recent months he has been serving as assistant minister at St. Stephen's Church, Pittsfield, Mass. and before that did supply work in a number of New Jersey parishes.

Dedicate Statue of Cathedral Patron Saint on the Trumeau, or Central Stone Door Post

Bishop Manning's Years of Service Honored

The statue of St. John the Divine on the trumeau, or central stone door post, just outside the great Bronze Doors on the Amsterdam Avenue front of the Cathedral was dedicated by Bishop Gilbert during the 11 o'clock service on Thanksgiving Day, and microphoned to the congregation assembled within.

Bishop Manning, in whose honor the statue was given, gave the blessing at the end of the service.

A year ago, a committee of clergy and laity, under the chairmanship of Bishop Gilbert, resolved to do something tangible to mark the more than twenty-five years Bishop Manning headed the Diocese. It was determined to place a statue of the Patron Saint of the Cathedral at the main entrance. Subscriptions of not more than one dollar per donor were given for this purpose.

Bishop Gilbert, in the course of his sermon, said: "Upon conclusion of his twenty-five years of consecrated service, a grateful Diocese last December paid a justly deserved tribute to a great leader, one whose inspiring devotion to God and His Church and to the life of this community and this nation we shall not forget. There is a sense, of course, in which this great Cathedral will always stand as an enduring memorial to all that Bishop Manning has meant to us, of all that God wrought through him. But it seemed fitting that there should be, in this place, some definite and particular mark of our recognition of the service he rendered. That was made possible by the spontaneous action of a large number of his people throughout the whole Diocese, and it was arranged that a figure of St. John the Divine should be set up on the trumeau between the great doors of the West Front, with a suitable inscription."

Cut from a single block of limestone, the statue shows St. John as an old man, looking eagerly forward, instinct with his message of witness to Christ. A scroll is in his left hand and a pen in his right.

At the rear of the base of the statue is inscribed: "This Statue is given by the Clergy and Laity of a grateful Diocese in thanksgiving to Almighty God for the leadership of William Thomas Manning, Bishop of New York, from 1921 to 1946, A.D."

This is the first statue to adorn the main front entrance.

MARKING 75 YEARS. On December 20th on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the consecration of St. Thomas Chapel, 60th Street, between Second and Third Avenues, New York City, the Right Reverend Charles K. Gilbert, Bishop of New York, greets the present vicar, Reverend Paul C. Armstrong. St. Thomas Chapel was organized in 1858, and its present buildings were dedicated in 1872. An industrial school, clinic, diet kitchen and day nursery are some of the activities that have been centered there.

Rev. Dr. Arthur L. Kinsolving Comes as St. James Rector

The Rev. Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving has taken up the responsibilities of rector of St. James Church, New York City, which Bishop Donegan headed for fourteen years prior to his elevation to the episcopate.

With its more than 2,500 communicants and its strength in all the Church's undertakings, the vestry of St. James felt that the acceptance of Dr. Kinsolving met a serious problem.

Dr. Kinsolving is the son of the Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, D.D., rector of St. Paul's Church, Baltimore, for many years. His first parochial work was at Amherst, Mass., where he was rector of Grace Church and Director of Religious Activities at Amherst College from 1924-1930. He then became the highly successful rector of Trinity Church, Boston, where he remained for ten years. In 1940, he accepted the rectorship of Trinity Church, Princeton, New Jersey.

Son Leads Father's Church

The Reverend Louis W. Pitt, Jr., the son of the Rector of Grace Church, 802 Broadway, New York City, was the celebrant and preacher at his father's Parish on the first Sunday in the New Year, January 4.

Back Bill to Bar Education Bias in N. Y.

The Commission on Christian Social Relations of the Diocese of New York has adopted a resolution supporting the principle of the proposed Fair Educational Practices Act for the State of New York. This bill will outlaw discrimination in educational institutions of the State on grounds of race, religion, color or national origin.

Since the proposed legislation exempts sectarian schools from its provisions, the Commission adopted a second resolution calling upon all Episcopal schools in the Diocese of New York to bring their admission policies into accord with the principles of the law.

"Why is the proposed bill needed?" asked the Rev. Leland B. Henry, Executive Director of Commission on Christian Social Relations. "Most Americans assume that any young man of good moral character, intellectual ability and personality who can pay his tuition has merely to apply for admission. Actually, in the case of many schools and colleges, not alone in the deep South, but in the State of New York, there are two other tests applied:

1. What is the color of his skin?
2. What is his religion?

The fact of discrimination against colored and Jewish students is too clear to be seriously questioned," said the Rev. Mr. Henry.

Clergy Meet with Bishops to Launch Diocesan-Wide Evangelization Program

Bishop Donegan Leads Men In Up-State Convocations

On December 7th the Bishop of the Diocese called the clergy together in St. James' Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine for a conference on Evangelism. After conducting the opening devotions, the Bishop urged every parish and mission in the Diocese to participate as fully as possible in the Evangelistic endeavor of the Church. A meditation was given by the Rev. S. M. Shoemaker.

The Presiding Bishop, the Right Reverend Henry K. Sherrill spoke of the sickness of the world and diagnosed its illness as basically spiritual. He summoned the clergy to a more disciplined, religious life that the Church may bear faithful witness in this time of stress and strain. Outlining the Nation-wide program of Evangelism the Presiding Bishop asked that in every parish and mission there be held before Lent a friendly visitation conducted by the laity for the purpose of increasing the interest and deepening the devotion of those who claim membership in the Church.

Every communicant will be asked to join in a Corporate Communion on the First Sunday in Lent to pray for the peace of the world and to make the Lenten Season a realistic period of public worship, personal prayer, and study that the Church may go forward with vigor in its God-given task. Bishop Sherrill asked for rededication of all to the mission of the Church.

Before adjournment for luncheon the Rev. Dr. Grieg Taber spoke on the value and importance of a Rule of Life, stressing prayer, fasting and alms giving as set forth in the Book of Common Prayer.

At the afternoon session the conference divided into two groups. The Manhattan clergy, meeting with the Rev. S. M. Shoemaker, felt that more time for discussion was necessary and held two meetings in December at Calvary Church in New York, in preparation for a conference at All Angels Church Farm, Ramapo, on January 8th and 9th.

LEADS CONVOCATION. Bishop Donegan who has been asked to draw a Rule of Life for up-state clergy as part of Diocesan Evangelization Program.

Bishop Donegan met with the clergy of the Convocations who asked him to draw up a suggested Rule of Life to aid them in striving to become more completely converted to Christ as their Lord and Saviour.

The group decided that converted trained laity can be effective in presenting the claims of Christianity to those who have no religious background. It was recommended that a conference for the laity in Westchester would be desirable and a meeting will be held in St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, on January 15th at 8.00 p.m. The principal addresses will be given by the Rev. Arnold Lewis and Mr. Richardson Wright.

Where We Stand Today Is Tomorrow's Starting Spot

While the Diocese cannot take pride in the results of its 1947 campaign for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, as tabulated in this issue, the individual accomplishments of many parishes and missions are outstanding. Many others have indicated that whereas they were unable to give their share in 1947 because of their preoccupation with the drive to build the new St. Barnabas house, they will do their full part in 1948.

A plan to raise the entire amount of our 1948 contributions in one hour has been outlined to the clergy of the Diocese by the Presiding Bishop.

Total cost was approximately $11,000.

The memorial lanterns which were blessed at the service are of Swedish iron finish, hand hammered. Their caps are maroon. Eight of the lanterns are in the nave, two in the vestibule, and one at the main entrance.

The Bishop's Message:

The Church is Stirring

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

There is a growing feeling that something unusual is happening in our Diocese. It gives promise of good things to come in the life of the Church and the spiritual vigor of its people. As a speaker at one of our recent conferences said, Episcopalians are taking their religion out of the "deep freeze" and giving God a chance to put something of the fire of His Holy Spirit into it.

Bishop Gilbert

This is the impression produced in many quarters by the response our clergy and people are already making to our Presiding Bishop's call for a great nation-wide program of evangelism. It began with the all-day conference of the clergy of the Diocese at the Cathedral in December when Bishop Sherril was with us and we were all deeply stirred by his presentation of the challenge with which the Church is confronted. This has been followed by smaller meetings in which the clergy have joined in heart-searching prayer and meditation and in consultation as to ways and means of deepening their own spiritual lives and of carrying to their own people the program now before us.

I hope and pray that all our parishes and missions are finding their place and part in the great undertaking to which we have been called. As the clergy have clearly recognized, it must begin with our own individual lives. The title of Mr. Shoemaker's new book, which the Presiding Bishop has appointed for our Lenten reading, gives us a slogan which we should all follow: "Revive Thy Church, Beginning with Me." To that end, I urge all our people to accept and carry out faithfully the "Christian Commitment" which Bishop Donegan, in consultation with the clergy, has formulated. Copies are available to all who desire them.

But we must not stop with the renewing of our own spiritual lives. We all have friends and acquaintances who have drifted away from the Church or who have no Church connection. There must be on the part of all of us a prayerful determination to do all in our power to make them see what the Church has to give and to draw them into its fellowship. If we are honest with ourselves we shall own that we have been strangely reluctant or remiss in following the example which St. Andrew has given us. Our Church statistics record the seriousness of our neglect.

We must keep clear in our minds—and in our prayers—that the great objective of the endeavor to which we are called can be attained only as we make it our business to let others know what we have found and use all our influence to bring them to a knowledge of the Master we serve. In many of our congregations specially selected teams have been organized and trained for this work; but all of us can and should have our share in it.

The requirement immediately before us is to insure the attendance of every communicant at the great Church-wide Corporate Communion on the first Sunday in Lent, February 15th, when special intercessions are to be made for the peace of the world and the extension of God's Kingdom. This ought to be the rallying-time of all our spiritual forces. And, with this beginning, let us so use the privileges that Lent provides, that we may all be quickened and strengthened for the continuing task that God has laid upon us.

Charles C Gilbert

Evangelism Program of
As Clergymen and Laity

Over 250 men and most of the clergy of Westchester Convocation, many of whom drove or came by bus long distances over icy roads, on the coldest night of the year, crowded the Parish Hall of St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, for the Laymen's Meeting on Evangelism on Thursday evening, January 15th.

Bishop Donegan presided at the meeting and, in his opening address, reported on the Conferences held by the clergy of the Diocese. He said that many Parishes are planning a house-to-house visitation. In a number of Churches groups of men and women have been organized for the visitation.

Bishop Donegan reported all rectors have indicated their willingness to hold a Corporate Communion for the Parish at 11:00 o'clock on the First Sunday in Lent as requested by the Presiding Bishop and to have special intercessions for the peace of the world.

The Bishop of the Diocese spoke, saying that he was encouraged by the large number of men at the meeting in spite of the sub-zero weather, and urged the laity to give full support to the clergy as they seek to make the Church a more effective witness for Christ "in these trying times."

The Rev. Arnold Lewis, Director of the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work, spoke on the part of the laity in Evangelism.

The final speaker, Richardson Wright, author, and editor of House and Garden spoke on the necessity of prayer, meditation, frequent Holy Communion and the use of the Prayer Book and the Bible if the laity are to fulfill their vocation as soldiers and servants of Christ. He concluded his address with a meditation on "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the midst of them."

The meeting adjourned with the Bishop of the Diocese pronouncing the Blessing.

Evangelism Service in Brewster

A special Evangelical service was held January 25th at St. Andrew's, Brewster for St. Andrew's; Good Shepherd, Granite Springs; Holy Communion, Lake Mahopac; St. James', North Salem; and St. Luke's, Somers.

Diocese Moves Forward Join in Devout Support

A Conference for Manhattan Clergy in the interests of Evangelism was held on January 8th and 9th at All Angels Farm, Ramapo, New York.

Rev. Sam Shoemaker

Besides the Manhattan clergy there were present the Bishop of the Diocese, the Suffragan Bishop, and the Deans of the Bronx, Ramapo and Westchester Convocations.

The leader was the Rev. S. S. Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Church and Chairman of the Manhattan Committee on Evangelism. The theme of the Conference was Personal Evangelism.

As requested by the clergy of the Convocations, a Rule of Life was prepared which represents a pattern for prayer and thought. Copies of "My Christian Commitment," the title of the Rule of Life, have been made available through the Rt. Rev. H. W. B. Donegan, D.D., 8 Avon Road, Larchmont, New York. The charge is one dollar per hundred.

Bishop Donegan requests that checks covering costs should accompany all orders.

A copy of My Christian Commitment is on pages 8-9 of this edition of the Bulletin.

Teacher Aids Listed for Lent Bible Study

The Department of Religious Education of the diocese has outlined a program for this year's Lenten Missionary Project, "The Bible Around the World."

Referring to the Lenten Mite Box, Rev. Raymond M. O'Brien, president of the department said, "The Lenten Mite Box not only can be but is a 'Mighty Box,' " in teaching value.

Suggested Petition for Every Man at His Work

Grant, O Father, that I may go about this day's business with an ever-present remembrance of the great traditions wherein I stand and the great cloud of witnesses which at all times surround me, that thereby I may be kept from evil ways and inspired to high endeavor.

So keep me until evening, in the might of Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen.

—John Baillie.

The following educational values for children were listed:

as the children are allowed to take an active part, such as participating in a Mite Box Dedication Service at the beginning and a Presentation Service at the closing;

as the children feel their action in service is meeting a real need for real people;

as they experience fellowship with other Christians who are also trying to minister to human need;

as they think of the project in specific terms such as clothes for babies, Bibles in native languages, building materials for chapels and schools;

as they sense a relationship between the mission project, their classs work, and their worship services;

as they watch their progress in giving through one of the many visual aid devices;

as they realize that they are helping Jesus by joining the long line of His followers who have yearned to "Go . . . into all the world . . . "

Materials for use in guiding the study, work, and worship of all ages and groups in the Church, are available from: The National Council, 281 Fourth Avenue, N. Y. # Evangelism Program of As Clergymen and Laity

Over 250 men and most of the clergy of Westchester Convocation, many of whom drove or came by bus long distances over icy roads, on the coldest night of the year, crowded the Parish Hall of St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains, for the Laymen's Meeting on Evangelism on Thursday evening, January 15th.

Bishop Donegan presided at the meeting and, in his opening address, reported on the Conferences held by the clergy of the Diocese. He said that many Parishes are planning a house-to-house visitation. In a number of Churches groups of men and women have been organized for the visitation.

Bishop Donegan reported all rectors have indicated their willingness to hold a Corporate Communion for the Parish at 11:00 o'clock on the First Sunday in Lent as requested by the Presiding Bishop and to have special intercessions for the peace of the world.

The Bishop of the Diocese spoke, saying that he was encouraged by the large number of men at the meeting in spite of the sub-zero weather, and urged the laity to give full support to the clergy as they seek to make the Church a more effective witness for Christ "in these trying times."

The Rev. Arnold Lewis, Director of the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work, spoke on the part of the laity in Evangelism.

The final speaker, Richardson Wright, author, and editor of House and Garden spoke on the necessity of prayer, meditation, frequent Holy Communion and the use of the Prayer Book and the Bible if the laity are to fulfill their vocation as soldiers and servants of Christ. He concluded his address with a meditation on "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the midst of them."

The meeting adjourned with the Bishop of the Diocese pronouncing the Blessing.

Chapel on Riker's Island Dedicated

On Monday, January 12th at ten o'clock, Bishop Gilbert dedicated the Mission House Chapel of St. Mary and St. John on Riker's Island, assisted by the Rev. William E. Sprenger, Director of the City Mission Society, and the Rev. Armen D. Jorjorian, Resident Chaplain at the Penitentiary on Riker's Island.

The Chapel is for the use of the Protestant members of the Penitentiary staff.

The Chapel was built almost entirely by inmates of the Penitentiary under the direction of the chief engineer and under the general supervision of the Bureau of Engineers of the Department of Correction. The New York Altar Guild supplied vestments and various sanctuary appointments.

The guests at the Dedication Service included the Commissioner of Correction, the two Deputy-Commissioners, the Warden and Deputy-Wardens of the Penitentiary, the officers who had directed the construction, representatives of three religious societies connected with the Department of Correction, the President of the New York Altar Guild and its Chairman for Riker's Island, and the Chaplaincy Staff of the City Mission Society.

Bishop Gilbert emphasized the spirit of cooperation between the Church and the civil authority in the erection of the Chapel.

Auxiliary Surpasses $40,000.00 Quota

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese, of which there are 180 branches, pledged to the National Council for 1947, $40,000. Total receipts against this pledge were $41,947.78 which represented an increase of $5,843.17 over the previous year.

The 1947 Christian Social Service Pledge of $2,500 for work on Ellis Island was over-subscribed by $185.67.

These gifts serve a three-fold purpose: They "help" the National Council; provision is made for one phase of work within the Diocese; and the contributions are credited to parish quotas.

Diocese Moved at Passing of Mrs. Arthur H. Judge

The diocese was moved with deep sorrow at the passing of Georgianna Frederica Judge, wife of the Rev. Arthur H. Judge, D.D., on January 20, 1948.

Mrs. Judge was vitally interested in the Woman's Auxiliary and at one time was also the head of a branch of The Daughters of the King. Dr. and Mrs. Judge were married for 64 years.

The funeral service was held at the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, January 23rd. Bishop Donegan officiated, assisted by the Rev. Robert J. Creech, of the parish.

Inter-Diocesan Body Pushes Social Laws

The Inter-Diocesan Committee on Legislation, representing the six Episcopal Dioceses in the State of New York, held its annual meeting in Albany, January 19th, in conjunction with the Churchman's Legislative Seminar of the New York State Council of Churches.

The proposed Fair Educational Practices Act for New York State, to outlaw discrimination based on race, religion, color or national origin in the admission of students to all educational institutions, was unanimously approved. The Committee also approved in principle the report of the Owen D. Young Committee on Higher Education, with its recommendation of a State University, plus regional four-year and two-year colleges, and professional schools. The Committee voted, however, to urge that the cost of operating the regional institutions be borne entirely by the State.

After debate, the Committee voted four to two (one not voting) to oppose Universal Military Training.

During the sessions of the Legislative Seminar, the delegates heard the Rev. Thomas B. Keen, Washington, D. C., Legislative Representative of the Council for Social Action of the Congregational —Christian Churches, "Appraisal of Roman Catholic Social Action."

The delegates met Governor Thomas E. Dewey for a forty-five-minute off-the-record talk.

The Rev. Leland B. Henry, Chairman of the Inter-Diocesan Committee, had an hour's conference with the Hon. Harold Ostertag, Chairman of the Special Committee on Social Welfare and Relief (a joint committee of the Senate and Assembly). Mr. Henry presented the statement on Child Welfare previously approved by the Inter-Diocesan Committee, and discussed pending legislation in the field of child care, especially the proposed amendment of the adoption law.

Presiding Bishop's Nation-Wide Hook-up Seeks Million in a Day for World Relief

Presiding Bishop Henry Knox Sherril will appeal to all Episcopalians by radio over four hundred stations at 11:30 A.M., the Third Sunday in Lent, February 29th, to help meet the needs of our fellow Christians in Europe and Asia. The coverage has been termed by radio officials the nearest to a nation-wide presidential radio address.

The Bishop's message will urge every church member to take part in alleviating this need through the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief.

Leaders hope the Church will give at least a million dollars in 1948 to the fund, and it is expected a major part will be realized on this day.

Hundreds of parishes and missions are planning to install receiving sets and amplifying systems so that every one attending the 11 o'clock service may hear Bishop Sherril. The program will originate in New York and will be carried by the Mutual Broadcasting System in this area. Transcriptions have been made available for parishes in other time zones and records are available for churches which do not have an eleven o'clock service or where it is desired to bring the message to an earlier or later service. Bishop Gilbert has urged all parishes and missions in the Diocese to cooperate in this plan.

Our church and 21 other American churches, including the Rumanian, Serbian and Russian Othodox churches in North America have joined together through Church World Service to provide relief in localities where resources are at a minimum. In 1947 aid went to 43 countries and amounted to over $14,500,000.

Representatives of the Episcopal Church sit on the Board of Directors of Church World Service and on all of its Committees. Missionaries and volunteer workers help to administer the program so that administrative costs are kept at a minimum.

The Diocese of New York is asked to contribute $138,500 in 1948 and each parish and mission has been assigned a share. Contributions are forwarded through the parish treasurers to the Treasurer of the Diocese.

How Faith and Good Will Rebuild Church

Out of the ashes of St. Mary's, West Brighton, is rising a new testimony to Christian fellowship and faith.

Last August 12th, standing side by side in ankle-deep water, peering with bloodshot eyes through the hot, sickening gloom of the smouldering ruin, faithful members of the parish, men of the community, Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Jewish, formed a chain-line from the inner sacristy through the Chapel to the Parish House. Vestments, altar hangings, silver and brass were salvaged from the smoking, charred remains of what had once been St. Mary's.

"The Church building may be destroyed, but the Church is still here," said the Rev. Orin Anthony Griesmeyer, rector, through his tears.

Then from all sides came expressions of deep, personal loss and sympathy. Neighborhood churches and theaters offered their buildings. And gifts, unsolicited, began to pour in from the Knights of Columbus, the Masonic Order, the Borough President, dean of the Roman Catholic Clergy, Msgr. Joseph A. Farrell, B'nai B'rith, and just people; until over $7,000.00 was received.

While faint blue smoke still rose, the new St. Mary's was being born.

The two-foot-thick stone walls remained undamaged, and within them everyone purposed to rebuild the early English Gothic structure fire had swept away.

SHELL OF FAITH that hope and fellowship of Staten Island will fill with new glory for St. Mary's.

A $40,000.00 increase in fire insurance covered the reconstruction except for $20,000.00. Raymond H. Juliam, communicant of St. Mary the Virgin, was architect. The construction contract was let to the Gabler Construction Company. The church expects to worship in the restored building by July 15th of this year, with all work completed by October.

In the meantime, St. Mary's begins its Centennial Year in her Parish House, amid salvaged kneelers and rude furnishings.

Rev. R. H. Thatcher

The Rev. Rob Roy Remington has been critically ill in St. Luke's Hospital but is now reported to be making a good recovery. For several weeks he has been taking the services at St. John's Church, Monticello, and at St. Andrew's Mission, S. Fallsburgh, where he has many friends.

The Rev. G. A. Zeltner, Vicar of St. Paul's Church, Spring Valley, and of St. John's Church, New City, is recovering from a serious illness in Nyack Hospital.

The Rev. George W. Smith, since 1943 a curate at St. Luke's Chapel, New York City, left January 6th to become rector, St. Luke's, St. Albans, Vt.

The Diocese will learn with deep regret that the Reverend Thomas McCandless has announced his resignation as Rector of St. Michael's Church, New York, to take effect on June 30.

Every churchman is urged to pitch in and push subscriptions to the BULLETIN.

The first response has topped our expectations, but there are many places which have not yet been heard from. In some parishes, every vestryman sent in his subscription. The Girls' Friendly Society and Young People's Fellowship in other churches are carrying on parish solicitation.

The Bishop's Message

What is the Next Step?

The growing momentum of the Program of Evangelism throughout the Diocese should be for all of us a matter of deep thankfulness and encouragement. Reports received from numerous parishes and missions indicate that our clergy and people alike have entered into this great undertaking with prayerful zeal and determination. Groups of the clergy are continuing to meet for prayer and consultation. In many places carefully selected teams have been organized and trained to seek out those who might be drawn into more active life in the Church and are now making the calls assigned to them.

The attendance at the great Church-wide Corporate Communion on the First Sunday in Lent has amazed us all. And our people as never before are availing themselves of the blessed privileges that Lent brings to us.

As this is written, preparations are being made in nearly all our churches to receive the address which our Presiding Bishop is to broadcast on the last Sunday in February. We can be confident that our people, out of the new spirit now stirring in our hearts, will be generous in their response to the appeal presented, not only because of the urgency of the great human need that waits to be relieved but because of our deepened devotion to the Church and its divine Head in whose Name that appeal is made.

And now Easter is before us. It should be the most glorious Easter we have ever known. A revitalized faith will find new meaning in the wondrous message it proclaims.

But what then?

Is Easter to mark the climax of the endeavor in which we have been engaged or can we make it, as we ought, simply the completion of the first step in equipping ourselves and our Church for the world task God now lays upon us?

I pray that our people will recognize that there is danger ahead—danger that the fervor and enthusiasm which have been aroused may be allowed to wane. It would be possible for us to fall back into the complacency which we have been trying to overcome.

Perhaps the real test is now before us. God grant that our clergy and people may make it their prayerful resolve to carry on with the continuing Program that has been set before us. The time will never come when we can cease our struggle for surer faith and clearer understanding. And only with that faith and understanding can we make our lives count for God and His Church in this time of our world's great need.

Church Club Holds 61st Annual Dinner

"A missionary zeal is our need," said the Right Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, recently elected Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Michigan at the Sixty-first Annual Dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria last month where his election was first publicly announced.

Bishop Emrich shared the podium with the Bishop of New York; Dr. Gordon Keith Chalmers, president of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, and chairman of the Commission on Liberal Education of the Association of American Colleges; and other honored guests.

Calling the glory of the world like the glory of autumn, because both are dying, Bishop Emrich decried the "aristocratic reserve, good taste which prevents us from doing the things we ought to do as Christians." He urged that every vital religion is always missionary, to bring others to what one believes to be truth. "Don't block that spirit," said the Bishop, "that would be the greatest crime."

PRAYER: "I Have Given Them Thy Word"

Blessed Saviour, who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven, and didst honor and burden Thine every disciple, each in his own way, to make known Thy saving power; awaken in each one of us such love toward Thee, that in our own time and place and according to the opportunity before us, we may proclaim Thee and win men near and far into Thy blessed kingdom; and to Thee be the honor and glory, world without end. Amen.

Prayers of the Devout Bring "Divine Healing"

The "Healing Mission" conducted at the Church of the Heavenly Rest last month by the Rev. John Gayner Banks, D.Litt. closed with a miraculous demonstration, said the Rev. Henry Darlington, D.D., rector.

Miss Margaret Rand, a faithful parishioner had been afflicted with an incurable ailment. She lingered in painful suffering. Then on February 24, 1948 at 11:20 A.M. prayers were offered for her "blessed release."

A parish representative was at her side, at the time, and reported that "about 11:45 A.M. the sun came in the window, she relaxed, a great calm came over her, and she died."

Dr. Darlington cited another instance from a letter just received from a nurse's assistant, "I only wish I could have attended the services more often . . . I know I was helped."

For the past eight years Services of Divine Healing have been held every Tuesday at 11:00 A.M. in the Chapel of the parish, and on Sundays at 4:00 P.M. in the Church.

Four Convocation Deans Report Progress In Mission Field as Their Terms Expire

A. L. Gustafson

Rev. Messrs. George W. Dumbell, Arthur V. Litchfield, George F. Bratt, and Frank L. Carruthers cast up accounts on their expiring Deanships.

Fifty-One Missions and Aided Parishes Growing

The terms of office of the Deans of the Convocations of Westchester, Hudson, Ramapo and the Bronx expire this Spring. The Deans are the heads of the Convocation Councils which, under the authority of the Bishop and the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, have general supervision of missions and assisted parishes. There are 17 missions and assisted parishes in the Westchester Convocation, 14 in Hudson, 14 in Ramapo and 6 in the Bronx.

At a recent meeting when plans were made for the annual Spring meetings of the convocations to which lay delegates are now being elected, the four Deans made a report of their stewardship.

The Reverend George F. Bratt has served for six years as the Dean of the Westchester Convocation. He is the rector of St. Paul's Church, Ossining, and All Saints' Church, Briarcliff. During his term, one mission, St. Mary-the-Virgin, Chappaqua, has become an incorporated parish, one parish, St. John, Wilmot, has become independent of assistance, Grace Hall Chapel has been accepted as an organized mission, and a new mission, known as St. Francis, Elmsford, has been opened. Mr. Bratt was instrumental in developing plans for the purchase of a new home for St. Augustine's, Yonkers, and new rectories for St. Barnabas, Ardsley, St. Simon's, New Rochelle, St. Luke's, Tuckahoe, and St. Mark's, Nepera Park, Yonkers.

The Reverend Frank L. Carruthers, rector of St. George's, Newburgh, has been Dean of the Hudson Convocation for five years. During this period, major renovations of the rectory and church of St. James', Callicoon, were completed; the rectory of Christ Church, Marlboro, was put in first class condition; and Holy Trinity Church, Highland, was assisted in providing itself with quarters suitable for parish gatherings. Mr. Carruthers was successful in organizing large gatherings of the men of the Convocation to hear prominent speakers on the Church's program, and he initiated action by the Diocesan Missionary Society resulting in a closer association between our work at

Women Hear Reports Of Mountaineer Folk

The Diocesan meeting of the Women's Auxiliary last month was held at St. Bartholomew's Community House. The speakers were Miss Dorothy Stabler, National Supply Officer, and Deaconess Booth.

Deaconess Booth gave a presentation of the work that is being done in the mountains of southwestern Virginia, with special emphasis on the work of the Handicraft Guild of that Diocese. She brought samples of the brooms, dolls, and woven mats and scarves made, and explained that through their sale men and women are able to obtain necessary medical help and other necessities.

Miss Stabler spoke of her trip in the Blue Ridge Mountains last summer.

The United Thank Offering presented by the women of the Diocese up to February 15, 1948, amounted to $47,300.65.

Rev. Oliver S. Newell, Rector, St. John's, Yonkers, Resigns

The Reverend Oliver Shaw Newell, who celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood last June, has resigned as rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Getty Square, Yonkers.

Rev. O. S. Newell

Dr. Newell has promised the vestry to continue as rector until his successor is elected.

After graduation from General Theological Seminary in 1896, he was ordained priest by Bishop Doane and served Eglise Du Saint Sprit in New York City and St. Luke's, Mechanicsville. Before coming to St. John's in February, 1925, he was rector of the Church of the Messiah, Glen Falls, where he served for 16 years.

Anglican Cleric Seeks Man and Wife He Married

The Bishop's Office was asked by the Madison Square Station of the U. S. Post Office, who had been asked by the Rev. Cecil F. Fortescue, rector at Shepperton-on-Thames, Middlesex, England, to find Fran and Walt Greenwood, married by the Rev. Mr. Fortescue at The Annunciation, Bryanton St., Marble Arch, London.

The clergyman is anxious for their current address.

Bishop Praises Y. C. S. Work with Young Girls

"The Youth Consultation Service carries into its daily activities all that our religion has to contribute to the readjustment of bruised lives," said the Bishop at a reception and tea celebrating the 37th Annual Meeting of Youth Consultation Service of the Diocese of New York at St. Bartholomew's Community House.

After the Invocation, delivered by the Rev. Dr. G. P. T. Sargent, of St. Bartholomew's Church, Mr. George W. Van Slyck, President of Y.C.S., welcomed the guests. The Treasurer, Mr. Sydney G. Stevens gave an accounting of the 800 individual contributors who supplied more than $16,000 in contributions last year, of the grant from the Diocese of New York of $18,000, representing 25% of the agency's total expenditures, and of other special activities.

A service report was made by the executive director, Miss Margaret M. Stewart, who said that 49% of the girls served came from homes disrupted by illness, death, divorce or separation. In 1947, she added, 39 parishes made referrals, as well as 20 church institutions.

Bishop Gilbert said further, "I hope and pray that you here will do your utmost to get your parish and your friends to see the nature of and responsibility that this work involves for all of us."

St. Faith's House, School For Deaconesses, to Close

The closing of the New York Training School for Deaconesses, St. Faith's House, was announced last month by the Rev. Charles N. Shepard, warden.

Dr. Shepherd said, "When the trustees of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine permitted the erection of St. Faith's House on the cathedral property, it was upon the condition that they might at any time acquire the house and other rights enjoyed by the school after a year's notice and upon payment of a price to be determined as fair, but not to exceed the original cost of the building. The cathedral trustees have now elected to exercise the option which they hold, and have given the required notice as of November 17, 1947. They propose to remodel the house for cathedral offices."

Accepts Election to Religious Ed. Board

The Reverend James Willard Yoder, rector of St. Paul's Church, Hammond, Indiana, and lecturer in psychology in Purdue University Technical Institute, Hammond, has accepted his election to become director of religious education and youth work for the Board of Religious Education of the Diocese of New York. He will assume his new duties in the early summer.

Rev. J. W. Yoder

He came into the Church from the Congregational Ministry, having been pastor of the Congregational Church in Seymour, Indiana, and teacher of Bible Study in the High School there. He was ordained to the Priesthood by the late Bishop Francis of Indianapolis in 1938. He served as vicar of St. Matthew's Church, Indianapolis, until he was elected to All Saints' Cathedral, Indianapolis in 1943, where he remained until going to Hammond in 1945.

The office of the Director is in the Old Synod House on the grounds of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Efforts are being made by the Board of Religious Education to find suitable housing for the new director and his family.

Cathedral Gives 10 Sundays to Missionary Program of Church

At the last meeting of the trustees of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the collections from all services on ten Sundays were designated for the Missionary program of the Church.

The 1st, 2nd, 4th Sundays in Lent; 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th after Easter; Rogation Sunday, 1st Sunday after Trinity and one other to be selected are the Sundays set aside.

The offering from the first two Sundays totaled $295.34.

Three Hundred Youths Adopt "My Christian Commitment"

Some three hundred young people in the Convocation of Richmond met together at St. John's Church, Rosebank, Staten Island, for a Pre-Lenten Youth Rally in the interest of Evangelism on February 8th. After the service, the young people ate box lunches in the Parish House. Tea and coffee were served by the host Church. Representatives from the Church of the Ascension, St. Andrew's, Christ Church, St. Mary's, St. Paul's Memorial, St. Stephen's and St. John's attended.

Bishop Donegan's talk stirred the gathering and he presented the leaflet, "MY CHRISTIAN COMMITMENT." The young people whole-heartedly adopted the Commitment.

The Rev. Alexander Frier was chosen clerical representative of young people's work on the Island, and Donald Grinnell, youth chairman.

Mission Appeals for Furnishings

An appeal has been received from St. Francis, Elmsford, the newest mission in the diocese, for "any and all ecclesiastical furnishings."

Clergy, Youth, Laity "God is Beckoning His

"God is beckoning His church," said Bishop Gilbert to the 250-odd assembled clergy and laity of Manhattan at their Synod House meeting last month in which the evangelism program of the Church was given new impetus.

Bishop Donegan opened the meeting with prayer, and the Rev. Samuel Shoemaker presided.

Other speakers were Ralston Young, known as "Red Cap No. 42" of Grand Central Station; the editor of House and Garden, Richardson Wright and Mrs. Wright.

Bishop Gilbert stressed the importance of first "getting ourselves square with God." He quoted statistics showing the decline in church membership from 1937 to 1947, and said the first task of the church is to find those who were confirmed and who have become inactive.

Mr. Young related some of his experiences with the group of men which meets daily at noon on Track No. 13 for prayer and fellowship.

Mrs. Wright told of the work of the prayer cell which she started in her parish. Together with three other women, she has put aside time daily for prayer and meditation. If word comes of illness or need of any kind of somebody in the parish these women communicate with each other and ask that prayers be said.

A Lay Flame in Evangelism On Un-Freezing Our Faith

"I was speaking in a small New England town and my subject was, 'God Is a Consuming Fire.' When I finished, one of the natives rose to thank me. He said, 'It's all very nice to talk about God being a consumin' fire and us gettin' all hot about religion, but in this part of the country, when we want to preserve something, we keep it cold.' He believed in deep-freeze religion."

Richardson Wright

The speaker was Richardson Wright, editor of House and Garden, and, in the evangelism movement sweeping the Church, one who has worked as an example to stir laymen to "take religion out of the deep-freeze."

In his paper-cluttered, twentieth-story office, entered through an ultra-modern chartreuse and yellow reception room, the lay evangelist speaks of God, gardens, the Holy Ghost, complaints and evangelism with the easy assurance of a man in the midst of things which are important, are beloved and are sufficient.

"We want a new and lasting flame to burn within the Church," Mr. Wright said, flipping through a sheaf of papers. "The proof of evangelism is not how many people crowd churches, but how many go out into the world carrying the express image of Him who is Light of Lights? Not to keep people contented, but to astonish, shock them into living."

He began serving God when he stained floors and cut grass at the Holy Cross Monastery, West Park, N. Y. at the age of 16 years, 45 years ago. "Or," he said, "maybe it's new." He used to be glad not too many people came to the early communion. It was quiet and peaceful to be alone with God. "Then I realized how selfish it was not to want the family of God to grow. So I went to work."

RE-ENACT HISTORY. Just as the Rev. Elias Cooper, founder of St. John's Church, Colonial Heights, was greeted 150 years ago, the Rev. Osborne Budd, present rector, dressed in clerical vestments of Mr. Cooper's time, is greeted by William Stevenson, senior warden, to mark sesquicentennial of the building of the church in 1798.

Four Convocation Deans Report Progress in Missionary Field

St. Andrew's Church, New Paltz, and the State Teachers College at that point.

The Reverend George W. Dumbell, Dean of the Convocation of the Ramapo for the past three years, is rector of St. David's Church, Highland Mills, and St. John's Church, Arden. Mr. Dumbell has been actively interested in summer work with campers at Bear Mountain, and his help and encouragement have aided the growth of the work at St. Paul's, Spring Valley, St. John's, New City, and St. Stephen's, Pearl River.

The Reverend Arthur V. Litchfield, rector of St. James' Church, Fordham, has served as Dean of the Bronx Convocation for three years. During his term all mortgage indebtedness on the mission stations in the convocation has been removed and two missions, the Church of the Atonement and St. Martha's, have become self-supporting, incorporated parishes. Mr. Litchfield has given much time, together with his colleagues on the Council, to developing a strategic plan for the advancement of the Church.

St. Stephen's, Woodlawn, Buys New Parish House

The purchase of the house next to the rectory for a parish house by St. Stephen's Church, Woodlawn, was announced February 22nd by the Rev. F. Gray Garten, S.T.B., rector.

The building at 435 East 238th Street was bought for $10,000.00, "through the sacrificial cooperation of Arthur and Richard Clark, sons of the late Mr. & Mrs. Frank D. Clark, which is considerably less than it would bring at the present market," said the rector.

$6,666.66 was given as an outright gift by the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society. The balance, $3,333.34 will be loaned at 4% by the American Church Building Fund Commission. Reconditioning will have the property ready for use by fall.

Standing on a 50x100 plot, the house has 9 rooms, bath and lavatory.

Bishop Urges Support of European Recovery

The European Recovery Program was given vigorous support in a letter from Bishop Gilbert to all rectors and priests in the Diocese of New York. The Bishop pointed out that the European Recovery Program has been approved by the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church and by the Federal Council of Churches. He urged the cooperation of the Diocese in the campaign for E.R.P. planned by the Commission on Christian Social Relations.

The Commission, in its communication to the rectors, urged that a real effort be made to acquaint the Church with the issues involved, and that resolutions be adopted and petitions circulated in support of the plan.

Literature is available at the office of the Commission, 416 Lafayette Street, or from the Committee for the Marshall Plan, Empire State Building, New York, N. Y.

Local Churches Adopting Poorer English Parishes

Many of our parishes have already adopted poorer parishes in England to which they are sending food packages. The Bishop has on file the names of other parishes where such packages would be welcomed. There is one particularly appealing case of a blind clergyman who ministers to 120 blind parishioners for whom he asks help. Another appeal comes from a church in a large industrial town. The name of the parish is St. Nicholas. and this year, for the first time in its history there was no Christmas party for the Sunday School children.

Celebrates Fifteenth Anniversary As Rector of St. Bartholomew's

The Rev. George Paull T. Sargent, D.D., celebrated his fifteenth anniversary as rector of St. Bartholomew's Church last month.

Rev. G. P. Sargent

Prior to coming to St. Bartholomew's, Dr. Sargent served as assistant at St. David's, Indianapolis, 1908-09; rector, St. Thomas' Church, Battle Creek, Michigan, 1909-13; rector, Grace Church, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 1913-27; and dean, Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City, L. I., 1927-33.

The assistant ministers, Rev. Irving S. Pollard and Rev. Charles P. Deems wrote to the congregation, "We thank God for his long and fruitful ministry and pray that God will continue to strengthen and inspire him in the years which lie ahead."

Matches Dollar for Dollar on Mortgage

Through the generosity of Alex Figge, Holy Trinity Church, Seaman Avenue and Cumming Street, New York City, is hoping to wipe out the last of its mortgage indebtedness of $32,000.00, the rector, the Rev. J. Boyd Davis, revealed last month.

Mr. Figge, a member of the parish dating from the days of old Holy Trinity, promised to give dollar for dollar up to $5,000.00 of what the people will pledge to wipe out the last $13,000.00 of the mortgage on the parish house still remaining after a previous drive, just completed.

In 1939, when the Rev. Mr. Davis was instituted as rector, the mortgage was $32,000.00. This was reduced by $7,000.00, and in 1946 a campaign was begun to wipe out the balance. In the 1946-47 drive $12,796.50 was pledged, and almost $12,000.00 has been paid to date, through a twenty-month period, over 90% of the total pledged, leaving the $13,000.00 balance against which Mr. Figge's offer applies.

"This is rekindling the enthusiasm of the people and their endeavor to rid the parish of what has been for so long a very heavy burden," said the rector.

Men's Club Gives Amplifier

The Men of St. James, Fordham, presented their church with a new amplifying system linking the church, the parish hall, and other rooms.

It includes a record player, and there are a number of ear-phones for the deaf.

St. Peter's School Marks 10 Yrs. As Glee Club Sings Through Diocese

St. Peter's School Glee Club, Peekskill, is celebrating the tenth anniversary of the founding of the school.

They have sung at St. Stephen's, Woodlawn; the Church of the Divine Love, Montrose; Christ Church, Poughkeepsie; and St. Mark's Chapel, Yonkers.

The Rev. Frank C. Leeming, school headmaster, directs the Glee Club.

Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan Offered to the Clergy

Through the offices of the Bishop, the Associated Hospital Service has offered to accept the clergy of the Diocese as a group under its "BLUE CROSS PLAN." A letter and a booklet describing the various contracts available will shortly be sent to all clergy canonically resident and active in the Diocese.

Fifty percent of those eligible must apply before the plan will become effective. Any clergyman who at present is enrolled in the plan may transfer to the new group and thereby gain advantages of the group contract. Such members will also count towards the 50% quota needed to make the plan effective.

Original payments which accompany applications will be routed through the office of the Treasurer of the Diocese but when the plan becomes effective payments will be made direct by each clergyman to the Associated Hospital Service.

Civil Rights Courses Conducted

The Rev. Leland B. Henry, Executive Director of the Commission on Christian Social Relations, conducted a course on the Report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights for four Fridays, beginning February 20th, for the Women's Association of Grace Church, New York; and for five Wednesday evenings, beginning February 18th, at St. Bartholomew's Church, White Plains.

War Hero Bequeathes Organ Stop

A new stop (Principal) for the great organ has been bequeathed to St. Thomas Church, Manhattan, by the late Donald S. Candlyn, who was killed in action at Eschdorf, Luxembourg, on December 26, 1944, after volunteering to establish communications with Brigade Headquarters.

He was born April 12, 1925. His parents were Dr. T. Frederick H. Candlyn, organist and choirmaster of St. Thomas, and Mrs. Candlyn.

Gifts to Aid Jerusalem Mission

Again, on Good Friday, an offering will be taken for the work of the Jerusalem Mission in the Holy Land. The offering supports an American Chaplain, the Rev. Walter C. Klein, and helps maintain the work of the mission.

Sample posters, envelopes and leaflets have been sent to the churches.

A Lay Flame in Evangelism On Un-Freezing Our Faith

He has conducted seven schools of religion in seven dioceses. He has written for religious publications, including the Living Church, the Holy Cross Magazine, as well as produced pamphlets, books, the "Before——" leaflets, while filling innumerable speaking engagements before groups of two or three thousand or only thirty persons as recently at St. Andrew's, Brewster, N. Y. And he has kept House and Garden a top authority in housing and gardening.

And as though his own giving were not enough, his wife fully shares his active evangelism.

What keeps him going?

"After you're converted, pious sentiments won't carry a man. Your religion has to cost you something," he said. "I get six hours sleep. We're out two or three times a week. But I never had the sense of growing as now. Many men stop at 45; but at 61, I am eager to go on. Where the strength comes from, I'm not going to say. But I think I know. Every day I get a wonderful lift, and I like to remember what Father Hughson used to say, 'Remember, the prayer of a Chinese coolie in Canton may save you from sin in New York City.' "

He spoke easily as a man at peace with faith and filled with the desire to share it.

Small town businessmen have been the hardest souls to touch. "Many," he said, "thought of the Church as a sort of Super-Rotary. I have three files in my office: flowers, masonry, and Holy Ghost. And the Holy Ghost file keeps on a-growing. It would be a wonderful thing if every business man did the same."

Interracial Service Fills St. John Divine

The fifth annual celebration of Race Relations Sunday, sponsored by the Interracial Fellowship of Greater New York was held at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine last month.

An estimated 6,000 persons heard Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College and formerly vice-president of the Federal Council of Churches, speak on "The Unpopular, but Inescapable Christ." Dr. Earl Frederick Adams, executive secretary of the Protestant Council read the scriptures and the Rev. Alfred S. Akamatsu, pastor of Japanese Methodist Church spoke on the Interracial Fellowship and announced the offering.

The Rev. Ralph H. Rowse is the executive director of the sponsoring organization.

The New York Assembly was recently organized at a meeting of the Brotherhood Chapters at St. Luke's Church Convent Ave., Manhattan. Officers are: George E. Heerwagen, president; Christopher Gordon, secretary; William Donawa, treasurer; Richard Doty, vice-chairman and program; Robert E. Heintz, extension; Edward G. Edom, finance; Robert H. ## Of Church, the Pony Express, and Books

Sixty years ago, an inspiration came to a member of the Church of the Holy Communion, Manhattan, Mrs. Mortimer Fargo whose husband was one of the founders of Wells-Fargo & Co., the Pony Express. Today, that inspiration is bearing world-wide fruit.

The Theological Seminary at Port au Prince, Haiti, has been supplied with books. China, Japan and the Philippines are receiving large numbers of books to rebuild libraries destroyed by the war. Around the world, the reading needs of hundreds of thousands are served by the Church Periodical Club which Mrs. Fargo started in 1888 by calling together a few of her friends. Today there are 2,200 branches and over 6,000 donors and volunteer workers.

Last year, the mother branch in the Diocese of New York sent out over 100,000 magazines, including subscriptions, 6,000 books, and many miscellaneous articles.

While the bulk of the material is donated, many subscriptions and books are purchased at the request of theological seminaries, universities, schools and missions. Medical subscriptions and books are given to many hospitals.

The officers are Mrs. Basil B. Elmer, director; Mrs. Edward T. Herndon, assistant director; Mrs. John P. Lins, secretary; Mrs. Fancher Nicoll; and the executive committee: Miss Marian Wilkinson, Mrs. Charles J. Symington, Mrs. Henry S. Benefield, Mrs. Fancher Nicoll, Mrs. Adolph W. Berle, and Miss Mary Ball, secretary, Old Synod House, Amsterdam Ave. and 110th St.

Issue Joint Service Leaflet

Four Manhattan parishes issued a joint Lenten Service Calendar leaflet, listing the weekday services and special speakers.

The four churches are: Trinity (downtown), St. Bartholomew's, St. Thomas, and St. James'.

The leaflet was also distributed by the Church of the Epiphany.

Men and boys at Bronx Corporate Communion.

Communions Honor Father of Country

The men and boys of the Bronx and Richmond convocations made their annual corporate communion, in commemoration of George Washington's birthday, on February 23rd. They remembered, especially, the churchmen who built our nation.

In the Bronx, at St. James' Church, the celebrant, the Rev. A. V. Litchfield was assisted by the Rev. Messrs. F. Gray Garten, and Hugh H. Henry. Twenty churches were represented out of twenty-three. "Very stimulating, when it is considered that the Laymen started only four years ago," said the chairman, George E. Heerwagen.

Over 230 attended the breakfast, and heard Horace L. Varian, president of Ammidon & Co., speak. "You men must set an example so others may follow, not alone Sunday, but every day, every minute, whether you are a salesman, factory worker, shoemaker, paper hanger or executive," he said.

In Richmond, the eighth annual celebration was held at St. John's Church, Clifton. 310 men and boys of Staten Island made their communions and 274 ate breakfast together. St. Paul's was the host church.

At the Eucharest, the Rev. Dana U. Pierce celebrated, assisted by the Rev. Messrs. Andrew C. Long of Christ Church, Raymond E. Brock of St. Stephen's and E. Lloyd Ballinger of the Church of the Holy Comforter. The monetary offering was designated for "The Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief."

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Wagner College, Staten Island, spoke on "Christian Laymen and Two Worlds." Dominic Rich was toastmaster. The dean of the convocation, Rev. Raymond G. Rogers, Norton Fremd, general chairman of the committee in charge, and Thomas Rabbage, secretary of the committee, also spoke.

The Bishop's Message:

The Need for Friendly Visitations

In the reports that come to me of the progress of the Program of Evangelism in the Diocese one of the most gratifying features is the way in which many of our parishes and missions are carrying out the visitations we are expected to make. Teams of men and women have been carefully selected and trained and are now calling upon the persons assigned to them, giving them information regarding the Church and the parish. These visitors have been warmly received. Their calls have been much appreciated and a new spirit of neighborliness has been created. In many instances, baptisms have resulted or persons have indicated a desire for confirmation. Many have declared their intention of becoming more regular in their Church attendance. And incidently, perhaps, but not least in importance, the callers themselves have found real spiritual uplift and a surprising measure of happiness in the service they have rendered.

Of course, it is just this effort which the Program of Evangelism contemplates and for which we are urged to prepare ourselves. But it is heartening to know that its great possibilities are being demonstrated. I earnestly hope that those parishes and missions that have yet to provide for these visitations will not fail to do so. We cannot afford to miss out on the benefits which they promise for the Church and for those who need its ministrations. It has been shown that in every community there are those who to-day are craving what the Church has to give. There are many lapsed or unaffiliated persons who would now share in its life if they were encouraged to do so.

My anxious concern is that once their calls have been made the visitors may feel that their assignment is completed, that there is nothing more to do, and the friendly contacts made will be lost. We must remember that no time limit has been fixed for the great Program upon which we have entered. It calls for continuing effort.

I am glad to learn that some of our parishes are providing for stystematic visitations throughout the year. This cannot fail to produce valuable results. And it represents the kind of evangelism to which God is always calling us.

And may I add that this important service need not be limited to a particular group. Any one who values what the Church has to give should be eager to try, as opportunity offers, to induce his friends to come and share its blessed gifts.

Convocations Review Missionary Progress

Six regular business meetings of the Convocations of the Diocese have been scheduled during the next few weeks. Members of the Convocations are the clergy canonically resident and three lay delegates from each parish and mission station. In the Convocations of Westchester, the Bronx, Ramapo, and Hudson, Deans will be elected to succeed the Reverend Messrs. George F. Bratt, Arthur V. Litchfield, George W. Dumbell and Frank L. Carruthers. Each Convocation will elect one resident presbyter and one resident layman to serve on the Convocation Council for a term of two years, one presbyter and one layman to serve on the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society for one year and one person to serve on each of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education and the Commission on Christian Social Relations.

As the Convocations are organized for the purpose of furthering the missionary enterprise of the Diocese, several of the meetings will be held in mission stations. The Convocation of the Hudson will assemble for dinner on April 12 at the Wallkill Prison in Wallkill, N. Y. where the City Mission Society maintains a chaplain. The Convocation of Ramapo will meet at the mission of St. John the Divine, Tomkins Cove, on April 20. The Rev. Walter W. Reid is vicar of this mission. St. Mary-of-the-Angels, under its Vicar, the Rev. Lorenzo Di Sano will entertain the Bronx Convocation at an Italan spaghetti supper preceding the business session on April 26. The Convocation of Westchester will meet at St. John's Church Tuckahoe, on April 22 and one of the

Young People Meet for Annual Communion and Rally

Approximately 500 youth of the diocese gathered at the Cathedral April 3rd, for a corporate communion and rally called by the Board of Religious Education.

The Holy Communion was celebrated at 11.00 a. m. The Rev. James Green, canon precentor of the Cathedral and headmaster of the Cathedral Choir School was the preacher.

The young people brought their own box luncheons and ate in the crypt of the Cathedral.

Non-Roman Clergy Ask for E.R.P.

Eighteen hundred churchmen from all parts of the country and representing all the non-Roman communions, met in the Washington Cathedral last month in behalf of the European Recovery Program.

The Rev. Leland B. Henry, Executive Director of the Commission on Christian Social Relations, Diocese of New York, attended as the representative of the Diocese and of the National Council Department of Christian Social Relations.

Reports on Presiding Bishops' Radio Appeal Show Enthusiastic Response by the Diocese

The Presiding Bishop's nationwide appeal for $1,000,000.00 as our share of aiding overseas needy through Church World Service brought a response which appears to have met this goal. But the need of devastated areas still surpasses present contributions.

The suffering left in the wake of war is dramatically depicted in the montage above. Left to right, top, shows remains of European village in contrast with our American scene below, unscathed by war. Next, a line-up for the food our contribution makes possible and below, our well-stocked store shelves. And lastly, the converted barracks that serves as a place of worship, so drab beside our beautiful churches that escaped bombing.

Reports being received at the office of the Treasurer of the Diocese indicate that the majority of the congregations throughout the diocese heard the Presiding Bishop's broadcast on February 29 and responded to the appeal considerably in excess of last year's effort. As of April first there were still approximately 75 parishes and missions which had not been heard from and comparatively few have actually sent their contribution to the Treasurer. The Treasurer urges that remittances be made as soon as possible to his office in the old Synod House.

The total goal of the Diocese is $138,500, of which $77,000 is now definitely in sight. There are numerous instances of outstanding gifts and pledges. These figures represent actual receipts by the Diocese to March 31st or estimates furnished by the parishes, whichever is higher.

St. Paul's, Chester, with a goal of $28, gave $51; St. Augustine's, Croton, with a goal of $72, expects to give $215; St. Joseph's Elmsford, with a goal of $61, will give $120; St. David's, Highland Mills, with a goal of $20, will give $45; St. John the Divine, Mt. Vernon, goal $242, estimate $356; St. Martha's, N. White Plains, goal $17, estimate $30; Christ Church, Patterson, goal $19, estimate $35; St. Stephen's Pearl River, goal $85, estimate $150; St. John's, Pleasantville, goal $182, estimate $675; St. James-the-Less, Scarsdale, goal $1,803, gave $2,520; Christ Church, Suffern, expects to give $200 against its goal of $336, but its people contributed more than $950 in 1947. All Angel's Church in Manhattan exceeded its full goal of $2,271 even though its 1947 campaign produced $3,300. The Church of the Epiphany in Manhattan expects $1,650; its goal was $1,328. The Church of the Holy Nativity in the Bronx expects to give $900, and to repeat this

Our Responsibility to Aid Overseas Needy Not Ended

The responsibility of churches in the Diocese to those in need overseas is not ended with their prompt and generous contributions to the Presiding Bishop's Fund. There remains the year-round task of the churches to collect clothing, bedding and shoes for shipment to the New York Regional Warehouse of Church World Service, 214 East 21st Street, New York 10. N. Y.

Churches are asked, whenever possible, to send along with their shipments to the warehouse 15 cents a pound to pack and deliver clothing to recipients abroad.

Organize Manhattan Convocation to Aid Missionary Society

The Bishop has called a meeting of the clergy and lay delegates from the parishes and missions of Manhattan to be held at SYNOD HOUSE, at 8:30 p. m., on April 17th, for the purpose of organizing a Convocation to serve with the other six Convocations of the Diocese in promoting the work of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society.

While the Canons provide that there shall be a Convocation of Manhattan it has never been set up because the nature of the area involved did not seem to require it.

It is felt that there are now developing, however, certain urgent missionary needs and opportunities within its field that would make an organization for Manhattan highly useful and that it could serve to bring its parishes and missions into closer relation with the activities of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society.

Call Annual Meeting of Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary announced their annual meeting to be at the CATHEDRAL, May 4th, and that the Right Rev. John Boyd Bentley, former Bishop of Alaska will be the speaker.

Clifford Morehouse Tells Church Club of World Church Assembly

The Church Club of New York Round Table Dinner, last month heard Clifford P. Morehouse, editor of The Living Church and alternate delegate of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH to the Assembly of World Council of Churches to be held in Holland, speak on "Pilgrimage to Amsterdam."

The April speaker, on the 5th, was the Rev. Dr. Arthur L. Kinsolving, rector of ST. JAMES.

PRAYER*: "Take from us our Plenty for Those in NEED"

O God, Almighty and Merciful, who healest those that are broken in heart, and turnest the sadness of the sorrowful into joy; whose fatherly goodness reaches out to all that Thou hast made; we remember before Thee such as are this day destitute, cold, hungry, or in any way afflicted and distressed. Bring them to speedy deliverance. Arouse Thy people to sympathy of heart and generosity of hand. Take from us our plenty and use it for those in need, that all may thus learn the love of Christ. We ask it in the name of Him who numbered Himself with the least of His brethren, even the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

St. Andrew Brotherhood at Cathedral April 18th

The newly-created Diocesan Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of which Mr. George E. Heerwagen, president, is preparing for a great Evangelist Service at the CATHEDRAL 4:00 p. m., Sunday, April 18th. Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, the president of Ripon College will be the speaker.

While the mass meeting is intended primarily for all Brotherhood members and the men and boys of the whole Diocese, an invitation has been extended to all people to attend and take part in the service.

One Hundred Sixty-Sixth Annual Convention Of the Diocese Starts Sessions on May 11th

The 166th Convention of the Diocese will be held on May 11th. Delegates will assemble at 8:15 a. m. in the CATHEDRAL for the celebration of the Holy Communion.

The business session will be called to order in the Synod Hall at 10:00 a. m.

One of the most important items of business is always the election of members to the Standing Committee, the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, the Board of Religious Education and the Commission on Christian Social Relations. The Convention also elects deputies to the Provincial Synod and nominates trustees of the CATHEDRAL.

Lists of offices to be filled at the election have been sent to clerical and lay delegates together with nomination blanks. Nominations signed by five members of Convention must be in the hands of the Secretary, the Rev. R. A. D. Beaty, 346 West 20 Street, New York 11, N. Y., on or before April 12th.

One innovation this year will be the election of clergy and lay members to the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society for terms of three years instead of one year as in the past. This year one clergyman and one layman will be elected for a term of one year, one clergyman and one layman for a term of two years and one clergyman and one layman for a term of three years. The convention is expected to complete its business by mid-afternoon and the Bishop has invited the clergy, lay delegates and their wives to a reception in Ogilvie House at 4:30 p. m.

Ralston Young, Red Cap, Visits St. James the Less, Scarsdale

The Rev. James Harry Price, rector of ST. JAMES THE LESS, Scarsdale, reports that one of the bright spots of their Wednesday Lenten Services was the appearance of Ralston Young, now famous Redcap No. 42 of Track Thirteen worship service at the Grand Central station.

Ralston C. Young

Mr. Young has distinguished himself by his spiritual leadership throughout the Evangelism movement in the diocese.

Vote on Extending Half Vote to Aided Parishes

Assisted parishes receiving regular assistance from the Diocese and not in union with the Convention may receive the same voting privileges as organized missions if amendments to Article IV and Articles IX of the Constitution and to Canon 2 are approved at the coming convention.

The change was approved by the 1947 convention, and this will be the second and final action as required by the Constitution.

Years ago the Canons provided that no parish could become in union with the Convention until it agreed to pay its rector a salary of not less than $2,000 per annum together with a suitable residence. Therefore, parishes aided with the stipend were without votes.

In the meantime, organized missions were granted a half-vote each.

Summertime Can Be Ch

Outdoors and Worship Build Campers' Bodies and Refresh Souls

In our Church camps, summertime is Christ's time to touch children through the ministry of the great outdoors. At the Girls' Friendly Camp, All Angels' Farm, the Diocesan Summer Conference and the City Mission Camps, the physical need of children for fresh air and a place to stretch their legs has been blended with the spiritual value of learning to find and worship God in the midst of His yearly creation of growing trees, green grasses, and abundant nature.

For twenty-five years at Sherwood & Interlochen, two miles from Monroe, N. Y., the Girls' Friendly Society has organized a four-point camp experience to help girls "build sound bodies, alert minds, creative relationships, and spiritual strengths through: (1) active outdoor sports, healthful meals and planned recreation; (2) arts, crafts, and first-hand observation of nature; (3) living, working, and playing with girls of varied backgrounds under the guidance of well-balanced professionally trained staff members, and (4) a spiritual program of daily worship services, informal hymn sings and outdoor candlelight services."

There is a large house for older girls, a dormitory cabin, tent unit for the younger girls, and a recreation and crafts cabin which are located on 30 acres of land between two lakes.

Girls between the ages of eight and eighteen may come for periods ranging from two weeks to two months at an approximate cost of $35.00 for members for a two-week period. This amount, however, does not pay the total cost of maintaining the camp and contributions are annually solicited by a sponsors committee.

Registrations are accepted by the Girls' Friendly, Old Synod House, 1047 Amsterdam Ave., New York 25, N. Y., until June 20th.

For the balance of the year the farm is used as a diocesan conference center to accomodate groups of 10-25 for over night, or 50-60 for day groups with one or two meals, for educational conferences, retreats, training seminars or outings. Dorothy L. Cramer, All Angels' Farm, Ramapo, N. Y. is in charge.

Diocesan Summer Conference

The Diocesan Summer Conference, sponsored by the Board of Religious Education, at St. Peter's School, Peekskill, will be in two one-week sessions, June 27-July 3, and July 4-10, opening with Sunday supper and closing with Saturday breakfast.

City Mission Camps Prepare for 1,125

Children are referred to the Camp Department by parishes throughout the Diocese, the Society's Family Service Department and recognized agencies in and around New York City.

Additional information may be secured from Miss Elizabeth Klein, 416 Lafayette Street, New York 3, N. Y.

T. Irving Hadden, Westchester And Diocesan Churchman, Dies

The Diocese has suffered a sad loss in the death of Mr. T. Irving Hadden who had been for a long time a devoted worker in the Westchester Convocation. He was a valued member of the Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society. He lived in White Plains where he was for many years on the Vestry of St. Bartholomew's Church.

Our Evangelism First Steps Have Been Well Taken in the Diocese. Now, What Is Next?

By the Right Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan

The majority of the churches and missions of the Diocese have taken the "first step" in the Presiding Bishop's Program of Evangelism. Well-attended conferences for clergy and laity have been held. Visitations conducted by men and women have taken place in many parishes and missions. On the first Sunday in Lent when the Presiding Bishop asked all communicants to go to church to pray for peace, and again when Bishop Sherill made his broadcast in behalf of the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, churches and missions everywhere reported vast congregations. Over 44,000 copies of The Rule of Life entitled "My Christian Commitment" were purchased for use in the Diocese. On April 18th at 4 o'clock under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew there will be an Evangelistic Service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine when a distinguished layman, Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, president of Ripon College will be the speaker. Responding to the call of the Presiding Bishop the "first step" in the Program of Evangelism has been taken, but what next?

Bishop Donegan

Presiding Bishop's "Second Step"

The Presiding Bishop will suggest a "second step" for the general church and New York can be counted on to cooperate fully. But the Presiding Bishop will, as he has done this year, leave the details and the particular emphasis up to each Diocese. Here in the Diocese of New York at the request of a number of clergy and with the approval of Bishop Gilbert it is proposed to hold a Diocesan Mission at the Cathedral, and at other centers. It is hoped that it will be possible for the Mission to be held next Advent.

Such a Mission can very well make a mighty spiritual impact on the Diocese and bring all to a new realization of the obligations resting upon Christian citizens in these crucial times. The effectiveness of the Mission will depend in great measure upon the preparation and cooperation of the clergy and laity. Indeed the preparation is almost as important as the Missioner himself.

Although the date of the Mission or the name of the Missioner cannot be announced at this moment it is not too early to consider parish preparation. Groups should be formed in 1949 thereby contributing in two years its full goal for all three years. It is hoped that other parishes which did not contribute in 1947 will follow this lead. St. George's Church in Manhattan conducted a vigorous campaign preceding the broadcast as well as participating in it. In 1947 St. George's contributed $7,765 against its goal of $6,745 and it estimates it will give $6,200 in 1948. St. James Parish in Manhattan expects to contribute in excess of $11,000 against its goal of $7,061. Its contribution includes $1,200 from its Chapel, Holy Trinity. St. Stephen's in the Bronx estimates that it will give $300 against its goal of $197.

The shadow of foreclosure has been raised from ST. JOHN'S, Greenwich Village, by the payment of $20,000 on the $243,500 mortgage of the historic property, it was announced by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Charles Howard Graf.

Originally the edifice was the HAMMOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, but a few years later was taken over by a Congregationist group, and Henry Ward Beecher made his first address there. ST. A box lunch followed the service, and the women heard the Rev. Arthur V. Litchfield, dean of the Convocation; Mrs. James S. McCulloh, diocesan president of the Woman's Auxiliary, and Mrs. Sarah E. Holmes, for 58 years an active member of the Daughters of the King.

The Episcopal Women of the Bronx was organized February 24th, St. Matthias Day, by representatives of ten parishes meeting at ST. SIMEON'S, Bronx. Mrs. Edward T. Theopold is chairman; and the Rev. Messrs. Frederick J. Vincent and Edward T. Theopold are clerical advisors.

Retired Rector of St. Mary's, Rev. Frank Richard Jones, Dies

The Rev. Frank Richard Jones, retired, died the afternoon of March 30, 1948. He had been living in Asbury Park, N. J.

The Rev. Mr. Jones was born in New York City, April 22, 1876 and attended Bexley Hall Seminary and was advanced to the priesthood in 1901. He returned to New York City in 1904 to serve as Chaplain at Williard Parker Hospital until 1921 when he became rector of St. Mary's, Mott Haven. He remained at St. Mary's until his retirement in 1944.

Treasurer Asks Step-up in Forwarding Contributions

The Treasurer of the Diocese reports that missionary contributions for the Program of the Church received during the first quarter of the year are somewhat less than those received up to the same time last year and many parishes have not yet made any remittance.

Gifts for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief should also be sent to the Treasurer of the Diocese as soon as possible and he requests that treasurers do not wait for all pledges to be paid before remitting what is already on hand.

Rector's Twenty-fifth Year at Transfiguration

The Rev. J. H. Randolph Ray, D.D., on Low Sunday observed his twenty-fifth anniversary as rector of the Church of Transfiguration, the "Little Church Around the Corner," Twenty-ninth Street east of Fifth Avenue.

Rev. Dr. Ray

Over a span of a century, 1848-1948, the church has had only three rectors: the founder, the Rev. Dr. George Hendric Houghton; his nephew, the Rev. Dr. George Clarke Houghton; and Dr. Ray, who came to his present post from Dallas, Texas, where he had been dean of St. Matthew's Cathedral for five years.

An illuminated scroll commemorating the anniversary was presented to Dr. Ray by the Vestry at the eleven o'clock morning service.

Organ, Brass, Construction Do Not a Church Make but Rather People Willing to Serve God

The growth of St. Luke's, Lincoln and Stewart Avenues, Tuckahoe, is more than the new Minshall-Estey electronic organ, or the two brass alms basins given by William and Helen Gottfried Birdseye in memory of their mother, or the new concrete floor surfaced with asphalt tile in the church undercroft, or the general air of bright cleanliness and devotion about the whole church building. Even the fixing of the windows and doors of the rectory so they lock, and patching the roof so the rain no longer streams into the dining room, does not reveal what has happened.

Rev. W. G. Harter

"The confirmation class of twenty, and one received from the Roman communion, over half adults, presented to Bishop Donegan recently is nearer to the story," said the vicar, the Rev. Walter G. Harter, "and this is a long way from the beginning; and, of course, some distance from the end."

The mission took up its present tasks in 1931. In 1943, a new vicarage and an adjacent building were acquired, and the Rev. Mr. Harter came.

By 1946 the original $5,000 mortgage was satisfied and the property is now debt clear. During that time, income expanded from about $3,000 yearly for current expenses and $265 for the program of the church until comparable income in 1947 was $5,100 and the missionary quota was exceeded by the payment of $463. Also, in 1947 $700 was given to the St. Barnabas Fund and the full quota for Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief was met.

St. Luke's has been "built slowly but well," said the Rev. Mr. Harter, "beginning with the Sunday School." The congregation is 175 baptized members, 143 communicants, and a church school of 90. "There are no wealthy persons," said the vicar, "just good, devout, converted Christians."

Clergy Notes

By appointment of the Bishop, the Rev. Percy L. Johnson, Ph.D., assumed charge of St. Andrew's Mission, in Hartsdale, on April 1st. Dr. Johnson has been for some years priest-in-charge of St. Luke's Mission, Katonah, which has made splendid progress under his effective leadership.

The Rev. S. A. Walcott, M.D., is now vicar of St. Simon's Mission, New Rochelle. Dr. Walcott was for some years in charge of missions in Tennessee and later served on the medical staff of Seaview Hospital.

The Rev. Byrle Appley who has been vicar of St. Anne's Mission, Great Kills, Staten Island, since 1944 has resigned that charge as of April 1st, and has removed to the Diocese of Connecticut. Mr. Appley has been a highly effective and faithful leader of his people and has made many friends in the Convocation and in the Diocese.

The Reverend Hanford L. King who has been serving as locum tenens at the Church of the Mediator, Bronx, for the past year has been elected rector. He comes to us from the Diocese of Western Massachusetts where he was ordained by Bishop Lawrence in March, 1947. He succeeds the Reverend Dr. Temple who resigned to take up work with the Episcopal Pacifist Fellowship.

A house-to-house visitation should be conducted urging all communicants to attend and bring others to the services. The Mission should be well advertised in every community. There should be sermons and discussions on the Evangelistic task of the church today. The preparation will vary for, obviously, methods that will be effective in one congregation will not be as effective in another.

It was the Rt. Rev. Dr. William Temple, late Archbishop of Canterbury, who said "Evangelization is a work that cannot be done by the clergy alone, it can only be done to a very small extent by the clergy at all. There can be no widespread Evangelism unless the work is undertaken by the lay people of the church."

May the proposed Mission make us all, clergy and laity, see afresh our duty to win souls to new life in Christ Jesus. "Now is the accepted time, now is the day of Salvation."

Bishop's Message: Convention 1948

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

This is our 166th Convention. Every year since 1785, the clergy and lay representatives of the congregations of this Diocese have come together to take counsel with one another on matters pertaining to the work and welfare of our Master's Church.

Bishop Gilbert

During that long period our nation has passed through times of great crisis. There have been wars. There have been rumors of war. Its people have had to learn the meaning of uncertainty and sacrifice and suffering. As we look back upon the hard experiences through which our nation has passed we can be proud and thankful for the blessed ministry which this Church has provided for God's children in their time of need—for the light that has continued to shine out of its parishes and missions—for all the ways in which it has kept alive our people's faith in "the power that hath made and preserved us as a nation." What this has meant to men over the years is registered, I believe, in the increasing numbers that have been drawn into the fellowship of the Church and in its outreaching influence upon our national life.

We meet today at a time when our nation is again confronted with a grave and anxious crisis. The whole world is tense and apprehensive. Men everywhere are afraid of what tomorrow may bring. Again, we must persuade ourselves, God, through His Church would place Himself by the side of His children and help them to find and possess the things that belong to their peace, and make that Church an effective instrument in bringing peace to our troubled world.

We are here to give consideration to important practical affairs that have to do with our diocesan household. We shall need to be busy with what may seem to be the "mint and anise and cummin" of the Church's work but I hope that in all our deliberations we will keep ourselves mindful of those "weightier matters" that are related to the great responsibility that now comes to us out of the anxious plight of our world. In all we do may our one controlling desire and purpose be to make His Church strong and ready for the service God is now demanding of it.

The Canons require that at every Annual Convention the Bishop shall "make a statement of the affairs of the Diocese since its last meeting," and submit certain specified data and information pertaining to his official acts. You can be spared much of the details. These are attached to this address and will be inserted in the Convention Journal. But there are, in the words of the Canon, certain "matters tending to throw light upon the affairs of the Diocese" that I feel should be brought to your attention.

The State of the Diocese

You will let me say, first of all, that I have done my best to discharge the heavy responsibilities of the Office you committed to me a little more than a year ago. It has not been easy, but I think it can be said that we have made some progress in our work together. This has been due primarily to the continuing support of our loyal people throughout the Diocese, and to the helpful counsel and willing cooperation and goodwill of representatives of all elements in our diocesan constituency. There has been, I like to believe, a marked increase in that spirit of "togetherness" which is so essential to the Church's work. And I hope and pray that — for the sake of the Church — you will all use your influence and leadership for the promotion of that spirit.

And I must pay my grateful tribute to Bishop Donegan for the loyal and indispensable assistance which he has given us since his consecration as Suffragan Bishop last October. I know I speak for all of you when I assure him of our affectionate appreciation of the unsparing service which he has rendered.

Nor would we be unmindful of the continued help we have received from Bishop Littell and Bishop Campbell, who have endeared themselves to all of us over these recent years. Their fellowship and counsel, as well as their service, have meant much to us all.

Clerical Changes Reported

Among the clerical changes that have taken place during the past year there are two which, I know you will feel with me, deserve special recognition. They affect not only the important parishes that are involved but in notable degree, the work of this Convention and of the whole Diocese.

It is with something more than passing concern that we note the coming retirement of the Reverend Dr. Newell who, for twenty-three years has given himself with remarkable zeal and devotion to His Master's service as Rector of St. John's Church in Yonkers. The whole Church has been enriched by his consecrated ministry.

Another resignation that must bring profound sadness and regret to all of us is that of the Reverend Thomas McCandless, the Rector of St. Michael's Church. Since his ordination in 1907 that great parish has had his devoted service and leadership. His whole ministry has been spent there. He has held many offices of high responsibility and great usefulness in the work of this Convention and of the Diocese.

God grant that both these valued friends and faithful servants of the Church may be spared to us for many years to come that we may continue to benefit by their friendship and counsel.

Church's Wider Mission

As we think of "the matters tending to throw light upon the affairs of the Diocese" it will be obvious to you all, I am sure, that it is what is done in your own parishes and missions—what you do for them and what they do for you—that determines the Church's real strength and vitality. As clergy and laity our first responsibility is there. But we may not forget that in that Divine Body of which we are members no parish or mission may live unto itself. God calls us to undertakings of vital importance to His Church and to His children that can only be fulfilled by our united endeavors.

We think of the Church as the continuation of the Incarnation, the mystical Body through which the love of the living Christ reaches out to touch the lives of men as it did when He was here in the flesh. We think of the Church as the medium through which the Father would give expression to His divine concern for His children and for the hard experiences that life may bring to them.

If that be true then it must be obvious that such agencies as our City Mission Society, our Seamen's Church Institute, our Youth Consultation Service, our Girls' Friendly Society present something more than an optional claim upon our interest and generosity. They are instruments of His Church that are seeking to do for Him that which He would be doing if he were here in the flesh, rendering in our name a service we, as individuals perhaps, are not capable of rendering.

And the same is true of our other diocesan agencies—our Commission of Christian Social Relations with the leadership of its very able executive director, of our Board of Religious Education, confronted as it is with the problems presented by the alarming decrease in Sunday School attendance and by the modern influences and conditions that would deprive our children of religious instruction.

And the same can be said of the unique service which is rendered by our great Cathedral and the place it holds in our community and of its far-reaching influence upon the life of our nation. It is interesting to note that some 1650 public services have been held there during the past year.

I will not take time—there is no need—to enlarge upon the work of these various agencies and institutions. It is important, however, that we should recognize that they are integral to the corporate life of our Church. As we find just pride in the service they render, we may not forget that ours is a God-given obligation to provide for their maintenance.

Works of Special Interest

Of special interest to all of us, and a matter of deep thankfulness, is the fact that construction is now under way for a new St. Barnabas' House. This has been made possible by the generous gifts that have come from a large number of our parishes and missions throughout the Diocese. It has been a demonstration of what can be done when our people are made really aware of the urgent need of the service God would render through His Church, to those in distress. The building is now assured though funds are still needed for its equipment; and I urge upon those parishes and missions that have not yet found their rightful part and share in this great undertaking to do so as soon as possible.

Another great undertaking that should be upon the hearts and minds of us all is the Presiding Bishop's Fund, through which, by action of our General Convention, our Church is called to share in the relief of God's suffering people in the war devastated areas of the world. Because of what may have been considered as prior claims upon our resources, we fell sadly below the quota that was assigned to the Diocese last year. We shall do better this year. Gratifying response has already come from the broadcast appeal of our Presiding Bishop in February. Many of our parishes and missions have already overpaid the amounts expected of them. But here again, we must look to those places where this urgent need has not yet been adequately presented if the Diocese is to meet its full quota.

I need not say to you that of all our diocesan activities and obligations none is more vital to the life of our Church than the work of our Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, and the maintenance of the missions and assisted parishes under its care. When you think of the red side of your envelopes and the Program of the Church I beg you to remember that it is your support which makes it possible to provide the ministrations of your Church in a great many communities that otherwise would be deprived of them.

There have been highly gratifying developments in the Society's work during the past year. The Diocese has made notable advance in its missionary giving. The total was $60,000.00 greater than in the previous year. One hundred and eight parishes and missions met or exceeded their minimum goal. The total giving was the largest since 1932.

And I am happy to report that the mortgaged indebtedness upon Church properties held by the Society — thanks to Mr. Oxholm's wise handling — is now only $2,500.00, whereas five years ago the total was $150,000.00

Theodor Oxholm

You have also enabled us to provide a much needed increase in the stipends of the faithful clergy in the Society's employ. This has given them and their families real relief in facing the heavy increase in the cost of living.

Increases in Clergy Stipend

May I, parenthetically, plead with all our vestries to take knowledge of the burdens and anxieties with which their clergy have to contend as result of the inflation which is now upon us. They will not go on strike, they will not complain perhaps—but many of them may look with some envy upon the wages which are paid to the 'bus drivers or the coal miners.

Another deeply gratifying achievement of our Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society during the past year has been in our dealings with the very serious problem brought upon us by the housing shortage. New rectories have been bought and paid for in three of SECRETARIES OF CONVENTION: Rev. Messrs. Orin A. Griesmyer, St. Mary's, Staten Island; Bradford W. Ketchum, St. John's, Cornwall; (seated) Lawrence B. Larsen, Christ Church, Pelham Manor; R. A. D. Beaty, St. Peter's, Chelsea.

Ogilvie House Tea

our missions and another is under construction. In yet another mission we are confident that with the help of its people a rectory will shortly be secured for its vicar.

At St. Simon's, New Rochelle, one of our missions for which a rectory has been provided, a site for a new church has also been bought and plans are now being prepared for the erection of a new building.

These are marks of progress that should give us courage and confidence in dealing with needs that remain to be met. Our Board of Managers is not unmindful of the new opportunities and responsibilities that come to us out of shifting populations and the development of new housing areas. These, I may assure you, will have careful study and planning. Our great anxiety will be to find the means with which to meet the opportunities before us.

New Work Organized

One other new development that, I believe, promises great benefit to the work of our Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society is the establishment last month of a Convocation of Manhattan. Though provided for in the Canons, Manhattan has had no such organization, perhaps because it is only recently that the need has become apparent. The new Convocation is off with a splendid start and we may expect that it will prove of great assistance to our six other Convocations in promoting the missionary task of the Church.

The year has seen the development of another enterprise that can have, I am confident, far-reaching influence upon our Diocesan life and work if our people will make right use of it. I refer to our new DIOCESAN BULLETIN which is now issued regularly each month in brief and attractive form. It is designed to keep our wide-spread diocesan family acquainted with itself. It seeks to make our people aware that their Church is something more than the particular parish with which they happen to be associated. It could do much to promote that family spirit which is so essential to our life and service in the Church. But its usefulness, as well as its maintenance, depends upon the number of its regular readers. If you have not actually entered your subscription, I hope you will do so without delay. I believe provision has been made whereby that can be done before you leave this Convention.

There is one specific request that I would present for your consideration at this time. There is no more critically urgent and important area in which the Church's ministrations are needed today than that presented by the great body of students in our institutions of higher learning. It is estimated that there are more than 175,000 such students here in our metropolitan community. Many of them are nominally at least members of this Church, many others might be. There are those in a position to know who could tell us that there is a new seriousness among these students—a groping for something that could give meaning to their lives and security to the world in which they must live. There are also influences being brought to bear upon them which are definitely hostile not only to God and religion but to the principles upon which our life as a nation is based.

Need for College Work

I cannot but feel that our Church is failing these young people. We are missing an opportunity for service that could have far-reaching effect upon the future of our civilization. Other religious bodies have their organizations and their workers in this field and are meeting with telling response. I ask this Convention to authorize the Bishop to appoint a carefully chosen committee of interested clergy and sympathetic faculty members to search out ways and means whereby our Church in this Diocese may meet the need before us and cooperate with our Provincial Committee on College Work, the Division of College Work set up by the National Council, and the Church Society for College Work, all of them important and effective organizations with which the Diocese could work in mutual helpfulness.

In conclusion may I speak briefly of the great blessing—yes, and the great promise—that has come to the Diocese during these recent months through our participation in the Program of Evangelism to which our Church is now calling us. In places where the clergy and their people have zealously entered into that program the things of God and His Church have come alive as never before. Under Bishop Donegan as chairman for the Diocese and with the active leadership of Mr. Shoemaker and the help of the clergy who have worked with him here in Manhattan things have been happening which have brought the power of God's Holy Spirit into the lives of many of our people as never before. In a number of our parishes, teams have been organized and trained for systematic visiting among the lapsed or the unattached of their community. In every case these visitations have not only made new and better friends for the Church, but they have greatly enriched the spiritual life of the whole parish.

This program must not be allowed to spend itself in any passing outburst of enthusiasm. The need is a continuing one; and we have had a demonstration of what it can mean in quickening the spiritual lives of our clergy and their people.

Plans are now under way—of which you will be hearing more in the weeks

Diocesan Delegates Attend First Meeting of the New Synod Council

The first official meeting of the new Council of the Synod of the Province of New York and New Jersey convened April 27 in the new Church House of the Diocese of Rochester on call of the president, the Rt. Rev. Bartel H. Reinheimer, D.D., Bishop of Rochester.

Rev. F. Cooper

Members attending from this Diocese were the Rev. Fenimore E. Cooper, Trinity Church, Mount Vernon, secretary of the Synod; the Rev. Lynde E. May, III, St. Andrew's, Yonkers; and Theodor Oxholm, assistant treasurer of the Diocese.

After organizing, the Council planned for provincial activities and for the 28th Synod at Asbury Park, New Jersey, October 19-20, 1948, when the Diocese of New Jersey will be host.

ahead—looking to a series of missions throughout the Diocese; culminating perhaps in a week of great meetings in the Cathedral. I hope the prayers and the whole-hearted support of our clergy and people will be given to this next step in our evangelistic program.

More may be at stake than we realize. We are living in anxious and critical times. Changes are under way in the life of our world the significance and consequence of which few of us can comprehend. Strong currents are moving that cannot fail to have far-reaching effect upon the life and structure of human society. And beneath those currents we are made to feel an undertow that spells danger not only for our Church and the Cause our Lord has committed to it—but to the institutions of government upon which our freedom depends.

We live under a charter that regards life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness as the inalienable rights of men. We are pledged as citizens to uphold those rights. Our institutions of government are designed for the protection of those rights.

The alarming thing is that men are so careless of the religion by which those rights are undergirded—that religion which provides the only sure foundation for our democratic institutions.

A Call for Personal Courage

Let it be said that if our democracy fails—if our cherished institutions of government fall before the godless philosophies now arrayed against us—it will be because men have forsaken their Church and its life and teaching and ignored the claims of that Blessed One Who is the only sure way—the truth and the life—for every department of human relationships.

Our task is clear. In the face of the world's desperate need we must find the way to challenge the allegiance of the careless and indifferent and bring them into the fellowship and service of the Church.

What would it mean if those of us who sit here in this Convention would take our Church more seriously—make some more adequate and worthy investment of our means and our energies for its support — if we all had courage enough and zeal enough and conviction enough to go out after our own friends and bring them into the Church's fellowship and service.

If we are to measure up to the great task God, today, places upon the Church through the desperate needs of our troubled world, here is the place where we must begin.

We all want our Diocese to find its rightful place and part in that task. Let us rally, then, to our Church with new loyalty and devotion. Let us place ourselves more honestly at our Lord's disposal that He may work through us to answer our prayers for this Church we love—that through us, where in anything it is amiss, it may be reformed, where it is divided, it may be reunited; where it is in want, its wants may be met, for the sake of Him who ever liveth to make intercession for us, the Blessed Lord and Master of us all.

Diocese Moved to Re-New Evangelism Efforts As 166th Annual Diocesan Convention Is Held

Bishop Gilbert Reminds the Diocese to Be "Mindful of Those 'Weightier Matters'"

The 166th Annual Convention of the Diocese began with a service of Holy Communion in the Cathedral at 8:15 a.m. The Bishop celebrated and the Necrology was read by the Registrar, the Rev. Dr. Floyd Van Keuren.

Convention was called to order at 10:00 a.m. After election of officers, a message from the retired Bishop of the Diocese was greeted with applause. A resolution was adopted thanking him for his message and renewing to him expressions of gratitude for his many years of service to the Diocese and greetings on his eighty-second birthday.

The Rt. Rev. S. Harrington Littell was invited to sit on the platform and he later presented the Very Rev. Stephen H. S. Tsang, Bishop-elect of the Missionary District of Hankow. Bishop Donegan and G. Forrest Butterworth, chancellor, also were seated on the platform.

After references of resolutions to committees and the filing of various reports by title, the Convention extended the privilege of the floor to Walter (Red) Barber, who spoke for the new St. Barnabas House.

The Bishop Receives Cathedral Auxiliary

At the invitation of the Bishop, the Diocesan Auxiliary to the Cathedral held its annual meeting at Ogilvie House, Cathedral Close, on Tuesday, April 6, with Mrs. E. Victor Loew, president, in the Chair.

There was good attendance and reports were made of the Auxiliary's work in behalf of the Cathedral. A bequest to the Auxiliary was reported, provided by the will of a former member. The Bishop addressed the meeting and was presented with a check of $500 toward the Building Fund.

An appeal was made for new members of the Diocesan Auxiliary. The Auxiliary provides and cares for the linen and flowers for the Altars, and replaces many of the vestments for the clergy and cottas for the Choir. The Auxiliary has done much to enrich the beauty of the Cathedral in the past year, notably, the red frontal which is used at Christmas on the High Altar.

Each parish in the Diocese was asked to help to sustain and enlarge the work. Annual dues, $1; associate dues, $5; life membership, $25. Checks should be made payable to Emie S. Day, Treasurer, 825 Fifth Avenue, New York 21, N. Y.

Bishop Donegan to Attend Meeting Of Anglican Bishops at Lambeth

Bishop Donegan has completed arrangements to attend the first meeting of Anglican Bishops since 1930, to be held July 1st to August 8th at Lambeth Palace, London.

Bishop Donegan

The Lambeth Conference was suspended in 1940 because of the war.

Lambeth Palace is the home of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. and Right Hon. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, and bishops from every part of the earth will gather in response to his invitation.

Historic Cathedral Sunday School Service June Fifth

At 2 p.m., Saturday, June 5, the Sunday School children of this Diocese will throng the Cathedral, when they present their annual Lenten missionary offerings. The Bishop will make the awards of Banners and Certificates of Honor to the Schools having the best records in missionary giving and in attendance.

The vested choirs of boys and girls, attired in many colored vestments, plan to march in a long procession through the Cathedral grounds where, after they have been reviewed by the Bishop and other clergy, they will march into the Cathedral.

Five banners will be awarded to parishes having the highest amount of offerings in each of five classes of parishes, based on their total running expenses.

Sponsored by the Board of Religious Education this service has become a cheerful and picturesque Diocesan institution and is remembered nostalgically by many adult churchmen.

One Hundred and Eighteen Delegates Vote To Organize First Manhattan Convocation

One hundred and eighteen delegates from thirty-four of the fifty-three Manhattan churches on April 27 at the Synod House voted unanimously to organize the Convocation of Manhattan.

The action followed a call by the Bishop. He stated that the Canons provide for a Convocation of Manhattan, and that there were "urgent missionary problems confronting us."

Bishop Donegan, as a one-time Manhattan rector, and because as Suffragan Bishop he had had an opportunity to observe the other Convocations, spoke. Following the motion to organize the convocation, the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, Grace Church, was elected dean for three years. Other officers are: The Rev. F. Slade Danzoll, St. Michael's, secretary, and George Emlen Roosevelt, St. James', treasurer.

Four members of the Convocation Council were elected as follows: The Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Calvary, two years; Charles G. Proffitt, Grace Church, two years; the Rev. Dr. E. E. Durant, St. Ambrose, one year; and William H. Loguen, St. Martin's, one year.

Other representatives are: The Rev. Dr. Grieg Taber, Church of St. Mary the Virgin, and Eliot L. Ward, St. James', to the Board of Managers; the Rev. Arthur C. St. Marks-in-the-Bouwerie raised within a few dollars of its $920 goal; St. Mary's Church, Manhattanville, expects to meet its goal of $403; St. Paul's Morrisania, has exceeded its goal of $193 and St. Thomas Church, Manhattan, has paid its goal of $5,918 in full. Contributions from St. Thomas Chapel will swell this gift by several hundred dollars.

The Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua, tells us it has exceeded its goal of $130 by more than three times; St. Francis Church, Elmsford, has paid $10, its goal was only $2; St. Paul's, Yonkers, is within $7.00 of its $362 goal, a contribution of $484 exceeds the goal of Grace Church, Nyack.

The 16 mm. sound film "This Road We Walk," is still being shown by congregations in the Diocese in an effort to meet parish goals.

Convention Approves a Study of The Facilities for Older Persons

The Rev. Leland B. Henry, executive director of the Commission on Christian Social Relations in supporting the Commission's resolution proposing action to provide a more adequate ministry to the aged, said that there were few clergy who had not in the past year been forced to tell faithful members of their parishes in need of a home in their old age, that the best they could suggest was to place their names on a four-year waiting list. He said that in 1850 only 2.6% of the population were 65 or over, in 1940, 6.8%, and that by 1960 it is estimated it will be 9.1%.

Mr. Henry said: "It is still necessary for the Church to carry on her ancient tradition of a loving, compassionate ministry to her own aged members."

The resolution was adopted by Convention.

Rev. F. Slade Danzoll Elected To Head Churchmen's Clericus

The Rev. F. Slade Danzoll, assistant to the Rev. Dr. Thomas McCandless, rector of St. Michael's, Manhattan, was elected president of the New York Churchman's Clericus, May 6.

The clericus was organized in 1892 for Protestant Episcopal clergymen of the metropolitan area.

The Rev. Mr. Danzoll submitted his resignation as assistant, to take effect June 30, to coincide with the retirement of Dr. McCandless.

Set Service for Corpus Christi

The Confraternity of the Blessed Sacrament announced this month a festival service in New York on the feast of Corpus Christi, May 27, at 8:00 P.M., St. Clement's, Manhattan.

Prize-Winning Cantata Heard

A Cantata by Louie White, graduate assistant in music at Syracuse University, was played for the first time at the evensong Ascension Day Festival service at the Church of the Ascension.

The composition was selected through a competition announced last fall by the rector, the Rev. Roscoe T. Foust, wardens and vestry, who offered a $100 prize and publication of the selection.

Inspiration, Progress Reports and Prison Featured at Annual Convocation Meetings

Bishop Donegan carried a message of inspiration throughout the Diocese to the annual meetings of the six convocations, stressing particularly the effecting of the Church's plan for evangelism, and urging that we get off the defensive and become a more militant church.

As presiding officer of each of the convocations, the suffragan bishop said he thought every level of our church life should have an objective and that the Diocesan objective would be a Mission this fall which would begin probably in the upper regions of the Diocese and culminate in a great Mission at the Cathedral. He expressed the hope that this movement would continue with teaching missions in each convocation and that each parish and mission would set an objective for itself.

The most unusual convocation meeting was held at Wallkill Prison where the delegates were the guests of the Rev. George H. Hann, City Mission chaplain, and the warden, Walter M. Wallack, clerk of the vestry of St. George's Church, Newburgh. It was necessary for all delegates to sign a register upon entering the prison and they were allowed to leave the premises only after again signing the register for comparison. Representatives of thirteen parishes attended.

The Convocation of Ramapo had, probably, the best representation proportionately, as fourteen parishes and missions were represented by lay delegates and only two of the clergy were absent. The Rev. George W. Dumbell, dean, rector of St. David's, Highland Mills and St. John's, Arden, expressed concern over the loss of communicants and urged evangelism to revive churches.

At the meeting of the Westchester Convocation, the Rev. Gerardus Beekman, of St. Augustine's, Croton, spoke of the revival of the life of his parish.

After evensong and dinner, the host church, St. John's, Tuckahoe, presented a pageant produced by George Harris, highlighting their 150 years.

The Convocation of the Bronx met at a spaghetti supper at St. Mary of the Angels, and the vicar, the Rev. Lorenzo Di Sano, spoke of the problems of the mission among the Italian people.

Dutchess Convocation saw the motion picture, "And Now I See" available to the convocation through Christ Church, Poughkeepsie. The Church of the Ascension was host to the Richmond Convocation.

Rev. "Joe" Germeck Sparks Town Effort

St. Mary's Church, Lake Mohegan, and the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, Granite Springs, last month led a successful community effort which raised $800. to help restore the parish houses of the Methodist Church in Shrub Oak and the First Presbyterian Church, Yorktown Heights.

The respective parish houses of the two churches collapsed under the weight of the "Big Snow" last winter. A Church Reconstruction Fund Benefit was organized which was held at the Shrub Oak School Auditorium.

The Rev. Joseph L. Germeck, rector of St. Mary's and vicar of the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, was chairman, and the one who inspired the move which soon won the support of the business, social and religious leaders.

Bishop Donegan spoke and in the words of the chairman was "exceptionally well received."

Diocese Moved to New Evangelism Efforts by the 166th Convention

and the Convention approved a budget to be raised by assessment of:

$59,000 for the support of the Episcopate.
30,000 for Diocesan expenses.
58,375 for supplementing salaries of clergy in charge of missions and assisted parishes under the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society.
4,000 for the Commission on Christian Social Relations to enable it to initiate a study, under professional leadership, of the entire problem of the Church's ministry to the aged in this Diocese.

The Convention approved an appropriation of $166,800 for: The Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society, the Board of Religious Education, the Commission on Christian Social Relations, the Church Periodical Club, the Girls' Friendly Society, the Youth Consultation Service, the Episcopal City Mission Society, St. Luke's Home for Aged Women and the Seamen's Church Institute.

Provision was also made for the payment to the National Council of the Church for the Church's missionary work in other Dioceses and abroad, a percentage of receipts expected to reach $200,000.

After presentation of the report of the Committee on Canons the Convention adopted some changes of the canons and rules of order which will be printed in the Journal of Convention.

The Suffragan Bishop, presented by the Bishop, spoke of his work since his consecration last fall and especially in regard to the program of evangelism. Bishop Donegan said he had enjoyed his work under the patient and considerate guidance of the Diocesan and with the fine cooperation of the Deans of the Convocations and the other clergy.

There was considerable discussion on a resolution presented by the dean and council of the Bronx Convocation with regard to the use of gambling devices for money raising but this resolution and one designed to permit the election of women to vestries were not adopted.

A resolution urging action on the part of the United States Government towards the formation of a true Federal Union and another re-affirming the previous position of the Convention favoring the admission of 400,000 displaced persons into this country were adopted by voice vote.

After the presentation of honor certificates for length of service to lay members of several vestries, advisory boards and institutional boards of managers, the Convention adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

Bishop Gilbert with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frederick D. H. Gilbert, received the delegates and their wives at Ogilvie House.

"Red" Barber Calls the Play on St. Barnabas House Fund "Game"

Walter (Red) Barber, famous sports announcer and chairman of the campaign for funds for the new St. Barnabas House of the City Mission Society told the Diocesan Convention that we "are at third base" and need some "hits" to bring us "home," in the final "inning" of the campaign to build this new shelter for women and children.

He said that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and such celebrities as Jackie Robinson, Basil Rathbone, Benny Goodman would make radio appeals urging contributions to the fund and that a member of the Jewish faith had raised $20,000. for the fund. He urged those parishes and missions which had not met their goals to see the job through as soon as possible.

The Bishop's Message

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

The Diocesan Convention of 1948 is now past history, but we have good reason to hope that its influence will be felt in our work throughout the coming year. The attendance of clergy and lay delegates was unusually large, a splendid spirit characterized its deliberations and a very considerable amount of useful business was transacted. The occasion was one that should give our people great pride in their Diocese and new confidence for the task ahead of us.

It is an impressive sight to see Synod Hall filled with the seven or eight hundred clergy and lay representatives of the congregations of our great Diocese. It provides an exhibition of the Church's man power, the significance of which reaches far beyond the transaction of the business with which the Convention is occupied.

This emphasizes the fact that those who are given the honor of representing their congregation in this official body must be prepared to accept the continuing responsibility that goes with it. It is assumed that they occupy places of leadership in the communities from which they come. The Church has a right to look to them to do their part to implement in their own parishes and missions those measures adopted by the Convention of which they were a part. If all of them were to do this it might be easier to fulfill the obligations which the Convention votes to assume in the promotion of the Church's work.

One measure presented to the Convention resulted in misunderstanding or misinterpretation that all of us will deplore. It will be generally agreed, I am sure, that the action taken on the resolution regarding money-raising devices at church fairs cannot be construed to mean that the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New York sanctions gambling.

In the selling of "chances" it may be difficult to draw the line between practices that are immoral and those that are not. But it must be remembered that there are games of chance that the Courts have repeatedly held to be violations of the penal code. When Bishop Manning was head of the Diocese he issued a ban upon the use of bingo and other similar gambling devices at church bazaars. As the Bishop of the Diocese I feel it my duty to let it be known that that ban is still in effect. Mindful of the moral and spiritual issues involved I am sure our people will respect it.

The Bishop Admits Eight to the Diaconate On Trinity Sunday at Cathedral Ordination

On Trinity Sunday, at the Cathedral, the Bishop ordained eight candidates to the Diaconate. This was the largest group presented for Holy Orders since the war.

After the laying on of the Bishop's hands, and the giving of orders, each ordinand received a white stole (to be worn only over the left shoulder as a sign he bears only half the yoke of Christ), a license to preach, and a copy of the New Testament.

Among those ordained was the Rev. William Krause, a grandfather and a retired executive of the Oxford University Press. He was prepared and presented for orders by the Rev. Arthur V. Litchfield, rector of St. James', Bronx, Mr. Krause's home parish, where he will be assigned.

Others admitted into the ministry are: The Rev. Walter Abraham Henricks, Jr., former Presbyterian minister; the Rev. Haig Joseph Nargesian, former Congregational minister; Warren Isaac Densmore, Theodore Jacob Jones, and Charles Emil Karsten, graduates of General Theological Seminary; Reginald Ernest Moore, Trinity College, Toronto, Canada; and Roy Edwin Sommers, Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass.

The Rev. Dr. Powell M. Dawley, professor of ecclesiastical history at General Theological Seminary, as preacher, reminded the men that the ministry of Jesus Christ is on every level of man's life, social, economic and physical as well as spiritual.

Croton Rector Initiates Broad Prayer Movement

An interdenominational movement to pray for world peace has been launched by the Rev. Gerardus Beekman, rector of St. Augustine's, Croton.

The rector explained that he felt the world had divided itself into two horizontal societies, the Communist Party and the Christian Church. Thereupon, with his people, he said, he "decided that the only hope for peace and a continuing growth of our civilization lies with the Church. The other Churches of Croton were approached, with the result that all Christian people in that area join in regular intercessions for God's guidance in the solution of the difficulties of the world today."

Lutheran, Methodist, and Roman Catholic churches are offering prayers, not only for peace, but for the world rulers, including Premier Stalin of the Soviet Union and our own leaders.

Prayer for Tranquility And Renewal of Strength

God of all grace, grant unto us thy peace that passeth understanding, that the quietness that comes from friendliness with man, and true divine friendship with thee, may possess our souls; that we, withdrawn awhile from the turmoil of the world, may gather strength that we have lost, and established and strengthened by thy grace, pass on through all the troubles of this our earthly life, safe into the haven of eternal rest; this we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Rev. Geor-e Dawson, 1821

Investment Trust to Take New Subscribers

In preparation for the next quarterly date for purchasing shares in the Diocesan Investment Trust, July 1, Walden Pell, secretary of the fund pointed out that the corporation provides "continuing expert supervision over the funds of the church, and a diversification of investment which cannot be obtained from small funds."

The organization was established July 15, 1943 with an initial subscription of $2,500,000.00 to handle the investments of the churches and institutions.

At the present time, assets are over $9,000,000.00 and 97 churches and 20 Diocesan institutions are served. The last two years, dividends have been 32½c.

During the life of the Trust, over $700,000.00 has been paid to subscribers.

Choirs in Cathedral Open NYC Festival

A service of thanksgiving for fifty years of "God's blessing on the City of New York," was held in the Cathedral on Sunday, June 6th, to begin the celebration of New York's Golden Anniversary.

A procession of thirty clergymen was led by Bishop Gilbert and Bishop John of the Russian Orthodox Church and Suffragan Bishop Bohdan of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

Mayor O'Dwyer and Borough President Hugo E. Rogers, with a large city delegation, took part in the celebration.

Fourteen choirs, many in their robes, overflowed the great choir into the crossing.

The Cathedral choirs of men and boys sang several old Irish hymns. The Russian choir and the Cymric Chorus from three Welsh churches each sang several hymns a capella in their native tongue.

At the close of the services, the Bishop pronounced the benediction.

The "Whole" Boy Is Educational Aim of Choristers' School

The Cathedral Choir School is in its forty-seventh year of service in providing Choristers for the Choir of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Canon Green

Until 1912 the School was operated for day students in Old Synod Hall and was semi-military in organization. Since 1913, however, it has had its own building at the eastern end of the Cathedral Close, high above Morningside Park. The military uniforms and much of the parading subsequently were given up and all Choristers were required to "live in," bringing the School nearer those of the great English Cathedral Schools.

There are facilities for forty boys. The primary requisite for admission is a good voice. Candidates are also examined scholastically and must show that they are prepared for the work of the fifth grade or better.

The normal school day includes classes in Mathematics, English, French, Latin, Geography, History, Spelling, Science, Penmanship, Reading, Physiology, Music, Sacred Studies and a well organized program of athletics. There is also time for the pursuit of individual interests such as wood carving, stamp collecting, reading, painting, building models.

School Flanks the Cathedral

Attention is given to the formation of good habits: manners, personal grooming, living in harmony with others, and sense of responsibility. These qualities are stressed as especially important for Choristers who must sing services daily in a great Cathedral.

For nearly half a century, the Cathedral Choir School has sent out into the world a constant stream of alumni whose lives and accomplishments have tested and proven the worth and value of its training. All professions are well represented by these alumni; many leading medical doctors, teachers, lawyers, actors, clergymen, technicians, business men.

Canon Precentor of the Cathedral and Headmaster of the Choir School, the Rev. James Green said, "in a confused and confusing world, the School goes about its job calmly, maintaining a sense of values, trying always to be God-centered in all things."

Lenten Missionary Offering Presented

The Annual Service for the Presentation of the Children's Missionary Offerings was held at the Cathedral on Saturday, June 5, at two o'clock. The total offering on the books of the Treasurer of the Diocese at the time of the service was $37,345.11.

Vested choirs of children and young people from many of the parishes and missions of the Diocese took part in the procession. Because of the inclement weather, the annual outdoor procession was cancelled. The choirs marched up the center aisle of the Cathedral and took their places in the Crossing. The boys of the Cathedral Choir School were in the Chancel. As the choirs left the Cathedral they were viewed by Bishop Gilbert and other of the Clergy.

Bishop Gilbert made the address and personally presented the Certificates of honor and the Banners.

There were 11 Sunday Schools whose individual offerings were between $500 and $1,000:

A Church Fights Secularism o
Pre-School, High School, Colle

The rector and his nursery school parishioners.

Christ Church, Poughkeepsie, is a "God-centered" church, said the rector, the Rev. Dr. James A. Pike; but its building bustles with the business of serving the needs of people.

"Parish life" begins with babies barely out of arms, in the nursery and play school for the pre-school group, and then expands to include grade-school children, high school students, young men and women in their early 20's, Vassar girls, and older persons.

The many rooms of the parish house provide cheery space for the nursery school children, and there is an attractive recreation center where older boys and girls can dance, play basketball, shuffleboard, ping pong and other games.

The church lawn is divided by low fences into outdoor play areas for different age groups, and eating either in the rectory or the parish house, is part of most meetings.

The nursery school has a full-time director and two full-time teachers. While working mothers are served, its primary purposes are to provide some morning relief for the over-burdened mother and a social experience for the "only" child. The rector leads a worship service for this group, trying, as he said, "to get something of God into their living," before they get a secular point of view.

"The high school kids are in and out all week," he remarked. "And they do much more than just play and dance. They helped fix the basement. They painted and made curtains. The whole attitude of these kids has changed. Feeling that they are wanted by the church and can have as good a time here as anywhere seems to have given them a whole new light on their problems."

Many Fronts
e and Adult

The ministry of the church has also been extended to Vassar College, where there are 500-odd Episcopalian girls.

Last fall Barbara Arnold took up the work of meeting the spiritual needs of these girls. Every Friday night there is an informal supper at the rectory, followed by a discussion led by the rector, on the existence of God; Christianity, humanism and materialism as rival world views; does it matter whether Christ is Divine, Biblical myths; miracles and Biblical criticism or liturgy.

Barbara Arnold

Transportation is furnished to the Sunday 9:00 a.m. Communion service and the 10:45 a.m. worship the first Sunday when the Vassar Community Church has no service. Miss Arnold also holds open house and tea for the women to meet clergy, Sunday afternoons.

In addition, the college work secretary keeps up a voluminous correspondence with all the young people of the parish who are out of the city in school,

For mature adults, there is a library, and pamphlet material is plentiful throughout the church, parish house or wherever people gather. The congregation is particularly proud of its group of 50 trained visitors who "reach out into all families to reclaim the inactive, then go out and seek the unchurched," said Dr. Pike.

The net result of the organized life of the church is reflected in the statistics for 1947 and 1948:

| | 1947 | 1948 |
|---|---|---|
| For Parish | $10,122 | $16,417 |
| For Missions | 662 | 1,918 |
| No. of pledges for Parish | 331 | 459 |
| No. of pledges for Missions | 59 | 133 |

Dr. Pike came to Christ Church in 1946. Four years before that, he had been an agnostic, a professor at George Washington University, in Washington, D. C., where he was an attorney for the Securities and Exchange Commission.

He was born in Oklahoma City, grew up in Los Angeles, and earned his BA and LLB at the University of Southern California. He was admitted to the California bar in 1936, and in the same year was awarded the Sterling Fellowship at Yale where he added the degree of Doctor of Juridicial Science and helped draft the civil procedure now used in Federal courts.

While teaching, he met his wife, and he said, "she was my best student. She got both A and the professor. We were both agnostics when we were married in 1942, and were converted at the same time six months later."

During the war he went into Naval Intelligence as a special agent and then, in uniform, as attorney for the Maritime Commission of the War Shipping Administration out of Washington. While there he was prepared for Holy Orders under the clergy of the Washington cathedral.

Asked about the secret of the strength of Christ Church, Dr. Pike said, "There are two concepts of the ministry. One is the chaplain, the minister who is available to those who employ him; the other is the missionary who feels that it is the job of the church to go out and seek. I have a strong conviction that the latter is the job of our parish."

Bronx Told of Work Of National Council

A course of three lectures entitled "Your National Council" was given at the Church of the Holy Nativity, Bronx, under the auspices of the Committees on Religious Education and Laymen's Work, of the Bronx Convocation.

The schedule was as follows: April 12, Dr. C. Rankin Barnes, secretary of the National Council, on Your National Council.

May 3: Lewis B. Franklin, D.C.L., treasurer of the Council, on The Program of the Council.

May 24: Robert D. Jordan, National Council director of promotion, on The National Council and Promotion; and the Rev. Frederick A. McDonald, assistant secretary of the Presiding Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work, on The National Council and Evangelism.

This is reportedly the first time so many National Council officers have joined together to acquaint a large number of people with the operation of the Church.

Men of Christ Church Let a Lady Show Them How to Do Landscaping

The Laymen's Organization of Christ Church, Bronxville, labored to put in some curbing and to do some grading of the lawn between the church and the parish house of their parish last month.

The men furnished muscles, picks, shovels, rakes and wheelbarrows. Mrs. C. S. Andrews provided the supervision (sidewalk superintendents were discouraged). And the rector, the Rev. Harold F. Hohly, provided the lunch (hearty).

Calvary Rector Gets Two Degrees

New Vicarage Almost Ready

The new vicarage for St. Simon's, Staten Island is nearing completion the Rev. Arthur J. Torrey, vicar, reported last week, and his eviction fears will soon be things of the past.

The house has a large living room with fireplace, a combination kitchen and breakfast room and two bedrooms with tiled bath and shower.

The congregation furnished over $5,000 towards the $12,600 total cost.

Religion as Business Of Whole Community Illustrated in Armonk

Religion as an interest of the whole community was amply illustrated in Armonk, N. Y. where nine merchants took a half-page in The Villager of Bedford Village, last month, to urge support of the drive for $40,000 to build a parish house for St. Stephen's, Armonk.

Rev. H. B. Thelin

This unsolicited effort by Lutheran, Methodist, Roman Catholic and Jewish, as well as Episcopalian business men came as a surprise to the modest and hard-working rector of St. Stephen's, the Rev. Harold B. Thelin.

St. Stephen's Parish came into being October 10, 1842, through the zeal of the Rev. Robert W. Harris of Grace Church, White Plains. The church building was built at a cost of about $2,000, plus a gift of land by Elisha Sutton, a gift of timbers for frame, and construction by Ziel J. Eggleston without profit.

In 1938 when the Rev. Mr. Thelin came to St. Mark's, Mt. Kisco, as assistant to the rector, the late Canon Prichard, he was also put in charge of St. Stephen's. At that time there were five or six adults and ten to twelve children.

In 1945 the people of St. Stephen's made a startling decision. Although they had been an aided parish for many years, and although no other denomination in Armonk tried to maintain a full-time, resident minister, they proposed that if they could have such a clergyman, they would become self-supporting under the following plan: The Diocese would give $1,500 toward the salary of the rector the first year; and thereafter, $300 yearly less, until at the end of five years no assistance would be given.

The Diocese accepted the plan, the Rev. Mr. Thelin was assigned, and the entire community of Armonk rejoiced to have a man of God living in their midst. Parish statistics show, in part, what has happened.

| | 1939 | 1947 |
|---|---|---|
| Baptisms | 0 | 23 |
| Communicants | 60 | 120 |
| Church School | 43 | 101 |
| Confirmations | 1 | 6 (High of 12 in '46) |
| Parish Giving | $400. | $5,560. |

Now, with still one-and-a-half years to go, the church is literally "bursting at the seams," to quote the rector. And they have met all financial commitments while having to handle in addition the purchase of an $11,000 rectory.

The rector offered no elaborate theory to explain community support and the spiritual vitality of St. Stephen's. "There is no story-behind-the-story," he said, "only hard work, prayer, and the faith of the people in the ministry of our church."

R. Eugene Curry, junior warden, is chairman of the Parish House Fund Committee. The other vestrymen are: Harry Holloway, senior warden; E. Schuyler Ensell, S. Hinman Bird, Lester Emery, Creswell Remsen, W. F. Hendricks, Belden C. Lynch, Walter R. Bell, Sr., Edward Buddy and Henry Winterling.

Mrs. Thelin, who takes an active part in the life of the church, is a former president of the Diocesan Girls' Friendly Society. Their son, Benjamin, lends his 6'3" to the first line crew of Kent, "at least until after the first race," laughed the Rev. Mr. Thelin.

Bishop Donegan Preaches Baccalaureate at Hobart

Bishop Donegan preached the Baccalaureate sermon, June 13, at Trinity Church, Geneva, for the Commencement of Hobart College at which he received the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology.

Cathedral Canon Pastor Serves A Wide "Parish"

The Canon Pastor of the Cathedral, the Rev. Thomas A. Sparks, S.T.D., in addition to his official acts of the Cathedral has led a busy life for the past few weeks representing the Bishop at municipal functions.

Canon Sparks

On "I Am an American" day, May 16, he pronounced the benediction at the service on Central Park Mall. May 31, after giving the invocation, he reviewed the Memorial Day parade from the grandstand.

The prayers at the annual dinner meeting of the Association of Mayors of New York State, June 17, will be said by the Canon pastor.

Westchester Clergy at Y C S Lunch

The Rev. Lynde E. May, St. Andrew's Yonkers, dean of the Westchester Convocation, and the Rev. James L. Whitcomb, Grace Church, Hastings, said the invocation and benediction, respectively, at the Westchester County Center Annual Luncheon of the Youth Consultation Service, May 19.

Dr. Leslie E. Luehrs, consulting psychiatrist for Y.C.S, talked about "girls in trouble."

Further Camp Facilities Available to the Diocese

Diocesan facilities available for camp and conference groups, in addition to those already reported, include Camp St. George, Parksville; and Seaside Camp, Great River, Long Island.

Camp St. George was established last year by St. George's, Newburgh for use of the parish, convocation, and Diocese. It consists of a mess hall with mastic tiled floor, kitchen including electrical refrigeration, and running hot and cold water; two 18 x 30 dormitories with double steel bunks, and a 12 x 18 washroom. All facilities are state approved.

There is an open air altar, a baseball diamond, a 15 ft. stone-ringed campfire site, Willowemoc River and Elco Lake (64 acres) nearby provides good swimming, boating and fishing. The campus is surrounded by dense groves of pine, spruce and hemlock.

The only charge is the amount necessary, on a pro-rata basis, to pay for light, gas, liability insurance and breakage. The camp can accommodate 36 persons in non-mixed groups.

Seaside Camp at Great River, Long Island, in its 65th season, also accepts pre-camp and post-camp conference groups. Dr. Frederic S. Fleming, rector of Trinity, will conduct a retreat there October 8-9, for Trinity activity leaders.

"Red Church" Altar Given as a Memorial

The wooden altar of the "Red Church" of revolutionary days called by George Washington, "my church," will be installed in the chapel now being erected in the south transept of the Church of St. Mary-in-the-Highlands, Cold Spring, as a memorial to the late rector of the parish, the Rev. Elbert Floyd-Jones, D.D.

The altar is the gift of St. Philip's, Garrison, which recently discontinued the use of St. James', a little, old wooden chapel at Manitou. This pre-Revolutionary building had originally stood on the present site of St. Philip's, but had been moved in 1862 to make way for a stone structure.

There is a tradition that the "Red Church" was used as a hospital by the Continental Army and that one day when Washington rode by one of his staff asked if it was a "Tory" church. "That is my Church," replied Washington.

The Chapel will be consecrated June 20 by Bishop Donegan, but the rector, the Rev. H. A. Griswold and the Memorial Chapel Committee headed by Newell Covert are still soliciting contributions toward the rewiring and restoration of the body of the church.

The Bishop's Message:

"It is not the will of your Father which is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish."
St. Matthew 18:4

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

The Church is summoned to a Program of Evangelism. That call comes to us not merely from the Presiding Bishop. It is the appeal that God presents to us through the confusion and strife and despair of the world in which we are living. What is required of us is a persistent, continuing endeavor that shall revive the spiritual energies of the Church and make it something our Lord can use in getting His will done among men.

There is reason for encouragement in the response which our Diocese has made to this compelling challenge during the past year. There has been a heartening demonstration of what can be done when clergy and people are caught up in the spirit of united endeavor. I hope that our Diocesan Mission this Autumn will give new impetus to this effort to "revive the Church—beginning with ourselves."

But while any evangelistic program to be effective must begin with ourselves it must not end there. It is certain that we shall be unable to "revive His Church" unless we are prepared to be fellow-workers with Him and make our lives reflect something of His loving concern for the people about us.

The business of the Church is with people—those whom our Lord came to seek and serve and save. As members of that Church we are His agents. It is through us that He would work. And the Church has provided us with the means through which we can combine our energies in dealing with needs that single-handed we would be unable to meet.

The Diocese has reason to be proud of the organizations and institutions through which the Church has sought, over the years, to shepherd our Master's lost and needy sheep. They have proven their worth. The sad part is that our people are so unaware of the work they are doing.

This issue of The Bulletin is given over to these agencies. The story of their work is presented in a somewhat dramatized form in order that our people may visualize in terms of actual human need the spendid service they are rendering.

As Advent comes our churches will be engaging in their Every Member Canvass. I earnestly hope that their members in making their pledges will remember that the shepherding care which these agencies of their Church provide depends upon the support which comes from the red side of our duplex envelopes.

If we would "revive our Church" we may not overlook its Missionary Program. And that begins with me—and the red side of my envelope!

". . . . a Study of What Must be Done to Help Older Persons Meet the Problems of Age."

This is a true story. It began when the rector said:

"I'm sorry."

His usually kind face was twisted with concern. "It will be at least four or five years . . . " He hesitated, trying to find the most delicate way of saying it. "A home . . . that is, facilities for older persons are so crowded . . . "

"But, rector . . . ?" The tiny white-haired old lady leaned forward in her chair anxiously. "What am I going to do? The doctor says my heart is bad, and I can't go on working. I've been a hard-working woman ever since Tom died." She spoke more slowly, more softly. "I slaved and saved to send our boy to college. Then, the war . . . " Her blue eyes filled, and the tears overflowed down her cheeks. "He didn't come home . . . and now . . . "

The rector stared at his hands.

"I got a little annuity, and there's social security." She looked up hopefully. "I'm not looking for something for nothing." Maybe her minister didn't understand. Maybe he thought she wanted "charity" . . . or something.

What am I going to do?

The clergyman bit his lip, and the sad-faced little lady watched him.

"I don't know," said the rector. "I don't know."

Being "sorry" and saying "I don't know" is not the way the Church should shepherd sheep who have dropped behind the flock because of old age.

And yet the above tragedy is enacted innumerable times. We, of the clergy, know it too well. It is a misfortune that can come to any of us, and the Commission on Christian Social Relations of the Diocese is undertaking, as one of its many projects, a study of what must be done to help elderly persons meet the problems of age.

This study, as approved by the 1948 Convention, will determine:

1. What are the problems of growing older; and what types of services are actually needed and in what amount.

2. The types of facilities which should be developed by the Diocese. Those considered will include the traditional congregate institutional shelters; cottage type institutions with central dining hall, lounge and infirmary; and, for those who do not need institutional care, cooperative apartments with nursing and housekeeping services; or foster homes, with social service supervision. The development of social centers for the aged in parishes will be studied to the end of determining how older persons may be helped to make an adjustment in their normal and familiar settings. There will be an assessment of the value of a central counselling and psychiatric service specializing in the problems of advanced years, as the Youth Consultation Service specializes in the problems of growing girls. Such a service might well add several years of productive activity.
3. And lastly, recommendations will be presented to the 1949 Convention with an estimate of costs and a recommendation of priorities to meet the most pressing needs first.

This is a pioneering as well as vital task. In 1850 only 2.6% of the population were 65 or over. It is estimated that by 1960 that 9.1% of the population will be 65 or over. Yet, our social facilities have not been adjusted to this situation. Many of the homes have waiting lists of from three to four years. Today, older persons who are no longer able to maintain themselves independently are not only "lost sheep." They are frequently "forgotten" sheep.

The study of the care of the aged is merely an illustration of Christian Social Relations. In area after area, the Commission and its hard-working Executive Director, the Reverend Leland B. Henry, make the voice of the Church heard.

The Commission supported the proposal to have the City Department of Public Welfare assume primary responsibility for the basic care of children. With the Protestant Council, the Commission arranged for a two-day conference on The Church and Economic Life at St. Bartholomew's, Manhattan and the Synod House. It supported desirable social legislation, such as the Federal anti-lynch bill and the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Federal Housing Bill, the bill for the admission of displaced persons and the Fair Educational Practices Act in New York State. Perhaps its outstanding achievement was the service it rendered in the successful campaign for a state bond issue of $135,000,000 for public housing which will provide housing for some 50,000.

In addition, the Executive Director has been available for consultation on problems of social relations that arise in the individual churches and in the seven convocations. He is examining chaplain in Christian Ethics and Sociology, and is chairman of the Inter-Diocesan Committee on Legislation, representing the six dioceses in the State of New York. He is a member of the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Federal Council, and the Human Relations Commission of the Protestant Council.

"Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done on Earth"

In the great prayer of The Kingdom of God, our Blessed Lord taught us to pray: "thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." The Commission on Christian Social Relations of the Diocese of New York exists to help us make that prayer a reality in the world in which we live.

I hope every rector and every parish and congregation will support the work of the Commission. It might well be made part of the Campaign of Evangelism to be launched this Fall and Winter.

". . . . Lambs Stray from the Flock, Seek 'Greener Grass', or Leap across Barriers"

"Thirty-Seven Years, Young Girls Have Been Turning to Youth Consultation Service"

At the other end of life's span there are other sheep, lambs, who stray from the flock, seek "greener grass," or leap across barriers in fright and are lost in the night. Maggie is such a lamb.

Maggie began life happily. She was the only child of a young couple who had eagerly anticipated children. She was loved and nurtured, but at the age of six she lost her father and when she was ten her mother died from a heart attack. There were no relations to care for the child and she was placed in an orphanage. Soon the age limit of this institution necessitated moving her to another. Here she lived under very strict and rigid discipline. At sixteen she was dismissed as old enough to carry on.

What am I going to do?

She took one small job after another, working in restaurants and at lunch counters, but her youth and lack of training and skill made it impossible for her to provide adequately for herself. She lived a haphazard, deprived and lonesome existence in which she felt cheap, unwanted and ignored. Her "home" was a succession of drab furnished rooms. Her only companions were the men she met over the counters of the various "beaneries" where she worked.

Eventually she arrived at a hospital with an acute digestive disorder, in large measure a reflection of emotional disturbance aggravated by improper eating. She was referred to Youth Consultation Service (YCS) by the social worker of the clinic where she had gone for "medicine."

The Youth Consultation Service case worker recognized that Maggie's most acute needs were to know love and to receive vocational training. She agreed to return to school. It was suggested to her that she try working in an "opportunity home," a household in which she would live as part of the family. In return, she would assist with the household duties as a mother's helper.

Maggie said she had enjoyed the first institution in which she had lived because she liked little children and she pleaded to be with a family "where there are a lot of kids." A place was found for her with a woman who had four nice children.

In the first days in her new home Maggie felt a little insecure, but later when there was sickness she gave yeoman service and felt that she had really established herself as a warmly accepted member of the family. The feeling she has about the long years of sleeping in dormitories is reflected when she says, ecstatically, "I have a room now that I sleep in all by myself with a closet that belongs only to me and dressers and chairs that are mine."

Maggie goes to high school and helps the mother in her free time. Later she hopes to become a trained nurse. She seems to have a natural aptitude for such work and when she graduates from high school, Youth Consultation Service will help her work out plans for her training.

There have been other "Maggies" and they have come from homes of all economic levels. A generation ago the girls befriended by Youth Consultation Service were for the most part from the lower economic level, but today those who seek its services are from all walks of life and from all parts of the Diocese.

Doris is one of those who was met half way between two disasters.

Doris, a product of a broken home, was a college girl. She was a gifted young person of high ideals, who loved the Church. Into her life had come a young man who appeared to have all the qualities she admired. She, who had been denied affection all her life, found herself deeply in love. Plans for marriage were under way, as she believed, and she lived in a happy state until she found that there could be no marriage. He had a wife. In desperation she came to Youth Consultation Service. She was with child and was torn between wanting this flesh of her flesh and an overwhelming sense of guilt. She sought the services of the chaplain for she needed to talk with someone who represented the authority of the Church and the compassion of its teaching. Gradually the chaplain was able to relieve her anxieties and help her resolve her conflicts.

A Child is Born

Another important service that Youth Consultation Service provides is in helping young girls who must earn their own living find out what they are best fitted to do. To this end the agency arranges for tests by vocational guidance experts to discover aptitudes.

For more than thirty-seven years, young girls in this Diocese have been turning to Youth Consultation Service for help in time of trouble. Under the sponsorship of the Diocese this agency, formerly known as the Church Mission of Help, assists those in their "teen" years and early twenties in working out personal problems. It is the only Protestant organization of its kind in the Diocese, for it combines the skills of case work with those of spiritual counselling.

The agency has three service centers. The Headquarters Center is at 27 West 25th Street; the Uptown Center is at 384 East 149th Street, Bronx; and the Westchester County Center is in the County Office Building in White Plains.

"Through Contributions.... Is the Work Made Possible"

In no community are the hazards surrounding the young greater than in our own Diocese. We as Episcopalians have an opportunity through our church-sponsored agency, Youth Consultation Service, to reach young girls at a time of crisis in their lives and provide those safeguards that will prevent disaster. Only through contributions received from those who appreciate the value of this service is the work made possible.

"That Christ's Sheep Should Know How to Live in Joy, in Peace"

The family above, saying prayers before a meal, pictures the ultimate objective of the Board of Religious Education, that Christ's sheep should know how to live in joy, in peace and in worship of Him.

The Reverend James Willard Yoder, newly appointed Director of religious education and youth work in the Diocese, said it this way: "Like Shepherds, we claim all the members of the flock, and try to feed them. The form of the food may differ, but the spiritual vitamins are quite alike."

The Guild of the Christ Child material, published by the Board, is, perhaps, one of its most unique activities. In the form of sixteen "lessons," parents are guided through the first four years in teaching children to pray, to know and to love God, and to develop Christian character. Lastly, suggestions are made for preparing the child for Church and Church School.

The distribution of the material, as well as the other projects of the Board, is made possible primarily because of the generosity of volunter workers who give countless hours to furthering the educational work of the Diocese.

The youth work of the Board is organized through the Episcopal Young People's Fellowship. The annual Service for the Presentation of the Children's Missionary Offerings at the Cathedral, the annual Youth Rally at the Cathedral, and the yearly two Summer Conferences, held at St. Peter's School, Peekskill, last summer, are three high spots in that program.

The Board, further, provides guidance to congregations in developing Church Schools, study groups, or parents' classes. A Church School Institute is being held in each Convocation this autumn.

The Board is cooperating in a college work conference which has been called for February at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, to study means of implementing the Bishop's challenge to Convention to offer the ministrations of the Church to college students. The Bishop estimated that in the metropolitan area alone there are over 175,000 students.

The Board also sponsors annual conferences for the clergy and Adult Schools of Religion in strategic centers. A Central School of Religion is scheduled for six Monday evenings, beginning October 18th, at the General Theological Seminary.

The end product of all these activities—is depicted in the photograph above.

"From Alaska's Icy Tundra to Haiti's Warm Isle"

The following was received from one of Christ's flock, geographically distant: "This letter is to express my thanks to the Church Periodical Club of the Diocese of New York for your generous help to us here. We surely appreciate the copy of So Little Time, and the several magazines.

Bishop Gordon

"Today is a fine day to stay indoors and enjoy the works of the C.P.C. The wind has been blowing at the rate of sixty miles per hour, with a fine cutting snow. Tremendous drifts have been formed all over the tundra.

"Shirley (my wife), and I came to Point Hope (Alaska) July, 1943, on our honeymoon, and a rare one it was.

"You would enjoy attending a service here. We sing the Venite and Benedictus in Eskimo, and also say the Creed and the Lord's Prayer in the native tongue. Some of the people call me Ungahliksi, meaning 'priest.'

"God has richly blessed us in the past year and we owe much to the prayers and support of many Church people at home. Faithfully yours, (Signed) William J. Gordon, Jr."—Bishop of the Missionary District of Alaska.

Switching from the frigid Arctic to the tropics, Bishop C. Alfred Voegeli of the District Missionaire d'Haiti wrote:

Haitian Students & Bishop Voegeli

"We received what must have been the last of the books which the New York Diocese Church Periodical Club sent for our seminary here in Port-au-Prince. Oh, what a wonderful addition the books you sent have made."

From Lion Hill, Wuhu, China: "Have you ever had the experience of being shut off from all magazines, practically all books and with only one newspaper (and that one filled with enemy propaganda of the very worst type) If you have, then you can have some idea of what it has meant to me to begin to receive books and magazines once more."

Wuhu, China

These three letters portray dramatically the work of the Church Periodical Club of the Diocese of New York. It is one of our Diocesan institutions at the Old Synod House which in the most direct sense, reaches out to the scattered sheep . . . and shepherds.

Whether it be Deaconess Harriet M. Bedel ministering to the Seminole Indians in Glade Cross Mission, Everglades, Florida; or Rowena Richards at San Jose School in Puerto Rico; or the Rev. Bernard MacLaughlin at Holy Cross Church, Virgin Islands; or Capt. Thomas Wheat of the Church Army at the House of Happiness, Scottsboro, Alabama; or the Rev. T. W. B. Magnan, chaplain of the Correction Department of the City of New York; or the Liberian Mission of the Order of the Holy Cross, Kailahun, Sierra Leone . . . or whether it be any one of a thousand other persons or places, the story is the same. From Alaska's icy tundra to Haiti's warm Isle, the Periodical Club sends books, magazines, unused Christmas and greeting cards, papers, correspondence, to bring intellectual light and enjoyment.

Deaconess Bedel & Seminole Indian

And perhaps the following postscript to a letter from Mrs. Lois W. Cox, Nenana, Alaska tells the most vital story: "P.S. It really does make one happy to know friends are thinking of us!"

"...Episcopal Church Two

Throughout the ages man has built folds for the lambs and the sheep as they moved out into newer "pastures." In the form of church buildings he has tried to keep pace with the ever extending kingdom of Christ. In this Diocese, we have come to call this "Church Extension" and since 1912 the responsibility for building and maintaining new mission churches and for assisting needy established parishes, has been placed on The Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society.

I think the work of our Missionary Society can best be visualized by looking over the shoulder of a mother as she reads a letter from her daughter who has recently moved from a suburban Westchester home to a small community in the northern part of the Diocese.

"Dear Mother:

Well, here we are in our new home in Pleasant Plains and I think we are going to like it very much. You will be glad to hear that there is an Episcopal Church only two miles away and that yesterday we had a call from the Vicar.

He told us that the parish is over one hundred years old and that in its earliest days it was supported by a few wealthy families who had summer homes here. The few people in the village were made welcome but they did not share any of the responsibilities. The Rector eked out his living by working the farm connected with the parish (I think they called it a glebe) and relied a good deal on the generosity of the parishioners.

But now the old families are gone. There are about 100 church members and a good many children.

John and I expressed surprise that such a small community could support a church but the Vicar explained that it was our missionary gifts that provided the help needed. The Missionary Society of the Diocese contributes towards the Vicar's stipend. That's what they mean when they call it an 'Assisted Parish.'

Originally there was no need for a parish house but with the Sunday School and the other parish organizations outgrowing the rectory, a parish house had to be built and they have one. They raised a sum of money themselves and the Missionary Society matched it.

The Vicar seemed like a very consecrated man and a real pastor to the people scattered all over this township. We're going to our first service next Sunday.

I hadn't expected to write you so much about the Church but we were so thrilled at someone calling on us in our new house so soon, I couldn't resist it.

Miles Away"

With lots of love and hoping to see you soon, I am,

Affectionately your daughter,

Janet"

Janet had forgotten that her mother had been a member of the Woman's Auxiliary for years and knew a great deal about the Church's missionary work and how it touches all of us. I think you would be interested in her reply.

"Dear Janet:

I am glad to hear you like your new home. This old place certainly seems lonesome—now. Realizing my baby was going to be married was bad enough, but now that you are gone, we really feel it.

St. Martha's, North White Plains, Westchester

I certainly was glad to hear that you found the local church. You probably were too young to remember how we moved out here into Westchester County and found there were no churches near this housing development.

Your father wrote the Bishop and found out that the Missionary Society had made a survey of the area and was only waiting for enough of us to organize ourselves.

We soon became an organized mission, first worshipping in a house which is now the rectory, and then we built the church and later the parish house. We could never have done it without the help of the Missionary Society, and that's why I am so interested in the Woman's Auxiliary.

Be sure to write our Rector for your transfer.

Mother"

ishes like Trinity in Manhattan were established under charter of the Crown. Later these parishes themselves accepted the missionary challenge and there are few of our present parishes which did not at one time receive help or get their start from another parish or one of our missionary organizations.

With the ever increasing growth of New York City it became more and more difficult for a parish to conduct a missionary enterprise and to do justice at the same time to its own growing parochial function. This situation ultimately led to the formation of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society of which every member of the Church in the Diocese is a member.

The work of the Society is administered by a Board of Managers which is incorporated by special act of the legislature. The Bishop is its President and its other members are the Suffragan Bishop, the Archdeacons, the treasurer and assistant treasurer of the Convention, the deans of the seven convocations, one clergyman and one layman from each convocation and three clergymen and three laymen elected by Convention.

For effective administration, the Diocese is divided into seven geographical divisions called "Convocations"; Richmond (Staten Island) where at present there are 6 missions and assisted parishes; Manhattan where there are 4; the Bronx with 6; Westchester with 17; Dutchess (including Putnam County) with 14; the Hudson Convocation (Ulster and Sullivan Counties and part of Orange County) with 14; and the Convocation of Ramapo (including Rockland County and the southern part of Orange County), with 14 assisted parishes and missions. These 75 missionary works make the Diocese of New York one of the largest Missionary Dioceses in the Church.

The Board of Managers has no unrestricted endowments and must look for its support to the missionary contributions of the members of the Church through their parishes and missions.

"There are Lambs Who Are Lost Even Within the Fold"

There are some lambs lost—even within the fold, and this is a story about Jane—a shy, unsure and rather commonplace girl of twelve—and what the Girls' Friendly Society has meant to her.

Her friend Fran was the one who finally induced her to come over to St. E—'s one Wednesday afternoon to a business meeting of the GFS group. It was quite an experience for a girl who had never belonged to any kind of a club before . . . it certainly wasn't like school where the teacher was the head of the class and told the boys and girls what to do. A friendly, alert girl of about twelve was the group's president and conducted the meeting. Three others of similar age served as other officers, and to one side, giving advice and assistance when necessary, was Mrs. Jones the GFS advisor.

At this first meeting which Jane attended, there were several important decisions to be made by the group. The Parish Youth Council was meeting for the first time next month. Who should represent the GFS and give the report? They had been assigned the candy table at the Parish Fair over the protests of some of the adults who felt the girls couldn't handle the job. How could they do a "bang-up job." What could they do to solicit subscriptions to the Diocesan paper, the BULLETIN? Final plans for a hike and a cook-out supper were to be discussed.

Jane looked around her in amazement. This group of girls of her own age was going to make these decisions?

Everyone agreed that Susan, the group's president, should represent the GFS at the meeting of the Parish Youth Council. At the request of Susan, Mrs. Jones explained appointing committees to do the work necessary on their candy table. The chairman appointed the committees.

Shy and diffident though Jane was, her advisor lost no time in becoming acquainted; the girls in trying to bring her into the group. Mrs. Jones noticed that Jane wore interesting and attractive color combinations in her clothes, and discovered that it was Jane herself who was responsible for choosing them. Jane was put on the decorating committee and the girls were sure the room and the tables had never looked so attractive!

It was a small thing that started to develop self-confidence in Jane. Because of the interest and concern of her leader, who volunteers her time and energies so unselfishly, and because of her happy association with the other GFS members in her group, Jane is learning how good it can be to be in the midst of Christ's flock—safe within the fold.

All kinds of girls make up the GFS of today. They are rich, poor and in the middle class. They live in the city, in the suburbs, in the rural areas. They are white, black, brown and yellow. They are part of a tremendous procession of girls and women who through the past sixty some years have grown up in the Society and made a tremendous contribution to the Church and to their communities.

And whether the GFS is in New York City, or Newburgh, or Scarsdale, or Callicoon, or Yonkers, or Suffern, or Poughkeepsie, there is one fundamental purpose—the development of girls into fine, well-balanced, spiritually alert women of whom the Church can be proud and from whom devoted and intelligent service can be expected.

In 1834 The Church Began the Fight To Bring Seamen to the Fold

The bell sounded for mess, Easter Sunday, 1941, on Alex Navarro's ship, the Ville de Liege; and then, the torpedo struck.

For thirteen days Alex and ten other men pitched and rolled in an open small boat on the turbulent grey wastes of the cold North Atlantic. Alex and three others were rescued, but when they were taken to a hospital, both of Alex's legs had to be removed, above the knees.

There is no place for legless seamen at sea, thought young Alex bitterly. It seemed his life had ended . . . even before it had begun. But during his stay at the hospital, chaplains of the Seamen's Church Institute visited frequently, bringing comfort bags, candy, cigarettes, knitted articles—and hope.

Today, Alex walks on artificial legs, has a wife and two children, and works ashore as an electrician.

But it was a long . . . and often discouraging road back to the safety and security of society's fold.

For centuries, seamen had been left at the mercy of scoundrels, crooks and exploiters. A seaman was a man without a home, without friends, and with no end but debauchery and degradation. And then, in 1834, the Church began the fight to bring seamen into the fold. The Seamen's Church Institute of New York, located at the tip of Manhattan Island, overlooking New York Harbor, has grown from a little floating chapel, built in 1844, to a modern building at 25 South Street, thirteen stories above the ground and three below—the largest home and club in the world for active merchant seamen of all nationalities and creeds.

SEAMEN'S PASTOR. The Reverend Raymond S. Hall, D.D., assistant director of the Institute, chats with two men beside a seascape mural painted by a seaman.

For decades the Society's chaplains distributed religious literature in the boarding houses and on the ships, and, at the request of the seamen, protected their money, mail and baggage. The Institute conducted services in three floating churches, the first being the Church of Our Saviour, which from 1844 to 1866 was moored alongside the Pike Street Dock, East River. The present Chapel of Our Saviour at 25 South Street is the fourth of that name. A succession of various lodging houses and missions were established by the Society along the East River, North River, Coenties Slip and in Brooklyn.

The crowded condition of those separate stations proved the need of larger and permanent quarters. Changed waterfront conditions and improved local transportation made centralization advisable. Friends made generous contributions; and finally, in 1913, under the joint leadership of Edmund L. Baylies, president, and the Reverend Archibald R. Mansfield, D.D., superintendent (who began as a chaplain in 1896), the new 13-story building at 25 South Street was opened. The Institute was adequately equipped to serve seamen's every need. A Lighthouse Tower, in memory of seamen lost on the S. S. Titanic, was completed on April 15, 1913, one year after the disaster. This is a listed Government aid to harbor navigators.

"Stand by and Lend a Hand" Pleads Seamen's Institute

"The Seamen's Church Institute of New York is one of the oldest missionary activities in the Diocese, having been founded in 1834 by a group of young churchmen who wished to do missionary work and soon recognized the great need for helping merchant seamen on the waterfront of New York, and protecting them from exploitation.

In 1921 the Institute initiated free radio medical service to ships at sea, which has since been taken over by the Radiomarine Corporation of America. Hundreds of ships not carrying doctors use this "MEDICO" radio service. The Institute also inaugurated legislation making the passing of first aid examinations compulsory for all candidates for American Merchant Marine Officers' licenses.

As an example of the large volume of work rendered in a single year, 360,157 lodgings were provided at the Institute in 1947. Since January, there were 4,393 enrollments in its Merchant Marine School for courses in Seamanship, Navigation and Marine Engineering offered at reasonable rates, hundreds being helped to better positions on merchant ships. The Employment Bureau found 3,775 jobs for seamen. The Baggage Room handled 137,781 pieces of seamen's baggage.

A Seamen's Church Institute Station, U. S. Post Office, located on the second floor, does business equivalent to that of a city of about 30,000 people, handling approximately half a million pieces of mail per year. For many seamen the Institute — "25 South Street" — is their only mailing address.

Ship visitors from the Institute called aboard 1,700 merchant ships and rendered a variety of services to the crews. Particular aid toward thrift was provided at pay-offs of crews by the sale of Travelers' Cheques (a protection against loss and robbery).

The seaman knows that the Institute is his friend—that here he can obtain clean, comfortable lodgings (for dormitory beds, 75 cents, to $1.50 for private rooms), leave his money for safe-keeping, check his baggage, receive his mail, have helpful, kindly friendly advice on any of his problems, read, write, play games, attend the moving pictures in the Auditorium, listen to organ recitals and participate in services in the Chapel, and, in short, enjoy the comforts of home in wholesome surroundings and with congenial companions. 75% of the operating costs of the Institute are derived from fees from the men.

GETTING INTO THE "RED"

This is a playlet in which the chairman of the Every Member Canvass of your church calls upon YOU, to ask you to pledge for the support of your Church. Time: Sunday afternoon. Place: Your living room.

(After the proper pleasantries . . . and after the canvasser has explained the black side of the envelope as being for the support of the local parish work, you speak.)

You: I know pretty well what we spend money for here. But, tell me, just how does this Missionary or "Red Side" of the envelope work?

Canv: (Hands over a copy of the Diocesan Missionary Number of the BULLETIN) It goes for the organizations listed in this special edition of the BULLETIN I'm going to leave with you, and for the general missionary work of the Church at large. But, if you'll give me a couple of minutes, I'd like to tell you a little more about one of the oldest and largest Diocesan missionary organizations for helping people in trouble, the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society.

You: Oh, you mean St. Barnabas House. I know about that.

Canv: Yes, St. Barnabas is perhaps the best known part of the Episcopal City Mission, but that is only one branch of the Society's work.

You: Really? What else do they do?

Canv: Chaplaincy is the largest activity. They call it the keystone of the entire program. There are 24 chaplains, and they serve, in many cases, on a twenty-four hour a day basis, in 43 City, County and State institutions throughout the Diocese.

You: I thought the Episcopal City Mission Society only worked in New York City?

Canv: A great deal of work is done in the City, but you'll find at least one chaplain in every convocation of the Diocese. In many institutions, they carry the entire duty of answering all calls for religious aid and assistance from all Protestants. That is, of course, in addition to Sunday services and regular ministrations to communicants. Many a time they have brought people back into the Church after years of absence.

You: That sounds pretty good.

Canv: You bet it is, and to be sure the men know what they are doing, a training school for chaplains has been started at Bellevue Hospital. Every year young men who are interested in that side of the ministry receive a full course in what is known as Clinical Pastoral Training. It's a fascinating program, and does much to fit a man for institutional work. That's a lot different from being a parish rector, you know.

St. Barnabas House and a charge

You: To tell you the truth, I never thought much about it before. But, did you say they have chaplains in 43 institutions? That sounds almost like a little Diocese. I guess that kind of program simply has to go on.

Canv: I'm glad to hear you say that. The chaplains of the Society do deserve a lot more recognition than they get. Some day, if it can be arranged, we'll have to invite one of them to our parish.

You: That's a good idea! It'll give us a chance to find out about something that's going forward right here in our own back yard, so to speak.

Canv: Yes, great and fruitful work is being done, and the "Red Side" of the envelope gives you a chance to take part in it. (Takes out pledge card and pen.)

You: All right, but just a minute now. (Waves aside pledge card) What else does this Episcopal City Mission Society do?

Canv: Well, there are several things . . . all designed to help people out of trouble. They try to bring the Church to people who need help . . . make religion a real, actual and understandable force.

You: Not much on "preachment", eh?

Canv: Yes and no. A person in trouble who receives help from the Church isn't worried too much about "reasons". All he or she knows is that here is a force for good, doing what it says it is supposed to do. They are grateful, and out of that feeling comes a new understanding and appreciation of our beloved Church. We have to preach to ourselves to be sure we keep on doing that. We're trying to practice what we teach.

You: I get it. You mean our faith and belief is behind everything the Society does.

Canv: Yes. Take the three fine summer camps maintained by Episcopal City Mission. The Society has just finished its 55th annual camping program and more than 1,000 boys and girls received at least two weeks in the country . . . away from crowded city streets and, often, unbelievably bad living conditions. By showing these youngsters . . . and their parents . . . that the Episcopal Church was interested in them, the Society is carrying forward not only its own work, but that of the whole Diocese and Church at large.

You: Well, I always did believe in helping youngsters. They will take our place tomorrow and if they grow up with an understanding of true religion, it will certainly make this a better world.

Chaplains and Camps serve children

Canv: You made my point, but just let me say that the Society's camps are among the finest in the East. Equipment is the best and kids have a swell time.

You: That makes it even better. I hate to see my Church second-rate.

Canv: Maybe you'd like to know some more about the Society's work?

You: Seems to me I remember my wife saying something about Ellis Island.

Canv: That's right. She probably heard about it at a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary. The Society helped over 2,000 families last year and has had a staff at Ellis Island since 1906.

You: That's pretty old . . . let's see . . . 1906 . . . that's 42 years!

Canv: Right! But there is another department, the Family Service Group, that has been helping people almost as long.

You: Say . . . you haven't told me anything about St. Barnabas House . . . the one thing about the Society I had heard about.

Canv: That's right, but I almost forgot to tell you about a branch at Westfield State Farm. 500 girls were helped there every year.

You: What's the program?

Canv: It's mostly to help girls adjust themselves to institutional life and to return later to the community as respectable citizens.

You: I can see a girl in prison would need that, all right.

Canv: Nowhere is help more deeply appreciated. The rector was telling me their files are literally full of letters expressing thanks and appreciation. But, I want to tell you about St. Barnabas House and get you to sign your pledge. I promised Your Next-Door Neighbor I'd call this afternoon.

You: Okay, but just tell me . . . How is the new building coming along?

Canv: Should be completed in a few weeks now; and then, the Church will have one of the finest temporary shelters of its kind in the country.

You: What do you mean by temporary shelter?

Canv: It's for homeless children between the ages of 2 and 11, unmarried mothers and for older women . . . while some permanent plan is being worked out for them. It has been going for 84 years and has been open night and day since 1864.

You: Well, I've heard "Red" Barber talk about it many times and I know that it must do a grand job.

Canv: You'd think so if you could just see the kids down there. The place is like a real home. When the new building is finished we'll have to drive down some day and see for ourselves. But right now, I would like to take your pledge. (Hands over the card and pen.)

You: (Taking them.) Now, I had decided I was going to give something extra this year for our church . . . I know we have to fix that roof . . . and then the cost of everything has gone up . . . business is a little better . . . still . . . let me see . . . now . . . ?

Canv: I'm very glad you are raising your pledge, and I hope you'll do the same on the "Red Side."

You: You can bet your life on that! I'm really going to get into the "Red" this year. As a matter of fact, (hands over the pledge card) I don't mind telling you I feel so proud to know what our Church is doing in so many ways . . . I really boosted my local pledge. Guess I didn't know what a wonderful shepherd our old Church is . . . did I?

Canv: I'm very glad you feel that way, and thank you very much.

You: Thank YOU, very much . . . and God bless you too.

"To Bring into the Fellowship and Service of Christ . . . a Definite Faith in Our Lord"

On November 2, the Rev. Bryan Green will arrive in New York by air from England to conduct the Diocesan Preaching Mission. The calendar is at the right.

The Mission will not be a Revival as ordinarily understood; nor is it a drive for members or funds. The main objective is to bring into the fellowship and service of Christ persons who have only a loose attachment to the Church, and to win them to a definite faith in our Lord.

The Rev. Mr. Green, a consecrated clergyman of the Church of England, has conducted missions throughout the British Isles, especially at unversities. On one occasion he led the important Triennial Mission at Cambridge. He is Proctor in Canterbury Convocation and a member of the Archbishop of Canterbury's Council on Evangelism.

Mr. Green was born January 14, 1901 and was educated at Merchant Taylors School and London University. For some years he travelled through the British Isles speaking and lecturing to young people. Later he became Chaplain of the Oxford Pastorate, Oxford University, and, afterward, Vicar of Holy Trinity Church, Brompton, one of the largest and most important of the West-end London churches, one of the few to have evening services throughout the blitz and blackout.

He has spoken to troops in Germany and has visited the United States and Canada three times to preach and teach in churches, universities, and schools. He has specialized in answering questions from high school students.

Mr. Green is now Rector of Birmingham, the second city in England. His church is called St. Martin's in-the-Bull-Ring, and is the ancient, civic church of the city.

Pledges for the missionary work of the Church in 1949 will be totaled late in 1948 and on the basis of these pledges the Diocesan Convention, to be held in May 1949, will appropriate definite amounts for the work of the National Council and for the organizations of the Diocese. The total missionary quota or goal of the Diocese for 1949 is $525,401 of which $350,041 is our apportionment for the National Council and $175,360 the amount to be allocated for the work of the Diocese.

The Bishop's Message:

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

The Conference of our clergy at West Point on October 5th and 6th made an appropriate beginning for our new season's activities. It was unusually well attended. The splendid spirit that prevailed and the inspiration we found in its deliberations give reason to believe that the work of the Diocese will go forward with new vigor and new consecration in the year now before us.

Bishop Gilbert

I only wish it were possible for our laity to have the benefits which such a conference provides—the fellowship, the spiritual stimulation, the sense of partnership in the sacred task to which our Lord is now calling His Church. I am sure it would bring new zeal and devotion into the life of all our congregations. It is my prayerful hope that the time may soon come when groups of our lay workers may be brought together in some quiet place away from the distractions of the world, to think together and pray together and get a deeper feeling of their common responsibility and privilege in the Church's life and service.

Two great projects are now before us, the outcome of which will depend upon the combined energies of our clergy and their people. We shall not get far unless they work together in wholehearted cooperation.

First, is the Diocesan Mission the plans and schedule for which are now definitely arranged. We must not think of this Mission only as an effort to reach the lapsed and unchurched. That is its objective but it can be attained only as all of us avail ourselves of the opportunity provided for the deepening of our own spiritual lives, clergy and people alike. Only so can God work through us to persuade others to share with us in the sacred privileges the Church provides.

The second project is not unrelated. As this message comes to you our parishes and missions are supposed to be getting ready to enlist the financial support of their people not only for the maintenance of their own local church but for the work to which their Diocese is committed and for the needs of our Master's Church throughout the world. God asks for our money. We need to take seriously to heart the fact that it is by honest, willing sacrifice as well as by prayer and sacraments that our spiritual lives are strengthened. And what we give can speak more loudly than our words, perhaps, in our efforts to win people around us for God and His Church.

Charles C Gilbert

Fifty-Six Youths Seek Holy Orders

At a time when the National Church is faced with a desperate need for clergy and when young men are supposed to be under the influence of the secularism of our times, it should be a matter of deep significance to know that during the past year the Bishop has interviewed 56 young men who wish to study for the priesthood. Of these applicants to Holy Orders twenty-eight have completed their applications and have been accepted by the Bishop as postulants.

During this year these young men will continue their studies in various colleges and seminaries. Five of them have not yet completed their college course, two are at Berkeley Divinity School, two at Episcopal Theological School, fifteen are at General Theological Seminary, one at Nashotah House, one at the Philadelphia Divinity School and two are at the Virginia Seminary.

Seven of these men served in the Army during the recent war and four of them saw service with the Navy. Three of these men were fully ordained ministers in other churches. Two of them, with splendid educational backgrounds, have held important posts with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The parishes from which these postulants come are widely scattered and include in Manhattan: Calvary, Trinity, St. Philip's, Holyrood, St. George's, St. Mary the Virgin, Intercession, St. James', Resurrection, St. Martin's, St. Thomas's, St. Ignatius', St. Matthew and St. Timothy and St. Stephen's. Parishes outside of the Manhattan area from which other postulants have come are: St. John's, Yonkers; Ascension, West Park; St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua; St. James the Less, Scarsdale; Ascension, West New Brighton; Christ's Church, Rye; St. John's, Clifton; Trinity, New Rochelle's St. Peter's, Peekskill; and St. John's, Larchmont.

Bishop's Old Residence Turned to General Use

The large dwelling on the Cathedral Close built as a residence for the Bishop has been turned over to the Cathedral trustees.

Its first floor is now being rebuilt into offices for the Cathedral staff. The second floor will be kept as a place for conferences and other diocesan functions. It is hoped that the upper floors will eventually be made into living apartments.

Trinity Church Pledges $6,300 To Further Episcopal Radio Hour

Trinity Church has pledged $6,300 to the Presiding Bishop for the support of the Episcopal radio hour, Great Scenes from Great Plays, now being heard every Friday night at 8:00 p.m. over WOR and 500 Mutual Broadcasting Stations throughout the nation.

Parishes have been asked to contribute 3% of their budgets and Trinity's action was termed an important part of the response to that plea. Clerks of vestries and advisory boards are to notify the National Council of their intention to contribute, but remittances should be sent to R. H. Mansfield, treasurer, 1047 Amsterdam Ave., New York 25, N. Y.

Note Founding Days In Oldest Churches

Church Anniversaries are featured throughout the Diocese as fall programs are opened. At St. Mary's, West New Brighton a special service October 31 marked the 100th Anniversary. On October 24, Bishop Donegan consecrated the restored church building which had been rebuilt after a disastrous fire in August 1947. In addition to rebuilding the church, the parish has paid off a mortgage of $20,000 announced the rector, the Rev. Orin A. Griesmyer.

The 125th Anniversary of the founding of St. Mary's, Manhattanville, will be celebrated on Friday, December 3. An historical pageant written and directed by Miss Clara Thropp, a member of the parish and of the Episcopal Actors' Guild will be presented. On Sunday, December 5th, Bishop Gilbert will preach at the eleven o'clock service. The Rev. Charles B. Ackley, S.T.D., has been the rector of St. Mary's since 1919.

The Church of the Transfiguration (The Little Church Around the Corner) had a service of Thanksgiving on October 10th to commemorate its 100th Anniversary. Bishop Gilbert conveyed congratulations and greetings from all the Diocese. The preacher at the service was the Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, O.H.C., who has known the three rectors, the Rev. George H. Houghton, D.D., the Rev. George C. Houghton, D.D., and the present rector, the Rev. J. H. Randolph Ray, D.D., who is also celebrating his twenty-fifth year of ministering to the parish.

Institutes Stress Visual Techniques

A series of Church School Institutes presenting the filmstrips, "Improving Your Teaching," "Using Filmstrips in Church," and flannel-graph technique were held last month by the Board of Religious Education in Hudson, Westchester and Bronx Convocations.

The Institute will be offered in November for Ramapo at St. Mary's, Tuxedo Park. Dates for Manhattan and Dutchess will be set for 1949.

The Rev. J. Willard Yoder, director of religious education and youth work was assisted by clergy in the various localities in the sessions which at the same time heard plans for the Diocesan projects of the Advent offering for the City Mission Society, the Christmas Boxes and the annual Youth Offering.

Westchester Churchman Elected Treasurer of National Council

Russell E. Dill, member and former vestryman of Christ Church, Bronxville, has been elected treasurer of the National Council and the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society. Mr. Dill is widely known in business circles as a specialist in reorganization of industrial companies. He succeeds Dr. Lewis B. Franklin.

Twenty-first Annual "Clergy Conference" Held Oct. 5th and 6th

The twenty-first annual conference of the clergy of the Diocese, upon the invitation of the Bishop, met October 5th and 6th at the Hotel Thayer, West Point.

Arriving for luncheon on Tuesday, about 180 had registered from all parts of the Diocese before the Bishop opened the conference with prayers and a brief welcome. The Rev. Curtis Hoyt Dickens, rector emeritus of St. George's, Newburgh, made the trip from California to be present.

The first speaker, the Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Shoemaker, rector of Calvary Church, spoke on the responsibility and opportunity of the clergy with regard to the program of Evangelism being undertaken in the Diocese. He was followed by the Rev. Shirley C. Hughson, O.H.C., whose subject was "The Parochial Mission — Its Value and Methods."

The last speaker of the afternoon, Bishop Donegan, spoke of plans for the Diocesan Mission and told of his meeting last summer with the Missioner, the Rev. Bryan Green, rector of Birmingham, England. He gave the revised schedule for the Mission and urged the clergy to perfect their organization within their parishes to insure large attendance at all meetings.

The Wednesday session, after breakfast, was devoted to the Church's Missionary Program. Dr. Lewis B. Franklin, treasurer of the National Council, made an appeal for the support of the world-wide mission of the Church in the face of the world's great needs and inflationary costs of administration. Dr. Franklin also demonstrated by transciption the second in the series of radio broadcasts Great Scenes from Great Plays sponsored by the Church on Friday nights.

Mr. Theodor Oxholm, secretary of the Committee on the Program of the Church and assistant treasurer of the Diocese, as the final speaker, urged that every parish and mission conduct an intensive, well organized canvass for support of the Church at all levels. Only by such action, he said, can the Church expect to receive its full share of the total giving of its people, who are being pressed to give to so many worthy causes.

Finding "Faith that Can Change the World" Is a Task for the People: Bishop Donegan

"The effectiveness of the Evangelistic endeavor depends in large measure on the cooperation of our own church members. If they do their part, the Mission will win many to the 'FAITH That Can Change the World'," said Bishop Donegan in releasing the preaching program of the Diocesan Mission being held November 7 to December 5.

Rev. Bryan Green

"It must be remembered that the Mission is a Diocesan endeavor and therefore requires the cooperation of all in order that the hoped for results will be achieved," said the Suffragan Bishop.

The Missioner, the Rev. Bryan Green, newly elected rector of Birmingham, England whose parish church is known at St. Martin's-in-the-Bull Ring, arrived at LaGuardia Airport, November 3.

Expect $90,000 Gifts for World Relief in Response to Appeal of the Presiding Bishop

The parishes and missions of the Diocese have nearly completed their appeals for contributions to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief for the year 1948. With the expectation that before the books close on December 1 about $5,000 additional will be received, the total contribution of the Diocese will be approximately $90,000 as compared to $66,314 in 1947.

The need of devastated areas still surpasses our contributions, and plans for a joint drive of 23 religious denominations to raise ten million dollars in one day, March 20, 1949, are being formulated.

The suffering left in the wake of war is dramatically depicted in the montage at the top of page 9. Left to right, top, shows remains of European village in contrast with an American village below, unscathed. Next, a line-up for the food our contribution makes possible and below our well-stocked store shelves. Lastly, the converted barracks that serve as a place of worship, so drab beside our beautiful churches that escaped bombing.

Listed below are the goals and contributions of the parishes and missions of the Diocese up to October 15, 1948.

Chapels Serve Camps In Bear Mt. Section

Three chapels in the Bear Mountain section of the Palisades Interstate Park provided services regularly for over 7,851 campers and counsellors in the nearby camps this past summer.

For more than twenty-five years the Rev. George W. Dumbell, rector of St. David's Highland Mills and St. John's, Arden, has held services in the Park, and during the past summer 2,570 people, including persons of all faiths, worshipped with him in the chapel on Lake Kanawaukee at eight services and 195 at two early morning Communion services. Mr. Dumbell says, "I have yet to speak for reverence and dignity . . . and when you have this from a congregation of from three to four hundred young people, campers out for a holiday, you have a great hour, 'when the true worshippers worship the Father in spirit and in truth'."

The Rev. Bradford Ketchum, rector of St. John's Church, Cornwall, has been in charge of the services in the Twin Lakes Chapel. He states that Holy Communion was celebrated on the second Sunday of each month and on special days. The Feast of the Transfiguration celebrated at dawn in the mountains was most noteworthy. Service of Evening Prayer was held on the other Sundays. In addition to the campers in the regions, groups of blind guests at the summer home of the New York Association for the Blind were invited to services from time to time.

In all, over 1,000 persons were served.

The Rev. Walter F. Hoffman, rector of St. Luke's, Haverstraw, vicar of St. John's, Stony Point and St. Andrew's, Willow Grove, held services for campers in the chapels on Lake Tiorati, Lake Stahahe and in St. John's-in-the-Wilderness. Altogether 4,126 persons attended the services. A group of some thirty Negro children sang in the choir in this area and according to Mr. Hoffman were a great help with hymns and spirituals.

Finding Faith that Can Change World Is Task for the People

Local preparations have been under the direction of the Convocation deans. The prayers for the Mission are the Collect for the Sunday Next Before Advent and the petition above. Bishop Donegan urged the laity to "be zealous in their efforts to bring to the services the men and women whom the Missioner desires to reach, namely, the people on the "fringe" of the church, who attend infrequently or not at all, the doubters, the non-believers. Those in trouble, the bereaved, the fearful, the discouraged should be invited.

"You who receive this message, know one or more persons who will be helped by the Mission. Seek out those people by a personal call. Don't be content to invite them. Bring them to the Mission."

Convocations Urged To Support Mission

The Convocations were challenged to make the Diocesan Mission "a mighty spiritual force and power in this great Diocese of ours," by Bishop Donegan who, with the newly appointed Archdeacon, the Rev. George F. Bratt, attended the annual fall meetings. The Archdeacon told of the work of the mission and assisted parishes.

More than 300 delegates and others of the Manhattan Convocation assembled at the Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin on September 29 to hear the Rev. Dr. Samuel Shoemaker. Dr. Shoemaker, using the symbol of a candlestick, outlined the ways in which people could equip themselves to participate in the campaign of evangelism.

The meeting of the Richmond Convocation, October 27, was a choir festival of all Staten Island choirs as part of the 100th Anniversary celebration of St. Mary's whose restored building had just been reconsecrated.

The other meetings were: Hudson, October 25, St. George's, Newburgh. Bronx, October 28, Church of the Holy Nativity. Dutchess plans to convene November 4, which will be a "Meet the Missioner" meeting with the Missioner, the Rev. Bryan Green.

Bronx Men's Work Committee Holds Fifth Annual Service

One hundred and seventy-five men attended the Fifth Annual Fall Evening Service for Episcopal Men of the Bronx at St. James', Fordham, October 10th under the auspices of the Convocation Committee on Men's Work, George E. Heerwagen, chairman.

The Suffragan Bishop gave a colorful account of the Lambeth Conference.

The service of Evening Prayer was conducted by three licensed lay readers of the Convocation: Edgar Campbell of St. Paul's, Charles Y. Mackie of St. Stephen's and Anthony Pennyfeather of St. Luke's. The organist was George L. Baxter, organist and choirmaster of St. Peter's, Westchester.

Arthur Ketchum at a service of Holy Communion on June 23rd at St. Matthew's Church, Bedford, and then sent to St. Luke's Mission, Tanner's Ridge, Virginia.

Clergy Changes During the Summer Months Headed by Appointment of New Archdeacon

The Rev. George Frederick Bratt has been named an Archdeacon of the Diocese. Before his appointment the Rev. Mr. Bratt was rector of St. Paul's Church, Ossining and vicar of All Saints' Church, Briarcliff. His work will include the promotion of the interests of the Missions and Aided Parishes, and also the seeking out of new locations where church services should be undertaken.

Archdeacon Bratt

The Rev. M. Paul S. Huntington since 1931 the rector of Christ Church, Red Hook and of All Saints' Chapel, Upper Red Hook has resigned these charges and will retire from the active ministry because of physical disability. Mr. Huntington who leaves many friends in the Dutchess Convocation and in the Diocese, will make his home in Amherst, Mass.

The whole Diocese has been saddened by the announcement of the death of the Rev. Joseph H. Dodshon which occurred in England on July 22. Archdeacon Dodshon, as he was familiarly known because of the office he held for many years in the Diocese of Southern Ohio, was rector of St. Simeon's Church, Bronx, from 1931 to 1944. After his retirement he made his home on City Island.

The Rev. Frederick A. Coleman who has served for over twenty years as rector of St. Andrew's Church, Brewster, has resigned that parish as of October first. In addition to his work at Brewster, he has maintained regular services at Drew Seminary in Carmel. He has now retired from the active ministry and will make his home near Wassaic, N. Y. Though retired Mr. Coleman will still be living within the Diocese and will be available for occasional duty.

Rev. F. A. Coleman

The Rev. Jerome Harris who, since 1924, has been the assistant pastor of St. Ignatius' Church has resigned that office to accept work in the Diocese of L. I.

By action of the two vestries, and the approval of the Bishop, the Rev. Ralph D. Bonacker has been called to be rector of Grace Church, Millbrook and St. Peter's Church, Lithgow. He entered upon his new work on October 1st and will be instituted by the Bishop on October 24. He will make his home in the rectory at Millbrook.

Rev. Ralph Bonacker

Mr. Bonacker was formerly on the staff of the City Mission Society to which he came from Louisville, Ky., in 1947. He had previously served in the Diocese as chaplain of Bellevue Hospital and later as chaplain of the State Training School for Boys at Warwick.

The Diocese has suffered a great loss in the departure of the Rev. Harold H. Kelly, D.D., who has resigned as Director of the Seamen's Church Institute and removed to the Diocese of Los Angeles. Most of his ministry has been spent in California where he was born.

Dr. Harold H. Kelly

He has held an important place in the life of the Diocese of New York and his return to his native state will be deeply regretted by his many friends here.

The Rev. William Pitt McCune, Ph.D., has resigned the rectorship of St. Ignatius' Church, Manhattan, where he has spent his entire ministry. He will now retire from active service and make his permanent home at 52 Lexington Avenue, Columbus 15, Ohio.

Dr. Wm. P. McCune

The parish has called the Rev. W. F. Penny to succeed Dr. McCune. The new rector has been in charge of St. James' Church, Franklin Square in the Diocese of Long Island. He will be instituted by the Bishop on December 8.

Rev. W. F. Penny

The Rev. Randolph Gall has resigned as rector of the Church of the Advocate, Bronx, to become full-time chaplain at Seaview.

The Rev. William F. Corker has been elected rector of St. Michael's, to succeed the Rev. Thomas McCandless who resigned last June after having served the parish since 1919. The Rev. Mr. Corker comes to the Diocese from the Church of the Good Shepherd, Scranton, Pa., of which he was the rector since 1942.

Rev. Wm. F. Corker

The Rev. Donald S. Cheetham has been appointed vicar of St. Anne's Mission, Great Kills, Staten Island and began his work there on October 15. Since his ordination as a deacon in 1946, he has served as curate of Holy Trinity Church in St. James' parish.

Rev. D. S. Cheetham

LAMBETH DELEGATION of American Bishop's is led by Bishop Donegan and Bishop Bloy of Los Angeles.

School of Religion Opens at Seminary

Religious Education was the accent of the opening of the Central School of Religion meeting at the General Theological Seminary on Monday evenings from October 18 through November 22. The Rev. Dr. John Heuss, Director of Christian Education of the National Council, gave the opening address, and was followed by the Rev. Canon V. O. Ward of the Curriculum Division of the National Department, the Rev. Clifford E. B. Nobes, Director of Christian Education of the Diocese of Long Island, and the Rev. J. Willard Yoder.

Three Seminary Professors, the Rev. Chauncie K. Myers, the Rev. Dr. Powel Mills Dawley, and the Rev. Miles L. Yates have united in presenting a 400th anniversary course on the Book of Common Prayer. Mrs. Leonora Harris, Children's Division of the National Department of Christian Education is giving a course on "The Bible in Christian Education." The Rev. Leland B. Henry, Executive Director of the Diocesan Commission on Christian Social Relations, and the Rev. Leslie J. A. Lang, rector of St. Peter's Church, Westchester are presenting a course on "Lambeth and the Modern World" and "Lambeth and Christian Marriage;" respectively.

The Rev. J. W. Yoder, Director of the School, chaired a seminar for priests, seminarians and directors of religious education on "The Parish Priest and Christian Education."

The Bishop's Message :

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

As this BULLETIN comes to you, our hearts and minds will be turning towards the observance of the Joyous Christmas Festival. That great day and its eternal message should come to us this year with new meaning and a new appeal.

We are anxious and troubled over the plight of our world. Fear and uncertainty weigh heavily upon us all. Against the darkness that now oppresses us that Bethlehem Star should shine out with a new brightness. There are many of us this year, I believe, who will remember the coming of the Prince of Peace with deeper understanding.

Throughout the Diocese great numbers of our people have been deeply stirred by the Mission in which we have been engaged. Our hearts have been touched. Our faith has been deepened and we have a new awareness of the glorious heritage that is ours in the worship and fellowship of our Church.

I would pay my grateful tribute to the Reverend Bryan Green for all that he has done for us. He has given of himself without stint to a schedule that has covered the entire Diocese. He has visited numerous schools and colleges. He has conducted many conferences with our clergy and others. The series of crowded week-night services at the Cathedral, with which the Mission was concluded, was an amazing demonstration of the wide interest he has aroused.

We must now give thought to the next steps in our Evangelistic program if we are to conserve all that Mr. Green has done for us. As I have frequently said, the Program of Evangelism to which we are called must not be regarded as a high-pressure campaign which will shortly fade out. It is a continuing endeavor. We owe much to Bishop Donegan, Dr. Shoemaker, Father Leeming and the clergy who have worked with them in carrying out the Diocesan Mission. I know they are ready to go on to the next steps.

I pray that this coming Christmas may bring to all our people new hope and courage and confidence for the difficult days in which we are living—and fresh incentive for the task that He has committed to us.

Charles K. Gilbert

Advance Six Deacons To the Priesthood

On November 27th, in the Cathedral, the Bishop advanced six deacons to the priesthood, and ordained one deacon. The Rev. Dr. Thomas A. Sparks, canon pastor of the Cathedral, was the preacher. This was the largest group advanced to the priesthood since the war.

The Rev. James C. Healey, Ph.D. who was ordained deacon had been an ordained minister of the Methodist Church since 1917, as a chaplain to seamen. He was presented by the Rev. R. A. D. Beaty, St. Peter's Chelsea, and will serve at the Seamen's Church Institute.

The deacons advanced were:

Clergy Urged to Push BULLETIN Promotion

The Bishop addressed a letter to the clergy last week to open a drive for a larger number of subscribers to the BULLETIN.

Asking each clergyman in charge of a congregation to find at least ten (10) subscribers from among his parishioners, the Bishop said, "I am enclosing 10 envelopes which I hope you will use for this purpose.

Bishop Gilbert pointed out that the BULLETIN numbers less than 3,000 subscribers in a diocese of about 100,000 communicants, and urged Sunday School and Girls' Friendly Society members to participate in the BULLETIN subscription contest for a free scholarship to the 1949 Diocesan Youth Conference.

As a second part of the subscription drive, subscribers and church members are being asked to give the BULLETIN as a Christmas gift.

Attendance at Mission Services Culminates in Cathedral Crowds

Attendance at the Diocesan Mission established records for enthusiasm that culminated in an opening service of over 7,000 in the Cathedral Sunday, November 28. As the BULLETIN goes to press, nightly crowds, beginning with 3,500 on Monday night, shows promise of an overflow crowd at the closing service, December 5 and Thanksgiving Service, December 7.

Fred Kurz

The Mission was led off with a 6,000 crowd at the Westchester County opening meeting, sponsored by the enlarged Convocation Committee on the Program of the Church, Samuel Thorne, chairman. Frederic C. Kurz did the organizing work for Westchester.

Other services throughout the other convocations reported capacity crowds.

"DIOCESAN MISSION" SHOWS SANE EVANGELISM'S POWER

By BISHOP DONEGAN

As this issue of the BULLETIN goes to press the Mission is still in progress. The final week of services in the Cathedral is in progress. The Diocesan Mission commenced on November 7th with a congregation of between five and six thousand people at the County Center in White Plains. That vast company of worshippers was an impressive demonstration of the strength of the Episcopal church in Westchester.

Since then mission services have been held in every Convocation. In addition to preaching every day, the Missioner has spoken in colleges, universities, high schools, public and private schools, seminaries; made several broadcasts; held numerous interviews, and given lectures to the clergy on the preparation and preaching of parochial missions.

We are grateful to the Rev. Bryan Green for his willingness to come to New York and to lead this evangelistic endeavor of our church. He has given of himself unceasingly and unsparingly. His forthright presentation of the Christian gospel has been a stimulus, challenge and inspiration to us all.

The Rev. Bryan Green Speaking

PRAYER: "Grant to Me a Place in Thy Purpose"

"O God, who through thy Son hast made plain thy glorious plan for the world; grant to me a place in that unfolding purpose; and show me thy plan for my life; though it be hard, make me long to follow it; and give me courage to persevere until, at last, I reach the goal which thou has set for me; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

—from ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S WEEKLY

Obviously, it is impossible at this date to evaluate the spiritual benefits of the mission. But certain observations can be made.

The Mission was timely as evidenced by the large congregations wherever the Missioner has spoken, and this in spite of the fact that the period of preparation was all too short.

The Mission was a clear illustration of sane Evangelism. No longer will people think of Evangelism in terms of emotionalism and revivals. It has removed the wrong conception many people have held.

The Mission has led the way for a long term teaching of the Christian faith in the parishes. The eagerness and readiness of the people for instruction was striking.

The Mission has enriched the faith of the faithful and led them into a deeper devotional life.

The Mission has been the beginning of a Christian experience to many people. There is unmistakable evidence of new committment to Christ. There has been re-dedication of active communicants and a renewed interest in the church on the part of a considerable number of members who were formerly inactive.

One important fact of the Mission has been the spirit of cooperation on the part of the clergy and laity. This spirit of unity will deepen the increasing spirit of fellowship throughout the Diocese.

The Mission has shown the value of a preaching mission as an aid in the work of the church.

The extraordinary number of young people who have sought interviews with the Missioner indicates that youth are ready to respond when the challenge of Christianity is presented positively, with courage, conviction and imagination.

As the Mission draws to a close it cannot be too strongly emphasized that what has been happening during the past month is only a beginning. In every congregation the Mission should be followed up with a vigorous program of evangelism. Teaching sermons, study groups, prayer fellowships, parish visitations, parochial missions are some of the ways in which this evangelistic endeavor may be continued. People formerly inactive who have been at the services should be called on. "Seekers classes" should be organized for those who want to ask questions regarding the Christian faith. Opportunities should be made available for church people to do work in the parish and the community.

Every congregation will decide on its own program, but it is important that the clergy should meet at once with their vestries and interested laity and plan the follow-up in order that the spiritual values of the Mission may be conserved.

Finally I wish to express my thankfulness to the deans of all the Convocations, the chairmen and members of the committees, the rectors of the churches where the services were held and to many others for their cooperation, and to Bishop Gilbert for his whole-hearted support of this evangelistic endeavor which we pray will bring many blessings to the Diocese of which he is the beloved leader.

"I Have Walked with a Man who Walks with God"

"I have walked with a man who walks with God," said the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill. His earnestness, and his absolute adherence to the teaching of the simple gospel, and the number of clergy who very obviously have rededicated themselves, have been the impressive things."

Rev. F. C. Leeming

The Rev. Mr. Leeming was talking about his experiences as he led the music for the many services of the Missioner, the Rev. Bryan Green.

Three memories were most vivid to him. First, the conducted silence "to lead people to the acceptance of the message of Christ." Second, the large congregations and their responsiveness to the Missioner, especially the young people. Third, the simplicity of the Missioner's presentation. For example, "he spoke of sins as 'Jonah's' which because they refuse to obey God's will, prevent us from reaching shore. We are saved only when they are thrown overboard."

Mission Body Votes $150,000 for New Church Construction

The Board of Managers of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society has voted to conduct a campaign throughout the Diocese for $150,000 to enable it to build several new churches and a parish house in the diocesan missionary field. The campaign will be launched on January 1st and it is hoped that the full goal will be reached before March 1st so that building operations can start as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

No mission church has been built in the Diocese for nearly ten years and there are several churches which were started twelve to twenty-five years ago and never completed.

In commenting on the campaign the Bishop said, "we must not let anything stand in the way of our obligation to perform this very fundamental missionary task to plant the church in these growing communities in our own Diocese. I am certain we will have the full backing of all of our clergy and lay people."

Advent Offering and Student Tea Are Set

A tea for foreign Episcopal college students has been planned for early December at Windham House, training center for Church workers, the Missions Promotion Committee of the Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary announced at the regular monthly meeting of the Board, held November 16 at St. Bartholomew's Community House.

The six district vice presidents reported to the body that the results of the Diocesan mission have been "extremely encouraging."

The delegates to the provincial meeting held in Asbury Park during October, reported, one interesting feature being a missionary program arranged by Mrs. McCulloh to show the location of the missionaries from our own Province on a large map. There are twenty women and four men from the Diocese of New York.

Mrs. H. Hobart Holly, Jr., Mrs. George W. Burpee, Mrs. E. Stuart Hubbard, Sr., Mrs. Malcolm Tuttle, Mrs. Edward T. Theopold, Mrs. William E. Leidt, Mrs. John H. Michaeli, Mrs. J. Hopkins Smith (standing), Mrs. Charles M. Baxter, Jessie Willing, Mrs. Francis S. Bancroft, Mrs. James S. McCulloh, Mrs. Edward S. Porter, Mrs. Alexander Wiley, Mrs. Charles C. Walden, Jr., Mrs. Bedell H. Harned.

Present at the meeting but not shown in the picture were: Mrs. Robertson L. Cleveland and Mrs. Arthur J. Simpson.

Urge Churchmen to Aid DP's to Enter Country

The Commission on Christian Social Relations urged members of the Episcopal Church who wish to aid displaced persons to enter the United States to take advantage immediately of the new legislation providing for their entry.

Referring to the thousands of such non-Roman Christians the Commission pointed out last month in its Bulletin that it is no longer necessary for individuals to assume complete legal and financial responsibility. A person willing to help, after receiving the approval of his rector, may offer employment through the Commission's office at 416 Lafayette Street, New York 3, N. Y. The Commission forwards the application to Church World Service, and they in turn assume corporate responsibility for the guarantee that the Displaced Person will not become a public charge.

A prospective employer specifies the sex, acceptable age range, type of employment, and weekly wage and hours of labor. Field workers in the Displaced Persons camps then find an individual who fits the specification.

Musical Compositions of Vicar Presented

Five compositions by the Rev. John A. Castelli, vicar of the Church of San Salvatore were presented last month at a sacred music concert given for the organ fund of the church.

Herbert M. Lane, organist; Raimonda Castelli, Mary Di Maggio, Rose Micalizio, Olimpia Montini, Bessie Bacchi, Lena Fiordaliso, Vivian Somma, Marie Desmo, Theresa Felicetti and John Parsek, sopranos; Nellie Somma, alto; Mr. Parker Pleu and Jack Desmo, tenors; John E. Castelli, baritone; and Edward Young, bass, were featured artists with the choir of the church under the direction of the vicar.

The Rev. Mr. Castelli's compositions sung were: Preghiera a Dio, Lasciate a Me Venire, Peace I Leave With You, Consider the Lilies, Agnus Dei, Sanctus, and Spes Mea in Deo Est.

Lena Fiordaliso, Raimonda Castelli and M. Parker Pleu were praised especially for their performances.

Parish Receives $4,000 Legacy

Trinity Parish, Saugerties, has been left a legacy of $4,000 by Mr. G. H. Knight, in memory of his wife, it was announced last month by the rector, the Rev. Peter W. O. Hill.

The gift is to be known as the Annie Knight Memorial.

"Great Scenes" Gets A Mixed Reception

First response to Great Scenes from Great Plays, the radio program sponsored by the National Council, heard locally over WOR at 8:00 p.m. Fridays, to date has brought inquiries from 642 individuals in this area who wished to know more about the Church. These inquiries are now being allocated to the proper parishes.

At the parish level, response of church members to the program was generally enthusiastic, according to a survey made by the BULLETIN last month.

The Rev. Fessenden Nichols, rector of Christ Church, Suffern, described the general reaction of his congregation as "good." This was also the experience at Calvary, where some members have attended the actual scenes while they were being recorded. At St. John's, Larchmont, acceptance was enthusiastic also, and the rector, the Rev. Francis H. Coffin, said he was "willing to support this one for a year on an experimental basis."

At the Church of the Epiphany, a survey of congregational response showed that of 25 persons who had listened, 19 liked the idea and 3 did not. 13 said they thought the programs would be effective. About half had heard the programs discussed, and in those instances, opinion was equally divided between a favorable and an unfavorable reaction.

While everyone agreed the programs were artistically excellent, there was difference of opinion as to what religious effect the effort would have.

The Rev. James H. Price, rector of St. James the Less, Scarsdale, reported he had quizzed a local adult school of no religious affiliation, and that while they thought the Episcopal Church was rendering a fine service to culture and that the program was good public relations, "none of these people have indicated the slightest interest in the Church as a result of the broadcasts." The Rev. Mr. Price noted that he had quizzed some ten or a dozen rectors and only two women had given an indication to one rector that their church attendance related to the broadcast.

While no other outsiders were reported visiting churches, the majority of the clergy responding supported the program. "I think they are extremely good," said the Rev. Edward O. Miller, rector of St. George's. "I rejoice greatly in this bold step taken by the National Council."

Church Club Announces Programs

The members of the Church Club of New York heard Bishop Donegan discuss the Lambeth Conference at a round table dinner on December 6th.

The 62nd Annual Dinner was set for January 31st at which the Right Rev. Lauriston L. Scaife, S.T.D., Bishop of Western New York, and the Honorable Owen J. Roberts, LL.D., former associate justice of the Supreme Court will be the speakers.

Bazaars, Bazaars and Bazaars Are Now On

If all the annual Bazaars and Fairs now being given in the Diocese were laid end to end, the food, toy and baby tables, bake and cake, fashion shows, gifts, aprons, white elephants (what a stream!), sketches, voice recordings, fortune tellers, playlets, silhouettes, journals, wishing wells, quilts, jewelry (home-made and commercial) cosmetics, darts, grocery stores, parcel posts, soda shops, shooting galleries, antiques, stuffed animals, Kalendars, stationery and Christmas cards (but no BULLETIN subscriptions), Christmas wrappings, candy, popcorn, and other sundries, would be endless.

Returns have ranged from $300 (lowest reported) to over $3,000. And this without a "wheel" or illegal gambling device.

St. James', Fordham has rebelled at the "Bazaar" and held an Annual Gift Day, November 11. Over $900 had been realized at press time, by people giving instead of buying.

Canon Sacrist Gets Credit for Cathedral Services—Blame Too

The dramatic arrangements for the Diocesan Mission in the Cathedral were the handiwork of its canon sacrist, the Rev. Edward Nason West, D.D., O.B.E.

Canon West

The Canon Sacrist's office is responsible for the preparation of all services held in the Cathedral, whether regular or special and the canon sacrist, himself, is automatically Master of Ceremonies of these services, and in addition is personally responsible for everything the Cathedral owns by way of furniture and appurtenances.

As Canon West put it, "if anything goes wrong, my office is blamed; and, what makes it worse, in nine cases out of ten, it should be!"

$100,000 is the amount needed to meet the $375,000 commitment made by the Diocesan Convention to the National Church and to our own Diocesan Missionary Organizations for the year 1948.

Seven Churches Offer Gifts for Puerto Rico

Seven churches, representing four convocations, gave a total of $86.13 last month in response to the National Council appeal for a Youth Sunday offering, to be used for the young people of the Church in Puerto Rico as follows:

Getting the Pledge

This is a playlet in which a Canvasser, Mr. Hopeful, calls upon a prospective contributor to the Church, Judge Grouch.

Time: Designated Afternoon.

(Judge Grouch, the largest contributor of Timothy's, has just seated canvasser, Mr. Hopeful, in Grouch's study. Grouch is scowling.)

Grouch: Come in! Come in!

Hopeful: Good Morning Judge. Could I see you for a few minutes?

Grouch: Hello Hopeful. What bad news brings you here? Sit down.

Hopeful: I want to pick up your pledge for next year. You received that letter about next year's budget, didn't you?

Grouch: Yes, and I must say you birds on the Vestry are doing a rotten job. Take that first item. Why are we paying the new rector $3600 plus the Rectory and heat and light? Couldn't you go out and get a young seminary graduate for about $2,000?

Hopeful: I know you don't really believe that, Mr. Grouch. There are forty vacancies in our Diocese that cannot be filled right now. Anyway just look at our church; you know about all the activity we've had the last couple of years. We feel that all of these things are good for the parish and that the church is growing again. We want a good man to assure our future. In these days of higher costs and salaries we don't want to shop around for dead beats and inexperience. A good man is going to leave us and we want a good man to take his place. It was a matter of getting a good man or none at all — we wouldn't settle for less.

Grouch: I guess you're right, Hopeful, but let me ask you — what about that next item, clergy pension and supply? It looks high to me.

Hopeful: Maybe it is a little high but we can't help that. We are required to pay in a portion of the rector's salary each year for his retirement fund — every church has to do that. Included in that is $25. a Sunday for a supply clergyman during the four-Sunday vacation we grant the rector.

Grouch: Vacation! Do you mean to say we let him have a four week vacation.

Hopeful: That's right.

Grouch: Can you imagine that. You know, Hopeful, the devil never takes a vacation.

Hopeful: That's right, Mr. Grouch, and if our rector never took a vacation he'd be a devil too.

Grouch: All right, you win. But look at what our music is costing us. For my money you could take the whole choir, organ and organist and throw them all into the ash cans.

Hopeful: Well you're about the only one that feels that way. Most folks enjoy the music too, and we do have a nice organ. Like any delicate instrument it has to be kept in good repair. The music will cost us less this year than last anyway.

Grouch: That's good. But this Diocesan Assessment. What the deuce is that?

Hopeful: That Mr. Grouch is like death and taxes . . . we can't avoid it. The Diocese has expenses too and has levied us with that portion of the burden.

Grouch: I know. Don't talk to me about taxes — and Truman. How did he get in anyway?

Hopeful: Don't ask me — but let's go down the list some more if you want to.

Grouch: We might as well. It might be more encouraging.

Hopeful: It is! Building and grounds, salaries and maintenance — and operating expenses. We know from previous years just about how these will run. Fuel, electricity, telephone, insurance, etc. average out just about the way we have it on the budget. But we might save here. We feel that we can make a good saving by controlling the heating of the parish house and the church. Someone is going to make sure that the heat is turned down after the buildings have been used for church activities. The choir is going to rehearse in the parish house instead of the church. We should really do better here. At least we are trying.

Grouch: Well, Hopeful, I believe you are trying and I'm glad of it.

Hopeful: I thought you'd see it our way Mr. Grouch. As a matter of fact, if you could pledge five or ten percent more this year it would help a lot.

Grouch: Certainly my boy! Certainly!

(SIGNS PLEDGE)

Grouch: By the way, what's this item for a new fence around the cemetery?

Hopeful: Well, the old one has deteriorated and is falling down so we decided to build a new one.

Grouch: Well don't expect anything from me. You don't need a fence at the cemetery at all. Those on the inside can't get out and those on the outside don't want to get in.

Hopeful: Thank you anyway, Judge Grouch. Goodbye.

"Old Age Study" Sends Out Two Questionnaires

Two questionnaires to learn what services are actually being given to the aged by our parishes have been sent to each rector and priest-in-charge by the Study of the Care of the Aged, authorized by the 1948 Diocesan Convention under the auspices of The Commission on Christian Social Relations.

The Committee in charge of the study consists of the following members of the Commission:

Rev. Harold F. Hohly
Rev. Gerald V. Barry
Rev. Shelton Hale Bishop
Mrs. Harvey W. Culp
Rev. George H. Hann
Dr. Walter Pettit
Mrs. Mary Simkhovitch
Rev. Leland B. Henry

plus the following advisory members

Miss E. M. Greenwood
Mrs. Guy Beaver King

Mr. Richard P. Kent
Rev. Gordon C. Graham
Rev. Charles E. Gus
Mrs. Muriel Lenton

The forms follow closely the method used by Vassar College in a similar study, and information secured will provide the basis for recommendations for a Diocesan program to meet the problems of old age.

The study is under the direction of Linda Wharton. Mrs. Beatrice M. Hetzler, of the Welfare Council, is secretary.

Variety of Canvass Methods Now in Use

Throughout the Diocese for the past month, vestries and advisory boards have been organizing Every Member Canvasses.

In response to a query from the BULLETIN, a great variety of individual practice has been reported, ranging from "no canvass" in some Manhattan parishes to a highly articulated effort in others.

First, there is a complete visitation as practiced at St. John's, Larchmont. Prior to 1941 their canvass was conducted by mail and those who did not respond were called on. Since 1941, no pledge card has been mailed. A letter is sent from the rector, the Rev. Francis J. H. Coffin, asking each member of the congregation to remain at home to receive the canvasser on a certain afternoon. Each warden and vestryman is made a team captain. He is given about twenty names of men who might be willing to work with him. The aim is to increase the number of canvassers so that no man will have to make more than three or four visits. Any calls not made are followed up by the team captain.

A canvassers' dinner is held immediately before the canvass, when the details are gone over, the budget explained and a speaker provides inspiration.

In 1944, 60 canvassers secured 381 pledges aggregating $16,000; in 1945, 130 canvassers secured 486 pledges totaling $23,000; in 1947, 153 canvassers produced $28,500 in pledges from 540 subscribers. Figures on this year's canvass are not yet complete but at this writing 128 canvassers have secured pledges of $24,500 from 380 persons. As many as possible of the calls are made in one day.

The second method generally in use provides for mailing the pledge card and planning to have each pledge card picked up by a visitor. St. Mary's, West New Brighton and Christ Church, Pelham Manor among others, use this.

St. Thomas', Mamaroneck, combines a canvass by mail followed by visitation. In mid-September a general letter to some 600 families and individuals stating problems and needs was sent out. On October 1st, 370 letters enclosing a pledge card were mailed to regular contributors: 255 of these responded immediately. Those who did not respond and others were included in the visitations which began October 17th. Most calls were made on one day and all were completed within two weeks.

St. Peter's, Peekskill and St. John's, Yonkers also use the combination mailed pledge card and visit method.

There are a considerable number of parishes who conduct their canvass by mailing the pledge card to the contributor and asking that it be returned either in person on a designated Sunday, or else mailed. Christ Church, Bronxville and Christ Church, Yonkers, among others use this method.

St. John's, Pleasantville Restoration Completed

A service of thanksgiving celebrated the re-opening of St. John's, Pleasantville, last month.

Following complete structural restoration of the exterior, the work of renovating the interior was completed this past summer. The entire reconstruction cost more than $25,000, which has been paid in full. The rector, the Rev. Emmons P. Burrill, said this sum represented more than the original cost of the building.

The last of the windows was also dedicated at the time of the thanksgiving service. This window was the gift of Caroline Choate, and was given not as a memorial but dedicated to the peace of the world and understanding among nations.

Church Serves as Public School For Kindergarteners in Calicoon

The Rev. Frank L. Benfield, vicar of St. James', Callicoon (sometimes called the farthest outpost of the Diocese), reports that the church is performing an unusual community service.

Because of the "deplorable overcrowded condition" in the public school at Callicoon, the undercroft of St. James' had been turned into a kindergarten, with beds, sandbox, paints, etc. for the kiddies.

Bishop Sets Year's Goals . . . "Conserve All Mission Achieved" . . "a Fund of $150,000"

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

I hope it is not too late to wish every reader of the BULLETIN a Happy New Year—a year of new faith and new hope and of deepened devotion to our Blessed Master in whom we may find courage and strength to carry on, whatever anxieties and uncertainties may lie ahead.

All of us who love our Church and want its influence to be felt in the re-ordering of our troubled world will rejoice in the great spiritual experience that our Diocesan Mission brought to us. Not only has it served to deepen and enrich the religious life of multitudes of our people; it has brought to us, we may believe, new energy and a new resolve to go forward with the sacred task that God has entrusted to us.

Careful plans are being made to conserve all that the Mission achieved for us and in us. The new interest and the new life that have been given us must now be put to work. God has shown what He can do for us. It is for us now to permit Him to show what He can do with us and through us.

Our supreme purpose, of course, should be to make our own lives an influence of greater avail in bringing others into the fellowship and service of the Church. And that must be done through our personal contacts with our fellows.

But there is another effective way in which we can give expression to our love and devotion—and commend the things of God and His Church to people about us.

On another page of this BULLETIN you will read of a campaign upon which we are about to enter to secure a fund of $150,000. This is to be used to provide some of our missions with urgently needed facilities—new or improved church buildings—with which to carry on the good work they are doing. I hope it will have the generous support of all our people.

Here is a very appropriate "next step" in our Program of Evangelism—an opportunity to give tangible expression to the new vision and the new fervor that our Mission has brought to us. The goal set for this campaign will be easily reached if all of us will do our fair share and offer to God willing sacrifice as well as our service in the divine enterprise which He has committed to His Church.

Church's Deaf Work Consolidated Under Missionary Society

The Church's work with the deaf, pioneering religious service of its kind, is being consolidated under the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society following agreements arrived at last month.

The work at St. Ann's Church for the Deaf which for many years has been undertaken by the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, has become a Diocesan responsibility; and the Society is also assuming the religious work with the deaf which has been conducted for some years by the Church Mission to Deaf Mutes.

The original St. Ann's Church was an incorporated parish founded in 1852 by the Rev. Thomas Gallaudet. In 1897 it was consolidated with St. Matthew's, and St. Ann's Church for the Deaf was built on West 148th Street, Manhattan, so that it could be near the New York School for the Deaf. The school is now in Westchester County and the Church is isolated from most of its members. The Missionary Society expects to move the congregation to a more central location accessible from other parts of the metropolitan district.

Dr. Gallaudet's father brought with him from France the system of manual signs developed by a French priest in the 18th century and this system remains still the most satisfactory method which the deaf can use in church services. The Episcopal Church was the first church to ordain deaf ministers. Services have become so perfected there are now "choirs" which are able to interpret hymns and anthems into signs. Parishes for the deaf have a unique problem in that they are dealing with individuals rather than with families. The deaf have children who can hear and who attend audible services.

The Church Mission to Deaf Mutes organized in 1872 operates a home for aged and infirm deaf near Wappingers Falls in Dutchess County.

The Rev. Charles H. Graf and Dorothy Nicholls of St. John's-in the Village; Alma Schelle, St. Peter's, Westchester; Richard Corney, Christ Church, Poughkeepsie; and the Rev. J. Willard Yoder represented the Diocese at the annual meeting of the Provincial Youth Commission in Albany on December 10 and 11.

Miss Nicholls was one of the three provincial representatives elected to the National Youth Commission which is to meet in Tennessee in January to compile the 1949 edition of PLAN for Episcopal youth groups throughout the Church.

Good Seed, Poorly Sown: A Parable for Our Time

Of Seven Little Seeds and Not Growing

"There went out a sower to sow. And it came to pass, as he sowed . . . some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth." And now this good seed, which in our Diocese fell sometimes in basements and poor facilities, is to be given new life through the "Cornerstone Campaign," a drive for $150,000 for church construction throughout the Diocese, the Bishop announced on January 1st.

Bishop Gilbert

The "Cornerstone Campaign" — to build the Church by building churches —aims to establish urgently needed facilities for seven communities. The drive is under the direction of a special committee of the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society which includes Bishop Donegan, Archdeacon Bratt, and Theodor Oxholm, assistant treasurer of the Society. Bishop Gilbert is general chairman.

No similar project has ever been planned and carried to completion in the Diocese. Present plans call for a Diocese-wide appeal, asking contributions from every churchman. During January the churches are to acquaint themselves with the purpose of the campaign, to designate local sponsoring bodies, and to pray for the successful completion of the objective, leaving February for donors to make their gifts. Quinquagesima Sunday, February 27, has been selected by the Bishop as the day for an accounting by every parish and mission of the part its members will play in the drive to extend the Church.

The Rev. Alger L. Adams, managing editor of the BULLETIN, who is in charge of publicity, has prepared a descriptive folder for free distribution to every church member and is furnishing regular releases to the press on the progress of the campaign. Individual members of the mission advisory boards of the churches to benefit are prepared to present the story of their needs to church groups upon invitation.

In the past, large donations or bequests from a few people of great wealth built many of our churches. And many others were built by the congregations of one generation mortgaging future congregations into heavy debt. Under the "Cornerstone Campaign" every member of the church in the Diocese has a part and no debt will remain to burden and harass future development.

In December, 1949, the Missionary Society will liquidate the last remaining mortgages on its more than fifty church properties. "It is considered fitting that this same year will see the erection of these contemplated new structures which will be unencumbered and debt-free," said the Bishop.

Opportunities for Growth Challenge Us

At St. Simon's, New Rochelle; St. Martha's, North White Plains and at the Church of St. Francis of Assisi, Elmsford, the spiritual awakening of a congregation was born in a basement. And as frequently happens, it stayed there.

In the Basement

In 1923, St. Simon's planned a new edifice. New Rochelle was teeming with people moving out of the congested areas of New York, particularly Harlem. St. Simon's sprang to life with 88 members, moved into a basement which was to be the beginning of a church. Then New Rochelle grew from 36,213 in 1920 to 54,000 in 1930, and to 58,408 in 1940. And the Negro population grew from 2,637 in 1920 to 4,644 in 1930 and to 6,228 in 1940. But St. Simon's, after an initial growth to 118 by 1930, stood still.

The seed did not grow in the basement.

Now New Rochelle is enjoying a new burst of growth. St. Simon's, although still in the basement, has approximately 200 members, but their 20-voice choir must vest in a 8 x 5 foot room and any parish activities must take place either in the pews or outside in rented quarters. However, other religious groups which offer more satisfactory facilities are growing by leaps and bounds.

In recognition of the need, the Rev. Philip M. Styles, rector of Trinity, had previously gathered together a group of experts and made a careful survey of the city. It showed that a suitable church building properly located could grow within a few years to parish status. For the first time a vicar, whose sole responsibility was to be this work, was appointed in 1946, and the "Cornerstone Campaign" will provide a church to seat 300, with a basement for parish activities, together with a rectory, constructed generally of the same type of materials as the church.

A "Forgotten" Seed

Farther to the north, in an entirely different community on Edgepark Road, near the Bronx River Parkway, in North White Plains, a tiny white cross can barely be seen from the Parkway when the foliage is gone. Here in 1935, a small group of devout Episcopalians planned a church building for the Parkway Homes section.

They purchased a lot and built what was to be the crypt of the new St. Martha's. But by 1948 St. Martha's listed only 170 baptized members and a church school of 60, although the mortgage had been paid off and the mission was contributing $780 per year towards the stipend of its vicar, the Rev. H. H. Guthrie, Jr., who was appointed full time in 1947.

The "Cornerstone Campaign" will complete the construction of St. Martha's. As a first response to this opportunity, the congregation has pledged to raise $500 towards the new building and plans to pay for all furnishings and equipment.

The steeple of the new church will be the most conspicuous landmark in the community, and the spiritual strength of that congregation can flourish without working underground.

Church Without a Building

About three and one-half miles to the west of St. Martha's, in the town of Elmsford, in the basement of the police station, about thirty chairs fill a tiny room which is also the anteroom to the ladies' washroom of the building. But at 9:15 a.m. on Sunday mornings, there is a rush to fill seats. The altar (made of two-by-fours and planks, by one of the men) is properly fitted with brass and vestments, and voices singing, joyfully, praise God. This is the congregation of St. Francis of Assisi. It began with four persons saying prayers together in the Carver Community Center in White Plains on June 26, 1945.

It was noted that in the whole

stretch from White Plains to Elmsford, there was only one large church. With vision, these persons decided to build a church for the unchurched of that area.

They rented a small store in Elmsford that fall and continued to hold regular services, but in September 1946 the store was sold for commercial use and the sturdy band found sanctuary in their present humble quarters.

But their hope of building a church burned undimmed. They grew to 37, more members than seats. During 1947 they raised $250.00 and during 1948 they deposited $1,000 with the Diocese in their building fund. At the present time there is about $500 in the treasury and they are planning to complete by themselves the furnishing of the new building by which the "Cornerstone Campaign" will lift them up from underground.

A small church to seat about 150, strategically located, will enable this determined group of consecrated Christians to serve the unchurched of their area.

A College's Challenge

At New Paltz, the State Teachers Training College is planning wide expansion. Present enrollment has increased to about 600 and within the next two years may exceed 1,500. The State has already acquired 40 acres of land to add to the school's present 10 acres. A new Physical Education building, dormitories and a library have been projected. Plans call for an expenditure of over $2,000,000. It has been estimated that 10% of the student body are church members.

St. Andrew's, our church, just off the campus, has no facilities for group or young people's activities. There are no lavatories and only a make-shift tiny kitchen. There is no study for consultation with the vicar and no place for meetings or parties.

To provide some of the facilities necessary to minister to college young people, a fifteen-foot extension is being added to the back of the church. This will provide, on the church level floor a small room for a side chapel for week-

Daring Departure in Churc
$150,000 to Cover Urgent D

"Pre-Engineered Buildings" Cut Down Specialized Costs

A daring departure in church construction by the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society will gain triple benefit for the Diocese from the "Cornerstone Campaign" for $150,000 now being launched. "Pre-engineered churches" are the answer.

Upon investigation, the Society found that to erect the conventional type of church would result in triple the cost of construction of the same buildings before the war. Therefore, in order to meet as many of the pressing needs as possible, it was decided that the buildings constructed should not attempt to accommodate all the envisioned needs of the individual mission for all time, but should in each instance represent no more than a "next step" in a long-term program.

In the conventional type church edifice, special materials and construction, ornamentation and fabric are expensive and call for highly specialized and skilled labor. The Society limited their buildings to the following specifications:

The buildings should be only large enough to accommodate the number of regular church goers who could be expected to use the church regularly during the next five years. Materials must be durable, non-combustible and of a design that are mass-produced by many manufacturing concerns at resultingly low prices. Materials also must be of a type that will eliminate the need for highly skilled labor, making possible the use of local labor, some of which would be available from the members of the day services; and another 12 by 15-foot room for a sacristy and study for the rector, for consultation with students. Under the old church, the kitchen and general recreation and dining room will be remodeled, and another large room and two lavatories will be built in the new wing.

This construction will enable St. Andrew's to expand its ministry with the expanding college program.

New Life Is Born

A twin St. Andrew's, this time in Montgomery, Orange County, is enjoying a burst of re-vitalization. A Church School has sprung alive for the first time, and now numbers three teachers and thirty pupils. A choir has been organized, and sixteen women, calling themselves the "Chapel Guild" have banded together to forward the work of the Church.

But the Guild has to borrow quarters to meet in, and the choir has to vest in the church's lavatory. The Church School meets in the pews.

The "Cornerstone Campaign" will provide a small wing connecting with the church, about 30 by 15 feet; and the new spirit will be encouraged.

Ready for Next Step

In 1937, a far-sighted Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society purchased two lots at 222nd Street near White Plains Road, Bronx, and constructed a small one-story brick building at a cost of about $7,000 to test the choice of a location where persons from the Harlem area were buying homes.

The test has proved its worth. St. Lukes, Williamsbridge, which began in 1940 with 30 baptized members has increased to nearly 250, and communicants from 50 to 180. The church school grew from about 60 in 1940 to over 125 today. Income for self-support has increased from $600 to $2,400.

But continued progress depends upon a new church building. The present structure seats less than 150. There is no basement. The choir vests in the ladies' room, a room about 5 by 8 feet. The vicar has no study. The church school meets in the pews of the church

Prominent Educators Answer Bishop's Call For Student Program

The diocesan Commission on College Work authorized by 1948 Convention at the request of the Bishop has now been formally organized. The Commission will address itself to the religious needs of the 176,000-odd students attending universities and institutions of higher learning in and about the metropolitan area and other parts of the Diocese.

Provost Jacobs

Professor Albert C. Jacobs, the Provost of Columbia University, was elected chairman of the Commission and Miss Ethel G. Stringfellow, headmistress of the Chapin School, was elected secretary.

The Rev. Arthur L. Kinsolving, D.D., rector of St. James', N. Y. C.; Dean Thomas Clark Pollock, dean of the Washington Square College of Arts and Sciences of New York University; and Professor Virginia D. Harrington, junior class advisor, Barnard College, were appointed a Committee on Policy and Program.

mission congregations themselves. The structures must be neat and trim so as to be an asset to the communities in which they are built, and of such design that with the evolution of the missions they may be converted to churchly uses other than as churches, such as parish halls, church schools, etc.
house purposes. The new church must be so designed as to make future additions or alterations to accommodate an expanding work possible at a minimum of expense.

With these standards in mind the Society has decided to build what are known as "Pre-engineered Structures." They will have clear-span, rigid frame construction, using structural steel, pre-engineered arches and steel purlins. Walls will be of cinder block, surfaced with stucco. Roofing will be of "Transite" currugated asbestos, fire-proof, insulating, durable, free from maintenance and economically applied. Floors are to be of concrete, windows steel casement, and doors metal covered. Where a basement is included it will have a 12-foot ceiling and a 6-foot excavation so that large windows above ground will furnish adequate light and air. Floors above basements will be concrete on steel joists using steel lath by means of which both form and reinforcement for the concrete slab are laid in one operation.

The Missionary Society plans to provide in each case only the bare building. Landscaping, furnishing and finishing the interior will be left to the congregations.

The low cost of structures meeting these specifications will provide three buildings for the price of one. In the meantime, there will be no mortgage indebtedness and practically no maintenance costs.

Rev. Bryan Green Is to Lead Fall Youth Mission

Bishop Names Diocesan Evangelism Committee

The Rev. Bryan Green, who made spiritual history in the recent Diocesan Mission, will return to the Diocese next November to conduct a Diocesan Youth Mission, the Bishop announced early this month.

Rev. Bryan Green

The Youth Mission will last one week, beginning on a Sunday evening with several meetings for young people each week night, concluding with a service of Thanksgiving. Attendance will be strictly limited to persons 30 years of age and under although there will be opportunities for others to hear the Missioner during his visit.

The Bishop made the announcement in appointing a Diocesan Committee on Evangelism, with Bishop Donegan as chairman, to conserve the spiritual gains of the Mission and to carry forward the "next steps" in response to the demonstration by the Mission of the spiritual hunger throughout the Diocese.

In addition to sponsoring and developing the Youth Mission, the Evangelism Committee will have three other objectives:

1—A school for clergy missioners is planned to develop a panel of missioners for the several parishes which are planning missions next Spring. In addition, other parishes will be encouraged to organize missions. Along with the clergy school, classes for lay evangelists are envisioned.

2—A series of clergy conferences for the various parts of the Diocese, under the leadership of the Bishops, have been projected. A Diocesan-wide clergy conference prior to Lent will culminate this plan.

3—A series of popular Sunday evening services during Lent, similar to those held during the Mission, are being considered.

Other members of the Committee are: Archdeacon Bratt; the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill; and the following rectors of New York City, the Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, D.D., Calvary; the Rev. Grieg Taber, D.D., St. Mary the Virgin; the Rev. Shelton H. Bishop, St. Philip's; the Rev. John Mulligan, All Angels; and the Rev. Lynde E. May, III, St. Andrew's, Yonkers.

Mission Left Indelible Imprint on the Diocese

The Diocesan Mission struck deep into the hearts of the people of the Diocese, is the general report from the Diocese, in response to a survey made by the BULLETIN last month.

"The influence of the mission seems to be continuing in the lives of all the individuals that it touched," said the Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, D.D., rector, Calvary, N. Y. C. The Rev. Leland B. Henry, executive director on Christion Social Relations said, the missioner "has done for us, through the Grace of God, much that desperately needed to be done. The influence of the past weeks will go on down the years in changed lives.

"A deep spiritual resurgence must come to all our people because the Reverend Bryan Green has walked and talked among us," said Mrs. James S. McCulloh, president Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary.

The Rev. Hugh McCandless, Epiphany, N. Y. C. and the Rev. F. Gray Garten, St. Stephen's, Woodlawn, reported that they had called meetings of those who had attended the mission.

Wiltwyck and Girl's School May Close in Child Welfare Crisis

The Bishop has been named honorary chairman of the recently organized Church Committee to Aid Wiltwyck and the Training School and Home for Girls, it was announced last month by the Protestant Council.

Dr. Searle

In commenting on the new committee the Diocesan Commission on Christian Social Relations pointed out that welfare laws place primary responsibility for the care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children upon three groups legally defined as Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic.

It was noted that a monthly average of 435 children classified as Protestant are housed in quarters that were meant to be temporary, but that many children have spent their second Christmas in these inadequate facilities.

Both institutions may be forced to suspend operations because of the inability of their respective boards to meet rising costs. Wiltwyck was once a Diocesan responsibility and the Training School is the only private institution which receives "Protestant" girls on commitment from Children's Court in lieu of being sent to the State institution for delinquent girls at Bedford.

The other officers of the Committee are: James L. Harrison, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, chairman; Mrs. Thomas C. Pollock, Church of the Ascension, treasurer; the Rev. Robert W. Searle, D.D., Commission on Human Relations of the Protestant Council, secretary.

Opportunities for Growth Challenge us

as do all organizations. Parish activities are held in rented space.

On an adjoining lot, purchased two year ago, the "Cornerstone Campaign" will build a new church seating 300 persons, with a basement for parish activities. The old St. Luke's building will also serve as a parish house. The people of the mission have planned to raise the requisite funds for the basement and the furnishings themselves and expect also to contribute some labor of the skilled artisans in the congregation. This community is growing, the church must grow with it.

The Harvest Is Ready

St. Mark's, Nepera Park, Yonkers has moved rapidly ahead with its expanding suburban community. The present church building was erected in 1939. In 1949 the mortgage of $10,000 will have been paid off. There are now 432 baptized members, and a church school of 123. The small basement, divided into class rooms takes care of only half of the Sunday School, and the virile organizations, which contribute largely to the support of the work during the week, cannot find time and space in their present cramped quarters for meeting.

100 additional new homes are in the process of construction easily within a stone's throw.

Inasmuch as a rectory was secured in 1945, the erection of the new parish house by the "Cornerstone Campaign" will guarantee that the church can move quickly toward self-support and parish status. It will be a one-story building, 100 by 50 feet, completely fireproof throughout and embodying all of the specifications as outlined elsewhere in this BULLETIN.

Looking to New Sowings

The "Cornerstone Campaign" will provide one-third of the cost of a new site in the northeast Bronx. Construction on this site will await further study of population movement.

* * *

So the church goes forward . . . and does "yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred."

Auxiliary Pledge to Missions, $42,000

At the December meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council in the Diocese, the 191 branches pledged $42,000 to the work of the National Church. This represents an increase of $2,000 over 1948's gift.

According to Mrs. Charles M. Baxter, Jr., treasurer, the greater part of this amount is expected to be undesignated, for general missionary work. She stated, however, that some branches prefer to designate their gifts for specific National Council work or projects.

The Diocesan work at Ellis Island is covered by the Christian Social Service Pledge which in 1949 will be $3,000. The work of Alice G. Palmer, the representative there, was described by Mrs. Baxter as "an overseas mission in a domestic setting." In addition, the Diocesan branches included in Province II each pledged $225 towards the salary of their college worker, Katharine Duffield.

It was noted that 20% of the money given by the Diocese to the National Council in 1947 was contributed by the New York City branches.

Interior of St. Andrew's, Beacon, consecrated last month

An Untold Story Is Behind St. Andrew's Consecration

Behind the story of the consecration of St. Andrew's, Beacon, by Bishop Gilbert last month, lies an untold story of the great sacrifice of an anonymous giver whose love of the church completed a dream conceived May 25, 1900 when the cornerstone was laid.

In 1900, the Right Reverend Henry C. Potter, Bishop of New York, said, "I lay this cornerstone of a house to be here builded for a house of God, and hereafter consecrated as St. Andrew's Church." Approximately eight months later, the congregation moved into the building on the feast of the Epiphany. The building was described at that time by the Fishkill Standard as "approximately Gothic in style. The color scheme is unusually good, and is much enhanced by the artistic windows of Favrille glass." The construction represented an outlay of $27,000.

From the date of occupancy to 1929 a succession of Godly priests ministered to the congregation and in 1929 the Reverend Eugene F. Bigler became vicar and served for eighteen years until his retirement in 1947.

The vestry is: Ralph Jones and Charles Adler, wardens; Ludwig Adams, Willard Lusk, Warren Jones, Irving Gifford, Benjamin Mosher, Jr. and Earl Livingston. The Reverend Robert L. Creech is now vicar.

"Great Scenes" Shows Results Outside N. Y.

The National Council reported last week that nationwide, the network radio program, Great Scenes from Great Plays is securing tangible results where parishes have organized a follow-up plan.

They cited particularly, St. George's, Chicago, where new people who inquire about the Church or attend services for the first time as a result of the program are visited by a "Calling Corps" who are reported to be kept quite busy.

In discussing local reaction a National Council official said that although the program now stands tenth in listeners of all Mutual network programs after only nine weeks, the most immediate response is to be expected from rural and non-Eastern sections.

The Bishop's Message:

"FOR VALUE RECEIVED"

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

Our Cornerstone Campaign is now under way. This, as you know, is an undertaking to raise $150,000.00 to provide seven of our very promising missions with urgently needed facilities for their work.

This is a venture unlike anything the Diocese has attempted before. I hope it will commend itself to the careful consideration and earnest prayers of all our people. It is something more than an effort to raise money with which to meet a very urgent need. Rightly understood and squarely faced it brings home to all of us some searching questions which we should be prepared to answer.

Some years ago a woman died who had given her parish a promissory note for several thousand dollars payable on her death. Her executors were prepared to comply with her instructions, but her heirs sought to have the note disregarded. A legal issue arose which attracted a good deal of attention. If the note was to be regarded merely as a gift to be paid upon the death of the donor it would not be valid. If it could be regarded as the discharge of an indebtedness it would have to be paid. The Court was called upon to decide whether or not there was any "consideration" for which the note was given. Was there "value received" that would justify its payment?

This presents a question that you and I should be prepared to answer—not before a legal court but before God. What, if anything do we owe our Church? Is there a "value received" by which we can determine our indebtedness?

Under the law, property used exclusively for religious purposes is exempt from taxation presumably because churches are supposed to contribute to the welfare of the community. There are "considerations" here which might properly be regarded as valid in the eyes of the law. They denote a "value received."

But what for us is the real "value received" when we look to our own inner lives? We know it is not in these vague and impersonal considerations. It is in the precious privileges that are ours, the benefits we find in the Church's sacraments and worship and fellowship. We can measure its benefits in terms of the spiritual strength it provides for us in our personal dealings with life.

Let us regard the Cornerstone Campaign as an opportunity to make a token payment on our indebtedness for "value received."

Charles C Gilbert

Observe 400th Year Of the Prayer Book

On February 1st the Bishop authorized the use of excerpts from the First Prayer Book of Edward VI on Whitsunday, 1949, or on some other single appropriate day, to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the first complete translation of the Prayer Book into the English language.

The publication of the offices of Morning Prayer, Evening Prayer, and the Holy Communion is now being prepared. Copies will be furnished free to the clergy. Additional copies will be available for congregational use at less than cost.

In his official notice of authorization the Bishop points out that as far as possible the language of today is being used, and that some archaic phrases are put in modern English. The rubrics have also been simplified, but the original rubrics with the prayers for the king are appended as being of historic interest.

The 400th Anniversary of the Book of Common Prayer is being observed during 1949 both in this country and in the British Commonwealth.

Churchmen Rally to Push "Cornerstone Campaign"

Convocation Groups of Clergy and Laity Organized

The "Cornerstone Campaign" to raise $150,000 to build churches in the Diocese was launched in the Manhattan Convocation on January 24 at a luncheon tendered by the Bishop to the clergy of the Convocation.

"The church edifices of most of our well established parishes were built with the help of others. Here is an opportunity for every member of the Church in this Diocese to contribute towards the building of churches for others. No such campaign has ever before been undertaken in this Diocese," said the Bishop.

The Bishop introduced Archdeacon Bratt who explained that the campaign in Manhattan would be undertaken by all of the clergy acting as a committee. Members of Manhattan parishes are asked to contribute between $75,000 and $100,000 towards the total goal.

The Rev. Harvey H. Guthrie, Jr., vicar of St. Martha's, North White Plains told of the inability of that mission to minister to the growing needs of the community in its present basement. The Rev. Alger L. Adams, vicar of St. Francis of Assisi, Elmsford, told of the dramatic struggle of the mission to establish itself without its own building in an area where only one large church is available for nearly 5000 people. The presentation of the needs and plans drew an enthusiastic response.

In the Westchester Convocation the Bishop has appointed the Dean, the Rev. Lynde E. May, III., as chairman of the local committee. Among those who will assist him are the Rev. Philip M. Styles, the Rev. Dr. W. Colin Lee, the Messrs. Harold C. Barlow, Fred C. Kurz, John D. McGrath, Samuel Thorne, Austin Lescaboura, Marshall Pask, Walter Pettit, William L. Fanning and Mrs. Guy H. Burpee. Westchester

The Ramapo convocation has accepted an objective of $4,000. The committee in charge of the local effort is composed of the dean, the Rev. George W. Dumbell, the Rev. Claxton Monro, the Rev.

Evangelism Efforts to Go Forward

"The clergy conferences called by the Bishop are a definite continuation of the evangelism program of which the Diocesan Mission was a sign of the deep stirring within our Church", said Bishop Donegan this month in releasing the plan for the "Next Steps" in evangelism.

Speaking of the cooperation of the clergy and laity which contributed to the effectiveness of the Mission, Bishop Donegan said. "We hope that out of our present conferences which close with a meeting with the Presiding Bishop in Feb. 28, we shall become aware of new challenges and opportunities."

The schedule of conferences is as follows:

Each conference will include all of the clergy of the respective convocations and will open promptly at 11:30 a.m. with devotions and a meditation by the Suffragen Bishop. The Bishop will then address the assembly. After lunch, members of the Evangelism Committee will speak on the clergy's responsibility today and discuss methods of evangelization.

Other evidences of "the spiritual awakening among our people" cited by Bishop Donegan are the groups of students of the Chapin School who organized their own Bible study classes, and an increasing list of parochial missions in progress or being projected.

Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell has conducted a week's preaching mission for Trinity, Wall St. Christ Church, Bronxville, has organized a school for lay evangelists. Forty men of St. George's, Newburgh, are sponsoring the mission to be conducted there by the Rev. James A. Pike, Christ Church, Poughkeepsie, rector, and recently appointed chaplain of Columbia University, St. Peter's, Westchester, Christ Church, Pelham Manor; St. James the Less, Scarsdale; St. John's, Pleasantville; and Redeemer, Pelham are also organizing missions.

Vicars Tell Meaning of "Cornerstone" Campaign To the Seven Churches

The promise of the "CORNERSTONE" CAMPAIGN to use its $150,000 goal to build the Church by building churches has spurred enthusiastic hopes for the future among the seven congregations concerned.

"The first, and in many ways the most important, thing that a completed church will mean cannot be measured in terms of more adequate facilities or much needed space," said the Rev. Harvey J. Guthrie, vicar of St. Martha's, North White Plains, in discussing what the proposed 150-seat building will mean to that congregation. "A community which for fourteen years has thought of the Episcopal Church in terms of a basement will see things in a new light."

"A sermon in steel and concrete and plaster will tell those on the outside that, because of the sacrifice of loyal churchmen, the work of Christ is going on."

The vicar enthused over the advantages the new church will offer children. "Confused, sometimes, as to just when the basement is to be treated as a church and when as a parish hall, the children of the congregation, and the adults too, will know what it means to have a place specifically set apart as God's House. The sense of the presence of God which comes in a place hallowed by quietness and prayer will contribute immeasurably to the life of the parish."

He showed where the nursery would be for young children brought to service by the many young couples crowding into the rapidly developing Westchester suburb, and envisioned lockers for the local civic association, the Home Bureau, a community "Small Fry Association," the Boy and Girl Scouts, and other organizations which have no community facilities but St. Martha's.

The Rev. Mr. Guthrie spoke sentiments about "getting the Episcopal Church out of the basement" which apply with equal force to St. Simon's, New Rochelle, and St. Francis of Assisi, Elmsford.

Having failed to keep step with the expanding Negro community of which it is part, St. Simon's has struggled to keep the Church alive in their basement. Now, they are self-confident and determined that their new 300-seat church will take the Church's ministrations to their many neighbors for whom the older emotional forms of religious expression are now without meaning or substance.

The Rev. Alger L. Adams, vicar of St. Francis of Assisi, said, "The miracle of devotion which has kept this congregation alive, and the stoutness of their faith in the ministry of our Church, has inspired fewer than fifty members to raise over $1,500 in the past year for a church building. This is an earnest of their love of Christ.

"But even beyond the 100-seat building, plans are being made to bring cultural and constructive social occasions to our area where there is not even a movie. The other religious groups have not met the social needs of this community of approximately 5,000, and we consider this a point of contact for the beginning of the preaching of the Good News of Jesus Christ."

Acolytes, choir, church school, clubs are scrambled together in the undercroft of St. Mark's, North Yonkers, which "on rainy days usually has about one-inch of water on the floor," said the Rev. Bertram J. Mortlock, vicar. "We sorely need a place where we can gather the many young people in the neighborhood who now hang around the streets because there is no other place to go. And last but not least, we need that 50 x 100 parish hall for various entertainments to raise money to make up the difference between pledges and the budget." The vicar appended a postscript:

"There are about forty women in the rectory at the moment and one or the other are running into the study to ask me something every moment. So please excuse this hasty scrawl."

FINISHED pre-engineered church in New Jersey.

The same story of desire to meet the demands of a socially starved community is told of St. Luke's, Williamsbridge, by the Rev. Hugh H. Henry. "The hopes and aspirations of the people of St. Luke's were lifted high when told that the Diocese of New York planned to give them a New Church Building. Within the past five years, the colored population has more than doubled; and, with restrictions lifted, it will again be doubled in a much shorter space of time."

A story of the same faith in the ability of the Church to meet the challenge of the future was told by the Rev. Alan H. Tongue, vicar of St. Andrew's, Montgomery, where a parish-house wing to be built by the "Cornerstone" Campaign will aid that congregation to continue forward. And the addition to St. Andrew's, New Paltz, will be a step toward the Bishop's challenge to "do something" about the college work of the Diocese, said the Rev. J. Marshall Wilson, vicar of the mission.

Church School Tries Parent-Teacher Plan

The Church School of Christ Church, Poughkeepsie, is working out an interesting experiment in religious education in cooperation with Professor Ernest M. Ligon, Ph.D., head of the Psychology Department of Union College, Schenectady, the Rev. J. Willard Yoder reported after an observation trip to the parish last month.

The system calls for a high degree of cooperation by parents and teachers. Classes are limited to ten pupils with two teachers. Three consecutive sessions are planned weekly, usually on Sundays, one for class discussion, one for family worship and one for creative projects. Parents are required to attend classes regularly to prepare themselves to help their children to achieve the program objectives.

Weekly reports of their children's character and attitude progress are required from the parents, who receive weekly guides and directions to aid them.

Each teacher or supervisor interviews one or both parents of each grade school child each quarter, while the high school students are interviewed themselves. The findings determine the course and development of the teaching.

The rector, Dr. James A. Pike, praised the "fine leadership of the Rev. Walter A. Hendricks, Jr., director of Christian Education and assistant rector; and Mrs. Hendricks for their part in the program. He also commended Barbara Arnold, director of youth college work; the church school superintendent, Fox D. Holden; and the staff of 40 volunteer teachers and staff members."

St. Ignatius Has the New Way

"Sunday Morning the New Way" has been inaugurated at St. Ignatius', Manhattan, with a choral Eucharist at 10:30 a.m. every Sunday followed by collation at 11:30 in the undercroft.

St. Faith's House requested the Board of Religious Education to distribute two dozen children's chairs, one dozen blackboards and some pictures to our missions. Requests for fourteen dozen more children's chairs and one dozen more blackboards than were available came to the Board. If some generous Churchmen would like to make a very practical gift of these requested items, the Board will gladly distribute them.

The largest contribution to the missionary Program of the Church since 1932 is the record of the parishes and missions of the Diocese for 1948. A total of $373,-918 was contributed with promises of additional amounts from a few parishes unable to report before the end of the fiscal year.

Despite the serious falling off in the giving of a few parishes, increases by others were sufficient to produce the total of $6,300 above the giving of 1947.

One hundred eleven parishes and missions met or exceeded their mathematical quotas.

In launching the school, the Bishop said, "One of the Church's primary responsibilities today is to reach the people wherever they may be, and work with them in solving personal and social problems in the light of Christian teaching. In order to do this, the entire population must be taken into account and barriers of class, race, and politics must be removed."

The Bishop's Message:

LENT IS SEASON OF SELF-DENIAL

Dear Friends of the Clergy and Laity:

Another Lenten Season is upon us. The Prayer Book tells us that Lent is a season during which "the Church requires such a measure of abstinence as is especially suited to extraordinary acts and exercises of devotion." I hope that our people in their observance of these forty days will keep the emphasis where the Prayer Book places it. It is the deepening of our spiritual lives that should be our great concern. Let us not think of it merely as a dreary and morbid period during which we are expected to forego harmless pleasures. The abstinence we practice can have little value except as it leads to more willing and honest acts and exercises of devotion.

We are bidden to take stock of our own inner lives—to seek out our failures and our shortcomings. But that can have little value unless our penitence leads to the amendment of our lives and more complete dedication of ourselves to our Master's service.

Let us look upon the Lenten Season as a precious opportunity, and be thankful for the privileges it provides. Following upon the inspiring experience that our Diocesan Mission brought to us, those privileges should mean more to us this year than ever before. They can be made to deepen the new life and new spirit that have come to us.

Our Committee on Evangelism is actively engaged in devising means for conserving the great spiritual gains with which God has blessed us. Recent conferences of our clergy in various parts of the Diocese have made for closer fellowship and cooperation. We have reason to believe that the morale of our Diocese is being greatly strengthened. This should make Lent for all of us a time for acts and exercises of devotion more real and earnest than we have ever known before.

And Lent is a season of self-denial. We forego some of our personal indulgences not merely as a matter of self-discipline, but as a willing sacrifice to our Lord and for the work of His Church. We have before us an important project whereby that sacrifice can be made of practical and lasting benefit. Our Cornerstone Campaign is still under way. There is much encouragement in the response that has come. But we have yet to reach our objective.

I earnestly hope that "the acts and exercises" of our people's Lenten devotions will be reflected in their generous support of this great Diocesan endeavor.

Charles C Gilbert

Challenges Men to "Tithe for Christ"

"I'm sick and tired of our Bishops having to get up and plead for money as they are doing for the $150,000 for the Cornerstone Campaign for sorely needed building. I wonder what would happen if every Episcopalian suddenly decided he would from this day give one-tenth of his earnings back to God!" said the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, headmaster of St. Peter's School, Peekskill.

The Rev. Mr. Leeming was challenging a breakfast group at Trinity, Ossining, on February 22 who had attended a corporate Communion as part of the approximately 1,000 men and boys throughout the Diocese who took Washington's Birthday as a time to rededicate their lives to Christ.

The Cornerstone Campaign and the need for a more real devotional life was stressed at the other Communion breakfasts at All Saints', Briarcliff; at Christ Church for the Convocation of Richmond; St. Philip's, Manhattan; and Holy Nativity for the Bronx Convocation. The services were inspired by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

At the Trinity, Ossining, meeting the Rev. Mr. Leeming linked devotion to Christ with giving. He said, "If Episcopalians were tithers we would not tie the hands of our National Director of Christian Education by giving him only $67,000 to work with when the Presbyterians spend more than $2,000,000, the Methodists well over $1,000,000, the Lutherans nearly $2,000,000 and the Baptists $800,000! Neither would our Church schools and colleges have to beg from door to door."

Archdeacon Bratt spoke on the Cornerstone Campaign on the same program, outlining the missionary needs which "must be met if we would meet the challenge of these times."

The Rev. Alexander A. Frier also pleaded for the Diocesan building fund drive before the Richmond meeting which was the largest of the groups. Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, retired, executive vice-president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, also spoke.

Ralston C. Young, famous "Red Cap 42 of Track No. 13" addressed the Bronx group. The Rev. Shelton H. Bishop spoke to his own parish.

"Cornerstone" Campaign Draws National Interest

Papers, Magazines, Newsreel Seek Story

Mrs. Lamereau sent a crumpled dollar bill to the treasurer's office for the "Cornerstone" Campaign. She had heard of the need of the various missions, and she had responded.

Mrs. Lamereau is a resident of the Orange County Farm, Goshen, N. Y., and the chaplain by whom she sent the donation was puzzled as to where she had found a dollar. However, this simple act summarizes the wide-spread interest excited by the diocesan effort to raise $150,000 to "build the Church by building churches," for a letter from Red Hook said, "Though I cannot afford to build a church, perhaps the enclosed ($2) will supply a doorknob for the Cornerstone Camaign."

At St. Paul's, Bronx, when the Archdeacon had finished telling of the need in the diocesan mission field, a lady said, "I'm only a typist, but I want to pledge a week's salary to the campaign. I want others to enjoy the beauty of worship too." And the people of St. Martha's, North White Plains, one of the beneficiaries of the effort, gave $500, their savings over several years, to the fund.

In like manner, St. David's, Bronx, gave triple its $50 quota.

The press reacted to the story strongly. Emma Bugbee in a signed piece on the front page of the New York Herald Tribune, January 25, reported the campaign in great detail which included a 3-column picture of a pre-engineered church. She closed with an "agony line" directing checks to be sent to the treasurer. The New York Times carried a 3-column picture of the Bishops, the Archdeacon, and the Rev. Dr. Louis W. Pitt, with a full story.

The Chicago Sunday Tribune featured the campaign. The Witness, the Living Church, the Southern Churchman carried several items and pictures. The Living Church carried a reprint of the New York Times picture as its cover February 13. The All-American Newsreel from Chicago telephoned to arrange coverage of the first construction, and local and city papers throughout the nation received the release through the United and Associated press associations.

CHILDREN in the doorway of the present basement structure which serves as a church building for St. Simon's, New Rochelle, seem to ask. "Are you really going to build us a Church?"

The Southern Churchman editorialized February 12, "The Diocese of New York is showing courageous new vision these days! . . . Other dioceses and congregations planning to build might well consult New York."

"Cornerstone" Campaign Draws National Interest

And letters, comments and questions poured in from other Christian bodies, architects, synagogues, hospitals, and others, from as far South as New Orleans and as far North as Maine, as far West as Illinois, as well as from nearby New Jersey and Long Island. A firm in Sweden joined the throng eager to do work on the project.

Presbyterian Life, the Presbyterian national magazine, said February 19, "If the 'Cornerstone Campaign' . . . is a success, Episcopalians in eight metropolitan New York communities will be worshipping in a new type of church by the end of the year."

Within the Diocese, many churches are making special efforts to subscribe their fair share. Christ Church, Suffern, is dedicating their Lenten "dime cards" to the campaign. Grace, West Farms, is donating all the loose money placed in the collection plate on the Sundays in February as well as distributing special envelopes. The Vestry and Women's Association of St. James, Manhattan have determined to use the proceeds from their Annual Spring Festival for the "Cornerstone" Campaign. St. Ignatius, Manhattan, in addition to having a special service and distributing envelopes, is giving the proceeds from their young people's play to the fund.

Behind the Prayer for the "Cornerstone" Campaign, authorized by the Bishop, the clergy of the Diocese have effectively urged support of the effort. "It is our great good fortune to worship comfortably in one of the most beautiful churches in this country. We must not, we dare not, be unmindful of our brethren who are not so fortunate," said the Rev. Dr. Pitt to his people at Grace, Manhattan. "Every member of St. Mary's should plan his own offering as a thank offering for his privilege in worshipping in a church which he did not have to build," said the Rev. Dr. Grieg Taber. The Rev. Harold F. Hohly, Christ Church, Bronxville, termed the campaign the "most important and vital venture in the history of the Diocese."

"We must not leave the expanding Church to others — WE must help it reach out," said the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy, although his parish is engaged in a drive for $225,000.

The Rev. Hanford L. King, Mediator, Bronx, said, "It might be a very healthy situation for all of us if we were forced to swap places for a few months with, for example, the Vicar and the parishioners of St. Martha's. Worshipping in a small basement would be quite a drastic change for us, wouldn't it?

"GIVE GENEROUSLY TO THE CORNERSTONE CAMPAIGN!"

St. Peter's School, Peekskill Sets Scholarship Competition

A free high school scholarship is offered to some boy of the Diocese, by St. Peter's School, Peekskill, by action of the school's board last month.

A selective achievement test of approved applicants will be held at the school Saturday, April 9, at 2:00 p.m. The headmaster, the Rev. Frank C. Leeming, advised that applicants should forward a recommendation from their rector together with their school records immediately.

The scholarship will cover the full 4-year high school course in preparation for college work, although boys now in high school may compete for the balance of their preparatory work.

A "Foreign" Mission Evangelizes at Our Nation's Front Door

This nation rose in the name of Christ's freedom, and He still stands at our doorway on Ellis Island, through the daily ministrations of a project of the Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary Christian Social Relations Committee. Its objective, as described by Alice Palmer, the worker assigned to this foreign mission post in a domestic setting, is "to put newcomers in touch with the church in the community in which they settle."

Miss Palmer

Miss Palmer maintains a close tie with port chaplains both here and abroad. Names of immigrants arriving on certain ships are sent by air mail or cable. These she meets and helps through the landing process, and refers for church followup.

In addition, at Ellis Island, there are immigrants detained for further medical check-up, for bonds, or inspection of documents. Seamen waiting for documents to get into other countries, or for re-shipping, need games, reading matter, and often clothing which is sent through the supply department of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The service functions under the supervision of the Episcopal City Mission Society.

The Annual Presentation Service of the Church School Missionary Offerings will be held at the Cathedral on Saturday, May 21, it was announced last month by the Rev. J. Willard Yoder of the Board of Religious Education.

Lenten mite boxes and a study course on Puerto Rico have been provided by the National Council.

Bishop's Conferences with C
Year's Progress in Evangelis

The Bishops' Conferences with the clergy, held during February, in the respective convocations, climaxed on the 28th at the Synod House, Cathedral close, with the return of the Presiding Bishop, the Right Reverend Henry Knox Sherrill to speak again to the assembled clergy of the entire Diocese.

The presence of the Presiding Bishop dramatized the spiritual activity in the Diocese in the last year since December 7, 1947 when he urged the clergy to share in the nation-wide program of evangelism.

The clergy conferences were led by members of the Diocesan Committee on Evangelism, appointed by the Bishop; namely, Bishop Donegan, chairman, Archdeacon Bratt, and the Rev. Messrs. Shelton H. Bishop, Frank C. Leeming, Lynde E. May, John Mulligan, James A. Pike, Samuel Shoemaker, and Grieg Taber.

The Bishop, who addressed the morning sessions, spoke of the development of closer cooperation among the clergy as one of the richest fruits to come from the past year's endeavors. He called the recent Diocesan Mission a dramatic spiritual fruition of the evangelistic effort, and termed the Cornerstone Campaign, the missionary effort to raise $150,000 "to build the Church by building churches," a concrete challenge to the peoples' awakened spirits.

Bishop Donegan chaired the sessions and led the morning devotions which included a litany that challenged the clergy to examine themselves for hypocrisy, intolerance, indolence, secularism, self-serving, triviality, or any of the other sins of vanity incompatible with their Christian calling. The afternoon sessions were led by Dr. Shoemaker and Dr. Taber. Dr. Pike participated in the conferences in Manhattan, Newburgh, and Poughkeepsie.

EVANGELISM Committee discusses future plans after meeting with the Bishop and Bishop Sherrill, Feb. 28. *Seated, left to right, Bishop Donegan, Archdeacon Bratt, the Rev. F. C. Leeming. Dr. Pike used his parish to illustrate the growth of an evangelistic spirit in a congregation. He pointed out that immediately after the December 1947 clergy conference, he called in a group of 50 men and women to carry out a church survey of assets. The parish was divided into zones, and a thorough canvass was made. This activity gave him a parish list of 750 active persons.

He used the Diocesan Mission as an example of the religious attitude which should dominate the program.

"It brought the whole religious issue to a focus. A lot of people thought they were Christians. He showed some they were not Christians, and some

ergy Mark

were brought to the Christian faith." He said the response to the mission at Vassar College showed how preaching could "cause division among the people. The missioner made them see that being a Christian is taking a stand, being definite — not My-anity, or in-anity —but Christianity.

"He made us realize a person can have fine ethical standards and yet not be a Christian. Standing for Christ is being somewhere. When men do that, there will, of course, be conflict and often that conflict is a measure of the reality of our faith."

Dr. Pike reported that church attendance on the part of students had increased, but warned that when the spirit begins to move in a parish, the clergyman may have some difficulty in trying to keep up with it.

Dr. Taber spoke on the personal life of the clergy and stressed the need for a rule of life for clergymen which should be stricter than "MY CHRISTIAN COMMITMENT," the rule of life for laymen prepared by the Committee on Evangelism of which over 60,000 copies were distributed last Lent. The priest's rule should be built on Prayer, Fasting, and Almsgiving, he said. "We ought to be glad of our heritage as priests. If we don't have an inner discipline, we are denying our Christian vows. The rule of life is an antidote to officialdom and spiritual laziness."

Announce Diocesan Missioners School

A School for Missioners will be held June 13, 14, 15 at St. Peter's School, Peekskill, it was decided at the February 28th meeting of the Diocesan Committee on Evangelism at Ogilvie House.

Meeting with Bishop Donegan, the chairman, the committee also arranged some of the details for the Diocesan Youth Mission to be held in the Fall with the Rev. Bryan Green. The Rev. Dr. George P. T. Sargent, rector of St. Bartholomew's, Manhattan, where the mission will close, met with the committee.

Tentative plans were also discussed for a Diocesan Service commemorating the 400th year of the translation of Prayer Book into English.

Bishops' Conferences with Clergy Mark Progress in Evangelism

Referring to evangelization, he said "personal individual instruction is more important than corporate instruction."

Dr. Shoemaker spoke on the clergyman's relationship with people and of the importance of meeting human need which he described as the removal of guilt and fear. He urged that it is the Church's responsibility to help people in distress; or, he added, "they will go to psychiatrists, some of whom do some good; or worse, perplexed persons will wander into the cults thinking the cults have a better answer. We have a better answer," he said, "but we have to be available to give it."

He listed human problems as Sex, Money, or Power; and said that salvation comes through Conversion, Prayer, Fellowship and Witness.

Mrs. Oliver Shaw Newell Dies

Mrs. Oliver Shaw Newell, wife of the rector emeritus of St. John's, Getty Square, Yonkers, died in Yonkers on February 10. The Bishop officiated at the funeral on February 12th.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Newell is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen N. Thirlwall.

St. Barnabas House to Receive First 'Guests'

The new St. Barnabas House Building, on the old site of Mulberry and Bleecker Streets in New York City's Lower East Side, is nearly completed and the children's section should be ready for occupancy April 1st, it was announced by the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society last month.

St. Barnabas House, which was built in large part through the generosity of devoted churchmen, will be the only shelter in New York City for women and children.

Form Manhattan Education Body

Twenty clergy and directors of religious education of the Convocation of Manhattan met at St. Bartholomew's for luncheon on February 8.

The group decided to meet semi-annually, under the chairmanship of the Rev. Dr. Charles P. Deems of St. Bartholomew's, in cooperation with the Rev. J. Willard Yoder of the Diocesan Board of Religious Education, to consider the religious educational problems of Manhattan.

Forty Aged Deaf Seek New "Home"

The reorganized Church Mission to Deaf Mutes took as its most urgent task the finding of a new home for the aged deaf, at their annual meeting under the chairmanship of the Bishop, February 23.

The Gallaudet Home for the aged deaf, now in Wappingers Falls, must move because of nearby quarrying operations. Accommodations for forty aged deaf persons are still being anxiously sought.

The principle action of the meeting was the reduction of its board of trustees from twenty-five members to ten, and the transfer of the religious work of the society in the Diocese to the Diocesan Missionary and Church Extension Society. This action leaves the operation of the home as the primary function of the group.

In order to bring the trustees into closer contact with the home, the members of the society elected several residents of the area, to the board of trustees. The Rev. Richard L. Harbour, rector of Zion Church, Wappingers Falls, was elected vice-president, and Rufus T. Bush of New Hamburg, Frank Roberts, Jr., and Mrs. Robert H. Breed of Wappingers Falls were elected trustees. Mrs. Breed is a member of the Lady Board of Managers of the Gallaudet Home, of which board Mrs. E. B. Taylor of Poughkeepsie is president.

Other trustees elected were Theodor Oxholm, treasurer, Charles A. Bradford, secretary, Marsden B. Candler, Dr. Edwin E. Nies and Frederic D. H. Gilbert. Mr. Bradford is superintendent of the New York School for the Deaf at White Plains and Mr. Gilbert is secretary of the board of that school. Mr. Candler is a member of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. Dr. Nies conducts services for the deaf.

Churches are requested to make preliminary reports on the progress of the "Cornerstone" Campaign as soon as the parish expectation can be determined.

The replies received from many congregations have been tremendously encouraging. But because of the nationwide attention the "Cornerstone" Campaign and its "pre-engineered" buildings attracted, we do not wish to make an announcement until the general outline of the giving pattern is clear.

Cut St. Mark's in the-Bouwerie Debt

St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie has paid off a mortgage and other debts totaling $115,000 and has increased its parish roll to 300 in five years, the rector announced last month in connection with the parish drive for $225,000 to rehabilitate the 150-year-old structure and finance an educational program.

Rev. Richard McEvoy

The rector, the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy, credited the success of the drive to date to the efforts of the treasurer of the church's vestry, William E. Scorah.

Women of All Lands in World Day of Prayer

The women of the Diocese joined with the women of many denominations in the fellowship of prayer the world around on Friday, March 4.

World Day of Prayer began this year in the Fiji Islands and New Zealand, inasmuch as Friday dawned there while the West was sleeping Thursday night. As the sun moved eastward, new groups in many places joined in the same universal service of worship.

A Prophesy of 1609 Is Fulfilled in 1949

When Hendrick Hudson sailed to Cornwall, September 15, 1609, he exclaimed, "This is a good place to build a towne on." And yet, when five years ago the Rev. Bradford W. Ketchum and his wife arrived at the 90-year old St. John's Church on a stormy January night, carrying their month old daughter in a clothes basket, trailed by two small sons, well-meaning friends had advised against it unless he had a private income of his own.

But the Rev. Mr. Ketchum favored the sentiments of Hendrick Hudson, and St. John's is glad of it.

In the first year debts were paid off, including a $1,000 note at the bank and several hundreds of dollars in back salary to the former rector. With the dead hand of debts lifted, the church came alive.

A quickened congregation increased in membership and in the giving of memorials which re-furbished the church. A new lighting system was installed by Mrs. Watkin Kneath in memory of her parents. Harry Keevill gave six solid brass altar lights in memory of his mother. Mrs. Louis Chevacheff presented an ancient lamp from a Greek Orthodox Church in the Near East to hang over the font. A Litany desk, sanctuary chairs, torches, hymnals and prayer books, altar book, processional cross, and a Communion chalice were memorials. The late Mrs. William Appleby-Robinson landscaped the church grounds and provided a new walk and steps in front of the tower. Charles Paolini repaired the tower clock and keeps it in accurate running order as a gift to the church.

RURAL NEW YORK churches are best typified by the simple altar, chancel and choir of Holy Innocents, Highland Falls. This represents a tradition in upstate church architecture.

In the meantime, the church, parish house and rectory had been painted, bricks pointed up, steeple repaired, and a new furnace installed in the rectory. $4,000 was paid as the parish share of the St. Barnabas House Building Campaign, in addition to its regular Diocesan quotas and assessments.

As a fitting demonstration of the life in the parish, it was necessary to bring in chairs to accommodate the congregation at the midnight Christmas Eucharist.

Cornwall is now a better "place to build a towne on" because of St. John's.

Religious Education Library to Lend Presiding Bishop's Volume

The Board of Religious Education announces three new books available in their Lending Library: How to Build Up Your Church School by Weldon Crossland. The book emphasizes practical advice.

The Home of the Rural Pastor by Ralph A. Felton is an interdenominational study released to give a picture of the living conditions of rural pastors and to suggest improvements.

The Church's Ministry in Our Time, a challenging, inspirational volume by the Presiding Bishop, the Right Rev. Henry Knox Sherril, published by Scribners.

National Council Approves GFS

After an extensive study, the Department of Christian Education of the National Council approved the standards and acccepted the G.F.S. as an Assisted Agency of the Department of Christian Education functioning through the Division of Youth. This gives the organization official standing within the Church.

"One Great Hour", March 26, Opens Appeal for World Relief

In a demonstration of Christian cooperation, over 75,000 churches across the country—representing nearly every major Christian denomination — have joined in a nationwide effort to raise the money required for World Relief of Churches for 1949.

Following the example of last year's Presiding Bishop's Appeal which oversubscribed the amount required of our Church, the interdenominational effort in which we are participating, is building its appeal around "One Great Hour" — a nationwide one-hour radio show to be broadcast over virtually every major radio station, Saturday night, March 26, from ten to eleven.

"One Great Hour," written and directed by Robert Sherwood will dramatize the work done through America's churches in Europe and Asia to meet the desperate need of these people — for food and clothing.

Robert Jordan, the promotional director of the National Council who is on loan to direct the appeal, estimates that the program will reach over 50,000,000 persons. It is hoped that contributions taken on the next Sunday, March 27, will provide a large part of the funds necessary for the work of the many churches overseas during 1949.

G.F.S. Closes "Holiday House" For Lack of Financial Support

The Diocesan Council and the Board of Directors of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Diocese of New York, Inc., recently voted to sell the property at Monroe, New York, which the Society has owned for twenty-five years and on which it has operated its Holiday House and Camp.

The cost of operating this summer service has increased considerably in the past few years. The society has no endowment to absorb deficits. It exhausted its very small reserve when the society was unable to secure sufficient contributions to meet expenses not covered by the income from board.

Clergy Notes

The Rev. Walter J. Gratton, chaplain of the Seamen's Church Institute since 1943 died February 27 at St. Luke's Hospital.

Mr. Gratton was ordered deacon in 1915 and ordained priest in 1917. In 1934 he became a chaplain of the City Mission Society. He had also served St. James', Callicoon and All Saints', Mariners Harbor.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Kate Elizabeth Gratton, and a daughter, Mrs. Muriel Weise.

The Reverend Richard M. Doubs, vicar of St. Thomas Chapel, Manhattan, from 1924 to 1930, died on February 15th at his home here. Before coming to St. Thomas Chapel he was curate at the Pro-Cathedral Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris.

The funeral service was held at St. Thomas Chapel with Bishop Donegan, the Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks and the Rev. Paul C. Armstrong, officiating.

Miss Florence E. Meatyard, Of Cathedral Staff, Dies

Miss Florence E. Meatyard, sixty-four, died February 23 after an illness of several months. Miss Meatyard was the daughter of the late Thomas Meatyard, former verger of the Cathedral, who died in July 1944, and of Mrs. Helen Meatyard who died recently. She was an attendant in the exhibit hall of the Cathedral and assisted in the care of its altars.

Challenges Church to Serve Human Welfare

The Commission on Christian Social Relations released an aggressive statement by the Rev. George H. Hann, chaplain at Walkill Prison, this month, in which he challenged churchmen to take up the "Church's ancient tradition" to "carry on a ministry of healing and relief" particularly in the care of elder persons.

Lenten Study Turns On the Prayer Book

Throughout the Diocese, the Prayer Book is being used for Lenten study and meditation to commemorate the 400th Anniversary of its translation into English.

In addition to those programs reported in February, St. Peter's, Chelsea, is having an informal "rector's hour" Wednesday nights to discuss the Prayer Book. At Grace, Port Jervis, the Rev. Robert Gay is holding informal talks on the Prayer Book on Sundays at 4:00 p.m. Dr. Charles B. Ackley has prepared a special literature shelf on the Prayer Book for St. Mary's, Manhattanville.

Other programs in Manhattan are:

March 16 — St. Mark's-in-the-Bouwerie: "In Life's Deepest Experiences." The Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, General Seminary.

March 23—Grace, "Through the Holy Communion." The Rev. Lawrence Rose, dean of the General Seminary.

March 30—Ascension, "Praying with the Prayer Book." The Rev. Hugh McCandless, Epiphany, Manhattan.

April 6—St. George's, "The Prayer Book and a Christian Society." The Rev. John Heuss, director, Department of Christian Education of the National Council.

St. Luke's Motto "Corpus Sanare Animam Salvare"

The Chapel of St. Luke stands at the crossroads of the many stark white corridors which link together the anxiety, suffering, fear — and sometimes death — of St. Luke's Hospital. Corpus Sanare, Animam Salvare is the hospital motto, and from its Chapel, the director of Religious activities, the Rev. Otis R. Rice and his staff, administer the comfort, cheer and faith which only the Church can give in time of crisis or mortal pain.

This staff carries its ministry throughout the hospital. The Holy Communion is celebrated upon Holy Days, and each weekday afternoon at 5:15 p.m. the pre-clinical student nurses file into Chapel, in their blue-checked dresses and white caps, to form the choir for Evensong. Visiting and personal counselling are stressed and St. Luke's serves as a clinical training ground for seminarians and interested clergy.

Although not controlled by the Church, St. Luke's has always been closely associated with the Church.

On October 18, 1846 the Rev. William Augustus Muhlenberg set aside $30 toward the dream of a St. Luke's Hospital. In 1947, 22,563 free patient ward days were given. 67,964 free clinic patients visited the 31 clinics. Many others were only half paid for by the city, others paid only a minor part of the cost.

Board of Religious Education Issues New Monthly "Bulletin"

A new aid to Church School teachers made its appearance last month with the publication of a mimeographed bulletin from the Board of Religious Education which is described as "for young people, youth advisors, and rectors."

The March edition, issued February 25, contains program notes based on the Lenten theme of PLAN, 1948-49, the disciple's way as discovered in the Prayer Book and Bible.
